School Mourns Passing of Mrs. Albright; Was Active Alumna

Entire College Grieves with Professor Albright; Deceased Took an Active Part in Affairs Here

It came as a distinct shock to the college community to hear of the death of Mrs. Mary Sherr Albright, wife of Professor R. W. Albright of the Evangelical School of Theology, Tuesday, January 5, after a short illness, at the home of her parents in Lancaster, where they had gone for the vacation.

Mrs. Albright was an alumna of the college of the class of 1930; before her marriage to Professor Albright she was graduated from Millersville State Teachers' College and served as a teacher for several years, later completing her work for the college degree with the added responsibilities of a home and family.

She was an honorary member of the Phi Delta Beta sorority, and was well known and loved by many members of the faculty and student body. Besides her other activities, she took an active part in the work of Park Evangelical Church, Reading, of which Professor Albright is at present the supply pastor.

There are left to mourn her passing her husband, two children, Winifred and Raymond, her parents, and two brothers. The faculty and student body of the college unite in expressing their deepest sympathy with them, and especially with Professor Albright.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon in Park Church, with President W. F. Teel delivering the sermon. Bishop S. C. Breyfogel, Presiding Elder E. E. Stauffer, Vice President J. W. Klein, and Dean A. Roger Kratz of the Evangelical School of Theology assisted at the church, and Registrar W. I. Miller assisted Dr. Teel with the service at the grave. Colleagues of Professor Albright on the faculty of the Seminary and College served as pallbearers. Many members of the student body and faculty attended the services and sent floral tributes.

Home Ec. Lab. Has Demonstration of Low-Cost Foods

Many Visitors See Meals Fitted to Thin Purses Prepared by Home Ec Seniors

How to feed a family of five on seven fifty a week was demonstrated in the Foods Laboratory by the Senior Home Ec. students to a large audience recently.

The demonstration was made in connection with a campaign for the relief of the unemployment situation now being staged by The Visiting Nurse Association of Berks County. It was held on Wednesday, January 6th from 2.30 to 4.30.

The afternoon was divided into three parts. The first, "The Breakfast Unit" was directed by Miss Pauline Gross. Miss Pauline Kaseman, another Senior had charge of the second division. This had to do with preparation of an economical luncheon. Miss Louise Freehafer concluded the afternoon's activities with the direction of "The Dinner Unit."

The monthly meeting of The Ladies' Auxiliary of Albright College was held in connection with this demonstration.

Albrightians Hear Church and Social Leaders At Conv.

Large Delegation from Campus Represents Many Organizations; Convention Declared Success

Round Table Conferences, platform addresses, and afternoon features, were the three general heads under which the 11th quadrennial convention of The Volunteer Movement operated.

Ten students from this campus representing the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A.'s and the Bible Class as well as the Theological school. The list of the student delegates was published in the last issue of the Albrightian. They all returned very enthusiastic regarding the success of the convention.

The delegates will give accounts of the meetings in chapel on Wednesday and Thursday.

"The case for missions today," "Social Engineering on a World Scale," "Missions and World Peace," "White and Black in South Africa," and "The Gospel which Commands Us," are only a few of the 28 round table conferences which were held to instruct the delegates about world problems and Christian missions.

Another theme, on "The Future of World Christianity," was treated by D. D. Jabavu, William Miller, a Persian missionary, John R. Mott, Dr. Endicott and Dr. Judd.

Dr Robert E. Speer, delivered an address on the theme of the convention, "The Living Christ in the World Today." Student responses to the challenge of the convention were given by 6 of the delegates and Dr. T. Z. Koo delivered the closing address of the convention. The disarmament question and the world peace movement were also themes for platform addresses by Miss Rutherford, Miss Zeigler, Mr. Luther Tucker, and Mr. Ralph Harlow.

The afternoon features consisted of organ recitals, a one-act play depicting the life of missionaries in Burma, a pageant, "Release," dealing with the struggle of mankind with industrialism, poverty, disease, etc. and the release of mankind from bondage by Jesus Christ.

It's Harder to Win Degrees in Italy Says Dr. Fenili

Brief Sketch of Entire Italian Educational System Given to Chapel Goers Friday; The Italian University Is Controlled Entirely by the State; Difficulties Attending a Degree Recounted

Before discussing the institutions of higher learning, Dr. Raphael Fenili, in his lecture "The Italian University," presented in chapel on Friday, sketched briefly the four divisions of the elementary or municipal schools that all children in Italy must attend.

The first section is devoted to the teaching of pupils who are unable to continue their education for more than a three-year period before entering some trade. The second is a technical course, eight years in length which prepares its members for positions as end-mechanics. This course leads into book-keepers, accountants, surveyors, a higher institution when engineering can be studied. The third section, also eight years, prepares teachers for the elementary schools; and the fourth section, or classical course, leads the way to university professional careers.

Having brought educational systems up to the university level, Dr. Fenili began the discussion of the more famous universities and their regulations. Unlike that institution in the American system, the Italian University is controlled completely by the state. Every professor is a government official appointed for life with a salary fitting the individual's qualifications. The attainment of such a position is a very labori-

Nation Wide Voting of Students on Disarmament Listed

24,345 Students Express Opinion on Disarmament; 92 Per Cent of Votes are in Favor of Reduction of National Armament

A nation-wide straw vote on disarmament announced today by the Intercollegiate Disarmament Council from the offices in New York City, reveals 92 per cent of the 24,345 students voting in seventy different colleges in favor of reducing armaments and 63 per cent for the United States setting an example by beginning to disarm without waiting for other nations. Luther Tucker, Yale '31, who is Chairman of the Council, said the poll shows one-third of the students favor 100 per cent cuts in armaments, provided all nations agree to the same ratio, while one in seven advocate a 100 per cent cut for the United States without regard to other nations.

The poll shows a very strong feeling against the compulsory feature of military training in colleges. Eighty-one per cent of the students voting on this question being opposed to compulsory drill. On the other hand, only 38 per cent favored eliminating military training from all colleges. Of these voting one-seventh had had military training. Seventy-four per cent of the votes cast supported American adherence to the World Court upon the basis of the Root Protocols.

Student interest in disarmament is also revealed in the high percentage of those voting in many colleges. Eighty-four per cent of the entire student body cast ballots at Amherst, 78 per cent at Yale, 70 per cent at Mount Holyoke.

All types of colleges participated in the poll, but there is little difference in the returns. The extremes are revealed in a Theological seminary where no

Quill Club To Hold Open House Soon, Effort at Revival

Society of Creative Writers Will Make Renewed Struggle for New Members and Finer Work

The regular meeting of Quill Club will be held tonight in the Social room of Selwyn Hall at 8.00 o'clock. This meeting is of special importance and should be attended by all Quill members. Of utmost interest on the program will be the completion of plans for the open house to be held in the near future. These plans must be carefully laid and followed out since the success of open house and the interest created will largely determine the number of new members that will be taken into Quill Club.

The executive committee of Quill will meet at 7.00 P. M. before the regular meeting of Quill. All members of the committee are asked to be present.

Tankmen Called Out This Week By Smith

First Swimming Squad Now Forming; Coach Smith Discovers Wealth of Material

The first call for candidates for an Albright tank squad was issued by Coach Smith yesterday. This is something of an event and was greeted enthusiastically by the entire campus. The squad is something that we have needed here for years and all reports show the thing to be going over big.

There is to be inter-class and inter-fraternity competition to some extent also. This is in keeping with the policy of THE ALBRIGHTIAN and the Athletic office which is "Sports for all."

Instruction for those unable to swim and later in the season preparation for life saving are also features of the program. The squad is meeting until further notice, in the Y. M. C. A. at Reed and Washington streets, Mondays and Thursdays at three P. M. The Athletic office refused to make public any information regarding the meets now pending.

Lutheran Students Hosts to Secretary; Rehearse New Play

Proceeds of Dramatic Effort Will Aid Charity; National Secretary Here

Miss Mildred Winston, one of the secretaries of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church in America will speak to the Lutheran Club on Wednesday afternoon. This is her annual visit to Albright College. Her work deals with helping college students to solve religious problems.

Miss Youcum and the Club's Faculty Adviser, Miss Gariach, urge every member to be present. The meeting will open at 3.30 in the afternoon. The club is also busy with the production of a play: "The Color Line." This is a dramatization of the vital question of race prejudice in America. Much is expected of a play dealing with so controversial a subject. It will be produced January 24th at St. James Church in the city. The proceeds are to aid local charities.

EDITORIALS

Town and Gown

"We point with pride . . ." or "We view with alarm," those convenient editorial spring-boards for a last collection of one's thoughts are, alas, no longer used. There are occasions however that can best be commented upon by one or the other of the stereotyped phrases. THE ALBRIGHTIAN, as the mouthpiece of the college feels, that in the Home Economics demonstration elsewhere described it has something to which it can point with a very justifiable pride.

The American College person has for a long time been accused by every conscientious observer of a bland indifference to the problems of the outside world. It is not a vicious indifference; it is simply that he has been well protected from the world by papa's check-book and just doesn't bother to think. This is in striking contrast to the European student. Professor Laaki of the University of London for example asks in a recent magazine article: "Why don't your undergraduates care?"

The country has lately been plunged into such acute difficulty—with the prospect of more to come—that at last the Gown is awakening from its long sleep. This is one of the blessings of such difficulty. The awakened interest is manifesting itself in many ways, many of them ineffective. But there is no doubt about it that the Collegiate at last knows he has a debt to the man in the street and is trying to pay it.

The Home Economics demonstration may not have done a tremendous amount of good in meeting the misery of the winter but it was joining of hands with The Visiting Nurse Association—a strictly local relief organization. Town and Gown are one. The undergraduate is beginning to care.

Sally Varner awoke the other night screaming "Frankenstein" but discovered it was only the clock on the window sill.

A bunch of girls stopped Pauline Caseman and asked to see the diamond ring. Pauline replied, "I didn't get a diamond but I got something just as bad—a cedar chest."

The town of Hanover, New Hampshire, requires all eligible Dartmouth students to vote in order that the town may collect a poll tax from them. In retaliation, the students attended a town meeting where they introduced and passed two bills which proposed the construction of a city hall one foot wide and a mile high and a wall around the town eight miles high. Hanoverians had to take the affair to Washington to get out of building the two structures.

At the University of Berlin, students pick their own professors. They are given six weeks before the semester opens in which the students may study and analyze the various professors.

On Wednesday night when the whistle wouldn't stop whistling, "Mo" Sudaym called the Chief of Police and complained that the noise was annoying to the students of Albright College who were trying to study.

Some of the co-eds were discussing the meals and spoke of one kind of meat, that they didn't like as "horse-meat." Among the group was Eva Jones who gasped, "I didn't know we ate horse-meat here at school."

When Bo Brookes heard there were sixteen girls gathered in one room listening to "Bim, Hen and Bob" broadcasting, he piped up with the remark, "I'll bet there was a radio in that room."

Well, girls, you know now what you can do and what you can't do. At least you should know—there's been plenty of discussion about it.

DIRECTOR HAAGE SCORES AGAIN AS ARGENTINA THRILLS CROWDS

Many Albrightians Acclaim Lovely Spanish Dancer; Director Haage To Bring Paderewski to City on His Last Tour; Opera Will Be Seen Next Sautrday

Thunders of applause from the largest audience a Haage Concert artist has drawn this season, in which Albright was well represented, greeted every member which the famed dancer, La Argentina interpreted. The concert held recently at the Rajah Theatre was the bright spot of the season for the musical set of Albright.

Of considerable interest is the announcement that the Haage management has secured a date in the tour, possibly the last, of Paderewski. This concert is scheduled for the ninth of February at the same theatre. Also of importance in the "season" is the coming of the Cosmopolitan Grand Opera Company next Saturday afternoon and evening. This company numbers among its members many splendid voices and comes here with a very fine body of press acclaim.

The program features that charming opera "Haensel and Gretel" and the ever popular "Pagliacci." In the evening the superbe opera by Bizet, "Carmen" will be given. The scale of prices for both events has been made to fit the depression income and there are the same advantages to students who get their tickets thru Professor Hunt of this school.

FASCINATING FACTS:

That La Argentina, that fascinating senorita, drew the largest and most appreciative audience any Reading play-house has seen this season.

That John DeMoss loves the harp and is taking lessons on it.

That Norma Shearer is even slicker in comedy than in dramma. (viz: Private Lives.)

That they are having communism in Russia.

That Maud Adams' Portia has been grievously panned by Reading theatre-goers. (Neither of them liked her.)

That Margaret Ayer Barnes' latest Westward Passage, is swell.

That there are more jokes told about Mahatma "Spare-Ribs" Gandhi than there ever were about Ford.

That there is a new heart-breaker on the campus. (Tell it here later.)

That the Marlene of the Dietrich's name is a contraction of her Christian monicker, Mary Magdalene.

The critics are at a draw as to whether Mourning Becomes Electra is a great drama on a piece of trash.

That there is nobody like Garbo, the columnists' delight.

That I hate lamps with beads on them, speakers with a "message," and cigarette-holders, but run a temperature over peanut-butter.

That Margaret Gerberich's famous ear-rings are part of a set.

That Marion Harris is the most fascinating of the radio crooners.

That Ann Harding likes Turkish cigarettes, Bach, and James Stephens.

SPORT LIGHTS

(By Russell N. Bonney, '33)

The Lions sure got off to a flying start in the opening game of the new Eastern Pennsylvania Basketball Conference. The Ursinus victory placed them on top, a place which they should hold. The Conference should be a wonderful aid toward stimulating the student interest in the cage sport. We have the team, so let's support them and bring the first conference championship to Albright.

Albright plays its second conference tilt, at home, Thursday night with Gettysburg as the attraction. The Bullets have several of last season's stars in the line-up and should provide plenty of opposition. Other conference games this week are as follows: January 13—Drexel vs. F. & M.; Lebanon Valley vs. Ursinus. January 16—Albright vs. Drexel; F. & M. vs. Lebanon Valley. These games will give some indication of the strength of the other conference teams.

The Ursinus game marked the fourth victory and the Lions have yet to go down in defeat. The Lions will have to be at their best to keep the slate clean this week.

Intra-mural basketball comes into the spotlight this week. Tuesday evening two games will be played to inaugurate the season. On paper the rival fraternities appear evenly matched and the games will surely be worth seeing. Last season the Lions' Club easily captured the honors, but it is a safe bet that the race will be hotter this year. The complete schedule has been published and the games will be played as scheduled.

Post-season football discussions still continue. The recent meeting of the coaches in New York brought out the chief problems of the game at present. The leading problem was the question of death's and injuries. Different ideas were advanced but to us the ideas of better protective equipment and certified physical examinations for players appeared the most logical. The "big business" end of the game, subsidizing players and general ethics and conduct of football were other problems which were discussed at length. Unfortunately there was more heat than light on the subject and ideas for solution which were advanced scarcely hold water and are found impractical by close followers of the game.

The Navy was a recent center of interest due to their supposed announcement that in coming seasons they would make a definite effort to "collect" a football team. Recent statements of those in authority at the Naval Academy have denied this policy but have made it clear that football ability will not be a stumbling block for entrance to the academy. To us it appears that at least one institution has the courage to voice its policy.

LIONS CLUB

The members of the Lions' Club take this opportunity to wish all a very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

The Social Room has recently been painted in an attractive manner.

Gloom hovered over the dorm last Tuesday when it was rumored that "Truck" Yentch would not return to school. However, "Truck" upset the dope and is "back in camp."

The Lions' Club extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Smith.

The engagement of Miss Gertrude Ansel, of Lancaster, to Abram Karlip, '32 was announced during the holidays. Congratulations, "Abe."

Heartfelt sympathies to Professor Albright in his recent bereavement.

Quintet Takes First Conference Match

Easily Win from Ursinus Five in First Conference Game; Capt. Haines Is Ace Scorer

The undefeated Albright Lions journeyed to Collegeville on Saturday night and easily defeated the Ursinus Bears by a 46-24 count. It was the first conference game for the Lions, who now share first place with F. & M. who succeeded in defeating Muhlenberg in a close game. The Lions were slow in getting under way, but managed to assume a commanding lead which they held throughout the entire game. This was the Lions' fourth victory accompanied by no losses.

G'burg Will Attempt To Break Lion Streak of Five Straight. Dragon Outfit Built Around Captain Eckelmeyer

Thursday night the Lions will meet the strong Gettysburg five. Coach Bream, although hampered by the loss of varsity material due to graduation, has built a team which has made impressive showings.

The Lions are out to make this their fifth straight victory and as a result the game will be a hard fought one.

Saturday night the Lions travel to Philadelphia, where they will play Coach Hala's Dragons of Drexel College. This year the Lions will be out to avenge the defeat of last year, which they suffered at the hands of the down state five.

Last Wednesday night the Dragons beat Phila. Textile 35-16. The team is built around Capt. Eckelmeyer, veteran guard, and Fleming and Reynolds, forwards. Albright will have to be at its best to beat Drexel.

THE CINEMA

VAUDEVILLE AT PARK

Commencing Saturday matinee and until the following Friday evening, the Park Theatre will offer the second six-act show of headline vaudeville, under its new weekly policy. The feature act is "Southern Gaities," one of the out-standing and most colorful dancing and singing revues in vaudeville today. Following this revue are five other excellent acts, Jean Hamilton and the Five Lido Boys in "Stepping Ahead of the Time;" Jarvis and Harrison and company, a comedy, song and dance novelty, "A Twelve to One Shot;" the Three Melvin Brothers, Moro and Yocconelli; and Hector and Pals, a stage full of the most intelligent dogs ever seen. On the screen, John Gilbert in a thrilling romantic drama to order for this great star, "West of Broadway."

"SUICIDE FLEET," EMBASSY

"Suicide Fleet," RKO Pathe's spectacular specialty staged with the cooperation of the "United States Navy, which Manager A. Frank O'Brien announces as the next attraction at the EMBASSY THEATRE. The story deals with the war adventures of pals who leave their Coney Island concessions to enlist in the Navy. Splendid work is done by Bill Boyd, Robert Armstrong, James Gleason, Ginger Rogers, Harry Bannister and other members of the imposing cast.

SYLVIA SIDNEY, CAPITOL

"Ladies of the Big House," which will be the feature at the CAPITOL THEATRE beginning Saturday. This picture has for its leading featured artists two talented personages who recently sprang into public favor because each possesses high dramatic ability, a distinct personality, and good looks, qualities essential to success. Sylvia Sidney, who plays the leading woman's part, because of her outstanding work in "City Streets," with Gary Cooper, in "An American Tragedy," with Phillips Holmes, in "Street Scene," with William Collier, and in her Broadway stage success, "Bad Girl."

"THE CHAMP" AT LOEW'S

Reviewing "The Champ," which comes to LOEW'S beginning Saturday, the critic of the New York Post said: "Not in the history of talkies was weeping so profuse and so enjoyable as at this premiere of 'The Champ.' The picture ranks with the greatest epics of boyhood in its pathos and humor. Wallace Beery and Jackie (Skippy) Cooper are the stars who make the show what it is and there are few people indeed who can afford to miss it and them."

ARCADIA BILL

"Night Beat" starring Jack Mullah, thrilling crook drama, "Heaven on Earth," with Lew Ayres, the star of "All Quiet at the Western Front" and Anita Louise. "Tex Takes a Holiday," with Virginia Brownfain and Wallace MacDonald.

VARIED PROGRAM at ASTOR

"Frankenstein" which opened Saturday at the ASTOR THEATRE is unquestionably the most thrilling picture which Reading theatre-goers have had the opportunity of seeing in a long time. James Whale directed it with a cast including Colin Clive, Mae Clark, John Boles, Boris Karloff, Edward Van Sloan. The new vaudeville bill at the Astor promises to be one of the best. The stage program includes the following headline acts: Earle Lavers, with Mildred Byram, in "Did You Hear About the—?????" Lew Edwards and Dot Sanford in "Nutology," a comedy team of the highest calibre; Worthy and Thompson, the "Two Synopated Aces," in the game of synopated dances. Harry Cantor, featured songster of Reading's radio stations, will act as "master of ceremonies." Marcus Sisters and Carlton Brothers in "Creative Ideas," and the concluding number The Dennis White Revuette, with Dennis White.

STANLEY SCHELL, '29 SUC-CUMBS TO ATTACK OF APPENDICITIS

Considerable sadness was caused on the campus recently by the death of Stanley Schell, '29. Known to many Albrightians as "Ducky" during his stay here, his end comes as a severe blow especially to those in the Science Hall, like the Professors Horn and Greene who knew and expected much from him. Schell took his bachelor's degree in Chemistry in 1929, having served very ably as an assistant for two years under Professor Altenderfer, then head of the department. Schell was a member of the Kappa Upsilon Phi Fraternity, The Reading Chemical Society, and the Albright Alumni. The cause of his end was an acute attack of appendicitis. He is survived by his parents.

LIONS SMEAR BEARS

classified the Lion team getting 17 field goals to Ursinus' nine. The Lions' foul shooting was also accurate, converting 10 out of 14 free throws. The first half was slow and marked by loose basketball, but the Albright boys found themselves in the second period and soon had the game on ice.

Capt. Haines once again was ace scorer with seven double-deckers and four foul tosses. The feature of the Albright play was the smooth work of Fromm and Oslalo at the guards. Not only did they shine defensively but gathered 14 points between them. Brieche, a substitute, led the home boys with seven points. Capt. Lodge and Summers also played a good article of ball at the forwards.

Both teams made wholesale substitutions, each using eleven players during the contest. Score:

York Alumni Meet

The annual meeting of the Albright Alumni Association of York was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bailey.

A short business session was held, the following officers being re-elected to serve another year: President, Preston Shewell vice-president, Miss Anna Bailey; secretary, the Rev. M. A. Teter; treasurer, Miss Mabel Crowell.

The program included an interesting and inspiring address by Dr. George W. Walton, present dean of Albright college, who spoke on the topic "Albright, Present and Future."

A resolution, presented by the resolution committee, expressing gratitude to the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey and daughter, Anna, and to the association, for the opportunity of again having a get-together, was adopted.

student opposed disarmament, and forty-five per cent favored total disarmament by example; and a New England college where eighty per cent opposed the United States taking the initiative in disarmament. COLLEGIANA

"If all the newspapers in the world were wiped out and all the colleges left there would be very little education," stated Dr. Henry B. Rathbone of New York University, who is the head of the department of journalism. Dr. Rathbone doubtless feels safe either way. One of those amphibians—half professor, half newsmen.

"Pools" have been formed at North-western University for the purpose of guessing the number of books a professor will take from his brief case, or the number of times he will use his pet word or phrases.
