Dick Stinson Chosen To Fill Two Student Radio Positions

Richard Stinson has been chosen assistant director of Radio Workshop by Nan Heckman, director, and also Radio News Editor of The Albrightian by Patricia Poore, editor. These appointments have been approved by Mr. Lester L. Stabler, director of public relations and advisor of Radio Workshop and The Albrightian.

A junior, Stinson has been very active in radio work here at Albright and has appeared in several Domino productions, the most memorable was his portrayal of the old sea captain in "Thunder Rock." A psychology major, he was president of his class, and a member of Student Council, the N.S.A. committee, and German Club during his freshman year.

Active in Y work, Stinson is serving on the Y conference committee and will aid in the 15-minute weekly radio broadcasts which will consist mostly of meditation. He is a member of Kappa Tau Chi, pre-ministerial fraternity.

In the past Radio Workshop broadcasts have been produced weekly for a half hour over station WEEU. The newcast has been featured on WHUM. Both of these stations donate the time as a public service feature.

The times for these programs has not yet been decided.

Y's to Attempt To Stump Experts

On November 3, 4, and 5 the Social Faith and Heritage Commission will go to Kiriakridge for a retreat.

KUP To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

The Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity will celebrate its 50th anniversary as part of the Homecoming, Saturday, October 7. A dinner-dance will be held at the Tower Hotel beginning at 6:45 P. M. Approximately 150 couples will attend the event.

In 1948 two charter members flew in from California and Texas to attend Homecoming, and they are expected again this year. Mr. Elmer Mohr, also a charter member, class of '02, is expected to attend the affair. The program will consist of talks by the oldest members.

At the regular meeting of the Kappas on Monday, October 2 the members formally welcomed Mr. Robert Hicks as their new faculty advisor for the coming year. Joseph Czutno was elected coach of the fraternity football team.

Connor Announces New Cheerleaders Selected To Fill Positions On Squad

Terry Connor, captain of Albright's cheering squad this year, announced the names of the new varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders at the close of the try-outs which were held Thursday afternoon, September 28 in Union Hall. Greta Schwerens, Lois Stockinger, and Barry Friedlander made the varsity; while Louise Robertson, Shirley Slika, Lois Hiltz, Janet Pritchard, and Margaret Israel will form the junior varsity.

Greta Schwerens, a cute, blond sophomore who hails from Hewlett, Long Island, starts her experiences with Albright's squad after cheering for three years at Woodmere High. In her last year of high school Greta was captain of her squad. Lois Stockinger, who is 4'11", is the "little one" on our varsity this year; in fact, she is our smallest Frosh. With all her pep Lois certainly proves the saying—"dynamite comes in small packages." Our "little package"

Y Retreat Draws 60 Albrightians To Blue Mountain

Sixty Albright students found "Time to Spare" for retreat this past weekend, September 30-October 1 at the Blue Mountain Y. W. C. A. camp. They found fellowship and stimulating thought in the recreational activities and seminars.

Rev. Barth spoke at the first seminar, Saturday afternoon on "Man's Disorder." He gave the basic causes of the restlessness in the world as a world of terrifying indeterminacy, secularism, anarchy of values and the rootlessness of man. Stating that the church today has become a luxury rather than a necessity, Rev. Barth pointed out that man has found a life outside of the church and no longer feels the need of the divine. Man still accepts religion, but does not live it, uses relatives instead of absolutes. He ended his talk by saying that man has lost his sense of the divine and has attempted to elevate himself in its place.

Harboring Addresses Group

Professor Harding during the second seminar on Saturday night spoke on "God's Design." Tracing several ideas of God's Design from the Puritan period through Emerson's time, Harding emphasized man's depravity and also the idea of a formation of a perfect world as set forth by Emerson. He stressed the fact that it was up to man to determine which design of God he would choose for himself.

One of the highlights of the retreat was the early morning communion service on Sunday morning and the period of silent individual meditation which followed.

The last seminar on Sunday morning was led by Professor Haskell who discussed the topic "Signs of Hope." He pointed out that man has a realization that something is wrong with society. Man has a sense of repentance. Two sources of hope are God and the nature of man. He mentioned several means of hope to be found in the world today such as the redeemed individual who develops through prayer and service; regenerative moves in society; increased racial and group justice and individual reform.

All of the groups returned to campus with renewed hope in man and religion and found increased necessity to find "time to spare for God."

Welcome Alnmni

Homecoming is always an important day for both the alumni of the college, present students and the institution itself. The football game, the dance, the alumni tea and the fraternity and sorority affairs combine to make the occasion a gala one.

The deeper importance of the day, however, is to be found in the renewing of the intangible ties between Albright College and her sons and daughters. It is only too easy to forget the ideals which the college fosters after we have plunged into everyday living with all of its bewildering perplexities. Homecoming Day serves to recall these ideals.

Moreover, it is easy to forget the people who guided us during our college days and to forget those with whom we worked and played. Homecoming Day presents an opportunity to renew old acquaintances. It is also easy to forget that Albright needs us even after we have become alumni. Homecoming helps us to see more clearly the role which we can play in keeping Albright always the kind of college we can be proud of.

It is inevitable that the passing years bring changes in the physical nature of the Albright campus. Numerous improvements have been made to the buildings and grounds during the past summer. But in spite of these changes the spirit of Albright will remain forever the same.

We welcome our alumni who will return to the campus tomorrow for the 1950 Homecoming. We hope that they will enjoy their day and that they will feel with increased awareness the tie which forever unites them with Albright College.

The Fall Y Retreat

For the sixty students and faculty members who attended the annual fall Y retreat at Blue Mountain, the weekend of September 30 and October 1 will long be remembered as one of the inspirational high points of their lives. The beauties of God's creation, the joy of friendship and the searching quest for truth blended in a near-perfect combination to make this retreat a successful one.

Actually, however, the real significance of the retreat lies not so much in how successful or enjoyable it was for its own sake, but in how much the lives of those who were there will be transformed by the experience, and consequently in how much Albright College will become a better place.

It was significant that the retreat ended on a note of hope and not despair. Admittedly man and society are passing through a period in history when frustration and futility are the dominant attitudes. Perhaps there is greater need than ever before for a dynamic faith in God and in the dignity of man. Yet in man's dawning consciousness of his predicament and an increasing awareness of the redemptive power of God and the potentialities of man there lie definite signs of hope.

The real value of this fall's Y retreat will be realized only as its challenge to make dreams become realities is accepted not only by those who were there but by all Albrightians.

Words And Music

By John McKenna

At the foot of old Mount Penn,
 In the roaring Lion's den,
 Gather students, teachers, graduates this day.
 Here to honor and recall
 As we gaze at hallowed hall,
 We remember and in reverence, homage pay.
 Show forth her banner, Shout hurrah!
 Veritas justitia.
 Ever forward shall our Alma Mater go,
 Show your colors red and white.
 Shout our rally for Albright.
 Shout Albright!

It was at the Fellowship Dinner on September 14 that Jay Shenk, the master of ceremonies for the evening, introduced to the freshmen and the other students and faculty present at the affair a new song. All of us hope it will become a part of the Albright "hit parade" of songs.

The story really began last spring at a Student Council meeting. It was agreed that Albright needed new school songs, perhaps a new Alma Mater, which would be sung and remembered by every Albrightian and alumni. It was suggested that the man for the job was John McKenna who was known for his clever renditions at the piano. John was asked if he would try and compose something during the summer. Even after John graduated last June, he kept thinking about the Alma Mater. Inspiration came early in September, while John was waiting to put in a long distance call to New Jersey. First the tune and then within a couple of hours John had a rough draft of the melody and the lyrics.

During Orientation week John played his song. Jay Shenk and everyone who happened to hear John playing it in Selwyn Parlor agreed it should be presented to the student body for their approval. After Mary Ellen Schuman transposed it into a lower key, the song was ready. At the dinner Len Buxton hummed the tune through once, and then everyone joined in the singing. After the third time, the spirit and meaning of the song seemed to arouse every listener.

Since then it has been sung at several student gatherings, and quite often you can hear someone whistling or humming the tune.

We wish that the students would express their opinions about this song by telling their Student Council representatives or by writing to the editor of The Albrightian.

Button, Frosh

"Air-raid, Frosh!" snarled a burley upper-classman, and down you went like bowling pins in the one-three pocket. You yelled, moaned and groaned about rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. So what, one aspirin will cure it all. Stop complaining, Frosh, 'cause (to be divinely original) "you ain't seen nothing yet." Wait until the game this Saturday . . . If you're lucky we won't make you mow the grass on the entire football field, between halves, with an electric razor.

So you think you look terrible without red paint on your mouth? Those odd socks don't flatter your trim little ankles? The dinks just weren't meant for your exalted role of (whee) college men and women, eh? Do you fellows want to receive instruction as to how to really knot that tie? And what ever happened to the old custom of saying hello to upperclassmen? They might reply, you know.

The time is over when the majority of "frosh" are vets . . . the "frosh" of today is just a poor little green animal that has to be educated . . . and if necessary we shall educate him.

Let this be just a warning, for the committee is really preparing a reception for you come line up time. This reporter will personally take the names of any and all frosh who in the slightest degree deviates from the accepted norm, and turn the aforesaid name into the committee with a recommendation of "no leniency."

So buck up frosh, the worst is yet to come. Best you wise up before we decide to make you bow down to all upperclassmen, and bow down so deep that you will have a scraped nose.

I say, is this part of the freshman orientation?

Here's a Dandy Lion who's a four time winner—on second thought, a five time winner. He has held the office of president of the class of '51 for four consecutive years and is married to a sweet gal named Shirley. Yes, girls, this popular man about campus is taken. No telephone number can be disclosed. Jay Shenk is the only male we know who wears his wedding band on the third finger of his right hand. So don't let that fool you.

Vote for Shenk is a common cliché on the college ballot. For in addition to being class president, Jay is also Y Prexy. Our Dandy Lion seems destined to be president no matter where he is. At Y President's School, Union Seminary, New York, he was honored by becoming the presidents' president.

Those who saw the Domino production "Thundercock" remember Jay's performance of a dashing airplane pilot. Not only is he active in Domino Club and Radio Workshop, but this week's Dandy is a member of Student Council, Kappa Tau Chi, and holds the office of Alpha Pi Omega fraternity chaplain. Jay, a philosophy major, also was a member of the D. P. committee of N. S. A.

A pre-ministerial student, Jay plans to continue his studies at Seminary. In the future the Shenks want to travel and live abroad for awhile.

We will miss our favorite president next year, but we know he will continue to win friends and honors wherever he goes!

Man In Sherman Cottage!

That adorable new male on campus whom few of us can resist is Jeffery Swagert, the pride and joy of Sherman Cottage. Jeff, as he is known to his six attentive, adopted mothers, is we might add the only male who can safely yet completely invade a girls' dormitory. Not only has he invaded the premises of Sherman Cottage, but he has also invaded our hearts.

This eleven month old bundle of energy has been loaned to the practice house by his parents and two young brothers. Jeff, unlike some of the babies who have lived in practice house, has had a normal home life and has been given plenty of love; so his new mothers are trying hard to keep him contented during his stay here.

Once adjusted to his new surroundings, Jeff has kept his nurse busy trying to keep him out of mischief for he is a strong baby and can get around very quickly once allowed to get on all fours. A word of advice to those who stop to talk to Jeff—don't get too close, for he likes to pull hair or take off your glasses.

Those of you who haven't made yourselves acquainted with Jeff will want to do so and an excellent opportunity is around four o'clock when he takes his daily ride around campus. Let's really make our little visitor feel at home by giving him a big Albright welcome.

Chain Reaction

Dear Sir:

This letter was started in Reno with the hope of bringing happiness to some tired businessman.

Unlike most chain letters this one requires no money. Simply send a copy of this letter to five male friends, a bundle up your wife and send her to the fellow whose name appears at the top of the list below.

When your name comes to the head of the list, you will receive 16,718 women.

Have faith! Do not break the chain! One dumb clerk broke the chain and got his own wife back.

Yours in faith,

Stacked Up

Walking into the library, I almost tripped over the doorknob and onto the ropes that protect the school seal. Recovering my dignity, I began to saunter between the two display cases when suddenly my roving eye fell upon the pictures of this year's frosh femmes—WOW! How diverting, and to think that they're here, here, on this campus. With tongue in cheek I hastily memorized all of the names and faces to match. Glory be to Rote Memory, tab.

This accomplished, I set out to find a seat, and thence to study. On the edge of a chair, facing the bust of Shakespeare, sat a misty-eyed girl; and I immediately took the chair beside her.

"Isn't it wonderful!" she moaned to me. "I'm an English major, and now I'll get to read all of his wonderful, wonderful plays. Why I think I'll take the course two times because I just know I'll enjoy it so much!"

"Yep," I looked deeply into her eyes, "there are many of us who feel that a-way. I myself am taking the course for the second time. There's so much to be learned . . . and this year I had to learn it.

Stammering something about having to see a dog, I left her, strode down to the other end of the library, and took a seat beside a tall, grim-looking student wearing hornrim glasses. No sooner did I open my book when, "Ah!" he snarled, and looked at me with bared teeth. "If Kinsey thinks that . . ."

"Pardon me," said I, "but my Uncle Bimbo . . ." and left.

You may wonder why I've written this (or better still, why you've read it). Anyhow, as a result of the above incidents, I sought refuge in the farthest corner of the stacks upstairs and studied until I fell asleep. It is now four A. M. and I've been locked in this dungeon for over seven hours and . . . could I use a cigarette!

CATS SEEK FIRST WIN FROM MORAVIAN

Seven Future Albright Foes Triumphant in Recent Games

All seven of Albright's future gridiron foes emerged triumphant in their battles last weekend with the exception of Moravian who lost to Upsala by the score of 25-13. Adelphi, F&M, Lebanon Valley, Scranton, Gettysburg, and Muhlenberg were all victorious in last week's contests, many of them by decisive margins.

Adelphi College, the Lions' foe next Saturday, October 14 in Albright Stadium, romped over the hapless New York Aggies by the score of 35-0. Franklin and Marshall, slated to oppose the Cats on Saturday, October 21 at Lancaster, scored three second half touchdowns to ruin Johns Hopkins gridiron opener to the tune of 20-14. The Diplomats halfback Herb Rutter accounted for two of the winner's touchdowns, while end John Hartman racked up the third.

Dutchmen Smother Foe
Albright's traditional "worst enemy," Lebanon Valley, piled up tallies in every period to smother their opponents, Mount St. Mary's, 39-0, in last week's contest in the Lebanon High School stadium. Lou Sorrentino was the sparkplug of the squad which is to battle the Lions on October 28 at Lebanon.

Scores in the second and fourth periods enabled the Scranton Royals to pull a surprise victory, 20-7, over St. Vincent's gridiron eleven who had previously not lost a game in 13 starts. Although the ultimate losers started out with their lone T-D in the first stanza, they were overpowered by the Royals' two tallies in the second period and a final one in the fourth stanza. The Cats are scheduled to battle the Royals at home on November 4.

Bullets Defeat Western Maryland
Gettysburg College's gridiron Bulls scored T-D's in each of the final three quarters to overpower Western Maryland, 19-0, on their own Memorial Field. A touchdown toss from signal caller Bob Bitner to Vince Rossetti gave the Bulls their first score, while plunges by Don Young and Tom Faulkner accounted for the latter two touchdowns. Memorial Stadium will be the site of the Bulls-Lion contest on November 11.

Finally, Muhlenberg College's Mules, slated for the home finale on November 18, kicked their heels up to the Bucknell Bisons, 18-13, in their initial contest of the season. Elmo Jackson opened the Mules scoring in the first period and was followed by Whitey Ingold's tally on a pass from George England, the Mules' ace tosser. Halfback Pete Dolly scored the winning touchdown in the third period after which the Mules held down the Bisons with the aid of a dense fog.

PMC Nudges Lions, 12-7, with Aerials

Cats Snap to Action After Talk at Half

The aerial-minded Pennsylvania Military College Cadets defeated the Roaring Lions, 12-7, in a furious contest played on the PMC gridiron at Chester last Saturday afternoon. However, it wasn't a hapless pack of Lions that trotted off the field, for, although the score wasn't in their favor, the ground attack was in their favor, the ground scored 13 first downs to the victors 12 while gobbling up 292 yards on the ground to the opposition's 105. Aerial bombardment again proved the Lion's downfall. The Cadets, when mauled on the ground, took to the air for their winning points. Sharp-eyed Andy Prohaska and Yommie Costello topped nine completed passes for a total of 239 yards.

Following the opening kick-off the Lion backs carried the ball deep into Cadet territory but failed to score. Then as the Cadets threatened, they made a brilliant stand to keep the game at a scoreless tie throughout the first period. It was not until the second quarter that PMC broke the ice with two touchdowns passes to Lippoth to give the Cadets their winning margin.

The fighting Lions came back after the second half kick-off to cut the Cadets' lead. Rod Shippe returned the kick-off from the 17 to his 41 yard line, where Bruce Tenley and Floyd Rightmire took over to gain a first down on the Cadet 46. Billy Krohto and Tenley then raced through a stiffening PMC defense for another 15 yards. After Rightmire gained 18 yards to put the oval on the Cadet 10, Krohto and Tenley reached the two yard stripe, where Krohto took the lead on a hand-off from Sherk and dived for pay-dirt. Rightmire successfully tried the conversion.

Late in the game it appeared that the Lions would pull the game out of the fire, but after a seventy-nine yard drive the Cats lost the ball on a costly fumble at the approaches to the goal. This proved to be their last scoring chance.

Krohto led the Lion backs in the yards gained department with a net total of 101. John Sudol averaged a good 43 yards putting in five attempts. Sudol's sixty-three yard quick kick on the last play of the game was a fitting tribute to a well played contest by the barely vanquished Cats.

Gulian Looks for Victory As Lions Meet Greyhounds In Homecoming Day Fray

Rosati's Squad Sports An Even Record; Gerencser, Snyder Lead Visiting Backs

Highlighting the 91st annual Alumni Homecoming Day tomorrow in the Albright stadium at 2:00 p. m. will be the gridiron contest between the victory-seeking Lions and the Greyhounds from Moravian. Coach Eddie Gulian's Roaring Lions are eager for blood after two losses and hope to find the Greyhound meat to their liking in the first home tilt of the season. The Blue and Grey, under Coach Larry J. Rosati, are sporting a .500 record to date after a 46-14 humbling of Wagner in their opening contest and a defeat at the hands of Upsala, 25-13.

In the previous thirteen contests with Moravian, Albright has been victorious in eleven, while the men from Bethlehem have taken home the bacon on only two occasions. Last year's meeting with the Greyhounds resulted in a 33-6 triumph for the roaring Lions for their first victory of the season. The Lions hope to repeat this favorable history in the contest tomorrow.

In last week's contest with Upsala the Greyhounds held a one point margin until the last minute of the final quarter when the Vikings mapped out two quick touchdowns, the first following the recovery of a costly Moravian fumble.

Gerencser High Scorer

High scorer for the Blue and Grey thus far has been sophomore halfback, Joe Gerencser. In the battle with Wagner he tallied three touchdowns, one on a 95 yard gallop, and also managed to score one of Moravian's two T-D's in the loss to Upsala. In addition, he acts as the Greyhound's conversion booter.

Ray "Honey" Snyder, senior halfback for the Greyhounds, also racked up three touchdowns in the humbling of Wagner College. Dick Keim, senior fullback, tallied the seventh T-D in this game, while Ed Novogratz scored the second in the loss to Upsala. Keim was a leading ground-gainer in four games with the Greyhounds last year before he suffered a back injury and has returned to his former ground-gobbling status in games thus far this year.

Thirty-six Man Squad

More Cross Country Men Needed by Shirk

Faculty manager of athletics and cross country, coach Eugene L. Shirk is still in need of more prospective candidates for the 1950 cross country squad. Interested men can report to the stadium at 4 p. m. any weekday when the practice sessions are regularly held. Track experience is preferred although not necessary. At present the squad is getting in condition for the initial meet against Muhlenberg on October 13.

Nineteen Hopefuls Report to Daily Hockey Workouts

Nineteen hopeful candidates have been faithfully reporting to Coach Eva Mosser's hockey workouts held every weekday except Wednesday at 4:00 o'clock on the north campus field. The squad at present is busy getting in shape for its opening contest scheduled with Lebanon Valley for October 28.

Other teams that will appear on the card when released in the near future are Lebanon Valley, Ursinus, and Moravian, who will participate in a play-day with the Lionesses. Next week the squad will get in finer trim in practice sessions with local high schools such as West Reading and Shillington.

Ten aspiring linemen headed by senior Nancy Stump have joined in the daily sessions. They are Judy Leinbach, Pat Miller, Marge Gardner, Dot Kuettel, Charlie Winder, Ramona Latorre, Carol Krecker, Lois Stockinger, and Lois Hiltz.

Positions on the Lionesses' backfield are being sought by eight hopefuls. They are Helen Hasselgren, Doris Hill, Lois Gehris, Ellie Williams, Ellie Spring, Carol Alt-house, Shirley Silvka, and Peggy Snow. Delores Bedding is the lone goalie candidate while Dorothy Delaney and Jesse Nucci are the newly appointed managers.

Lanshe Gives Cup For Top Gridman

Mr. Anthony Lanshe, local luminary in behind-the-scenes sports activity, has offered to donate a trophy to Albright College which is to be given to the most valuable football player of the present gridiron season. The player to receive the trophy will be determined by a vote of those attending the four home contests in the Albright Stadium. A coupon contained in each home game program is to be used by the fans as a ballot for their candidate of the most valuable player for the 1950 gridiron season.

Let's get those ballots cast on Saturday afternoon at the Moravian fracas, for this is one outstanding player whose choice is up to you, the interested spectator.

Since student agitation has brought up the question of introducing soccer as an intercollegiate sport to the Albright campus we, the illustrious members of the Albrightian sports staff, will attempt to give you the broad viewpoint of the problem. The prime factor halting the introduction of the sport to the campus is the added expense that it would entail. It is a well-known and established fact that Albright College, no exception among small colleges, loses money each year on its athletic activities. Intercollegiate sports, like crime, do not pay.

It is self-evident, also, that a non-spectator (at least not of the paying variety) sport like soccer entails a direct expense for equipment, coaching, etc. Although interested local soccer coaches might be willing to donate their services for a year or so it is a great deal to ask a person year after year for such a great amount of time as soccer coaching requires. Therefore, conservative estimates put the cost of maintaining a soccer team at about one thousand dollars per year, which is a lot of expense to throw on an already financially over-taxed sports program.

But on the brighter side of the prospects is the desire on many of the members of the administration, faculty, local soccer luminaries, and especially students for the inauguration of soccer in the Lion's den. For this reason the college has asked all interested students to sign up in the office of the Faculty Manager of Athletics, Eugene L. Shirk. This will give him definite information as to the number of prospective players when he takes the proposition before the athletic council. All underclassmen who are interested in inaugurating soccer at Albright are therefore urged to sign up in Mr. Shirk's office immediately. If enough men show interest Albright may have a soccer squad in the not too distant future.

Joan Boyle Joins College Band As Drum Majorette

Joan Boyle has been appointed drum majorette of the Albright College Band to replace Nan Heckman who resigned due to a heavy work schedule. Miss Boyle is a member of the sophomore class, Pi Alpha Tau Sorority, the girls' hockey team and girls' basketball team. She is taking the pre-nursing course.

Secondary majorettes are Ann and Kay Girvin, both sophomores. Mariastella Kaputo, Max Miller, Lloyd Sturtz, Elliott Sauersteig, William Glant and Ella Mae Sheesley will form the color guard.

The first appearance of the band will be at the Homecoming game on Saturday, October 7. Several new members have joined the band, and it is now larger than it has been for several years.

Heydinger Gives History Display

Dr. Charles E. Kistler has received word that one of Albright's history majors, Earl J. Heydinger, contributed a display to the Crestline Historical Society in Crestline, Ohio. The display of railroad data was in the form of annual reports of the "Pennsylvania" and "New York Central" which intersect in Crestline.

Since next year is the centennial year, the Ohioans were particularly glad to have this information. Mr. Ernest G. Hesser, president of the Crestline Society, stated: "Since our town . . . is a railroad town, these reports have created great interest and added much to the value of the collection in our Railroad Room."
