NUMBER THIRTEEN

DR. J. W. KLEIN NAMED ALBRIGHT PRESIDENT

Fifteen Seniors on the Free Cut List

Dean Announces the Honor List; Twenty Per Cent Increase In Number

The senior honor group for the first semester of this academic year has been announced by Dean George W. Walton. There are fifteen seniors on this list, showing an increase of 20 per cent over the preceding semester. These students are entitled to unlimited cuts in all classes under the new free cut system recently inaugurated at Albright.

The seniors on the list are: Eugene Allyn, Elizabeth Althouse, Miriam Becker, Adam Bernabeo, Russel Bohner, Helen Buck, William Bush, Jerome Diehl, Ida Giaino, Mary Knerr, Helen Kummerer, Harry Miller, Mildred Reber, Rudolph Shook, Reba Topper.

Six of these students are on the list for the first time. In order to qualify for this senior group, the grade for the previous semester must be higher than B plus.

SKULL AND BONES GIVES PICTURES; WEIGLE, DAUB, READ PAPERS ON PASTEUR

On Monday evening, February 13, the Skull and Bones Society of Albright College held its regular meeting in the lecture hall of the science building. An interesting program was offered which included the life of Pasteur, Ralph Weigle speaking on the earlier part of his life, and Arthur Daub on the latter years of his life.

At the meeting Mark Matz, president of the Society presented to the college a picture of Dr. Edward Jenner administering the first small-pox vaccination. This picture, presented by the Skull and Bones Society was received by the President of the College, Dr. Klein. Following this, Adam Bernabeo, in behalf of the Physiology class of the College presented a picture of Graham Lusk. This picture was also accepted by Dr. Klein, in the name of the college.

We are sure the students, as well as the faculty of the College appreciate these gifts of the Biology Department of Albright College and will endeavor to show their gratitude to all those who made these presentations possible.

WEDNESDAY Y. W. SERVICE - CONDUCTED BY SENIORS

The Y. W. C. A. meeting on Wednesday evening was in charge of the senior girls. The meeting was opened with a Call to Worship conducted by Cynthia Wallace. The Scripture Lesson was read by Mary Ellen Venus and Mary Bowman led in prayer. Edith Smith read several appropriate poems throughout the program, and Cynthia Wallace sang a solo. An original Y. W. cong. composed by Irene Fray and Edith Smith, was sung by Cynthia Wallace, Edith Smith and Irene Fray.

A short Cabinet meeting was held before the regular meeting with the president, Irene Fray, in charge. The redecoration of the "Y" room was discussed and it was decided to hand over the work to the class in Interior Decorating under Mrs. Currier. It was also decided to have a Valentine Party on St. Valentine's Day. Miss Innis was the faculty adviser present.

Theology Seniors Visit New York

Class Is Accompanied By Prof. Albright; Sees Many Places of Interest

The Senior Class of the Evangelical School of Theology made a week-end trip to New York City in order to visit the places of interest. The Class accompanied by Professor Albright was entertained at the Biblical Seminary of New York from February 3rd to the 6th.

Among the most interesting places were some of the most famous churches in America, such as the Riverside Church, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, St. Bartholomew's Church and St. Patrick's Cathedral. The greatest courtesy was shown to the men by the New York Times which provided a guide for a special tour of inspection.

By the time these weary feet had trudged up and down New York City streets, climbing towers, fleeing through museums, passing through university halls there were many heavy eye-lids. Despite the strenuous day, all were thoroughly appreciative of the opportunity to listen to the opera "Romeo and Juliet."

Scarcely could this trip be completed without seeing the Statue of Liberty and visiting the famed china-town section of this city. Since the Leviathan was in docks during the visit, some were fortunate enough to be conducted through the giant vessel.

The trip was brought to a climax with worshipping at the Riverside church and listening to the exceptional challenging and spiritual message of Dr. Fosdick. Short as the visit was, it has given a very added interest to those who had the privilege of this experience.

McNAUGHTON TO READ PAPER TO SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club held a business meeting Thursday afternoon in the Physics lecture room with co-president Allyn in charge. Matters relating to membership, dues, constitution, and plans for future meetings were discussed. The society will hold bi-monthly meetings the first and third Thursday of each month, meeting in the afternoon hour until the conclusion of the inter-fraternity basketball league, then meeting at an evening hour.

The Club will hold its next meeting Thursday afternoon at 4:30 in the Physics lecture room. Roy McNaughton will present a paper on "Michelson's Interferometer" and various members of the club will give short bits of scientific interest.

PROF. TAYLOR ADDRESSES WED. CHAPEL GROUP

Prof. George Taylor, faculty member of University of Pennsylvania, and former head of the Business Administration department of Albright College, returned to the campus last Wednesday morning to address the student body during the chapel hour.

Prof. Taylor centered his remarks on the present economical crisis and, while not offering a solution, noted several things which will have to be accomplished of necessity, in the near future. Prof. Taylor also addressed the Kiwanis Club at a dinner meeting on Wednesday.

FRESHMEN EDITION
The next issue of THE ALBRIGHTIAN, appearing on February 22, will be a product of the Freshmen Class. All work for this number of the school paper will be handled by Freshmen.

The staff will be under the direction of James Doyle, recently selected Freshman Editor, with Claude Felty has Associate Editor. Doyle has a staff of approximately twenty freshmen and a fine Fresh Edition is anticipated.

The editor takes this opportunity to thank contributors to THE ALBRIGHTIAN. Mutual benefit is derived from these contributions and we solicit them. Make the paper your paper.

IRENE FRAY TALKS AT C. E. MEETING; Y. W. IN CHARGE

The Y. W. C. A. took charge of the Christian Endeavor service at Christ Evangelical Church on Sunday evening. The program was built up around the theme "When is Friendship Christian?" Mary Ellen Venus presided and read the Scripture. Two poems, "The Inn" and "Abou Ben Adhem," were read by Jean Rosencranse. A trio, composed of Sarah Hoffman, Jr., Margaret Wittmann, and Dorcas Haines, accompanied by Harriet Venus rendered a vocal selection.

Irene Fray discussed the topic of the evening. She spoke of the reasons for friendship and what we can expect in a Christian friendship. She stressed character, dependability, Christ-like and altruistic attitude, and help and help faith in time of adversity. We should choose friends who bring out the best in us and do the same for them. She closed her talk with a poem entitled "A Friend."

MISS WINSTON EXPLAINS LUTHERAN CONFERENCE

The Albright College Lutheran Club held a special Meeting Friday, February 10th at which time Miss Mildred Winston, National Secretary of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church in America was the guest speaker. Her main emphasis was placed upon current problems with their relationship to the church. "Furthermore, if we, as students are to realize our full worth, we must first come to a thorough realization that religion is basic in man's development." With this in mind she spoke concerning the North Atlantic Lutheran Students Conference to be held at Susquehanna University, February 17, 18, 19, the theme of which is in accordance with the discussion, "Realizing My Religion." The paths that will be discussed as means by which we can realize our religion are:

1. Experiencing its value.
2. Expressing it in the church and in daily life.
- (a) Understanding the church and sharing its activities.
- (b) Living out Christ's Teachings in Life and Society.
- (c) Realizing My Religion in Holy Communion.

The registration fee for the conference is $3.00 and it is earnestly hoped that some of Albright's students will be present to think with Dr. W. C. Schaefer through practical, personal and social problems from a Christian point of view.

DR. GRETH SPEAKS TO BERKS COUNTY FARMERS

Dr. Morris Greth, Professor of Philosophy and Sociology at Albright, delivered an address on "The Outlook for Rural Life—Social and Economic," Saturday at the Y. M. C. A. to the nineteenth annual convention of the Berks County Agricultural Extension Association.

In the course of his interesting lecture, Dr. Greth, stated that recovery from present conditions lies in farm life and said "We will never get out of the depression as long as the farmers are not better satisfied with farm life and the returns of their investments and labors."

Dr. Greth also spoke of the development of an inferiority complex in the farm home due to the widespread belief of the extreme superiority of city life. The farmers were forgotten and farming became less profitable until the crisis was reached and the crash came. He then stated that, "We have to learn that farming is not only an occupation employing 30,000,000 people, not a mere economic enterprise, not a dritt toward peasantry, but a mode of life."

Dr. Greth concluded his address with a plea for elevating living standards of the farmer. The most hopeful sign for the future of rural life, according to the speaker, is the present tendency toward co-operation among rural dwellers in bringing to country sections the recreational, school and educational values inherent to home life.

VALENTINE PARTY GIVEN BY Y. W. WEDNES. EVENING

On Tuesday evening the Lower Social Room of Selwyn Hall was the scene of a Valentine Party held by the Y. W. C. A. The color scheme of red and white was carried out in the decorations and refreshments. All the girls were invited and games were played with prizes for the winners. Refreshments appropriate for St. Valentine's Day were served in an attractive manner.

The committees in charge of the party were: entertainment; Dorcas Haines, chairman, Mary Bowman, and Mary Whitehead; refreshments; Margaret Wittmann, chairman, Jean Goodling, and Dorothy Brillhart.

SMITH, HAMILTON SPEAK TO UNEMPLOYED CLASSES

Professor Smith addressed the Unemployed Class on Monday afternoon in the Science Lecture Hall. "The Trend of Present Day Politics" was his topic. About sixty students were present.

This afternoon's lecture was on "Mexico" and was given with illustrations by Professor Hamilton.

Aside from attending the lecture courses, about fifty of the unemployed have enrolled in the regular classes at Albright.

On Monday, Professor Hamilton will again speak. "The League of Nations" will be the theme of his address.

On Thursday, February 9, at the morning session of the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of Albright College, Dr. J. Warren Klein was unanimously elected as president of the school. Dr. Klein's many years of service at Albright make him eminently fitted for this position.

In 1872 Dr. Klein was born in the City of Reading. He graduated from Reading High School and studied at Willamette College in Salem, Oregon. In 1891, after completing his studies in Evangelical doctrine he became a licensed minister of the Evangelical Church and served many congregations in the East Pennsylvania Conference.

DR. J. WARREN KLEIN

Dr. Klein was associated for many years with the late Dr. W. F. Teel in the conduct of Schuylkill Seminary, and later at Albright College. Since the death of Dr. Teel he has served as acting president of the college.

There was a full representation of trustees at the meeting. Dr. Klein was the presiding officer until the time for the selection of a president when he retired in favor of Rev. Dr. H. Franklin Schlegel, Perkasie, secretary of the board.

During the afternoon session of the trustee board Bishop S. C. Breyfogel asked to be relieved of the presidency of the board. Judge Frederick A. Marx was unanimously elected to succeed Bishop Breyfogel. Judge Marx has already done much for the welfare of Albright College. Bishop Breyfogel was named president emeritus and will retain his position as head of the school of theology.

SUNDAY EVENING VESPERS IN CHARGE OF FACULTY

Sunday Evening Vespers were in charge of the Faculty of Albright College. The service was opened by the singing of hymns led by Dr. Cook. The Scripture Lesson, taken from Paul's Epistle to the Philippians 2:1-8, was read by Prof. Hamilton, followed by prayer by Dr. Greth.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Gingrich who spoke on the recent Y. M. C. A. Conference at Buck Hill Falls. He stated that the purpose of the Conference was to present different points of view on "The Christian Student in a Machine Age" and let each one reach his own conclusions.

STUDENT RADICALISM

College students as a class frequently are criticized because of seemingly radical tendencies. Colleges have usually been the originators of much of the new thinking which each age produces and any body of humans who dare to step out into unexplored mental fields are usually termed radicals. The gap between the progressive and conservative groups of men will always be with us and the present position of the college student among the so-called "free thinkers" is the more favorable to our opinion.

Student radicalism can be justified to a certain extent, although it is not our purpose to do so at this time. The college student has an excellent opportunity throughout his college days to learn the real truths of this life, through his studies of Science, Ethics, Psychology, Philosophy and other knowledge relating to man and his activity. The college student is perhaps the best qualified to view present conditions in their true light, and the thinking student can be expected to make departures from common opinion and thought and to likewise depart from the standards by which men ordinarily live. Elderly thought is naturally colored with experiences, public opinion and selfishness, consequently it contrasts sharply with student thinking. The recent past has produced numerous departures, on the part of students, in the ethical and religious fields and these thought changes have spread lately to the other fields of government, economics, personal morals, world affairs, politics and others. Past history makes the world look with favor upon present day student radicalism.

Certain definite facts govern student radicalism. Radicalism must not be made the end in itself. The desire to be "collegiate" and plunge recklessly into many unconventional activities is a pitiful example of student radicalism as an end in itself. It is a fundamental principle that the thinking man accepts the traditional premises and resorts to radicalism only when the conventional presents no honest release for his mind.

The present day radical must also be ready to pay for the privilege of being one and to do so willingly. History shows that humanity has not been and, is not now, kind to radicals in thought or action. In former times men were speedily killed for supporting new thoughts in religion, science, etc. This generation allows more freedom for protest against the traditional but there are still limitations. Real thought is costly and the idealist must expect harsh opposition. He will be misunderstood, his rewards will be few, defeats will come, sacrifices must be made and friendships lost. It is always easier to live in accord with convention than to live creatively. The great progressive movements in civilization always came when individual leaders were willing to give their lives in support of their ideals which were not as yet an accepted part of human practice.

The radical must also possess more intelligence and a deeper knowledge of conditions and facts. The person who lives in accord with the "status quo" can exist with a meager amount of knowledge or thought. The trial blazer must understand the facts thoroughly recognize weaknesses and then establish premises which cannot depend on experience and past performances. Radicalism must be in itself new and the non-conventional thinker cannot exhaust his ability to discover new knowledge and cannot base his position on practical successful experience. Radicalism without knowledge has always widened the gap between liberals and conservatives. True understanding is the only basis for radicalism.

All this has its local application. Are there any new thoughts created at Albright within the student body or is our student body merely a group which accepts the thoughts and dictates of our elders? How many thinking students have we at Albright? Is individual thinking encouraged or respected? Personally, have you a deep understanding of human beings and a basic philosophy of life which would permit constructive, unconventional or even radical thought and action? Are you capable of thinking for yourself or are you guided by tradition? Every college should exert a force in creative thought and as students, ours is the responsibility to place Albright in the front ranks.

LITERARY

Lives and Letters

(Rudolf Shook, '33)

I feel called upon to view with alarm the recent conduct of Fraulein Marlene Dietrich and, not for the first time, Miss Dietrich herself. The impetus for this tirade was given me by an advertisement which I chanced upon in the Philadelphia Ledger, showing a young lady half a column high and an inch wide in pants, bearing the glad news: "Marlene Dietrich wore it. Gimbels is first to show it. The Tuxedo Suit." This is all the more distressing since Philadelphia despite the people who disapprove of it, is the only place within striking distance where one may see more than two or three well-dressed women at a time. If they start going about in (my pain forces me to be brutal) pants, their men-folk must needs stay at home and take up tating. First they had to go and get intellectual, and stop wearing rouge, and start wearing dresses like two towels sewed together at the sides, then they showed signs of recovery by coming out in the best-looking clothes in years, but with the old gen still pushing out their shoulders. Now they show signs of total collapse because, I see by the papers, not only are pants in style, but spats.

And all this because a pair of internationally revered legs were so ill-advised, and, more particularly, so publicity-starved as to cover themselves up in pants (I insist upon the word). Miss Dietrich, naturally, is well aware that she is the only woman, probably, in the world who can look fetching in pants, and perforce she leads her unwary sisters on to a comparison even more distressing than usual.

Her alibi, of course, is nothing short of ridiculous. She claims that women's clothes are too expensive, appearing simultaneously in evening clothes, which must have been the envy of half the men in Hollywood. She means, I suppose, that with men's clothes she can wear the same outfit all the time. It's a pity we don't all go together and buy her a couple of boas, and other transforming touches. Besides what does she do with her money (sinking now to mere investive). I think a few more scandals would be more entertaining, or perhaps getting fired by the studio, or having her hair threatened by kidnapers.

To finish her off, I wish she'd go home. I still lay awake sobbing at night for my lost discretion and, more particularly, my last fifty cents, since I saw Blonde Venus. Even at ~~that~~ I fared well since her singing gave one of my friends a headache which lasted a week. She never could act, now her poses are trite, and her pictures funny-looking. To top it off, she makes the one fatal blunder, and starts to wear pants.

DR. WILLARD E. UPHAUS OF YALE TO SPEAK HERE

On Monday, February 20, the students of Albright College will have the pleasure of hearing Prof. Willard E. Uphaus who is coming to us from Yale University. He is being brought here by the Y. M. C. A. and under the auspices of "The National Religion and Labor Foundation." During his visit to our campus he will address the chapel assembly and will also appear in various classes.

Fraternities and Sororities at the U. of Minnesota contributed approximately $1,500 to the Minneapolis Community Chest.

ANSWER

You want to know
Why I am like this?
Well—I can tell you.

You would not want to see
The wind, harnessed in a tall glass cage,
Swirling a few leaves
Forever in a maelstrom.
Nor would you like the sea to rage
In a tiny space picked out by you or me—
Losing its tangy smell and liquid gleam.
A bed of violets—amethyst and green,
In a cool sweet place among trees
Cannot be equalled by long-stemmed
"Floriat" roses
In a pewter vase.
What would the spring fragrance be worth
It sold like Coty's "Styx"?

Now—
Can you see?

I am this way
Because, to be ME,
Anything else is artificial—
I must be real—and free!

THIS MONTH AT ALBRIGHT

FEBRUARY IN 1923

The Alumni, State Forestry, and Moravian were defeated by Albright's fast-passing basketeers.

"Coach" Kelchner delivered "Game of Life" before the Y. M. and Y. W. He displayed his usual pep and enthusiasm.

The combined Glee Clubs presented a grand piano to the College.

Albright defeated the strong Villanova team by a score of 39 to 35.

FEBRUARY IN 1925

Albright defeated the University of Maryland 28-18.

Lebanon Valley and Albright Colleges met in a retreat for the purpose of discussing campus problems.

The Albright boys defeated Swarthmore 26-22 but lost to Temple 27-15.

The Albright girls lost to Wyoming and Uraia, 30-26, 35-7.

FEBRUARY IN 1926

The basketeers lost to the Bucknell five by a score of 43-24. Gunther was the center throughout the game.

MINNICH SPEAKS TO BIBLE CLASS; LISTS SPEAKERS

Bible Class was again held Sunday morning at 9:00 o'clock. The service was in charge of Vice President, Ralph Weigle. The song service was led by Lloyd Helt, after which Ralph Mickle led in prayer. The Scripture Lesson, taken from St. Marks 4:1-20, was read by Robert Boyer.

The speaker for the morning was Edwin Minnich, President of the Bible Class, who gave a very interesting talk on "the parable of the sower." Emphasis was placed upon the four types of hearers to which Jesus spoke. These hearers, as Mr. Minnich pointed out, were the unresponsive, the irrationally, the preoccupied, and the doers. Everyone is requested to make a special effort to attend the Bible Class on Feb. 19 to hear Dr. Heck, and also on Feb. 26 at which time Rev. S. A. Stiler of Sunbury will be the speaker.

Some colleges are said to be inaugurating fire-fighting classes for those who are willing to start at the bottom of the ladder and work up.

THEOLOGY STUDENTS FORM SUSTAINING SYSTEM; WILL DISCUSS ECONOMIC ILLS

A group of seminary students, who are interested in the alleviation of the present economic situation, have met several times with Roger Kratz to discuss possible ways in which a more equitable opportunity might be given to the unemployed person who is seeking work rather than charity.

Those interested organized in a society called the Sustaining System Associates. These are their principles and program: We believe that every able-bodied and willing person is entitled to regular employment with income sufficient to support self and dependents in comfort and with as high a standard of living as his production will warrant.

"When in any community industry as now organized fails to provide such regular employment to all able-bodied and willing persons, with income sufficient for comfortable support of self and dependents.

Sustaining System should give such persons employment, have them produce, Cooperatively and Collectively, the goods they need for comfortable support of self and dependents. These goods include food, clothing, housing and furnishing, fuel, and such other things as are desired and can be produced."

There will be an open meeting held about the middle of March, at which time there will be an address and an open forum. All students interested are cordially welcome. Further announcements will be made concerning this meeting.

MAGAZINE VOLS. WANTED BY COLLEGE LIBRARY

There is a valuable collection of magazines in our college library, but it can be improved, and the thought has occurred that the students and alumni could assist in adding to this collection without special cost of money to anyone. Quite a number of volumes are wanting in our collection. In some instances students or alumni may have them in their homes, or may know of families that do have them and might present them to the library or sell them for a price that the college can pay. The time for annual house cleaning will soon be here, estates are being settled from time to time, and frequently such books are disposed of without regard to any special use they may serve.

We have made a list of volumes needed to complete the files of the more important literary magazines in our library. We shall be glad to be informed (postal card or phone will do) of any of these volumes bound or unbound, that the library might obtain. We request that none be sent to the library before consulting the librarian.

The following is a partial list of magazines desired:

Atlantic Monthly, vols. 2, 4, 6, 9 to 13 inclusive 17 to 62, 65 to 90.
Century, vols. 1 to 7, 27 to 28, 42 to 46, 77 to 92, 96 to 98, 101 to 103.
Note: From vol. 1 to 46 the reference is to New Series, beginning October, 1881. From vol. 77 on there is only one series.

Forum, vols. 1 to 6, 33. (Only seven volumes needed to complete the files of this magazine.)

Harpers Magazine, vols. 8 to 77, and 87 to 130.

North American Review, vols. 1 to 150, 152 to 156, and 198.

Scribners, vol. 1 to 4, 14 to 32, and 51.

World's Work, vols. 1 to 8, 18, and 44.

Yale Review, New Series beginning October, 1911. No. 1 of vol. 1, and No. 3 of Vol. 2. These two numbers only are needed to complete this valuable magazine. None of this volume have been bound. The publishers can not supply the numbers wanted.

Almost any number of the Bookman, The Golden Book, or The Reader's Digest will be acceptable.

SPORTLIGHTS

John Fay

Albright certainly had a disastrous week on the court. Losing two winning one isn't much to write home to the folks about. Although I didn't see the F. & M. game it is hard for me to conceive that F. & M. is twelve points better than the Lions. Villanova gave us the worst shellacking an Albright team has seen in years. Muhlenberg even with Bill Horine, cannot be rated on the game they turned in Saturday against the Lions. They are in sixth place in the League and have beaten only Lebanon Valley and Drexel.

We are wondering whether Albright is a good home team and a poor traveling team. So far this year they have won all the home games. Last year it was practically the same story. Do the boys really need the pep that the students give them to win games? It sure is a big incentive to have someone cheering you on to victory but a real good team will come through in the pinches without this. We want to see the Lions romp home in first place in the Eastern Penn League but they cannot do this unless they start to win their travelling games.

Too much basketball in one week is the only reason I can see for the game that was played on Saturday night. Albright was sloppy most of the time and Muhlenberg was going great guns spurred on by Bill Horine. Johnny Fromm came back in real style in his first game on the home floor in a long while. He chalked up seven points and played a bang up defensive game. Oslalo was high scorer for the Albright and he was all over the floor, taking the ball off the backboard plenty. Shippe and DeFranco each had nine points. Pete Slack was in action for a short time and he looked better Saturday night than he has ever looked before.

At this present writing there are two boys that I can hardly conceive not being picked on the All-League Team and that is our own Oslalo and Bill Horine of Muhlenberg. Both of these boys are guards and rank undoubtedly with the best in collegiate circles. I am told that Jacobs of F. & M. is a smart player and a deadly shot and from the score sheets it looks like he rates a place on that team at the present time. Lodge of Ursinus is among the high scorers and has a chance of leading the league.

The basketball fever is running high at the present time but it would be a good thing if the students would get out in real style at the Y on Friday night and support our swimming team. These boys are struggling along and giving Albright her first swimming team. They have no paid coach and pay their own transportation to the Y each day for practice. What ya say gang let's be down there Friday night and give the boys a big hand. Student ticket will take you in.

Saturday night we meet that Big Blue team from Ansville. Last year we lost two games two them but this year with Light and Heller among the missing it looks like we will give them a first class beating. But don't forget that Lebanon Valley is always in the game until the last whistle blows—and especially against Albright.

League standing:

LIONS TRIM MUHLENBERG, 44-38; LOSE TO F. AND M., VILLANOVA

Lions In Slump As They Suffer Two Decisive Defeats and Play Loosely Against Mules; DeFranco, Oslalo and Shippe Lead Point-Getters.

Albright 44 — Mules 38

Albright's basketball quintet registered their first triumph of the week by winning an uphill battle against the Muhlenberg sixth place team by a score of 44-38. In a drab contest marked by frequent wild shots and fumbles, the Lions were able to keep their slate of home victories unscathed only by putting on an intensive last period rally against a fair Mule five.

Captain Bill Horine of Muhlenberg, led his team to a lead of 16-13 at half-time with the aid of Nixon and Rosenberg. The Lions seemed to be exhausted in the first half from their efforts against Villanova, and Franklin and Marshall, the Muhlenberg tiff being their third in four nights. During the fourth quarter, however, Albright's much vaunted offensive began to click, and with Shippe, Oslalo, and DeFranco bombarding the hoops, the Red and White swept ahead in the final eight minutes to breeze to victory.

F. and M. 42—Albright 30

In high hopes of taking the lead in the Central Pennsylvania Collegiate League, the Albright five travelled to Lancaster on Wednesday to do battle with the champion Franklin and Marshall quintet, but took a bad beating while slipping to fourth position, Jacobs, Friedensberg and Brubaker piled up 33 points among them as Albright went down by a 42 to 30 count. Albright was never in the lead after the first five minutes of play. Radio DeFranco was the Lions' offensive ace, garnering four field goals and a foul for a total of nine points.

Has Japan violated the "Pact of Paris?" Was her action an act of self-defense? Is the Hoover-Stimson document a good doctrine? What should China do? Who created Manchuko? What government does the Lytton Commission recommend?

Can you answer these questions and all those many more questions which arise when we consider the Manchurian issue?

Then why not come around Thursday, February 16, 8.00 o'clock in Selwyn Hall, to the International Relations Club?

Members are especially urged to come—a pleasant surprise in the offing.

Villanova 44 — Lions 27

Albright College met the best competition of their present season, when they journeyed to Philadelphia, on Friday evening and lost a 44 to 27 decision to Villanova, the team which broke St. John's winning streak of twelve victories and has defeated some of the best basketball fives in the East.

Although the Red and White was leading, 16 to 15, in the second quarter, the Main line boys proved their class by taking the lead at half-time, 22-17, and coasted to a 44-27 triumph.

Radio DeFranco and Goose Oslalo took the scoring honors for Albright, each chalking up three double-deckers and two free shots for eight point totals.

Art Lynch and Jim Travers, Villanova's ace forwards, registered five and four field goals respectively, with Lynch adding four fouls to take offensive laurels for the night with a total of fourteen points.

FROSH CAGERS WIN TWO VICTORIES; DOWN LANSFORD AND OLIVET AJAX

The Albright College "Frosh" added two more games to their credit over last week-end when they defeated Lansford High and the Olivet Ajax.

The first of these two games was played at Lansford. This game was a very listless one almost from start to finish. Especially in the first half was the play slow. In this half the Freshmen scored only thirteen points while Lansford had to be content with seven. For the "Frosh" Ross and Schlegel divided the first half points between themselves. Schlegel getting seven, and Ross collecting six.

The second half was little better, although Lansford did stage something of a rally. Albright scored fifteen points in this stanza while Lansford scored eighteen bringing the final score to 28-25.

The last game that the "Frosh" have played was a preliminary to the Albright-Muhlenberg contest. The Olivet Ajax proved to be the seventh victim of the year. Much and frequent scoring made the game a very interesting one to witness. Although the score was high at the end of the first half, during this period neither team had a decided advantage. At the half-time intermission the teams were deadlocked with a 22-22 score.

During the following half the scoring became more frequent. Field goals were tossed from all angles with deadly accuracy. Ross playing his third game after a five game lay-off, accounted for twenty-three of his team-mates' points. Woods added fourteen, as Schlegel collected five. Wagner was outstanding for the Ajax' with fifteen counters. Haage got nine.

The final whistle ended the game when the score stood at 55-47 a grand total of 102 points for the game.

NATATORS TO MEET YORK Y. M. C. A. FRIDAY EVENING

On Friday, February 17, at 8:00 P. M. the Albright Swimming Team will have its first home meet when it entertains the sterling York "Y" aggregation at the local Y. M. C. A.

Last month the Lion mermen journeyed to York to take a decision defeat at the hands of the York counts, who have, as has been proven, one of the best Y. M. C. A. teams in this part of the state. Thus, the lovers of this indoor past time can be assured of an enjoyable evening of aquatic sport.

In spite of their first overwhelming victory, the tobacco-growers, Coach Morris, states, will have a difficult time in duplicating their victory of last month.

On February 25, our aquarians travel to University of Pennsylvania to "take-on" the "Frosh" of that institution. This meet will take place in the Hutchison Gymnasium Poll at 2:00 P. M.

For the coming meet with York "Y," students will be admitted free, on showing their student ticket. For the outsiders and non-students, the assessment will be 25c. Tickets can be gotten on the campus.

CAGETTES UNDEFEATED; WIN THREE LEAGUE GAMES

The Albright Girls' Basketball Team took their third league victory from the Blue-Jay Sextette by the top-heavy score of 64-2. The Red and White girls completely outplayed the Jays, and it was not until the last few minutes of play that the Blue-Jays tallied their lone field goal.

Peggy Whitman led the Albright opposition, well supported by Marjy Beglinger and Betty Godberg.

In previous games the Albright sextette has remained undefeated, gaining victories over the Y-Dub six, 24-18 and the Tyson-Schoener six, 30-15.

Our girls' team, coached by Miss Ane Kulp, is a member of the Basketball League for Girls, sponsored by the Recreation Department of Reading.

The following girls are members of the squad:

Peg Whitman, Marjorie Beglinger, Betty Goldberg, Ruth Hicks, Agnes Bittle, Ethel Sprinkle, Lillian Slater, Mary Ellen Venus, Ruth Turner and Helen Yohn.

The girls who are playing will appreciate your support, so turn out Friday evening, and encourage them on to an undefeated season. The games are played on Friday evenings at the Northeast Junior High School. All are welcome to come. Come on, cheer for your girls!

... THE COLLEGE MEN'S TELEPHONE HOUR!

HERE'S a college tradition that's one of the best... "Half past eight is the time to telephone home!" It's not in the Freshman handbook; it's not in the Rules. But here's the reason for its popularity:

At 8:30 P. M. low Night Rates go into effect on Station to Station calls. These are calls for a telephone (like a local call) and NOT for a specific person.

Take advantage of the saving—just give the operator your home telephone number. The folks are probably at home at 8:30 P. M. But best of all, and to make doubly sure, keep a regular date to telephone home each week. Then you can always make use of the inexpensive Station to Station service.

COLLEGIANA

The Cedar Crest Crestiad recently came forth with an "Essay on Men" which included the following observations: "Men are what women marry and have two feet, two hands, and sometimes two wives, but never more than one collar or one idea at a time" and "It is a psychological marvel that a soft, tender, violet-scented thing like a woman should enjoy kissing a big, awkward, stubby-chinned, tobacco and bayrum-scented thing like a man."

The Dickinsonian enjoys this burst of feminine vanity and offers a parallel view: "But as for psychological marvels what about the kick a robust self-reliant responsible clear-eyed, clean young man sometimes derives from embracing a frail, fickle, lipstick-smearing, rouge-bemirched, powdered, 5 and 10 perfumed specimen of womanhood."

At the University of Utah there is one freshman who has escaped hazing—he's a seventy-five year old undergraduate.

At Wellesley College there are five students of German so intent on studying the language that they call their dormitory division "German Corridor," decorate their rooms with German maps and pictures, and speak to each other in German.

Students at Iowa University spent four million dollars in 1930-31.

A recent pipe-smoking fad has spread to the co-eds at Northwestern University. It started after the girls won the right to smoke in sorority houses and has become so widespread that the stocks of tobacco merchants suddenly came depleted.

A five-year man once said that if all students who slept in class were placed end to end they would be more comfortable.

WHAT IS A KISS?

What is the grammatical construction of a kiss?

A kiss is a pronoun because she stands for it.

It is masculine and feminine therefore common.

It is plural because one calls for another.

It is singular because there is nothing else like it.

Usually it is in apposition with a caress; at any rate it is sure to follow.

It can be conjugated but never defined.

However, it is not an adverb, because it cannot be compared, but it is a phrase expressing feeling.

A co-ed at Marshall College is going to get her baths free this year because the Home Nursing department needs some girl to be practiced on by student nurses who must learn to give patients baths while they are in bed.

Dr. Frank Day, president of Union College, told the freshmen that it would be better to put men to work for 4 years in a coal mine than to send them to college to be taught to be lounge lizards.

Over two-thirds of the students enrolled in the University of Paris are Americans.

At Marquette, the students living in fraternity homes have their names, characteristics, and peculiarities listed with the police.

Who's Who

CARL SCHAFER

Today we take pleasure in introducing Carl Schaffer of New Bethlehem. Carl came to Albright from Penn State at the beginning of his Sophomore year and since then State has been the loser, for Carl became a fine Albrightian. He is one of Dr. Cook's prodigies and has been lab assistant for the past two years.

Carl doesn't seem to have any weaknesses or besetting sins unless an inability to answer questions in Education Class might count as one or the other. He's a rather quiet and industrious chap who minds his own business.

Recently Carl was elected to the presidency of the Pi Tau Beta fraternity. He plays basketball for the Pi Taus and his height comes in handy in picking balls out of the air. He is also president of the Interfraternity Athletic Association this year. He belonged to the Chemistry Seminar and since that organization was formed into the Science Club he is a member.

A class of fraternity pledges on "Why Study?" has been initiated at the University of Wisconsin.

Seventy per cent. of the inmates of the Minnesota State Prison in university correspondence courses receive grade of A and B.

As a result of recent research the head of the School of Social Science, U. of Oregon, discovered that toothaches were common to prehistoric Indians.
