FIRST MAY DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

Martha Shambaugh Crowned Queen of May in Program of Unusual Beauty and Interest

LARGE CROWD TURNS OUT DESPITE RAIN THREATS

At last the eventful day, May the twelfth, is past. After many weeks of preparation and much worry on the part of the participants Albright's May Day is a recorded event. This fete has been spoken of as a very pleasing one by all those who witnessed the entertainment.

In spite of the continuous cloudy sky and rainy weather of the preceding day and of the morning of the pageant, the affair was launched. Old Sol appeared just in time to spur on a large circle of spectators who eagerly watched him usher into the grassy arena which they enclosed, the gorgeous May Day procession. The gayly colored retinue of girls marched from Mohn Hall led by the well chosen heralds, Lois Helm and Betsy Scott. The heralds were followed by the May Queen, Martha Shambaugh, who displayed a stunning dignity, and also by her attendants. The remainder of the line was composed of the special dancing combinations, the Greeks, Queen's Fairies, May Polers, Tree-Hearts. The typical court jester, Ruth Hetrick, formed an interesting and humorous part of the parade as she ran in and out the line capering and manoeuvring. The whole march was one of beauty and effectiveness.

SCIENCE ENTHUSIASTS HEAR STATE GEOLOGIST

Dr. George H. Ashley, Penna. State Geologist of Harrisburg, presented an interesting lecture in the College Chapel on Thursday evening, May 3rd under the auspices of the Science Club.

Dr. Ashley, in order to explain the various rock formations of the State, brought with him a large number of slides which were projected on a screen. These slides included all the Geological rock formations of the state and were highly colored, which made them doubly interesting. As they were being shown, Dr. Ashley made comments on them. Those who heard him know that he is a man of wide experience, possessing a thorough knowledge of Geology, and in addition to knowing his subject he has a manner of expressing it in a way that all can grasp his thoughts. The Club can well be congratulated in securing the service of Dr. Ashley.

SOME OF OUR BALL TEAM BAT HIGH OFF THE FIELD

"Boy! You're dying! Tell me who owns that car." These were the words that came from the lips of the Captain of Police, of Wayne, Del. Co., Pa. They were shot a Linwood Wagner who was driving his father's Hudson Machine from Swarthmore to Myerstown with seven of the Albright College base ball men in it.

This all happened on the return trip after a game with Swarthmore on May 2nd. Altho our team lost by one run in a thrilling ten inning game, they felt that the Garnets had been given a hard run for their money, so they had no time for dull moments on the journey home.

While passing through Wayne Borough a traffic cop halted the machine and asked the driver to show his driver's license. Wagner hunted (Continued on Page Three)

ANNUAL JUNIOR PROM IS JUST FIVE DAYS OFF

This Year's Affair Promises To Surpass Any Yet Held. Get Your Prom Cards Now

Just five more days till the "Prom". On May 26th the event of events will take place. On that night the campus will be alive with intoxicating beauty and gaiety. We are all ready for such an event to terminate a most happy year.

No "Prom" of the past years will be comparable to the "Prom" of 1923, for the committees are working hard to present something fine. The enthusiasm which they are manifesting in their work we desire to transmit to the students. "Enthusiasm for our "Prom" is the key word of the whole Junior Class, why not the whole student body?

It is the desire of the Juniors to put on something different this year, and they are going to do it. The Committees have put forth all their efforts and have a program that will be enjoyed by all. No one will want to miss it and all can afford to come. Good "Proms", good entertainment, and good eats. Get your partners and get in line.

The "Prom" cards are in the hands of a very capable committee. There they will await the approval of the students. If you once see them, you will not be able to resist the temptation till you own one. The Class of 1924 needs your support in making this a success.

STOUCHSBURG HIGH HOSTS TO GIRLS' GLEE

Club, Mr. Schoener, and Horace Davis Entertain Between Acts of School play.

The members of the girls' glee were very delightfully entertained by Mr. Schoener at Stouchsburg, Saturday evening, May 5th. The high school presented a play entitled, "The Face at the Window", and the glee was asked to entertain between acts.

Mr. Schoener, as presiding officer of the occasion, introduced each girl individually, telling from where she came. The audience was well pleased with the excellent music which the girls sang and showed their appreciation by continually encoring the choruses.

Horace Davis, the Wood Saw artist, assisted in entertaining and quite astounded the audience by his clever playing. He was told later that the hardware stores had a rushing business the following Monday.

At the request of Mr. Schoener's friends, he and Miss Statler sang a duet, "Schubert's Song of Love". The girls were surprised to discover that Mr. Schoener is the possessor of a splendid tenor voice which he quite ably displayed. After thunderous applause, they consented to repeat it.

But perhaps the most surprising, as well as enjoyable part of the evening's program was the sumptuous dinner, for such a meal as Mr. Schoener had ordered for the club could not be called a lunch. The (Continued on Page Two)

DR. G. W. RICHARDS TO BE COMMENCEMENT ORATOR

Dr. George W. Richards will be the commencement speaker June 13. He is President of, and Professor of Church History in the Theological Seminary of the Reformed Church in the United States, Lancaster, Pa. He is also President of the General Synod of the Reformed Church. He is well known in this community, and the College is fortunate in being able to have his services for the Commencement occasion.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

It is requested that all who have not paid their subscriptions for the Bulletin do so at once. The money is needed to publish the last editions of the Bulletin, and we do not wish to carry accounts over the school year.

CALL TO ALUMNI FOR ANNUAL DAY

Alumni Editor Calls Attention to Commencement Week and Annual Alumni Day Gathering

FUTURE OF ALBRIGHT DEPENDS PARTLY ON ALUMNI

The commencement season is almost upon us. One can hardly realize that another year has virtually passed since our last annual meeting. Have you planned to return to your Alma Mater this year during those gala days from June 9th to 13th? It is your duty and privilege, if you can possibly arrange to do so.

With especial emphasis we urge your presence upon Alumni Day, June 12th. We anticipate the usual good time. You know the good old-time Albright alumni fellowship—there is nothing to beat it under the sun! Well, you'll be there, of course!

The alumni business meeting promises to be full of interest and of more than usual importance. The most vexing and acute problems the institution has ever been compelled to face will confront the Trustee Board at their annual meeting. They will need our sympathetic support and co-operation, and perhaps our advice and assistance. We want to be there in full force to assure them that we stand with them and back of them in any advanced program they may inaugurate. We are promised an aggressive program of real merit, and the indications are that the new school year will be faced with eminent optimism. Anyhow, we shall urge this upon the Board with all our moral strength and when they give it to us we are going to say, "Thank you!", quit knocking, and begin to boost, and then we shall face the future with new confidence and joy.

The alumni of Albright will constitute a very important factor in the development of the future program of the institution. Let us be on hand to lead, to suggest, to urge, to support. No one does not want the (Continued on Page Two)

KAPPA UPSILON PHI HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

Enjoy Theater Party at Academy of Music and Then Banquet at Blue Bird Tea House

On the evening of May 14th, the members of the Kappa Upsilon Phi Fraternity with their lady friends motored to Lebanon to enjoy their annual banquet. The first half of the evening was spent in taking in a theater party at the Academy of Music. After the theater the party motored to Molly's "Blue Bird Tea House", three miles south of Lebanon where the banquet was held. The whole house was decorated very attractively with fraternity pennants and colors. Frater in Facultate Bowman and members of the Fraternity gave a few brief and humorous talks. After the dinner the party strolled into the big living room and all enjoyed some musical numbers. Near midnight, the party, tired but happy, took once more to the cars and headed towards Albright. All present felt that the party was a huge success, and pleasant will be the memories of May 14th. Those present were:

Dr. and Mrs. Bowman, Misses Frances Faust, Elizabeth Scott, Blanche Bordner, Sara Statler, Grace Hangen, Romaine Raub, Eva Wright, Mary Woodring, Kathryn McCurdy and Ruth Thiele. Fraters—Harvey Kline, Paul Dech, Harry Crumbling, Fred Bowers, Willard Mohn, Eldred Miller, Lloyd Kreuger, Rodney Steltz, George Leinbach and Arthur Henninger.

STATE "Y" OFFICERS MEET AT GETTYSBURG

Shick and G. H. Gramley Attend Most Interesting Convention as A. C. Representatives

The Thirty-First Annual Conference of the Penna. Y. M. C. A. Officers was held at Gettysburg, on May 4-6 inclusive. This conference is held each year, immediately after the students of the various college organizations hold their elections. Its purpose, partly, is to give instructions and knowledge to the new officers.

This Conference is planned with a two fold purpose; namely, to offer solutions for the problems that confront the Y. M. C. A. administration, and to fill the delegates with an inspiration that will enable them to do their work to the best advantage.

At this convention the Albright College Y. M. C. A. was represented by Blaine Schick, '24 and Heil Gramley, '26, vice president and secretary respectively. They gave their reports at the meeting Monday evening, May 7th.

The first session of the Conference met on Friday evening in the new Memorial Y. M. C. A. building. R. P. Barnes, of Lafayette, President of the State Council, outlined the purpose of the Conference. The topic "Moral Leadership vs Campus Popularity" was discussed by the Rev. C. Waldo Cherry, of Harrisburg.

COLLEGE PRESIDENTS MEET AT HAVERFORD

The Spring Meeting of the Association of College Presidents of Pennsylvania was held at Haverford College, Saturday, May 12th. The Association was the guest of President Comfort and Haverford College. One of the important subjects presented was "The College Woman's Job". The subject was discussed by Mrs. Marion Parris Smith, of Bryn Mawr College, President of the Bureau of Occupations for Trained Women.

ALBRIGHT LOSES, WINS, AND LOSES

Boys Drop Extra-inning Game To Swarthmore, 6-7, And Then Beat Ursinus, 3-1 For First Victory

WASHINGTON COLLEGE WINS HERE BY 11-5 SCORE

ALBRIGHT 6—SWARTHMORE 7

That hard luck comes in a streak, every member of the Albright Squad will acknowledge. After handing over the first three games, they were compelled to give the fourth to Swarthmore. Each member is now on the lookout for the lost gear and hope to find it before the next game. After a loose, ten inning battle Swarthmore walked off the field with the score tucked away in her sleeve, 7 to 6. This was accomplished by a last minute rally brought in Krapp, the Garnet, rightfielder, with the winning run.

"Charley" Yost allowed ten hits and was credited with five strikeouts. Lippincott, the Quaker hurler also allowed ten hits. Albright opened her half of the first with a pair of runs. Dech's single, following Miller's double, sent Miller home; Dech reached third on successive grounders by Jones and Yost, and scored when Lippincott dropped Shane's toss.

Swarthmore counted in her first half of the first; Dotterer, after walking, reached home on Esrey's drive to Dech. The Garnet squad took the lead in the second when Shane went home on a home run by Lippincott. Albright regained the lead in the third frame, when Jones, after hunting, reached second on Esrey's muff of Yost's grounder. Leinbach was safe at first when Baker dropped Esrey's toss. Esrey's (Continued on Page Three)

MALE GLEE ENTERTAINS YORK COUNTY AUDIENCES

On May 4th the Boys' Glee Club gave a concert at Wrightsville. The concert was held in the Imperial Theater which was crowded. As usual the boys made a hit and had to reply with encore after encore. The concert rendered there was the same that has been given on all of their trips this season.

Saturday night the Club went to Red Lion where they were greeted by one of the largest and most appreciative audiences they have met this year. The Sunday School auditorium of the Evangelical church was literally packed. On Sunday morning the members of the Club visited the various churches of the city and rendered sacred numbers. Mr. Glenn Raffensperger, accompanied by Mr. Seehrist on the cello, sang at the Evangelical Church of which the Rev. H. A. Benfer, Sr. is the pastor.

ALBERT LEININGER WRITES FROM JAPAN

This is Friday evening the 13th of April, the day and date itself might be sufficient to provoke that of some kind on the part of a Pennsylvanian. Perhaps it isn't at all strange then that the subject of my thought should be Friday nights.

Friday nights when in the grades: When the supper dishes were put away and the table cleared, the invitation to study was usually given. Then would come the wicked that of the long interval before the first class on Monday morning—which was often the cause of failure in that first class or even perhaps a blue Monday might result because of it. Friday nights when in the High School!—This same that presented itself and the temptation to refrain (Continued On Page Four)

EDITORIALS

GREETINGS

With this issue the new staff of the Albright Bulletin takes its position and the former staff retires with colors flying. The Bulletin has had one of the best seasons in its history. The former staff was untiring in its efforts to make the paper a success. Most of the old heads were persons who have served faithfully for several terms on the staff; and, due to their ability, the news-articles have been good and the editorials have well expressed the sentiments of the student body at large.

Due to the splendid ability of our former Editor in Chief, the paper was run very smoothly. The Business Manager finished the year on a firm financial basis because of his efforts in getting advertisements and subscribers. We will all agree that the News Editor and Literary Editor did their work nobly, and to them goes the credit for the make-up of the paper and the quality of the news.

The Bulletin will suffer a loss when they leave us, for by their efforts we have a new form of Bulletin, which is highly commendable in every manner. We, the new staff are loath to see them leave, as we take up the work they have left, it is with a feeling of sorrow.

The new staff will follow the policy of the old. It will be for the best interests of Albright College. We will endeavor to express the sentiment of the students through our editorials, for it is their paper as well as ours. The things of interest to the students will be the subjects for our editorials.

The Albright Bulletin is the students' Bulletin. The paper belongs to us all and not to the staff alone. Since this is true, contributions from all will be accepted with pleasure (anything of vital interest to the students and for the good of the institution will be gladly accepted and printed).

Throughout the past the Bulletin has always stood behind the college, but year after year the college has steadily grown, and the paper has grown with it. Next year we will be bigger than ever, consequently we must use all our efforts to make a bigger and better paper. Already new plans have been made for this growth, but it is not up to the staff alone. All can help. Those of you who leave this spring can help by leaving your subscriptions with us, and by sending in alumni notes. Those who are entering business can help us by giving us your advertisements. In this way we can keep in touch with you, and you can easily follow your own Alma Mater.

You can all help by bringing such criticisms and suggestions as occur to you. We all make mistakes, and for that reason we are always ready for suggestions that will be for a better Bulletin.

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship is one of the greatest assets in the life of college students. It makes possible many things which would not be carried out otherwise, and helps to develop a spirit that should be essential to every college. The acquaintances made at college will never be forgotten, if they are sincere, and yet we often see this important phase disregarded.

A college, especially one the size of Albright, should stand as a unit, as one great family where all are brothers, working for the good of their Alma Mater. To do this there must be a starting point, and this should be a better feeling of fellowship between the students. There must be some sacrifice made in order to help the other fellow, that we might regard his rights as well as our own. Class distinctions, individual differences and other trifling matters should be viewed secondary if a spirit of fellowship is to be fostered.

We have included in our freshmen regulations a section making it necessary to pay respects to seniors and faculty members. They must speak and lift the hat when passing, and obey all other reasonable demands. Also they are not permitted to congregate in the halls. Why not make some of these rules universal? For instance, let everyone greet the other fellow with a smile and a hearty "Hello". As for congregating in the halls, we are all guilty. There has arisen a tendency to linger in front of the main entrance on the pavement. It has been noticed by the writer that in many instances ladies going to and from meals have been obliged to step from the pavement and to force their way thru the groups that gather there. This is a most unfortunate situation, and should be remedied at once. Keep in mind that other individuals have the same rights as you have, and must be respected. Let's all be good fellows and live up to the Golden Rule.

NOT so long ago the writer was visiting in the northern part of the state. One evening a song was wafted across the air. It was familiar to him for often in the past he had heard it in the assembly, on the campus, and on the fields of contest. It was his Alma Mater, a song he held dear, for it brot back fond memories of happy days and friends. Today a new Alma Mater holds him. It cheers the teams on the fields, and in forensic contests which are striving to do their best to uphold the honor of the College.

Alumnae—today your Alma Mater is calling you. It needs you more than ever. Your college is passing through one of its most important transitions and your presence here might be the deciding factor in the final solution of the problem. No business is so important, no sacrifice too great for you to make in order to get here and to show your interest in your college. Many changes have been made already. New buildings have been erected, many have been so remodelled that you will need guides to show you around. The campus has been enlarged and beautified, chapel exercises are more impressive in the beautiful new chapel. The new "Y" room affords a place which provides a reading room and promotes good fellowship among the students.

We are nearing another commencement season. More students will join your ranks and you will want to meet them. No efforts are being spared to make this year the best ever. Additional interest is being taken in the forensic contests, good baseball games are scheduled, and excellent speakers have been obtained for the week. You can't afford to miss this opportunity. Come out and meet your friends and boost the name of your Alma Mater.

Campus Chatter

BY THE PARROT

Preston Venus Shewell '25 entertained his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Shewell and Misses Pauline E. Shewell, Gladys Snyder and M. Marguerite Dietz on May 6th, the occasion of his birthday.

The first new Bulletin makes its appearance simultaneously with the coming of Senior exam week. Both are indications of the approaching end of the term. Classes have ended already for many upper classmen.

The notices for signing up for the tennis tournaments were posted last week and quite a list of names appeared. Interest will run high during the contests, and the outcome is anxiously awaited.

Ole Jupe Pluvius had his hey day from the 10th to the 13th. Among his victories were the cancelling of two baseball games and the gumming up of the May Day festivities on our campus. Had the girls planned to hold the fete at night they might have had the splendid weather the boys were favored with in their celebration.

Among week-end visitors over the 12th were: Fred Shaffer, 'Pete' Henninger, Percy Frie, Fred Super, and Roland Shlenker, Grace Statler, and Pauline Brower, all of '22.

The campus is in full bloom. Trees and shrubs are all at their best and prettiest. The bare spots have been with grass and altogether the college grounds are a beautiful picture at this season.

An epidemic of tonsilitis and quinsy has been sweeping over the girls side of the campus. Those girls who have been seriously afflicted are Arnita Miles, Janet Kaltreider and Lois Helm.

ECCENTRIX

Many of us were recently interested in the story of a 'flapper'. The dear little thing flapped around far in the Northland,—on the ice. Seals are interesting animals.

A la promenade oo-la-la is now in vogue. The new social privileges make the campus look like about sixty-four lovers' lanes intertwined.

"One hundred years ago John Howard Payne wrote, 'Home Sweet Home,' says a news headline. Today with 'equal rights', high rents, and 'cellar bitters', he would not have had the nerve to write it.

They say that tennis is a game that destroys soles (souls) rapidly. Another case of the racquet or the harp.

Coming exams all remind us, As the pages o'er are turned, That we all have left behind us Lessons that we should have learned.

In these days of rapid fire law-making, they ought pass a law prohibiting the use of 'cold waves' on baseball days.

Some one remarked that there ought to be more flowers and green things on the campus. What with the full foliage of the trees, the grass and the new social period, there are plenty of green things and flowers on the campus.

AROUND THE TOWN

On Thursday evening, May third, the Combined Glee Clubs of the Myerstown High Schools repeated their Operetta "Miss Cherry Blossom". They again had a packed house as on their first performance. The Operetta was well presented, the participants being well coached by Miss Stuft, of the local High School. Those who did not see this musical presentation surely missed a treat. This is the first entertainment of its kind given by the local high school students, and it is of the opinion by most of those who saw it that the operetta excelled the dramas that have been played from time to time by the students.

Saturday, May 6th, the Myerstown Borough Schools held their annual May Day Fete on the College Hill Field. Miss Mildred Zinn of the Senior Class was crowned at the Queen of May.

The Myerstown Base Ball Team which was recently organized, opened their season by defeating the Strong Pine Grove team at Pine Grove by the score of 17-3. Some Class.

kind ladies of the school had prepared it and, needless to say, the girls took full advantage of their kindness.

After the meal all poured in a hearty "boom yell" for Schooner and his friends, and were brought back to school in the machines which some of the school fellows had so kindly provided.

with intervening solos, well rendered and suitable to the occasion, by Misses Frances Wolfersberger and Anna Mengel. All the dances were very gracefully executed and many of the spectators were amazed to note that A. C.'s skill along this line was by no means limited.

Until the last exercise, the May Pole dance, the program was a booming success. But just as these dancers took their ribbons Mr. Sol refused to stay with them. Mr. Rain took his place and began to pounce upon them. The dance was fairly completed when disagreeable Mr. Rain compelled them to drop their ribbons. The interest of the lookers-on must have been very intense for they remained until the pageant was ended.

The May Day program was effectively ended by presenting a bouquet of roses to Miss Armita Miles, who was a most capable director of the exercise. Due to her untiring efforts and the great physical strain of tutoring the May Dayers she took ill Saturday morning and was not able to enjoy the success of her toil.

The music for the pageant was furnished by Miss Lila Flory, piano, Messers. J. Good Brown, violin, David Sechrest, cello. To their ever abounding patience and artistic playing we owe a large measure of our success.

The May Day festivalers dispersed after singing heartily the Alma Mater.

So great was the success of Albright's first May Day fete, even down to the business end managed by Misses Anna Ritter and Helen Walbert, that the girls are looking forward to the time for the next May Day.

Costuming effects, which were decidedly beautiful, were managed by an efficient corps of designers and sewers, with Jesse Statler and Ferne Stanford at the head.

ed for it but being unable to find it the whole crowd was asked to go to the police station.

By this time the players took the arrest seriously, for they did not know what was going to happen to them. Many thoughts of spending the night in a cell shot thru their minds. "Deddy" Miller, one of the occupants, suggested that they might have a practice game of ball with the cops in case of their being in the coop all night.

While the boys were thinking of plans to break the jail, Wagner was being cross examined in a rather severe manner by the Captain, and after obtaining very little information, the "Cap" called upon the players to identify themselves as Albright students. "Deddy", because he was attired in a white sweater that has an "A" on it, was first to be called.

"What's your name, kid?" said the Captain.

"Eldred Miller," said "Deddy."

"What! Mildred Miller?" This, of course, brought out a laugh from the boys and even the old Captain himself who seldom smiles, laughed.

The next man who offered any sort of constructive material was "Gawge" Hollenbaugh. He produced a schedule of our season of base ball. He went on to explain the whole thing to the court. The old "Cap" couldn't understand what "away" meant. Another cop came to Gawge's assistance and by a skilful manipulation of the English language and signs managed to convince the "Cap" that away meant "Not at home."

Roland at this time was asked to bring up his identification material, but his material consisted of a ring, and "Bill" hung on to it, saying that it was worth more to him than to the police department.

The next time the Captain did was to try to find the Albright College number in the Phila. Telephone Directory, but that was just as impossible as finding a needle in a haystack. It wasn't there. Roland told them that his mother had the telephone in the house, but when the Captain was about to call up, Bill quickly added "No use "Cap", she isn't at home".

The party by this time had changed from a serious one, to a happy one. Every one tried to pull the best joke on the captain and get away with it. Hollenbaugh alone remained serious. In the meantime the car was searched and the owner's license was found. This showed a faint sign of release. The case was dismissed, and as they were going out Hollenbaugh asked the Police Captain for a receipt. (In case they were pinched again). Holly was getting anxious to get back to school, so as a parting slam at the cop he yelled. "Well Chief, it's alright to us if it is to you." It certainly was all right, for there was no other way out of it, but Holly just wanted to be polite to the old "Gent."

Soon after that the boys were on their way to Myerstown. Later it was discovered that a Hudson car had been stolen and the police were on the lookout for it. The Albright boys were the unfortunate ones to be caught in a mistake first.

STATE "Y" OFFICERS MEET AT GETTYSBURG

devotions led by Prof. Kline, of Gettysburg. State Secretary of Penna. J. B. Carruthers spoke on the "College Man's Contribution to Society" emphasizing the fact that the college man should contribute his life, and showing how society expects that of him. M. T. Stauffer, Educational Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, brought the question of the student volunteer movement to the delegates, showing how its purpose and aims have broadened. The delegates divided according to the types of their schools and took up the problems of promoting mission and Bible study classes.

The afternoon session was given over to recreation. Those of the delegates who so desired were taken over the battlefield, enjoying a delightful trip.

Saturday evening, Rev. Chas. O. Wright, General Secretary of the U. of Penna. "Y", ably discussed the topic "What Are the Forces That Work on the Campus?" Under the destructive tendencies were included hypocrisy, dishonesty, excessive dancing, dirty politics, faculty agnosticism, dishonest athletics, and the adolescent evils including bootlegging, gambling, profanity and sex immorality. The constructive tendencies were the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. class athletics, student government, faculty, newspapers, social activities, student minister, and school spirit. These tendencies were all selected by the delegates present under Rev. Wright's supervision. There were several faces at work of the campus which the delegates finally decided by vote to be neither, destructive nor constructive as a whole, namely, compulsory chapel attendance, fraternities, and the honor system. Rev. Wright ended by stating that Christ and his life would satisfy all campus requirements.

Coach Wood of Gettysburg led the devotions on Sunday morning, bringing instructive lessons to the delegates. Mr. Bower, of Dickinson, spoke on "How Can Personal Messages of Christian Friendship and Service be Extended to New Men?" Frank L. Omestead, Secretary Penn State "Y", reviewed the work that had been undertaken at the Conference. Following this final analysis of the work of the Convention, the Conference adjourned, the delegates going to the various churches for morning services.

Pine Grove's famous "Nut Cracker", Albright's Star first-baseman prevented the Garnets from adding two or three runs to their side. Pete made one brilliant catch just off first. A vicious line drive was headed his way but out of reach. A jump, followed by a little stretching, allowed him to pull it down.

ALBRIGHT DEFEATS URSINUS 3 TO 1

Wednesday, May 9th, dawned a dreary, rainy day, and not one at all conducive to playing good baseball. But threatening weather did not daunt the determined spirits of "Haps" nor his men, to wallop Ursinus. Every member was determined to bring back victory, or die in the attempt. They succeeded by bringing home a 3 to 1 score.

Big "Bill" Ziegenfus, hurler for Benfer's nine, displayed such skill in twirling the ball that they succeeded in connecting with only five singles. Bill allowed five free tickets to first base, but with bases full he tightened up and nary a one crossed the plate as a result.

Ursinus earned her lone run in the sixth when Buchanan singled, took second on Sheet's sacrifice, and scored when Gottschalk came thru with a long single.

Albright had a big day at bat. Eleven hits were made, Leh leading with three, one of them a triple; Dech and Henninger had two each. The Red and White scored all her runs in the fourth. Jones was safe when his grounded nearly tore the talons off Gottschalk. He was sacrificed to second by Yost, and scored when Leinbaugh singled to right. Leh picked out his favorite bat and slammed a Howell pitch for three bases, thereby breaking up a good ball game. He scored when Ziegenfus singled.

The victory over Ursinus proved too much for the Red and White team because when they took the field the following day against Washington College they allowed the visitors to take away a score of 11—5 Yost started the game for "Ben's" squad, but the heavy frost of the night before must have worked its way into his joints for he was away off color. He walked the first two men that faced him, and hit the third, but he tightened up and averted a tally. In the third, however things did not turn out so well, for the Albright squad went up in the air. Seven of the visitors left their imprints on the home plate, before the inning was over. Ziegenfus substituted for Yost in the fourth and then Charley took his old pace again on the mound. The rest proved valuable and he was nearly himself again. Hickman, hurler for the Washing- ton players, played a good game on the mound. Gordy led in the hitting list, having three hits, one of them for three bases. Miller also party or a basketball game or something of that sort.

Friday night at college:—Here a bit different program was followed on a Friday night. I wonder if there was a different program because of this known tendency in lives other than mine. Here something worth while was given to do. Too weary of the weeks study? Too some profitable recreation? Come to the Literary Society—and so real work was enjoyed like play and to-night as I think of college, I think of Neocosmian—yes the society that helped open to us a new world and for all that my college has done for me in this regard I feel very appreciative tonight.

Friday night at the Seminary and University:—Here they were a bit different. They were spent largely in study—for several difficult classes were looked forward to on the morrow. Sometimes they were spent in work among young men in the churches or in pastoral work—both for the good that could be done and because there was a "selling pork" to pay expenses.

Tonight it is so different from any of those Friday nights and not only because it is Friday night the 13th of April, which occurs only seven times in two centuries, Friday nights have been that of from the student's standpoint. Tonight it is that of from this end—from the student's and the teacher's standpoint. Just before I began to talk to students and Alumni of Old Albright, I laid aside my pen after trying to write a review for a missionary magazine of an important book to Christendom which appeared on our book shelves here in Tokyo a few days ago. It presents hard and difficult problems which the Christian Church finds hard to solve everywhere but which are especially hard on Christian leaders in a non-Christian country. So I'm thinking tonight from the standpoint of a student but also from that of a teacher on the work of tomorrow.
