Albright's Proposed $700,000 Physical Education Building

Three Main Parts To Include Gym, Pool, Field House

Also to Have Lockers, Showers, Office Rooms

Albright's proposed physical education building, to be erected north of Albright Stadium in the spring, will include a gymnasium, a field house and a swimming pool when fully completed. Complete office facilities and other units will also be provided.

Principal advantages of the building will be the unification and expansion of the general physical education program and the provision of a place for holding intercollegiate athletic events.

The gymnasium will measure 114 x 160 feet. It will be located in the center section of the building and provide permanent seating for 3500 people. Intercollegiate basketball games will be played there instead of at Northwest Junior High School, as at present.

The field house in the right wing will feature an earthen floor playing area 80 x 114 feet, together with an area for such sports as fencing, wrestling and boxing. Seats accommodating 528 spectators will surround the swimming pool, which will measure 35 x 82 feet.

Other facilities to be included in the physical education building on the second floor are locker and shower rooms for both men and women, offices for the athletic staff and instructors, and rooms for corrective exercises and band practice.

The building will face North 13th Street. It will be located in the vacant lot adjacent to Bern Street and will be brought into close relationship to Albright Stadium through the vacating of Bern Street by the city.

The construction of the physical education building will bring advantages to the community as well as the college. In addition to providing a place for physical education in all types of weather and for intercollegiate sports events, the building will permit the entire student body to assemble together under one roof, relieve Union Hall of an overcrowded schedule, provide adequate facilities for band practice and intramural sports, and relieve office congestion from the Administration Building.

The swimming pool will be an alumni memorial to honor those who served in World War Two.

Rev. Jeffery to Speak At Sunday Vespers

The Rev. Thomas Jeffery, pastor of St. Peter's Methodist Church, Reading, will be the guest speaker at the Student-Faculty Vesper Service this Sunday, February 12, at 5 p. m. in the college Chapel. William Walker and Mary Ellen Schuman will be the student leaders of the service. Following the service there will be a buffet supper served in the dining hall. All students and faculty members are urged to attend.

Campus Career Conference To Be Held Next Thursday

Albright will hold its first all-college career conference on Thursday, February 16. This event, which is sponsored by the Women's Student Senate, will offer an opportunity for all students on campus to become better acquainted with their chosen vocational field through talks by qualified members of that occupation and personal contact with them. Any student who wishes to attend will be excused from his classes by registering when he attends the conference.

The first meeting of the conference will begin at 1 p. m. in the Student Union Building, at which time Mr. Leonard Miller, Specialist in Counseling, Pupil Personnel and Work Programs in the United States Office of Education, will speak on "Recent Trends in Occupations and Job Opportunities Today."

Mr. Miller, an alumnus of Albright College, and recipient of an honorary Litt.D. degree at the 1949 Commencement, has been affiliated with the vocational guidance field for the last 25 years. He has served as Director of the Veteran's Guidance Center, Temple University, and as Chief of Occupational Information of Guidance for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Having also taught courses in guidance at Penn State, Northwestern University, the University of Maryland, Lehigh University, Temple University and New York University, Mr. Miller is considered well qualified to speak about job possibilities. Introductions of speakers for the second period of the conference will follow the main speaker.

Divisional Meetings Held

Beginning at 2 o'clock sub-divisional meetings will be held. At this time students may go to any section of their choice. Mr. Alvin T. Wooley, of Reading, will speak on Sales Positions; Mr. Kenneth W. Erdman, Director of Research at Beaumont, Heller, and Sperling, will discuss Advertising; Mr. Earl Master, Principal of Reading High School, will talk about Secondary Education; Dr. Edwin D. Funk, Medical Chief at Reading Hospital,

Dr. Masters Appoints R. F. White Instructor in English Department

Mr. Robert F. White, of Charlotte, North Carolina, has been appointed as instructor in the department of English, President Harry V. Masters announced on Monday. He will succeed Mr. Willard H. Haas, who resigned his post last month. It was also announced that the Rev. Dean A. Allen, pastor of St. Matthew's EUB Church of Reading, has been named lecturer in the Religion 2, New Testament, class.

Mr. White, a native of Moulton, Alabama, received his bachelor's degree from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C., in 1946, and his master's degree in English at Columbia University in 1948. He has had experience teaching at North Carolina and at Emory College.

'Builder Shares' Plan Available To All Students

A plan offering "Builder Shares" has been devised to encourage students as well as friends of the college to contribute to the campaign to raise money for a physical education building. Thirty months will be allowed for the payment of shares, at the convenience of the contributor.

Students who contribute a share of $50 or multiples thereof will have their names inscribed on a Student Scroll of Honor. The amount of the Builder Share for all except students will total $150. The names of persons contributing this amount will also be placed on a Scroll of Honor. Both scrolls will be erected in the new building.

Following the campaign in Reading and Berks County, a program will be initiated to raise $50,000 among the alumni and friends of Albright in other areas. The $700,000 needed to provide for the construction of the building and to establish a $100,000 endowment for its operation is to be obtained as follows: from Reading and Berks County, $410,000; from alumni and friends in other areas, $50,000; from funds already on hand, $240,000.

The winners were chosen from a field of 31 candidates, which included all of the senior women except Joyce Costenbader, previously named Mistress of Ceremonies, and Grace Cunningham, Custodian of the Crown.

A home economics major, Miss

Doris Chanin

Student Drive For New Gym Begins Feb. 14

130 Solicitors Set For Two Week Campaign

Nearly 150 members of the student organization for the Centennial Fund Campaign will meet in the Chapel auditorium next Tuesday, February 14, for the kick-off of the drive to gain 100 per cent student body participation in raising pledges toward a physical education building and field house. The drive will be approximately two weeks in length.

From the meeting on Tuesday 130 personal solicitors lead by 26 team captains in the four class divisions will go out to contact five students each concerning pledging a cash share in the construction program. Students will have 30 months in which to pay, at their own convenience.

Each solicitor will be aided by sales material given him and a well planned organization which got under way originally on December 14, 1949. Planning sessions have taken place with the executive committee, co-chairmen, division leaders and team captains.

Last Tuesday night the general city and county-wide campaign opened in a banquet held at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel Ballroom, which approximately 500 workers attended. George C. Bollman, of Adamstown, is the general chairman.

White Urges Support

In a letter addressed to his fellow students, Robert M. White, president of Student Council and the campus general chairman, stated, "This is a most important step in keeping Albright College among the leaders in American education. At the same time, the completion of this program will make it possible to render better service to the young men and women attending the College. The success of our campaign is dependent upon each giving in proportion to his ability."

Co-chairmen of the drive are Doris Chanin and Ralph Stutzman and division leaders are Frank Bird, Jay Shenk, Vincent Gentile, and Donald Bauman. Below are listed the team captains and the solicitors under them:

Senior Class

Winifred Johnson, captain; Vivian MacLachie, James Ervin, James Raab, Patricia Pearce and Darlington Hoopes Jr., Harold Master, captain; Ethel Harris, John Bailey, William P. Each team will debate twice. From 4 to 5 o'clock debates will be held in rooms 204 and 205, and following supper, there will be debates in rooms 103 and 204 from 7 to 8 o'clock. If possible these debates will be judged and a winner chosen.

William Collier and John Rhoads will represent Albright in the debates. All students and faculty members are invited to attend this "Model Tournament."

The Time Is Now

Now is our chance. We the students of Albright College have the opportunity to show our school just how much it means to us. We can concretely prove our loyalty to our Alma Mater by giving what we can to help erect the physical education building and field house we need.

The growth of a college shows its effect not only on the students now enrolled, but also on alumni and future students. Once we enroll at Albright, we automatically become part of it, and whatever happens within the walls of Albright is not only our concern as students but as graduates. We all want to see Albright grow. Now is our chance to aid in this growth.

This student campaign for funds is unique on our campus, but has been tried at other campuses, and it has met with great success. The sums of money that can be raised by students, for student needs, can be a tremendous amount. We have been asked to contribute over a period of 30 months. By putting aside a dollar or so a month we can fulfill our pledges and be proud of a job well done. It's not impossible to do. We have proved ourselves before, and we will do it again.

Let's show the administration, our alumni, our community and friends how much a physical education building would mean to us. Let's each and everyone give generously when approached by a fellow student. Many students have worked hard to make this drive a success. If we all cooperate it will be a success. Now is our chance!

Not Only Ourselves

When people say that the students in America think of nothing but themselves, we can show them they are wrong by pointing to the work which has been done by the World Student Service Fund. WSSF is the only student organization which has as its only aim, the support and aid of students across the seas. It is one of the worthiest jobs American students have set for themselves. We all realize the importance of building up our destroyed universities. The little we can do to help may be that little which will show students in desolate countries that they are not forgotten, that there is a student community which is deeply concerned with the welfare of their fellow students.

Because of the scope of the Student Building Fund Campaign the WSSF committee has combined with this campaign on the basis of receiving 5% of every pledge up to their goal of $800.00.

The hand that reaches out with books, paper, pencils and the hundreds of other things which we take for granted, is the hand of friendship from American students, from you, and everywhere. As a finger of that hand reaches out, a spark of hope is kindled, a new light begins to burn... and the flame of knowledge can continue to grow, instead of dying out.

Let's not let any lights of knowledge die—give.

Conversation Pieces

Literary Gem: All work and no play makes plenty of jack.

Joke: Did you hear about the cross-eyed professor who couldn't control his pupils?

Although more and more Albrightians have been coming to school by car, motor scooter, or bicycle since the bus strike started, there are still plenty who walk every day. Here's a chance for some enterprising student to make some extra money. With two old bicycle wheels and a few wooden planks an excellent rickshaw can be constructed. If you're a little short of money this month, build a rickshaw, give yourself a Chinese name such as Sen Sen, and go around picking up fares. As far as we can learn, no permit, such as taxicabs must have, is required.

Prof. Dunkle is right about those fish in Sylvan Lake. The Centennial committee's first move should be to get better looking fish.

If a male student wishes to smoke in the S.U.B., he merely pulls out a cigarette and lights it. However, for the Albright coed the story is quite different. A rule of the college permits men but not women to smoke on campus. Thus, Nicotine Nancy is forced to live dangerously if she wishes to smoke. The door opens, and Nancy looks the situation over. All clear. She enters and "borrows" a cigarette from a male friend. Furtively, she sneaks to the women's locker room to smoke. Temptation is only temptation when one is living dangerously.

Everyone has made his bi-annual resolution to keep up with his work this semester—up to date notebooks, term papers completed before Due Day, all assignments done in plenty of time, etc., etc.

How long will these resolutions last? Mine has been broken already. This Albrightian assignment was due a half hour ago, and I still have to type it.

The Answer Man

This column will appear from time to time as a public service to Albright College students and faculty members. All questions must be addressed to this column, c/o The Albrightian, and only letters of general interest and those of a non-personal nature will be answered.

Miss L. C. of Selwyn Hall asks: Why do professors at Albright College give examinations so frequently towards the end of the semester?

ANSWER: Examinations at Albright College are given frequently towards the end of the semester, so that the professor can get a quick review of the course in adequate time for teaching same in the second semester.

Mr. K. L., can you explain why some psychiatrists feel that the sex drive is man's strongest drive?

ANSWER: Yes. Mr. J. B. of Reading asks: Why is Albright College sponsoring a drive to raise $410,000?

ANSWER: Money is the most acceptable form of credit for the erection of any structure.

Miss Q. R. of Reading asks: Why does the administration want to abolish necking on campus?

ANSWER: Most members of the administration are getting too old for that sort of thing.

Mr. K. L. asks: What is the fastest way of spreading a message in Selwyn Hall?

ANSWER: Give the message to one girl, and tell her that it must be kept secret by all means.

Miss J. B. asks: What is the greatest advantage of being an Albright May Queen?

ANSWER: The greatest advantage of being an Albright May Queen is that the lucky person will not be seen unwinding a May pole in three-quarter time.

A freshman girl asks: What constitutes your idea of a fine Saturday night date?

ANSWER: My idea was different when I was a freshman.

A freshman asks: How do you keep away from cosmic influences while at college?

ANSWER: Always walk on the right side of the street.

It has always been something new and different with this Dandy Lion, whether the issue is ideas, predicaments, or what have you. This gal is definitely a disciple of the "unheard of." Now she has large brown eyes, short brown locks, and a melodious laugh that can be identified in the largest of crowds. Who is she? Why, Jane Roney, better known as "Mickey."

Mickey, a Sociology major, is a great advocate of the Spanish language, minoring in same. In fact, in view of her interest she flew (by airplane) to Puerto Rico last summer, and we're still hearing about the great time she had. She also focuses her attention on a few other things. For the PAT's she acts as corresponding secretary. She presides as Women's Sports Editor of the Cue, and the Women's Athletic Association claims her as prexy. Mickey also has a voice! She contributes her talents to the Y Choir, and we'll wager that it will be a long time before she forgets the ribbing she withstands as the "star alto" of the Women's Glee Club. And that's not all, for Mickey is a staunch devotee of basketball and softball and an expert at swinging a hockey stick.

From September of '46, Mickey has been famous as a practical joker, and if anyone wants to know to where their mattress, bureau drawers, or light bulbs disappeared, just ask her. And the predicaments that girl can get into! They blow the tops off all the norms. One of her most recent was her troubles as a "cadet" out at the airport. Just yell "salute" at her and we're willing to bet our eyeteeth that she'll click her heels. We might call her the instigator of the new short hair length, for during her freshman year she appeared on the scene with her locks almost to the tops of her ears. She gives the excuse that someone at camp had gotten happy with a pair of scissors. Well, maybe—!

But seriously, our favorite character has a great yen for the airways and is planning on becoming an airline hostess. So—take to the air for a trip packed with laughs. And the best of luck to you, Mickey.

Albright Fables

The teacher was standing stiffly in front of her desk, telling her little worm pupils about democracy. "Worms, the most important thing in the world is to know about yourself—what you are, how you function, what you want and what is best for you. You must always study yourself thoroughly, so that you understand yourself; then you can understand your fellow worms, and finally, after you know all about yourself and about how worm society works, then you can help to improve society for your fellow worms."

All the little worms sat attentively and listened to teacher. It was all very clear to them what they must do, even though it would take a long time before they would ever know enough about worms to do anything for them. But they thanked teacher for telling them what little worms must do.

Only Joe Worm didn't quite understand what teacher meant. "Gee," he thought, "if I take enough time to know myself thoroughly and know all my fellow worms, and then to apply all that I learn to worm society, I'll be too old to do anything to improve the life of us worms. Surely there must be an easier way."

And all the way home that day, Joe thought about finding an easier way to get to know himself. He finally decided that since all himself was inside his body, if he could just look around in there, it shouldn't take too long to see what made him tick. As soon as he got home, he went up to his room, laid his books on his desk, and sat down on the floor to look inside himself. He looked down his throat, but it was so dark down there that he couldn't make out anything. He put his head farther down his throat and it seemed to be a little lighter but he still couldn't make out exactly what he was made of and how he worked. He pushed his head way down to his stomach but it was still very murky. Farther and farther down into his abdomen he explored until he reached the tip of his tail and still he could not see just what it was that he was made of, or what made him the way he was, when all of a sudden with a little "pop" he turned completely inside out.

And the next morning he woke up in the first circle of Worm Hell. B.B.

APO B's	0	5
Cats	0	5

Both Fraternity and Independent League leaders in the intramural competition managed to hold their positions in the week's contests, the Kappas with an overwhelming defeat of the KTX quintet and the Joy Boys with a ticklish extra-period conquest of the battling Cats. In another history-making fracas the Red Rockets nudged the Zetas to enter into a second-place tie with the APO's who defeated the Pi Tau Beta fraternity.

Walt Fox and Joe Czutno led the winning Kappas' scoring with ten and eight points, respectively, in a game which saw them defeat the luckless KTX squad, 37-7. The Joy Boys' scoring was evenly divided in their battle with the Cats which resulted in 36-34 victory for them after the game had run into a spine-tingling extra period. Al Harnly, Dale Moyer, Bruce Tenley, and Jay Sherlach split 32 points for their winning team.

Nip-and-Tuck Fracas

The Red Rocket-Zeta fracas was nip-and-tuck all the way, the half-time score standing at 16-14, and the final tally standing at 31-29. John Werley topped the victors' scoring with 11 big tallies while Pete Roethermel sparked his battling Zeta squad with 12.

George Baumgaertel swished the cords for 11 counters to top his APO squad which overpowered the Pi Taus by a score of 39-28 to enable them to grab a second place tie with the Red Rockets. Dick Koch topped the losing cause with ten points.

Ticklish Battles

The two remaining Independent League battles were just as ticklish as the Joy Boy-Cat fracas. The Nohawks barely managed to squeak by the "easy" Aces with a 41-40 score to grab the second rung of the Independent ladder. Norm Dettra led the winners by tickling the tassels for a gigantic 18 points. Don Grigsby with 14 and Floyd Rightmire with 12 were the high scorers for the losing quintet.

The APO B's and 16's battled it out for the lower rungs in the Independent loop. The former squad tried gamely to grab their first win of the year but were stifled by the 16's who nudged them, 25-23. Joel Gilbert and Ron Romig split 12 tallies for the losers while Frank Maurer sparked the conquerors with 11.

Femme Hoopsters Prep for Season

Alumnae, Ursinus First on Schedule

At long last the femme basketballers under Coach Eva Mosser will have a chance to display their basketball talents, which have been slowly but rather smoothly developing over the last six weeks, when they will face the Alumnae and Ursinus in the first two battles of an eleven-game card.

This Friday evening at 8 p. m. in the 13th and Union Grade School Gym they will open their 1950 season against a star-studded array of Alumnae. Not only will these former proteges of Mrs. Mosser have a chance to show how well they perform without having any benefit of practice, but they will also give the varsity some very stiff competition. So a word to the wise is sufficient when we say that a nip-and-tuck affair is to be expected as the Albright Lionesses go forth in conquest of their first win and also a repeat of last year's 40-22 score.

Thirteen Alumnae to Appear

Appearing for the Alumnae will be the four Jeans—Borgstrom, Flickinger, Schwartz and Long—plus Mary Eschew, Marie Bonner, Betty Sarge, Sylvia Hoppaugh, Anna Lauver, Erma Leinbach, Swope, Virginia Woerle Deach, Marjorie Christ, and Fay Sheetz. Mrs. Mosser will choose her probable starters from an array of seasoned veterans as well as some very promising freshmen. At present the hopefuls are Captain Margie "Hesitation Shot" Zeock, Nancy Stump, Mickey Roney, Eleanor Spring, Joan Betty Peck, Anona Serfass, Pat Miller, Carol Krecker, Pat Kennedy, Dottie Kuettel, Judy Leinbach, Nancy Leimeister, Shirley Johnson, Jean Magee, Barbara Wisley, Mary Swartz, Dolores Bedding, Claire Bailey, Barbara Kast, Helen Hasselgren, Marilyn Metzger, Joan Boyle, and Helene Auer.

Student managers of the teams are Cleta Rein, Evelyn Kressler, and Marilyn Himmelstein.

Host to Ursinus

Following the Alumnae contest, the Lionesses will be host to the Snell's Belles of Ursinus. The game is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in the 13th and Union Gym. A junior varsity game will precede the varsity game. The girls from Collegeville have been a nemesis to the Albright lassies, and the Red and White hoopsters hope to overcome the jinx by recording a well-earned victory to help avenge the 44-27 reversal handed them at Ursinus last year.

Impossible Occurs In Faculty Bowling

The unbelievable has happened. Professor Donald S. (Headpin) Gates managed at last to roll a creditable score and topped the weekly faculty bowling list with an average Tuesday's work of 165 and a top individual game score of 186. Dr. Gerrit Memming headed the list for Tuesday, January 31, with an average score of 163 and a top individual game of 192. Here are the scores for that date:

Name	Score	Avg.
Memming	192	120

Mules Halt Cats' Four Game Streak In 79-58 Repeater

Albright Defeats Seton Hall, 63-62

A four game winning streak on the part of Albright's Lions was brought to an abrupt halt last Saturday night at Rockne Hall when the Muhlenberg Mules turned in a 79-58 repeat performance against the Cats. The Lions' basketball express had previously piled up its 9-4 record at the expense of Seton Hall, Lebanon Valley, Wagner, and Shippensburg.

This victory was the year's first for the defending champions in the Western Division of the Middle Atlantic State Conference after their initial loss to the Scranton Royals. It also marked the first loss for the Dutchmen in the league after previously having defeated both Scranton and Moravian, and gave the Lions a chance for a tie with the Royals and Dutchmen if they overpowered Moravian tomorrow night at Northwest.

The Gullian charges started their skein of victories on Saturday, January 21, just three nights after they had stepped out of their class to take an 84-37 pounding from mighty La Salle in Philadelphia. But the Lions showed no bad effects from this defeat and went on to display their best form of the year as they edged mighty Seton Hall, 63-62.

The Cats struggled to maintain a lead all evening which was broken in the last three minutes of play by Sam Lackaye, whose layup and free throw put the Pirates ahead, 62-61. Here Capt. Eddie Anlian grabbed the leather after a timely time-out and clinaxed his evening's 21 tallies with the winning field goal in the last 45 seconds of play. The Lions managed to freeze the ball successfully for the remaining seconds and copped the history-making laurels, 63-62.

Continue Winning Ways

But this was only the beginning. The Cats continued playing this kind of ball and a week later defeated highly-touted Lebanon Valley by a score of 73-64. Danny Bieber was the hero of this seventh win as he racked up 19 tallies in the nip-and-tuck fracas.

The next two games found the local boys on the road, journeying first of all to New York to meet and defeat Wagner College, 75-64, on Wednesday, February 1. Anlian cut loose in this game to garner the phenomenal total of 27 points, his best effort of the season. The battle was shaky until Anlian, Joe Cappel, Bob Ruoff, and Pat Bieber combined to tally the seven clutching points.

Anlian Scores 27

The following evening the Cats stopped off at Shippensburg, and once again it was Anlian who scored 25 points to lead his mates to a squeaking 63-60 win over the Raiders. His two foul calls sparked the Lions to the lead in the final stanza after it had shifted hands seven times before. Pat Bieber, Cappel, and Ozzie Mogel also made tallies in the last four minutes to help grab the victory.

Last Saturday night in a repeat performance at Allentown a sharpshooting Muhlenberg College five sliced the Lions' four game streak with a 79-58 victory. Mary Jaffe's ten field goals out of 14 tries demonstrated the sensational shooting that the Mules performed. Anlian and Ruoff led the Cats by splitting 23 tallies.

Seek Second and Third M.A.S.C. Wins In Next Week

Greyhounds Sport Only Three Victories; L. V., Hawks Ask Revenge in Return Frays

Invading the Northwest hardwoods tomorrow night at 8:15 p. m. will be the sleek Greyhounds of Moravian, who will be seeking their first Western Division, M. A. S. C. victory. The Lions then will take to the trails on Monday in a return engagement with Lebanon Valley and travel in the opposite direction on Wednesday to the City of Brotherly Love for a second battle with the Hawks of St. Joe's. In the battles with the Greyhounds and Dutchmen the Cats will be gunning for their second and third league wins.

CAPABLE RESERVE

Bernie Lillis

Coach Harvey Gillespie of Moravian had to build a new squad around his two veterans—Bill Werpehoski and Johnny Stengele. Werpehoski led last year's combine with 398 points and his cohort Stengele tabbed 222 markers. To date, the Bethlehem aggregation has had tough sledding (no snow), and have only copped three wins out of eleven games. The Hounds have suffered losses to Upsala in an overtime game, 81-86; West Chester, 40-51 (the latter in turn losing to Albright, 56-52); Hoffstra, 69-80; PMC, 65-78; Lincoln U., 57-60 (next home opponent); Lebanon Valley, 79-102 (Lions on top, 74-67); and the Royals of Scranton, 68-78.

The Gillespie men pounded Ursinus, 73-54; squashed E-town, 94-70; and gained revenge last Saturday by walloping West Chester, 80-60. Werpehoski led the way with 27 tallies and was assisted by Ed Novograts and Fritz Toner who shared 26 digits. Last year the Albright men took away the Middle Atlantic title from Moravian and beat them twice by the scores of 72-48 and 66-58.

Return Encounter

In playing a return encounter with the Dutchmen of Anville, the Gullian combine will be in for a hard time on the Lebanon High court. Ralph Mease showed his potential power in the first tangle when his troops made up of Floyd Becker, Larry Kinsella, Ed Frazier, and Dick Furda fired away at the Western Division (M.A.S.C.) Standings

Tomorrow evening at Northwest the Moravian Jayvees will provide the preliminary opposition for the Baby Cats, who have thus far won three games out of twelve starts. On February 13 the Kittens will travel to Anville to attempt to chalk up a second win over a team which they defeated 39-36 on January 28. The following Wednesday evening the squad will make its second appearance in Philadelphia this year when they will engage the St. Joseph's frosh.

Snap Losing Streak

On Saturday, January 28, the Albright Jayvee aggregation snapped their eight-game losing streak by topping the Lebanon Valley Jayvees, 39-36. Shippe and Blackie Moyer led the victors' attack with 12 and seven points, respectively. A repeat performance will be sought on Monday night.

The Seton Hall Jayvees proved too powerful for the Baby Cats on January 21 and vanquished them to the tune of 67-40. Shippe tallied 15 and Earl Gernert ten to top the losers' scoring.

Traveling for the first time to the Quaker City on Wednesday, January 18, the Kittens dropped a lopsided 88-17 decision to the powerful La Salle frosh. McCarty again sparked his losing squad with eight points.

In a return engagement at Rockne Hall last Saturday night the Kittens dropped a 66-44 decision to the talented Muhlenberg frosh. Doc McCarty with ten, Rod Shippe with eight, and Roy Boush with seven were high scorers for the squad, which earlier this year had been defeated by the Baby Mules, 64-38.

Creeping to Philadelphia in a slow bus, the Lions invade the Hawks' sanctuary at 54th and City Line in the Quaker City on February 15. The Ferguson five tasted defeat at the hands of mighty La Salle last Saturday, 79-59. Paul Senesky showered the hoops for a total of 16 and was backed up by Johnny Hughes and Tommy Frein with 12 and 11 points respectively. In the game at Northwest, Senesky swished the nets for 18 points. The City Liners sport a 6 and 11 record so far this season and have a battle coming up with Muhlenberg tomorrow. Since the Albright game, St. Joe's bowed to Southern Cal, Temple, St. John's, Bradley, Rhode Island, Westminster, and La Salle twice. On the brighter side, the Hawks erased Utah, 69-68, Rutgers, 66-54, and St. Francis (Pa.), 67-64.

John W. Vandercook, News Analyst, To Address Chapel

John W. Vandercook, news analyst, explorer and author, will speak in Union Hall at 11:10 a. m. on Tuesday, February 14, as the third attraction in the 1949-50 Cultural Program series.

Vandercook has lived in or traveled through 78 different countries. In September 1940 he joined the staff of the National Broadcasting Company as a news commentator, a post which he held for six years, giving more than 2000 network broadcasts.

In addition to participating in World War Two as a commentator-correspondent in the 1944 Allied offensive into Italy, Vandercook took part in the Normandy invasion and was in London during the first phases of the V-1 robot-bomb attacks. In the summer of 1947 he revisited Europe to study postwar conditions, and in 1948-49 the European Recovery Program.

After a year at Yale University as an undergraduate, Vandercook decided he wished to become an actor, but before long turned his attention to journalism. He served on the Columbus (O.) Citizen and from there went on to other newspapers in Washington, D. C. and Baltimore.

In 1925 Vandercook began a series of long and leisurely journeys which were to go on without interruption for more than 12 years. The first was to the interior of Dutch Guiana among the unique and curious Negro tribes that live in the jungles of northern South America. From this adventure came Vandercook's first book, Tom-Tom.

A stay on the island of Haiti, followed by months of careful historical research, produced Black Majesty in 1928, of which more than 100,000 copies were sold. Subsequently Vandercook traveled to Africa and the western Pacific region. On his trip into the Papuan Delta on the southern coast of the island of New Guinea, Vandercook succeeded in penetrating without mishap the land of an extraordinary tribe of head-collecting cannibals, most of whom had never before seen a white man. During the same year he also crossed the primitive Island of Malaita, in the Solomon Islands, by a previously untraveled route, discovering an unsuspected river high among Malaita's jungle-covered mountains.

In the intervals between these journeys Vandercook returned to New York and contributed articles on travel and explorations and on world affairs to leading publications. He has written numerous biographies, travel books, short stories, and detective stories.

Barbara Brady, Coach Gulian Give Campaign Sendoff

A joint appeal for the World Student Service Fund and Albright's campaign for a field house was presented to students in the two chapel programs this week, by Miss Barbara Brady, consultant for the WSSF, Coach Edward Gulian, and several of the students.

Miss Brady, who has traveled widely, told the two groups of conditions existing among students in Burma, the country chosen for aid by Albright. Using the University of Rangoon as an example, she described conditions under which students are forced to live, the high rate of tuberculosis, and the loss of equipment the university has suffered through burning and looting. American students have a moral responsibility, she reminded the groups. She said that Burma, as a project, dare not be dropped.

Ralph Stutzman stated that the goal of the joint campaign is at least $16,000, of which $800 will be given to the WSSF.

Members of the various athletic groups presented their groups' needs for a field house. Jane Roney spoke for the Women's Athletic Association, Frank Bird for the football team, Bill Krohto for the basketball team, John McKenna for the basketball team, and Coach Gulian, speaking for the sports program as a whole, described the building as it has been planned.
