Debating Team Tour Virginia

Paul Golis and Seymour Mendelsohn, chosen by the debate council to represent the college on its annual trip, left for the nation's capital on Tuesday.

Debating the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved that the U. S. should adopt a policy of strict military and economic isolation toward all nations outside the Western Hemisphere engaged in armed international and civil conflict," the Albright combination opposed the American University at Washington, D. C., on Tuesday night, and William and Mary College, on Wednesday evening, at Williamsburg.

Last night, Mendelsohn and Golis argued the negative side of the "war guilt" question against Virginia Union University, Richmond.

In Baltimore, tonight, at 8 P. M., this pair will oppose an affirmative team from Loyola College on the "isolation" question.

Paul Golis, senior debate manager, was a member of the team that traveled in New England last spring. With David Levan as a partner, they met Clark University, Drew University, and Rhode Island State College.

Golis has been a member of the debating team since his freshman year, while Mendelsohn is a newcomer having joined the squad only this year. The two students will return to Reading tomorrow afternoon.

Mu's Entertain P. A. T.'s At Tea

The Phi Beta Mu Sorority entertained the members of the Pi Tau Sorority at a tea on Sunday, March 31, at three o'clock. Tea, punch, sandwiches and cookies were served.

Members and pledges of both sororities attended. Faculty advisers and special guests included Miss Shaffer, Miss Norton, Mrs. Smith, Miss Innis, Miss Benninge, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Stutzmann, Miss Elden, Miss Fenili, Mrs. Masters, and Elvira Woerle.

Cue Distributed

One of the least frequent of Albright events, but one of the most exciting, took place this week. An announcement, made in chapel on Monday morning, April 1, stated that the bi-annual college year book, that famous "Cue", was available at the athletic office.

Students were rather skeptical, being wary of April Fool jokes; but the great "crush" really began when they realized that the book had made its appearance. Boasting abundant pictures; candid shots, campus views, beaming profs, activity pictures, and, of course, the upperclassmen, the book is the best this campus has yet produced. Now the students have found a real pastime in passing around their books to collect autographs. Of course, when one is asked to sign a book he is really told: "Here is my book; now flatter me." All joking aside, though, Paul Golis and the entire staff deserve the greatest praise.

Hastings Named May Queen For May 11 Ceremonies

Juniors To Hold Prom Tonight

Tonight the ballroom of the Abraham Lincoln Hotel will be the scene of the annual Junior Prom. Jack Kenny and the Royal Manhattans will furnish music for dancing from 9 to 12. Favors have been designed to form a bracelet and dance program combination.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes: George Henry, Marion Plummer, Margaret Hollenbach, and Albert Falcone.

Zetas Plan Annual Reunion Banquet

The annual Zeta reunion banquet will be held tomorrow night at the Wyomissing Club. A large turnout of alumni is expected since many favorable replies have been coming in.

Harold Honadle, chairman of the banquet committee, has reported that everything is set, and Paul Petrucka, in charge of the entertainment, has a program completed. The standard attraction, of course, is the Zeta trio composed of Paul Petrucka, Joe Laucks, and Bob Rettinger.

Harvey Greiss, chairman of the dance committee, reported that arrangements for the Zeta Spring Formal have been completed. The dance will be held at the Berkshire Hotel. Jack Kenney's Royal Manhattans will play.

Speaker Discusses America's Task

Last evening, Dr. E. A. Schaal addressed members of the International Relations Club and their guests in the college chapel.

Dr. Schaal, director of the American Friends' Service Committee, discussed, "America's Task in a World at War."

Profs. April Fool Sleepy Eight O'clock Classes

Who were the April Fools? At five minutes of eight on Monday morning, a faint rumor spread through the halls that the professors were planning a surprise, but no one knew or seemed to care what it was.

Students assembled in the usual sleepy manner that is characteristic of an eight o'clock class, only to sit up and take notice as their usual professors failed to take their places and representatives of other departments appeared in their places.

Between 8 o'clock and 9 o'clock classes, the halls were crowded with

Buttorff, Yocum To Assist

Following an election held in chapel this week, it was announced that Caroline Hastings has been named May Queen. Her maid of honor will be Jane Buttorff, and the crown bearer will be June Yocum.

The committee announced that the court of the May Queen, also chosen by election, will include Mildred Angstadt, Jeanette Snyder, Audrey Goodling, Ruth Stratton, Mary Etta Filbert, Fern Dentith, Mary McCreary, Ada Gossler, and Ruth Gottlieb.

The crowning of the May Queen will take place Saturday afternoon, May 11. The floral arches will be held by other seniors. The student committee in charge consists of Bessie Knerr, chairman, Jane Dick, and Margaret Savidge. The faculty committee consists of Mrs. Mosser, Mrs. Smith, Miss Elder, and Miss Norton.

Dominos Plan Third Cultural Olympics Play

Albright College will be represented in the Annual Collegiate Dramatic Conference of the Cultural Olympics to be held April 18 to 20, at the University of Pennsylvania. Colleges from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, and Maryland will participate in the three-day conference.

Nolan Discusses South Seas At Tea

Mr. J. Bennett Nolan was the guest speaker at a book tea in the library yesterday afternoon. His topic was "Stevenson and The South Seas." Mr. Nolan recently returned from a voyage to the South Seas.

College Draws Up Plans To Improve Selwyn Hall Area

The administration wishes to express its appreciation for the students' suggestions for improving the rear of Selwyn Hall campus. It is pleased to report that an architect has been employed to draw up plans.

A sunken lake will replace the fish pond, and parking space will be provided. The idea was secured from an estate near Philadelphia.

Other parts of the campus are being improved at the present time. Students are not to play ball or golf on the front campus. Softball may be played on the plot ground between the Science and Theology Buildings. Hardball must only be played on the northwest part of the campus.

Let the students cooperate in keeping the campus attractive. The administration would appreciate student opinion on the parking problem.

Baccalaureate To Be Held June 9

College administration officials announced a few days ago that the baccalaureate speaker for this year would be Dr. E. W. Praetorius, Bishop of the northwestern area of the Evangelical Church.

Dr. Praetorius is a native of Dayton, Ohio, born in 1882. His academic education was taken in Northwestern College Academy, and the Evangelical Seminary in Naperville, Ill., from which he received the degree, D. D., in 1928. His pastorate have been in Louisville, Ky., Terre Haute, Ind., and Elkhart, Ind.

He was founder and first general secretary of the Evangelical Church Board of Religious Education, 1919-1934, and is now president of the Board of Christian Education. Since 1934 he has been a bishop in the Church.

He is a member of the board of trustees of Western Union College, a member of the International Council of Religious Education, of the Federal Council of Churches, and of various commissions of the Evangelical Church. His residence is in St. Paul, Minn.

Baccalaureate will be held Sunday, June 9, presumably in the Northeast Junior High School. The sermon topic will be "Vision, Inspiration and Service."

Sherwood Eddy To Speak On Campus

Next Friday, Sherwood Eddy will be on the campus. That's big news, and students will flock to hear him at his two appearances; at 10 o'clock chapel, and at an 8 o'clock fireside hour.

Sherwood Eddy is world-known for his many achievements and strong personality. Five years after his graduation from Yale in 1891 he went to India on his own purse. In a few years he was appointed national secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in

EDITORIAL

About the Day Students . . .

There has been brought to the attention of the editors of the ALBRIGHTIAN what, for want of a better term, we shall call the "day-student problem." We shall consider the problem at this time principally from the girls' standpoint. Since the organization of the day-student girls, no place has been provided where unorganized girls may go to relax, to talk, or to eat lunch. Lockers are available to non-members only for a fee. Selwyn Hall Parlors, as they are now planned, are obviously not suited to the needs of day students. The day student room justly is open only to members. Therefore, the day student girls who are unable to organize are obliged to eat lunch in a vacant classroom, and enjoy social intercourse either in the library—no wonder it is disorderly at times!—or in a lavatory. Certainly the college cannot be proud of such a situation. We wonder that they even tolerate it.

We do not begrudge the use of Selwyn Hall Parlors to the dormitory students. They are entitled to a room for recreation. Neither do we begrudge the day students their right to organize. What we do object to is the failure of the administration to provide the convenience which other colleges provide, without extra charge, as a matter of course: lockers, and a room. There seems to be no reason why the college should not provide them. They cannot accuse the day students of non-participation in college activities their record speaks for itself. If it is merely oversight on the part of the administration, it is our hope that this may serve as a reminder.

—E. J. B.

(Editor's Note—The ALBRIGHTIAN Staff would appreciate suggestions from the students on a remedy for this problem.)

The Snooper

SIGNS OF SPRING:

The fellows with shorter and shorter haircuts . . . the coeds beginning to worry about whom they shall take to the spring dances . . . robins here and there and the song sparrow's early song . . . the larger number of cars parked in the concentration campus on the mountains . . . silly hats, jaunty hats—and the usual masculine cry . . . Happy people just glad to be happy . . . Byrdie walking around with golf clubs . . . Thorpe worrying again—we wonder and we don't mean fishing lines!!!

A request number: the Shugard-Lower record, which certainly seems to be in the groove!

The Zetas and Mus seem to have found a double triumvirate.

Laucks — Watch that stuff!

In regards to the formal dinners At least Golis was faithful last Thursday . . . that one dinner bore resemblance to a convention for ministers and their wives . . . what those girls think of Michaels . . . Belmont and Sippel turned sissy . . . Woods seemed a mighty "article" to have around.

Happy couples together again: Marge and Chet, Mary and Tom, Edith and Paul.

Frystock begging for food at the tune of a paddle-some fun!

The Mus and the Pats together at a tea given by the Mus. Maybe peace has been declared in the Albright family.

The year books are out—everyone is spending time looking at his phipponymy!

June— You don't happen to like high school class mates better than college friends, do you?

Janet says its easy to have "Orchids on your Budget."

Was that a hint that George Hepry needed some new jokes.

Seen on campus—Margie Lebo carrying Jerry Denner's books. It's Leap Year, you know!

Robson and Honadle are on good behavior this week . . . Their "honeys" will be rearing this issue of the Albrightian. We understand that Wiggy could have his pick of the Southwest girls.

Music notes:

Whitey Quirin has become quite a caballero with his guitar . . . and ask Vince Rusbosin to recite his original version of "The Man Who Comes Around" sometime.

You can "officially" congratulate Andy now . . . he and Tooky were married January 7!

If some girls don't start considering other people, we'll have fried spring chicken in the dorm some night.

Some girls' definition of the ideal man—primitive but smooth!

Speaking of queer spring head-coverings, have you seen Spangler?

Dean Kratz Speaks To Kappa Tau Chi

A small representation of the K. T. X., the pre-ministerial fraternity, heard Dean Kratz, of the School of Theology, address them, last Monday evening, on entering the Theological School. Dean Kratz placed high in the requisites the certainty of vocation, zeal for knowledge, love and ability for hard study, and understanding and liking for people.

In the absence of president Bingaman, Marvin Runner, vice-president, presided. Several freshmen were guests. Dr. Zener, the adviser, also was present.

The College Bible Class continues its services with a series of topics concerning the Old Testament Prophets. Art McKay opened the service last Sunday with a discourse on Hosea. This Sunday, Paul Ackert will speak on Isaiah, and the following Sunday, Margaret Hollenbach will discuss Jeremiah.

Substituting at the organ for Ackert will be Bob Matson. Since Easter, and continuing this month, the special organ music is taken from great, though lesser-known, hymns of the Christian faith.

Hamilton Praised For Publication

Dr. Milton Hamilton's latest publication was suggested as material for a mystery novel by Edward Larogue Tinker in his "New Editions and Reprints" page of the New York Times' Book Review, Sunday, March 24.

Referring to the disappearance of William Morgan in New York State in 1826, and the attendant circumstances as related in Dr. Hamilton's "Anti-Masonic Newspapers, 1826-1834," reprinted from the Papers of the Bibliographical Society of America by the Southworth-Anthoensen Press of Portland, Maine, Dr. Jinker remarked that mystery fiction, too, might derive its material from history. He also commended Dr. Hamilton's newspaper bibliography as a scholarly contribution to the history of American journalism.

Pi Gamma Mu Banquet Saturday

The annual Pi Gamma Mu Banquet will be held tomorrow night at 6:30 at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room. Mr. Albert Gotch, of the Bureau of City Planning will speak on New Trends in City Planning. Initiation for new members will be held before the banquet.

He was in Spain at the battle-front during the late civil war; interviewed Edward Benes during the Czecho crisis; and recently made a fresh study of the outlook for peace or war, and the American foreign policy.

His morning address here April 12 will be on "Remedies For A Frustrated World Democracy, Fascism, or Communism." In the evening his topic will be "Can Religion Build a New World."

Science Notes

Carl Bauman, '39, and now a laboratory assistant and graduate student in Physics at Lehigh University, was home for the spring vacation and visited the campus.

Prof. George and Assistant Prof. Spaicher attended the Pennsylvania Conference of College Physics Teachers at Lehigh University, on Friday and Saturday. Friday afternoon, various papers were read by visiting physicists.

Friday evening, after a dinner at Old Sun Inn in Bethlehem, Dr. J. O. Perrine, of Bell Telephone Research Laboratories, New York, gave a marvelous demonstration lecture on sound which he called "Waves, Jords and Wires." He had with him a large amount of demonstration sound-equipment and also at his command thousands of miles of commercial "communication" and program circuits from the Packard Auditorium, at Lehigh, through Allentown, to such remote points as New York, Providence, R. I., Chicago, and St. Louis, Mo.

Saturday morning was devoted to a symposium on Geophysics with Dr. William Bowie of U. S. Coast and Geophysics Survey as chairman. Papers on the various commercial and scientific aspects of Geophysics were presented by five outstanding representatives in the field.

On Thursday evening, March 28, Mr. Charles S. Ling, in charge of the local Weather Bureau Office gave the aeronautics class a very interesting and instructive talk on the importance of weather knowledge to the flyer. He particularly stressed the visual signs of dangerous weather conditions and urged the student flyers to remember that, although planes may be made practically fool-proof, "foolery with the weather" doesn't pay. He emphasized that contributions of government weather research to the problems of safe flying and stated that airways weather reports are not forecasts but are statements of weather conditions as they exist.

The regular Skull and Bones meeting will be held on Monday, April 8.

The regular meeting of the Alchemists Club was held on Tuesday, April 2. Plans were discussed for the convention to be held here.

The Pennsylvania Academy of Science held their annual spring meeting at Washington and Jefferson College, at Washington, Penna., Friday and Saturday, March 22 and 23. Dr. Horn presented a paper on Effects of Testosterone Propionate on comb growth and Testes weights. Dr. Horn was vice-president of the Academy last year and also chairman of the membership committee. Prof. Green gave a paper on Hypertrophy of canine teeth in the Rat. Charles Hollenbach, a new member in the academy, attended the meeting.

Buckwalter Speaks At Luncheon

Professor Buckwalter was the guest speaker at a luncheon of the Optimists' Club last Monday, at the Wyomissing Club.

Speaking on The Economics of Cooperatives, Prof. Buckwalter made special reference to his personal experiences among cooperators in Nova Scotia, this past summer.

SPORT SHOTS

By CARL MOGEL

In the interim between this issue and the last issue of the paper, many things have occurred that concern this page. Let's briefly review these happenings. First, Albright College and Reading High, renew their agreement whereby the use of the stadium for 3 Reading High home games is exchanged for the use of the Northwest gym for ten Albright home basketball games. This pact saves plenty of rent money for Lions.

Second, night football, as predicted on this page, will be played next football season. Nothing is definite, however, as the American Legion, who is supposed to erect the lights, has not signed up with the school for this action. If they do come through, the next difficulty is to change the Saturday afternoon games to Friday nights. Some schools dislike night contests.

Third, Gus Cohen is assisting Coaches Dietz and Harris with spring football practices instead of Moose Lisend, as previously announced. Big Leo accepted an offer from another school. Disend was to receive no compensation for his work.

Fourth, the scheduled ping-pong tournament was dropped due to objections from above.

Fifth, local Albright basketeers lead the Reading "Y" in warm-up contests for the National Tournament now in action at Northwest. Dick Shollenberger, Bill McKinney, Chin Rhoades and Kenny Hopkins form the nucleus for the Reading "Y" which is the defending champion.

This review brings us up to the present firing line, so fire away.

The softball season will also be an abbreviated session as was basketball due to spring football rehearsals. That is, each team will play the others only once. There will be two leagues, however, the A and the B loops. The A league will be made up of fraternities and dormitories while the B league makeup has not as yet been decided. Professor George's suggestion that departmental teams such as science, business, language, and social science teams be the competitors instead of faculty against student not picked to play in the A loop, is very fine. The professors in this idea, would play with the team from their department.

Now, in softball, as in basketball, the question of officials again faces the Inter-Fraternity Council. Last year, the umpires received N. Y. A. credit for the time spent in officiating the games. This year, however, the athletic council can not use the N. Y. A. for this work. Hence the question, how can we get good, honest umpiring at the games? The answer is, give those chosen few credit on the school books for this work. Umpiring a game is hard, tough work and worth 40c an hour any day.

One of the most promising track men, Bill Shellenberger, will be unable to compete this year on the cinders due to ineligibility rules. The former Mt. Penn athlete was a cinch for the half-mile run and good for a sure place in the high jump.

Lions Swing Into Second Week Of Spring Football Training

Girls Win Sport Letters

The Women's Athletic Association has made its basketball awards for this season. Letters went to Evelyn Belmont, Caroline Hastings, Thelma Rebert, Margaret Savidge, and Esther Sipple. Numerals were won by Evelyn Belmont, Jean Bomgardner, Catherine Buzzard, Betty Ebbert, Katherine Geib, Caroline Hastings, Miriam Hershey, Marjorie Lebo, Mary Levan, Thelma Rebert, Margaret Savidge, Elaine Shade, Betty Siegel, Esther Sipple, Myrtle Stegman, and Margaret Wolfe.

In the class games played, the Juniors defeated the Sophomores 30-21, and the Freshmen, 16-4. The Sophomores cleaned up the Freshmen, 45-14. Sorority-non-sorority league games started this week for the annual tussles.

The varsity girl's basketball team closed an impressive season on Tuesday night when they defeated Moravian for the second time this year, 37-25. Although the Moravians games were the only two games out of five played won by the girls, it must be remembered that the coeds do play under terrific handicaps, such as lack of instruction as well as lack of a playing court for practice. Margaret Savidge led the scores with 65 points in five games.

The season's record:

Lion Frosh Wins Boxing Title

Victor Gigli, frosh griddler, fought his way to a championship in the Middle-Atlantic A. A. U. Boxing Tournament held at Tamaqua, last week.

Gigli, by virtue of his three victories over formidable opponents, landed the middle-weight championship of the tournament. Vic had to fight twice in one evening to take the crown but came through in fine form by taking the decision from each of his opponents.

The National A. A. U. Championships will be held in Philadelphia, at the Arena, on April 12 and 13. Gigli expects to try for a National Championship in these matches and if he continues fighting as he did at Tamaqua, may come through with the 160-lb. diadem.

DOMINOS PLAN

The Domino Club, under the direction of Robert Work, will present a French medieval farce, 'Mester Patelin, the Lawyer.' The cast includes Ada Gossler, George Henry, Arthur McKay, Dean Allen, and Charles Miesse.

Face Stiff Nine-Game Schedule

With a stiff nine-game schedule staring them in the face, the Albright gridgers were spared no mercy in this, their second week of spring practice. A twenty-minute scrimmage has climaxed each session which also includes warm-ups, blocking, tackling, dummy work, and signal practice.

In order to bolster certain positions, Coach Dietz is contemplating a few changes among his 37 candidates. Waldo Eshelman has been shifted to center along with Herb Vogt; Sam Cocodrilli has been moved up into a running guard post; and Ray Shugard has been trying both end and back positions.

There are two new faces among the hopefuls. John Grundlach, freshman, is listed as a guard, while Everette Morris, also a freshman, is listed as an end. Four other faces are missing from the daily drills, Jack Munley and Michael Dutzer, backfield men, have been on the sick list, Vic Gigli is getting in shape for the A. A. U. Boxing championships, and Stanley Kuklis is ineligible.

As the second week closes, Dietz has the following running in the first positions; at the end, Frystak and Baum; tackles, Johnson and Steve Plaskonis; guards, Russbosin and Cocodrilli; center, Michaels; Kurlan, Klein; halfbacks, Gillis and Killiany, and fullback, Benne (Popelka has bad ankles).

Anxious to try his green, unexperienced squad against competition, the head coach is dickering for a spring game with another school.

The entire roster:—

Ends:—Bob Baum, Tom Frystak, Frank Bertino, Bill Spangler, Bill Demidovitch, John Gasper, Herb Vogt, Ray Shugard, and Everette Morris.

Tackles:—Tom Johnson, Steve Plaskonis, Bob Laucks, Wesil Plaskonis, Herb Derr, Sidne Disend and Jim Harpster.

Guards:—Vince Rusbosin, Sam Cocodrilli, Dick Weber, Tom Lubin, Leo Czekulski, and John Grundlach.

Centers:—Paul Michaels, Waldo Eshelman, Julius Katz, Albert Williams and Bob Gansel.

Quarterbacks—Chuck Klein, Paul Petrucka, and George Horn.

Fullbacks:—Marshall Popelka and Bob Bennet.

ZETAS PLAN

Cammarotto, and Babe Korner attended the meeting this week. Mr. Cammarotto has recently opened a credit office on Court street.

Mr. Clarence D. Becker, member of the board of trustees and vice-president of Albright, is running for State Senator, Mr. Becker is also president of the Zeta Alumni Organization. Mr. Vincent Grant, local Zeta alumnus, is running for the State Legislature.

The Lions Den

By ALAN R. DUKE

When the football season was over last fall, the seniors who were finishing up their football careers at Albright made remarks to the effect that they were glad it was all over, and that they didn't want to see another football again for a long while. Perhaps they meant those remarks at the time but the old urge must have crept up in them again as it always does when there is football in the air. If you don't believe this, take a walk down to the practice field about four o'clock in the afternoon and notice the number of "has-beens" standing around watching practice. The football-bug is a tenacious creature and is certainly long-lived.

The football lettermen are a bit disappointed because they haven't gotten their awards yet. They claim that by the time they receive their sweaters and blankets, it will be time to put woolen garments in moth-balls. However, cheer up, fellows, if you can't use your awards till next fall, they'll last just that much longer.

A statement was made recently regarding track to the effect that any man on the Albright track team who is really outstanding has a chance of participating in the Middle-Atlantic track championships. It seems the Albright College pays its dues to the Association and hence is entitled to enter men in this meet which is usually held at Rutgers University. This should be an incentive to our men to perform bigger and better feats on the cinder path.

Trackmen Report For Practice

Fifteen trackmen reported to Coach Dietz at a short meeting held on Monday afternoon. It was decided at the gathering that Albright should be represented by a mile relay team at the Penn Relays.

The men reporting were: Boland, Breen, Brandenburg, Duke, Popelka, McKay, Michaels, Lubin, Bertino, Frystock, Anderson, Bitting, Shellenberger, Jim Morris, and S. Plaskonis. There will be a number of other men reporting for practice within the next week.

The track schedule is as follows:
April 20—St. Joseph College—Away
April 26-27—Penn Relays
May 4—Dickinson—Away
May 14—Susquehanna—Home
May 21—Ursinus—Away

GEIL AT ATLANTIC CITY CONFERENCE

Today and tomorrow Dr. Milton Geil is attending the annual meeting of the Eastern Psychological Association at Atlantic City. This is the annual meeting for those members of the American Psychological Association living in the eastern area.

Dr. Geil addressed the Wyoming Teacher Association on March 26, at the new Wyoming High School. The subject was "Emotional Maturity of Adolescence."

He conducted an after-church Open Forum at Park Evangelical Church, on March 31. The question was "Why does a girl walk on air when a boy with a bad or wild reputation nods or speaks to her and passes up the respectable, bashful boy?"

On April 9, he will address the Boy Scout Leadership Training School at the Boy Scout Headquarters. His topic will be the "Psychology of Boyhood."
