Melick Delegate For Outing Club

Albright Represented At Dartmouth Conference

That Albright College may become a charter member of the Inter-Collegiate Outing Club Association was disclosed by Walter Melick, sponsor of the Albright Outing Club. It was also made evident that official sanction has not yet been granted by the administration.

Mr. Melick disclosed that Albright College was represented at the spring conference of the Inter-Collegiate Outing Club Association held April 17-19 at Dartmouth College. Albright, as a non-member, engaged in the conference's activities with such schools as Amherst, Dartmouth, Cornell, Vassar, Smith, Yale, Harvard, M. I. T., Princeton, and Swarthmore.

In discussing the Albright Outing Club proposition, Mr. Melick stated that such an organization is needed on campus to bring to the students the benefits of outdoor activities such as hiking, skiing, skating, camping, and other phases not included in competitive sports. Such a program would fit in excellently with the increased physical program and, through the joint meeting with other colleges of the association, much publicity would be gotten for Albright.

The embryonic Albright organization, which has been extended an invitation to the fall conference of the clubs to be held at Princeton University, has enlisted the enthusiastic support of the following in its co-educational set.

The story and pictures of Albright's defense activities will be included in the May 10th issue of the New York Journal-American with a two page spread of the Reading story.

Michael Dutzer Concludes Duties As Air Raid Chief

Albright Group Commended For Cooperation In Defense Program

Since the outbreak of the war the Civilian Defense Unit here on campus has been very active. Michael Dutzer, Chief Air Raid Warden, has led his group through a series of successful air raid drills and blackout practices.

An important unit of this organization, the auxiliary firemen were instructed for ten hours under the supervision of Fire Chief Brown of Reading, who taught them the fundamentals of fire fighting and the use of the apparatus. On Wednesday evening after dinner, the auxiliary firemen practiced under the leadership of the Washington Post Company.

The First Aid Corps has had a long and thorough training under Bob Ravel.

Wardens Give Blackout Instruction

In regard to air raids and blackouts, the students were given their instructions as to conduct, place of shelter, etc., and, with the lights on, they had their first air raid practice. Ten minutes later, another alarm was sounded. This time, the campus was thrown into complete darkness. The Council was pleased with the success of this first practice.

After there had been a few announced air raid-blackout sessions, Warden Dutzer pulled a surprise blackout which proved to be quite successful. Everything worked perfectly, on April 21 at 10:30, when Reading and Berks County held a blackout.

Defense Unit Plans For Day Students

The Defense Unit also had to take the day students into consideration, therefore, several air raid practices were held for their benefit. Last Friday morning between 9:05 and 9:20, another successful surprise air raid was held. Plans were arranged and instructions were given to the night classes so that they could cooperate with us.

New Appointments To Be Made

Michael Dutzer and Ray Hahn, two seniors who have served this organization, will graduate this year. They will appoint someone to succeed them. Announcement (Continued on page 3, column 2)

PAT's Meet To Say Goodbye

Social Night Ends Season

The P. A. T.'s met informally in the lower social room on Monday to bid farewell to their senior sisters, Betty Jones, Jane Louise Haupt, Ella Propst, Esther Gingrich, and Esther Whitehead. The newly elected treasurer, Ruth Hand, informed the freshman and sophomore coeds that they will receive their P. A. T. plaques in September.

After a short business meeting, the girls gathered around card tables to play games, ranging from Miss Shaffer's "tricks" to bridge and bull sessions. Jane Louise Haupt, hostess, and Emma Cora Hafer served punch, pretzels, and nuts. "Cues" were signed, and the sorority was disbanded until next term.

Old Spring House To Be Converted Into "Y" Chapel

Cabinet Discloses Materialized Plans For Meeting Place

For three years it has been the dream of the "Y" to convert the spring house behind the chapel into a place for Bible class meeting, private devotions, "Y" meetings, private group communions, vesper services, and pre-Easter and Christmas matins.

Tuesday evening that dream came one step nearer reality when the combined "Y" cabinets met in the chapel to discuss ways and means of financing the remodeling of the spring house.

Ruth Hand and Bruce Knisley, presidents of the "Y's," explained that the cost will be about $500.00. The project will be sponsored by the "Y," but the chapel will be available for every individual and organization on campus.

Plans Have Been Drawn Up

Plans for the chapel have been drawn up, and the carpenter is ready to start work as soon as the present semester is finished. It will be ready for use by September. The inner walls of the building will be finished with knotted pine wood. It will be equipped with a reed organ and pews which were used in the first Evangelical meeting house in Kleinfeltersville, Pennsylvania. An old-fashioned lighting system will be in keeping with the setting.

By the end of this year, the "Y" expects to have about $200.00 toward the expenses.

Committee Appointed to Enlist Interest

A committee of representatives from the various conferences of the Evangelical Church will work through the individual youth groups this summer in trying to interest them to support the project. Such a program will not only help make the "Y's" dream come true, but will show other young folks what Albright is doing, and will aid in interesting them more in our school.

Our "Y" group will raise as much of the money as possible through student activities, programs, and contributions.

Dominoes Induct New Thespians

Secret Ceremony Closes Dramatic Season

On Wednesday night, the president of the Domino Club, Marjorie Frundt, formally initiated the following people into membership: John Roeder, a senior; Rillie Lee Wright, Jane Redcay, Donald Spang, Lura Ann Heverly, Mary Jane Hassler, Eleanor Shubert, Elizabeth Frasso, Betty Bradley, Felice Epstein, Mary Nicol, Pearl Dower, Pat Kramer, James Brusich and Paul Deysher.

As a climax to the impressive secret ceremony, the new members were received and welcomed by the newly-elected president, Geraldine Ross.

Pat Smith Elected President Of I. R. C.

At the final meeting of the International Relations Club for the term, Patricia Smith, newly elected president, assumed the duties that office entails. Kathryn Muhs, vice-president, and Dorothy Reber, secretary, likewise, took over their responsibilities. A new vote was cast to electate the Evans-Wagner tie for treasurer.

In a open forum discussion concerning Pan-American relations, Pat Smith, George Evans, and Dick Major spoke respectively for the economic, cultural, and political aspects.

Student Address To Be Given By Gold "A" Winner

Bethlehem Man Active In Many Groups On Albright Campus

The student speaker, selected to represent the senior class as Commencement this year, will be Charles Miesse of Bethlehem, Pa. He was selected by the faculty at their meeting Monday afternoon from the group of graduating students on the Honor List.

Mr. Miesse, who was the recipient of the only Gold "A" award on Charter Day, has applied for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. He has accepted a scholarship to Lehigh University to do post-graduate work in Mathematics.

Credit goes to Miesse for holding the office of President in no less than four organizations on campus.

He was president of the Orchestra this past year and was one of the senior members to receive commendation from Mr. Hans Nix, their director. In the musical capacity he was also primarily responsible for the band having new uniforms, through his efforts in promoting the benefit concerts.

Miesse Active in Many Fields
The German Club and Tau Kappa Alpha were also under his reign this past year.

Miesse has been active in the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and French Club. He has taken part in Domino plays for four years and was a member of the casts of "The Male Animal" and "Even Unto the Death" this past season.

The Pi Tau Beta fraternity for which he has been scribe for two years, presented him with a key last Monday night for his meritorious contributions to the organization.

He has also been doing work all during his college career in the school library in every capacity it offers.

What Price Morale?

By ETHEL MAE YEAKEL

American students have been accused of indifference toward our country's war efforts and of going their merry way of campus frivolities, blithely unaware of their part in the present crisis.

If such were the case, I am inclined to think that there would be a noticeable concentration of attention upon campus activities here at Albright as well as at every other college center. For, in order to shut out the world of reality, the students would be diligently engaged in building and maintaining the artificial world of gaiety and optimism. This condition is far from one that actually exists.

Certainly if the accusation were true, there would be increased competition for positions of campus leadership, sharper rivalry in elections, and more rabid interest in election results. The truth of the matter is that students are so aware of the portentous events that are taking place in the world today that they realize the uncertainty of the future and they are sharply conscious of the insignificance of winning the presidency of this or that organization as compared to winning the battle of our nation and, indeed, the battle of all intelligent, civilized people.

The lethargy and lack of interest that greets the announcements of elections of officers for campus organizations is not a condition peculiar to Albright. Franklin and Marshall's "Student Weekly" of April 28th ran a front page article commenting on the same lack of spirit among the Diplomats. Their headline reads:

Students Indifferent in Recent Nominations of New Class Officers.

Unconcern of Under Classmen Disgraceful As Shortage of Nominees Starts Senate Planning Election Postponement.

Evidently the situation is even more critical in the Blue and White territory, mostly because F and M is all male and the stronger sex is now directly affected by the war.

What to do about it? Well, that is up to the students themselves. I suppose it is basically a question of morale. One thing is certain. This is only the beginning and the years ahead will see more drastic and far reaching changes taking place. Probably the best solution to the problem is to make every effort to re-

Award Of Merit Won By "Die Unschuldige"

Albright Performance Ties For First Place

Dr. Gerrit Memming, head of the German department, has just been informed that Albright College has received an Award of Merit for their "excellent, outstanding, first-class performance" at the Cultural Olympics held in Philadelphia at the University of Pennsylvania.

Each time during its participation within the last five years, the organization has received an award; but this year it was especially honored in that the play, "Die Unschuldige" was considered one of the two best plays given. Five colleges were represented: University of Pennsylvania, Swarthmore, Rutgers, Princeton, and Albright.

"Die Unschuldige," the one-act play written by Heinrich Mann, the brother of Thomas Mann, was presented in chapel here on April 21st. After the presentation of the German plays of the five schools represented at the Olympics, a banquet was given for the various casts.

Seniors Vote In "Who's Who" Poll

Who's going places in the next few years? On Monday and Tuesday, May 4th and 5th, members of the senior class cast their ballots for the most enviable positions a senior can attain.

May Queen Ella Propst was chosen "the prettiest girl," and her maid of honor, Elaine Shade, was a close second choice. Miss Propst belongs to the Pi Alpha Tau sorority and majored in home economics.

When it came to selecting the most handsome boy, Clement Boland set the pace. Setting paces seems to be his speed for he's the Zeta's chance for a first place in any track meet and he can put plenty of zip on a baseball.

"Most Likely to Succeed" honors went to diminutive Jean Bomgardner and lanky Ray Hain, with strong competition from Ellen Witmoyer and Charles Miesse.

Ray Hain was doubly blessed, for he also came out on top as the senior who has done most for Albright. This too was a photo finish, with Charles Miesse being a nose too short.

Harold Werner, student editor of the "Albrightian," was practically unanimously selected as the senior who has done most for his class.

Peppy Mary Levan, an honor student and ex-president of the W. A. A., shines as the all-round student.

Sorry I can't offer any quotations to prove his worth, but Chuck Klein was chosen Class Wit. "The Rock" topped a three-way tie for second place among Miesse, Lubin, and Wolff.

For the most outstanding athlete, of which there are many, the seniors chose big Steve Plaskonos first, and James Breen second.

Although he didn't win a first choice, Charles Miesse had enough second places to receive the greatest amount of votes cast for any individual.

The students' choice as the most popular professor, Mr. Newton S. Sanford, polled votes from both sexes, but mostly from the feminine element. Perhaps he threatened them with an incendiary bomb, but they probably selected him because he's an all-around guy.

Jobs Open For Girls

WASHINGTON (ACP) — The weatherman is likely to be weatherwoman for the duration. Civil Service is looking for college women to fill vacancies at weather stations west of the Mississippi.

If you're interested in the weather station work you would like a job and pay for blanks. (Incidentally, some stations are still averse to hiring women—this is something you may want to know in advance.)

At least two years of college work is required, with emphasis on mathematics and physics. The salary is $135 a month—$120 or $105 if you are willing to take less. You'll have to take a written examination.

The Navy needs about 50 girls for technical and scientific aides. They'll take almost anyone who has had one or two years of chemistry or physics.

Kappas Gain Lead In Softball

By DICK MAJOR and SAUL POKRASS

"Wait 'til next year" seems to be the cry of all active intra-mural sports enthusiasts. The boys would like to see the intra-mural program click as it has never before, but the students can't do it alone. The administration's support is needed to further next year's set-up.

By the way of aid, we suggest that the administration appropriate more money to the program. With this added appropriation, competent student officials could be hired for touch football and basketball. As to softball, why not import officials from the city? Such a move would improve the officiating of the second favorite pastime. This move seems necessary, because all student umpires are associated with some team or other. Harmony seems to be the keynote for the coming campaign, and harmony can be achieved through better officiating.

Another thing seems to be necessary for next year. A fund should be established to provide payment for treatment of injuries which occur in intra-mural sports. An increased sports program will undoubtedly produce more injuries. The administration advances the argument that the student enters intra-mural sports voluntarily and therefore is responsible for taking care of his own injuries. Well, intra-mural sports are no longer voluntary and the administration will have to take a decidedly different stand.

We're glad to say that the Intra-Mural Sports Council has not been inactive in this respect. They have appointed a committee which even now is trying to get some assurance from the administration that next year's doctor bills will be taken care of. And as for the injuries which occurred this year, for the treatment of which the administration would give no money, the various organizations have voted to contribute equally to defray these costs. This money comes from no full treasury such as that of which Mr. Brininger boasted on Wednesday morning, but from the pockets of the boys competing in these games.

In passing, let us remind our readers that in the abandonment of inter-collegiate baseball, the funds formerly applicable to the diamond sport were to be turned over to the intra-mural program. This was promised by the administration. What has happened to these funds?

The much-talked-about softball scrap between the Kappas and Zetas finally brought results. The slugging Kappa ten crossed the plate 17 times to sink the Zetas, 17-7. Excellent fielding throughout the game as well as heady pitching on the part of "Doc" Stish kept the Kappas out of danger. Clem Boland pitched good ball for his teammates, but the ability of the Kappas to cash their hits in for runs was too much.

The hard hitting Theologs took a close one from the Zetas to drop the here-to-fore first place holders to third place. Although out-hit by the Zetas, the Theologs were still able to make their bingles good to end the game 6-5. Big John Durko took the mound for the Theologs and did an excellent job of taking care of his assignment.

The high-spirited Pi Taus set some sort of a record for runs scored against them in losing to the Kappas to bring their grand total of losses to 11. The Kappas had 19 hits making 22 runs, while the Pi Taus were kept to two hits and three runs. Twirler Klein stole the show by allowing only two hits while his teammates hit like big-leaguers.

The Greatest Air Army in the World
Needs Flight and Ground Crew Officers

NOW FOR COLLEGE MEN A NEW OFFICERS' TRAINING PLAN

★ New Deferred Service Plan Allows You to Continue Your Education ★

In the skies over America the mightiest air fleet in the history of the world is mobilizing for victory!

So fast is it growing that there is a place here — an urgent need here — for every college man in America who can qualify for Officer's Training.

The U. S. Army Air Forces need Flying Officers and Ground Crew Officers. And many of them must come from the ranks of today's college students — men who make their plans now for the necessary Aviation Cadet training.

Thanks to a newly created Air Force Reserve plan, men of all classes — aged 18 to 26, inclusive — can enlist for immediate service or continue the scholastic work required for graduation before being called to active duty.

You must meet the requirements for physical fitness, of course. In addition, you take a new simplified test to determine your ability to grasp the training. A college man should pass it easily.

$75 A MONTH DURING TRAINING

Those accepted who wish immediate duty will go into training as rapidly as facilities permit. As an Aviation Cadet, you are paid $75 a month, with subsistence, quarters, medical care, uniforms, equipment.

In 8 months you can win an officer's commission as a bombardier, navigator or pilot — and be well started on your way to serve America and advance yourself in aviation.

Three Enlistment Plans for College Men

Juniors—Sophomores—Freshmen May Continue Their Education

1. A new plan allows Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, aged 18 to 26, inclusive, to enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and continue their schooling, provided they maintain satisfactory scholastic standings.

All College Men May Enlist for Immediate Service

2. All college students may enlist as privates in the Army Air Forces (unassigned) and serve there until their turns come for Aviation Cadet training.

3. All college students may enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and wait until ordered to report for Aviation Cadet training.

Upon graduation or withdrawal from college, men will be assigned to active duty at a training center as facilities become available.

If the necessity of war demands, the deferred enlistment in the Army Reserve may be terminated at any time by the Secretary of War.

The Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve is a part of an over-all Army Enlisted Reserve Corps program shortly to be announced. This program will provide opportunities for college men to enlist in other branches of the Army on a deferred basis and to continue their education through graduation if a satisfactory standard of work is maintained. In case of necessity the Secretary of War shall determine when they may be called to active duty. It is understood that men so enlisted will have the opportunity of competing for vacancies in officer's candidate schools.

This plan has been approved in the belief that continuance of education will develop capacities for leadership. (Reserve enlistment will not alter regulations regarding established R.O.T.C. plans.)

MANY BRANCHES OF SERVICE

There are also commissions awarded in ground crew service. College men particularly will be interested in the requirements for Armaments, Communications, Engineering, Meteorology, Photography. If you have engineering experience your chances of getting a commission are excellent.

As a Second Lieutenant on active duty with the Army Air Forces, your pay ranges from $183 to $245 a month.

ACT AT ONCE

If you want to fight for America, this is where your blows will count.

If you want the best training in the world, and years of solid achievement in aviation — the great career field of the future — this is where you belong. Your place is here — in the Army Air Forces.

If you plan to enlist immediately, start getting your necessary papers ready for the Aviation Cadet Examining Board when it meets in your locality. For complete information, see your Faculty Air Force Advisor. You can take your mental and physical examinations the same day you apply. Get further information now.

NOTE: If you wish to enlist and are under 21, you will need your parents' or guardian's consent. Birth certificates and three letters of recommendation will be required of all applicants. Obtain the forms and send them home today — you can then complete your enlistment before any Aviation Cadet Examining Board.
