

Terriers Daub Lions With a 21-6 Break

Marylanders Are Quelled In First Half

No sooner had the whistle blown than the Terriers were off toward the den of the Lions. For a brief period it looked as though the Lions were going to be routed, and then the line thrust back the invader's attack in the shadow of the Red and White's own goal line. That was the beginning of one of the most thrilling and intensive football struggles ever witnessed on the Lion's gridiron. Every one had anticipated a grueling battle, but hardly did they expect such an exhibition of gridiron skill as they were privileged to witness before the close of the game. The odds were greatly against the home boys, and it was a real treat to see them turn back the powerful team from Westminster in first half, and even though they were finally overpowered, the thrills and glory of the first half will long linger in the memories of the Albright fans.

So many things happened during the first half that it is hard to analyze the whole situation. Albright's first attempt against the Marylanders' line was futile, but such was not the case of the invaders against our own line, for with the help of Clary, flashy right halfback, they were able to score two successive first downs before they lost the ball on downs 3 yards from the goal line. Albright punted, intercepted a pass on their own 30 yard line and punted again before either team was able to make any more gains. After this last punt Bates took a pass for another first down and two successive line drives gave them another first down. A twenty yard penalty stopped the Terriers' march down the field for the time being and they were forced to punt as the quarter ended.

After an exchange of punts Albright made their initial first down through the combined efforts of Morris and Hutton, who ran the ball twice for the Lions. It seemed as though the Lions had been waiting for such a start as this for Emmitt went around right end for 22 yards after Petrolous had made a 4 yard gain through right tackle. A minute later Harry Hutton went through the right side of the line for another 8 yards, but he was injured in the play, and had to be replaced by Haines. The invaders' line held for three downs and Albright tried to pull a fake placement kick, but the play was smothered by the wary Terriers. The Lions forced their opponents to punt to the Red and White's 30 yard line. It was from this position that the Lions made their dramatic rush to their lone touchdown. Haines made a thrilling 33 yard run and followed it up with another 12 yard gain to place the ball within a few yards of the goal line. Zerk Petrolous was elected to batter down the opponents' last stand, and this he did on his third try, amid a wild outburst of cheers from the stands. The half ended with Western Maryland in possession of the ball on Albright's 25 yard line.

Second Half
The Lions continued to exhibit the same sparkling brand of football until the latter part of the third quarter, when the invaders opened up an aerial attack that gave them two touchdowns. The first of the two scores, came after two completed passes for twenty-five and twenty-two yards respectively, while the second one was the result of a blocked kick and another long pass. The last quarter lacked somewhat the interest of the first part of the game due to a large number of the players that were injured in this period and to the numerous penalties given by both teams. Although the visitors seemed to have the advantage, Julian's sound fought resistingly on to the end of the game. Near the end of the period, Western Maryland intercepted a forward pass on Albright's 45 yard line, and after two first downs, they added the final score of the game.

It was a hard game for the Lions to lose, for a win would have made them an outstanding football squad of the East. Even though they lost a great deal of credit must be given to them for their spirit and gameness throughout the entire contest. Bates and Clary were the stars for the visitors, while aside from the general good playing of the team,

"HOME COMING NOV. 8-9" OCTOBER

Our Alumni Association will hold its first Alumni Home Coming the week end of November 8 and 9, 1929. The president of the association, Mr. E. L. Mohn, has asked the Berks Branch to be hosts for the event and we accept this invitation with pleasure.

An interesting program has been arranged, including the following events:

Friday, November 8:
7:00 P.M. Student Pep Meeting.
9:00 P.M. Alumni Smoker for Men. College Gymnasium.
9:00 P.M. Collegiate Bridge for Women, Selwyn Hall.
Saturday, November 9:
10:00 A.M. Tour of buildings.
2:30 P.M. Lebanon Valley-Albright football game, Albright Stadium.
6:00 P.M. Supper (75c) college dining room.
9:00 P.M. Albright - Lebanon Valley Dance, Berkshire Hotel, Reading, Pa.

Debaters Prepare In Last Rehearsal for New Zealand

Mayor Stump Will Make Welcoming Address

Final preparations for the Albright "All College" night and the big debate with Victoria University, at the Orpheum Theatre next Wednesday evening, November 6th, are complete. This annual representation by the Albright College Lyceum Council will include music by the College Band, College Quartet, a one act play by the Dominions, Women's Quartet, address of welcome by Mayor J. Henry Stump, debate—"Inat the continuance of the capitalist economic system is in the best interest of society." Victoria University (affirmative) versus Albright College (negative); solo by William Maier, recitation, castings of ballots by the audience, open forum discussion, master of ceremonies, Mr. Wellington M. Bertollet, Reading, Pa.

Last Tuesday, members of the debating team engaged in a practice debate at the West Reading High School. Mr. Haltzman, principal of West Reading High School, Mr. Hemmig, principal of the Shillington High School, Attorney Philip Schmehl and Mr. George Beggs acted as judges and offered much constructive criticism upon the speeches made.

This afternoon the team is to appear before the students of the Shillington High School in another practice engagement. By this method Coach Dr. Weber will determine the members of the debating team to represent Albright on the evening of November 6, against the New Zealanders.

Students are urged to obtain their special tickets for the orchestra section at the reduced price of 50 cents as early as possible as all seats are reserved. Tickets on sale every day at lunch time in Room 101, Administration Building, and also in the College Book Store. Bear in mind also that a free orchestra program awaits those who sell all the tickets allotted to them.

Upon the student body of the college depends the success or failure of this first international debate held in Reading, Pa. as upon the people of the city, who by the way, are responding very enthusiastically. Let's show the people of Reading that we have a real live college out here and not a dead institution. Reports show that the colleges and universities debating Victoria University are making large preparations for same, as for instance Penn State, whose debaters engage the visitors the evening after our contest. Last year the Girls' Debating Team of North Central College, (our Evangelical institution in the mid-west) debated against a girls' team from Great Britain. They had a large audience and made a fine showing. Our squad will do the same and it is up to the rest of us to see that the Orpheum Theatre is packed on November 6. If other schools do it, certainly we can too. We don't want to lag behind do we? Let's go then. See you Wednesday evening at the Orpheum Theatre, at 8:00 p. m.

German Students Form New Club

Linguists Organize Under Prof. Stutzman

Realizing the need for a German Club on the campus, Professor Stutzman called a meeting of all students interested in such a society last Tuesday evening. Twenty responded and elected the following to serve as a Program Committee: Victoria Orban, Alice Lehman and Henry Zehner. The purpose of the club is to promote and further a knowledge of the German language and to become acquainted with German literature, culture and music as well as with the lives of famous Germans themselves. All students with a fair acquaintance of the German language are welcome to join the club. Definite meeting days will be arranged later.

At last week's meeting Professor Stutzman read a paper on the life of Gustave Strassman, that eminent German diplomat and captain of industry. In it, Mr. Stutzman traced the life of Herr Strassman from school days till the day of his untimely death. The reading was well received and thoroughly enjoyed by all those present.

Y. W.'s Hold First Candle Service

On Tuesday evening in the college chapel the newly elected Y. W. C. A. cabinet were actively installed and conducted a beautiful candle-light service. A fine audience attended and took part in the Passing of the Light and the Seasonal. During the program, Miss Strasser sang touching solo, entitled "Light." The new cabinet which follows are prepared to do a fine work on the campus this year and the cooperation of all is desired.

Cabinet: President, Myrtle Wolf, '30; vice president, Marion Costello, '31; secretary, Lydia Schober, '32; treasurer, Ruth Heffelfinger '30.

Members: Flora Gross, '31; Florine Wilkes, '30; Adella Krupp, '30; Blandina Foster, '30; Norma Michael, '30; Anna Benninger, '30; Ann L. Wetzel, '33; Irma Stahl, '32.

QUILL CLUB

The Quillsters staged another try-out on Tuesday evening, the twentieth. They were delighted to accept into their literary realm Reba Topper, Alyce Uane and Alma Bergstresser. Clever bits of original poetry were offered by pledges Topper and Bergstresser. Miss Uane presented her "C" on the philosophy and creed of a earnest little freshman.

As an innovation in literary games and as a means of arousing the incentive needed for self-expression, President Burkhardt and Miss Yocom presented in pantomime the plot of the pitiful tragedy of a rejected lover and his repentant paramour. Everyone was highly amused at the varied developments of the original playwright's idea.

Tuesday next, all members and their "bestest pals," are going to gather around the witches' cauldron and learn their fate.

Be out, Quillsters!

BIBLE CLASS HIKE

On Friday evening, October 25, the faculty and student body were guests of the Bible Class of Albright College at a hike and doggie roast. The hikers met at the chapel steps at 7:00 o'clock—but Professor Stutzman, who was to be a chaperon, failed to appear, so the hike was delayed for half an hour until another "chap" was secured. Finally we started—and we walked up the Deer Path to the gap in the mountains, where we found a blazing fire and plenty of hot dogs, rolls and marshmallows awaiting us. Before the "eats" made their formal appearance, we sang and yelled in order to increase our appetites. A novelty appeared in the form of boxes of seasoning that were to be thrown on the fire. When these burned, the fumes were supposed to season the hot dogs that were roasting over the fire. Unfortunately, however, the boxes were not discovered until too late to benefit the winners, so we used them to flavor the marshmallows.

St. Joe's in Fine Form for Coming Tilt With Lions

Philadelphians Made Good Showing Against Strong Teams This Year

Saint Joseph's arrives this week end to play the Albrightians fresh from victory over a team in what had not tasted defeat since early in the 1927 season. The odds were in the favor of West Chester Teachers before the fray. Saint Joseph's came out of the game without injury and will be able to present the same strong lineup this Saturday against Julian's proteges.

Smith, star quarterback, however, will not be available to the visitors as his ankle injury since the P.M.C. game still keeps him on the bench. The same is true of Phelan, regular guard. Smith's position will be taken by Morris, a freshman, who has shown up to advantage during the last few games and will again call signals when the Saint Josephites line up at the Albright Stadium.

Captain Grisco, who has been slightly hurt and did not start last Saturday, will start and is expected to star. The Camden flash has been a regular for the four years and is finishing in a blaze of glory.

Cinkutis, burly tackle, can be relied upon to play his usual game which has nothing missing. His ability is natural and will come to the fore.

Scott will be at the center position where he has been for the past three years a star. He, like Captain Grisco, will finish after having been a regular for the entire period in school.

The team is a veteran team which last year won seven out of nine games, showing up exceptionally well against F. & M., being beaten only by a 2-0 score and finishing in a blaze of glory against their local rivals by winning 12-6. They were declared the best team that Saint Joseph's ever placed upon a field.

THEMESIANS

The Thesemian Literary Society had a short but very important meeting on the evening of October 28. The program consisted of a song service by the members of the club, the installation of new officers, and the initiation of new members.

The membership of the society has been increased considerably, and all those who wish to join are invited to attend. There are no formal requirements for membership and all the girls have the opportunity of enjoying together a social hour every week. There is a very interesting program scheduled for the next meeting to be held on November 4, in the social rooms of Selwyn Hall. There is a real treat in store for everyone. The drive for membership is still on and every girl is urged to come to the meetings.

"HALLOWE'EN"

Even repeated and strenuous efforts on the part of the Albrightian staff have been entirely unsuccessful in attempting to coerce Congress. Congress refuses to consider our plea for "More and Better Hallowe'ens." We therefore call the attention of the student body to the fact that there will be but ONE Hallowe'en this year. Make the most of it, ye "seekers after light."

We are prepared to see anything from animated bathtubs to fig leaves. Those, of course, who indulge in Hallowe'en spirits, will probably be surprised by small pink elephants peering around the corner of a toothpick. We understand, too, that purple snakes waving the "Scotch" flag are in style with those who are careless enough to drink canned heat.

We heard one frosh whisper to another yoked that he was going to disguise himself as a sophomore. We deem it impossible for any frosh to be as sophisticated as a sophomore. Only juniors and seniors have the ability to do THAT.

Of course, when we get back to school on Friday, there will be quite a time straightening out the campus where the students have moved things. From conversations overheard in the last few days, we may find the "Ad" building where the Science Hall was.

Social functions will consist of throwing corn and milk bottles. A set of rules has been compiled, and must be strictly obeyed.

- (1). No bombs are allowed.
- (2). The burning of barns is unlawful.
- (3). Do not move the college to a place where it will be hard to find.
- (4). Bricks are not to be piled knee deep in the halls.
- (5). Please refrain from the use of deadly weapons.

—A. C. S.

Society Notes

Marian M. Sloyer and Charles Henne, of the Reading class of '29, spent Saturday evening with their old friends on the campus. Mr. Henne last year was president of the Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity.

Lydia Shober went home for a few days because of illness. Her friends are hoping she will have a speedy recovery.

Blindina Foster entertained some of the girls in the hall birthday party in the social room last Sunday evening. A Feed, the Fire, and much Fun was enjoyed by all present.

Themisian Literary Society had a very important meeting last Monday evening in the form of the installation of new officers. An interesting program has been announced for the next meeting and the Themisians are on their way to a bigger year than ever.

Maud Sittler spent Thursday and Friday of last week at home in Pottsville. Miss Mildred Moyer returned with her Saturday and spent the week-end.

Hallow'e'en spooks are about and so are parties. Both Dominos and Quill clubs are having a masquerade party on their regular meeting night next week. The Quill party on Tuesday evening will be held in the social room, while Johnny Heilman has invited the Dominos to be his guests on Thursday evening.

The "Y" week-end, coming this week, is looming rather big. The banquet, at which Dan Poling will speak, will be one of the outstanding social events of the year.

Miss Jane Fray of the class of '25, spent Saturday on the campus. After the game Irene Fray returned with her to their home in Carlisle for the week-end.

An impromptu racket was held Saturday evening at the home of Miss Bettie Wanner, 1518 Alsace Road. Members of the younger college set were present. The rugs were rolled up and dancing took up the greater part of the evening. The guests were: Geraldine Kershner, Ruth Bader, Virginia Thomas, Hazel Weaver, Ethel Rosen, Alyce Ware, and Bettie Wanner; Ennis Scheibly, Olaf Olsen, Al Dittman, Ralph Suydan, and four guests that were visiting Olsen from New Jersey.

FRESHMAN HITS

It was reported to Miss Schaeffer that men were seen visiting girls in their rooms. This struck the funny bones of two or three freshmen girls, who have been parading the campus dressed like "Frosh" fellows.

The "Frosh" have been quite fortunate in having a protracted Hallow'e'en masquerade the past week. It was enjoyed by all.

Fraternity Notes

T. K. A.

Tau Kappa Alpha at Albright College made its initial appearance on the campus at Myerstown, May 22, 1924. At that time the members of the forensic squads attained one of their long cherished ideas. The men, under the direction of Professor Keller, debate coach, a petition had been drawn up, letters of recommendation from such personages as former Governor Pinchot, the Pennsylvania State Department of Education, Dr. C. A. Bowman, Professor Keller, etc., the petition was ratified by each of the existing T. K. A. chapters, and the Albright chapter was officially installed by F. Lamont Henninger, a member of the Dickinson chapter. Eleven charter members witnessed this event and elected as their president, Kenneth Snyder.

From the time of the installation of the Albright chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, it has been an active organization on our campus. The purpose of this national honorary fraternity is to promote interest in forensic activities. It has formed the nucleus of the Speakers' Club, thus putting its ideals into action.

A new step is being taken by the fraternity this year. On December 6 and 7, John Kleingina will represent the local chapter at the National Convention to be held at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. A regional conference is being planned for the near future. Definite plans for the furthering of debate and oratory will be made at that time.

ZETA OMEGA EPSILON

Zeta Omega Epsilon have just finished renovating the social room of the fraternity.

There are twenty-one active members this year, and we will announce in the next issue the probable pledges.

Frater Sherid, a pitcher with the New York Yankees, paid a visit to the fraternity over the week-end.

"Ding" Schaeffer is convalescing at his home. He was injured during the Bucknell game and was in the hospital over three weeks. He is recovering quickly and expects to be with us soon.

Frater Barkman was a guest of the fraternity over night on his way to Pottsville.

ALPHA PI OMEGA

Alpha Pi Omega Fraternity takes pleasure in announcing the election of the following men to pledgeship: Virgil Smith, John Bell, Vincent Kern, Maurice Male, John Reynolds, Charles Mennard, Paul Althouse and Russel Bonney.

Pledges Bell and Smith have taken up quarters in the fraternity rooms, having moved there from rooms in the city.

BETA DELTA SIGMA

Frater Kozlowski spent the last week-end at his home in Elizabeth, N. J. Frater Wolbert spent the week-end with some friends in Phila.

"Eyes"
blind flying!

Three new G-E contributions to the conquest of the air

LINDBERGH, flying blind much of the way, hit Ireland "on the nose" as he winged toward Paris. Now, as an aid to air navigation comes the magneto compass, a product of General Electric research, which gives pilots a navigating instrument of extraordinary accuracy.

Meanwhile, two other General Electric contributions to aviation have been developed—the electric gasoline gauge and the radio echo altimeter. The ordinary altimeter shows only height above sea level. The radio echo altimeter warns the pilot of his actual distance above ground or water by flashing green, yellow, and red lights on the instrument board.

Every year hundreds of college-trained men and women enter the employment of General Electric. Research, similar to that which developed "eyes" for blind flying, is one of the many fields of endeavor in which they play an important part.

Player Control Is New Idea In Football Circles

J. R. Tunis, Sports Writer, is Advocate

Player control, the idea of placing the coach in the stands during a game, so that the game is run entirely by the captain, has been tried out with success in various parts of New York State, in the Middle West and to some small extent on the Pacific Coast.

Curiously enough those coaches who have had the least experience are those least in favor of it today. Many educators also seem to feel that, while the idea is sound and works out well in large schools, it might be a mistake to put through any blanket rule forcing all schools to adopt it in every instance.

Except in Detroit, however, and in a few high schools in California, New York is the only state where the idea has actually been put into practice, and the best results have been obtained in the central and western parts of the state. Strangely enough, few colleges have made any attempt to put the idea into effect in their intercollegiate athletics.

Now there are today but two alternatives to the problem of the direction of scholastic and collegiate athletics: play control or coach control. In other words, less and less control by adults, in which case you eventually end up with the captain-control idea that has been so successfully adopted in New York State. If coaches are to be permitted to talk to and instruct their teams between halves, would it not also be fair to allow them to do so between quarters?

And, granting this, why not allow them to exchange signals with the captain or quarterback each occasion time out is called. And if this is permissible, why not put the coach on the field to correct mistakes as soon as they occur? In short, why not actually let the coach be quarterback and run the eleven?

No one wishes a solution of this sort. But carried to its logical conclusion this is the end to which coach control leads. Player control, captain control, is, therefore, the only acceptable method of conducting American sports. Picture the position of a coach who has a player come to him from a lower school, where the boy has worked out his own problems on the field and been in charge of his own game, picture this coach attempting to direct this boy from the bench, this boy who has already stood upon his own feet. Imagine the reaction of the boy to an idea that he has seen discarded as old fashioned and antiquated in a lower school. Coach control in football is an idea of the past. Player control is an idea of the future, a forward looking step toward common sense in athletics. The coach who does not realize this is the one who in the end will be the chief loser.

Coach Albert Seelbach specifies the changes player control has had upon his men and lists them as follows:

(1) Causes them to exercise their own initiative.

(2) Placing responsibility upon the entire team gives each player the feeling of great interest and satisfaction that he is an important part or power on the team and results in greater effort.

(3) Makes for greater individual thought and more numerous group discussion of all phases of the sport between the team, the captain and the coach.

(4) By the interchange of captains or the removal of the captain by himself (which often happens) the responsibility can be placed upon a number of boys, thereby making it necessary for their being versed in the duties of this position. This point alone demands more technical skill of all players.

OUR CAPTAIN

HARRY MacFARLANE

There is scarcely a need for attaching a name to this article for few who do not recognize in it Albright's smiling but fighting football captain. "Packy" has supplemented his gridiron work which is indeed praiseworthy with a task of a different nature and so the Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity claims him as its president. "Packy" believes in concentrating his efforts on several important items and so while he is perhaps not actively engaged in a number of extra-curricular activities, he has carried out his policies in a capital manner. Hence the success of both football team and fraternity. But he is not always serious and may at times be found journeying down town. Be that as it may, his pathway is bright and the name of Harry MacFarlane will appear in the Albrightian. And so the best wishes of all are extended to him.

ABOUT TICKETS

The tickets for the New Zealand debate which have been distributed to the students for sale among their friends have seemingly thus far not been moving very rapidly. Go after them, students. Support your school in debating as well as in athletics. Money and unsold tickets should be returned to the managers who will be in Room No. 101, every day between one and one thirty.

A BRIGHT ALBRIGHTIAN

HENRY ZEHNER

"Next, please," and we introduce to you Henry Zehner, our affable book store chick. "Hen," always on the jump and ready to serve the needs of patrons, has acquired a host of friends. His ability to do things well has earned him several important positions. Being Senior Class President and Vice President and champion "hot dog" peddler for the Y. M. C. A. account for the way he "breezes" about the campus. The spiritual side of "Hen's" life has been by no means neglected as he intends to become a minister after completing his studies and is already actively engaged in religious work both on and off campus.
