SENIOR GIRLS GIVEN PARTY ON OLD CANAL

Thursday evening, May 7, the Y. W. C. A. acted as hostess at a picnic in honor of the senior girls, held at the Old Canal. The merry crowd of girls left Mohn Hall at five o'clock and proceeded to the favorite spot with much hilarity. Arrived at the Canal, by common consent, the picnic lunch was at once disposed of by hungry maids. When the last sandwich had disappeared, the chairman of the "Y." Social Committee, which was in charge of the picnic, called on each Senior to entertain in some characteristic way. Solos, readings, impersonations, and impromptu solo dances were rendered with highly appreciated skill. "When evening shadows fell" the girls slowly wended their way back to Mohn Hall with one more good time added to the list.

FIRST OF A SERIES OF WORLD FELLOWSHIP MEETINGS HELD BY Y.

The first of a series of World Fellowship meetings under the direction of the Y. W. C. A. was held Tuesday evening, May 5. The service was in charge of Kathryn Dice, who also led the discussion on the topic, "Customs of the South Seas." The subject was interestingly discussed, the leader stressing such points as customs, homes, dress and beliefs of the South Seas. Frieda Miller sang a solo. This, with the new and unusual topic, combined to make the meeting a success.

GRAMLEY AND SCHOENLY HEAD BULLETIN STAFF

Have Been Elected Editor-in-chief and Business Manager Respectively

OTHER STAFF MEMBERS HAVE ALSO BEEN SELECTED

Miss Jessie Statler and Newton Miller, the Retiring Executives, Deserve Much Credit For Their Work During the Past Year

At a meeting of the Bulletin Staff, held Monday evening May 4, Miss Jessie Statler, editor-in-chief, announced the personnel of the Albright Bulletin Staff for the coming year, as selected by the retiring Editorial Board. The elections to the new staff are based on a competitive basis, and place the executive positions for the coming year in the hands of Dale H. Gramley, as editor-in-chief, and Richard H. Schoenly, as business manager. The associate editors for the new term are Cyrus Beckey, as managing editor, Miss Erma Maurey, news editor, and Hartwell Fassnacht, feature editor. All three of these students have been working for the Bulletin during the past year.

The retiring Bulletin Staff deserves much credit for their work during the past year. Miss Statler has worked hard to give Albright a good newspaper and has been most faithful to her duty. Mr. Miller has proved to be a successful business manager, and has wiped out a deficiency in the Bulletin treasury, as left him from the previous year, and left the new business manager a surplus. Both these executives, as well as all the other members of the retiring staff, deserve the thanks of the student and alumni subscribers for whom they have labored so successfully.

The new Staff follows:
Editor-in-Chief, Dale Gramley, '26.
Bus. Man., Richard H. Schoenly, '26.
Editorial Writers, Ferne Stanford, '26; Clyde Hewett, '26.

Associate Editors
Managing Editor, Cyrus Beckey, '27.

SPANISH CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AND THEN ENJOYS SPANISH TEA

The Spanish Club held its last meeting for this year in Mohn Hall Reception room, Thursday afternoon, May 7. The meeting was opened in the usual way, with the Salute to the Flag, the Lord's Prayer, and the singing of "America", in Spanish by the club. This was followed by a little play in Spanish, delightfully presented by Misses Neast and Long. Misses Wright and Kinsinger sang a duet. Following this, the officers for the year 1925-26 were elected. Those chosen to fill the offices were: President, Russell Loucks; vice-president, George Hollenbaugh; secretary, Elizabeth Bittle; treasurer, Kathryn Dice; Chaplain, Caroline Illick; pianist, Charles Lehman.

After the election, Mrs. Ellis served tea to the club, during which time Charles Lahman entertained with several selections at the piano. Everyone spent a very pleasant and profitable afternoon, and unanimously pronounced Mrs. Ellis a charming and entertaining hostess.

The Bulletin brings Albright to you.

STAFF SELECTED FOR NEW FROSH HANDBOOK

Heil Gramley and Paul Price Selected to Take Charge of Publication of Albright's Second Handbook—Work Started

The Christian Associations have started work on the publication of Albright's second volume of the Handbook, by electing Heil Gramley as editor-in-chief of the Book and Paul Price as business manager, at a recent Cabinet meeting. Both of these men were on the staff of the first Frosh Handbook which was published last year, and are men well qualified for their positions. They have already started active work on the next Frosh Bible, and expect to have the material in the hands of the printers by June 15.

The Staff which will aid in the publication work has also been selected and is as follows:

Editorial Assistants: Grace Hagen, Anna Benfer, Avril Heckert, and Dale Gramley.

Business assistants: Milton Wilkes and Paul Hartranft.

BUDGET REPORT

Budget Committee Makes Splendid Report Which Provides For Several Improvements Over Last Year's Budget

BULLETIN GETS RAISE

At a meeting of the Budget Committee, which is composed of a representative from each of the budgetary organizations, held on Monday evening, May 11, a budget for next year was drawn up which will total $26. The report of this committee is to be presented to the student body for ratification, and little opposition is expected.

The new budget, as drawn up by the Committee, provides for several desirable changes in last year's budget, and certainly is an improvement. In the first place, the fifty cents which was given to the non-functioning band this year, has been dropped from the Budget; and the money which accrued from this assessment this year has been placed in the hands of the Budget Committee as a sinking fund, to be used at the discretion of the students.

The Albright Bulletin has been granted an additional fifty cents, making the subscription price of the same, $2. As a result of this additional appropriation, the Bulletin will be improved next year. The Library fee, which is an Administration and not a student affair, has been dropped from the budget entirely.

Debating has been granted an additional $5.50, making their appropriation $1.50 per student. This was necessary because of the ex-

HEWETT WINS JUNIOR ORATORICAL PRIZE

Clyde Hewett Wins the Kelchner Prize With His Oration On War—Miss Shirk Gets Honorable Mention

The Junior Oratorical Contest, for the prize of $15 in gold offered each year by Prof. Charles Kelchner, formerly athletic coach at Albright and now general secretary of the Lebanon Y. M. C. A., was held Tuesday evening, May 12, in the College Chapel. There were five contestants for the prize, all of whom helped make the contest one of the closest and best since Prof. Kelchner has been offering the prize.

The decision of the judges was not announced until Wednesday morning after chapel exercises, and resulted in favor of Clyde E. Hewett, whose subject was "War—A Wolf In Sheep's Clothing." Miss Elsie Shirk was given honorable mention on her oration, which was "The Ideal Life".

The other participants in the contest were Miss Ferne Stanford, Paul Price and Dale Gramley.

BULLETIN REPRESENTED AT I. N. A. CONFERENCE

Successful College Newspaper Conference Held At Ursinus College—Noted Speakers Address College Editors

The eleventh annual conference of the Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States was held at Ursinus College, May 8 and 9, with twenty-one colleges and universities of the east represented. Dale H. Gramley, the new editor-in-chief of the Albright Bulletin, and Richard H. Schoenly, newly elected business manager, represented Albright at this conference.

The conference was a most enjoyable affair, opening Friday evening with a delightful banquet in the Ursinus College Dining Hall. Addresses by President George F. Omwake, of Ursinus; J. Melvin Lee, of New York University, who is executive secretary of the I. N. A., and a former editor of Judge; George W. DeWass, chief editorial writer of the Evening Public Ledger; and J. Hampton Moore, former mayor of Philadelphia, featured the evening's program.

The Saturday morning program opened with a business meeting in Bomberger Hall, with Frank Shimer, of Gettysburg, in the chair. Reports from the member papers of the I. N. A. were heard and another interesting address given by Prof. Lee. The Juniata, of Juniata College, and the Crestiad, of Cedar Crest College, were received as members of the I. N. A. It was decided to accept the invitation of Swarthmore College to have the Twelfth Annual Conference at that place next year. Dickinson College also invited the Association. The conference then closed with the election of officers for the coming year and lunch in the Ursinus Dining Hall.

"DELTA" CLUB STEPS OUT

On Thursday evening, May 7, the Delta Lambda Epsilon Club and friends were the guests of P. V. Shevell, '25 to a supper and moonlight walk held at the historical Shock's Dam. The affair celebrated Mr. Shevell's birthday. After a bounteous feast around a large campfire the members of the party enjoyed

Makes It Seven Straight By Winning Once From Ursinus and Twice From F. & M.

ROLLS UP RECORD SCORE AT LANCASTER AGAINST F. & M.

Team Score 28-5 Victory Over F. & M. In Second Meeting, After Winning First By 6-4 Score—Ursinus Beaten Here, 6-4.

Albright 6—F. & M. 4

By defeating Franklin and Marshall College on Wednesday, April 29, at Myerstown in a thrilling baseball game the Albright squad accomplished a good day's work. In the first place it defeated one of its old time rivals, second, it brought its series of victories up to five and added to that it broke the winning streak of Franklin and Marshall, after that team had won its first four games. The game was not as close as the score 6-4, may lead one to believe. It was only a series of adverse circumstances which prevented the men walked by Polack from scoring.

Franklin & Marshall scored first, taking the lead in the second inning when Polack, with Roberts on second met one of Shoaps arches and landed it over the right field fence for a homer.

In the same inning Albright made its first mark after Yost had driven out a triple and had been sacrificed home by Griggs. In the third inning F. & M. was held hitless by Shoap, whose ire had been aroused by the single F. & M. tally. Then when Albright came to bat they met Polack for two more runs, both Smith and Gasull scoring on Leinbach's double. After that, for six innings there was no danger of Franklin and Marshall scoring, while in the sixth Albright added two more to the string and one in the eighth.

Then a stinging rally on the part of Franklin and Marshall in the ninth sent pangs of fear to the hearts of the Albright fans as Brown, first man up smashed out a homer, and Roberts next sent out a double, advanced to third on Kengle's error and went home on a hit by Shank. All this was done with none out. Then Shoap again hit his stride and struck the next two out. Yohn then hit what appeared to be a sure single to center, but Raffy came in at top speed and made a shoe string catch.

First on balls off Shoap 1, off Polack 9, Alesiger 2. Home runs: Hartzell, Polack, Brown. Three base hits: Yost. Two base hits: Roberts, Leinbach, Smith. Struck out by Shoap 9, by Polack, 2.

Albright 6—Ursinus 4

The next aggregation to fall victims to the onslaught of the Albright sluggers was Ursinus College. They met the same fate as had Franklin and Marshall only three days before. The score was 6-4. Ursinus, like

JUST IN PASSING

The new 1925-26 Staff takes charge of the Bulletin with the publication of this issue.

First of all, we wish to pledge ourselves to work hard during our term of office for the success of the Bulletin and for a greater and better Albright, and a greater and better student body. We pledge ourselves to impartiality, fairness and truth.

Our editorial policy for the year will be announced in the next number of the Bulletin and it is our aim and purpose to pursue that policy for the betterment of Albright and conditions at Albright. We aim to place certain standards before your eyes, and we will work toward the establishment of those standards until they are attained, and then we will work to maintain them. We want to see certain things achieved here at Our Albright; you want to see certain things achieved, and together, we will work for them.

Two big missions of a college newspaper are: first, to present student news, the news which you will make; and second to reflect student thought as we interpret it and as you express it. That we will try to do.

We ask your cooperation in the publishing of the Bulletin during the coming year.

ALBRIGHT'S BRAINS FOR ALBRIGHT

May Day is over. The fete was very successful, everyone is saying. Of course it was. It was strictly according to Hoyle. Everything was worked out in perfect accordance with the rules of the game—that is, everything was done exactly as the score book said, and in the way that other colleges do it. The affair, in short, was almost a perfect average presentation.

Indeed, Albright is coming up, as they say, to the average standards in many things. We have been, by degrees, adopting for our Bulletin ideas gleaned from twenty or thirty other papers of other colleges. We formulated this last fall our girls' athletic program by assembling the programs of other colleges. In short, we're tending to become, not a college with an individuality of its own, but a mixed conglomeration of the best points of fifty other colleges—a perfect average.

Is a perfect average what we want? Perhaps it would be acceptable if we could do no better; but the pity of it is that we can do better and are too lazy. We here at Albright have brains just as much as people at other institutions. We can think of new ideas just the same as they can. The trouble with us is that we're afraid to be original. We're afraid our ideas won't work. But, even if they don't work, ideas of our own that are failures are more to us, even then, than people's ideas which we have not created.

Let's get away from this fear—this docile acceptance of others' words as law. The spirit of today, although more democratic than ever, yet emphasizes individualism. Let's get into the swing of things.

How shall we do it? Let us compare our own May Day Fete for next year, working out the plot, the dances and costumes all ourselves. Let's put into our Bulletin a department that we've never seen in any other paper. Let's organize our girls' athletics in a manner suitable to Albright without regard to the ways of other schools.

Just because we aren't the largest school in the land doesn't say we can't be "a college with a personality". Look what Butler College did. Let's use Albright's brains, and not the minds of outsiders, to make Albright.

: Campus Chatter :

The top O' the mornin' to ye, says he, The top O' the mornin' to ye, from me. For who could be sad when the sun is a shine, Like every last face in the whole Benfer Nine, For F. & M's beaten to such an extent They'll never recover—that was our intent; And never more now can they croak at our game— They lost on their own field, and who was to blame? So here's to the Beneferites—greatest success, We hope you win every game, that and no less.

And then with a glimpse of the sun in the sky, The Tennis Courts hurried and got very dry; So now we can see at all hours of the day The white balls a-flyin'—hear "deuce", "game", and "play".

So hurry you Tennis Fans—Stiffness the cost, And make up for all of the time you have lost.

Then May Day is coming, it creeps very near, And practice and sewing is all that you hear, Unless it's the Prom and the class meetings too— I'll tell you a secret, they have quite a few. The Parrot has trouble in meeting their pace, And never gets time for a rest in one place; And once when the weather man started to cry, His feathers got wet and he feared they'd not dry. But one must expect a few things just like that, If he would keep all of the world 'neath his hat.

While typewriter keys and the pen weaves a tune That if you but listen is singing of June. They must write their Theses, they must be fins, Before they can win their diploma you see. So heads must bend low and the fingers must fly, And typewriters work till they screech, "do or die." But Seniors, the merry souls, soon will be free; A two week's vacation—enticing, ah, me!

But this is enough for a Parrot who's new— I'll talk again some time—for this time, adieu!

I See By The Albright Bulletin That—

Hazing has been disapproved by the Third Biennial Inter-collegiate Conference on Student Activities which was held at Cornell University, Friday, May 2. A plan of point competition, somewhat similar to the Frosh-Soph activities here at Albright was recommended at the Conference and will probably be followed by more schools.

Ursinus proved themselves to be excellent hosts by the fine manner in which they entertained the Eleventh Annual Conference of the I. N. A. Howard T. Herbert of Ursinus, and Frank H. Shimar, of Gettysburg, were two men who made the conference a success.

The 1926 Speculums are about due and will probably be on hand within the next ten or twelve days. This year's edition of Albright's year book is larger than any of the preceding fourteen editions, contains several new departments, and has a unique art scheme. Subscribe at once for your copy.

In the first seven games this year, Albright scored 95 runs, or an average of 13.57 runs per game.

Cornell has a society known as the "Red Key" society, which is a group of men who have failed in competition for managerships. The Society is a Junior organization and the membership is limited. Their one job is to entertain visitors.

The wire nets at each end of the tennis courts take the joy out of tennis. Some of the players spend more time running after balls that have gone thru the net than they do playing tennis. We predict that they'll be fixed for Commencement Week, and will be greatly appreciated by the town boys and girls during the summer months.

The boxes of candy that Albright students had sent to their mothers for Mother's Day, through the Y. W. C. A., cheered more than one Mother last week.

Poor management cost us another victory when the Seton Hall game was cancelled.

The library of New York University contains over 100,000 volumes at the present time, and is still growing.

The new 1927 Speculum Staff is hard at work making plans to keep themselves busy during the summer months.

The speakers on Albright's successful debating team of the past season have received their debating "A's". They deserve them.

The officers of Mohn Hall's student government have been holding many, varied and frequent meetings lately, mostly in consultation with Mrs. Mohn. Let's have the news, girls.

The rain of last Sunday and Monday put the dampener on baseball and tennis and resulted in some real academic work again.

Miss Thelma Kreiser, '27, who was stricken with appendicitis two weeks ago, is reported as resting well in a Lebanon Hospital. Her operation was successful.

: Who's Who At Albright :

ARTHUR HAROLD HENNINGER A perfect example of a good all-around fellow, a brilliant student, athlete, a "hot" tennis player—what more could you want? Oh, yes, and this boy also adds debating to all of his other attainments. But "Pete" has passed the amateur stage of oratory, and his forceful arguments have done their part in making Albright's debating squad so effective this year. Pete has that happy faculty of talking as though he believes everything that he is saying; which, of course, adds to the persuasive appeal to the audience. Pete's a likeable chap, which accounts for the fact that he is already appropriated. Just a warning to the co-eds.

GEORGE HARTMAN LEINBACH Baseball season and "Benny" are almost synonymous, for it is in that special sport that this lad shines. True, he plays tennis and football also, but Benny is always in his element when a baseball is flying around. You'll all admit that he is a good first baseman.

"Dutch" is the easy-going sort of chap who never allows studies to interfere with a good time, a very common attitude among Albright students.

As for this boy's ambitions, they're distant ones, and they are vague plans with South America in the background; a South America filled with laughing-eyes, tusk-haired, brilliantly gowned Senoritas. We wonder if the Senoritas can accomplish what other girls have failed to do. Here's luck to you, Benny, we hope the reality will bear out the anticipation.

MILLER ADDRESSES REGULAR CLERIC MEETING

Mr. Philip Miller addressed the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Cleric which was held in Neocosmian Hall, Monday evening, May, 4.

The meeting which was well attended was opened by a very inspirational devotional service, after which Mr. Miller gave an interesting talk on his, "Life Experiences". In his talk Mr. Miller mentioned the events of his life which led to his entering Albright at we weeks ago. In closing he said he would like to have fellowship with each and every student. Already he has learned to know a number of the fellows and finds Albright a fine school with an excellent Christian atmosphere.

IN SPRING

A shadow falls upon the grass;
I laugh—and pass.

The sunshine gleams on pool and stream;
I pause—and dream.

A violet blooms—wee, modest, thing;
I wake—'tis spring.

A meadow lark sings from the sod,
Above us—God.

THE TEST

It's easy to smile and be jolly,
When everything goes our way.
But to be at our best
When we're put to the test,
Is the thing that is going to pay.

It's easy enough to help someone,
When knowing that one is a friend.
But to help him along,
When he's done you some wrong,
Is the thing that will pay in the end.

There's nothing so hard about living,
When all who we meet have a smile
If we don't feel cast down,
When we're met with a frown
After all that's the thing that's worth while.

Yes, 'tis nice to continue in sunshine,
But shadows come once in a while.
When they come can we say,
It is only a day
And then chase them away with a smile?

OUR FACULTY

WILLIAM J. CHISLETT, Jr.
This year the chair of the English department is graced by a Californian, a Professor with a disposition as equable and sunny as that of his native state. Not that Dr. Chislett is no disciplinarian, far from that. But he has the knack of bawling out students by use of a gentle sarcasm, rather than by what is termed by the students as a "bawling-out". It's effective too.

Dr. Chislett has all sorts of degrees, even to a Ph.D. The students have found out something else about him, too, and that is that he has literary aspirations. At least, he receives mail in long, official-looking envelopes, which seems pretty conclusive evidence.

It is rumored that Dr. Chislett is to be with us only one year; that he will return to his beloved West. It is to be hoped that this is not true, for there will be many students to regret his departure.

Take A Weekly Trip Home . . . Over The Telephone

Take Your Place in the Family Circle . . .

Since the advent of the telephone, there have been fewer and fewer cases of acute loneliness in college dormitories!

THAT UNDERCURRENT OF LONESOMENESS! How often it is noticed, even in the active life of the most blase and sophisticated College Man!

The best-known man on the campus will tell you that he experiences a frequent desire to join the old circle back Home. He will also tell you that he does join it, every week . . . over the telephone. Because the man who is good-fellow enough to be popular at College is just the type of man who is thoughtful enough to keep in constant personal touch with the people at Home.

Take your place in the family circle. Make a telephone date with Mother and Dad for a certain day at a certain hour, every week of your College Life.

This little folder has been distributed on the campus. It tells you how low the rates really are.

If your home town is not included in the list, see the front pages of the telephone directory.

The Long Distance Operator will give you rates not shown there

ALBRIGHT CONTINUES WINNING STREAK AT EXPENSE OF URSINUS AND F. & M.

Franklin and Marshall came with a last for blood. They intended to break the winning streak. Consequently from the time the umpire called "Play Ball" there was plenty of pep and life. In fact there even developed considerable wrangling which tended toward slowing up the game.

In the first frame Albright got busy and in a short time had battered Franklin in three runs. A hit by Hartzell started the roundelay. Next Smith hit one to the short stop which he fumbled, putting two men on base. Then Kengle, with a double over the right field fence, sent Hartzell in ahead of him. Shoap next came up and sent Smith and Kengle home with his hit.

In the third Hartzell and Smith again covered two sacks in the infield. Kengle, next man up, fanned, but Shoap managed to advance these two men by means of a sacrifice fly. Then Leinbach swept them home with his double. This raised the score to the level of 5-0.

Ursinus could not see Yost's bends until the sixth inning, after two were out. Then one came in too close and happened to hit Sterner. The next man hit to Gasull, who fumbled. Then 2 successive hits accounted for two runs. Then the ball went into oblivion again as Clark struck out.

In the eighth, Shoap landed on first via the hit route and finally went home to add one more run for good measure.

In the ninth Sellers for Ursinus started what looked like a whirlwind rally. After getting to first by a walk he stole second. Then Clark panned out a double and scored Sellers. Derk next landed a hit and scored Clark. His own chance for scoring was nipped in the bud, however, when Kengle threw him out at second when Hoager hit a grounder to him. The next man fanned, Loux hit safely, but Hartzell ended the game by making an assist to first.

First on ball off Yost 3, off Derk 1. Struck out by Yost 13, by Derk 7. Two base hits: Kengle, Leinbach, Sellers, Clark.

Albright 28-F. & M. 5

The second Franklin and Marshall game was played at Lancaster. For many, in fact most of the fans there, said it was the greatest slugfest they had ever seen. Shoap, the left-hander who had baffled them one week previous, again topped the mound. During his workout there he allowed them only four hits; one in the third inning and three in the fourth.

The first inning quickly and decisively demonstrated Albright's superiority and the trend of the game. Albright was the first at bat. Hartzell, second man up sent Jeffries' first slant cavorting to the left field wire fence. The ball bounded back rapidly and thus enabled the fielder to hold Hartzell on second. Then came six more successive hits which rapidly converted themselves into runs. In the same inning Franklin and Marshall scored one lonesome tally.

It would take a page to tell how 28 runs were scored. Suffice it to say that there were only three innings in which the Albright squad did not score at least one run.

The heavy hitting of Captain Yost and Griggs featured the game. Each man had six hits. The Ruths of the game were Yost and Smith. Yost sent a spher on a hot line drive thru the left field fence while Smith's went ten feet above the fence and dropped on the other side of the street.

Three base hits: Shoap, Griggs. Two base hits: Kengle, Hartzell, Yost, Griggs 2, Smith. Home runs: Yost, Smith. Struck out by Shoap 7, by Washiek 2.

Town Notes

The new Lakeside park to the east of the town has been completed and formally opened. The park is situated along the historic Tulpehocken and provides ideal scenery. An artificial lake has been constructed to afford boating. Other amusements will be bathing, fishing and dancing. The one completed building along the William Penn highway has already been occupied by Mr. Helms, who will manage the gasoline station at the park entrance. Provisions will also be made for camping tourists.

Work on the renovation of the Reformed Church will be started in the near future, and it is expected to have the work completed by the middle of September. The work will consist of frescoing, installation of indirect lighting, laying of hardwood floors, and rebuilding of the pipe organ. Several changes will also be made in the plan of the Sunday School.

Harry C. Fink, a well known grocer has recently purchased the Franklin House property at private sale and after the completion of a new steam bakery has moved his store-stock and bakery to the new building.

The operatta "In the Garden of the Shah" was presented in the local High School Auditorium on Friday evening, May 8th, by the high school glee clubs. The work was under the direction of the School Director of Music, Miss Lillian Stuft, and a colorful and pleasing entertainment was given.

: Alumni Notes :

One of Albright's most interested Alumni, one who is working in the interest of a "greater Albright", is Warren I. Brubaker, class of 1921. Mr. Brubaker is at present completing a medical course at Harvard, where he will receive the degree of Doctor of Medicine in June.

Hobson Zerbe '21 has been elected assistant principal of the Southmont High School, Johnstown, Pa. Mr. Zerbe has been having a successful year as teacher of science and mathematics in the Charleroi, Pa. High School.

Note by Dr. Gobble: Again our old friend and alumnus of Union Seminary '63 has shown his interest in Albright College by presenting the Library with twenty four new books. One is a complete set of the much advertised "The Outline of Knowledge" in twenty volumes.

I refer to Dr. Charles W. Surry, former president of Ohio University at Athens, Ohio, and author of many books, all of which are found on our shelves.

"Y" INSTALLATION

New Officers of Y. M. C. A. Installed At Interesting Meeting—Dietz Gives Excellent Report On Past Year's Work

The installation service of the Y. M. C. A. was held, Tuesday evening, May 5. The meeting was marked with speeches by the retiring and newly elected president; solo by Glencoe Raffensperger and an address by Professor V. C. Zener on "The Achieving of the Jesus Way on the Campus Depends First On Me."

Mr. Deitz in his exaugural address used as his subject, "High Spots in the Work of the Association During 1924-25." Among the outstanding

GREAT AMERICAN TEACHERS AGENCY You have prepared yourself to teach. Are you holding or going to hold a position as large as your ability enables you to hold? The watchword of America is OPPORTUNITY. Seek it thru the GREAT AMERICAN TEACHERS AGENCY Allentown, Pa. P. O. Box 157 events of the year as given by Mr. Deitz, were: Twenty some speakers appeared at various times, including, Sherwood Eddy, Tucker Smith, Eugene Corbie, J. M. Horner, Pat Malin, "Bill" Wood, Dr. Egge, "Pop" Kelchner, "Shorty" Miller, Prof. Heck, and members of the Albright faculty; discussion groups were held on war, industry, vacations, and the Japanese question; devotional meetings and "sings"; two Bible study groups started under the direction of Mr. C. T. Miller; repairing of the "Y" room; establishing a book store and "Y" office in the dormitory; deputation work, in the form of two church services and sending members as Sunday School teachers in nearby Churches; delegates were sent to the Bucknell, Gettysburg, F. & M., and Silver Bay conferences; held a fall cabinet retreat, and a joint retreat with the Lebanon Valley cabinet; established an Employment Bureau under the direction of Paul Hartranft; worked jointly with the Y. W. C. A. in issuing the first Albright Student's Hand Book; and created a new cabinet position in the form of freshmen representative. The result of this program, Mr. Deitz said, was that Albright morally and religiously had the best campus he was ever on. In conclusion he outlined briefly the program he would pursue if he were to be president for another term.

The new president, Mr. Heil Gramley, used as his subject, "What Christianity Should Mean to Our Campus." Mr. Gramley stated that he would continue the program of the past year and try to regulate our campus life by Christ's standard.

Mr. Paul Price, the retiring vice-president, paid a fine tribute to the work of Mr. Deitz and expressed his hope that the Christian Associations would be the biggest thing on Albright's Campus, under the new administration.

Prof. Zener's interesting address was followed by the installation of G. Heil Gramley as President; Milton Wilkes, Vice-president, Edwin Harris, Treasurer, and Glen Morris, Secretary.

Following prayer and a song, the Mizpah was repeated and the work of the 1924-25 cabinet came to a close.

ALBRIGHT Y. M. C. A. SENDS MEN TO F. & M.

Hartranft and Hood Represent The College Y. at Thirty-fourth Annual Conference Held at F. & M.

The Albright Y. M. C. A. was represented at the thirty-fourth Annual Conference of Pennsylvania Y. M. C. A. Officers: by Paul Hartranft and Leon Hood. The conference was held at Franklin and Marshall College, the week end of May 1. Leonard M. Miller, Student Secretary of Pennsylvania, and a former Albright man, was the presiding officer at all meetings. Talks were given and discussions led by Milton Stauffer, W. H. Tinker, C. O. Wright, "Bill" Wood, and other leading "Y" men of this state. There were twenty-six colleges and universities represented by ninety-four delegates.

Our advice to all young men is to keep in mind the fact that you never get ahead of anyone so long as you follow in their footsteps.

We read where a Chicago school boy shot another. Isn't it time parents were teaching their children not to play so rough?

Two people were badly hurt in a St Louis taxi the other day when the driver thought a girl on the sidewalk looked better than the road.

Last year was a big year for Coolidge. He got himself re-elected and a fellow returned to him a dime that he had lost.
