'King Of Hearts' Opens In White Chapel Hall

Clifton Fadiman Will Address January Education Convocation

Clifton Fadiman, author, critic and radio-television personality will be the guest speaker at the convocation on education to be held Saturday, Jan. 7.

This convocation will be third in a series of five major events planned for the Centennial Year. Featuring the teaching profession, the day's activities will include an afternoon panel composed of a parent, an administrator or school board member, a classroom teacher and a student preparing to teach.

Dr. Clyde F. Lytle, dean of instruction at Kutztown State Teachers College, Kutztown, will be moderator of the panel.

Representatives

Cooperating with the college in this program will be representatives of the Reading and Berks County Parent-Teachers Association, the American Association of University Women and city and county public school officials. The purpose of the program will be to acquaint the community with some of the particular problems facing education today.

On display will be various publications and other sources used in the compiling of data for A History of Albright College, 1856-1956, written by H. Eugene Barth, associate professor of religion, and F. Wilbur Gingrich, professor of Greek. Publication date for this history has also been set for Jan. 7.

Fadiman will speak at both the afternoon session and evening banquet. He is currently master of ceremonies for a long series of television and radio programs, including the recent Peabody Award winner "Conversation", heard weekly over NBC; "Information Please"; "This Is Show Business"; Metropolitan Opera Intermission Interviews; "What's in a Word"; "Name's the Same"; "Monitor" and many others.

Native New Yorker

A native New Yorker and graduate of Columbia College, Fadiman has been a steady contributor to magazines and newspapers for almost a quarter of a century. In 1927, at the age of twenty-three, he became assistant editor of the publishing house of Simon & Schuster and two years later became editor-in-chief. He rapidly acquired a reputation in literary circles as one of the country's leading editors.

Y Sponsors Drive For Food This Week

Next Tuesday night will be the deadline for the Y family drive. Students have been leaving their donations of food on the tables in the Administration Building, Science Hall and Krause Hall since last Tuesday when the donation cards were distributed in Chapel.

Next Tuesday night the food will be packaged, and following the Y Thanksgiving meeting it will be delivered to three needy families in Reading. It is hoped by Mary Jo Wolf, '57, program chairman, that enough students will cooperate so that three complete turkey dinners can be given.

Tea Today

Women's Student Senate will sponsor a student-faculty tea this afternoon from 3-5 in the Blue Room of Selwyn Hall. Mary Jo Wolf, '57, is general chairman.

SC Discusses Dance With LVC

Tentative plans for a combined dance with Lebanon Valley College either the night before or after the Albright-LVC game Saturday, Feb. 18, were discussed in Student Council last Tuesday.

Also discussed were proposed changes in the constitution of the student body. Clement Cassidy, '57, head of the committee in charge, reported the findings of his group. These points will be discussed by Council as a whole in December.

President Paul Hetrich, '56, announced that a representative of the National Student Association from Philadelphia will attend the Nov. 29 meeting to evaluate Student Council and explain the NSA program.

New Member

New members inducted into Council were Lois Anderson, '57, independent dormitory women's representative, replacing Marion Evans, '56, a Phi Beta Mu pledge; and Daniel Skeath, Jr., '59, independent dormitory men's representative, replacing Charles Sample, '58, an Alpha Pi Omega pledge. Kenneth Bobb, '59, attended as alternate for Ronald Brown, freshman class president.

Christmas Recess Date Changed

The Office of the Dean and Registrar has announced that Christmas recess will extend from Saturday, Dec. 17, until Tuesday, Jan. 3, instead of until Monday, Jan. 2, as stated in the college catalogue.

Alumna Gives 500 Books For Library

The Albright College Library has recently received a gift of 500 books from Annette Romberger, '07, of Elizabethtown, Pa. The books include new and classical fiction, non-fiction, poems, art, history, and a variety of other subjects.

These books will be the first books placed in the new browsing corner of the library which will be organized when the addition to the library is completed. At the present time, the books are being classified and catalogued by Dr. Josephine Raepel, librarian, and her staff, and soon will be ready for student use.

The new books include a complete set of Dickens, Leaves of Grass, Walt Whitman, and a number of other books which range in titles from Two Eggs on My Plate, Olsen, to Road to Survival, Sloane.

Judging from the look on Elizabeth Reynolds' face, something interesting is about to happen. To see how Richard Mountcastle looks twenty seconds later, see "King of Hearts" tonight or tomorrow night in White Chapel Hall. (Photo by Bob Fox)

Nina Dova Will Appear In Dec. Cultural Program

Nina Dova, who will be featured at the Assembly Thursday, Dec. 1, sings unusual songs of many lands and languages. Known by her followers as the International Songstress, Miss Dova has traveled around the world collecting a unique song repertoire and studying with native teachers who taught her the art of their particular interpretations.

Since the last culture program fell during the Thursday, freshman and junior Assembly period, sections will be reversed so that sophomores and seniors, who usually attend on Tuesday, will be able to see Miss Dova.

Unique Approach

Miss Dova's approach to the concert stage is unique. Vast training in the arts of the theatre as dancer, actress, impressionist, comedienne and designer prepared her for her concert career, drawing from all her experience in many entertainment mediums; radio, television, Broadway, supper clubs. Walter Winchell, on viewing her, witnessing one of her New York concerts said, "She is appealing and makes good show business".

Miss Dova has appeared extensively—tours have taken her all over Europe, Canada, Mexico and the United States. The 1955-56 season concert tour will take Miss Dova to appearances in leading concert series in Boston, Philadelphia, Dallas, Ft. Worth, San Antonio, Cleveland and Los Angeles.

Born in England

Nina Dova was born in England and raised in the United States in New York and on the west coast. Miss Dova's father was an actor, and she received her early training in theatre arts as a scholarship student of the famed Neighborhood Playhouse.

Miss Dova has the rare distinction of having sung for both Spanish gypsies in the caves of Granada as well as Eskimos in the Arctic Circle. Her original interest was in dancing, and as a dancer, she appeared in concert and on the musical stage.

While touring South America, she became interested in guitar and regional songs. Since then Miss Dova has toured and collected songs in six languages in the countries of their origin.

The next issue of The Albrightian will be published Friday, Dec. 9. There will be no issues for the next two weeks, due to the Thanksgiving recess.

Hit Comedy Stars Carl, Reynolds, Mountcastle

"King of Hearts" starring "Duke" Carl, '57, Elizabeth Reynolds, '57, and Richard Mountcastle, '59, opened last night in White Chapel Hall and will continue tonight and tomorrow night. The curtain goes up at 8:15, and seats may be reserved by exchanging activity ticket No. 5 plus 10¢ (tax) in the main hall of the Administration Building.

Hit Comedy

"King of Hearts", a one-time Broadway hit comedy by Jean Kerr and Eleanor Brooke, is about a triangular love affair involving a successful cartoonist, his secretary-fiancee and his ghost writer, an adorable, charming young man. Even a little orphan and his dog get mixed up in the affair.

Along with its wit and humor, "King of Hearts" has its serious side, and has been directed by Mrs. Annadora V. Shirk, assistant professor of English.

The cast is as follows: Lawrence Larkin—"Duke" Carl, '57; Dunreath Henry—Elizabeth Reynolds, '58; F. X. Dignan—Richard Mountcastle, '59; Jeniella—Janet Weil, '59; Joe Wickes—Robert Nicholas, '57; Mike—John Luckenbill, '58; Mr. Hobart—Gerald Scheffey, '56; and Police-man—Vaughn Mervine, '59.

Committees Listed

The following Domino Club members worked on committees: Stage Manager, Gerald Scheffey, '56; Stage Crew: Vaughn Mervine, '59; Nathaniel South, '59; "Duke" Carl, '57; Sandra Smith, '59; Charles Kyle, '59; Joseph Lippincott, '58; Janet Weil, '59; and John Ramsay, '58.

Properties: Amelia Pottelger, '59; Annette Kiesling, '58; Frances Stauffer, '57; Virginia Reed, '59. Tickets: Virginia Mangin, '56; Dorothy Spohn, '58. Make-up: Janice Bertelot, '58; Janet Weil; Lois Anderson, '57.

Prompters: Nancy Ritchie, '56; Barbara Cox, '59. Publicity: Charlotte McCane, '56; Katherine Radcliffe, '59; Lois Anderson, '57. Costumes: Jacqueline Moyer, '58. Lighting: Mary Ellen Wray, '58.

Robert T. Burcaw, instructor in English, is technical director.

Y To Sponsor Dawn Service

The annual Thanksgiving Dawn Communion Service will be held next Wednesday at 6 a.m. in Teel Hall Chapel. The service, sponsored by the combined Y groups on campus, will feature the Rev. Charles M. Fitz, Jr., pastor at the Pennside Presbyterian Church, Mt. Penn, as guest speaker.

Charles R. Moyer, '56, will be in charge of the worship service with David P. Lubba, '56, at the organ. The Rev. Eugene H. Barth, director of religious activities, will preside.

C. Jonathan Kurtz, '57, is in charge of the arrangements for the service.

Got Any Toys?

The annual Children's Christmas Party will be held on Sunday, Dec. 11. We urge you to ramsack your cellars and attics for toys to bring back with you after Thanksgiving vacation.

Let's get the feeling of the Christmas spirit early.

Pearl Buck To Speak At Special Luncheon Thursday, December 8

Pearl Buck, author and lecturer, will be guest speaker at a special Centennial Year luncheon sponsored by the Albright Women's Auxiliary Thursday, Dec. 8, in Krause Hall. Invitations to the luncheon have been extended to mothers of students at the college by Mrs. Charlotte Huber, president of the college auxiliary. Reservations for the affair can be made with Mrs. Miriam Montag of the Public Relations Office.

Although all tickets for the luncheon have been sold, there are still several tickets available for those who would like to see and hear Mrs. Buck's talk. These tickets sell for $1.00. All reservations must be made by Dec. 1.

Pulitzer Prize Winner

Pearl Buck is best known as the author of The Good Earth, for which she was awarded a Pulitzer Prize in 1932. The book was also made into a motion picture. One of the outstanding women writers of this century, she also received the William Dean Howells Medal in 1935 and the Nobel Award for Literature in 1938.

Mrs. Buck is a native of Hillsboro, W. Va., but spent most of her childhood in China. She is a graduate of Randolph-Macon College and holds an honorary M.A. from Yale. She is the mother of two daughters and also raised four adopted children.

Give Thanks In Food

Through this coming week the campus Y's will be sponsoring its annual family food drive. The goal of the drive is to provide three needy families in the Reading area with Thanksgiving dinners. A contribution to this worthy cause would be an excellent manifestation of our "Thanksgiving Spirit".

On this Thanksgiving 1955 we have much to be thankful for. The improvements and accomplishments on campus are evident enough and need not be reiterated here, but the realm of our experience goes beyond this college. The world itself has moved ahead and each day brings conveniences and benefits to the people of the universe. We have achieved a state of relative peace and relations with the Kremlin have been apparently improved since the Geneva Peace Conference.

Yet, there are many conditions existing today which are in need of improvement. There are families outside the Reading area who are in desperate need of food and clothing. Hundreds of people in India are starving and living in squalid conditions; and still other countries share this plight. The United States and its fellow powers are doing their best to solve these problems, and we on Albright's campus can carry on this project on a small scale by contributing to the Y food drive.

During Chapel periods last week, each person received a card designating the item he is to contribute. It is not too much to expect this contribution from each student. If every one of us would save the money we spend in the Sub for that "second breakfast", we could buy our food parcel today.

Questionnaire

The following questionnaire has been drawn up by the Judiciary Committee of Student Council, acting in accordance with a resolution proposed and accepted in a regular meeting of that organization. The purpose of the resolution is to submit to the student body the controversial issue of freshman customs.

The main purpose is to obtain a cross-section of the personal convictions of the Albright student body about customs. It is asked by Council that you answer the questions objectively. If you have no opinion on the subject, please state this at the top of the questionnaire. If you do have an opinion, please answer each question intelligently so that Council may receive a true picture of student sentiment.

1. Are you in favor of eliminating freshman customs entirely? If so, why?
2. The following suggestions for modification of customs have been suggested. What is your opinion about them. (Yes or no)
 - a. The customs period should be shortened.
 - b. Only the identification badge should be worn.
 - c. Buttoning should be abolished.
 Would you suggest any other modifications? If so, please list them
3. Do you think there are any benefits received from customs? If so, please state them.
4. Do you think there are disadvantages imposed upon freshmen because of customs? If so, please state them.
5. Further comments

If a flea wanted to go to 5th and Penn, would she walk or call a dog? Did Peter Roberts invent the telephone? If a cross-eyed girl were to cry and the tears went down her back, would she get bacteria?

The conscious college student (with his Freudian concepts) can blurt out the answers to these $64,000 questions in the same time it takes for a Bayer aspirin to go to work.

"Well," you might say to yourself, "what about those unfortunate boys and boys' girlfriends who don't go to college?" In a recent survey conducted at high school x' (by me), 91% of the students were totally unfamiliar with college life, and the other 9% lied about it. It is my duty, therefore, to give to those of us who have not yet reached the ranks of College student la, just a little idea (and perhaps incentive) of what life is like at a typical college—zum Beispiel, Albright.

Albright was found by Jake Albright. It was never lost, but someone had to give it encouragement to find a suitable location. While all this was going on in 1856, the "Ad" building—just behind the green mail box—was nearing completion . . . along with the language room and the equally famous bulletin board. The campus, which is scattered all over 13th and Union Streets, includes a five-acre ice-hockey field (Kelchner Field), a kingo tree (never spelled right, but nevertheless there), a library stocked with 40,000 books and 350 magazines and journals (all on "How to Write Term Paper"), and a 150-year-old chapel over looking the beautiful Sylvan Lake (chuck full of trout, goldfish, money, and . . .). Also on the list of places to see are: Mermer-Pfeiffer Hall of Science, a museum for the wild life found in Reading; Sherman Cottage, off limits for men and should be missed deliberately when touring the campus; Selwyn Hall, offers recreational activities for relaxation after the evening meals as well as in the evenings; Krause Hall, chapel once a week, ping pong instead of lunch, coffee from 7 till 4; and Teel Hall, the second and third floors of which are no longer occupied by the Evangelical School of Theology.

Since most of the students do not make use of these buildings until 11 when their classes begin, the friendly little Sciurus carolinensis (commonly called squirrels by non-college members) are usually seen (only if one arises at eight) running around the grounds, doing what damage they can. Very few of these creatures are worthy to "stick around" once the activities for the day start. They still recall that horrible day in September of '36 when several of their ancestors were bitten by a group of pre-meds making saliva tests.

Each class lasts about a half-hour because Student Council representatives have found that long classes tend to spoil appetites for lunch. The few classes held in the afternoon are confined to the Science Hall because of its comfortable sofas and warm rooms. The highlight of the evenings are accentuated on extra-activities — homework being the main theme for Sunday nights. The only other problems are focused around the final examinations. These are usually ten true and false questions. The trick is to answer in the Afghanistanian dialect.

If you have received any inspiration at all in the course of this reading as to whether or not you feel worthy or capable of being Joe or Jane College, be sure to pick up a pair of ivory bucks at your nearest blacksmith and "become one of the gang."

Albright Personality

Bob Sulyma

Rated among the Top Ten in the circle of football scholars on campus is Bob Sulyma. Four years of varsity football at Albright have given him an extensive knowledge of the game and the Sulyma "28" has seen a lot of hard and fast action in his position as guard on the forward line.

Bob's capabilities as a leader were fully recognized this year when he was elected captain of our football team and his teammates couldn't have given the commandership to a better person.

His love for athletics does not end with the football season as he participates in inter-mural basketball (A plug for the Pikes!) and in the spring Sully plays the role of "man behind the mask" as catcher on the baseball team.

Bob's capable leadership is being exercised this year as president of Inter-Fraternity Council and in the various positions he holds in his fraternity, Zeta Omega Epsilon. He has served as treasurer of the fraternity, "the best on campus", for the past two years.

Probably the most lucrative and envied business on campus is the concern of "Collegiate Cleaners" Inc. and Bob has a hand in this, too. He and his business partner, "Goidy," may often be seen collecting and delivering clothes to the dormitories.

Bob, who is majoring in history, is a 21 year old senior from Minersville, Pa., (the heart of the coal regions and Reading's largest suburb). Second semester will find him student teaching at Muhlenberg High School in the social sciences and Bob's future plans lie in the realm of a teaching-coaching position. Oh, and by the way, Sully . . . Good luck in the Scranton game tomorrow!

DID YOU KNOW?

As compiled from official examination results.

A wealth of little-known facts about Albright have been unearthed recently in the freshman orientation final exam.

Of special interest to students, alumni and prospective students is the following information about requirements for graduation: from 15 to 140 credit hours are required, according to the courses studied.

Historians, members of the EUB Church and innocent bystanders will be fascinated by the variety of denominations with which Albright is affiliated. Included are the Methodist Church, the Presbyterian Church, the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the Lutheran Church and Jehovah's Witnesses.

Antecedents of present-day Albright, now cheerfully slaughtering us on the football field (or else just spectating) are Lebanon Valley College, University of Pennsylvania, Lehigh University, Gettysburg College and Lafayette College.

The college motto, "Veritas et Justitia," can be translated a number of ways—from "red and white" to "truly beautiful."

Big Wheels on campus include J. Warren Klein, and H. Eugene Pierce, co-editors of The Albrightian. Glen Diebert serves as registrar, and it is the unanimous opinion of the freshman class that Dr. Harry V. Masters is president of the college. It is the almost unanimous opinion that Paul R. Hetrich is Student Council president, some (Continued On Page Four)

Lion Gridders Travel To Scranton For Season Final

Engineers Trample Red And White By 51-19 Count With Long Gains

Albright Bids For Third Win; Royals Hold Edge In Series

IN THE LION'S DEN

By Phil Eyrich, Sports Editor

Despite the fact that the Lions were smothered by the Lehigh University gridders in Albright's final home encounter of the present campaign, the Potskklanmen did play well. They managed to gather 12 first downs and 269 offensive yards, 163 of them via the airways. The team as a whole played well and had it not been for the long scoring jaunts of the Engineers, aided not only by crisp blocking but flagrant clipping of Albright players, the victory margin may well have been lessened.

Although the visitors used their first team sparingly, by contrast, it was also the Albright reserves that can be singled out for fine play for the most part. Bob Sulyma, Joe Kremer, and Don McCarty were standouts in the first-string line, but reserves Bill Esterlund, George Flynn, and Greg Gonet also gave a good account of themselves in the forward wall.

Cunningham Stars . . .

In the backfield it was John Cunningham, Frank Sudock, John Kopp, Al Benesky, John Setticeerze, and Tom Pollock who spearheaded the Albright attack. Cunningham, in addition to his 77-yard scoring interception of a pass, also led the team in land yardage and played a fine defensive game. Sudock completed 6 of 11 passes and also was good defensively. Pollock finely came through for the Red and White and played well in the closing moments of the contest.

The one sad feature of the game was that nine Albright gridders had to be helped from the field with injuries at one time or another, some more than once. Roy Dragon, Frank Hoffman, Bob Wetzel, McCarty, Kopp, Benesky, Sudock, Fred Arditto, and Flynn all received at least minor injuries; some, like Wetzel and Benesky, were able to return to action, but Hoffman, for example, didn't return for the second half. Was it luck, the power and roughness of Lehigh, or the lack of enough men on the squad for good contact drills that brought about these mishaps?

Game Notes . . .

The Lehigh University marching band performed on the field three times at last week's game . . . Their intricate maneuvers fascinated both the Albright and visiting fans . . . Lehigh used a small cannon to celebrate their scoring . . . The way Lehigh scored, the day sounded like Iwo Jima . . . The Lion cheerleaders arrived in style aboard an open sports car prior to the game . . . Lehigh fans and students tried to abduct the goalposts after the game, but valiant Albright students, led by battlin' John Hauf, saved the day.

Trio Of Sophomores Tally For Potskklanmen As Injuries Prevail

The Engineers of Lehigh University launched a devastating ground attack that handed the Lions a 51-19 setback here last Saturday afternoon. It was Albright's last home game of the season. The visitors scored in each of the first three periods on seven touchdowns, six extra points, and a lone field goal.

Outclassed by the powerful Bethlehem team, the Red and White nevertheless gave a good account of themselves and scored as many touchdowns, and more points, with the exception of Bucknell, as has been scored on Lehigh this season. Nine Albright players were injured in the contest.

70 Yard Run

Quarterback Dan Nolan ran 70 yards to put Lehigh ahead 6-0 early in the initial quarter. They added another score on Dick Pennell's 7-yard burst in the same period, then boosted the count to 20-0 in the second quarter when John Dobosh rammed 72 yards. Dick Hoogstraten added a field goal before the half ended to run the score to 23-0.

With just moments remaining in the half, John Cunningham, reserve Lion halfback, picked off a Lehigh pass on his own 23-yard line and raced down the sidelines, avoiding tacklers beautifully, to score for Albright. Ralph Cyphers' outside kick was recovered by the Lions, then Frank "The Arm" Sudock placed a perfect pass in the arms of John Kopp, who was off to the races on a 48-yard play. The half-time score was 23-12.

Four Scores

Nolan, Bob Naylor, Llewellyn Williams, and Charlie Rust all scored for the Engineers in the third quarter, Naylor on an 80-yard punt return to make the count 51-12.

Al Benesky cracked over from the 1-yard line in the last period, and Ralph Cyphers added the PAT for the Lions to end the scoring for the day at Lehigh 51, Albright 19.

Albright College will conclude its 1955 schedule tomorrow when it meets the Royals of Scranton University at Scranton, Penna. In their last previous meeting, in 1953, the Lions emerged victorious, 19-0. The teams did not meet last season. Scranton has won 6 of the 8 games played in the series, Albright's only other win coming in 1951 by the score of 2-0.

To date, the Lions have won two games and lost six. They defeated traditional rivals Franklin & Marshall and Lebanon Valley, and bowed to Bucknell, Muhlenberg, Gettysburg, Alfred, Moravian, and Lehigh. Albright ranks 44th in the won and lost column among colleges in the state, and 20th in the scoring figures.

Good Record

The Royals of Scranton have won five and lost one, defeating Temple, Kings College, Muhlenberg, St. Vincent's, and Pennsylvania Military College. Last week the Royals amassed 400 offensive yards as they trounced Pennsylvania Military College for their fifth win. The loss was only PMC's second of the current season. Scranton has a powerful ground offensive, with the emphasis on short gains and ball control.

Scranton's coach, Pete Carlesimo, has a fine T-formation quarterback in Vic Vassel, two feet halfbacks in Joe Zack and Dan Stankiewicz, and a 205-pound fullback, Clem Russavage. Their line consists of stellar ends Hubie Graham and Frank Santamauro; tackles Hugo Murazzi and Bill Hollenback; guards John Bednash and Ray Oncay; and center Joe Wycallis.

Seven Seniors

Albright's mentor, John Potskklan, will attempt to make the Lions' 1955 exit a victorious one, and he should get plenty of help from seven seniors who are playing their last game for the Red and White. Those terminating their football careers at Albright are captain Bob Sulyma, Minersville, Penna., and Fred Arditto, Jersey City, N. J., both guards; tackles Art Bellisio, Middle Village, N. Y., and Frank Goldstein, Asbury Park, N. J.; center, Jack Huntzinger, Adamstown, Pa.; quarterback, Roy Dragon, Roselle Park, N. J.; and fullback, Chris Wenger, Adamstown, Penna.

The starting team for the Lions will probably be as follows: in the line, ends George Flynn and Dick McCarty; tackles Joe Kremer and Art Bellisio; guards Bob Sulyma and Fred Arditto; and center Jack Huntzinger. The backfield will be quarterback Roy Dragon; halfbacks Jack Kopp, the team's leading scorer, and Bob Wetzel; and fullback, Chris Wenger.

Hill and Dalers Beat PMC For Third Win

Albright College's cross country squad traveled to Chester on Nov. 1 and swamped PMC 17-46. The Lions took seven out of the first nine positions to account for the lopsided score. Bill Shirk, Don Gottshall and George Mack finished 1-2-3 with Dick Thrasher and Paul Gehris coming in 5th and 6th. This was the Lions' third win against four setbacks going into today's home meet against the University of Delaware.

Place Ninth

Muhlenberg College was the scene of the 1955 MASC Cross Country championships. Runners from St. Joseph's ran away with the race as Joe Sloan set a new record of 21:44.2. The first Lion to cross the finish was Bill Shirk in the 12th position. Other Albrightians were Don Gottshall, 32nd; Dick Thrasher, (Continued On Page Four)

Basketball Team Practices Daily

Candidates for the Red and White basketball team have been practicing daily under Coach Will Renken's direction in preparation for their opening game of the Centennial Year basketball campaign on Dec. 1 at Temple.

Eleven players have been placed on a tentative varsity team so far. They are George Conrad, Mike DePaul, Jim Foreman, Bernie Krick, Don Pryor, Bruce Riddell, Ernie Firestone, Dale Yoder, Ron Pisano, Brook Moyer, and Norm Klingerman. Five varsity candidates: Bruce Storms, Ed Shurilla, Terry Reber, Bob Moller, and Ken Eberle are at present academically ineligible.

Three Jayvees

Of the eleven players, three are up from last year's jayvee squad which compiled a winning 14-6 record under Coach John Potskklan. The team won eleven games in a row during mid-season. The players are Yoder, Moyer, and Pisano. The others, with the exception of Klingerman, who did not compete last year, are holdovers from the 1954-'55 varsity.

Heading the list of returnees is Conrad, team captain and last season's leading scorer. He piled up 462 points for the year to bring his three-year total to 1105, within striking distance of Eddie Anlian's record 1681. Conrad must get 577 points to break the mark, or an average of 22.2 tallies per game. He had a one-game high of 44 points, against Scranton last year.

Have Depth

DePaul, hampered by a knee injury last season, can provide the Lions with plenty of "outside" man-to-manship if he regains his form of seasons past. An All-State court man in high school, his defensive ability is on equal par with his offensive prowess. The remainder of the veterans give the team good, quality depth.

Lionesses Lose To Millersville

The hockey squads played host to Millersville State Teachers College last Wednesday. In the varsity game, the score was tied 1 to 1 at the end of the first half with Marilyn Wertz scoring the goal for the Lionesses. In the beginning of the second half, Millersville scored again, but Albright retaliated with a goal by Carolie Smith. Millersville then came back with three goals to win the game 5 to 2. The junior varsity also lost to Millersville 5 to 2.

Beat LVC

Early Saturday morning, the squad ventured to Lebanon to play Lebanon Valley. In the varsity game Barb Patchell made the first goal for the Red and White. Lebanon Valley tied the score before the halfway mark. Marilyn Wertz, Barbara Patchell, and Alma Grove scored three more goals to Lebanon Valley's two, in the second half, winning the game 4 to 3.

Approaching Thanksgiving Recess Slows Down Campus Activity

Meetings of campus clubs and organizations slackened in number and frequency during the past week, due to the approaching Thanksgiving recess.

Der Deutsche Verein

Miss K. Guenther, '51, a Fulbright scholar who recently travelled to Germany, addressed the second monthly meeting of Der Deutsche Verein, Nov. 10. Miss Guenther, who is currently engaged in teaching German at Reading High School, is a sister to Mrs. Charlotte Price, an instructor in history. A group of students from Reading High School also attended the meeting.

At the next meeting of the club on Dec. 8, German Christmas carols will be rehearsed in anticipation of the night of Christmas caroling which is held before the Christmas holidays every year.

"Enthusiasm and a well-developed personality are two of the most important qualifications for a home economist," explained Mr. Willard Colvin, speaker at the East HEO meeting, Nov. 10. Colvin is general sales manager of the Reading Division of the United Gas Improvement Company.

He spoke to the girls about his work and the work of the employees. Three home economists, one of whom graduated from Albright, work in his home service department. They visit homes demonstrating appliances and offering suggestions to homemakers.

A C S

Reports from the constitution committee were discussed at the Nov. 9 meeting of the American Chemical Society. Clarence Hall, '57, is chairman of this committee. Revisions are to be voted on at the next meeting.

Films on catalysis, atomic energy, and halogens were also shown at this meeting.

Navy Plans Campus Conference Dec. 6

Lt. R. F. Cuccias of the Philadelphia Office of Naval Officer Procurement will be on campus Tuesday, Dec. 6, to give information to Albright men and women concerning the naval officer training program.

Interested students can talk to Lt. Cuccias from 9 a.m. to 12 noon in the conference room, Ad Building.

To Attend Convention

Priscilla R. Morton, instructor in English, will attend the National Council of the Teachers of English Convention, Thursday through Saturday, in the Hotel Roosevelt, New York City.

Norman Cousins, Clifton Fadiman, Carl Carmer and Archibald MacLeish will be among the authors addressing the sessions.

INTRAMURALS

Girls Plan Annual Hockey Playoffs

The intramural hockey contests were played with zest and zeal for eight straight games during the past two weeks. Two all-star teams have been chosen, one from each of the red and white teams. These two teams competed Nov. 11. An honor team was chosen, and this team will battle with the varsity squad, and the losing team will play the Junior varsity next week.

Red Team

The members of the red all-star team are: C. Reed, Weik, Chalder, Lorchak, E. Miller, Stillwaggon, Umemure, Spohn, Burnett, Haddon, DeWald, A. Young, Stauffer, Walton, Petry, and Reitz.

The members of the white all-star team are Bertolet, Shirk, Bensing, Harding, A. Miller, Ross, Henry, Hommel, G. Young, Nagle, Lanfranke, Schiller, Orders, Kaercher, Travaskis, and Orlando.

DID YOU KNOW?

This being the Centennial Year, it is apparently important to have several persons filling each important post. Directors of Public Relations include Charles Gordon and Marilyn Teeter. Miss Teeter also serves as executive secretary of the alumni association, college nurse, dean of women, and author of the textbook.

Assisting Miss Teeter as alumni secretary are Mrs. Elizabeth Hahn and H. Eugene Pierce. Pierce also assists Hetrich as college physician in his spare time. J. Warren Klein and Samuel B. Shirk, college treasurers, keep a sharp eye on the school ledgers.

H. Tudor Westover is fairly well known as Dean of Men, perhaps because he teaches the course.

New Men's Physical Education Program Features Term Papers

Men who are not physically able to participate in the regular physical education program will now have an opportunity to earn one credit per semester as other PT students do.

The plan, initiated this year by the physical education teachers, will operate in the following manner: each man will be given a research assignment to find out the different ways that physical training relates to his particular field of study. For example, a student studying law might seek out the legal aspects of physical education, such as the laws and regulations governing the teaching of physical education in our schools. After his research is completed, the student will write a regular term paper. These reports will be evaluated and graded, and, if they are satisfactory, the student will receive his credits.

Double Purpose

The physical education instructors believe that this new plan will serve a two fold purpose. Naturally, it will aid the student in his field of study, but it will also tend to avoid a complete isolation from physical education for students unable to participate in the regular program.

HARRIERS WIN
