

DOCTOR CHARLES E. ROTH SPEAKS AT WASHINGTON CEREMONY HERE; ESSAY WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Traits of Character of First President Described and Interpreted by Popular Speaker; Reedy and Levin Receive Awards as Winners of Annual Essay Contest

GLEE CLUBS ON PROGRAM

The two hundredth birthday of Washington was observed on Albright's campus in the chapel service, on Monday, February 22, at which the Reverend Dr. Charles E. Roth delivered an excellent address. Doctor Roth used as a basis for his talk outstanding qualities of Washington's character that are most applicable to the gradually developing characters on the American campus.

The winners of the annual essay contest for Freshmen on aspects of the life of Washington were announced at this service. First prize went to Franklin Reedy for his paper, "The Tale of a Man in Love with the Soil" and the second was given to Bernardo Levin for his paper "When Washington Laughed." Both papers were read by their authors.

The speaker, in testing the personality and character of our great American, used three laws of the psychiatrist, the law of explosion, the law of extension of personality, and the law of idealism. He developed these laws at length, suggesting their use in testing each auditor's character. The culture of an individual, for example can be judged by his emotional powers, his use of judgment the amount of strain necessary and the occasion of the "explosion."

Doctor Roth presented a new angle on Washington's character by glorifying his repeated rises from the defeats that he met throughout his career.

The surrounding numbers included selections by the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, and the reading of the two essays on Washington.

Theme of "Cue" Will Be Arabian; Editors Lower Book's Price

New Departments Planned To Increase Book's Sales Appeal; Photography Complete

Work is progressing rapidly on the "Cue" annual of the College and published by the Junior Class. An Arabian Theme has been selected by Editor Shook and his staff as the keynote of the book.

The price has been lowered this year, the staff promising that the book will sell at three dollars or less. Special departments have been designed to make the book more appealing to the customer. Among these is an unique feature section for Albright Letter men. The big Red & White warriors are promised a burst of publicity unequalled heretofore. Another department now being considered is a "Popularity" section in which prominent persons on the faculty and student body will give their votes to such mythical figures as the "most popular," the "best dressed" and others.

The photography work is complete as far as portraits are concerned; however no groups have been pictured as yet. This work will begin this week. Questionnaires will be sent to all Juniors this week. Accuracy and promptness are requested by the staff in filling these out.

Int. Relations Club Hears Richardson on Russian Problem

Local Attorney Not Impressed with Success of Russian System

Attorney William E. Richardson of Reading, spoke to the International Relations Club, Tuesday evening. His topic was "Soviet Russia."

Mr. Richardson was one of a party of six who traveled through Russia and made a study of conditions as they exist in that country. The men traveled third class, ate in factory-restaurants, and tried to live and look like the "workers."

Socialism in Russia is not a free government said the speaker. It is a dictatorship of a class—the Communist party. This party is made up of one and one-half per cent of the entire population. Their doctrine is that of Karl Marx—the belief in violent revolution.

Prof., Mrs. Hamilton Hosts to Pi Gamma Mu; Dr. Greth Speaks

Sociology Professor Depores Emphasis on Data in Social Work Today

"Recent Developments in the Field of Sociology" was the topic discussed by Dr. Morris S. Greth, head of the Department of Sociology, at the monthly meeting of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science society, held at the home of Professor Hamilton, Thursday. Foreign schools of thought, especially the German, are now leading in new concepts of this social science. Dr. Greth stressed the new ecology in social affairs, and the importance of certain centers of dominance such as New York and London in determining the principles of social grouping. We have devoted too much attention to the collection of data. Now it is necessary to discover some principles, and to find out where we are going.

An interesting discussion followed Dr. Greth's speech. Tea was served by Mrs. Hamilton.

Nat'l Field Worker To Visit Lutherans

Club Will Hear Report of Delegates to M'burg Convention

The Lutheran Club on this campus will entertain the Reverend Doctor C. P. Harry, of the National Lutheran Student Association, on March 3rd, when he will discuss Lutheran Missionary activity.

The club sent thirteen delegates to the convention held over the week-end at Muhlenberg College by the National group. At this time the Albrightians were impressed with the Doctor's addresses and determined to bring him to this campus.

The service was held by the "Sojourners Club," an organization whose members are masons who served as officers in the World War. The Rear Admiral, W. Coontz was the speaker. Miss Gerberich sang the beautiful "Recessional" of Kipling.

Annual Affair Promises to be Great Success; Coach Gerberich Well Pleased with Work of Large Cast; Tickets Not Reduced in Price Because of Dance Orchestra

CURTAIN UP AT 7:45 P. M.

A vindication of modern youth will be attempted by the Junior Class Players next Tuesday, when they present the play "The Goose Hangs High," at the Woman's Club as the annual dramatic offering of the class.

The play is an effort to show that modern offspring when put to the test of adversity show really excellent qualities. Miss Gerberich, Director of Women's Voice Education here, is well pleased with the progress of the production and the work of the players. The play will be presented on Tuesday evening, March first, at 7:45 o'clock, at the Reading Woman's Club, on North Fifth street. As usual at this function, there will be dancing. Nothing definite has been announced regarding the orchestra the selection of which rests with Joseph Betz, chairman of entertainments.

The cast has been doing splendid work according to its coach. Outstanding are the interpretations of Stanley Brookes, Edith Smythe, and Franny Hutton.

Men Day Students Engage in Indoor Tennis Matches

Club Puts on First Ping Pong Tournament Ever Staged Here; Hope To Extend Activity

The brick "click-click" accompanied by lusty shouts to be heard in the Men's Day Student room is not evidence of a tap dancing contest or a game of African Dominoes. The first Albright Ping Pong tournament has been in progress for several days.

The contest is being sponsored by THE ALBRIGHTIAN and conducted by Harry Crystal, vice-president of the club and Sam Halperin as tournament manager. The play began on Wednesday and is scheduled to end on that day, two weeks. The idea is enjoying an unprecedented popularity and the feeble facilities for Ping Pong are being taxed to the utmost. Games are played at 10 A. M., 1:00 and 3:30 P. M. every day in the club's room in the Ad building.

Crystal announces that the finals will be played in the gymnasium if the interest continues to be shown and that the student body will be permitted to see the play there. The winner will be presented with a handsome trophy at the club's annual banquet.

Players eligible for semi-final play are as follows: Crystal, Rosenthal, Oritsky, Paul, Funk, Sink, Lustig vs. Schmerzler and Harner vs. Hafer yet to play.

Y. W. Will Hear Miss Garlach Lecture on Her Tour of France

Co-eds Hear Report on Speakers at S. V. Convention; Lively Discussion

The Y. W. C. A. held its regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening in Selwyn Hall. The Vice-President, Irene Fray, was in charge of the meeting. Various girls gave their reactions to the Student Volunteer Convention at this time.

Reba Topper summarized the address of Dr. Christopher Noss, a diplomat as well as a missionary, who spoke of the Chinese-Japanese disturbance. Cynthia Wallace sang a solo entitled "Ninety and Nine" accompanied by Lydia Schaefer at the piano. The address of Dr. Harrison was discussed by Anna Wanner.

It was announced that next week Miss Garlach will show slides of pictures she took while in France. Miss Garlach, of the Department of French, is a gifted lecturer on things French and a thoroughly delightful meeting is promised for next week.

Quillsters Meet To Interpret Work

Aim and Function of Literary Group To Be Explained

Quill club will hold a special meeting on Tuesday evening, February 23, at 8 o'clock, in Selwyn Hall. Invitations have been sent out to people who were recommended by the English Department as being interested in both creative and appreciative angles of literature. The program will consist mainly of the reading of original works by various members of the club, to give the guests an idea of the type work done by Quill Club.

For the benefit of those interested in becoming members of Quill, tryouts will be held at the next regular meeting. At this time original material may be presented for admission.

All Quill members are urged to be present at both of these meetings.

Prof. Smith Explains Sino-Japanese Situation

The policy of Japan in the Far East must be regarded as a continuation of the penetration of China by force. This policy dates back over a hundred years. In 1830 Great Britain used this policy for the first time and it has been employed by others ever since. But up to this present, China has been in a position to protect herself in the final analysis by a system of boycott. The boycotting of foreign goods has been developed by the Chinese as their most powerful weapon of self-defense. This she is using against Japan.

A few words about modern Japan will help to clarify the problem as far as Japan is concerned. Japan is about as large as our State of California. She has a population at present of sixty-five million. Her population is increasing at the rate of one million a year so that she is expected to have by 1960 a hundred million people. Due to the ruggedness of the islands only 15.5 per cent of the land has been brought under cultivation. Even though intensive cultivation has been adopted, nevertheless, the law of diminishing return is in operation. This means that Japan cannot raise the food needed to feed her teeming population. What is Japan to do?

Japan Has Two Courses

Under the circumstances two methods are open. First, the decrease of her population. This does not seem possible at present. Second, she can adopt a policy of industrialization by which she may be able to buy enough food stuff from other countries with her surplus of manufactured goods. This is the same policy which England has used for a long period. However, Japan finds many markets closed to her goods by tariff walls and now the Chinese market closed by a boycott. Again Japan lacks two of the basic raw materials necessary for manufacturing, namely, iron ore and coal. Manchuria contains four-sevenths of the iron ore of China and also contains enough coal for Japanese use. Thus Japan is very much interested in the Liao-Tung peninsula. Here is partly the reason for Japan's activity in this section. Again Manchuria which is about as large as Texas has a population of forty millions.

The relations of China and Japan date back to 1895, when they engaged in a war over the right of China to dictate to Korea.

China was defeated and by the treaty of peace Japan was to have Formosa, Korea as well as rights in Manchuria and China was to pay an indemnity. Russia, Germany and France objected with the result that Japan had to give up her rights in Manchuria as well as some provisions concerning Korea. During the World War Japan took the Shantung Province from Germany and also dictated the famous twenty-one points to China. This practically placed China under Japanese control. However, in 1922 Japan had to sign the nine-power treaty at the Washington conference. By this treaty Japan agreed to give up the Shantung Province but received certain rights in Manchuria. In 1928 the Nationalist Party came into control of the Chinese government and instituted an intensive boycott as well as a policy of discrimination against all foreigners.

This boycott, up to 1931, has brought Japan to financial ruin since China is her largest customer. Six months ago Japan was forced from the gold standard. Revolution is showing its head in Japan. Bold strokes were necessary. The assassination of an army Captain, gave Japan an excuse to bring pressure to bear upon China. A policy force was adopted in Manchuria but this did not bring the desired results since the boycott did not cease. Finally, in desperation Japan attacked Shanghai the largest port of China, hoping no doubt to get the powers interested. Up to the present time the Powers have made no demand that China lift the boycott. As long as the boycott is not lifted Japan will no doubt keep on trying to force the Chinese to terms.

This policy seems all wrong to us because we believe China would come to terms much sooner if conciliation was used but then we must remember that the rule of the last hundred years has been "Might Makes Right."

LITERARY

LIVES AND LETTERS

By Rudolf Shook

I was very deeply disappointed in John Henry. I opened it with eagerness, for it drew excellent notices, and I have been, up to this time, a violent Roark Bradford partisan. I was speedily disillusioned. To me, it shows, tragically, the Green Pastures influence. Evidently Mr. Bradford, when he saw that superb adaption of Old Man Adam, realized, for perhaps the first time, that he is a really great artist. In John Henry he cannot forget that he is creating a figure of mythology and is, as a result, stiff, unnatural and arty. One misses the charming spontaneity and natural, quaint, humor of his earlier work. The hero of this book is windy, implausible and boring. Only his relations with his "triffin" woman have the faintest interest. The dialect, which is in itself as excellent as a sin Mr. Bradford's earlier tales, seems staid, and the situations suggest episodes in a pageant. The whole thing reminds one of a creaky minstrel show.

The rumor that Mourning Becomes Electra, with the original cast, is already booked for the Rajah is false.

Oliver LaFarge's Sparks Fly Upward is an engaging novel, recommended particularly for lovers of adventure. It is a fine study of the conflict in the mind of Esteban, the handsome young Indian who was reared by Spanish aristocrats. Some of the action description are superfluous. The psychology of the two races is admirably suggested. This book has glamour and romance.

Personal favorite among current dance tunes: Doin' the New York from the Follies.

A lot of dollar editions of the classic novels, with surprising jackets, have recently been issued. They are nicely bound and the printing is good. The jackets are very modern. Anna Karenina's is particularly amusing. It pictures Tolstoy's sweet, wholesome heroine as a Garboesque young lady with a disillusioned and world-weary countenance. Major Thomas Coulson's Mata Hari has been reissued with illustrations from the photoplay. There are also recent and widely-discussed books in the group.

Major Coulson indulges in purple passages. He runs jerkily along to an important point, and then makes allusions to the rising and falling of curtains, a lovely amber-tinted body unclaimed in death, and fate, with a very capital F.

ZETA OMEGA EPSILON

The Fraternity wishes to take this means of congratulating the Inter-Fraternity Council upon their success in carrying off the first annual dance.

Among the alumni members present at the dance were Frater Teel, Emmett, Kunsman, Seesholtz and Schaeffer.

The following men were admitted into active pledgeship, at the last regular meeting, Newton Danford, Joe Vargyas, Charles Mayer and John Deininger.

Frater "Mike" Wissler was the weekend guest of the fraternity. He and Miss Mary Hetrick motored here from Johnstown, where they are employed as teachers.

As the result of the recent dance, a new fraternity has come to the fore under the assumed name of "The Outcasts' Club." At their recent meeting the following officers were elected: Sturzenegger, president; Bottlegier, vice-president; Betz, secretary; Wenrich, treasurer.

They held their first annual banquet in the college dining room, on Friday, February 19, at 8:00 o'clock.

The active members include Betz, Sturzenegger, Wenrich, Sutcliffe, McGovern Bottlegier, and Good. Robert Diltz was rejected because of the high marks.

Sorority Notes

PHI DELTA BETA

The newly elected president and vice-president of the Phi Delta Sorority are Margaret Strass and Reba Topper respectively. Mrs. Gothe Von Aesche has become an honorary member of the sorority.

On Monday evening the sorors journeyed to Myerstown and had dinner at the Taste Good. The party was to celebrate the second anniversary of the founding of the sorority. Dancing and cards were enjoyed.

BETA DELTA SIGMA

Much credit is due to the Inter-Fraternity Council in making the Inter-Fraternity Dance one of the finest things of its kind ever held on our campus.

Alumni members Thomas Hoey and William Smith, who is attending Harvard University this year, were guests at the Beta house over the week-end.

The fraternity conducted the college vesper service Sunday evening. "Ace" Wolbert was the speaker. The topic was "The Power of Love," Martin Patrick read the Scripture. A musical selection was offered by Miss Irene Fray and Benjamin Funk. Dr. Teel gave the opening prayer.

Frater Kozlowski spent the week-end at his home in Elizabeth, N. J.

We are glad to note that Frater Lt. Magnifico is now instructor of English at the Freehold Military Academy.

OXFORD FELLOWSHIP

Last Tuesday evening about 9:30, all the students of the Evangelical School of Theology, who were present, were invited to the quarters of William Kelly, and listened to a discourse on the "Moment to Decide." With a flustered countenance and a palpitating heart, Bill announced his engagement to Miss Geraldine C. Lagerman of Milton, Pa. Some of the men expressed their hopes of another announcement of like nature, since the refreshments so freely distributed this night were most acceptable.

Miss Lagerman is a graduate of Milton High School, 1922, of Bucknell School of Music, 1924, of Peabody Conservatory of Music, 1926, and is now Director of the Progressive Series Institute of Music in Milton, Pa.

COLLEGIANA

The Drexel Triangle has a story of a student who suffered from the measles, love, college professors, Saturday morning classes, and never turned a hair. He was bald.

At the University of Southern California the largest women's debating squad that had ever appeared turned out when the question for debate was announced—"The divorce laws of Nevada should be condemned."

Tuft's Weekly cites a story from the Jacksonville Mickey Mouse. A professor advised co-eds to run around their residences three times each day, get to bed early, and not to spend five hours necking in a parked car. "Five hours," wailed one student, "I'd think I was lucky if I had one hour."

Dartmouth College students have voted to shorten their winter carnival to two days as a measure of economy. The annual carnival ball will also be omitted.

A professor of bio-chemistry at the University of Toronto claims that war, epidemics, birth control and the fact that man is becoming tired of living may very probably result in the extinction of the race.

The University of California is now offering a course in "How to See Europe Properly." Wait 'till the tourist bureau hears of this!

RICHARDSON ON RUSSIA

The Russians expect to convert America to their system within a period of fifty years, but first they intend to convert Europe.

Mr. Richardson thinks that the Communist party has a remarkable organization. The party has a conference once every year. There is an executive committee of 71 members who choose the nine men who actually rule Russia. Any decree of Stalin is absolute.

Russia's system is entirely materialistic. The factory organization is composed of a workers' committee, a director (appointed by the trust), and a party secretary. The trust is above the factory and the syndicate over the trust. There is no private profit, but the State takes a certain percentage.

The Five Year Plan sets the goal for economic and cultural control for five years. They have accomplished many wonderful constructions, but they are showing a great shortage of consumer's goods.

The great strength of Russia's plan is the fact that they have a definite objective, and that they have organized youth.

The weaknesses of Russia are that there is no personal liberty, no freedom of speech, and the whole regime is founded on force and fear.

Prof. Gode Von Aesch will speak to the club on March 3 on "Germany."

SPORT LIGHTS

(By Russell N. Bonney, '33)

The standing of the Eastern Penna. Collegiate League remains the same as last week except that Lebanon Valley club clinched third place by virtue of their sensational victory over Albright. The standing follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
F. and M.	7	1	.833
Gettysburg	5	2	.714
Lebanon Valley	5	3	.625
ALBRIGHT	4	4	.500
Drexel	4	6	.400
Ursinus	2	7	.222
Muhlenberg	1	6	.143

Games to be played this week are: February 24—Albright vs. Gettysburg; Lebanon Valley vs. F. and M.; Muhlenberg vs. Ursinus. February 27—Drexel vs. Muhlenberg; F. and M. vs. Albright; Gettysburg vs. Ursinus.

The basketballers find themselves with two tough games this week, playing the league leaders. Victories in both games is a big order but it is not an impossibility as we consider the previous F. and M. and Gettysburg games. Saturday's defeat sent the last ray of championship hopes glimmering.

Reviewing the quintet's season we find seven victories and five defeats, a good record but not in line with the last two seasons' records. The squad received a hard blow when latesta was injured in the Rider game. The little forward was fast developing into a great courtman and his loss will be felt.

As far as basketball is concerned this seems like Lebanon Valley's year. Last year the Lions repulsed the Blue and White in both struggles. Starting Friday the Lebanon Valley girls easily subdued the Albright cagettes. On Saturday the Valley Frosh sent our Frosh reeling and then the valiant varsity eked out their hair-raising victory. The girls' and the frosh seem outclassed but we expect the varsity to come thru in the next battle at Lebanon. Interest should be at a high pitch for the game on March 5.

In the past week the football Rules Committee published the six alterations in the rules for next season. All changes were aimed at the reduction of serious injuries and the new rules have evoked wide ranges of favorable and unfavorable comment. No rules in athletics have been fool-proof and the final verdict will rest on next season's play.

We intend to make brief comment on the rules for the next few weeks. The rule requiring hard protective pads to be covered with felt or sponge rubber meets with general approval. The only objection rests in the extra weight which the player will have to carry, tending to decrease his speed. The rule was aimed at those coaches who send their boys on the field with scarcely any protective material in an effort to get the maximum speed from their teams but at the same time giving their boys a physical licking in each game. This rule seems highly sensible to us.

ALBRIGHT BASKETEERS SUFFER BITTER DEFEATS DURING WEEK

Lion Quinters Lose to Old Rivals in Important League Game by Last Minute Foul; Outplayed by Rider College in Rough Match

ALBRIGHT NOW FOURTH

DeFranco, Osliso, Haines Play Excellent Basketball

The Albright five suffered a heart-breaking loss to their traditional rivals on Saturday evening by a 38-37 count. Visiting Captain Heller's two foul tosses in the closing seconds provided the winning markers. This was the first of two games to be played this season and the Lions have an opportunity for revenge on March 5, at Lebanon. The game dropped Albright into fourth place with four wins and as many defeats.

On Tuesday evening the Albright cagers traveled to Elizabeth, N. J., and sustained their fourth defeat of the current season as they bowed to the Rider College passers, 36-22. The game was rough and hard-fought and the home team maintained a safe lead throughout the game.

At the start of the game Rider jumped into the lead and held a 22-14 advantage at the half. Albright's scoring in the second half was limited to eight points while the victors increased their margin of victory.

Reiskert led the Rider team with 14 points. latesta gathered seven markers to lead the Lion scorers. During the game latesta suffered an injury to his elbow which may keep him on the sidelines for the remainder of the season.

Red & White Outplayed at Start

At the start the Valley boys played the Lions off their feet and had an 11-2 lead with but five minutes of play. The Albright quinters played ragged basketball and half of the opening period had elapsed before the home team awoke to the fact that they were headed toward a decisive defeat. A rally was begun that gradually reduced the Valley margin and the half-time figures were 20-16. Fine play by Fromm and DeFranco was the leading factor in the spurt.

The second period was fast and furious. Led by Andrews, the Lions were soon trailing by but a single point at 22-21. The lead see-sawed back and forth and in the waning moments DeFranco's long shot gave the Lions a 37-36 lead. After the ensuing tap-off, DeFranco fouled Heller in a vicious scrimmage and the visiting center calmly dropped both tosses thru the cords to give his team a last second victory.

Yearling Tossers Divide Two Games

Frosh Dribblers Lose to Valley Five; Drub "Y" Quintet

The freshmen team broke even in their two contests during the past week. On Tuesday evening they defeated the Reading Railroad five at the Reading Y by a score of 38-27. Shippe played a fine game getting 15 markers. Cox and Wick were also in evidence.

Saturday evening in the preliminary game the Frosh received a trouncing from the Lebanon Valley Frosh to the tune of 39-19. The Frosh were hopelessly outclassed the first half but played better ball in the final period. Barthold and Ranck led the visitors while Cox played a nice game for Albright.

Capt. Heller was the visiting satellite. The lanky center scored 16 points to lead both teams and played a clever floor game. Stewart played his usual consistent game. The Valley boys featured a fast passing attack and kept the Lions defense busy.

DeFranco led the Red and White scorers with 10 markers. The entrance of Andrews into the game greatly improved Albright's situation. His points were scored in moments when they were much needed. Osliso and Fromm played good ball at the guards contributing 13 points between them. Capt. Haines was closely guarded but succeeded in getting seven markers. Haines was sent from the game at a late stage on personals, something unusual for the big forward.

Red & White Cagers To Seek Vengeance at G'burg Tomorrow

On Wednesday nite the Albright quinters will play the Gettysburg "Bullets" at Gettysburg. The Lions will be out to avenge the defeat handed to them on their own floor a few weeks ago. Gettysburg will be without Seely, their star forward, whose ability at making goals played havoc with the Lion. At the same time latesta of the Red and White will be out of the game due to a serious elbow injury received in the Rider game. Albright will have to show better form than it has been playing in order to turn in a win.

Mt. St. Mary's His Strong Five

Thursday night the varsity five will play Mt. St. Mary's College, at Emmetsburg, Md. Mt. St. Mary's is boasting the best team that she has had in at least three years. In the beginning of the season the Maryland School trimmed Gettysburg, then the leaders of our Eastern Penna. loop.

Due to this fact, it is believed, the Lions will have rocky going in order to defeat these cagers.

Kappas Jolt A. P. O's 33-17; Triple Tie Threatens if Lions Lose Next Game

The championship aspirations of the Alpha Pi Omegas received a severe jolt when they succumbed to the Kappas by the score of 33-17. The Kappas had an "on-night" and dropped them in from all angles of the floor, outscoring their opponents 14 buckets to 4. The first quarter was very tight with a 3-3 score but after that the A. P. O's withered hopelessly. The A. P. O's did not disturb the cords against the Kappa defense until late in the third quarter.

The Lions now stand at the top of the league with four victories and no defeats and only one more game to play with the Alpha Pi Omegas. A victory over the A. P. O's will give them the crown whereas a defeat will throw the league into a triple tie.

Keep a Regular TELEPHONE Date with Home

NOW MORE THAN EVER... with the college year ending... Mother and Dad are eager to hear from you. What of your exams... when do they start? There are countless details they're anxious to know.

Busy? Of course you are. There's little time for letter-writing! Then reach them by telephone... pay them a "voice visit." It's the quickest way home with the satisfaction of a face-to-face chat.

And here's a tip... file it for ready reference. There's nothing to equal a regular Telephone Date with Home each week. Start the habit this evening! The thrill will last all week!

FOR THE LOWEST COST AND GREATEST EASE

Set your "date" for after 8:30 P. M., and take advantage of the low Night Rates. (A dollar call is 60¢ at night; a 50¢ call is 35¢.)

By making a date, the folks will be at home. Thus you can make a Station to Station call rather than a more expensive Person to Person call.

Just give the operator your home telephone number. If you like, charges can be reversed.

THE CINEMA

"FREAKS" AT COLONIAL

"Freaks," latest contribution of Tod Browning, director of such eerie thrillers as "Dracula" and "The Unholy Three," at Loew's is the most fantastic and unusual picture ever produced on the talking screen.

The macabre atmosphere of this strange plot has its lighter moments in the attractive romance of Leila Hyams, who plays a seal trainer, and Wallace Ford, as a clown and also in the comedy interludes of such well-known laugh-makers as the stuttering Rosco Ates, Edward Brophy and Mat McHugh, Pete Robinson, living skeleton; Olga, the bearded woman and Koo Coo, the bird girl and the more familiar sideshow performers such as the sword-swallower, fire eater, snake charmer and fat lady are also present. Harry Earles, will be remembered for his outstanding performance in "The Unholy Three." Daisy Earle, Rose Dione and Daisy and Violet Hilton also have important roles.

ASTOR FEATURES WASHINGTON

"The Silent Witness" tells a vivid story of romance and father's love for his vacillating son with a mysterious murder for a background.

Another feature of timely interest is Warner Bros.' contribution to the Washington bicentennial celebration, "Washington, the Man and the Capitol," which depicts many episodes in Washington's life. The scenes are taken from the period immediately following the Revolution and give an accurate historical record of the highlights of American history. This production has the endorsement of the Berks County Bicentennial Celebration Organization.

Dave Genaro, aged 61, the famous character comedian and star of the play, "Tony the Bootblack," and creator of the cakewalk, offers his "Youngsters of Yesterday," Serge Flash, internationally known as the King of Rubber Ball Manipulators, in a remarkable demonstration of juggling. "The Prince of Wails," Mel Klee, in a most amusing bit, "Selling Smiles." Dixie's Own Dancing Daughters, Cherry Blossom and June, "Darlings of Vaudeville," Benny Bert and Thelma Lee, in a luff-fest, "Is He Crazy?"

Ed Blum and Sister, exhibit their ability on xylophones.

PARK PRESENTS KARL DANE

Two of the screen's most popular stars are presented on the film, Sally Eilers and James Dunn, in "Bad Girl," a thrilling romance of real life.

The six vaudeville acts to be presented Monday and Tuesday will be headed by Karl Dane, in person, with his company. Dane will be remembered as Slim, champion tobacco chewer in the famous war picture, "Big Parade." His new comedy act, "Slim," was especially written for him by Elinor Drisko, and is based on the "Big Parade." It is replete with the ridiculous comedy situations and humor which makes the awkward Dane a popular favorite with local fans. Another act of unusual merit on the same bill is the appearance of Buddy Walker, "Chief Nut of the Village Nut Club," New York's radio sensation in a riotous comedy offering. A side splitting novelty is the offering of Johnny Herman and company in "What's Next?" The three Mississippi Misses present "Songs You Love to Hear," in a pleasing manner. Prosper and Maret present "Slow Motion," vaudeville's de luxe hand-balancing sensation. Gracie Smith and Buddies, renowned dancers, display "Harlem's Hot Rhythm."

WILL ROGERS AT THE EMBASSY

Will Rogers rallies to the defense of the much-maligned Babbitt in "Business and Pleasure," his latest starring vehicle, which had its initial showing at the Embassy Theatre. "Business and Pleasure," adapted from "The Plutocrat" by Booth Tarkington, is a Fox Film production.

The character of Earl Tinker, Middle Western razor blade manufacturer, has been transcribed almost in toto from the book, and Rogers makes the role

MEET

Meet the popular Albrightian Sports writer, John Kozlowski. Johnny of the bull neck and ready smile is one of the most prominent of Red and White athletes as well as a versatile man of letters. As a campus clubman he has proved quite the smoothie also. His work on the Junior Prom committee was excellent and the Men's Glee Club would miss him no end. He is a member of the Lions' Club and of the Betas. More power to you Johnny.
