Varied Discussions Planned For Campus Religious Week

An entire week of religious and spiritual activities will compose the 1947 Religious Emphasis Week this week, with Dr. Winburn Thomas, general secretary of the student volunteer movement for Christian Missions, as leader. All the meetings will take place during regular chapel and during informal discussion periods in the evenings in the College Chapel and in Selwyn Hall Parlors. Religious Emphasis Week is sponsored by the College Y's and faculty committee on religious activities, headed by Prof. Eugene H. Barth.

Student Y leaders will lead individual chapel programs preceding the addresses by Dr. Thomas. Yesterday, Agnes Snyder and Newell Wert, presidents of the Y.W. and Y.M., conducted the introductory worship services accompanied by the College Choir. They will also close the week's program Friday morning. Robert Holtzapfel and Marjorie Christ, chairmen of the Y worship committees, conducted the discussion period last night and this morning, and will lead the programs tomorrow morning and night, and Thursday morning and evening.

Dr. Thomas' topics are following this theme: last night at 7:45 p. m., "Give the Devil His Due", an analysis of the crisis of our age; this morning at 11:30, "On Your Mark: Get Set", how the Christian should go about living his kind of life in an unchristian world; tonight at 7:45, "Religion on the Grill", a consideration of Joe College's religious perplexities, and some possible ways out; tomorrow at 11:30 a. m., "Democracy's Unfinished Business", the Christian's responsibilities towards society because he is a member of the brotherhood; Wednesday evening, "Program or Program", what the Christian should do if we are to preserve our values in a hostile world; Thursday at 11:30 a. m., "Make Up Your Life — Not Just Your Mind", the Christian's vocation. Athletic Association Elects Flickinger

Jeanne Flickinger was elected president of the Women's Athletic Association last week in the regular women's gym period.

Jean Borgstrom will be vice-president of the W.A.A.; Jean Long will be secretary; and Jean Schwartz will be treasurer.

The retiring officers of the athletic group are Virginia Woerle, president; Miss Flickinger, vice-president; Alice Albright, secretary; and Betty Burnett, treasurer.

Miss Flickinger has been active in all varsity women's sports and has played varsity basketball during the past season. The other officers played varsity basketball, also.

PGM Inducts Seven Neophytes in Initiation

Several social science students were formally inducted into Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society, by President George Morfogen. They include Betty Frederick, Stewart McCleary, Harry Mitchell, Sara Walb, William Walb, Anne Wickham, and Fred Wolf. Dr. John E. Jacobi, head of the department of sociology, was also inducted.

Following the initiation ceremony Edward Bigler read a paper on "The Place of the Church in Labor Relations" and Martha Herrick on "Paranoia". Discussion followed, and committee reports were given on plans for the annual May banquet for active and alumni members.

In a few weeks an annual event will take place on Albright's campus. The event is the traditional Skunk Day. So keep your eyes open for further details in future The Albrightians.

Senate Nominates '47-'48 Officers Discusses Mardi Gras Plans and Proceeds

Suggestions for which the proceeds of the Mardi Gras festivities may be used will be put to a student vote, announced Women's Student Senate. A meeting of representatives from every organization participating in Mardi Gras was held yesterday to determine suitable suggestions for a campus project which will benefit all students.

Lynne Parr, chairman of Mardi Gras, reported on the general plans for the festivities at the meeting of Senate last week.

Geraldine Wentzel, Grace Miller, and Marian Gerberich were nominated by the group for the presidency of Senate. The names will be on the all-college ballot in April. The other officers of Senate will be elected by that group.

Joy Cutler, president, announced plans for Moving Up Day, a traditional ceremony at Albright for women students. It will be held in early May, when the new Senate, dorm women, and daywomen officers will be installed. Each class will assume the status of the next class and the seniors will become alumni.

"Cue" Staff Plans Cabaret Night Dance; Celebrities to Play

The staff of the 1947 "Cue" has tagged the evening of April 25 for its special dance, "Cabaret Night at Albright", announced Mary Jane Thompson, editor and Aaron Taub, business manager. The dance, at which Abe Markowitz and the Celebrities will play, promises to be one of the best Friday night hits this year, says the committee.

The program committee, with Carolyn Powers in charge, will present an array of student talent in the cabaret style. Virginia Woerle is publicity chairman. Refreshments will be handled by Minnie Silberman, while Bea Ribner is in charge of decorations. Chaperones will be secured by Betty Burnett.

The proceeds of the dance, at which admission will be paid, will be

Batten to Speak at Spring Retreat On "Sailing Through Stormy Waters"

Spring Y Retreat, to be held Saturday and Sunday, May 3 and 4 at the Blue Mountain Camp near Hamburg, will feature as its main speaker Reverend Charles Edward Batten, dean of the Crozer Theological Seminary, who will speak on the theme, "Sailing Through Stormy Waters", announced Lucy Smith and Robert Zeigler, co-chairman of the retreat.

In order to develop the general theme, Dean Batten will conduct four seminars, "Broken Waters", "Sails in the Winds", "The Beguiling Storm", and "The Man at the Wheel", which will deal primarily with the problems of Christianity in a world of social misunderstanding and conflict.

Temple Graduate

Dean Batten did undergraduate work at Temple University and was graduated from Crozer and the University of Pennsylvania. He has been associated with Crozer from the time he graduated in 1938, holding the positions of registrar, secretary of the faculty, librarian, and acting president. In 1944 he was appointed dean of the seminary and at the present time is also librarian.

Rev. Batten has been active in youth and college groups for many years and is also dean of the Young Peoples' Summer Assembly of the Baptist Church at Camp Unani, Pa.

Open to Students

The retreat will again be open to a limited number of students. The main emphasis will be put on the seminars, but time is also set aside for fellowship, recreation, and fun.

Major Bowes Feature At Faculty Smorgasbord

Last Friday night sixty members of the college faculty and their families got together for a Smorgasbord, followed by an entertainment based on a Major Bowes amateur program.

Charles L. Gordon, as master of ceremonies, drew out the hidden talent. Mrs. Gerrit Memming started the show by playing the lute and singing several numbers. Miss Elsie Garlach gave several monologues in several dialects. Professors John Khouri and Donald Gates demonstrated one of those famous bowling matches.

Dean George W. Walton put on a one-man comedy act, followed by Professor Elery Haskell's version of a Baptist minister. The barbershop quartet, the Professors Willard Haas, Virgil Zener, F. Wilbur Gingrich, and Eugene H. Barth, rendered several numbers.

Dr. Russell B. Smith played the violin, accompanied at the piano by his daughter. Professor Clyde Harding imitated a musty English professor. President Harry V. Masters led the group singing.

Y Announces Nominees To be on College Ballot

At a special meeting of the campus Y's last week, nominees for next year's officers were announced. These names will be on the all-college ballot.

Y.W.C.A. nominations include Marjorie Christ and Lucy Smith, president; Shirley Miller and Marion Schwartz, vice-president; Doris Downes and Grace Miller, secretary; and Betty Shroyer and Esther Messersmith, treasurer.

Y.M. nominees are Robert Zeigler and Gerald Hertzog, president; William Marlow and (to be named), vice-president; Jack Snook and Eldon Snyder, secretary; and Owen Henry and Elmer Good, treasurer.

Domino to Enact Easter Drama, "Terrible Meek"

In continuation with a College custom, the Domino Club will present an Easter play, "The Terrible Meek", by Charles Rann Kennedy, Sunday in the College Chapel. Two performances will be given, one at 3 p. m. and one at 9 p. m. The performances are open to the public and no admission will be charged.

One Actor

A one act play written for three characters, the drama's cast includes Margaret Fisher as a peasant woman; William Marlow as an Army Captain; and David Bailey as a soldier. The play will be directed by Prof. Annadora Vesper, advisor to the Domino Club.

Jesus' Mother

The drama concerns the thoughts of the mother of Jesus as she watches him die on the cross. The play ends on a note of triumph as the people affirm the belief that Christ will be the saviour of mankind.

used to help meet the expenses of the yearbook. Further details will be announced at a later date.

Albright Actors Move Capacity Audience With Beautiful Performances in "Our Town"

The Domino Club, under the capable direction of Prof. Annadora Vesper, presented to Albright and Reading last Thursday and Friday nights a performance that will not be soon forgotten. By Friday only standing room was available, and small wonder.

Matz Heads Cast

The cast, headed by Perry Matz, shone in making Grover's Corners live again as it did at the turn of the century. Matz, with a brilliant interpretation of the task assigned him, set the mood for "Our Town" in the direct, quiet manner, in which he talked about birth, love, marriage, and death in a small New England town. Patricia Strickler was charming and sincere in the difficult role of Emily, culminating in playing the part of a young woman who returns to life after death. Jeanne Schlegel commendable in her role as Mrs. Gibbs, housewife, mother, and a bit of a philosopher.

John Reside was completely at ease as Mr. Webb. Larry Bott, a newcomer to Domino, gave a sincere, convincing performance as George, the small town boy who marries his sweetheart. Jack Gounder, as the often drunk local choirmaster, lent a note of humor to the play.

Small Town Doctor

Ralph Stoudt gave a polished portrayal as the typical small town doctor. In fact, it is hard to make specific reference to one particular role; each one was that good.

The true test of an amateur play, it would seem to us, is whether or not each member of the cast puts his audience at ease when he is on stage. The cast of "Our Town" did just that, and in doing so, the audience lived each part with them.

Perry Matz

The wedding scene was especially effective, in that it went into the thoughts of the principals of the cast, the last minute doubts that occur so frequently when as an important step as marriage is taken, and the simple beauty of a village wedding.

The third act of the play was the real test for the "Our Town" cast, and a more poignant and thought provoking scene we had not experienced in a long time. Here Miss Strickler especially proved her talent in a scene that was an extremely difficult one to do. The audience was deeply effected, no question about it, because it went straight to the heart.

Added Problems

Doing a play without props added another problem, a problem that the Domino handled with completely successful results. The novelty of making breakfast with no sink, stove, spoon, or bowl, wore off as soon as it had been done once, because it was done so smoothly and accurately.

Cast

Others in the cast were Stewart McCleary, Hawrie Newsome; Esther Saville; Mrs. Webb; Betty Bratton, Rebecca Gibbs; Warren Kaebnick, Professor Willard; Helen Sieber, woman in the Audience; David Bailey, Man in the Audience; Margaret Fisher, Lady in the Audience; Beverly Bresler, Mrs. Soames; William Walker, Constable Warren; John Fausnaught, Sam Craig; Donald Haller, John Stoddard; Elmer Good, Farmer McCarthy and First Dead Man; Haller, Second Dead Man; Miss Fisher, Bailey, Dorothy McFarland, Doris Chanin, Miss Sieber, Fausnaught, People of the Town.

Ladies' Auxiliary To Have Easter Program Next Week

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary will participate in an Easter service during one of their regular meetings next Wednesday, April 2, in the College Chapel.

Mrs. Lester L. Stabler is in charge of the program, which will include choir numbers and a worship service appropriate to the season.

An exhibition of handworked rugs, chair covers, and other home objects will be presented by the Auxiliary tomorrow. The hand made works of art will be shown in Selwyn Parlors from 2 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. Harry V. Masters is president of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Emphasis on the Spirit

This is the week we have been hearing about and planning for during the past month. Religious Emphasis Week. This period has been considered to be of such importance that no tests are to be given during the week so that students and faculty will have time to go to the chapel programs to listen thoroughly and discuss their views and opinions with each other afterwards.

The value each of us will receive from this experience will depend on the person. We can live as usual this week, letting life whirl around us and shoot on, leaving us behind not understanding what it is all about. Or we can add our lives and our thoughts to those of the speaker, taking a few points from each and thinking them over in our minds.

We don't expect an internal revolution but if each of us should gain something new, maybe just the opportunity to hear another's opinions and to think through our own. If we have gained nothing new, then the fault is our own, and it would be advisable to look at ourselves and find what we are lacking.

Orchids to the Cast

One of truly finest and most polished productions of Domino Club we have ever seen was given last week in the form of Thornton Wilder's unique drama, "Our Town." Not daunted by lack of scenery and props, an unusual situation which the play calls for, the cast was right at home in the parts, and in fact, said many of the audience, seemed actually to be living the parts.

The cast, one and all, is to be commended for its complete absorption in its job, for its professional handling of the difficult play, and especially is its director, Prof. Vesper, to be commended for her deft guidance of the cast and her magic touch in helping to give the cast just the right attitude for the drama. Albright is very fortunate in having so gifted a dramatic coach.

Should We Table the Matter?

Recently Student Council has been discussing what action should be taken concerning the incident of Gettysburg students painting the Albright campus and our college's subsequent acceptance of one hundred dollars from Gettysburg students to help pay for removing the damage. As the situation now stands, if an Albrightian should ever break loose and deface the property of another college, the student body would be forced to finance the repairs.

However, if Student Council passes a resolution stating that the Council will not be held responsible for any defacement of another college's property by any member of our student body, then the student body as a whole cannot be assessed and the authorities will be forced to find the persons active in the incident and make them pay for the repairs.

So far, Council has not seen fit to do anything about the whole affair, preferring to table the matter until such an incident may happen. We bring this to the attention of the student body so that if any of you care to have some sort of action taken, you may request your Council representatives. The matter was not brought up at any organization's meeting, so some or many of you may feel quite differently from Council about the matter.

Frank Bird dropped his bow tie into a bottle of sulfuric acid and it dissolved completely, so he can be seen patiently sitting in Selwyn Parlor while Esther Savage tries to tie a new one that doesn't resemble those seen on the Pi Tau pledges.

Speaking of Pi Tau pledges, Hampton "Ham" Pullis manages to keep Betty Hill amused in Soph Chapel with his "cane antics".

Bob Kemp has been among the missing in Science Hall but Mr. Baldorf seems to be taking his place very adequately in bio lab and the women's hearts.

Also from bio-lab comes the report that Tom Holsclaw is one up on Prof Green—for the time being at least. When Green asked Holsclaw what the blood pressure would be of a man catching the 8:40 train for Harrisburg, Holsclaw inquired: "If it takes two pints to fill a quart, how much will it take to Philadelphia?"

The gal running around campus with a long face is Dolores Reinhardt, who is finding it hard to get used to seeing her male friend only once a week now that he is attending Temple University.

Warning: All students will please look twice before throwing their coats over any stationary object—it might be "black-thatched" Eddie Anlian standing outside a classroom waiting for Betty Chelius. Incidentally, Eddie is still trying to explain that proposal he made to Lillian Boyer in English class last week.

Latest scoop on Grace Miller indicates that Jerry Pedota is the "man of the hour". And when Annie says "hour", that's exactly what she means.

Home Ec Omelet

The Home Ec department of Albright was honored with the presence of Dr. Pauline A. Sedors, state supervisor of Home Economics last Tuesday. She accompanied Prof. Innis on a tour of the schools where the seniors are student teaching. They also attended the demonstration at Sinking Spring High School that was given by the day student junior home ec girls.

These clothing demonstrations are outstanding features given by the junior girls at various schools, carrying the theme "Clothes for the College Coed."

The dormitory girls, Doris Hicks, Gloria McKittick, Helen Carol Wright, Grace Miller, Betty Cusano, Betty Shroyer, and Lois Taylor are the models with Marion Swartz as commentator.

These girls carry out their theme by having Marion Swartz packing her trunk for college. She gets tired and relaxes, picking up a magazine, and reads an article on the basic wardrobe for college girls. As she reads the article the different girls who are models come in and model the clothing she is reading about.

They have three demonstrations scheduled. One has taken place already, and was given to the Girl Reserves at the "Y" on March 12. The other two are scheduled to be (Continued on Page 4)

Inquiring Reporter

In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to—what the girls have been thinking about all winter! Is this true at Albright? Well, there's no denying there is something magic in the season. Let's see what some of our happy little students have to say to the question, "What do you like most about springtime?"

Ruth Homan—'48—Psychology—Spring fever and everything that goes with it.

Josephine Stahler—'49—Biology—Takes my rheumatism away.

Patricia Strickler—'50—Pre-Med—Love.

Charles Geiger—'50—Bus. Ad.—Warm weather.

Hazel Calden—'48—English—It's a fairly good excuse for having spring fever—only I have it twelve months a year!

Ralph Stoudt—'50—Lib. Arts—Birds.

Polly Swope—'49—Sociology—What my thoughts turn to.

Grace Cunningham—'50—Pre-Med.—You can take off that excess clothing.

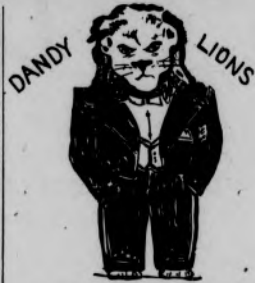

Rachel Ravitz—'49—Lib. Arts—Spring fever (?)

Vivian MacLatchie—'50—Bus. Ad.—Profs are in a better mood.

Gilbert Feag—'48—Chem.—The approaching of summer.

Beverly Morgan—'50—Home Ec—In the spring a young girl's fancy—need I say more?

Marjorie Clark—'50—Pre. Nursing—Daisies bloom in spring, and daisies tell the story.

Ralph Miller, senior, business ad major man of the moment, and undoubtedly one of the finest Albrightians on campus has justly earned for himself the title of this week's Dandy Lion.

In January, 1943, Ralph left the campus to enter the service of Uncle Sam and after spending three years as radio operator in the A.A.F., he returned to Albright in February, 1946. It wasn't long before he entered actively into many of the extracurricular activities that are so much a part of college life. Miller tells us that he hadn't realized the importance of these activities till he returned from the service.

As president of the Veterans' Club, Ralph has ably conducted discussions which center around the numerous problems confronting ex-G.I.'s. An ardent Zeta, this Dandy Lion occupies a two-fold office, vice-prexy and official paddle-wielder, or, to the more conservative, pledge master.

Working on a full time schedule, Ralph finds time to act as treasurer of the senior class, take part in Student Council doings, and participating in intermural sports, particularly basketball, football, and baseball.

A happy-go-lucky smile, a friendly hello, and a general appearance of manly maturity are all a part of Ralph's personality. Just as they have benefited Albright, so these characteristics will help him to be a big success in the business world.

So, to this Dandy Lion, lots of the best of everything from his lionine rooster.

At a recent Alchemists' meeting, student attendance hit a new all-time low, almost a minus percentage. This not only floored the guest speaker, but also forced the chem profs to spread out, and take up more than one seat. This didn't help the effect any. However, one prof found it so easy feat. The whole affair boils down to the fact that of all the members of the Alchemists, only a few attend the meetings. Really, the guest speakers are a class of a soporific than some Chapel speakers we've had. Some of the programs the Alchemists put on are very good. What about it, chem majors and minors, how about some support?

The above paragraph could almost be dittoed if we changed the name of the organization to Skull and Bones. What about it, pre-meds and bio majors? It's your organization! The third floor residents of the Science Hall inquired this week whether Prof Green had laryngitis. It seems that on the third floor, Prof Green can be heard lately only on occasions. The acoustics must be slipping.

Here's a note for prospective anatomy students. Willie "Bagel" Tragle has announced that a course in whale anatomy is to be offered this summer. Those who wish to enroll are asked to provide their own whale, a miner's lamp, one pair of hip boots and a rain coat. Diving helmets are optional. Mr. Tragle tends to break his pupils in by having them crawl through the ductus choledochus. This saves the trouble of probing it with a crow bar. Students desiring this course should contact Mr. Tragle at his office at the Science Hall.

We received the usual number of wise and/or witty sayings this week. Thanks, boys, we wish we could print them, but this week's work was too obvious to slip by the editor.

Mort Says

Or the Test's the Thing

Since last week was the end of the mid-semester examinations and probably the end of some students, it is an appropriate time to look at the different kinds of mid-semester fares that some profs gave. Of course marks don't mean everything (I keep telling the Dean as he sends probation notices) but some tests seem as though they are manufactured to increase the fund of the Red Cross Blood Bank. All in all, though, I have to admit that profs here are almost as human as people. In looking over a few of the blood pumps used by profs on campus, I came on the following:

The short essay test has no more than one hundred questions to be answered (usually no less either). Answers to questions require no more than a brief five hundred word essay verbatim from the encyclopedia. Time limit is liberally set at one hour, which is more than thirty seconds for a question. Spelling, punctuation and capitalization naturally count, but test is most fair of all because sometimes prof is generous and allows an extra ten minutes to finish test while classes change.

The short answer test specializes in tricking students. Main idea of test is for prof to hoodwink students and limit high marks, (or sometimes you can even leave the high out). Typical is the "underline the correct word" question, which has two correct words. Trick is that test says: "fill in word most nearly correct." Students completing course find that they have most nearly learned something from course. High marks are sometimes given to student who underlines word which is underlined on least number of papers.

Spring Sports Schedule Released

By Dave Voigt

With less than a month remaining till big league baseball opening day Albrightians are already discussing the outcome of the race. So with his usual far-sighted optimism, your reporter attempts to line up the teams in the order that closing day in September will find them. This week the American league will be taken over the coals and next week, in a similar manner, the National league will be manhandled.

Yankees Look Good

The Bronx Bombers from Yankee Stadium haven't hauled up a pennant since 1943. That's almost a little too much for owners McPhail and Ed Barrow to take. Bucky Harris is a live wire, and with him at the helm the Yanks should be steadier than they were last year.

Mr. Shirk's "boy", Randy Gumpert, is set for a big season on the mound unless the sophomore jinx hits him. Spud Chandler, Joe Page, Tom Byrne and Chuck Wensloff are all seasoned fingers and should turn in plenty of good games. And with capable receivers on hand like Aaron Robinson and Ken Sylvestri the battery should be set.

Bucky Harris has a crackerjack infield bolstered by the acquisition of George McQuinn. Snuff Stirrweiss, Bob Brown, Bill Johnson, Ray Mack and the aged Frankie Crosetti will have little trouble holding down the inner garden.

Harris' powerful picket line has the usual murderer's row in King Kong Keller, Tom Henrich and Joe DiMaggio. Joe DiMaggio recently underwent a heel operation which can make or break him as a player. The Yankee Clipper was in the throes of a batting slump last season. However, ample rookie reserves will be on hand if needed to fill Joe's big shoes.

Boston and Detroit in Fight

Fighting for a second place and crowding the Yanks for first will be Joe Cronin's Red Sox and Detroit's Tigers. Boston's pitching staff is hot with "Boo" Ferriss, Tex Hughson, Mickey Harris and Joe Dobson in fold. However the rest of the team will not be up to last year's par. At short John Pesky is set for a great season. But Indian Rudy York is no longer a spring chicken and may slump at first base. Also in the outfield with Ted Williams attempting to hit to left field the Red Sox attack may run into trouble.

Detroit will doubtless suffer from the loss of Greenberg's strong arm which moved to Pittsburgh. Hal Newhouser will continue to mow down opposition, but Paul Trout has been clubbed freely during spring training. It looks like "Die" Trout's not the same boy that hung up over 20 games in '45. The rest of the team will have to be built anew and it looks like the best the Motor City lads can do is second.

Cleveland A Threat

Cleveland's Indians may take a lot of teams into camp before the season ends. In fact don't be surprised if the Tribe decides to pitch their wigs in second place! Bob Feller is all set and with stickwork from Joe Gordon, Ken Keltner, Lou Boudreau and Pat Seerey the Tribe should at least hit fourth.

Washington heads the second division choices. It looks like the end of the trail for Griffith's knuckle ball flippers. However if they hold on to Vernon and Sid Hudson they should hold down fifth.

St. Louis Brownies and Chicago White Sox will fight it out for the sixth slot. It looks like a toss up between the two clubs with a slight edge to Ted Lyons' Pale Hose.

And Philadelphia's fruitless Athletics are a cinch to grab last place. Sam Chapman's hitting and great (Continued in Third Column)

F. & M. to Face Lions In Three Spring Sports

The biggest news of the week has been the release of the spring sports schedule by the Athletic Council. First on the line is the 16 game baseball schedule. Included among the teams are such rivals as Lebanon Valley, Franklin and Marshall and our country cousins, Kutztown. LaSalle and Drexel are the big boys on the schedule.

In anticipation of the rough schedule, Coach Smith has his boys firing away at Exeter and Bern Street's diamond.

Wed., April 9—Moravian Home
Tues., April 15—Lebanon Valley Away
Sat., April 19—Susquehanna Away
Tues., April 22—Ursinus Home
Thurs., April 24—LaSalle Home
Sat., April 26—West Chester Away
Tues., April 29—Junata Home
Thurs., May 1—Elizabethtown Home
Sat., May 3—Franklin & Marshall Home
Wed., May 7—Drexel Away
Sat., May 10—Elizabethtown Home
Tues., May 13—Lebanon Valley Home
Thurs., May 15—Moravian Away
Sat., May 17—Kutztown Away
Wed., May 21—Seton Hall Away
Sat., May 24—Bucknell Home

Track Schedule

Gene Shirk's track schedule has just been released and eight meets have been arranged.

The Middle Atlantic championship to be held at Rutgers U. will be the top meet of the season for our cinder and turf boys.

Sat., April 19—29th Annual Berks Co. Scholastic Meet
Wed., April 23—Lafayette—Away (Easton)
Fri. and Sat., April 25-26—Penn Relays—Philadelphia
Sat., May 3—Franklin and Marshall—At Home
Tues., May 5—St. Joseph College—Away—(Phila.)
Sat., May 10—Junata—Away—(Huntingdon)
Sat., May 17—Middle Atlantic Championships at Rutgers
Tues., May 20—Trains—Away—(Collegeville)

Tennis

Tennis, too, is getting quite a padding with 15 games carded. Coach Strong, of football fame, will also hold the reins of the net squad. Capt. Al Fisher, John Dohner, and Paul Siegfried will form the nucleus of Coach Strong's small tennis squad. Once again LaSalle, Muhlenberg, Franklin and Marshall, and Lebanon Valley will be the big teams to beat.

Tues., April 15—Lebanon Valley Away
Sat., April 19—Susquehanna Away
Tues., April 22—Ursinus Home
Wed., April 23—Muhlenberg Away
Thurs., April 24—LaSalle Home
Sat., April 26—West Chester Away
Tues., April 29—Junata Home
Thurs., May 1—Elizabethtown Home
Fri., May 2—Moravian Home
Sat., May 3—Franklin & Marshall Home
Wed., May 7—Lafayette Home
Sat., May 10—Elizabethtown Away
Tues., May 13—Lebanon Valley Home
Thurs., May 15—Moravian Home
Sat., May 17—Kutztown Away

Albright's first postwar baseball team took to the field for the initial practice session. Coach Smith had almost 40 recruits on hand for the first week's festivities. Smith wasted no time putting the boys through the rugged paces. However, Coach Smith is confident that this weeks promise of warm weather will bring some more likely prospects out to swell the already large crew of ball hawks.

Oxenreider in Fold

Among the pitching candidates Coach Smith has Slug Oxenreider, who should see plenty of action. In addition to Slug, George Baumgaertel looked impressive during the initial practice session. Among the other mound candidates eyeing permanent berths are Bernie Eaton, Ed Funk, Bill Kaebnick, Irv Solomon, Mike Plaskonas, Wally Dunecavage, and Dave DeWitt.

Completing a most successful season, Albright's interfrat basketball teams boasted fifteen leading scorers. The amazing Kappa combination, coming through with an untarnished record of eleven straight victories, cornered three positions on the list. Of the three players who scored over 100 points, two were Zeta men, Patrician and Lamberson, with 158 and 133, respectively.

Kachline Is Third

Close on their heels was Ernie Kachline of the Pi Taus, garnering 121 digits. The Pi Taus also placed Miller and Voigt among the top fifteen. Rounding out the first four, Vic Gigli, a Kappa, dumped in 92 markers. Chi Phi, the team which scared everybody with five straight wins, and then proceeded to lose the next three, were represented by Pedota and Jim Fronuth.

Wesner Gets 80

Bill Wesner of Lambda Chi, led the closely-packed last ten scorers, canning 80 points. Included among these players were two Delta Rho men, Krecker and Snook. The winless wonders of APO couldn't crack the honor list.

Zetas High

One of the peculiar ironies of sports became apparent when the Zetas, who finished fifth in the league, placed three men out of the first seven, while the league leading Kappas only captured the fourth, tenth, and thirteenth positions on individual scoring. In the playoffs, however, three Kappa players, Frantz with 16, Beyerle with 18, and Gigli with 15, were leading scorers.

Kachline Valuable

If the most valuable player of the season must be selected, the competition played against as well as the number of points collected must be taken into consideration. Therefore, since 78 of Patrician's points and 42 of Lamberson's were scored against two of the weakest teams, the efforts of Ernie Kachline should be highly commended. The Pi Tau picked up only 18 markers in this way, and at the same time averaged 10 or more points per game. He also was credited with 34 in two playoff games.

Coach Harris expressed his satisfaction with the success of this year's tournament, and the fellows deserve thanks for a very enjoyable season.

Infield See Little Action

Pilot Smith's large infield staff was forced to take things easy as the soft ground made fielding a dangerous proposition. However, when the ground returns to normal, Smith will have quite a crew with Jim Fromuth, Jesse Ervin, Joe Kubisen, Jerry Schaeffer, and "Cookie" Wagner (currently sidelined with a cold), heading the list and looking for full time employment. Also shopping around for top positions are George Morfogen, George Adams, Vic Gigli, Al Voigt, George Lakow, and Jack McKenna.

Picket Line Gets Workout

Coach Smith's pasture patrolmen saw plenty of action chasing batting practice drills last week. George Adams (who also pastimes in the infield), Jim Delp, Stew Beyerle, and Rin Tidolfi took the lead in this department. However, Jerry Pedota, Snyder, Fred Mech, Stevenson, Norm Telsey, and Rapid Robert Evers are still in the running.

Pacing the receiver staff are Mook Guss, Larry Delwiski and big Bill Frantz. And with Walter Cizewski also in fold, Smith should have little trouble with the backstop slot.

Batting Sessions Begin

Coach Smith's lads took their maces in hand for the first time last week. There was plenty of the rusty gate present at the swinging session, but by the time the week rounded out, Mook Guss, Jim Delp, and Slug Oxenreider had poked some becoming drives. Em Glass and George Morfogen also chipped in with some slashes that looked tagged for extra bases.

Well, fans, this brings the curtain down on the first week of baseball's triumphant re-entry into the Lion's den. Next week should see a little oil in the rusty gates and perhaps the removal of a little butter from the bruised fingers of Smith's fly-chasers.

Inaugurate Varsity Golf; Bucknell on Schedule

For the first time in Albright's history a varsity golf team will join the Athletic Parade at Albright. As yet little has been done about a home golf course for the Lion golfers but this should be cleared up by next week.

The tentative golf schedule which has been given to us includes such schools as Bucknell, Franklin and Marshall, Ursinus, Millersville and others.

The call for golf candidates should interest men like "Scooter" Yeum (who claims to know a No. 7 iron from a putter!), Aaron Taub and John Werley. It will be interesting to watch the progress of this new sport in the den.

In a few weeks an annual event will take place on Albright's campus. The event is the traditional Skunk Day. So keep your eyes open for further details in future The Albrightians. It will be a great event.

Council Says:

Eligible members for presidency of Student Council were read at last Thursday's meeting. They are James Brush, Adele Boothroyd, Ray Fidler, John Woynarowski, William Walb, Umberto Tucci, Fred Perfect, Gilbert Feeg, Ira Custman, Catherine Frantz, and Jeanne Flickinger.

It was decided that Council will try to obtain three chapel programs to conduct the all-college election in early April. The student activities committee, with Agnes Snyder as chairman, will conduct the ballot.

Council also decided to send two delegates to the student government conference at Drexel Institute of Technology May 2.

A special Council committee will suggest to the faculty committee on awards that a special award be given to members of the College dance orchestra.

Dean Smith suggested that definite, clear criteria for judging Stunt Night skits be set up and the possibility that faculty editing of skits may eventually be eliminated.

Absent from the meeting were George Morfogen, seniors; Gilbert Feeg, Pi Tau; Frank Bird, freshmen; Umberto Tucci, daymen; Allen Fisher, Pi Tau; Robert Reed, Zeta; Heber Yeagley, Pi Tau; Prof. John Khouri and Dean Levan Smith, faculty.

Zetas Induct Pledges; Miller Pledge Master; Plan Spring Formal

Gerald Laucks conducted the official pledge services for fifteen new initiates to the Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity last week. Assisted by Ralph Miller, vice-president and Robert Reed, chaplain, Laucks charged the following men as Zeta pledges: Walter Bennis, Conrad Cramp, Richard Dexter, Robert Evers, Elmer Good, Jack Gounder, Bruce Kreckler, John McKenna, Robert Moran, Joseph Reeves, Jack Snook, Ronald Sweetapple, John Werley, Donald White, and George Yost.

Miller is pledge master, assisted by Thomas Price, Stewart McCleary, Robert Holtzapfle, and Warren Engle.

Committees have been appointed by Laucks to make plans for the fraternity spring formal.

held March 28 at Wilson High School and April 15 at Fleetwood High.

The day student group, Betty Berger, Marjorie Boyer, Adele Boothroyd, Marion Gerberich and Vivian Miller are models with Mim Parker as commentator.

They carry out the theme presenting a review of the basic wardrobe of a college coed over an imaginary televised program on "Fashions of the Day" over station A.L.B. They present a typical college day on campus, from sleeping tops to evening dresses being modeled.

The day students have presented their three scheduled demonstrations so far, with the first one being given to the Y-Teen club at Southwest Junior High, and the second one at Sinking Spring High School March 18. The last one was given at Shillington High yesterday.

The demonstration given thus far proved very interesting and they were given to very appreciative audiences.

Snook, Prof. Smith Lead In Religious Services Next Palm Sunday

Jack Snook will be student leader in the College Bible Class this Sunday, Palm Sunday. Prof. Lewis E. Smith will teach the lesson on the subject "Jesus Lays Down His Life". Kazuye Kiyono was student leader last week when Prof. Smith spoke on "Jesus' Intercessory Prayer".

Joy Cutler will be student speaker at the weekly vesper services this Sunday. Snook spoke last week at the services.

Permanent Storage Provided For By Two Quonset Huts

Two Quonset huts are scheduled to be set up at the College stadium for permanent storage space, said President Harry V. Masters. One hut will be used to store tools.

An emergency building has been set up for government employees who are supervising the erection of the emergency government building to be set up on the south campus at Bern Street for college assemblies, recreation, and student lounging quarters. It is expected that the building, which is dismantled and carried from Camp Patrick Henry, Virginia, will be ready for use by the beginning of next semester.

Women's Glee Club Sings at Dinner Meeting

The Women's Glee Club of Albright College entertained guests at a dinner meeting last week of the American Chemists and Reading Chemical Society in the College Dining Hall. Jane Reynolds was piano soloist.

The Glee Club also sang last Sunday night at Ebenezer Evangelical Church.

The unimportant event test. Prof. stresses main points of course for fifteen or sixteen hours, students study notes and memorize main points of lecture. Prof. asks questions such as copyright date of second edition of text used ten years ago. Main points of course are all embodied in one ten point question, unimportant events count ninety percent.

The passable test. Everything is easy to understand, students are all satisfied with test marks, until report cards come, then find that prof has pulled a Pearl Harbor, makes some excuse that recitation counts, high marks on test are as valueless as a dollar in the bookstore.

Opinion test is given on controversial courses, prof is very democratic, tells students to write beliefs on all subjects. If subject is well covered but doesn't conform to opinion of prof, there is nothing to worry about because that's what Q minus are made for.

tion; the necessity for decision and dedication. The Y leaders have announced that refreshments will be served after the evening discussions.

As chairman of the International Service Commission, Dr. Thomas, lawyer and world traveler, visited nineteen universities in the French, British, and Russian zones of Germany.

While working with liberal Japanese religious and political personalities in Japan, of whom Kagawa was the leader, the speaker became familiar with the forces shaping occupation policies operating in that land.

Dr. Thomas also is chairman of the executive committee of the United Student Christian Council, which as the American section of the World Student Christian Federation, coordinates cooperative aspects of the student work of the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A., and of thirteen Protestant church agencies.

LOOK

RECORD REVIEW

TOPS IN WAX—Elliot Lawrence and his Band, predicted by LOOK as tops for 1947, offer two of his best waxings to date: They Can't Convince Me and Let's Put Our Dreams Together. These ballads are both done in the "dream" vein, with vocals taken by Jack Hunter. The first side contains an opening chorus played by Elliot's unusual combination of English Horn, two clarinets and bassoon which, when coupled with his piano introduction, serve to provide a highly arresting mood. The Lawrence band plays a listenable type of music, and through the use of unorthodox instrumentation and styling, is now setting a pace that will be picked up by other bands striving for this mood-type music. (Columbia)

DANCE—Eddie Heywood—The Piano Man and His Orchestra: Decca makes a scoring with this Eddie Heywood album of four 10-inch discs. The "Piano Man" handles all eight sides with polished styling which combines effective musical contrasts with his tasteful piano interpolations. Rated among the tops are: Who's Sorry Now?, On The Alamo, Lover Man and It's Only A Paper Moon. Tommy Dorsey has a winning combination in one of the best: How Are Things In Glocca Morra? and When I'm Not Near The Girl I Love. Stuart Foster sings on both sides (RCA Victor). Louis Jordan makes a top-riding boogie of Texas And Pacific, then reverses to a novelty, I Like 'Em Fat Like That, then sings on both (Decca). AMONG THE BEST OF THE NEW DANCE RECORDS: Speaking Of Angels—Dix Benteke with the Miller Orchestra, vocal by Garry Stevens (RCA Victor); How'd Friends (E. T. O. Curtain Call)—Ray McKinley and Orchestra, vocal by McKinley (Majestic); We Could Make Such Beautiful Music—Billy Butterfield, vocal by Pat Flaherty (Capitol); Uncle Remus Said—Guy Lombardo, vocal by

Eddie Heywood

Don Rodney and The Lombardo Trio (Decca); Anniversary Song—Louis Prima, Prima vocal (Majestic) and More, More, More—Lucky Millinder, vocal by Annisteen Allen (Decca).

HOT JAZZ FOR COLLECTORS—Blue Note Records present Art Hodes and his "Back Room Boys" in two 10-inch records—Jug Head Boogie and M. K. Blues; Low Down Blues and Back-Room Blues, which provide plenty of the Hodes' piano supported by All Stars. Among the participating musicians are: Max Kaminsky, (trumpet); Jimmy Shirley, (guitar); Israel Crosby, (bass); and Sandy Williams, (trombone). All sides show a free and easy jam style of improvisation.

VOCAL STANDOUTS—Mel Tormé, coupled with Sonny Burke's band makes a dreamy, ballad pairing of You're Driving Me Crazy and It's Dreamtime (Musicraft). Columbia has a unique offering of Dinah Shore with Spade Cooley's Orchestra doing a western style ballad—Heartaches, Sadness and Tears. On the backing she joins Morris Stoloff to sing Anniversary Song. Harry Babbitt has a good ballad side of How Are Things In Glocca Morra? with a novelty Oahkosh Wis for a backing (Mercury). ALSO TOP VOCALS: Tony Martin's Don't Take Your Love From Me (Decca); Pine Top Schwartz handled by Ella Mae Morse and Her Boogie Woogie Four (Capitol); Santa Catalina sung by Eddie Howard with his Trio and Band (Majestic); and Roses In The Rain sung by Matt Dennis with Paul Weston and Orchestra (Capitol). —Sam Rowland

NEW AND WORTHY IMPRESSIONS IN WAX
NIGHT AND DAY—Rickey Jordan with Vivian Garry Trio (Exclusive)
MY NAME AIN'T RICHARD—Redum & Weep (Jewel)
MOVIE TONIGHT—Johnny Mercer and the Pied Pipers (Capitol)
COW COW BOOGIE—Ella Fitzgerald and the Ink Spots (Decca)
CONNECTICUT—Bing Crosby and Judy Garland (Decca)

I.R.C. Nominations Scheduled for April 10

Nominations for next year's officers will be given at the next meeting of International Relations Club, April 10. Ballots for the election will be distributed during the following week. At this meeting Robert Ziegler will also present a list of eligible students for invitation to the club.

Delegates to the Swarthmore College model UN Conference will report on the proceedings of the forums at the meeting.

Geraldine Wenzel, president, urges members to return their ballots for the election to her or to Dr. Milton W. Hamilton, club advisor.
