Six Honored With Degrees At Graduation

A local bank president, two ministers and the supervisor of a federal bureau will receive honorary degrees at commencement Sunday, June 5. Honorary degrees in absentia will also be granted to two churchmen abroad.

Sidney D. Kline, president of the Berks County Trust Co., will be awarded the Doctor of Laws degree. A native of Reading, Kline is an alumnus of Dickinson College, the Dickinson School of Law, and has attended courses at the University of Pennsylvania.

Currently serving as president of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association, Kline has also served as chairman of state legislative and banking committees. He is a director of the following organizations: American Casualty Co., Reading; Bell Telephone Co. of Pa.; Provident Federal Savings and Loan Association, Reading; the Reading Hospital.

Kline is a member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association and the Berks County Bar Association, and is a trustee of Dickinson College, Bethany Orphans' Home, Womelsdorf, and Albright College, and is a member of the Board of Incorporators, Dickinson School of Law.

Clergymen To Receive D.D.s

The Rev. Emerson G. Hangen, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Long Beach, Calif., and the Rev. J. H. Fleckenstein, pastor of Trinity Evangelical United Brethren Church, York, will receive honorary Doctor of Divinity degrees.

Rev. Mr. Hangen earned degrees at Albright College, Princeton Theological Seminary and the Graduate College of the University of New Hampshire. He was licensed to preach by the East Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical Church, and was then ordained as a minister of the Presbyterian Church. Commissioned as a chaplain in the United States Navy, he served on board many ships and at shore stations in various parts of the world for more than 12 years.

He transferred his ministerial standing to the Congregational Church in 1937. He was a delegate to the Second Assembly of the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Ill., last August. He is presently serving as president of the Long Beach Ministerial Union, and was just recently elected president of the University of Southern California Ministers' Convocation. SC Will Hold Talent Show

Student Council will sponsor its annual all-campus talent show at Assembly next Thursday, May 12. David Frankhauser, '55 is in charge of organizing the show.

The show will include singing, instrumental numbers, dancing, comedy routines and monologues. A first-place trophy will be awarded to the winner in both the professional and non-professional categories.

Any student interested in participating in the talent show can arrange to do so by contacting Frankhauser.

Music Groups Sing Before 11,350

The Octet and Glee Club have sung before 11,350 people this year, announced David Lubba, '56, manager. The Glee Club has travelled 1500 miles on its two tours.

Mrs. Eva Mosser is the faculty adviser in charge of the dances.

Campus Activities Planned

Other activities scheduled for parents and friends on Saturday will be numerous and varied. From 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon all the buildings on campus will be opened for visitors. During this time coffee will be served in the Blue Room of Selwyn Hall and the Green Room of Teel Hall.

After the coronation, the Albright baseball team will face St. Joseph's College at Keckner Field.

A banquet will be served at 6 p.m. in the Physical Education Building for parents and other guests of students. Robert Brown, '56 will act as Master of Ceremonies. Dean George W. Walton will give the invocation, and Dr. Harry V. Masters will address the group on behalf of the faculty.

Mrs. Francis Hussey, Reading, will speak as a representative of the parents. Speaking on behalf of the students will be James Hall, '55.

Saturday's events will be concluded in the evening with a music festival in Krause Hall. The music will be presented by the combined (Continued On Page Four)

WAA Awards To Be Given

The annual Women's Athletic Association banquet will be held next Thursday, May 12, 6:30 p.m., in the college dining hall.

The Women's Auxiliary of Albright College will present a trophy to the outstanding woman athlete of the year. Last year this trophy was awarded to Ann Koche, '54.

A new trophy, to be given this year for the first time, will be presented by the Women's Athletic Association to the Albright woman who has done the most for that organization during the current year.

Other awards will include letters, sweaters and numerals for women who have participated in campus athletics.

Mardi Gras Set For May 14

Eleven organizations will participate in the annual Mardi Gras, which has been postponed to May 14 because of rain last Friday night. The carnival will be held from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m. on the parking lot across from the physical education building.

William Davies, '56, chairman, announced that the Alpha Pi Omega fraternity has withdrawn because of a conflict with its annual picnic.

Variety shows, food and amusement stands, and various booths will be featured by Phi Beta Mu, Zeta Omega Epsilon, Kappa Upsilon Phi, Pi Tau Beta, American Chemical Society, Chess Club, Heo, Kappa Tau Chi, Women's Student Senate and the Daymen and Daywomen.

SC Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of the newly elected Student Council was held last Tuesday, May 3, with president Paul Hetrich, '56, in charge.

Sydne Matz, '56 was elected corresponding secretary, and Andree Schmoyer, '56 recording secretary. Clement Cassidy, '57 was voted treasurer. The balloting for vice-president did not result in the necessary majority and will be taken care of at the next meeting, May 17.

Hetrich appointed the following committees: Publicity Committee, Charles Sample, '58 and Mary Ellen Appleman, '58; Intercollegiate Activities Committee, Allen Lentz, '57 and Lee Hagginbotham, '57; Chapel Committee, Robert Bowers, '56; Orientation Committee, Lowell Perry, '57; Cultural Assembly Committee, Raymond Horan, '56 and Jane Harting, '58; Intramural Sports Committee, Albert Camilli, '56.

Also, Friday Night Dance Committee, Clair Matz, '58, and Mildred Tims, '57; Social Hour Committee, Janet Lanfranke, '57; Constitutional Committee, Arthur Saylor, '57, Clement Cassidy, '57, Andree Schmoyer, '56, Robert Miller, '56 and William West, '57; NSA Committee, Marion Evans, '56; Faculty Student Committee, Jeanne Handorf, '58 and John Paolini, '56; Student Activities Committee, Thomas Pollock, '57, Mary Jo Barbera, '57, and Ronald O'Reilly, '58. Arthur Saylor, '57 was named Parliamentarian.

At the next meeting, May 17, plans will be discussed for orientation, freshman customs, and Student Council committees.

Anna May Mengel To Marry Tomorrow

Anna May Mengel, "girl Friday" in the office of the Dean and Registrar, and Charles M. Eisenbourn, '52 will be married at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Epler's Reformed Church, West Leesport.

Mascabrown is employed as a chemist by the Carpenter Steel Co. The couple will live at 2019 Hampden Blvd.

Miss Mengel will be married in a full length white satin gown, with long sleeves, a high neck, and a little stand-up collar. The fitted bodice of the gown gives way to a full skirt with a short train. The bride's headpiece will be of white satin outlined in seed pearls, with an illusion veil. The matron of honor will wear blue, the bridesmaid yellow, and the flowergirl pink.

Y Installations May 10 At Egelman's Park

The campus Ys will induct officers for 1955-56 at a hot dog roast at Egelman's Park next Tuesday evening, May 10.

William Davies, '56 will take over the presidency of the YMCA from Theodore Tietge, '55. Lorraine Wagner, '55 will install Barbara Bubel, '56 as YWCA president.

Jonathan Kurtz, '57 and Dorothy Englert, '58 will be inducted as next year's vice presidents. Evelyn Neuberger, '58 and Charles Moyer, '56 will be installed as secretary and treasurer of the combined Y cabinets.

Transportation will be provided from the parking lot at 7:15 p.m.

Sic Transit . . .

With this issue, a new staff takes over. On behalf of the student body, we would like to express our appreciation to the Albrightian seniors who will graduate this June.

First of all, many thanks to Pat Weiherer for never losing her cheerful outlook, even when deadlines approached with only a few feeble pieces of paper in the copy basket. Thanks to her also for not blowing her top when she arrived at the printer's, all unsuspecting, only to discover that there was either much too much of everything, or else big white holes on every page.

Secondly, we salute Dave Widland, daring and courageous masked rider of the Illustrated Albrightian. We'll never forget his April Fool sports writing, or his odd preference for a certain number. His hand-drawn cartoons and issues of old Mad comic books added much color to our littered little lair, and we'll never, ever forget that wild ride to the printer sans lights, sans brakes, and sans driver's license.

For keeping the budget in the black, we thank Norman Ring, who leaves us to manage the Cue. Also, we thank him for keeping the pencils sharpened, the wastebaskets emptied, and the office cleaned up.

A special thank-you is in order for Liz Miller, who took over at Mid-year as Feature Editor and did a fine job.

A Cultural Lag? Why?

This year has shown some improvement in the cultural events programs on the campus but there is still much to be done. The Student Council can do just so much as far as the planning and setting up of programs is concerned, but the real need, the cooperation, and participation must come from the student body itself.

Some people may argue that the cultural events programs are generally unappreciated by the students, but after all we do come to college to be changed, so why fight it? Our cultural heritage should be one of the most important parts of our college life, but many of us are too involved in what the books say and oblivious to the finer aspects offered.

Another mistaken impression is that cultural events are "high-brow" or profitable only to the intellectuals, but these programs can include anything from a string quartet to a jazz concert.

So let's get behind Student Council and show that we're really interested. We can't get culture by sneaking in through the side door or by accepting passively the programs offered every Thursday in chapel, whether they're good or bad. Let's face this squarely and the results will be spontaneous.

Library News

Josephine Raeppl, head librarian, recently announced the library's receipt of approximately 60 books as a gift of Mrs. Homer Addams of Germantown, Philadelphia. Most of the books are printed in German and range in dates of publication back to the early eighteenth century.

A few of the more important titles are: History of the Reformation of the Sixteenth Century by Merle d'Aubigne; Collection of Sermons of John Wesley, Complete History of the Christian Martyrs, History of the Mission of the Evangelical Brothers Among the Indians in North America (1789), Theological Writings of Caspar Schwenckfeldt, A Collection of Evangelical Songs (1846). Several of the English books include: History of the Coun-

A Fabulous Weekend

By Betty Weilenmann, '57

Saturday 10:30 a.m. Beautiful weather . . . Off to the Blue Mountains for a Y Retreat . . . since the lodge wasn't open, everyone sat and ate, waited and ate—made a short work of the box lunches . . . camp director finally arrived and the gang was off to the water, some with canoes some without . . . the latter were back on the docks within 60 seconds.

2:30 p.m. The Rev. Carl Schneider conducted the first seminar, using the topic of "Enrichment".

3:30 p.m. Archery contest . . . Lang and Folk . . . prize: dessert (Millie won) . . . Dottie "got her gun" . . . hot shot Englert with eagle eye Deitz running a close second . . . a little volleyball and softball on the side . . . more of the crew from A.C. arrives.

5:30 p.m. supper . . . new dish—spaghetti . . . finished off the dishes with star dish-washer Bill Davies presiding.

7:00 p.m. Second seminar, "Encouragement" — message by Rev. Schneider.

8:30 p.m. Doggie Roast . . . a few quick canoe rides . . . boys playing the harmonica, girls paddling around the docks . . . one big old jam session to Bubel's guitar and Lippencott's accordion . . . singing and story-telling plus "Spoonisms" by Rev. Barth . . . sad tale about a goat, told in song by the greatest new trio: Ellis, Davies and Luckenbill . . . later some cool piano by Al Hoch . . . New Talent Dep't. Barb and bugle.

Sunday 7:30 a.m. Rain . . . Gallilean service held on porch . . . third seminar "Commitment", by Rev. Schneider.

9:30 a.m. Hike through the woods . . . dodging poison ivy and bugs (including those behind cameras) . . . back for a little sunbathing, boating and sitting.

12:30 Dinner . . . lugging of suitcases and much confusion before all got into a car.

2:00 Regrettably leave Blue Mountain . . . taking back many memories and echoes of "Ehrhardt!", a little sunburn and aching muscles.

Ubi Sunt Qui Nos Fuerunt

(A song for the underclassmen to sing after the seniors have graduated.)

Gone are the seniors of yesterday, As sure as the wind or Villor's snows,

And with each senior goes there goes

A memory of an age more gay;

Who will remember the scenes of elation

And the song "In the Roaring Lion's Den"

That we sang in a place on top Mount Penn

That since has become a TV station?

Who will be left who knows the SUB

As anything but Sarah Krause Hall

Or recalls the days of girls' softball?

Where are the teams we used to drib?

Where are the nonconformists today?

They seem to have disappeared from view,

Remaining legends to a few,

(Like Ace and Weiss and that gal, Imlay.)

Where are the pros and former deans,

And confidentially, who cares?

They're gone with former Miss Reading Fairs,

With big wheels and faded May Queens.

Nobody Asked Me, But . . .

By Jane Dewald

This is an article about books . . . not just some ordinary books, but a fabulous selection which is now in the bookstore. There for 75¢ or less a student may purchase anything from Shakespeare to science fiction and be assured of getting something good.

Some of these books which I feel are particularly good, I'd like to tell you about now: There's "Orlando" by Virginia Woolf. Mrs. Woolf is a member of the "stream of consciousness" school, along with James Joyce and others. In "Orlando", which is for the most part lighter and includes more subtle humor than her average novel, she traces the career of the man who chases the wild goose—actually the classical bird of poetry—the world over . . . a chase which begins in Elizabethan times and ends in 1928. This tale of adventure is written in the same clipped, fast-moving tones as is Voltaire's "Candide" and "Zadig".

Aldous Huxley's "Eyeless in Gaza" is also included in this selection. I never fail to marvel at this man's extreme store of culture. Whether he excels in all the fields which he brings into his books, I do not know, but he has a knack for synthesizing and fusing all of the past into his story. And this is the paradox—for he presents his reader with a modern, degenerate society, slowly choking itself off from life with its excesses, and into the mouths of these characters he places the words of Christ and Cicero, Karl Marx and Dante. His men all have such great lofty ideals but the ideals are not their own. Inside they are hollow and empty, and when Huxley with his biting, sardonic brilliance tears down all the shams and false pretences which surround them, there isn't very much left, and the effect is rather saddening.

F. Scott Fitzgerald and Ernest Hemingway are both represented . . . Fitzgerald, in "This Side of Paradise" and Hemingway, in "A Farewell To Arms". Both these books show the authors at their best in presenting young peoples' hopes and dreams which are never fulfilled. Whenever I pick up a Hemingway novel I'm sure that ultimately the hero or heroine will die somewhere in the last three pages. But don't let me discourage you if you haven't read this man. There's something so masculine and vital in his short, powerful sentences, which are practically void of description, but packed with action.

"Lafacadio's Adventures" is a delightful book, light and fast-moving—but does not offer a good cross-section of Andre Gide. After reading Gide's "Counterfeiters" everything else of his seems flat and lacking in profundity. There's probably not another soul in the world who shares this opinion, however, to get on with Lafacadio . . . Gide, at one period in his career became intensely interested in liberty, and here in Lafacadio he has personified it. Essentially free, without family ties, or moral obligations of any sort, Lafacadio can do anything he pleases. The results are amusing and sometimes paradoxical.

"Conjugal Love" by Alberto Moravia is—the best word I can think of to describe it—different. Here again I feel this is not the best of Moravia, for the "Conformist" has a better worked theme; but . . . The theme of "Conjugal Love" is that of a dillitante who is struggling to write what he feels will be the last word in novels. However, the great ideas of his novel become entangled with thoughts of his wife (Continued On Page Four)

Two Jim Dandy Lions

Demetrius James Zaferes says he was born 400 years too late. He came to Albright to learn to be a pirate, but found no course offered. He goes on for "cutlass empire" sort of things, and hopes that someday history will reverse its course and he can return to the bounding main as the Great Golden Hawk.

In anticipation of such a glorious occasion, he chuckles all day long and is never seen without a grin. In case he should change his mind and prefer to charge back through the ages as a knight-errant, he keeps a wicked-looking lance stuck in the floor at the head of his bed.

Zap most emphatically states that despite all rumors to the contrary, he hasn't been pinned since he was a baby.

The life of Pi Tau parties, "Little Toot" and his calliope provide some of the more unusual campus sound effects. When not practicing, he can be found fulfilling his duties as Pi Tau housemother.

A history major from Downingtown, Pa., Zap intends to go to graduate school to specialize in state and local government administration.

He likes photography, girls, sailing, deep-sea fishing, camping and outboard motoring. Zap says he doesn't like to work, and also tried to say that he dislikes people in general. When asked his opinion of Glee Club tours, he remarked, "They're terrible!" Cries of "Hilar!" drowned him out, and the interview was over.

Jim Rogers, the peek-a-boo king from Queens, N. Y., has a unique way of categorizing his likes and dislikes. He likes anything that will make someone laugh, and quite simply dislikes anything that doesn't. Someone has suggested that when Jimmy finishes his seminary work and is pastor of his own church, a long-faced congregation is likely to be startled by seeing its minister pop up from behind the lectern and "peek-a-boo."

Jimmy has his own particular sense of humor, and can make almost anyone laugh. His roommates are familiar with his mimicry and tape-recorder antics. No one who has ever gone on a Glee Club tour with him will ever forget his "revival meetings" complete with singing, shouting, and a bunny hop down the bus aisle, or his hula costume and the "banana song."

Jim is majoring in philosophy, and would like to go on to a doctorate. His own philosophy is that he likes people, especially people who are also women.

He belongs to a staggering number of campus organizations—13, to be exact. The Debating Club claims him as president, and the Men's Dormitory Council as treasurer. He has been active in Domino Club productions for four years, and has traveled with the Glee Club for the same length of time. He is a member of the YMCA Cabinet, Kappa Tau Chi, and Pi Gamma Mu. Jim also belongs to the International Relations Club, the Philosophy Club and German Club. Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity, as well as track team and his work as student assistant in the department of religion take up the rest of his time.

Good luck, Jim, and peek-a-boo!

Lion Nine Defeats Lebanon Valley and Bucknell

In The Lion's Den

By Phil Eyrich

Tribute

At the end of this year, Albright College will say goodbye to Eddie Gullian, a hardworking coach of three sports and a respected member of the college faculty.

When he announced his resignation on April 20, completing six years of service to the college, Gullian at least temporarily ended his college coaching career to assume the position of civilian athletic director of the United States Fleet activities in Yokosuka, Japan.

Eddie Gullian has coached Lion varsity teams through good years and bad, but he has always kept the spirit of Albright high, and not only taught the players the fundamentals of sports, but of good living as well.

Coaching three major varsity sports, Gullian has done a good job with his sometimes scant material and under his direction Albright teams have always given a good account of themselves — whether winning or losing.

Coming to Albright from Lafayette College, he has directed his teams to an overall record of 162 wins against 137 losses. In football his record was 25 wins and 29 defeats with one tie, in basketball 85 wins and 73 defeats, and in baseball 52 wins and 35 defeats (excluding the 1955 baseball season). In view of the caliber of the schedule played by the Lions in their major sports, it is a tribute to Gullian to have even won the number of games he did with a school that is noted for its excellent educational, rather than athletic, record.

Albright College will remember Eddie Gullian and his fine work for many years to come, and the sports staff of the Albrightian wishes him good luck in his new coaching position.

Bouquets

Laurels are in order for the Lion track and field team of Coach Gene Shirk for the terrific record that they have compiled thus far this season. It would be impossible to single out any one individual that has led the Lions, for the stars have been as numerous as the victories.

However, special recognition should go to many of the team: Ken Greenawald, Willie Smith, Don Gottshall, Rudy Becker, Bill Shirk, Bob Wetzel, Bob Krize, and Jack Huntzinger for the most part, although it has been the team as a unit which has won the meets for the Lions.

With the season only half completed, one new school record has been set, and another tied; Jack Huntzinger set a new discus record, and Ken Greenawald tied the record for the 100-yard dash. The fine showing by the relay team in the Penn Relays last week, only to be stopped by a freak injury, was still further proof of the prowess of the trackmen under the excellent coaching of Gene Shirk. Although they were forced to drop from the Penn Relays, there still remains the MASC and IC4A championships for the Lions to show their skill.

Of this team, Albright can well be proud, so at the next home meet, let's show your appreciation Albrightians by turning out in force to back our Lions.

Shirkmen Win

Albright's cinder men completely overwhelmed Lebanon Valley College 100 to 26 in a dual track meet April 27 at Annville.

Nab 12 Firsts

Setting the pace for the Lions were Ken Greenawald, Bob Wetzel, Bill Shirk, and Bob Krize, all double winners. Greenawald won the 100-yard dash in a record time of 9.9 seconds, the 220-yard dash in 22.4 seconds and finished second in the 220-yard low hurdles which were copped by Wetzel, who also added a first in the 120-yard high hurdles, a second in the broad jump, and a third in the high jump. Shirk, as usual, took the mile and two mile runs, while Krize snared firsts in the shot put and javelin and a second in the discus.

Fifth Win

Albright finished first in 12 out of 14 events, losing only the high jump and the broad jump. It was the fifth straight win for the Lions in dual meet competition.

Albright also took part in the Penn Relays last week at Philadelphia. They are the largest track and field games held at one time in the United States. On Friday, Bill Shirk finished ninth in the two-mile run as Jim Beatty of North Carolina won the race over Bob Sbarra of Manhattan.

Finish Sixth

The mile relay team of Ken Greenawald, Paul Gehris, Don Gottshall, and Rudy Becker finished sixth in its heat. Cortland Teachers won the heat while Albred and Iona took second and third respectively.

On Saturday, running a preliminary heat, the Lion relay team of Greenawald, Gehris, Gottshall, and Becker came in second to qualify for the finals. St. Joseph's won in a time of 3:32.7. Gehris and Gottshall turned in very strong performances, while Becker anchored the squad with a fine last lap without pushing himself.

INTRAMURALS

The second half schedule of the intramural baseball league started this past Wednesday, May 4, with the same teams competing as in the first half schedule. The incomplete standings for the first half, as of Monday, May 2, are as follows:

Kappas	3	0
Pi Taus	1	1
APOs	1	1
Zetas	1	1
Titans	0	1
White Chapel	0	2

Injury Hits

At this point, however, Greenawald, leaving the track after his lap, was run into by another runner and spiked severely. Since after the first heat, substitutions are not allowed, the Lions had to be scratched from the final race which was won by St. Joseph's for the second straight year.

Yer Out!

A close play at first base during the Lebanon Valley game. Bernie Seaman spears Roy Dragon's throw to retire another Flying Dutchman. Albright won the contest 5-1.

Loses To Dutchmen

The Albright baseball team boosted their record to five wins and four losses last week by defeating Lebanon Valley 5-1 and Bucknell 4-3 before dropping an 8-2 decision to Moravian College.

Pollock Wins

Tom Pollock went the distance for the Lions in the first game, limiting the Annville aggregation to seven well-spread hits. By winning, the Lions averaged a previous 8-3 setback this season at the hands of the Flying Dutchmen. After Albright went ahead 1-0 in the first inning, Lebanon Valley evened the count in the second frame on a double, and infield out, and an error. But the Lions bounced back in their half of the third inning for three runs to sew up the game.

Consecutive singles by Bob Fiorindo, George Conrad, and Ray Stoneback filled the bases and then Bob Sulyma's infield out, two walks, and a ground ball to the infield by Bob Kovack scored the three runs. Kovack and Sulyma combined hits to drive in the fifth tally to end the game's scoring.

Fiorindo Stars

Bob Fiorindo paced the Lion attack with three hits, while George Conrad and Bob Sulyma each accounted for two more of the nine hits amassed by Albright.

Albright continued their winning ways by defeating Bucknell 4-3 in a close game at Kelchler Field last Saturday. It was the third win in a row for the Lions, while the loss left Bucknell with a 2-6 record.

Goldman Pitches

Duane Goldman won his second straight game with an excellent pitching job, as he set the Bisons down with eight hits while striking out six.

Bucknell jumped out into a 3-0 lead in the first inning, but the Lions quickly knotted the score in the second when with one out, Bob Sulyma unleashed a mighty home-run to leftfield. Following that, Albright added two more on two walks and two singles by Bob Kovack and Roy Dragon. The Lions scored the winning run in the fourth inning when Bernie Seaman singled, Dale Yoder sacrificed, and singles by Kovack and Dragon led the attack.

Kovack Shines

A stellar defensive play by Kovack in the eighth inning preserved the win for the Lions, as he trapped a Bison runner off third base following a ground ball. Kovack led the Lions in hitting with three singles, and Roy Dragon netted two more hits.

For the second time this season, Moravian College downed the Lion nine, this time 8-2. Earlier in the year Albright had taken the short end of an 11-4 count from the same Greyhounds.

Lions Lose

Tom Pollock started for the Lions and was charged with the defeat, although he received help from Bernie Krick on the mound. Albright led 1-0 in the first inning on a walk and a stolen base by Roy Dragon, who moved to third on an infield out, and a sacrifice fly by centerfielder Bob Fiorindo allowed him to score. The roof came down on Pollock in the second, as the Greyhounds scored three runs; they added another in the third, two in the fourth, and another in the sixth to account for their eight runs.

Albright Scores

Albright scored again in the eighth frame on a walk to Seaman, a single by Stoneback, and a wild throw. The Moravian pitcher, Fred Wortsbeck, throttled the Lions with just four hits over the full distance (Continued On Page Four)

Baseball Team To Face Hawks

Both the Albright baseball and track teams will be in action again tomorrow when the Gullannen meet St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia and the track team travels to Bucknell University to meet Bucknell and Ursinus in a triangular meet.

ON DECK

Friday: Golf, LaSalle, Home
 Saturday: Baseball, St. Joseph's, Home
 Track, Ursinus and Bucknell, Away (at Bucknell)
 Tennis, Ursinus Home
 Monday: Baseball, Dickinson, Away
 Golf, Lafayette, Home
 Tuesday: Track, Gettysburg and Haverford, Away (at Haverford)
 Golf, Moravian, Away
 Thursday: Baseball, Susquehanna, Away
 Tennis, Bucknell, Home

Winning Record

The Lion nine will be seeking to further their already winning record. Up until the games this week, the Lions had a 5-3 record, having beaten Wilkes, Ursinus, Franklin and Marshall, Lebanon Valley, and Bucknell; they dropped decisions to Temple, Lebanon Valley, and Moravian.

Improved Playing

Led by the recently improved playing of Roy Dragon, Dale Yoder, and Bob Kovack, in addition to the terrific pitching of Duane Goldman, the Lions have now won three games in a row. With the exception of frequent errors, the play of the team has been stellar in the past few games.

Following the game with the Hawks, Albright will play two contests next week with Dickinson and Susquehanna, both of which will be played on the road.

Track Record

The track and field squad will seek to continue their winning streak when they engage in their second triangular meet of the season tomorrow. In the first, they came in second behind St. Joseph's, one of the finest track teams in the East. Juniata was best; the score was St. Joseph's 80, Albright 39, and Juniata 55.

The Lions have taken six dual meets this year and lost none, but they will be minus the services of their ace sprinter Ken Greenawald, who was injured in the Penn Relays.

Coming Meets

Thus far this season, the Shirkmen have outclassed most of their opponents, with Bill Shirk, Greenawald, and Bob Krize among others pacing the well-balanced team.

Albright will meet Gettysburg and Haverford at Haverford in another triangular contest on Tuesday. Both of the schools are strong in the sport this year, and it will be a stiff test for the Lions.

Linksmen Win First Match In Two Years

The Albright College golf squad won their first match of the season last Monday by defeating St. Joseph's 7-2 on the Reading Country Club course. Previous to their win, they had dropped decisions to Dickinson, Franklin and Marshall, and Juniata.

Trio Wins

Led by Willie Smith, Bill Breneman, and Ernie Broadbeck, the Lions had almost complete control of the match from the start; Mike DePaul and Jack Lewis rounded out the rest of the team by splitting their respective tests with their Hawk opponents.

The linksmen will meet LaSalle and Lafayette at home for their next two matches before playing Moravian at Bethlehem.

Netters Lose

The Albright tennis team dropped two matches this past week, one of them to Moravian 5-4, to drop their record to 2-2 for the season. The golf summary:

Smith, A, defeated Phil Martin, SJ, 4 and 3; Breneman, A, defeated John Melat, SJ, 3 and 2. Albright won best ball 4 and 3.
 DePaul, A, split with McHenry, SJ, and Lewis, A, split with Dalton, SJ. Albright won best ball 2 and 1.
 Joe Carmel, SJ, defeated Barry Rich, A, 3 and 1; Broadbeck, A, defeated Vince Rafferty, SJ, 5 and 4. Albright won best ball, one up.

Deputation Teams Visit Three States

The reach of the services of the deputation teams of Kappa Tau Chi, honorary pre-ministerial fraternity, has extended into three states.

The teams, headed by different members of the fraternity each time, have recently held services in EUB Churches in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Reading.

Two teams, headed by Raymond Faunce, '56, and Carlton Dodge, '58 are going to New England the weekend of May 15 and will take charge of Sunday morning services in five churches. One team will hold services in the Cambridge, Somerville, and Medford EUB Churches in Massachusetts. The other team will go to Rhode Island and will hold services in the Broadway EUB Church in Pawtucket and in the Evangelical Congregational Church in Providence.

Six Degrees

Rev. Mr. Fleckenstine is an alumnus of Bucknell University, Lewisburg, the School of Theology, Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, and Theological Seminary, Naperville, Ill., and attended Union Seminary, New York City, and the Institute of Theology, Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, N. J. A member of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the EUB Church, he has held numerous offices in that conference.

Rev. Mr. Fleckenstine's interdenominational activities include having held the presidency and secretaryship of the York County Council of Churches; the co-chairmanship of the Department of Christian Education. He was protestant representative in the founding of the School of Week-Day sixth grades of the York City Schools and chairman of the Board of Administration until elected president of the county association.

Dr. Homer Tope Rosenberger

Dr. Homer Tope Rosenberger, supervisor of training, Bureau of Prisons, U. S. Department of Justice, will receive the Doctor of Laws degree. Dr. Rosenberger is the author of many books on secondary school education, especially in the field of social studies. He is a member of the governing body of various historical societies.

In his present position, he is responsible for the development and direction of the in-service training program of the Federal Prison Service. This involves the training of employees occupying approximately 4,500 positions in the various types

Rev. Mr. Hangen To Speak At Baccalaureate June 5

Emerson G. Hangen, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Long Beach, California, will be the guest speaker at the Baccalaureate services, Sunday, June 5.

Rev. Mr. Hangen earned degrees at Albright College, Princeton Theological Seminary and the Graduate School of the University of New Hampshire. He was licensed to preach by the East Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical Church, and was then ordained as a minister of the Presbyterian Church. Commissioned as a chaplain in the United States Navy, he served on board many ships and at shore stations in various parts of the world for more than 12 years.

He transferred his ministerial standing to the Congregational Church in 1937. He was a delegate of Federal penal institutions, located in 20 states and the District of Columbia. He is an alumnus of Albright College and Cornell University.

The Rev. Frederick Schaefer, of the Switzerland Conference of the EUB Church and the Rev. Ernst Humburger of the South Germany Conference will receive honorary Doctor of Divinity degrees in absentia.

Rev. Mr. Shaer recently served as the only EUB delegate to the Swiss Protestant Church Federation. Rev. Mr. Humburger is publisher of the Evangelical Press in Stuttgart, Germany.

to the Second Assembly of the World Council of Churches, Evanston, Ill., last August. He is presently serving as president of the Long Beach Ministerial Union, and was just recently elected president of the University of Southern California Ministers' Convocation.

Nobody Asked . . .

The last book I want you to hear about is "The Catcher in the Rye". In my opinion J. D. Salinger is one of the finest artists on the scene today. He has a knack for getting down on paper exactly the right picture and the right words. He leaves you with such a terribly clear-cut picture of his character, that you sometimes wonder if you haven't met this person before, or if maybe you are that person. In a volume of Salinger's short stories he begins with the quote: "We know the sound of two hands clapping, but what is the sound of one hand clapping?" The sound of one hand clapping? That's Salinger.

These are just a few of the many that are at your fingertips in the bookstore now. There's at least one book there for you to read . . . maybe it's "The Age of Longing" by Koestler, "Tortilla Flat" by Steinbeck, "Sea and Sardinia" by D. H. Lawrence, but whatever it may be, read it!
