

Dance, Show Highlight Drive

Albright College will wind up its six-weeks bond campaign in connection with the 7th War Loan Drive with an all-college dance and entertainment in the dining hall and lower social room, the evening of May 19. Whitey Meiskey's orchestra will furnish music for the occasion. In addition to students and faculty members, prospective Albright students from Berks County will be present.

Bond Broadcast

In collaboration with the war bond committee of Berks County, a United States Infantry show will be given in the Albright stadium the night of June 19. All students and faculty who have bought or sold bonds during the drive on campus and credited them to the college will receive tickets for the show. In addition, all the bonds sold as admission to the show will be credited to Albright.

Albright Committee

Marilyn Jacobson and Gloria Salety are the co-chairmen in charge of the bond drive. Their committee consists of Eileen O'Neil, day women; Herbert Hyman, daymen; Felice Epstein, dorm women; Walter Hayum, dorm men; Bohdan Procko, Student Council; and Rev. Lester L. Stabler, Charles L. Gordon, and Dr. Milton G. Gell, faculty.

Radio Drama

The next feature of the drive will be the college broadcast, "Our Lion's Share," starring only Albrightians. The drama will be on the air Monday, May 14, at 7:30 p. m. over WRAW. It deals with a fictitious soldier who, wounded, returned and became a part of Albright. Parts in the play are enacted by Felice Epstein, Catherine Hand, Marjorie Christ, Herbert Hyman, Lloyd Schwartz as the returning soldier, and Jack Shaffer, as the announcer. Shirley Reכון is in charge of sound effects. This broadcast will also mark the opening of the national war bond drive.

Pi Taus Induct Pledges At Banquet Ceremony

The new members of the Pi Tau Beta Fraternity were feted with a banquet at Moselem Springs Hotel last Tuesday evening. Prior to the banquet, the formal ceremony of the induction of pledges was conducted by president Robert A. Deach and pledge master Homer Angstadt, aided by chaplain Reed Fredericks, treasurer Bohdan Procko, and secretary John Kissinger.

Coach Neal O. Harris accepted a bid to the fraternity as an honorary member. The newly installed members are: Verner Hertzog, Russell Luck, Charles Stump, and Steven Winter. The Pi Tau members and their guests participated in an hour of dancing to recorded music after the banquet.

APO Elects Richard Derr As Prexy, Holds Banquet

At a recent election, the Alpha Pi Omega Fraternity selected the following officers for the ensuing year: president, Richard Derr; vice president, Kenneth Good; corresponding secretary, Fred Perfect; recording secretary, William Hechler; treasurer, Lee Kachel; chaplain, Jack Shaffer; publicity and public relations chairman, Edward Daniels; athletics chairman, William Harting; keeper of the portal, Marvin Weaver; custodian of property and Interfrat Council representative, William Walb; health officer, Herbert Hyman.

Members of the fraternity and their guests met at Moselem Springs for a banquet last Saturday night.

Council Hears News Of Bond Campaign, Appoints Committees

Student Council voted at its last meeting to delegate arrangements for the Sub-Freshman party, April 19, to the Albright war bond committee. Marilyn Jacobson, co-chairman with Gloria Salety of the bond committee, explained to council the plans for the party which will be an all-college celebration to conclude the 7th War Loan Drive on the Albright campus.

Marie Bonner was appointed to head the Sub-Freshman Day committee. Her aides are Shirley Sperans, Warren Pfost, and Kenneth Good. The following standing committees for 1945-46 were appointed by the president, Bohdan Procko, and were approved by the group: freshman orientation, Marie Bonner; social, Mary Beth Schofer; student activities, Irene Fisher; publicity, Mary Jane March; dining room, Shirley Sperans; and Albrightians-in-service, Jean Harer.

The executive committee of Council, consisting of Mr. Procko, president; Kenneth Good, vice president; Margaret Hendricks, secretary; and Reed Fredericks, treasurer, will meet tonight at 7 p. m. to plan Council activities for the next term.

One-Acter Program To Occur May 25

The presentation of the one-acters which was scheduled for May Day has been postponed to the evening of May 25. The plays were written by members of Dr. John B. Doude's English 15 class. Thus far two of the plays have been cast. Those who have been selected to take part in "Farewell, Comrade," by Geraldine Wentzel, include Jack Shaffer, Harry Gruber, and Walter Hayum. Marjorie Christ, Jean Jaglom, and Robert Sokol, have been cast for the play, "Taxi, Taxi," written by Miriam Kramer.

Bible Class and Vespers Invite Parents to Come

Sunday morning Bible Class will be held in the college chapel next Sunday to accommodate the visiting parents. Ruth Ritzman will preside. Warren Pfost will conduct Vespers in the evening. No Sunday services were held on campus last week because of the "Y" Retreat.

Cecil Pottier led the noon day prayer service today. Tomorrow it will be conducted by Catherine Hand; Thursday by Margaret Hohl; Friday by Mary Briner, and next Monday by Edward Daniels.

"Big People" At Retreat Impress Douglass As They Play Chorades, Bat Balls

(Note: This is the story of the "Y" Retreat through the eyes of Douglas Mott, 3½ years old, who came to the Spring "Y" Retreat with his grandmother and great grandmother, the cooks for the week-end.)

Such a commotion as there was on Saturday morning when all those college students started coming to the "Y" camp. I was s'posed to be in the kitchen but I snuck out to be and watched. There were suitcases and all those big people all over the place. (Grandma told me they were college students. Is that good?)

Soon they were all playing games. Some big boys could hit the ball hard, and they even gave me a club, but it was too heavy for me, but maybe someday I'll be big and tall like they were.

I really have fun in the evening when all the people got dressed up funny to play make-believe—(Grandma told me they were stunts). Some boy named Bob, all

Queen Maddy To Head Court; "Flower" Theme Will Prevail

Queen Madeline Gable

Chairman Jeanne Miller

Crowning of May Queen Madeline Gable and festivities in her honor arranged by May Day chairman Jeanne Miller will start the observance of May Day at Albright next Saturday afternoon. When the Queen adorns her court, parents attending the event are invited to a tea sponsored by Student Council, and in the evening Pi Alpha Tau Sorority and Phi Beta Mu will hold their annual spring formal at the Berkshire Hotel.

The traditional May Day procession will take place from the library to the campus lawn in front of the library to the music of "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar. Organ music by Marjorie Christ will be carried over the amplifying system.

The Queen of the May will be attended by her maid of honor, Erma Leinbach; custodian of the crown, Janet Luckenbaugh; and the court of honor composed of Ruth Ritzman, Ruth Plowfield, Ann DeFarges, Charlotte Eck, and Christine Calpin, Marylouise Schappell and Margaret Walton will carry the Queen's train, Betty Cusano will bear the crown, while Margarite Jungblut and Mildred Abrams will act as pages.

A proclamation by Miss Miller and the coronation ceremony by Luckenbaugh will follow the processional. Homage will be paid to the Queen by the court dancers, forty underclass women performing "Intermezzo" and "Waltz of the Flowers" and the junior women doing the May Pole dance.

The 1946 custodian of the crown and mistress of ceremonies, who will be elected by the junior women during this week, will be announced by the mistress of ceremonies and charged with their duties for the coming year, just before the recessional.

The May Day committee, composed of Jeanne Miller, chairman, Mae Jean Picking, Janet Luckenbaugh, Miss Leinbach, Professor Ernestine Elder, and Professor Ross Mosser, have planned the whole program around the theme

Students Pack Kits For Convalescents

Packing kits for convalescing soldiers will be featured at the college "Y" tonight at 7:30 at the Metropolitan Edison Light Company, 4th and Washington Streets. The meeting, sponsored by the Social Action Committees of the combined "Y's" cabinets, is in charge of the Reading Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Thirty people will be needed to complete the assembly line and to operate the conveying belt. Approximately 3 seconds are needed to fill each kit.

The kits to be filled with soap, wash cloths, towels, and other essentials, will be distributed by the Red Cross to convalescing servicemen who are returning from all theaters of war to this country.

Plant Expert To Appear In Chapel, Show Film

Student Council will present another in its series of cultural programs in the chapel program this Thursday. Edward A. Hill will present a film, "Invisible Motion." Mr. Hill, who resides in Fleetwood, spent more than two years preparing these pictures. They show the growing of plants and shrubs which are too slow for the human eye to detect. Mr. Hill has appeared at the Reading Museum and at the Metropolitan Museum of New York.

"Buy More Bonds" was the theme of the program presented in chapel this morning. Judy Scheier, Rita Duncavage, Russell Luck, and seven other men participated in the dramatic part of the program. A large part of the program was musical with a military touch at the end.

Seniors Read Papers, Get Club Certificates

The reading of senior biology papers was the program of Skull and Bones final meeting of the year held last Wednesday in the science hall. Aileen Schearer read her paper on "Respiratory Enzymes." Allen Snyder on "Nerve Conditions," and Ruth Plowfield on "Haemotoxynin."

Dr. Clarence A. Horn, club sponsor, presented to eight seniors certificates of membership of the Skull and Bones Society. These seniors are Jeanne Miller, president; Marilyn Jacobson, Bertina Blauch, June Ruth, Mae Jean Picking, Miss Schearer, Miss Plowfield, and Mr. Snyder.

Rita Duncavage Takes Office As Dorm Head

Using a mantle ceremony that is to become an Albright tradition, the resident women inducted their new dormitory president, Rita Duncavage, and the newly elected Dorm Council on Monday night, April 30, in the college chapel. The Moving Up Day exercises were significant of each class assuming the status they will hold next year.

According to a recent change in the constitution, the dorm women elected two representatives to Dorm Council for each class instead of one as formerly. Those elected are Mary Alice Lippert and Shirley Reכון for the seniors; Joy Cutler and Joan House for the juniors, and Marjorie Christ and Grace Miller for the sophomores. In installing the new Council this year's council members relinquished their seats to and bestowed their robes upon the incoming council members.

The theme of "Friendship" was interwoven through the service and the quotation: "... midnight, a dying fire, and the best unsaid," was the keynote. Miss Duncavage, in accepting her office spoke on the theme and used some quotations on friendship from "The Prophet." Dean Helen Cunliffe challenged the new council as well as all the classes to assume their new responsibilities and privileges for the coming year.

Last Thursday night, the dorm women met in the lower social hall for a discussion on the significance of V-E Day.

'County Rubes' Visit Philly Slums

At seven o'clock last Friday morning, a sleepy, but eager urban sociology class set off for Philly to view that city's slums. Arriving at approximately nine or nine thirty, the class tumbled out of cars only to hear a passerby murmur, "Welcome to the big city, folks. Look at all the corn and beans growing across yondah." Could be we detected a note of sarcasm in his voice. For a few minutes our morale sunk to a new low. Taken for country hicks on a trip to the big city—how could they!

But we recovered from the insult (?) quickly, and were almost immediately engrossed in the sights. And sights they were! We saw districts so crowded that 30 people were living in one small house. We were in the heart of a district housing 50,000 people in 9 square blocks. Hard to believe, but pitifully true!

We visited a Negro section responsible for two gangs, uniquely known as the "Tops," and the "Bottoms." The "Bottoms," themselves, were responsible for the deaths of three youths in the past year. They had a "protection" system which consisted of forcing younger children to pay tribute for not being mauled on the way to and from school.

We visited a "Mission for Homeless Men," better known as a flop house. The sleeping conditions of the men were appalling—130 beds in one not overly large room. We could not help noticing that the sheets were filthy; and the stench was nearly more than we could bear. And yet, this was a step in the right direction, though admittedly a small one.

At six o'clock, a tired group of young people who had seen conditions they would never forget, were more than ready to return home—the same group in name only.

Come On 'n' Cheer

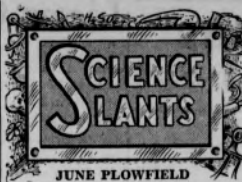

Just as campus spirit was hitting an all time low this spring, we all surprised ourselves by having some bang-up fun at the "Y" circus and the Sadie Hawkins dance...

Albright About Town

Albright has always been concerned about the impression that its students make on the people of Reading. There is one organization on campus that has made repeated appearances throughout the city this year...

Prayer for V-E Day

O God, This night in this quiet room, in the still shadows of dusk, in the calm and silent trees we feel Thy peace.
Yet we are disturbed and troubled, for we hear from far away
The rumbling of loud guns, the angry cries men, the shrill and sudden shriek of death...

There's never a dull moment in the chem lab as can be seen when Bob Gale dashes about attempting to fix up his many scratches...

Ken Good and Dick Derr attempt to clown while titrating; "Squeaky" (M. L.) Schappell expresses her sorrow (?) at finding her semester's lab book after its two week disappearance...

The scoop of the day drifts by (could be true)—Aileen Scheerer's approaching wedding; froth to seniors dash to the bulletin board to sign up for the Alchemists' picnic...

Phyl Carter and Mary Eschwei dig-in to clean-up the stockroom (all types of bangs, crashes, and what-not can be heard as things fly in all directions)...

Home Ec Omelet

Some of the fellows mention that they'd like to have a cooking class for boys at Albright. That would be interesting—they should know something about food since they eat most of it.

At one time there was a course in foods for boys here. Professor Anna Heere Smith was a lab assistant then. She said most of the fellows took the course expecting to get a lot of good things to eat...

They say you shouldn't eat very much when traveling. It's true. Let this be a lesson to people who try to mix spaghetti and meat balls with train rides.

Dine and Dance At Pop's Palace

"Elmer Moser, Prop." the sign says. "Let's go over to Pop's," the kids yell.

Be it ever so humble, there's no place like Pop's. Albright's "off campus campus," that's the place where serious collegiates let their bobby socks down and relax.

Entering this illustrious establishment, perhaps one may see those four card sharks, Joyce Moyer, Marie Bonner, B. C. Voeste, and Judy Scheier playing pinochle. Perhaps someone has kidnapped the fabulous Teger topper, and its owner is protesting loudly about the inhumanity of a man fiendish enough to manhandle this ancient relic.

Elite Clientele

Perhaps Paul Deysher, he of the dainty appetite, is starting his third sandwich, as Johnny Hartranft drops from exhaustion, trying to fill the insatiable appetites of the rugged clientele. The poor man's Rogers and Astaire, Meg Hendricks and Humbert Manzollilo, are sure to be cutting a rug, just as business man, Ira Custman, is seen to be transacting some big photography deals.

"Pop," our man about poker and potato chips, is usually out in the "Kitchen," brewing coffee or toasting sandwiches in his own inimitable style, while "Red" Seyfert, vice president in charge of coke fetching and dish washing, may be found over a hot bowl of Campbell's soup.

Pin Ball Tournament

Poor, bewildered Frosh chemistry students, can often be seen floundering around in a sea of equations and trying to find a formula. Doc Perfect sometimes tries his favorite combination, vanilla ice cream and tomato soup. Betty Fielitz may be found demonstrating her vocal ability across a pin ball machine, while the A. P. O.'s are in conference, discussing their next marble tournament.

Chamber Music

Perhaps some naive person will come in and ask, "Hey, Pop, got any weeds under the counter?" and the younger generation may come in and ask for gum, silly things. The big question is, "What will mllady have for her dinner music?" One's choice may include the Chamber Music Society of the Moser Memorial Concertina (Oh, all right, The Pied Pipers in the juke box), singing "Dreams," or Frank Sinatra, accompanied by the sighs of Eileen O'Neil, singing "I Couldn't Sleep a Wink Last Night."

It may not be the Ritz, but this collegiate Greenwich village is definitely the place to park your worries and have fun.

Lions In The Ranks

Dear fellow Albrightians:

What a week this past one was. All this social life—circus, bacteriology lab, Sadie Hawkins dance, etc., and a bacteriology test to study. I can hardly wait for this week-end when we again have the Y retreat. I always have a wonderful time. Remember?

I just heard from Polly Brossman, who heard from Millie Kuebsamen Snelbaker that DON BLACKMORE is in an officers training school in Paris. His graduation has been postponed for a month because he broke two ribs. I wonder how he did that?

Several Lions in the Ranks appeared on campus last week. It was certainly nice to see them again. Pvt. Frank (Red) Gable, who is stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo., really entered into the spirit of things by pitching for his old fraternity, Alpha Pi Omega, against the Zetas. Too bad the APO's didn't win. Red, Pvt. Kenneth Taylor, who goes back to Texas A&M, was also here.

Apprentice Seaman Dick Dexter, of the class of 1948, has just completed his boot training at Sampson, and now goes to Baltimore, Md., to become a pharmacist's mate. Also present on campus was 1st Lt. Thomas Leininger. Tom has just finished dental school at University of Pennsylvania, and will go to Carlisle Barracks for training.

PVT. GEORGE MANDERBACH 1st Bn. Hq. 382 Inf. APO 96 c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif. wrote to say that he has been getting his "ALBRIGHTIAN" regularity. He has been in the Pacific for nine months, he on Leyte after October 29, and is now at Okinawa. "Bouquets to Neal Harris on his fine basketball club." George should know a good game when he sees it—reads about it.

A letter came from LT. (J.G.) LLOYD L. WOLF USNR USS LST 11041 FPO, San Francisco, telling us that his life aboard ship is rather monotonous, and that he would rather teach history than make it.

We received word this week that FRANKLIN E. CAMPBELL JR. M.D. of the class of '29 has been discharged from the service and is now residing at East Wakefield, New Hampshire.

SGT. CHARLES R. LEHMAN 33 247 534, Div. Hw. (Ch. Sec.) 48th Inf. Div.; APO 80, c/o PM, New York, is now in Germany with General Patton's 3rd Army. He entered the Army on July 10, 1942.

W. K. Gabriel SKD 2; Disbursing Office; Submarine Base, Navy No. 128 c/o FPO, San Francisco, Calif., said that one time he called Walter Spenser, but was unable to contact him. Other than that time, he has not seen any Albrightian. He said, "Have been here on the Paradise of the Pacific for nearly a year and a half and in that time I have not been able to eat 'poi,' the native dish that they sing about. I have seen the Hula Girls, but must say that the artist who has been drawing those beautiful creatures for the travel folders must have been smoking a different brand of pipe tobacco. I sure was disillusioned, but then they had to get the tourists here some way or other. The basketball team this year sounded like the old days of Goose Oslislo and Red Woods."

ENSIGN FRANKLIN RITTER USS LST (S) 1220; c/o FPO, San Francisco, Calif., writes, "I nearly pulled a bone a couple days ago. We were cruising along when I saw a long, round, black object break 've water and I was about to yell, 'Sub off our port quarter—300 yards.' I looked again and saw a rising stream of water which saved me from the embarrassment of reporting a—whale."

PVT. JAMES ERVIN 33 992 540; Co. D, 11th Inf. Training Batn.; Camp Wheeler, Ga., tells us that he isn't having such a hard time of it because he isn't in such bad shape. (You aren't kidding). JIMMIE BRAUN is at the same camp. COOKIE WAGNER got sick at New Cumberland and wasn't able to go with them.

RALPH BOWERS is now a first lieutenant in Germany. He is thinking of transferring to Military Government.

We got a pretty post card from Nice, which was mailed by PFC. CALVIN LIEBERMAN 33 490 514; B69; 501st Para. Inf. (Medic.); APO 472, c/o PM, New York. He said that he was one of the first sixteen paratroopers of the first A. B. Div. to be sent to the Riviera for a combat leave.

NORMAN TELSEY S 1/c (CM); West Coast Sound School; Class 122 SE; San Diego, 47, Calif., likes the work at submarine school, where he will be for three more weeks. Then he goes "under the briny blue Pacific in one of Uncle Sam's brand new submarines." He sends his best wishes to the members of the Domino Club, Norman was Caganus in "The Warrior's Husband."

1st LIGUT. EDGAR C. CARPENTER 0-4295173; Co. C, 788 Amph. Tank Bn. APO 331 c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif., is now on Okinawa. Eddie and his Navy nurse wife were together in New Guinea for awhile. They were married last year when they were still in the States. It's not every day that you and your wife can go to New Guinea and have someone else pay for it. By the way, Ed, those girls aren't Mus, although they look like some of us. Thanks for the letter, though.

We had another letter from PVT. WILLIAM RANKIN saying that things were going fine down at Camp Wheeler. Now three of you from this year's frosh class are at the same camp. Hope you can get together often.

We received word from the Public Relations office of the Tenth Air Force at APO 216 that WILLIAM L. SMITH just has been promoted to a captaincy. He was at Albright '29-30 and '30-31, when he transferred to Temple. The article said that "Capt. Smith, dental officer of the "Terry and the Pirates" fighter Group, has been in the army 22 months, 11 in India-Burma."

ClubnitatesMembers, Officers At Meeting

International Relations Club held its final meeting of the season last Thursday evening at the home of Dr. Milton W. Hamilton, club advisor. Induction of new officers and members constituted the business part of the meeting. The officers are Bohdan Procko, president; Martha Fredericks, vice president; Mary Briner, secretary; and Kenneth Good, treasurer. The new members are Stephen Winter, Marian Latta, Betty Fredericks, Reed Fredericks, Shirley Sperans, Walter Hayum, Regina Jaglom, Miriam Parker, Virginia Hallacher, Geraldine Wentzel, Henrietta Morrison, Lucy Smith, John Kissinger, William Ebbert, Robert Ziegler, and Elaine Kyle.

Mary Briner reported on the book, "Peoples of Southeast Asia," by Bruno Lasker. "Ten Years in Japan," by Joseph C. Grew, was reported on by Joyce Moyer, retiring president of the club. After a discussion of the books, a period of refreshments and entertainment was held.

"BIG PEOPLE"

people ate dinner. After they finished, they all had to do the dishes. They had some of the boys washing them too. I don't think I'd like that when I grow up.

Then in the afternoon everyone packed up their bags again. But they did take time out to play ball with me. (I think I'd like to be a baseball player when I grow up.) I hope those people come back again because they're fun!

QUEEN MADDY

"Flowers." Miss Picking is in charge of flower arrangements for the throne, and the dancers will scatter a pathway of flowers for the Queen.

Queen Madeline will wear a white satin gown with the black and white velvet cape. Her court will be gowned in pale orchid and green, while the other senior women will wear pastel evening dresses and carry garlands of flowers. The May pole dancers will wear flowered skirts with white blouses, and the other dancers, short, green tunics.

Margaret Hendricks has assisted in planning the modern dances, and Rita Duncavage has arranged the May Pole dance to "Country Gardens." Hand-painted programs have been designed by Miss Picking, who has been assisted by many dorm end day women in decorating the programs as well as making artificial flowers for the throne. Judy Scheirer will be in charge of the ushers. Parents of senior women will have a reserved section in the bleachers.

Campus Carrousel

Socially Speaking:

It was swell to see Seaman Dick Dexter on campus. Since he entered the navy his hair has been long, not like in the good old Albright days. . . Sergio Cuevas has visited the draft board in Philadelphia and consented to play soldier for a little while. With him went Jerry Albright, and Jerry is packing his grip, too. . . Congratulations to Julia Hassler on her engagement to Flight Officer Kenny Youmans, who was a cadet here last year. Lots of luck, Julie.

Radio:

It's terrific, sensational—Tune in WRW on Monday evening, May 14, at 7:30. It's the new Albright show. A quarter hour of drama that is guaranteed to make you tune off the radio for years to come. . . P. S. (Somebody send some sedatives to Shirley Rekon. She'll appreciate it. . .

Drama:

Congratulations to Rita Duncavage for another swell war bond show. She has certainly made it something worth seeing. (P. S. It was the first show that's been given without financial backing.)

Press Comments:

Albrightians were to be completely stunned by the news of their commencement speaker. It was to be a scoop, given exclusively to this paper. . . The last issue featured the story, and the reward was that it was hailed as "old news" . . . Why?

APO ELECTS

Speeches were given by the outgoing president, Jack Teger, and future leaders, Mr. Good and Mr. Derr. An evening of dancing followed the banquet.

Ann deFarges, chairman of the Student Council Parents Day committee, has arranged a tea for the parents after the coronation festivities. A special registration booth will be set up for visiting parents. Because of government curtailment of travel, May Day week-end had to be limited to one day only.

The combined sororities, their escorts, and faculty guests will dance to the music of Jimmy Eaton's orchestra at the Berkshire Hotel from 8:45 to 11:45. Rita Duncavage, Mary Eschwei, Margaret Hendricks, Mary Jane Weber, and Mary Jane Weyer represent the Pats on the dance committee and the Mu members are Bertina Blauch, Jeanne Miller, Elaine Schwartz, and Christine Schweimler.

Dandy Lion invaded the Science Hall this week to track down four seniors for the object of his spotlight this week. Out he came with Helen Ancona, Aileen Schearer, Ruth Plowfield, and Allen Snyder.

Though all four of these catches are day-students, there is one among them who is a "foreigner," hailing from Mountain Lakes, N. J. This non-Pennsylvaniaian is Helen Ancona. No science student seems to have much time to throw himself into other activities, but somehow they always manage. Helen is no exception. A pre-nursing student, Helen is an active member of the Alchemists, treasurer of the Phi Beta Mu Sorority, a member of Domino, has written for "The Albrightian" and "Cue," played hockey for the seniors and belongs to the Women's Day Student Club.

Aileen Schearer holds the distinction of being the only student now on campus to have been elected to the American Chemical Society. In 1944, this pre-med student received the Kappa Upsilon Phi General Biology prize for outstanding work in that field. Aileen is president of the Alchemists and a member of the Day Women's Club. Her "third finger, left hand" sparkles with "Bud's" ring, and it won't be long after graduation until this lovely lady says, "I Do."

Upholding Albright's reputation in the debating field and heading the list of the Plowfield sisters is Ruth Plowfield. She is perpetually bubbling over with chatter, but when Ruth organizes and controls it, then turns it loose upon her opponents, she soon has them squirming. Ruth is majoring in biology, preparing for the field of laboratory technology. She is a member of both the Alchemists and Skull and Bones. Another strong interest is the I. R. C.

Allen Snyder is blushing a little in the midst of so many women, but, believe us, he can hold his own. The last in the spotlight is another pre-med. Allen is vice president of the senior class and a member of the Alchemists. With his high scholastic rating and pleasing personality, he will be a gem for the med school lucky enough to claim him next year.

Even foreigners visiting our shores for the first time respond to the friendliness in the phrase Have a Coke. There's the good old home-town American spirit behind it... the same as when you serve Coke at home. Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes, — has become a bond of sympathy between kindly-minded folks.

The lacing the Albright women's softball team suffered at the hands of Ursinus, Saturday, April 28, was not as hapless as the scorebooks would have us believe. In the first place it seems that because of a decision on the part of the umpire, stealing of bases was allowed, in spite of the fact that there was no backstop behind homeplate. As your reporter recalls there has always been a standing ground rule in softball that, if there is no stationary backstop, stealing nomet is absolutely prohibited. Those Albrightians who witnessed the contest will verify the fact that at least four Ursinus runs crossed the plate because the catcher failed to catch the ball and it went sailing up Palm Street or got lost in the brier bushes. The Albright Softies, being the home club, should have demanded strict adherence to the backstop rule.

In the second place the Albright girls were simply not ready for a team in the class of Ursinus. Throughout the fracas, ten errors were committed by Albright players, most of which gave the visitors unearned runs. Also the Collegeville team was composed primarily of physical education students who get college credit for participating in sports. The Ursinus lassies really want to play softball and they are masters in that sport.

There is one consoling factor about the women's initial softball smear and that is that they act that Captain Eschwei and her teammates realize why they lost the game and are attempting to remedy the cause.

The Albright Maids are determined that at the next game ground rules will definitely be set down by Coach Eva Mosser and her Albright team.

About Men

The men's Intramural League seems to be progressing as well as can be expected under prevailing circumstances. There is one sure thing and that is that the fellows are showing more interest this season than they have in other years. Last year it was really a job for a team manager to get 10 players on the diamond. This year it seems that the guys really want to play ball.

Baseball Banter

By JIM HEDGLIN

Glancing over some of the games of the last season that baseball was a part of Albright, we discovered that they had won 50 per cent of their games, which isn't bad; and this was one of Albright's poorer seasons. For instance, in 1909, their record was 13-5, while in 1913, it was an amazing 18-3. These records prove that Albright once had a real baseball team. In fact, Coach Harris will tell you that when he first became interested in sports as a boy, it was not basketball or football that Albright was noted for, but, strangely enough, baseball. He said that Albright had one of the better college baseball teams in the state, which is saying quite a bit.

There is one thing that startles us about past baseball at Albright. There are no real records of these successful teams anywhere. If these teams were as successful as history says, why did all the records disappear? The only way anything on baseball at Albright can be found is by contacting a city newspaper or trying to learn something from the few details of the season in the yearbooks. This is really too bad. We hope the records of our crack basketball teams of the Harris reign will not suffer the same fate. Also, we hope that if and when Albright again resumes the sport of baseball, the records will be kept in detail for future reference.

Sports A la Femme...

Preparations for May Day have been in full swing. The freshmen and sophomore women have been rehearsing their modern dances, the juniors have been tripping the light fantastic about the May Pole, and the seniors are learning their parts for the big day.

The athletic program, however, has not been slighted. The lassies will continue their inter-school competition after the May Day festivities. On May 15, our tennis team will face Cedar Crest on our courts. On May 17, the "Albright Athletics" are taking a trip to Drexel, in Philadelphia; there they will indulge in both tennis and softball competition. The Ursinus girls will be welcomed once again on our campus on Saturday, May 19. This time we meet the Collegeville girls in tennis.

Our super new courts will be receiving much use, and keen competition is in store.

More games will be placed on the schedule soon; plans for them are still indefinite.

Alchemists To Picnic For Election Meeting

The annual picnic of the Alchemists' Club will take place tomorrow evening at Bernhardt's Dam. All members will start from the college at 6 p. m. Officers for the coming year will be elected at the business meeting.

All freshman chemistry majors are cordially invited to attend the picnic.

Softball Schedule

Coach Neal O. Harris and Robert Deach, Interfrat Council president, jointly announced the following softball schedule for remaining part of the season:

Tuesday, May 8—A. P. O. vs. Pi Tau.

Wednesday, May 9—Zeta vs. Pi Tau.

Tuesday, May 15—A. P. O. vs. Pi Tau.

Harris and Deach also revealed that on Wednesday, May 16, the teams which are in first and second place in the Interfrat League standings will battle for the Interfraternity Championship. The Fraternity representatives on the Interfraternity council are as follows: Zeta's, Jim Pottieger; Pi Tau's, Bob Deach, and A. P. O.'s, Bill Harting.

Zetas Take Third; A. P. O.'s Use Gable

Standings in the Intramural Softball League as of May 4

	W.	L.	Pct.
Zetas	3	0	1.000
Pi Taus	0	1	.000
A. P. O.'s	0	2	.000

The powerful Zeta softball team won its third straight league game Wednesday evening when they defeated the A. P. O.'s for the second consecutive time to the tune of 7-1. There was never any doubt as to the victor after the first inning when the winners garnered four runs via five walks by "Red" Gable and only two hits by Wert and J. Pottieger. The A. P. O. hurlers both had trouble in finding the plate and before they were through they had walked ten men.

When Gable began to find the range in the second frame, he was met by the big bats of the Zeta powerhouse, Wert and D. Pottieger singled, and after C. Russ fled out, "Jimmy" Pottieger came through with his second hit, a smashing double to center field, scoring the two men ahead of him. Saylor scored J. Pottieger with a single, and, after Schneider walked, Buxton ended the rally by flying to left. The Zetas got their final run in the following inning on three walks and a single by C. Russ.

Forrest Saylor had little trouble with the A. P. O. batters as he walked three and struck out three. Taking it easy behind a comfortable 7-0 lead, he gave up the only run in the third. After Huber and Harting got on base via a walk and error respectively, "Red" Gable came through with a double, scoring Huber from second. When Harting was nipped at the plate trying to score on Gable's double, Saylor settled down and retired the next two batters in order. He now has credit for all three league victories of the Zetas.

Side Lions
Franklin (Red) Gable, current campus visitor, got into the swing of things on Wednesday, May 2, when he pitched softball for his old frat team, the A. P. O.'s. Even though his team lost the contest, Gable pitched a good game. Incidentally "Red" was on the great basketball team of one year ago.

Franklin (Red) Seifert, current basketball star, took his final Army physical the other day. Frank passed for limited service. The question is now, will he or won't he have to go?

There will be two big sports attractions in Reading on Sunday, May 13. Craig Wood and Sam Snead, two national golf celebrities, will do an exhibition round at the Berkshire Country Club on this day, while in another part of the city at George Field, Jim Rafferty, eminent American middle distance runner, will run an exhibition mile at the Pennsylvania State Catholic Meet. Rafferty on three occasions defeated the world's greatest miler, Gunder Haegg, the Swedish flash who currently ran at the Penn Relays.
