

Master Race—Why?

An open meeting of the Philosophy Club was held last Wednesday evening in Selwyn Parlors. Fred Clewell, president of the club had charge of the meeting.

"Philosophy Today," was read by Harry Buck. His paper dealt with the philosophy of Schopenhauer and Nietzsche, and he explained that this is the basis of Hitler's philosophy of the master race. A discussion of the subject followed.

A resume of the club's purpose activities and a brief history of the organization was given by the president. One of the important things the club has done this year is the placing of ten worthwhile philosophy books in the Alumni Memorial Library for everyone's use.

Disks a la French

A program of recordings of French classical music and literature featured the regular meeting of the French Club, held last Wednesday, January 17, in the Music Studio.

The literary records included Victor Hugo's "La Lettre de Madame Sevigne a Sa Fille," "Les Jours D'Engance" and a scene from Moliere's "L'Avare."

The music recording consisted of songs sung by Grace More. Before the playing of each record, Regina Jarlom, Rachel Willauer, Shirley Rekon, Phyllis Stock and Lura Ann Heverly gave a resume of the life of the composer and a translation from the French.

Report Cards

The Rev. Lester L. Stabler director of public relations, spoke to the members of the Albright chapter of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association at a meeting held last Monday, January 22, in the Administration building.

A delegate at the P.S. E. A. state convention, Rev. Stabler reported to the group about the discussion periods conducted at the convention which was held in Harrisburg. Dr. Virgil Zener, adviser to student teachers, members of the chapter, and prospective teachers in the Junior class attended the meeting.

Something New

Big events have been taking place these past few weeks in that den of inquiry—the Daymen's Den. Upon the completion of their renovating program, the lads—feeling mighty uppity—changed the name of their organization from the Daymen's Club to the F.O.D.—Fraternal Order of Daymen. There were no changes in the membership policy—except—when the treasurer suggested that all members pay their dues there was a panic-like rush (and not for the doors) by all members to come across.

Bank Night

In order to raise money for the annual English prize, Sigma Tau Delta will sponsor a movie in the Albright Chapel in the near future. Either "His Girl Friday," "Algiers," or "Golden Boy" will be presented depending upon which one is available. Plans for the theatre night were made at a meeting of the fraternity held last Wednesday night in Sherman Cottage.

Pat Patter

Letters have been received from the Lions in the Ranks, expressing their appreciation for the Christmas gifts received from the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority. At their first rush party, the sorority members and guests prepared packages for Albright men in the service.

Music Dept. Gives Recital With Chorus, Orchestra

A concert, sponsored by the music department was held last night, Jan. 22, in the College Dining Hall. The Women's Glee Club, the Mixed Chorus, the Symbonov Orchestra had a part in the program. Jeanne Schlegel was the vocal soloist, while Betty Anne Fredericks and Ruth Pittman played a special number for violin.

The Albrightian

Thaw's On Etherial Things

Dear Joe:

Take the word snow—put it in all the tenses and you have a weather forecast for Albright and vicinity, it has snowed, it snows and it shall continue to snow (we hope).

Right about now I should wax poetic and rave on about the beauties of the snow but as here is nothing that I can say that hasn't been said before, I shall let the matter go with the brief statement: Grin and Brrrrr it.

—Chills and Icicles.
ALL BRIGHT

P. S.

It snowed and snowed so very hardy
Hence your Albrightian was a bit tardy.

LIONS in the RANKS

A letter came from JACK H. WITMAN CM 3/c saying that he expected to move soon and to see DON SPANG. Don is in the Philippines. I'd be glad to box-up some of this snow and send it to you, if I could.

PVT AARON TAUB, 33949521, Med. Detach; Hq. Btry, 778th F.A. B.N. Fort Bragg, N. C. writes to tell us that he has been transferred into the medical corps. Congratulations! Don't suddenly get the urge to dissect someone, they might not like that. He said "I sure do remember dear old Albright at this time of the year with the snow fights, the sledding, the basketball season in full swing, the carrels from the library, and the general holiday spirit which prevails throughout the campus." All that was present this year, and I, too, will remember it a long time.

PVT. LEON H. COOPER, Troop C, L02, APO 230, New York tells us that he received the Silver Star medal for gallantry in action on June 6. He is in Germany. Speed! I'll try to get those addresses to you soon.

SGT. KENNETH U. CAMPBELL '36 says that he is now with the AAF in Italy. He has been overseas for 10 months. That's right, no football this is over soon, and in '45, the Lions will again go roaring down the field against Bucknell, Ursinus, Lebanon Valley, and the rest of them—just like in the days of DICK RIFFLE and "MOOSE" Disend.

CPL. JACOB SKLOVER 32422834; 11th AACB Squadron AAF; Station 59 APO 624-4 c/o PM, Miami, Fla. is among the many of you wrote to wish all of us here at school a very successful year. Thanks. The same to you.

Dean Cunliffe to Talk In Thursday's Chapel

Helen L. Cunliffe, dean of women, has charge of the chapel service this Thursday morning at 10:00 a.m. in the College Chapel. This morning's program was conducted by Dr. F. W. Gingrich, professor of Greek. There will be no chapel services during exam week.

Chapel programs last week were conducted by Student Council and Dr. J. B. Douds, head of the English department, on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, respectively.

Cram? Exam Darn!

"Double, double, toil and trouble" of course we couldn't mean anything else but exam week, which—as you all have been trying to forget—starts this Friday afternoon, January 25, with registration in the morning. So that you may be able to get your term papers in at least two minutes before 9 this year. Mr. Raymond, Librarian, announces that the library will be open until 10 o'clock on Friday nights, this semester. Happy hibernation!

Reporters Take Over The Albrightian Posts

Three members of THE ALBRIGHTIAN staff are gaining editorial experience for a trial period of three weeks, as they take over editor's positions. Kenneth Good, a sports reporter, is filling the job of sports editor.

Eileen O'Neil, a member of the news staff, is news editor, with Catherine Frantz, of the feature staff, acting as assistant news editor. Paul Deysher, former sports editor, and Eleanor Schubert, former news editor, will serve in an advisory capacity during the trial period.

Similar three-weeks' trial periods will be conducted throughout the year, thus giving more staff members an opportunity to learn of the editorial side of the paper. The new editors will be selected sometime in April.

Daystudents to Hold Annual Ball With Candlelit Effect

"If you haven't yet bought that ticket for the day students' dance, you'd better get it right away," say Ruth Rehr and Herbert Hyman, co-chairmen for the affair. Only a limited number of tickets were printed and they're going fast. If it's a man you're looking for, women, enlisted personnel from the Reading Army Airfield have been invited. See Ruth Rehr, Gayle Haupt, or Judith Scheier for further details.

Jack Heath's orchestra will provide plenty of smooth, sentimental music for dancing by candlelight. As an added feature hostesses will serve punch to dancers. Decorations include card tables with checkered table cloths and lighting effects will be candles.

Tickets at $1.80 per couple may be obtained from Robert Gale in the men's dorm; Betty Jacobs and Shirley Sperans in the women's dorm; Russell Luck, Donald Kniffen, Homer Angstadt of the Daymen's Club; Ruth Rehr, Gayle Haupt, Judith Scheier in the Daywomen's organization. Chaperones for the evening will be Dr. Milton Geil, and Mr. Kenneth Raymond.

So don't forget—Friday, January 26, in the College Dining Hall. Dancing time—8:30 to 11:30 p.m. It's informal and open to everyone on campus.

P.S. If you think Sinatra's worth swooning about, wait till you hear the Albright Teamsters. They're really going to give out. So come on and dance!

Senior Dorm Women To Foster Traditions

Although Mrs. J. B. Douds was unable to address the resident women as previously planned, a dorm meeting, followed by a New Year's party, was held in Selwyn Parlors at 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday, January 16.

It was announced that the regular dormitory dues of $50 is to be compulsory next semester, to cover the cost of teas and of refreshments following dorm meetings. In order to encourage the use of the parlor for socializing after meals, the side door of the dining room will be open after lunch and dinner. The key to the small kitchen on the first floor of Selwyn Hall is to be kept in the office of the Dean and can be obtained at anytime by women who wish to use the kitchen.

Dean Helen Cunliffe reported the organization of the senior advisory committee, whose purpose it is to foster the senior traditions at Albright. (Continued on page 2)

A Wonderful Whiteness So Sublime . . . You Can Slip and Fall Almost Anytime

Snow, snow, beautiful snow—or is it? Albright—and the world with, in a hundred mile radius—is blanketed in picturesque whiteness. Somehow the campus looks almost as lovely as it does in the growing newness of spring. The evergreen on the front campus and elsewhere are all gently bowed with their white burden.

And there's the realistic side of the story. If you should happen to perceive two brawny brutes with a vicious gleam in their eyes indicating malicious intentions, it's probably Jack Teger and Boh Procko. Their obvious aim is to moisten—roughly—the complexion of some defenseless damsel who mistakenly crosses their path. Marie Bonner sports a slightly reddened eye as the target of one of Red Angstadt's direct hits. (Undoubtedly the fray was not too one-sided.)

Perhaps you're one of the hard-working students in Biology 2 lab struggling to beat the end of the semester. If you are, work under the table, lest one of the Miller-Blauch team's hit-or-miss missiles comes your way through the open window. "Childish antics," says Prof. Green.

Transportation presents difficulties, too. The absence of buses and street cars on the highways as transporting vehicles forced Albright day-students to trudge slowly along all the streets perpendicular to Penn Street. They glared grudgingly at

Combined "Y" Meet To Feature Stauffer Conscription Discussion To Be Held Later

Dr. E. E. Stauffer, district superintendent of the Western District of the East Pennsylvania Conference of Evangelical Churches, will speak at tonight's meeting of the Combined "Y's," a worship service. Dr. Stauffer was formerly a professor at Albright. Ray Pottelger will be the student leader for the program, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the College Chapel.

Dr. Stauffer has given 41 years of almost continuous service to Albright in some capacity since serving as college pastor in 1903. He has taught Bible, church history, and English at Albright and was also associate professor of English at Lebanon Valley College. He has been secretary of the Board of Trustees of Albright College since 1942 and has been a member of its executive committee since 1929.

A discussion of "Peacetime Conscription," which was to take place at the meeting last Tuesday evening was cancelled because of inclement weather. William Penn, general superintendent of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church School, was to be leader. In place of the discussion, the "Y's" held a family worship service in Selwyn Parlors. Betty Anne Fredericks was leader. The conscription discussion will be held at the first "Y" meeting of the second semester.

The leader for Bible Class this Sunday, January 28, will be Marguerite Jungblut, with Professor Lewis E. Smith again presenting the lesson. The class is held at 8:45 a.m. in Sylvan Chapel. Last Sunday, Ferne Allen was the student leader. (Continued on page 2)

Oops!

THE ALBRIGHTIAN does not mean to be the strong, silent type in anything it prints. We aim for complete news coverage. However, we slipped in the snow last week and unintentionally omitted from the Domino Club play review giving orchids to Miss Shaffer for her fine job as director. And, too, we had no mention of the excellent performances of Herbert Hyman, Lloyd Schwartz, and Owen Henry, who had important parts in the production. In the practice teaching list we left out Lura Ann Heverly, who is teaching English at Reading High School. THE ALBRIGHTIAN has one slightly red face.

Seimonette

Whether or not you are a science major, it would be very much worthwhile, dear reader, to take a look at this week's Science Slants. We say "Amen" to it, for it's about time that we, as college students, get down to brass tacks about finding a definite purpose in our education. We don't advocate going from class to class with a perpetually solemn look on our faces and not finding fun in anything. But it will come in handy to keep in mind that there's work to be done, and we're the ones who are going to do it.

Noise, Boys

Since, as a latecomer, at last week's game we had to be content with a seat in the lower section, we really got an "objective" idea of what our student cheering section looks like and sounds like. And it really is okay. The cheerleaders are on the ball about keeping the kids pepped up. So more power to you. But, as a suggestion for improvement, why not have a pep meeting in chapel some Tuesday or Thursday morning? Before the Albright-Muhlenberg game at Northwest would be an ideal time. We students could stand to practice up on the cheers and the volume for THAT one.

Sweet and Low

Now that we are going into the final stretch of term papers, maps, and book reports, Albright students will have less and less time to socialize. "Work for exam week is coming" is the slogan. And that slogan applies, too, to the library, Albright's leading social center. Please, guys and gals, remember that people are going to be working fast and furiously these next two weeks. So curb your conversation and put your tongue on a leash.

Nosey, Bub?

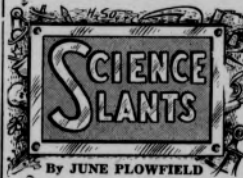

The new changes in the editorial staff of THE ALBRIGHTIAN are the beginning of a trial period of "taking over" for newer staff members. Since all the present editors are seniors, next year's bigwigs will be entirely new. But this does not mean that we operate a closed shop. If you are interested in writing, come around to staff meetings. THE ALBRIGHTIAN can always use people that have noses for news.

So, Ya Wanna Know What's Cooking?

Making the rounds of the offices in the Administration Building, your roving reporter found that the Dean's Office is very happy about the new paint. Miss Benninger reminded us that exams would begin at 1:30 on Friday, January 26 instead of on Monday, January 29. The excuse machine was reported overworked because of the blizzard that caused many absences.

The President's office is busy making preparations for the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees to be held February 14 and 15 in Selwyn Parlors.

The Treasurer's office has been busy too, but Mr. Gordon especially wants to know what Mary Hagan was doing under her desk when he called her.

As the day draws near, and then finally arrives for another future scientist to answer his country's call, a few of the remaining scientists realize that each of us who have the great privilege of finishing the work we have begun must strive harder and more diligently to create the kind of an individual that the future freedom-loving country of ours will need.

No Fouls

In order to carry out this plan, both the attitude of superior intelligence and the one of getting "what ever can be had with the least possible effort whether by fair or foul means" must be discarded from every student's mind.

The superior intelligence attitude, where the individual who has pulled the highest grade suddenly becomes "high-hat" and "snooty" to his equals who have failed in a particular exam, should be avoided at all costs. Knowledge cannot always be determined by a single letter or several digits on a sheet of paper.

Honest Abe?

Then, too, for those who are looking for the easy road to studying, temptations can be found at every corner—especially when analyzing soph unknowns and a junior or senior walks by; or when the next-door neighbor in chem lab leaves his drawer wide open while he nonchalantly fills reagent bottles; or when forgetting to measure specimens in parasitology and a friend nearby has all the required measurements; or when finding a paramecium, a cysticercus, or Wuchereria it becomes difficult to do it oneself, but a partner across the table has already made a perfect sketch that could easily be copied; or when arriving at the stock room door to find no lab within, how easy just to walk in and help yourself; or when calculating physics experiments to discover methods of reducing the percent error. These are only a few of the many ways of attempting to "pull the wool over the eyes" of a "higher-up;" however, every true son and daughter of Albright should decide to avoid such temptations and attitudes so that the future world will be safe in the hands of "Honest Abes" and "Humble John Does." If such were possible, those who have sacrificed so much for us, will not have done so in vain.

SENIOR DORM WOMEN

bright. These may include a "Rose Breakfast," and "Moving Up Day," to be held in May, when each class takes on the privilege of their next class. Marion Barger also reported the activities of the Dormitory Council during the past month, and it was decided that the Council will sponsor a Friday night dance shortly after Easter.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the Social Committee.

The Inquiring Reporter

On the constructive side this week, the Inquiring Reporter asks "What do you think of the chapel programs this year?"

Marjorie Christ, lib. arts, '48:—I think that programs would be more interesting if the students participated in them.

Margarite Jungblut, lib. arts, '48:—I found that the programs where we had outside speakers were the most interesting.

Patty Kramer, psych., '45:—We should have more student talent. Why hide our latent potentialities, provided they are not too latent?

Lloyd Schwartz, psych., '47:—They should be more entertaining.

Kenneth L. Raymond, librarian:—They should have more musical programs.

Cecil Pottieger, pre-min., '45:—I think they are good—being a member of the committee.

E. Jane Teitworth, soc., '45:—They've been very fine and better than ever.

Warren Post, science, '48:—Some of them were good, but there is a lot of room for improvement.

Ferne Allen, soc., '47:—The majority of them are interesting.

Alice Volt, German, '46:—All the chapel programs are excellent, but the ones where the "March of Time" is shown are the best.

L is for Luckenbaugh and Luckenbaugh is for Janet. And Janet is for this week's recipient of Dandy Lion's bouquet.

Take a good look at the Luckenbaugh part of it, guys and gals, for it won't be that for long. Janet is to be a spring bride, with Walt Forker, a student at the Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, as the "Lucky" man. As a Home Economics major, Janet knows her p's and q's about the homemaking field and is an active member of the Heo Club.

Janet's big job is prexying the Dorm Council and thus heading the resident women. She's also active on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet, having served for two years as chairman of the W.S.S.F. Drive. She is a member of the Phi Beta Mu sorority.

A true artist in two fields, Janet is known for her marimba music. And she really gets a workout at parties and programs. She can draw too, and comes up with clever posters when needed.

This may not be nice, but we must confess that Janet was a Bat once. Yes, she was one of the foursome called the "Bats" who lived in the Belfry of Selwyn Hall two years ago. And her main weakness? Being ticklish. She runs for the nearest closet when anyone looks menacing.

And when all is said and done, Dandy agrees with Walt that he knows how to pick them. So a big bouquet with a note signed "Best Wishes" to Janet, the star of the week.

Home Ec Omelet

"The History of Candles" was the topic of a discussion held at an open meeting of the Heo Club, held in the College Dining Hall, last Thursday evening. The guest speaker was Mrs. W. W. Kelly of Candlelight House. She demonstrated numerous candle arrangements.

Professor Anna H. Smith, a member of the home economics staff, is back at school again after an absence because of illness. The Home Ec'ers are glad to see you back Mrs. Smith.

COMBINED "Y"

 The theme was, "Our Responsibility as Christian Youth."

Owen Henry will conduct the vesper service to be held in Sylvan Chapel on Sunday, January 26, at 7:30 p.m. Last Sunday, January 21, the service was led by Ann Benninger, assistant to the dean, on the theme, "Winter Weeds Outworn."

Leaders for this week's midday devotions, held in Sylvan Chapel are: Margaret Hohl, Jan. 23; Mervin Helfrich, Jan. 24; June Harraft, Jan. 25; Howard Smith, Jan. 26. There will be no services during exam week, but they will resume on February 7, with Cecil Pottieger leading.

decked in jeans and ski pants, slacks and jodhpurs. Millinery underwent a drastic change, too, with bandanas, babushkas, and ski caps predominating. Male clothing showed signs of adaption for the weather with Red Angstadt in his younger sister's ski pants and all the boys in high boots or G.I. shoes.

The one who is probably least appreciative of our snow-packed walks is Jim. Every snowfall means an extra job for Jim. And if he doesn't do his job, it means a "fall" for nearly everybody else. Despite its difficulties, the snow makes our campus look like a real winter wonderland—even at close range.

Campus Carrousel

Three weeks have gone by in which the war bond committee could have done something. Let's hope that they will wake up in time . . . We should turn back the pages once more and congratulate Herby Hyman on an excellent performance in "Death takes a Holiday." A new comedy star hit the Albright boards in him . . . Lately we've been having a little snow. Has anybody seen Joy Cutler? . . . Dick Dexter is all set to enter the armed forces. He even pushed his head through a pencil sharpener and thus received a free haircut . . . The ticket committee for the Day Students' Dance is really good. Their representatives come up to you, knock you over your head, take $1.80 from your wallet, say thank you and depart . . . The men's dorm too is calming down considerably since some of the more quiet and reserved boys (like Brooklyn) act as body guards to bakery trucks . . . No time like the present to have a lot of social activities. After all, who wants to pass the exams? . . . On the first snowy day some of our colleagues stood near the dining-hall window with tears in their eyes. It seemed that they saw some of the professors fall in the heavy snow. P. S.—The tears were from laughing . . . Did you ever hear about the four aces who shoveled snow "some-where" on Olive Street? You can call Newell Wert Benedict from now on . . . ATTENTION: Miss L. T.: May I recommend to you the January issue of "Reader's Scope" which features a very interesting article about vitamins? . . . And now until next week, this is your loyal correspondent wishing you the best of luck on your exams and peace of mind to the professors who write them.

Have you ever gone to a party full of pauses that did not refresh? Have you ever tried to fill in those gaps by telling your best jokes? Were they greeted with jeering, "That joke hasn't improved since Adam told it to Eve," or "What home for antiquated jokes did you retrieve that from?" Did you ever wonder how many of your little comrades actually know an old joke when they see one? Helpful Henry suggests that the next time you get in a spot you test the little darlings with the following examples of wit (?) and see if they can tell which are of ripper vintage.

- Traveler: (registering at hotel). What is on the register?
- Clerk: A bug sir.
- Traveller: I don't mind if you have bugs in this hotel, but when they come down to see what room you take, that's too much.
- Trolley Passenger:—Which end do I get off?
- Conductor: Either end sir; both ends stop.

"One dozen roses with Bob's heart wrapped around them" arrived for Andy last Thursday to wish her luck in the Domino play. It sure was a good incentive.

Norfolk, Virginia calling! On the book for Miss Patty Kramer! The third floor telephone keeps buzzing away.

Snow, beautiful snow! At last the Albright coed has realized her dream. Slacks to class.

It was good to see Mrs. Jim Pottieger (Betsy Hummel) on campus this week. You're looking good, Betsy!

What's this Gloria McKittrick having trouble holding on to her man? How about it, Gog, you're going to let the Frosh swipe him from your very nose?

Where did you say you lived, Meg? Understand you like walking in the snow, Miss Hendricks. Come out of that dog house!

Skating sure affected Gloria Salfeity. Her legs haven't been the same since. On her it looks good! John Soja visited campus last week. Nice to see you back, John.

ward up there on Guam and brought two new Sons of Heaven into a decidedly unfriendly world." J. Stover is a member of the class of 39.

Hurray for snow and sledding! We are having lots of it here in Reading, so why not come and join us.

LT. (j.g.) VINCENT BERTOLINI, USNR 1434 S. Broad St., Phila., writes to tell us that he is officer in charge of communications at the Philadelphia Aviation Supply Depot.

We had a letter saying that LTS. RINALDO RIDOLFI, LES PUSHMAN, and TED SZELA are together at the 61st ROC MCS, Quantico, Va. They have been together since July 1 in the same classes and units, so they continued the "close relationship that found its origin at Albright." ENSIGN WALTER DUN. CAVAGE was with them until he transferred to the Navy.

CPL. SAMUEL SEHL in the Philippines, I'm sorry that we had you in Europe a few weeks ago, but I hope you enjoyed the trip. Sam wrote to say that he landed in the Philippines on the initial assault—with BILL BOLLINGER, although the two of them didn't meet. Sam has been in touch with JIM SHARP, JACK BOARDMAN, JOHN RUD. ZINSKI, JIM HARPSTER. I'm glad you have been getting THE ALBRIGHTIAN and the publications of the Albrightians-in-Service Committee. It is good to know that you enjoy them. That goes to all of you who have written in to say that you liked to read the paper, the list of addresses, etc. Only by your comments do we know if we are doing the right thing.

CPL. W. W. ZUKE 32303929 has a new address which is: 17th Weather Sq., APO 706-1; c/o P.M.; San Francisco, Cal. He has spent four months on New California and eight months in the Philippines.

From LT. (j.g.) VINCENT ROSBOSIN, VB 4; c/o FPO, San Francisco, Cal., came a letter to the student body thanking us for the Christmas card nad wishing us "all the luck in the world." Thanks. We'll need plenty of it about two weeks from now.

CAPT. BURDSALL D. MILLER O.796422; 833rd Bomb. Sq. 486th Bomb Group; APO 559; c/o P.M.; New York, says, "I am still in "Merry Old England," and making out OK. I have a very interesting job as an operations officer and am flying my combat missions as a command pilot. Am fortunate enough to be able to play some basketball when I get a little time off. I am playing in a Red Cross Tournament, and in the Division tournament, and in the Division tournament, so it helps up the morale." Burd, I'll wish that basketball team of our lots of luck this season, especially at Boston Gardens. I hope you get those addresses I sent you of the other people I know of in England.

LT. RALPH L. BOWERS wrote from Germany that the headquarters had been set up in a requisitioned house. He was one of the many who said that he was having trouble with the mud. He recently spent a day in a town in Belgium. He said that HERB LOYER is in San Francisco. WAYNE ABBOTT USN is in Oklahoma, and that CPL PAUL KIMMEL is in Paris. Ralph and Paul spent some time together at Fort Meade, Maryland.

A change of address has come for LEAH DECK S T 2c; Barracks 18; NAS Brunswick, Maine.

PFC. WILLIAM JERRY BENTZ ASN 13153738; 871st Sig. Co. 23rd ADG; Finker Field, Okla. wrote to say that recently he met LENNIE VAN DRIEL while he was on the Air Base at Harvard, Nebraska, of detached service.

CPL. RALPH F. WAGNER 23485067; Co. D, 99th Bn. 25th Regt.; Camp Maxey, Texas, wrote to tell us of his new address change, and to say that he was one of the unlucky 400,000 Air Corps men who were transferred to the infantry.

A letter received a long time ago from PVT ARTHUR DEUTSCH 33487140, 14 Evac. Hosp.; APO 689; c/o P.M., New York contained some interesting information. He said, "Out here in the jungles I have been working in the laboratory of our hospital. We have both American and Chinese patients and are kept quite busy. Our wards are full of all types of battle casualties. Of course there are always a good measure of malaria and dysentery patients. Most of my time is spent looking through a microscope and I have seen enough malaria parasites to last me the remainder of my life." I think all the members of Prof. Green's zoology class that is stressing parasites will agree with you on that point.

S. GT. HAUCY G. BITTING ASN 33209029; 5th AACs; Sqdn-Det 10; APO 706; c/o P.M.; San Francisco says that he is with the communications department and that he works with cryptography. He says that the dictionary definition has nothing to do with his job. Interesting! He has been in New Zealand, Hawaii, New Caledonia, the New Hebrides, and two places to the north of that. He says that he would like those with the same APO number to look him up. I'll see what I can do with the addresses in the office.

PVT. JAMES R. BUNN writes that he "has nothing for" England. He has been there over four months now. He said that he played with the regiment's baseball team last summer. His company won the regiment softball championship in England. He wished the basketball team every possible success. Burd Miller, here is another Albrightian in England. Also take note LT. EVELYN BELMONT, LT. OLIN SHIREY, and FRANCIS FLETCHER. His address is PVT. JAMES R. BUNN 33828748; Co. C / 313 Parcht. Inf.; 17 a-b Div.; APO 432; c/o P.M.; New York.

T/5 SIDNEY DISEND 13099405; Btry. C360 FA Bn; APO 95; c/o P.M.; New York said that he was with General Patton's 3rd Army with the 93th Infantry in Germany, as of December 8th. I hope you will be getting your copy of THE ALBRIGHTIAN soon again.

HERBERT SILVESTRI S2,c writes from San Diego to say that he is attending a Fire Control Maintenance School there. His work with range finding equipment and the operation of the correcting instruments as pertaining to wind deviations and other errors that must be overcome in firing of naval guns. I hope you find and get in touch with those other people in California—the addresses are on the way.

A change of address came for A. C. RICHARD A. SCHLEGEL, USNR; Batt. 95, Rm. 313; USNPTS; Chapel Hill, N.C. He said that on the pictures of former graduating classes he saw DONNY SPATZ, RUSS GUENSCH, BOB BOLAND, AND PHILIP ANGSTADT, as well as many others.

Powerful Lions Take Ninth; Get Set For Big 'Victory' Week

Courtsters Extend Winning Spree By Edging Out U. of Mexico, 47-44

Sparked by little Jesse Edvin and Bill Landis, Albright high-powered cage squad chalked up victory No. 9 and set a new consecutive win record when they defeated colorful Pentathlon Militar of Mexico, 47-44. The game was played on the Northwest hardwoods last Saturday night.

The scoring offensive for the Lions was a cooperative one, with Ervin and Landis garnering 8 points apiece. No Red and White player in the game made less than 4 points. For the Mexicans, Cortes was the main cog in the wheel as he totaled 14 for the high score of the evening. Hernandez and Galindo each made 9, but their advantage was not enough to take the game.

Lions Equal Record By Tripping Ursinus Bill Landis Finds Range; Ervin Also Stars

By defeating Ursinus, 65-50, last Thursday night on the Colledgeville floor, the Roaring Lions extended their winning streak to 8 straight. This record ties last year's mark of 8 games without a loss. The victory also set an all-time mark of 12 Albright victories in a row over the period of two seasons, besting the mark of 11 straight set in the 1914-15 and 15-16 seasons by Coach Pop Kelchner's quintets.

Bears Tough

Although Albright was ahead for most of the games, the Bears put up a stiff resistance and it was in the last 4 minutes of play that the Red and White offensive rolled up the points to put the game on ice.

Landis, Ervin Tops

Big guns against the V-12 team were Bill Landis, Jess Ervin who collected 20 and 19 points respectively. It was Landis and Ervin, with help from "Cookie" Wagner, who put on the last minute fire works.

Game Rough

The game was a rough one, with 22 fouls called on each team. Both Bob Deach and Bill Landis were benched via the personal foul route.

Paging Horatio!

In case you're wondering what ever happens to Skunk Day, please be patient. There will be a Skunk Day this year, in spite of any subversive thoughts you've had to the contrary. Watch next week's paper for more details.

Lions to Face F & M, Muhlenberg, To Play Detroit at Boston Garden

During the next week, the Albright Lions will take on their toughest assignment of the year, for in the course of seven days, the Red and White hoopers will play F & M, Detroit, and Muhlenberg. All these are games away, with the F & M and Muhlenberg games being played at the respective schools and the Detroit contest at the Boston Garden. The Lions will be gunning for their tenth, eleventh, and twelfth wins of the season.

Play F. & M. Tonight

By engaging F. & M. tonight at Biesecker Gym, Lancaster, the Lions are keeping alive one of the oldest, Albright cage rivalries. This will be a return engagement for the two squads, as the Lions defeated the Dips, 40-31 earlier in the season.

With the advantage of playing on their home floor, the Dips will prove a tough nut for the local squad to crack, as a fast and shifty ball chub.

Travel to Brown

This Thursday, January 25, will be the high spot of the Albright basketball season, for it is then that the Lions travel to the famed Boston Garden to tussle with Detroit. The Westerners will present a slightly different picture from F. & M., so far as experience goes, as they have five holdovers from last year's quintet, which was good enough to play at Madison Square Garden.

Great Team

Detroit has a great spark plug returning in the person of Joey Smith, who captained the squad during the previous season and scored 137 points. The 1943-44 quintet won 12 of its 18 games, and scored 660 points against 584 for its opponents.

As is characteristic of many western teams, Detroit boasts of a squad that averages a good six feet in height. Of a squad of 16, ten better the six-foot level and three men come to a scant 5 ft., 11 ins."

Mules on Saturday

The Lions will tackle another tough opponent when they collide with Muhlenberg this Saturday night in Rockne Hall, Allentown. So far this season the Mules have lost only one game, to Temple, and have emerged victors over such teams as Penn State, Princeton, and Drexel. The Mules are currently rated among the top three teams in the nation.

Plenty of Stars

Although it has lost all the stars from last season's great team, Coach Al Julian's squad has acquired adequate replacements. Starring for the Mules are Red Baldwin from Kentucky, Dick Whiting, former Twilen Merion star, and Charlie Thiesen and Jimmy Doran.

READING STREET RAILWAY COMPANY

By KENNETH GOOD

On Saturday evening the Albright Lions will travel to Allentown to play the Muhlenberg Mules in one of the crucial games of the 1944-45 season for the locals. Muhlenberg's team this year has been rated tops in the East, losing only one contest so far, to the powerful Temple Owls. The Mules, it is evident, are after another Madison Square Garden bid for the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament. Undoubtedly the only thing that is standing in the way for them is our own Red and White court combine, also holding its own in the collegiate ranks.

Lions Lost

Last season, you will remember, Albright played the Mules at Rockne Hall in Allentown and lost the game with a lopsided 57-26 score. The Muhlenberg cagers cancelled their return engagement at Northwest, with lack of players as their reason for the abrupt cancellation.

Foul Play

The importance of fouls in winning or losing a game can be seen from that contest last year. In the early part of the first period Mark Guss and Frank Gable, Lions cagers, were charged with 3 personal fouls apiece. This excess whistle tooting put a damper on the Albright offense. At the end of the first period the Mules has a two-point advantage and the Readings were still very much in the affair. With several key Albrightians leaving the floor via the personal foul route in following quarters, the game was a pushover for the Mules.

Whale of a Game

This year the Lions and the Mules, two top Pennsylvania teams, meet under similar circumstances, with the stakes high. So it you want to see a whale of a ball game, be at Rockne Hall this Saturday night and watch the Lions go to town.
