Fine Religious Sunday Program

Students Pleased With Talks of Dean Kratz and Prof. Smith.

The religious program of the campus was well attended last Sunday. Professor Smith brought an appropriate message to the students as they met in the Theological Chapel for the weekly assembly of the College Bible Class; and when Dean Kratz of the Theological Seminary presented the talk "The Shibboleth of Civilized Christianity" at vespers.

Miss Irene Fray was at the console at the morning service while Mr. Ralph Kresge, president of the class presided over the meeting. The morning prayer was offered by Mr. Mark Feister.

Mr. Harry Paul, President of the Y. M. C. A. led the vesper services of the evening. Mr. George Wright of the Freshmen class rendered an impressive solo called "My Task." This was accompanied by Paul Teel. All students are cordially invited to attend these invaluable meetings in the future.

Local Collegians Again On Air

To Be Regular Feature During Football Season

On Friday night at 7.45 Johnny Heilman and his cheerleaders inaugurated the first college pep nite of the season over W-R-A-W. This program sponsored by Bob Dulaney. A program such as this will be presented over the local station every week during the gridiron season. Fresh and upperclassmen alike entred into the songs and cheers with enthusiasm. Speeches by members of the team added to the spirit of the occasion.

After the rally the Fresh did their bit to advertise the Connecticut Aggies game by enacting their roles on Penn St. A fine spirit was shown and "Johnny" wants you to be out at the next "Pep" nite which will be announced later. Be there and show the Albright Spirit.

Students Raise Average In Scholarship

Pi Alpha Tau Retains Leadership in Fraternity-Sorority Group

The group averages for the second semester 1930 are compiled on a basis of the following values of the letter grades: A plus—1, A—1.3, A minus—1.7, B plus—2, B—2.3, and relative values for letters down to and including F.

An increasing interest in scholarship values is revealed by the betterment of the general college average of 2.92 to the second semester, 1929-30, from 2.985 of the first semester.

The girls again lead the men by an average of 2.51 to 2.95. The Sophomore girls, who lead the class group averages for the first semester, lost that honor to the Senior men for the second semester. Pi Alpha Tau retained its lead among sororities, while Zeta Omega Epsilon lost the leadership of the fraternity group to Pi Tau Beta. Of the entire student body 11.3% maintain an average of "A"; 41.7%, "B"; 35.6%, "C"; 8.6%, "D"; and 2.8%, "E".

The group averages follow:

First Y.M.-Y.W. Night Big Success

Good Fellowship Prevalent At Doggie Roast, "Eats" Galore.

After having taken part in the already famous Pep Nite at the broadcasting station WRAW, the Freshmen were gently escorted to a Doggie Roast sponsored by the Y's.

The Fresh girls entertained the many onlookers with songs, cheers and skits, while the fellows roasted dogs and marshmallows for the participants. They certainly did it quickly and with a comparative amount of diligence.

After everyone had their share of "Dogs" and fun, the strains of the Alma Mater at the College Medley were heard. All departed having had a grand time and hoping that further affairs would be as successful as this one. Here's to the Y's for a successful year.

Junior Class Has First Meeting

Arthur Weiss Elected President.
Class Pledges Support.

At the first meeting of the Junior Class which was held on Thursday, September 25, the delayed election of a President was carried on. Various types of campus personalities were brought to the forefront in the nominations. The vote placed Arthur Weiss at the head of the Class of 1932, with the co-operation of the entire body pledged to his support. Naught but success can thus ensue. Here's to you, Art!

TONIGHT
Chapel, 7.45 P. M.

Albright opened its official schedule with a hard-fought victory over Connecticut Aggies by a 19-0 score. After being held scoreless the first half, Albright rallied and rushed three touchdowns across the Aggies' goal in the second half. The Aggies outplayed Albright in the first quarter but gradually wilted under the hard pounding of Albright's backs. The injection of Hino, with his fast running and passing, swung the tide of battle in Albright's favor. Much fumbling marred Albright's chances in the first half, while some bits of unnecessary roughness occurred in the final quarter. The Albright team showed lack of polish but gave promise developing into an strong combination.

Besides Hino, the game produced other promising freshmen. Orr scored the first touchdown, gained consistently and did the punting while he was in the game. Lat sta and Gaskil, two more backs also looked good.

Several veterans also added some highlights. Weicles line plunging was a feature of the offense. Always dependable, Weicles never failed to make the required distance for a first down, and several times had yards to spare. Anderson also played a fine game, shining in the defense as well the offense. Emmett flashed with a brilliant 40 yard run after intercepting a pass in the first quarter. Karlip featured a couple of nice catches of passes and was wide awake on the defense.

Karlip returned the opening kick-off to the 35 yard line. Three rushes netted 8 yards, so Karlip punted to McCombe, who returned the ball 20 yards to his own 41 yard line. Aggies picked up only 7 yards in three plays.

Three times lost 8 yards, so McCombe kicked to Emmett who returned to his 20 yard line. Orr gained 2 yards, but Emmett and Andrews failed, so Orr punted to Aggies 40 yard line. A nine yard gain by Murphy plus a fine yard penalty gave Aggies a first down at midfield. Two plays gaining little, McCombe tried a long pass which Emmett intercepted and raced 40 yards to Aggies 30 yard line.

Following an exchange of kicks Emmett fumbled and Aggies recovered on Albright's 25 yard line. Plunges by McCombe and Harger plus a penalty gave Aggies a first down. Two plays failed, but Murphy reached the four yard line on an off-tackle slice. McCombe then staked all on a pass which was batted down in the end zone.

The whistle ended the game, the Lion having finished his first meal.

EDITORIALS

WELCOME FRESHMEN!

We know it's a bit late to welcome you but since this is the first issue of the Albrightian for the year 1930-31, we take the opportunity to extend to you our heartiest welcome.

We do not doubt but that you benefited greatly from participating in the Freshmen Orientation Program, planned especially for you, during your first week at Albright. You have already completed two weeks of work here and as the weeks roll along you will become more intimate with the Professors.

Ours is not a perfect College, but are there any of that sort? We do not know why YOU enrolled at this institution; neither do we really care to discover the reasons. The point is, now you are here. What are YOU doing with your time? Have you set a definite goal, the attainment of which will be your chief concern? Are you placing emphasis on the things which should be emphasized and which deserve special stress? We hope so.

College will make a change in you. Learn to adapt yourself to your new environment, and do it willingly. The latter is important for if you don't you might as well pack the old trunk again and go home to mother. The many restrictions placed upon you are not a new idea just originated for your particular class. They were functioning in Colleges before you were born. They are here for a purpose and will be enforced whether you like them or not. So submit without a grudge remembering all the while that next year YOU will be in a position to lay down the law to the incoming Freshmen Class.

College is not only a matter of studying text-books and listening to the Professors lecture, or attending class regularly. Take an interest in the many activities of the Campus; the athletic teams, incidentally the finest teams produced by any small College, the different societies and clubs which appeal to you and which certainly warrant your time and attention. Find out what this College town has to offer in the way of Concerts, Lectures by men outstanding in their field and other interesting and varied events. Feel free to consult the College Library as well as the splendid Branch downtown. Get acquainted with your fellow students as well as with your professors. The latter are here to help you and will give you of their valuable time willingly. But YOU must take initiative, nobody is going to chase after you. We don't know you're living until you assert yourself.

And just one more thought . . . bear in mind that YOU GET out of College life exactly what YOU PUT into it. Nothing less. That you attain the best, reach your goal and enjoy a successful College career at Albright is our sincere hope. To that threefold end we wish you, the Class of 1934, the very best of good luck.

POETRY COLUMN

One of the most promising events in the early stages of Greater Albright's growth is the first edition of an anthology of student verse which appeared in August. This Collegiate Anthology is the result of the efforts of Messrs. Schultz and Iredell of the Albrightian Staff 1929-1930.

These co-editors collected the best representative verse of the students at Albright College which had appeared in this poetry column during the last year. Readers of the volume will recognize the poetry of Blanche Macaulay, William Burkhardt, Blanche Foster, Norma Michael, Ernest Pastorella, Robert Work, Alyce Ware, Reba Topper, and the compilers, Anders Schultz and Lloyd Iredell.

This book of verse represents all mitters and styles of poetry which have come into being through experiment and fancy. Undoubtedly some pieces are unintentionally imitative. Be that as it may, a record of prevalent taste in each succeeding year of our campus life shall be the fruit of a work so nobly begun.

PERFECTION

My world is made of perfection.
My picture—the books that I read—
The tree by my window—the dream that I dream—

The things that I look at and love—
All perfect.

But, sometimes, the base rudeness of things

Cannot be shut from my vision.
And then I shudder—forget—
And know they belong to some other.

But mine is a magic creation.
I absorb the lovely—

The perfect in love and life,
Smiling lips—the bouyanky of youth—

The strength of a masculine hand—
The hush of dawn—

Moonlight—a symphony in silver—
The silhouette of cloud-banked hills—a clean cup line—

Perfection—
This world of mine.

FACULTY GIVE RECEPTION

Friday evening, September 19, 1930 the faculty of Albright gave its annual reception to the student body of the college. The affair began in the reception room of the girls dormitory where the students were presented to the faculty by members of the Senior class.

From there they were conducted to the dining room where they were entertained by radio music until the faculty arrived. Dr. W. F. Klein, Vice-President and Treasurer of the College acted as Master of Ceremonies, giving a word of welcome to the students especially the Freshmen. Dr. Teel, Dean Walton and Registrar Miller were asked to give extemporaneous addresses which proved very interesting.

The rendition of a piano solo by Prof. Hunt was well received. Miss Grace Faust of Reading, read "St. Peter at the Gate." The evening was climaxed when CND was put in charge and refreshments were produced. After a few songs and cheers the students dispersed having thoroughly enjoyed the evening's program.

DOMINOES MEET

Plan Brilliant Season of Fine Drama.

The Domino Club met in the Selwyn Hall Social Room for the first time this year on Thursday, September 25. President Macaulay, with the aid of his tyas outlined plans for the season's activities. The most probable result of the meeting will be a play which is anticipated for early December. Remembering the excellent work done in the past by this group of Thespians, campus folk have much to look forward to in the consummation of these newly proposed ventures.

In and About the Cinema

It is said of the great Odd McIntyre, the prince of columnists, that when he left the home town paper back in Columbus, Ohio to become a "journalist" in New York, he did so with tears in his eyes. Somewhat in the same vein the one-time writer of this little column on accepting the snooty sounding post of managing editor of this well known organ, feels just a bit sentimental. For all too few issues in the past we have lit up a cigarette and discussed with our dotting public the shows worth seeing and those worth sleeping thru. We recall conscientiously recommending such great hits as "Disraeli," "Madame X" and others. Then there were those terrible flops—but we won't bother. Those were happy days indeed when we saw all the shows free and could get our weekly copy out in half an hour. And now it seems all that must end. Another is to lead the flock—a bright youth with big time newspaper experience—while we pass into the shadow. Its a cruel life, this newspaper racket. Small wonder we fell just a bit moist about the eyes. Me and Odd McIntyre!

The shows this week along the main stem are, fortunately for our last appearance, all fairly good ones. The Colonial is being entertaining with a picture the alluring title of which is "Madame Satan." This is a DeMille "spectacle epic" but don't let that deter you because it is really good screen stuff. Mr. Reginald Denny of whom we have seen so little since his marriage returns to his admirers (as who is not) in this starring vehicle. Miss Kay Johnson whom you will remember from "Dynamite" does very well as his wife. There are a number of brand new songs here which may or may not develop into hits.

The Astor is now presenting the dramatization of one of Jack London's best books "The Sea Wolf." In this picture Mr. Milton Sills makes "positively his last appearance on any stage;" he died some weeks before its release. Mr. Sills was one white guy and a real trouser; we're sorry to see his name come down off the marquee. He justifies his popularity by this forceful interpretation of a vigorous role—"Wolf Larsen." The story might have been written for him. A very lovely newcomer, Miss Jane Keith, a lithe blond extra girl "discovery" comes thru as Sill's co-feature. For those who like He-man roles and the late Milton.

The State has engaged for your pleasure that most amusing young man Jack (himself) Oakie. It seems that Jack and his side kick "Skeets" Gallagher are shipwrecked on a tropic isle along with a dozen or so luscious extra girls to make life bearable. When who should they meet but James Hall as the Desert Chief and a lot more extra girls as natives. Well, that's the way you get shipwrecked in Hollywood. The lovely Kay Francis, star of "Raffles" and fiancée of Ronald Coleman and Miss Jeanette McDonald do their best by the show. "Let's Go Native!"

The Capitol is giving us in "Mamba" a really unusual line; a deepest Africa picture that is not either a photography exhibit nor a wild animal picture. Jean Hersholt of Denmark and Hollywood is the wealthy and villainous planter who buys the lovely heroine, Miss Eleanor Boardman, and beats her up with a lash. This produces complications which a native uprising and a youth named Ralph Forbes attempt to untangle etc. This is intended to be a tremendous drama of human passions; if so it is because of the fine acting of Mr. Jean Hersholt who was trained to act in Europe, where they know something about it. He certainly whips a mean bull whip.

School has begun again and as usual Freshmen are Fresh and Sophs. who last year rebelled against rules are piling punishments on thick and fast.

Flora Lobb and Victoria Orban seem to have had a wholly (hole-ly) good time at the Y. Rose and Hoey nite. Look out for wire fences. Perhaps they should be white-washed.

Patty Valentine was heard bemoaning the fact that the effects of the game necessitated his going to bed and prevented his spending the evening with the gang. Too bad, Pat, but there are other Saturday evenings.

Who will come to the rescue and invite the co-eds to the Bucknell game? One pretty lass said she's going to go. Great school spirit this, that costs one's very life.

Cases! Cases! Did anybody know Steck and Joe were here? Well, certain co-eds did. And Frosh and upperclassmen were all out walking to prevent blues from chasing them. And the latest places for dates are the golf course, the main entrance and the sun dial on front campus.

A fine turnout at Vespers on Sunday. Everybody enjoyed the service especially Wright's solo. Next week's program will be just as good.

The philosophy of Anita Loos still holds good. At least Rosen and Hoey upheld her side of the story at the game Saturday. Did you see their blondes? Wow!

Pep nite on Thursday nite at 7.30 at the studio. All invited and Frosh requested to attend.

All the campus cars seem to indicate added prosperity. Or is it more economical to save carfare when one has to go to town so often? Who knows?

121 Frosh, fine eats, one football game to the good, everybody hard at work, all in all it's a pretty great beginning for Albright. Now, keep the ball rolling.

See you at the Bucknell game.

SPORT LIGHTS

Football! Football! At last the time has come. The time for renewed spirit, the time for fur coats, cheers, and Albright victories. So far we have fulfilled the last mentioned requisite.

With the tying of the Schuylkill Alumni, and defeating the Farmers from Connecticut we have a right to keep firmly seated on our high horse. t least 'till we meet Bucknell next week.

Saturday's game brought forward the first real facts which could be gathered about the team. It showed that Coach Julian has a fighting team. That most of its strength lies in its numbers. That there is a pile of new football material at Albright this year. That the playing of the first half of Saturday's game was a bit mediocre. That Stanley Hino, an active ball totter from Shenandoah opened up the offense in the second half.

In the last few seconds of the first half, Iatesta, rushed the ball within two feet of the goal line but the whistle caught him before he could score. In retrospect we must give Aggies some credit for the defensive work which they carried on in the first quarter. The Cherry and White were unable to make much headway during this period.

In the second half however, things began to happen. Hino started a forward pass for a distance of 40 yards, which was speared by Abe Karlip and downed on the Aggies 17 yard line. Orr ripped through the line after Weigle opened the way and scored a touchdown. Immediately after this play Hino sent a 45 yard pass to Eddie Andrews who raced for another touchdown.

Although the Lions rolled up eight more first downs in the final quarter, they scored but one touchdown. When Pinky Purnell crossed the line for the final tally.

We may say that the game was a success. Although we would have liked to see more people in attendance, it is safe to say that 3000 people witnessed the fray. The Lions made an inspiring appearance with their snow white head gear and red and white jerseys.

The Lions need plenty of school spirit to back them up. Every student should prove his loyalty by attending every game. Pep up the team and let them know that we appreciate their efforts to put Albright on the top of the heap as far as a football team is concerned.

Next week we play Bucknell. Every indication shows that we are going to put up a better fight than last year. If at all possible loyal students should follow their team up there and cheer them on. If you are unable to see this game be sure to attend the following one with Mt. St. Mary's.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

Miss Heere is probably the best-known of the new instructors. She graduated from Albright College last year and was the recipient of a gold A in her senior year. Miss Heere is assisting Miss Florence Innis in the Home Economics department.

Another graduate of Albright who has been added to the faculty is Mr. Marcus Green who received his degree with the class of '29. Last year Mr. Green taught Biology in the McClellandtown High School. He is now assisting Prof. Horn in the science department.

Dr. Raymond A. Houk comes to Albright as associate professor in English. He received his training in Wittenberg College, Wittenberg Theological Seminary and Columbia University. He has served two pastorates in the Lutheran Church in Ohio and spent some time traveling abroad. His diversified experience, travel and training make him a proficient professor in Prof. Voigt's department.

PROMINENT!

Eli M. Purnell

A Lion on the field—A Lion in the classroom—A gentleman always; that's 'Pinky' Purnell. Few of the student body have not met and become acquainted with this smiling, genial president of the Senior class and the Student Body. Pinky had been active in campus activities and a prominent member of Kappa Upsilon Phi. His athletic ability and clean sportsmanship on Albright's varsities have won everyone's admiration. Pinky seems rather serious but we doubt that he is without humorous moments. Those who know him best report that he once—but you'd better find that out yourself.

The staff wish Pinky the best year ever as he guides the activities of the Student Body and knows that he will continue to be an outstanding member of the class of '31.

The Albrightian Staff and members of the student body of Albright College wish to express their deepest regrets and heartfelt sympathies at the death of Prof. Harry A. Kiess of the faculty. Prof. Kiess has been for more than twenty-five years a prominent member of the Albright faculty and was active in college circles until granted a leave of absence last year because of ill health. He will be missed by all who knew him and the entire student body offers its sympathies to the members of his family.
