Reading Mayor Appoints Former President Masters To Head Local Committee

By Carol Heckman

The Reading Times recently revealed that Mayor Eugene L. Shirk appointed Dr. Harry V. Masters, president emeritus of Albright College, to head a committee to study the city assessments situation on Monday, November 29.

Dr. Masters commented on the appointment: "In an effort to make what contributions I can to improve our city, I have accepted this assignment from Mayor Shirk. In my own opinion, the mayor has appointed an excellent committee: it is non-partisan in nature. They are persons of integrity, intelligence, and have at heart the best interests of the city and its citizens."

The mayor said he didn't expect the committee to come up with a solution to assessment problems but to recommend what procedure to follow in setting up the triennial assessments next year. Shirk termed the group as a "preliminary study group to discuss the problem."

Others named to the committee were George B. Balmer, attorney; Fred R. Davis, Reading Trust Co. president; Harry B. Davis, realtor; Edward F. Haas, secretary-treasurer, United Labor Council of Reading and Berks County; Theo J. Schattner, Carpenter Steel Co. resident counsel; Francis M. Schick, American Bank vice president, and Albert M. Shuman, Reading Board of Realtors president.

City Assessor Marvin E. Smith and Darell S. Rank, Pennsylvania Economy League executive secretary, will be advisors to the committee, the mayor specified.

Round Table Members Hold Second Meeting

The President's second Round Table Discussion was held in the private room of the dining hall on November 29. Participating in the meeting were President Arthur L. Schultz, the presidents of various campus organizations, and the president of each of the four classes.

The Round Table was organized for the first time at Albright College by Dr. Schultz in order to provide an opportunity for the President to converse with student leaders regarding opinions and concerns of the student body. The first discussion took place on November 1.

Three rules govern the group's meetings. First, the discussion has a strictly unofficial status; that is, the group is not a legislative body. Second, there is no set agenda, and no limitations exist concerning topics of discussion. Finally, no participant may be quoted directly regarding the comments made during the discussion.

Discussion groups such as this exist on several other college campuses. The meetings are a useful medium through which student views can be channeled to administration officers. Dr. Schultz commented that the discussions provide "a good escape valve for both me and student leaders." The next Round Table Discussion will take place on Monday, January 3.

21 Seniors Earn Recognition In National Student 'Who's Who'

Recognition in the annual book signifies that the student was first officially recommended from Albright and then accepted by the organization. Selection of nominees was conducted by a special sub-committee of Student Council and involved consultations with various faculty members.

John Dowd Paintings In Library Exhibit

The Albright College fine arts department is presenting an exhibition of paintings by New York artist John Dowd, November 23-January 11, in the library gallery.

A native of Troy, N. Y., Dowd attended Siena College, Loudonville, N. Y., and received a B.S. degree in art education from the New York State University College at Buffalo in 1963. He has studied also at the University of Siena, Italy.

Harry G. Koursaros, Albright fine arts department chairman, describes Dowd as "a young artist who has identified himself with the fast, swinging, groovy world of the rock, pop, and folk singer of the 1960's."

"His images are direct, immediate; he has managed to capture the many moods of the 'folk-rocking' present, from the brooding, genial poet-balladeer Bob Dylan to the middle-class male and feminine naïveté of the 'Sapremes.'"

The Dowd show is the first of a series of exhibitions at Albright scheduled throughout the school year.

The 21 Albrightians, and their hometowns, are: Ronald I. Blum, Reading, Patricia A. Caruso, Southampton, N. Y., Barbara E. Case, Three Bridges, N. J.; Daniel J. Damon, Arlington, Va., Joan D. Develin, Plymouth Meeting, Pa., Ronald M. Davis, Carlisle, Pa., Paul H. Douglass, Philadelphia, Pa., William G. Gay, Allentown, Pa., Joseph A. Gerber, Philadelphia, Pa., Diana-Rac E. Glowinski, Reading, William N. Grosch, Syosset, N. Y., Richard V. Horst, Reading, Thomas E. Huntzinger, Jenkintown, Pa., Arthur T. Lociento, Little Silver, N. J., Robert W. Martin, Glen Ridge, N. J., Charles T. Meyer, Philadelphia, Jacqueline A. Randolph, Richmond, Va., Jay R. Rosan, Havertown, Pa., Jose M. Sanchez, Reading, Jeanette E. Scoglio, Hammonton, N. J., and Emmett Venett, Spotswood, N. J.

There are four day students and 17 dorm students. Thirteen hail from the state of Pennsylvania, four from New Jersey and two each from New York and Virginia. Fifteen of the 21 are men. Five of the men belong to the Pi Tau Beta social fraternity, two to Alpha Pi Omega, two to Kappa Upsilon Phi and one to Zeta Omega Epsilon while two belong to the Alpha Phi Omega service group. Three of the women are members of the Pi Alpha Tau social sorority and one to the Phi Beta Mu sorority. All of these seniors will graduate in June.

Each student selected to this elite group receives without cost a certificate of recognition which will be awarded in the spring, recognition in the annual publication in the form of a writeup of his college and personal record and a listing in the Index under the college from which he was nominated and benefits of the Student Placement Service provided by the organization if he needs assistance in seeking employment contacts or supplying other

Christmas Dinner Planned For Sunday

Albright College will hold its Annual President's Christmas Dinner on December 12, 1965. The purpose is to unite the Albright faculty, employees, their wives and husbands in fellowship during the Christmas season.

Besides the dinner itself, the affair will be accompanied by an invocation, Christmas music and the meditation led by President Arthur L. Schultz.

WXAC RECEIVES FM PERMIT, ANNOUNCES EXPANSION PROGRAM

The Federal Communications Commission granted a construction permit to Albright College on November 16 for a ten watt FM radio station. The frequency is assigned at 91.3 megacycles and tentative plans call for full-time broadcasting to begin March 1, 1966.

Professor Thurman R. Krenser, Technical Advisor, announces that the receiving tower will be placed atop the Horn Wing of the Science Hall and will be approximately 98 feet high. This will allow for a broadcasting range of all of Reading west of Mt. Penn.

WXAC is in the process of purchasing a new and larger tape recorder which will allow expanded programming, especially of outside material, most of which comes on large 14" reels.

In response to student request, beginning in January, WXAC will release its monthly program guide: a detailed description of each show throughout the month. The guide is prepared and edited by Sarah Moyer.

The station also announces that it is sponsoring a "pass-clue" contest for all its listeners. Free passes to local movies are awarded to persons correctly identifying the "clue" at various times throughout the program day. The first person to call when the announcer asks wins the passes. The participating theaters are: The Fox, Strand, Embassy, and the Colonial. This contest is offered as part of the Movie Guide, a listing of the movies playing at these theaters, another service of WXAC.

Domino Thespians Set For Two Weekend Shows

The Albright Domino Players will present "The Solid Gold Cadillac," a two-act former Broadway play written by Howard Teichmann and George Kaufmann on December 10 and 11 at 8:15 p.m. All students and members of the faculty can gain admission by showing an identification card plus 14¢ in payment for tax.

Judith Adams, '66, portrays the lead role as Mrs. Partridge. Miss Adams appeared in a one-act play which was presented during Freshmen Parents' Day last year.

Other members of the cast include Ronald Delp, '67, as McKeever; Richard Albright, '69, as Blessington; Roger Mallon, '69, as Snell; Bart Bakaley, '69, as Gillie; Henry Shipman, '68, as Metcalfe; Carol Koff, '69, as Miss Shotgraven; Robert Levin, '67, as Jenkins; Linda Carvell, '69, as Miss L'Arriere; Jerry Stecher, '69, Marcia Levensgood, '68, and David Martin, '67, as the reporters; Harry Schob, '68, as Parker; Mick Benderoth, '67, as Brookfield; Merry Heim, '68, as both Evans and Miss Logan; and Ed Rineheimer, '67, as the narrator.

David Martin is the technical director with Susan Wagner, '69, as stage manager and lighting supervisor. Lois Shieck, '67, is responsible for costumes and make-up. Ronald Delp and Barbara Adams, '66, are in charge of publicity and tickets respectively. Set construction has been supervised by Richard Merk, '69. Members of the service fraternity and sorority will serve as ushers.

Dr. Samuel B. Shirk will direct the play with the assistance of Ed Rineheimer. The performance will be given on the stage with an extended platform. Special office furniture for the set has been provided by the local Todd Office Furniture Company.

"In the Spirit of Christmas"

I have procrastinated long enough, it is December 2nd and if I want to avoid the Christmas rush I must go now. I simply must get that gift for Reverend Kieffer; he was so comforting when Henry died. Were it not for his tender strength and unshakeable faith I would have had a breakdown. I really want to get him something to show my thanks. Money is no problem; Henry had lots of insurance and I am making plenty from the business. On the other hand, if I spend too much the church fathers will get the idea that I can contribute more. Well, I don't know, I will decide later. I think I'll go downtown.

Boy, all this traffic, it will take at least an extra hour to get to the department store. I still am not sure what to give Reverend Kieffer. Well, Christmas is a time when we rededicate ourselves to Christ; perhaps I should give him a religious item. Here is my exit—what a dreadful trip.

"What floor for religious items?"
"Five."

That is the first time I have ever seen a Negro saleslady in this store. Pretty soon they will take over.

"Miss, I would like a Christmas gift with religious significance. It is for my son; he is a minister."

"Why don't you look in these three isles."
"Thanks."

I may as well pick up some other gifts while I am here. What a cute toy, a Jesus doll that bounces back to an upright position when you knock it down. And what is this? A Lloyd Thaxton "lip-sync" harp for Christmas Carols. I think I shall get it for little Johnnie, next door. I guess I have to get something for his parents also. That goddam woman—she should only have lost her husband instead of me. She will like this, a crucifix for over the kitchen door—it should only fall on her. I feel sorry for her son; what a Christmas last year!

First they went to church Christmas morning; then they visited some relatives; then, of all ways to ruin a happy holiday, they went to St. Marc's Hospital to give a party for some sick children. Now, WE had a Christmas. Christmas eve we took Henry Jr. to Christmas City to see Santa Claus, the next morning we went to the parade in town, and in the afternoon we went bowling. Henry is very religious for his age, he knows all the Christmas carols and can repeat the story of the Easter Bunny by heart; we were all very angry when they stopped reading the Bible in his school.

Hey, what is this section here? Chanukah? Maccabees? Chanukah Celd? Oh yeah, that Jewish holiday is coming soon. I wonder why they don't believe in Christmas trees. They shouldn't be permitted to display all this junk here. It isn't that I am prejudiced, but this stuff just destroys the spirit of Christmas.

Here is a nice card for Reverend Kieffer. I'll just take these two gifts and card to the cashier—I will get the Reverend's gift somewhere else. Not bad, she must have thought I gave her a twenty instead of a ten—now I have fifteen for Reverend Kieffer's present.

I hate walking in town; so many goddamned people. Here is a nice print shop; maybe they will have something.

This print would make a nice gift. A religious one too. What is more beautiful than a family opening gifts under the tree Christmas morning. And it only costs 15 dollars.

"Merry Christmas Reverend Kieffer. I really cannot express how much your comfort and my faith did for me during my recent tragedy. In the spirit of our Lord, Jesus Christ, accept this small gift."

Boy, was he impressed.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir,

This letter is in response to the one appearing in "Letters to the Editor" written by Miss Carol Jensen. I am suggesting that Miss Jensen be fully aware of the facts of any situation before she herself casts judgment. I was not the student who made the remark in the phonograph booth, but I was sitting next to him and what I saw and heard was completely different from what is reported by Miss Jensen. The student was not "bravely jeering the attire of a fellow student from the confines of a phonograph booth." Rather, he was criticizing some fashions being shown in Life magazine. The only reason the remark was so loud was that he had earphones on and was not conscious of the sound of his own voice. Maybe this student is guilty of not being discreet, but he is certainly innocent of any charges made by Miss Jensen concerning his appreciation of a person's individuality and attributes. I hope Miss Jensen doesn't run off at the mouth too often. Some day someone will really get angry.

Neil Sedaka

"... a great thrill"

Dear Sir,

Am writing to let you know how I enjoyed performing at your college. It was an exciting evening and I hope to have pleased everyone.

I've traveled all over the world and I must say the applause and enthusiasm the students of Albright College have given me was a great thrill.

Your committee did a magnificent job and I must recommend its members. I sincerely hope you will call on me once again. I am leaving for Rome shortly to record six Italian songs and an album. If some of the students wish to hear my songs again, they can be available at the big record shops. My latest album is called "Neil Sedaka's Greatest Hits" and my newest single is "The World Through a Tear" on the RCA label.

My best wishes to all,

Neil Sedaka

Music Review

By Donald C. Michaels

That there is merit to the musical offerings of this area was confirmed again Sunday with the second concert of the Reading Symphony Orchestra's current season. The most notable asset was the surprising technical accuracy of the orchestra's response to Mr. Vyner's interpretive demands.

The program contained the usual tasteful blend of music representing the major periods of musical development.

Mr. Vyner and the orchestra seem to possess a special quality for definite performances of works of the classical composers. Mozart's "Overture" to "Il Seraglio" was no exception. The work skipped delightfully and with utmost clarity under the baton of Mr. Vyner and the dynamics were delicate, yet firm—not at all wispy.

An unpassioned reading of the popular scherzo from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" was enhanced by the careful control of orchestral dynamics and an excellent instrumental balance. An occasional infringement upon this accuracy was created by some careless fingerings in the clarinets.

The orchestra performed admirably in the "Rumanian Dances" of Bartok. The interpretation was most refreshing and one was constantly aware of the subtle, yet conscious, virile pulsings of the dance rhythms; the lyric passages were exquisite.

Perhaps the most expressive reading of the purely orchestral works on the program was that of the excerpts from Prokofiev's ballet suite "Cinderella." Mr. Vyner took great care to emphasize the dramatic tension of the lyric passages of the beginning and end. The waltzes demonstrated the versatility of the massed percussionists, although it was evident at times that they were unaware of Mr. Vyner's near frantic markings of the dynamics. The striking of the clock was excellently represented, and the effect was mischievously gleeful.

The highlight of the afternoon's program was the performance of Brahms' "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in B-flat minor" as performed by the orchestra with the renowned soloist Andre Watts. Mr. Watts made it obvious throughout that his concert-hall technique and virtuosity are unparalleled. His readings were profound and electrifying. He treated the first movement as a gradiose climax with a most dynamic interplay between solo instrument and orchestra.

The second movement was definitely "appassionato," and the lyricism of the third movement evidenced Mr. Watt's mature reading of the score. He attacked the last movement with an ease indicative not only of his knowledge of the work and artistic dexterity, but also his ability to integrate with orchestral accompaniment.

The concert was well attended by music lovers who were well rewarded for their interests as demonstrated by the enthusiastic ovation given both to the orchestra and to the soloist.

PEACE IS RARE

Peace is wonderful, but rare. Only eight per cent of the time since the beginning of recorded history had the world been entirely at peace. In a total of 3,521 years only 286 have been warless. Eight thousand treaties have been broken in this time.

ROUGH START:

Hot-Shooting Quintets Saddle Albright With Cage Losses

The Albright basketball team ran into a couple of red-hot ball clubs at the outset of its season and tumbled to back-to-back defeats.

The defending Middle Atlantic Conference champions ushered in their long and demanding schedule at the Penn Palestra on December 1 and dropped a 97-73 decision to the supposedly rebuilding LaSalle Explorers. The host Philadelphians, expected to be marking time until their crack freshmen are eligible, rode the coattails of Hubie Marshall's record breaking shooting to swamp the visiting Lions.

When Coach Will Renken's cagers invaded Baltimore for a date with Loyola College's Greyhounds they suffered a similar fate. The spirited 'Hounds, fresh from a 10-point decision over Fordham (who subsequently beat Navy), rallied in the second half to outlast the Red and White.

Albright inaugurated its home season against Gettysburg College last night (Wednesday), will travel to Elizabethtown for their MAC opener against the Blue Jays and welcomes the nationally-ranked Hawks from St. Joseph's next Wednesday. Coach Renken must have his crew prepared for all of these tilts even though E-town is allegedly weaker than in previous campaigns.

Loyola 86 Albright 78

Even though Albright got off to a quick 11-0 lead in the first three minutes of action, the smaller Greyhounds put on a sizzling rally in the waning seconds of the first half. Before that, the Lions had led by as much as 13 points. Their advantage at the rest period was a slim 38-33.

Loyola's momentum carried right through the second period and with 15 minutes to go the hosts took the lead and never surrendered it. Although their leaping center Pat Flynn (a mere 6-3) was forced out of the tilt with a sprained ankle, his loss was matched when Albright's Bill Kudrick fouled out with 12 minutes to go.

From then on, it was merely a question of how many points Loyola would get. Coach Ed Doherty, however, had to rush his first unit back in when the Lions paced by captain Mike Klahr, cut the margin to seven.

Klahr finished with 30 markers (including a sparkling 16-for-20 showing at the charity stripe) to grab game honors. Mike Eckenroth, back as a starter after being sidelined with a leg ailment, hit for 15. Loyola's Tom O'Hara collected 24 for the winners.

LaSalle 97 Albright 73

Cotesville's Hubie Marshall was an All-American in high school, but it's questionable if he ever enjoyed as good a night as he did against Albright. Marshall's 42-point production set a new school and Palestra record for LaSalle and observers were totally amazed by his range.

Albright was never in the ball game although the backcourt due of Klahr and Kudrick combined for 50 tallies. For one of the first times in years, the Renkenmen actually enjoyed a height advantage over the Philadelphians, but did not take advantage of it. Smaller LaSalle performers often outmaneuvered Albrightians to get a definite edge off the boards.

The results were disappointing to the more than 200 Albright rooters who made the trip to the Quaker City, but not as disheartening as the first game proceedings. The highly-touted LaSalle frosh racked up 121 points (79 of them in the second half) to massacre the Albright junior varsity, 121-51. Led by jump-shooting Bernie Williams, and ex-Philadelphia scholastic ace

Larry Cannon, the Baby Explorers made shambles of the contest in the second period. The Lion Cubs also have three games on tap: against the Gettysburg frosh last night, the Elizabethtown J. V. and the St. Joe's frosh. John Spadafora, with 14 points, led his teammates in the debacle against LaSalle.

By Bill Burnside

While Albright displayed a hot hand in the first half of the Loyola game (60 per cent from the field), the Greyhounds countered with some torrid shooting in the subsequent period. Loyola hit on 21 of 35 field goal attempts—also 60 per cent.

Freshman Bob Grant, who fouled out of the LaSalle game, saw no action in the Loyola contest because of a hand injury. He was expected to play this week.

A few Albrightians made the trip to Baltimore for the Loyola game and some alumni were also on the stands. Former cager, Jack Bishop, now attending dental school, was an interested spectator as was '65 graduate Ed Sullivan.

Defense was the sorest point in the Albright performance during these two early defeats. Whether or not it can be attributed to inexperience, the point remains that last year's airtight defense—a key reason for winning the MAC title—has been conspicuously absent. Let's hope it improves for conference play.

LaSalle freshman Bernie Williams shows the potential to become an all-time great in Big Five circles. Williams, a Washington, D. C. product, can shoot the jumper with amazing speed. Keep his name in mind.

Incidentally, the LaSalle rooters, plainly aware of UCLA's crack frosh squad, were clamoring for the Baby Bruins after the 121-51 romp over Albright. Cries of "Bring on Alcindor" were heard sporadically.

Junior Andy Mytinger came up against Loyola with one of the late last-minute showings which characterized him last year. Mytinger played only a little over ten minutes, but racked up seven points and claimed six rebounds. His aggressiveness under the boards comes in handy.

After two games Mike Klahr's 29.5 average ranked him among the nation's leaders in scoring. The fleet-footed guard could be headed for a well-deserved season full of honors. Inch for inch we'll match him with anybody around these parts.

St. Joseph's College comes to Albright next Wednesday and a large crowd is expected. While the Hawks show signs of greatness, the Lions have a reputation for making things difficult for visitors to their den. With the solid support of the student body and some top-notch performers, who knows? Upsets have been known to happen...

Gridders Finish 4-5, Herzog Paces Offense

Halfback Frank Herzog, senior co-captain from Danielsville, Pa. led Albright in net yards gained during the football season, with 426 yards in 111 carries for a 3.8 yard average.

The Northampton High product gained 73 yards in the 21-0 victory over Drexel in the season final to edge fullback John Haggerty for the title. Haggerty, also a senior, finished with 383 yards in 89 carries for a 4.3 average.

Paced by Herzog and Haggerty, Coach Potskian's Lions had a wide edge over nine rivals in rushing yardage: 1,385 to 815.

In the air lanes Roy Shellhammer completed 48 of 143 aeriols for 1,019 yards, including 11 touchdown passes. An even dozen of his passes were intercepted.

The Lions, who finished with a 4-5 record had a total offense of 2,414 yards, an average of 3.9 for 608 plays. Opponents were credited with 2,013 yards, a 3.3 average for 612 plays.

Carmon Communale and Jim Kearns, the two ends led in pass receiving. Carmon caught 20 for 420 yards and three touchdowns. Jim hauled in 14 aeriols for 324 yards and three TD's.

In individual scoring it was Herzog with 26 points; Kearns, 24 points; and place kicker Tom Bowersox, 23 points. Tom, a freshman kicked three field goals.

The Lions outscored the opposition 155-138. Albright hit the peak when it defeated Wagner, the defending MAC Northern Division champions by a 21-14 score to bring its record to 3-3 at that point on the schedule. But the Lions went into reverse to lose three straight at the hands of Moravian, Lebanon Valley, and Wilkes, the 1965 MAC

Northern Division title. In the finale, a fired-up Albright squad ended Drexel's six-game winning streak.

Herzog and linebackers Bill Kopp, co-captains Haggerty and Tom Huntzinger, halfback; Bob Goidell, tackle; and Dick Horst, guard, were the six seniors on the Albright squad.

This year's 4-5 record left Coach Potskian with a 48-46 record in 11 seasons at Albright. The Lions were 8-1 during the 1964 campaign losing only to undefeated and untied Wagner.

SET FOR SATURDAY:

Albright IRC Hosts Hi School Model UN

Students from eleven local high schools will convene here next Saturday for a model United Nations session sponsored by the International Relations Club of Albright.

The purpose of this project is to afford both high school and college students an opportunity to better understand the United Nations and to further their knowledge of international affairs.

Participating schools include Central Catholic, Collegeville, Trappe, Conrad Weiser, Exeter, Governor Mifflin, Mount Penn, Muhlenberg Township, Reading, Schuylkill Valley, West Reading and Wilson high schools.

Starting the proceedings Saturday will be an opening plenary session in which all delegations will participate. A guest speaker from the Arab delegation to the United Nations will deliver a talk concerning Arab nationalism in regards to the United Nations.

Following the plenary session the delegations will divide into three blocs (Western, Soviet, and Afro-Asian) for a forty-five minute caucus to prepare for individual committee meetings. The three committees will debate resolutions proposed by participating delegations on one of the three topics Kashmir, Rhodesia, and Population.

In the latter part of the afternoon a final plenary session comparable to the U. N. General Assembly will be held. At this time discussions will be presented concerning the resolutions passed in the individual committees. A trophy will be presented by a representative from the World Affairs Council to the delegation which best portrays its country.

Presiding as Secretary-General of the model United Nations will be Jose M. Sanchez, '66, president of IRC and experienced members of the club will act as advisors and judges of the session. Serving as advisor to IRC are Dr. Charles Raith, Professor William Bishop, and Professor Philip Eyrych.

So's Your Old Man

Like father, like son is still true to some extent according to the U. S. Department of Commerce. Of American men between the ages of 25 and 64 years, 23 per cent are following the occupations of their fathers. But there is a wide variation in the kind of work they do. For example, 41 per cent of men whose fathers were in professional or technical fields remain in the same occupation group. On the other hand, less than 15 per cent of the sons of clerical and sales workers, laborers, farm workers and service workers follow in their father's footsteps.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT OFFERS SUMMER JOBS

A nationwide examination for temporary summer employment in the Federal Government as an office assistant or a science assistant was announced last week by the Civil Service Commission.

Applicants seeking employment in grades GS-1 through 4 (at monthly salary ranges of $282 to $373) in such occupations as clerk, stenographer, typist, office machine operator, student assistant, engineering aide, physical science aide, biological aide and mathematics aide should ask for a copy of Announcement No. 380.

Candidates for the examination should obtain a Civil Service Form 5000-AB. This form is available at many post offices, at U. S. Civil Service Commission offices, and at Boards of U. S. Civil Service Examiners.

The completed form must then be mailed to the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., before January 3, 1966, to enable the candidate to take the 24-hour written test which will be given in various cities on a Saturday in late January or early February.

The test, scheduled to be given only once, is designed to measure clerical skills, vocabulary, reading comprehension, abstract reasoning, and table and chart interpretation. Sample questions will be provided in advance.

PI TAUS HOLD HAWAIIAN LUAU

The Pi Tau Beta Annual Rush Dance took place last Saturday night at the Slovak Home Association, 233 S. Sixth St. Over 50 couples attended the event which was titled "Hawaiian Luau."

Reading Period Plan Comes Up For Approval

The proposed creation of a reading period for Albright students before final examinations is up for consideration before the Student Council and the faculty. As The Albrightian went to press, neither group had taken an official decision on the matter.

Last spring, a committee was created for the purpose of studying the possibilities of a reading period. The student-faculty group was composed of Dr. Charles Kistler, Dean Mahlon Hellerich, Professor Richard Kohlmeier, Dr. Luther Brossman, Michael Flannery, Nancy Thompson, Ronald Davis, Gerald McMullen and Marvin Garrett, who served as chairman.

At a committee meeting on November 23, this group adopted the following recommendation which will come up before both Council and the faculty:

Student registration for a subsequent semester shall be scheduled approximately a month before the conclusion of the current teaching period. Wherever possible the two registration dates of consecutive semesters shall be scheduled so as to create the least possible imbalance between the Monday-Wednesday-Friday and Tuesday-Thursday-Saturday cycles. The day thus gained (i. e. the day which up to the present had served as registration day following the last teaching day of a semester) shall be designated exclusively as a reading day immediately preceding the final examination period. This arrangement is already in effect for the current semester, for which the date of registration was shifted from January 17 (Monday) to last Tuesday. The same principle shall apply in shifting the registration date from May 25, 1966, to some Monday, Wednesday or Friday three or four weeks earlier.

The final examination period as scheduled up to and including May, 1966, shall in the future (i. e. after May, 1966) be shortened by one day, the first day of the examination period. The day thus gained shall be designated exclusively as a reading day. Thus students will have two consecutive days for reading prior to their first final examination. This is to be regarded as a trial arrangement; its continuance shall depend upon a vote by the Student Council upon the conclusion of the first semester of effectiveness of the plan in January, 1967.

STUDENT COUNCIL CONSIDERS CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTION

Student Council will soon discuss a proposed constitutional amendment which will permit future amendments by the processes of initiative and referendum.

Initiative and referendum, known to political scientists as instruments of direct democracy, would allow the student body to petition Council for constitutional revision and then vote on the revision.

The proposed amendment is a recommendation of the Council's committee on constitutional revision. Emmett Venett, President, told The Albrightian "I'm definitely in favor of the amendment. I believe we should revise the entire constitution."

Although there is no announced opposition, it is feared that the proposed change in rules might not be approved since a two-thirds majority is needed for revision. Student Council meetings are seldom attended by such a large number of members.
