

'Strong Legs Run That Weak Legs May Walk'

Five seniors will run for their last time in a college football game as they play in the ninth annual Pretzel Bowl game tomorrow. The game against Franklin and Marshall will see Jim Doremus and Gerry Bricker, co-captains, Tony LoSapio, recipient of the Haps Benfer award, Bob Nagle and Harry Miller fighting for the Middle Atlantic States Conference championship and for the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital of Philadelphia.

Doremus has seen action as center and guard. The 185 pound co-captain is one of the team's most versatile performers with his fighting spirit not only on offense, but also as part of the defense to hold such teams as Moravian to a game total of six yards rushing.

Bricker will complete a four year career as fullback in tomorrow's game. He has been the leading ground gainer for several years, and currently leads the Northern Division of the Middle Atlantic States Conference in rushing. Bricker excelled in the Moravian and Muhlenberg games as Albright won 23-12 and 27-22, respectively.

Stalwart center of the offensive line, LoSapio received the Outstanding Linemen award for last year's Pretzel Bowl Game, and the Haps Benfer award at this year's Homecoming Game. For his performance in the Drexel game, LoSapio earned the position of ECAC center of the week.

Miller and Nagle have been competent reserves this season. Nagle has seen action in the fullback position; Miller, a regular reserve at guard, attained a lineman's dream last season by scoring a touchdown.

The pageantry of the day, sponsored by Rajah Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will begin with a downtown parade of 21 bands at 12:15 p.m. followed by the game at 2 p.m. and the dance at 9 p.m. William H. Levan, chairman of musical arrangements for the charity event announced more than 2,000 musicians from Berks, Lancaster, Lebanon, Lehigh and Schuylkill Counties will participate in the parade. High schools entering the parade are: Bethel Area, Boyertown, Exeter Township, Governor Mifflin Joint, Hamburg, Kutztown Area, Lebanon, Mount Penn, Muhlenberg, Myerstown, Newmantown, Oley, Pottsville, Reading, Twin Valley Joint, and West Reading.

Albright and F & M bands will participate, as will the Rajah Temple Brass Band, Rajah Temple String Band and Oriental Band of Allentown. The Schuylkill Shrine Club is sponsoring the appearance of the Pottsville High School band, with its Kiltie Band. The Lebanon High School band of more than 100 members will be sponsored by the Lebanon Shrine Club.

During half-time the bands will play under the direction of Col. George S. Howard, director-conductor of the United States

Air Force Band. He will be assisted by the directors of the two college bands. Before the game eight special units of Rajah Temple, Legion of Honor, Chanters, Rajah String Band, Rajah Brass Band, Oriental Band of Allentown, Arab Patrol, Bands will march as individual units.

Leon S. Blimline, general director of Shrine Pretzel Bowl activities, announced the Employees' Fellowship Club of the Carpenter Steel Co. will conclude the day with the Pretzel Bowl Ball in the Rajah Temple. Music from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. will be provided by the Tillman-Fisher Orchestra. A ticket booth will be set up at the stadium for dance reservations. Michael Sustello, president of the club, is acting chairman for the ball. Assisting him are: Marvin N. Williams, vice president; Carl Seigfried, secretary-treasurer; Russell Konkel, Philip Tobias, Walter Boyer and Melvyn Frees, trustees. Jean Bauder, Geri Patrick, Mary Ann Kiehl, Joan Kline and Marguerite Wagner will assist the committee.

Faculty And Students Study Academic Dishonesty

Dr. Mahlon H. Hellerich, academic dean of the college, and the Faculty Committee on Student Standing are working in conjunction with a student committee, formed by Willard Stitzell, president of Student Council, to investigate mass cheating and individual cheating on the campus. With reference to the study of these committees, The Albrightian received a release to inform the student body of the purpose and plan of these committees. The release reads as follows:

"Academic dishonesty on the part of students is currently the subject of study by both the Faculty Committee on Student Standing and a special student committee appointed for this purpose by Willard Stitzell, president of the Student Council. These committees are working together to determine the various forms of academic dishonesty, to investigate the causes of such behavior, and to suggest policies and procedures to faculty and administration on the one hand and to students on the other whereby the frequency of attempts at dishonest practices can be reduced.

Main Concern

"In particular, the committees are concerned with the problem of cheating in tests and examinations. At a joint meeting of both committees held recently, this entire problem was discussed at considerable length. It was agreed that the solution to the problem is a joint responsibility of the three concerned parties—students, faculty, and administration. Agreement was reached on steps to be taken in the near future by the student committee and the Dean of the college. The Faculty Committee on Student Standing has been authorized to make this study by the entire faculty.

"Dean Mahlon H. Hellerich made this statement in explaining the need for study and action: 'Academic dishonesty particularly cheating in tests and examinations, is a serious problem at most American colleges and universities. Our situ-

Domino Club Scores Smash Hit With 'The Man Who Came To Dinner'

Chapel Exterior Nears Completion

Construction on the exterior of the Merner-Pfeiffer-Klein Memorial Chapel-Auditorium moved toward completion during the past week. The stainless-steel steeple was placed atop the structure, which has been under construction since "Homecoming '58", and installation of the themopane window of the aluminum entrance was started.

Work on the 919 upholstered auditorium seats has been started in the interior of the building. The holes are being measured and drilled in anticipation of the seats arrival which are scheduled for shipment November 23.

Dedication of the chapel is planned for Sunday, February 7, 1960.

Frat Balloting Preceded By Silent Period

Spring preferential fraternity balloting will be preceded by a silent period, as a result of action taken by the Interfraternity Council at its last meeting. The council took action on a joint resolution submitted by the Pi Tau Beta and Kappa Upsilon Phi social fraternities after a much broader motion, tabled at IFC's preceding meeting, was defeated.

The motion which IFC approved set the length of the silent period at one day previous to the preferential balloting. During the silent period communication between freshmen men and fraternity men is prohibited. Violation of the silent period on the part of a freshman or fraternity man will result in the freshman losing his right to pledge the fraternity he has approached, or the fraternity losing its right to pledge the freshman it has approached.

Another motion was passed unanimously by IFC, to poll the freshmen men to determine whether they wish their first choice on the preferential ballot kept secret or sent to the fraternity of their choice. IFC decided the copies of all motions passed in its meetings will be sent to the fraternities, their advisors, Dr. Mahlon H. Hellerich, academic dean, and Dr. John W. Kopp, dean of men. It was also decided that the plaque for the scholastic trophy, located in the library, be brought up to date.

Thespians Feature Howard Deck In Fall Production

Theater-in-the-round reappeared on the Albright campus last night when the Domino Club's fall production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," opened in Krause Hall. Miss Patricia A. Hostetter, of the English faculty and advisor to the club, is director.

Performances will be given also tonight and tomorrow night with curtain time at 8:15 p.m. Tickets may be purchased in the lobby of the administration building or at the door for one dollar, plus tax, or in exchange for activity ticket number 30, plus tax. Balcony seats are available this year for the first time.

Howard Deck

Howard Deck, '61, portrays the title role in this sophisticated comedy by Moss Hart and George Kaufman. The three-act play revolves about the complications that arise when a national celebrity, Sheridan Whiteside, comes to dinner . . . and stays; much to his annoyance, he is forced to spend several weeks in a small mid-western town while recuperating from a fall. Whiteside sets up a temporary office in the home of the Ernest Stanleys where the accident occurred, and aided by his secretary, Maggie, carries on his customary occupations of answering correspondence from persons all over the world, making radio broadcasts, and, of course, entertaining the distinguished personalities who "drop in" to visit him.

Heading the cast, in addition to Deck, are Nancy Heilman, '60, as Maggie, the secretary; Patricia Cush, '60, as Lorraine Sheldon, the actress; and Charles Mengel, '61, as Louise Pearl, Lucille Kailer, William Dembaugh and Victor Mincelli have been selected by Adler not only for their musical gifts and versatility, but also their promise of future stardom. Accompanying the quartet at the piano will be Frank Mittler.

The musical program, produced under Adler's direction, will include favorite selections from grand opera, light opera, and operetta, and recent musical productions on Broadway.

Dishonesty

ation at Albright in this regard is certainly no worse than that at other schools. Probably it is better than average, but it is still serious enough to harm the integrity of our educational effort. We must act immediately to protect ourselves from the harmful results of these practices. Fortunately we have a great deal in our favor as we tackle this job. Ours is a small and relatively homogenous faculty and student body. We are agreed that cheating is wrong, that it is harmful, and that we can do something about it. We are united as to the principles involved in this matter. I am certain that we can agree on an effective course of action.

Stitzell

"Willard Stitzell added this comment: 'I would strongly urge that all students who feel as great an interest in this problem as the committee feel free to bring their suggestions or comments to me or any other member of the committee.'"

Members of the special student committee are Margaret Schultz, Margaret Brookes, Carolyn Thorndike, Stanley Michalak, William Stitzell, all '60, and Samuel Richardson, '63. The first Freshman Parents Day with 270 guests attending was declared a success by Warren E. Weidman, '61, general chairman. Following the football victory over Juniata, a reception was held in the dining hall lounge. The program, which may become an annual event, was sponsored by the local Mu Eta Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

Greetings were extended to the guests by Dr. Harry V. Masters, college president, Willard M. Stitzell, '60, Student Council president, and Dr. Samuel B. Shirk, director of public relations and assistant to the president. Officers of the freshman class were introduced by Samuel Richardson, president of the class.

Sloan Wilson, Novelist Appears in Krause

"Writing is to a large extent believing, believing in what you are writing," said Sloan Wilson, novelist and guest speaker at last Tuesday's chapel. Sloan Wilson is probably most well known for his best seller about Madison Avenue, The Man in the Grey Flannel Suit.

In his advice to up and coming writers, Wilson advised, "Learn to be original and an individualist, but do not become an odd ball."

Accompanying Wilson on campus were Robert Wahn, Public Relations Director for Warner Brothers, and Bert Leighton, manager of the local Warner Theatre. Wilson was in Reading in connection with the recently completed motion picture version of his latest novel, Summer Place, which opened at the Warner Theatre Wednesday.

Minet Tillson, '60, who introduced Wilson to his audience presented the novelist with a complimentary copy of the campus literary magazine, The Agon.

Campus Adopts Needy Families

Three needy families have again been "adopted" by the campus Y to receive Thanksgiving baskets. Containers have been placed in all campus buildings for the collection of food until November 23, when they will be picked up for distribution.

That evening, the Alpha Pi Omega, local social fraternity, has made its house available as the gathering place for the collection boxes and student distributors. Baskets will be presented that evening to the three chosen families.

Each year Y "adopts" families through Reading Fellowship House, and presents them with food they would not have otherwise. This year's program is under the direction of Agnes R. Oaks, '61, and John S. Weaver, '61, co-chairmen of the social responsibility commission of Y cabinet.

Those assisting the heads are: Carol Matz, '62; Audrey Schropp, '62; Mary Ann Richards, '62; and Edwin Wray, '60. Serving on the publicity committee are: Gary Ditty, '62; Lenore Barth, '62; and Janet Blumberg, '63.

Mus Entertain

The sisters of the Phi Beta Mu social sorority have invited all freshmen and transfer women to their annual rush party next Monday evening.

Schlegel Park will be converted into a pirates' den, with the sisters and guests dressing in the "Mu-tiny" theme. General chairman, Janelle Reed, '61, has Peggy Friedenberg, '62, Sally Smith, '62, April Pogosaew, '62, Peggy Adams, '62, Judie Miller, '61, Carole Weber, '60, and Marlene Wentzel, '61, as committee members.

Still Alive!

Last weekend the true spirit of collegians poured forth at the climax of a hard fought football game in the stadium. The cheers and support of Albright fans were pictures proud to be seen. It wasn't merely a crowd screaming as loudly as it could, but a stadium-packed throng rooting for its team; and its team was worthy of all praise bestowed upon it.

The splintering of the goalpost at the conclusion of the game portrayed the enthusiasm seen at hundreds of college football games each week. It was a scene worth remembering, for the spirit of Albrightians was released to thank the team for its efforts and victory.

Last week's picture is one not to be forgotten; the enthusiasm overflowed as Albrightians streamed onto the field to express what they have long desired. Keep that spirit as we head for bigger and better acclaims!

The spirit on this campus is not dead! When college students rush forward to shout their praise and happiness, they display the meaning and significance they hold to their alma mater. Albright is proud of its team and must be proud of its students, for last week they showed how deeply they are affected with the victory of their alma mater's representatives.

Keep the tap to the spring of this spirit open. Let your spirit overflow as our team, our champs, face the greatest trial this year. Back them, show the boys you're behind them.

Cheer them to victory!

Our Heritage

As Americans throughout the country pause next Thursday to honor and give thanks to God and their ancestors who braved the wilds and unknown to gain freedom, let us remember a few things we have to be thankful for!

This is a land where Truth is our goal. We are not suppressed as we surge forward to know the Truth and to spread this Truth.

Here is a land with Honor. We are not ashamed to say we live in America, but proud to say we are Americans. We have a right to be proud, for those who have gone before us and those who are our contemporaries have paved the way for Honor.

America gives everyone an opportunity to express his Ability. No one is denied that which he is willing to strive for. It is our duty to know our Ability and to express it in the best way possible.

Nowhere is there a Nation who offers its people the rights and privileges we enjoy in America. We are a Nation, and a unified Nation under one government and one goal, freedom.

Kings may have sole rule of the government, but we are above them as Knights of democracy. As Knights we accept and cherish our responsibility to forward popular rule of the government, a responsibility and right granted to few nations of the world.

Surrounding us is a Security that can be gained in no other country, a Security of peace and understanding.

Granting us Government of the people, America is our nation, the product of our desires and needs. We are not held under the thumb of a dictator, but of a president who represents the American way.

In all corners of America, Independence reigns for all, an Independence which we love and respect. We are envied by many for the right to be free and to speak as we wish.

Verily, we may Venture into the fields we desire. We are not ordered by the government to follow a certain way of life, we are not blocked in our attempts to move forward.

Inherent in America is the right to follow our Initiative. We are not tossed into prison, nor exiled from our native land because we have a new idea, because we introduced a movement of concept into our way of life.

Needless to say, we are Nothing unless we appreciate the American way of life and give our best to the furthering of our beliefs. This is our nation, this is what millions have fought and died for, if it is worth even one man's life, it must be worthwhile.

Guided by God, our nation is the nation for the people. Each one is an important link in the chain of democracy. We have the right to worship God as we please, or to deny Him if we so believe. This is our heritage. Keep it burning in generations to come.

Next Thursday, take time out to thank God and your fellowmen for making America what it is, and as you are doing this, take time out to realize your part in keeping our heritage. Make this day a day of Thanksgiving.

COLLEGE BRED

Daddies send their children to college either because they went to college or because they didn't. Maybe Daddy can't estimate the value of an education, but he can certainly tell you the cost of one. Some students, however, work their way through school (reform school) and in some rare cases, school works its way through them.

The college is the fountain of knowledge where youth goes to drink—and the coeds there answer more questions over the phone than they do in class. A coed with brains may go to the head of the class, but a coed with class goes to the head of the professors. Some coeds pursue learning; others learn pursuing. Coeducations was once a race for supremacy between the sexes, but now its neck and neck.

Then there's the college man, an appetite with skin over it. If all college men who sleep in class were placed end to end they'd be more comfortable. College men like suits with stripes, ties with dots, and letters with checks.

Maybe some day we'll get that B.A. (which means the holder has mastered the first two letters of the alphabet) and a sheepskin to cover our intellectual nakedness. Then we'll wake up to the fact that we've finished college and Daddy about the same time.

—Sour Owl (University of Kansas)

Got any toys hidden in your attic that you'd like to give away? Thanksgiving time is a good time to find those forgotten dolls, trucks, etc., and bring them back for the Y Christmas Party.

Annually Y sponsors a Christmas Party for underprivileged children of Reading. This year's party is set for December 13, in Krause Hall.

Since no Christmas Party is a Christmas Party without presents, the Y Santa Claus needs some presents to give. Any broken or bent toys will be mended and repaired by Y members and club groups. Toy repair nights have been scheduled for December 7-10.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"—JUST WANTED YOU TO KNOW YOU'RE UNDER SUSPICION OF HAVING CHEATED ON MY LAST TEST—YOU PASSED IT."

Do We Have Any Rights?

By STAN MICHALAK

It seems as if the recent actions of some of us have shaken the lofty ivory towers of several professors and the nihilism of our "too-many" mentally sterile fellow students. However the fact that we managed to get some student response was encouraging. I have been told that even some of the test tube rattlers were aware of a controversy—those self selected demi-gods who bow before the mystical flask and absorb all of its magical dogma.

If our actions have offended any of these people, we hope that they will excuse us. We didn't realize that one loses his franchise (voice in democracy) and rights of citizenship when he becomes a student at Albright College. Several of our colleagues seem to feel that freedom of speech, assembly, and religious conviction are forfeited upon admission to an institution of higher learning. To say the very least, we feel that this contention is absolutely absurd!

Responsibility

Basically the question is whether or not one really believes in democracy. In any true democracy all citizens (note: this does not mean only politicians) have not only rights but essential responsibilities. It is their duty to keep themselves informed, to help inform their fellow citizens, to help nominate the best candidates in ones party, and to see that the best candidates are elected to public office. It is every citizen's responsibility to see that his party is clean and ethical, that demagogues do not gain power. These are the duties of every citizen—workers, teachers (which includes college professors), ministers, students, businessmen, and even scientists and science students. Everyone is obligated to be informed and work for the rule of the best. If the bulk of our citizens don't want these responsibilities they have two choices: either change our form of government or emigrate to another country where they won't be obligated to participate in civic affairs.

Those of us who are students of political science, history and ethics are keenly interested in seeing the rule of the best qualified men. History is filled with too many accounts of "bad" rulers. The influences of men like Huey Long, Boss Tweed, and Boss Hague, and the late Senator McCarthy can still be felt today.

To speak more specifically of our esteemed mayor-elect, some of us agreed with the Reading Record's implication that he would do anything to get elected "... boast, lie, promise, use shrewd tactics, go to three different churches on Sunday, kiss babies, pay workers, and wear coonskin caps to get elected." We do not feel that one who has to lie, use shrewd tactics, kiss babies, etc. in order to be elected is the person to be mayor of our city—of which Albright College is a part. As citizens and voters several students of Albright College felt that this candidate was a discredit to his party and someone whom they did not want to rule them. They then began to exercise their democratic rights and responsibility of attempting to prevent the election of this one candidate.

Encouragement

The entire experience was an invaluable educational experience to all of those who participated. The real world of politics is the laboratory of the political scientists—we cannot learn everything from books. Could our dogma-seeking science students learn chemistry without ever stepping inside the chem lab?

We who were most involved in this affair do want to thank those members of the administration, faculty, and student body who saw the ideal for which we were fighting. Their moral encouragement did much to keep us alive when the battle turned against us. We are deeply indebted to them.

If anyone, faculty or student, still has charges and complaints to make, I wish he would make himself and his charges known. We are willing to discuss this matter and these principles with anyone, before any group, at any time!

Lions Crush Juniata Indians, 14-0

Albright Humbles Foe With Stunning Display

By JIM ADAM

Albright assumed the role of giant killer and Juniata lost its bid for an undefeated season as the Lions outbattled the Indians, 14-0, here last Saturday before 3,000 Freshmen-Parent Day fans. Coach John Potskian's gridders now own an overall 6-3 record and stand a chance of winning the northern college division championship of the Middle Atlantic States Conference.

The Lions and Juniata own identical 5 and 1 conference slates and are now tied for first place honors. The Indians have completed their eight game card, but Albright has one game remaining—tomorrow's Pretzel Bowl with Franklin and Marshall, a conference foe. If Albright wins tomorrow, they will take the conference toga. Anything less on their part means the championship for Juniata.

The Albright victory over Juniata was no fortuity; the Lions commanded from the initial whistle. It was a team victory all the way. Gerry Bricker tallied both Lion touchdowns and fellow co-captain and senior Jim Doremus added both conversions.

The Red and White forward wall proved to be the biggest asset, as it held the Indians to a paltry net rushing gain of 41 yards. Albright gained 182 on the ground. Albright commanded everything in the first half. In the second half, as Juniata began to move the ball, a heavy downpour soaked the field, causing the footing to be unsure.

Harry Long, leading Indian ground-gainer for the season, was limited to a mere 18 yards, the best Juniata effort of the afternoon. Not once did Juniata penetrate past the Albright thirty yard line. As the game ended Albright had just lost the ball on downs on the Juniata one after Gary Chapman failed to sneak over for the third touchdown. The series of plays was set up when Bricker intercepted.

The Potskianmen took the opening kickoff, but fumbled on the third play from scrimmage with Frank Rocco of Juniata recovering. Two plays later Larry Woods picked up Bob Schwalenberg's fumble on Albright's 41, and the Lions were off!

In five plays Albright worked the ball to the opposite 33 when Tom Olivo broke over tackle for 25 yards, to the Juniata eight. Chapman threw to Don Rietscha in the end zone, where defensive interference was called against the Indians, and they were penalized to their one. Bricker broke over for six.

Early in the second quarter Tony LoSapio intercepted on Juniata's 26. A Chapman-to-Gary Sheeler pass put Albright on the 14, with first and ten. They were stopped at the seven, and Juniata punted from the nine to their 30. Then Sheeler took a pass to the 17 and Bricker shot to the three. Chapman failed to move the ball. However, Bricker plunged over. Doremus kicked his second perfect placement of the day, giving Albright a 14-0 triumph. Chapman completed half of the 14 passes he threw, good for 69 yards.

Pardon Me, Please

Co-captain Gerry Bricker is shown crossing the goal line for his second touchdown of the afternoon against the Juniata Indians last Saturday. Bricker and co-captain Jim Doremus, who kicked the extra points were responsible for the entire scoring out put.

Cross Country Men Conclude 1959 Season

The last three meets of Coach Eugene Shirk's cross country men have changed their already disappointing record of two wins and six losses to an unimproved mark of two wins and nine losses. The season clincher was run off against undefeated Juniata last Saturday.

PMC Rumps

Tuesday, November 4, Skip Dougherty led the harriers of Pennsylvania Military College to an 18-40 win over the Lions, when he ran the course at Chester in 21:12 minutes. The first Albrightian courier over the line was sophomore John Grove, who came in fourth. Other Red and White scorers were Barry Goodhart, Paul Hensel, Bill Salaneck, and Gerry Polyascko, who snatched the sixth, eighth, tenth, and twelfth places, respectively. The remaining positions, 13-18, were taken by Walter Diehm, Jay Miller, Mike Marino, Dave Leber, Bob Cotter, and Carl Schneider.

Delaware Takes First

The Shirkmen's next meet took place Friday, November 6, when they placed second in a triangular cross country meet with Delaware University and Ursinus on their home course. The first position was taken by runner Carl Homan, a Swedish exchange student at Delaware University, when he negotiated the 4.3 course in 22:28.3. This was the best time over Albright's layout for this year. John Grove led the Red and White across the line to earn fifth place. Behind Grove was Albright's Barry Goodhart. The other Lion scorers, Bill Salaneck, Gerry Polyascko, and Henry Tonnell captured the eleventh, fourteenth, and fifteenth positions. ### Indians Cavort

Saturday, November 14, the Juniata harriers took the first seven positions as their runners defeated the Albright couriers 15-50 on the Lions' course. The other four Lion point-getters were John Grove in ninth position, Dave Leber in the eleventh spot, Paul Hensel who placed thirteenth, and Bill Salaneck who came in fourth. This was the eighteenth consecutive win for Juniata.

Coach Potskian's Charges Prepare For F & M Tilt

The Diplomats of Franklin and Marshall College will enter Albright Stadium tomorrow afternoon in the ninth annual Pretzel Bowl charity against the Albright Lions. F & M is not expected to be in a diplomatic mood, however, as it takes the field with intentions of improving upon its series lead of 17 wins, 8 losses, and a single tie in previous encounters

WAA Tennis Action Closes

Women's tennis competition has come to a close with Mary Jane Foreman in line for a trophy as a reward for her excellence with the racket which placed her first out of twenty female competitors. Pat Cush, Barbara Price and Carol Mueller are the remaining three of the racket-wielders "Big Four". Other frequenters of the tennis courts finishing the season in the fifth through twentieth positions were Linda Sempf, Wilma Miller, Gail Montag, Pat Modlin, Rachael Hinman, Carol Risler, Joan Bloise, Anne Kennedy, Barbara Beech, Linda Bohi, Janet Blumberg, B. J. Specht, Gail Wallaston, Sandy Seasholtz, Barbara Moyer and Judy Campbell.

As the hockey season progresses through its second half, several new rules have been inaugurated. It is now necessary for ten players to be present for a game, whereas previously a team could play with a fewer number. If one of two competing teams lacks the required number of players, two points are awarded the full team. However, if both teams lack the sufficient number, they may either play, with the winning team receiving two points, or not play, with neither team receiving any points.

Mus Lead Second Half

Phi Beta Mu is leading the second half scoring with seven points, Pi Alpha Tau is second with five, Freshmen II is pushing a close third with four points, followed by the Dormwomen and Freshmen I each with three, while the Daywomen with no points have had to forfeit every game.

The hockey playday which was to be held on Albright's field last Saturday did not take place due to the weather. It is hoped that the schools which were to participate can find time available so that the event will only have been postponed, rather than cancelled. December 5 Albright travels to Kutztown for a combination swimming and volleyball playday. All interested women should sign up in the

with the Red and White. The Lions will not be in a charitable mood either as they seek their seventh season victory and the northern division championship of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Franklin and Marshall, mentored by head coach Woodrow "Woody" Sponaugle, and assistant coaches George McGinness, William Iannicelli, and Michael Lewis, boasts a mark of four victories, two defeats, and a draw at present. The Diplomats have beaten Washington & Lee, 28-14, Dickinson, 14-12, Hampden-Sydney, 28-26, and Muhlenberg, 22-6. They bowed to Johns Hopkins, 42-0, and Denison University, 37-8, and stalemated Western Maryland, 14-14.

F & M Lettermen

There are only eight lettermen from last year's squad, but heading the list are the brilliant quarterback John Betrone and halfback Raymond Drake. These two men were mainly responsible for a surprisingly easy 22-6 conquest of Muhlenberg last week. Other lettermen are ends Spencer Videon and Dave Young; guard Albert Hillman; center Erwin Kleim; and halfback John Kooser. The Lions have not beaten F & M since 1955 and must now conquer a team which has proven itself formidable, especially in its victories over Washington & Lee and Muhlenberg, in order to capture the northern division crown.

Recently Albright College had the honor of being asked to play hostess to the Pennsylvania Division of the Athletic and Recreation Federation of College Women. The purpose of this Federation is to promote recreational athletics for women, deemphasizing the commercial aspect. Not having had any representatives at the PDARFCW meeting, Albright's Women's Athletic Association felt compelled to refuse the generous offer, but requested the opportunity of being hostess next year. There is every reason to believe that this request will be granted.

Tonight at 7:30 there will be a meeting of the WAA and all women interested in athletics are invited to attend.

Rietscha's Reach Ruined

Albright end Don Rietscha is fouled by Bill Berrier, the Juniata fullback, in an attempt to break up a TD pass play in first period action last Saturday. Juniata was penalized as the ball was placed on the one-yard line. Bricker carried it over from there.
