Albrightian Extends Sheet To 5 Columns Due To Extensive Advertising Campaign

New Editor To Start As Head Of Tabloid On April 24 Issue

New Chief Married Recently To George Henry

Margaret Thompson Henry, a junior and a sociology major from Wyomissing, Pa., has been appointed editor of the Albrightian for next year. The editor-elect was named to the post this week by board of control of the paper. Robert Richter, a Mount Penn High alumnus, will dictate the business policy of the newsheet.

Mrs. Henry, who was married recently to George Henry, a member of last year's Albrightian staff, has had some experience in scholastic journalism. She has been an active member of the paper's staff for the last two years.

The new tabloid head is a member of the Domino Club and has been active in the International Relations Club, the Glee Club, and the German Club. Mrs. Henry, who is a Phi Beta Mu sorority member, was secretary of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet this past year.

Henry To Meet Applicants For New Posts Wednesday

In order to get her writing staff organized for the first issue on April 24, Margaret Henry, the new Albrightian editor, has issued a call for all applicants for positions on the new staff to report at the first meeting in room 103 next Wednesday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock. All jobs are wide open, with the exception of a few. The new setup is tentatively scheduled to appear in next week's issue.

Richter is a business major. He is well-equipped for his newly-acquired position, having served under the present business staff. He is an Alpha Pi Omega fraternity man and a member of the band.

Bob seems to have had quite a bit of experience in handling newspaper work, having given the initial momentum to the Penn Post, Mount Penn High's first tabloid.

The new editor will organize her staff next week. The job of putting out the school paper will be turned over to the new staff beginning with the April 24th issue. Next week's issue will be the final one for the current regime.

Engle Made Leader Of "Flying Lions" Albright Boys To Fly For Navy

The "Albright Lions," U. S. N. R. Air Corps group, is gradually being organized. In fact, June 18th marks the day of their induction into service. Word was just received that Warren Engle, sophomore, and member of the Zeta Fraternity, was elected Wing Leader of the group. Warren was the first member of the group, now totaling ten, to be sworn in.

The group will be kept together throughout their training period. They will report to the Philadelphia Navy Yard where they will receive thirty days of preliminary training. From there they will go either to Jacksonville, or Pensacola, Florida. After successfully completing the course, each member will receive an ensign commission.

Included in the group are Robert Giomotti, Donald Buxton, William Bottonari, John Killiany, Donald Spatz, Pat Nappi, Herbert Vogt, Sammy LaRue, Herbert Derr, and Wing Leader, Warren Engle.

Lt. Curran, U. S. N. R., announced that a flight examining board will visit the campus to conduct physical examinations and interviews for other students interested in this branch of the service. It is not clear as to whether those passing this exam will be included in the first or the second Albright Unit. The definite date for the visit has not yet been selected, however, advance notice will be given in order that the interested parties may plan accordingly.

Increase In Size Will Enhance Setup And Add To Looks

Paper To Continue At New Size Next Year

This week's issue of the ALBRIGHTIAN marks the beginning of a new era in journalism for Albright College. Due to an extended campaign for new advertising by the business staff of the paper, the ALBRIGHTIAN has been forced to extend its news-space to five columns.

This event, the dream of the paper's editors for the past few years, means an increase in the amount of available news-space. The extra column besides adding to the general appearance of the tabloid, also enhances the work of the makeup department in arranging the material in a more suitable order.

The advertising has been greatly increased, and although the fifth column adds one-half again as much space to the paper, the sports page will still suffer slightly from crowded quarters. The other advantages, however, counterbalance this.

There will now be room for more feature stories, more news, and more pictures. The paper will continue at this present size throughout the rest of this year and all of next year unless some unforeseen difficulty should arise.

Debaters' Society To Meet Here Friday

New York Students Feted By Trustee

Dinner Affair Held At Crystal

Reverend and Mrs. Arlington H. Bahn acted as hosts to Albright's up-state New York students last evening at a dinner held at the Crystal Restaurant and sponsored by the New York Conference Area. A member of the executive committee of the college board of trustees, Reverend Bahn is the representative of the New York Conference Area.

Those who attended were Reverend and Mrs. Bahn, Reverend and Mrs. Brininger, Esther Whitehead, Geraldine Bowker, Marian Christ, Jack Kratz, Pat Nappi, Robert Bennett, John Dineen, George Evans and Mark Titus.

Mattson Gets Senior Presidency; Junior Class Elects Morfogen

Next year's student council will be under petticoat rule. Albright's student body held their annual elections last Monday and Tuesday and chose as the leader of the student governing group, none other than Albright's favorite, that energetic lovely—Sally Weaver.

Sally, who is a graduate of Reading High, has been very active in student council affairs during the past year. She is a liberal arts student, majoring in French, and expects to teach school upon her subsequent graduation next year.

SALLY WEAVER

The voting in the general election was very close in most of the important offices with the exception of the student council presidency.

Seniors Chose Mattson

The class of '43 chose as the leader of next year's senior class, Robert Mattson, who is the business manager of this year's Cue. Bob is an A.P.O., a sociology major and halls from Hagerstown, Maryland.

Kenneth Hopkins, Albright's All-Conference basketball guard, was elected to the post of vice-president.

Sally Weaver, who seems to be a first choice in any group, got the job of secretary, while Joseph Brand received the strings to the money bags.

George Morfogen, another A.P. O., was chosen as the president of next year's junior aggregation. George is a social science major, whose hometown is Boonton, N. J.

The vice-presidency went to Jacob Wagner, with Margaret Shepperd eking out a very close victory over Polly Brossman to take the position of secretary. The new treasurer is Paul Kimmel.

John Cargill, that dashing figure from the British West Indies, seems to have captured the limelight in the minds of the freshmen, who elected him by a wide margin as next sophomore president. John is a pre-medical student.

The other officers of the new sophomore class are William A. Fisher, vice-president; and Eleanor Schubert, secretary-treasurer.

Knisely Gets Y.M.

The men students have elected Bruce Knisely president of the Y. M. C. A. for the coming year. Bruce is a native of Windsor, Penna., and is a philosophy major. The voting here was rather close with Bob Mattson running a good second. James Snelbaker was chosen to assist Knisely as vice-president, with Lamar Derk, secretary and Stewart Bingham, treasurer.

The Y.W.C.A. chose Ruth Hand to lead them during the following

Pat Smith Places In Speech Finals

Picked Topic 3 Hours Before

In the district finals of the National Extempore Contest held at the University of Pennsylvania on March 28, Patricia Smith, who ranked second in the local competition, was one of the eight who placed in the afternoon round table discussion, in which approximately eighteen contestants, including Richard Major, winner of the local contest, were eliminated.

In the four round table discussions on "The Good Neighbor Policy"—its origin and methods of supplementing it—representatives from Ursinus, Lafayette, Temple, St. Joseph's, University of Pennsylvania, and A.P.O. participated. Two speakers were chosen from each discussion to participate in the evening program.

Patricia Smith, with the seven other contestants from the University of Pennsylvania and St. Joseph's, picked her topic, "The American South" (population of South America) from a table three hours before the contest.

Mantle Ceremony In Chapel Friday

New Officers To Take Oath

The newly elected campus officers will be formally inducted at a ceremony in the college chapel at 10:00 a. m. Friday, April 17.

After an introductory speech by the retiring president of student council, Ray Hain, the newly elected council proxy, will be given the oath of office. The new president in turn will administer the oath to the members of the next year's council, after which the keys will be awarded to this year's eligible senior members.

After these events are completed, the annual mantle ceremony will take place. At this time the mantle of responsibility will be handed over to the president of next year's senior class by the retiring officer of the present senior class.

The classes will be notified in the near future as to the part they are to play in this affair.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The junior-senior prom committee advises the juniors and seniors to see Jack Boardman about their dues for the coming dance.

Coach Harris asks all those who are scheduled to participate in the Hale American program to please report at the proper place as the Physical Fitness schedule indicates.

The tickets for the day student dance will be available this coming Tuesday. Please see either Haldane Seyler or Ellen Witmoyer for these tickets as soon as possible.

Orders are now being taken for commencement announcements. The price is 12¢ per. See Jack Boardman before April 15 for your orders.

Stick To Home

We feel that there is a sacred part of the Albright commencement ceremonies which are held off the campus every year which should be confined to our own home grounds. That event is the baccalaureate service for the seniors.

All other commencement activities are confined to our campus. Why could we not hold this part of the ceremony here also?

It seems that whenever a college affair is held off-campus, that affair has lost something. It seems to have lost the savor of the traditions of Albright, some inherent quality which can be added only by that atmosphere. It cannot be explained, but it is there.

Why not hold the baccalaureate service in the college dining hall? The church atmosphere could very easily be established by the use of the altar set which was recently given to the college. We realize that it is too late to change this year's plans, but how about next year?

We don't know what arrangements have been made for the dorm girls for the dances which are coming up, but we have a suggestion to make.

Here is our suggestion—the girls should be allowed to stay out after these dances until at least two o'clock. It seems that this suggestion is not too alarming and should present no difficulty in carrying through.

We believe that the girls as a whole have obeyed the rules rather well during the past year and deserve this reward. They cannot appreciate an evening of pleasure and recreation if they have to rush away from a dance before it is over. How about it? Let's give them a break!

Industrial Conscription?

By SEYMOUR MENDELSON
As the war crisis becomes more acute and the struggle more intense, the problem of industrial conscription will probably come to the forefront. In anticipation of the debate which will decide the question, it may be well to consider the problem at this early time.

In the summer of 1940 when the fall of Britain looked imminent, the United States government adopted military conscription prior to a declaration of war for the first time in its history. Democracy recognizes the necessity of military conscription in emergencies because the defense of the nation is paramount.

When we read our daily newspapers now, we notice the reports of the Congressional committees and the disclosures by private persons of the profits being amassed by industry. We also notice that some industrialists take it for granted that America will win the war and so they refuse to go "all out" for war production.

The problem soon arises concerning the conscription of industry. Can the government in the name of "freedom of enterprise" permit certain industrialists to sabotage the war effort through selfishness and narrowness? If we place the winning of the war at the top of our agenda, than we should do everything that will contribute to that final victory.

The cry will arise that to conscript war industries and war transportation facilities would be totalitarian and mean the regimentation of "American industry and the loss of "freedom of enterprise." This will be the gist of the opposition. Yet we cannot ignore it. Conscription of any form is undesirable but there comes a time when we have the alternative of conscription or defeat and the latter seems to be the worst. Of what use will be our "freedom of enterprise" if the nation is defeated?

A democratic people impose military conscription upon themselves because they realize its tragic necessity. This same people could impose industrial conscription with the same attitude. Not every industry would be conscripted and there are degrees of conscription.

What is industrial conscription? It is simply the control of vital war industries by the government. It could be extended to actual operation of war industry but this would be done only in the most unusual cases. How much industrial conscription or control do we have today? The exact extent is not known by the average citizen but we can be sure that through the pressure and actions of the war bureaus and officials in the government there exists a modified form of control. Priorities, awarding of contracts, allocation of war materials, the granting of subsidies, all exert pressure and give the government indirect control of industry. And the government has the right today to take over industries which hinder the war effort.

The heat will be turned on when someone in authority suggests government control. But this heat will be nothing compared to the flame and fire that the Americans in Australia and on Bataan are going through. They were conscripted to face fire and death. Will industry be conscripted to win the war on the assembly line? The Nazis and the Japs have the answer!

The Shackles of Production

Writer Ponders On Important Question Of How To Please Somebody Sometimes

By JANE

You know, it's hard to write an article for this Albrightian 'cause you're never sure if all the different kinds of people are going to be pleased by it. Now the trouble is that there are introverts and extroverts and ambiverts and all degrees of all three. Now if the introverts and ambiverts read your article, the extroverts are sure to stop after the first few lines. But then again as soon as I even mention introverts and extroverts and ambiverts, Dr. Geil will prick up his ears, or whatever he does when he pays attention, and Doc Horn is sure to say something unflattering under his breath and put my name on his blacklist. But when I say Doc Horn made a remark under his breath, well, the pre-ministerial students are sure to label me as in need of a prayer meeting. And, yet, when pre-ministerial is mentioned, the Kappas are sure to snuff and turn away. Then sure as shooting, with the word Kappas, the A.P.O.'s, Zetas, and Pi Tau's become jealous and want their name in the paper, too.

So adding a little plug about their fraternities—about the Zetas being sheiks, the A.P.O.'s being regular guys, and the Pi Tau's being students, fixes that. Having made them happy, the next thing to worry about is the Daymen's Club—yes sir, they have more sham battles down there than any fraternity. The girl day students and the Pat's and Mu's can not be slighted, or all those dorm girls, either. But what about the professors? After all, the historians, the business administrators, the sociologists, the biologists, the botanists, the educators, the linguists, the grammarians, and the home economists all want something to read in their line of study.

So, here I am, going round and round and almost forgot the most important part of the college that requires a different method of pleasing—the administration. What's a person to do? Somehow you just end by writing what you please because you know you can't please all the people all the time nor some of the people all of the time, but you've just got to please some of the people some of the time or you're liable to be standing in a bread line. (Golly, I wonder how many people I pleased this week. Anyway, I tried!)

Intramural Track Plans Revised

Six Meets And Final Scheduled; All Teams To Meet On May 5

Pi Taus Drop From Contestants As Loop Opens

After many a hectic session, the Intra-mural Athletic Council has finally begun its Spring track program.

The action of the Pi Taus in voting not to compete has necessitated in the reduction of the number of meets to seven—six triangular meets and one final meet in which all six teams will compete. The boys from the third floor of the Theology Building—doormats in every sport this year—decided that they didn't have the material for a team, especially since Carl Quinby hurt his knee.

An exact schedule has been worked out for the meets. They are to begin at 6:45 p. m. with the 100 yard dash. Immediately following it will be the three-quarter mile run. At 7:15 the low hurdles will be run. A half-hour later comes the mile and a half grind and the meet will close with the 330. In the meantime, the field events: the high jump and shot put will be run off simultaneously and followed by the broad jump and javelin throw.

Each team will be restricted to two entries in each event, and each contestant will be restricted to four events, of which not more than three may be track or field. Five places will be scored in each event which are to score five, four, three, two and one points. The total points collected by each team will be computed at the end of the season, and the organization with the most points will win the trophy, regardless of whether it won the final meet or not.

The schedule is as follows:

- April 9, Zetas, Theologs, Daymen.
- 14, A. P. O., Kappas, Frosh.
- 16, Theologs, Daymen, A. P. O.
- 21, Kappas, Frosh, Zetas.
- 23, Daymen, A. P. O., Kappas.
- 28, Frosh, Zetas, Theologs.
- May 5, Final Meet.

The league-leading Kappas, by virtue of a week's rest retained their hold on first place in the intra-mural softball league. Having nipped the strong frosh team previously, the Kappas are making a strong and decided bid for the crown.

The Zetas, who also were inactive for the past week, return to the diamond to engage the Pi Taus in a game that should test the strength of the ex-champs.

The A.P.O.'s, fighting hard, clinched another game from the Pi Taus, 8-4, to bring their tally to 3 wins and 1 loss.

The strong "Theolog" team soundly trounced the Daymen 13-8. The Daymen retaliated by taking a close one from the Frosh, 6-5, to break into the win column.

Cheerleaders To "Try Out" At 4:30 Practice Today

Cheerleading tryouts for next year's cheering squad will be held this afternoon at 4:30 on the practice field behind the Science Hall.

Four vacancies must be filled. A new plan under consideration is to have the squad composed of two cheerleaders from each of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, so that it will be necessary to fill only two positions each year. All prospects are requested to learn the cheers and report for the tryouts. Fellows interested are especially urged to attend.

Three more Albright athletes get their chance to play in the Big Game shortly. Vic Gigli, Wash Maholick, and George Horn are the Lions who have received notice to report shortly for duty. Gigli, who was being counted on for another season of quarterbacking on the grid team, leaves tomorrow. Maholick shoves off on April 16 and Horn is awaiting an immediate call from the Naval Reserves. Maholick distinguished himself last fall as a hardrunning back and ranked as one of the best ground gainers among the backs. Horn was a No. 1 replacement on the basketball team and saw grid action before a bad knee forced him to the sidelines. Good luck fellows!

Mu's Batter Wolves In Opener Tuesday

Mu's Earn 18 Runs; Bert Blauch Stars

The Sorority, Non-Sorority league opened on Tuesday when the Mu's completely out-classed and smothered the Wolves, a team composed of sophomore, junior and senior non-sorority girls. Bert Blauch, a newcomer, was the outstanding player for the Mu's and contributed 3 of her team's 18 runs. The Wolves collected seven runs, two of which were earned by "Khaki" Seidel. Although the Wolves had only seven players coming up to bat it was noted that Beep Horn and Willis Heisey acted as fifth columnists in their behalf.

*ENGLISH TRANSLATION

Our hero here is trying to get his gal to give this stag line the brush off and sit one out with him, sipping a Pepsi-Cola or two. Don't blame him, either . . . Pepsi-Cola sure tastes nice.

WHAT DO YOU SAY?

Send us some of your hot slang. If we use it you'll be ten bucks richer. If we don't, we'll shoot you a rejection slip to add to your collection. Mail your slang to College Dept., Pepsi-Cola Company, Long Island City, N. Y.

Honors for Arnold

Harry Arnold has recently been awarded a graduate scholarship in physics at Penn State next year. His scholarship covers all fees and tuition and a stipend toward living expenses at the school during the year. It is reasonable to assume that Harry will maintain the same high academic standard that he set during his years here on the campus and in so doing bring further honors to Albricht.

Alchemists Notes

At 4:30 on the afternoon of May the 5th the Alchemists will hold their annual picnic. The picnic will feature that annual baseball classic between the 'Chem Majors' and the 'Docs.' The game will be played on the field between the theolog and science building. Following the game the club members will hike to Hampden Park, there to enjoy box lunches.

The Alchemists are planning to donate a twenty-five dollar defense bond to the Albrichtian fund. The money for the bond will be taken from the treasury. All members are requested to pay their dues so that the bond may be purchased. Only those members who are in good standing in the organization will be permitted to attend the picnic.

The old and new council will attend a conference of Women's Government Councils at Cedar Crest College, Saturday.

In the seven minute presentations, two minute questioning, and three minute summary followed by questioning from the audience, two representatives from the University were chosen the winners.

Prof. Henry G. Buckwalter, who accompanied the Albricht participants and gave them some valuable pointers, sat in on one of the round table discussions.

NAVY ANNOUNCEMENT TO COLLEGE FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES 17 THRU 19

You want to serve your country! Why not serve where your college training will do the most good?

Under the Navy's newest plan, you can enlist now and continue in college. If you make a good record, you may qualify within two years to become a Naval Officer—on the sea or in the air.

Who may qualify

80,000 men per year will be accepted under this new plan. If you are between the ages of 17 and 19 inclusive and can meet Navy physical standards, you can enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You will be in the Navy. But until you have finished two calendar years, you will remain in college, taking regular college courses under your own professors. Your studies will emphasize mathematics, physics and physical training.

After you have successfully completed 1½ calendar years of work, you will be given a written examination prepared by the Navy. This examination is competitive. It is designed to select the best men for training as Naval Officers.

How to become an Officer

If you rank sufficiently high in the examination and can meet the physical standards, you will have your choice of two courses—each leading to an officer's commission:

1. You may volunteer for training as an Aviation Officer. In this case you will be permitted to finish at least the second calendar year of your college work, after which you will be ordered to active duty for training to become an officer-pilot. Approximately 20,000 men a year will be accepted for Naval Aviation.
2. Or you will be selected for training as a Deck or Engineering Officer. In this case you will be allowed to continue your college work until you have received your degree.

After graduation you will be ordered to active duty for training to become a Deck or Engineering Officer. Approximately 15,000 men a year will be accepted.

If you do not qualify for special officer's training, you will be allowed to finish the second calendar year of college, after which you will be ordered to active duty at a Naval Training Station as Apprentice Seaman.

Those who fail to pass their college work at any time may be ordered to active duty at once as Apprentice Seaman.

Your pay starts with active duty.

Here's a real opportunity. A chance to enlist in your country's service now without giving up your college training... a chance to prove by that same training that you are qualified to be an officer in the Navy.
