Four Educators To Get Honorary Degrees

Forensic Convention Meets Here Today As Twenty Chapters Of T. K. A. Arrive

Kachel Participates In Debating Session As Charter Member

Committee Seeks Coeds
As Dance Partners
For T. K. A. Members

The sudden increase in male population and the extra hum of activity on campus mark the arrival of the Tau Kappa Alpha delegates to the debating convention meeting at Albright today and tomorrow.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the convention is sending out an S.O.S. to all co-eds to attend the Student Council dance tonight in order to provide partners for the delegates (4/5 male) attending the dance. Albright's "better halves" are expected to cooperate by doing their part.

The affair this week-end brings to the campus, an overnight convention for the first time in more than ten years. The arrival of Rutgers last night was the beginning of the invasion of delegates from twenty college chapters of Tau Kappa Alpha in the Middle Atlantic Region.

Participating in the sessions will be the Rev. Charles Kachel, Albright's religious advisor, who was one of the charter members of the Albright chapter, established in 1924, upon the petitioning of the eleven charter members and the recommendation of such men as former Governor of Pennsylvania, Gifford Pinchot and former Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction, James N. Rile.

The schools invited to attend the convention are the following: Bethany, Brothers, Bucknell, Dickinson, Franklin and Marshall, Georgian Court, Gettysburg, Hobart, Hunter, Keuka, Lafayette, Muhlenberg, New York University, Rutgers, Susquehanna, Upsala, Ursinus, Western Maryland, Waynesburg, and Westminster.

Day Students Elect Next Year's Officers

Miller and Loibach
To Lead Commuters

Betty Miller and Paul Loibach were elected, respectively, presidents of the Day Women's and the Day Men's Clubs for next year at the student elections last week.

The new vice president of the Women Day Students is Gretchen Bieber; secretary, Alda Matz; treasurer, Eleanor Schubert; and Student Council representative, Lucille Griswold.

Robert Shapiro will be vice president of the Men's organization, Donald Reinhold will be secretary-treasurer, and Donald Spang and Willard Grubb will be Council representatives.

FREE Dance Tonight In Dining Hall

Tonight the student council will hold its final dining hall dance for this year.

The affair is FREE! That's what we said, F-R-E-E! All of the nations leading dance bands will be there to play for you in the form of a record player and discs.

All students and T. K. A. convention representatives are invited to attend this affair.

There will be dancing from 8-11 p. m.

Ceremony Introduces New Regime; Mantle Transferred This Morning

Albright College has officially been taken over by a new regime. This morning at 10 o'clock, next year's new student council members and class officers were formally inducted and sworn into their new offices.

The ceremony was opened with an introductory speech by the president of the college, Dr. Harry V. Masters, after which the oath of office was administered to the new council president, Sally Weaver, by the retiring president. The other council members were sworn in by Miss Weaver.

The program was concluded with the annual mantle ceremony. Harold Werner, the acting president of the graduating class, turned over the mantle of responsibility to the proxy of next year's seniors, Robert Mattson, with the class presidents of the other two classes pledging their support to the class of 1943.

Dominos To Present May Day One-Acters

Five Freshman Plays

As part of the annual May Day Mothers' Weekend, the Domino Club will present an evening of one-act plays on May 2 in the college chapel. The plays, which have been written by members of Dr. Douds' creative writing class, will be student directed.

The plays which are to be presented are "Molly's Pitcher", by Janet Luckenbaugh; "Double Trouble", by Betty Bradley; "Johnny's Birthday", by Lura Heverly; "Capelano", by Mary Nichol; and "Blue Birthday", by Mary Jane Hassler.

The student directors will be Geraldine Ross, Marjorie Frundt, John Hertz, Jerome Denner, and Jacob Wagner. Bill Lippert will be stage manager. Paul Bentley Sands will act as advisor and consultant.

Debaters To Speak In Chapel Next Week

Two members of the debate squad, Olga Bitler and William Bottonari, will debate in chapel next Wednesday and Thursday on the question: Resolved that inter-collegiate athletic contests should be discontinued. Olga Bitler will take the affirmative; Bill Bottonari, the negative.

Day Students Change Plans For Tomorrow Night's Dance

There has been a change in the plans for the day student dance which will be held tomorrow evening. Due to an error on the country club's calendar, the dance was scheduled for Monday night, April 13, and Saturday night was already scheduled for some other affair.

The committee, however, managed to acquire the use of the Berkshire Country Club for tomorrow evening. There have been no other changes in the program. The Berkshire is just past Glenside on the road to the airport.

Students See Opera On La Scala Stage

Enjoy "Tosca"
In Philadelphia

One of the most thrilling experiences in the realm of opera, "Tosca," was awarded to approximately sixty-two representatives of Albright, Thursday, April 9th. These included glee clubbers, Professor and Mrs. John H. Duddy, and Dr. and Mrs. Harry V. Masters and other music lovers. The tense, objective, melodrama of Sardau is blended extraordinarily well with Puccini's score of the utmost musical fidelity. The Italian opera consisting of three acts has as its principals Eida Eracle, Fracisco Naya, George Czapliski, and Pompilio Malatesta.

Seated among the elite in $3.50 seats in the La Scala Opera House, the Albright students were thrilled by the story of the celebrated singer and her two lovers, the painter and the chief of police.

Pi Taus To Open House On Sunday Afternoon

The annual Pi Tau Beta open house will be held Sunday afternoon, April 19. Dwight Dundore, chairman, announced that the portals of the Pi Tau Beta Fraternity will be open to all from 2-3 o'clock.

Education Council Lists Special Study

Service Committee
Will Give Information

In order to determine how colleges and universities can most effectively prepare their students for service in the armed forces and at the same time lay the foundation for their successful readjustment to civilian life, a representative of the American Council on Education interviewed high-ranking officers of the various branches of the services and procured from them opinions concerning the kinds of training they considered essential for the college student who enters the services.

The most important generalization to be drawn from these interviews is that the function of the colleges and universities is to provide the individual with a sound, liberal education. The specific studies which these officers considered most important for the college man who enters the services are the following: (1) Mathematics, (2) Physics, (3) Chemistry, (4) Physical Geography, (5) Astronomy, (6) English, (7) German, (Russian and Japanese, which are also considered extremely important, are being taught only in larger universities), (8) History (World History and American History), (9) Hygiene, and (10) Physical Training.

Students who are thinking of fitting themselves for some special type of service or for officer training should include the above subjects in their program of studies.

For information concerning war-service opportunities, consult the Committee on Service Information.

"Die Unschuldige" To Be Vereen Play

Inge Eischen Stars
With Harold Lueder

Next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the chapel, students of Albright will have an opportunity to see a preview of the German play, "Die Unschuldige" by Heinrich Mann, which will be presented on the 24th at the Cultural Olympics in Philadelphia. Each year since the origin of the Cultural Olympics at the University of Pennsylvania Albright has participated and has won an Award of Merit. About six colleges and universities compete in these olympics, held for purely cultural pursuits.

"Die Unschuldige," translated as "The Innocent," is a story about a young woman who was suspected of murder when her celebrated physician-husband was murdered in his own house. She is imprisoned, but is then acquitted when defended by a lawyer whom she secretly loved before the murder occurred. After her acquittal she marries him, but her past life and her conscience bother her. She questions herself to determine whether or not she really was guilty. It is her decision then that causes complications.

The characters are Gabriele, the young woman, Inge Eischen; Dr. Holland, the lawyer, Harold Lueder; and die Alte, Emma Cora Hafer.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Professor Horn announces a hike for tomorrow afternoon, in conjunction with the Hale America physical fitness program. Everybody and his brother is invited to indulge in a bit of tramping, starting at 2 p. m.

Tickets are still available for the day student dance which will be held tomorrow evening at the Berkshire Country Club.

The Commencement exercises will be held outside on campus, except in case of rain.

The Faculty-Senior picnic will be held next Friday at 4:30 p. m. at Egelman's. Further details next week.

On Leaving Chapel

"Women and children first" is an old and a trite statement, which seems to apply partly to Albright students. We don't know what is wrong with the present group of students. It seems that they are slightly more unstable than those of a few years ago.

What we are getting at is this—there is a rule (which you may not have heard about) that seniors and juniors are to leave the chapel first, starting at the first row and going by in turn by rows to the back of the auditorium.

This rule was not made to break and it was not made for the purpose of granting any special group more privileges than others. It was made to facilitate an orderly recessional from the chapel and to avoid as much confusion as possible.

We remember a few years ago (about four to be exact) when we were freshmen. The recessional was very orderly; the rule was obeyed nearly 100%. Anyone who overlooked this matter was severely reprimanded by some senior or junior who happened to be near at the time.

There is enough confusion in the world today. Let's not add some more to it, or if we have, let us try to eliminate as much of it as possible. Come on, fellows and gals, let's show 'em that we can obey the rules and do just as good as any class before us has done. How about it!

Till We Meet Again

(Personal to Seniors)

Well, gang, the time is rapidly approaching! Soon we will be on our own in the "cold, cruel world." We are at the parting of the ways. Some of us will never meet again, never enjoy those warm friendships which we have established during these four short years of our life which we have spent at "the home of the Red and the White."

This is sort of a sorrowful note, but nevertheless the facts are there. We ask ourselves "Can this be true?" Are we to lose track of all these friends, or at least a great majority of them?" and "Is there not some way in which we can at least keep a strand or two of that rope of friendship which binds us so tightly together?"

Fellow seniors, our class has been one with many intimate ties. Let us do something to maintain them. How about these two suggestions? First of all, let's keep up a contact service. By that we mean, have someone record the names and addresses of all of the seniors and keep a central file. This could be done through the college or some single individual such as the secretary of the senior class. And then have all seniors notify this person of any change of address. In this way each one could keep track of all of the others or of his best friends, at least.

The second suggestion is that we hold annual reunions here on the campus every year and have some kind of a grand get-together.

By doing these two things we could truly uphold the saying—"Blest be the tie that binds."

FINIS

"Quoth the Raven, 'Nevermore!'" And so we say it also. Next week the Albrightian will be under the guidance of a new regime. We have had our turn and have tried to perform our duties faithfully to the end.

This year's staff has stood behind their guns and worked steadily to maintain the standards set up for them by staffs of former years. We hope that we have not failed you in any way.

We have strived steadily to better the paper in all ways and to maintain a common bond between student and student, and student and faculty.

We are positive that the new staff will carry on where we left off and will try to do a better job than we have done. The new staff is full of energetic individuals who will plunge into the fight with heart and soul.

With the greater field opened up by the enlargement of the paper, their opportunities will be unlimited. We predict that Albright College will be very proud of their school paper for the next few years to come.

So, with a bit of regret we give up our places to the incoming journalists and wish them lots of luck in their new venture.

Au Revoir!

—Harold M. Werner.

Hate Incorporated

By SEYMOUR MENDELSON

Before the outbreak of the Second World War, democratic peoples were almost convinced that a permanent and lasting peace could not be built upon hate and revenge. The tragic mistakes of 1918 and the subsequent years were still vivid in their minds. But what do we find today?

Europe is now one gigantic factory of hate. The Nazis have produced a German people capable of hating and despising everything and everyone that is not Nazi. On the other hand, the hearts of the enslaved peoples burn with a fiery hate. They loath the tyrant. Hate has become a European pastime.

The conqueror holds the continent imprisoned. Release the clamp of Nazi might and rivers of hate will flood Europe. Could it be otherwise? Let us take the peaceful Dutch for an example. The same story would apply to the other conquered nations as well.

Holland suffered an unprovoked attack. Her cities were ruthlessly bombed and looted. Her king and leaders imprisoned or executed. Every vestige of democracy was abolished. Beautiful, peaceful, and prosperous Holland was ground in the dust and her people enslaved.

The Dutch saw everything that they had worked for, cherished, and lived for destroyed before their very eyes. Hate filled their hearts. Revenge became an obsession.

What else but hate? The human spirit can only withstand so much and then it rebels. And the Nazis feed the flames of hate with persecution, execution, and compulsion.

What keeps the spirit of the slave alive? It is this: someday he will be free and then there will be a day of reckoning. On that day his master shall pay in blood and tears. Only revenge will bring satisfaction to the slave.

Can the forces of hate burning in Europe and Asia be controlled? Will the conquered peoples forsake vengeance? This is a task which will call forth all the intelligence that the democracies can muster. Shall we be able to love those that would make us for slaves? Can it be otherwise?

Faculty

The victim of Bill Hostetter's pen this week is Professor Newell S. Danford, "husky" '38 of the 1934 football team and popular professor in the science department. Familiar to non-science students is the face of this official M.C. in chapel, who received his A.B. from Albright and M.S. from the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Graham Cook will address the Kiwanis Club at 12 a. m. Wednesday on "Incendiary Bombs."

John B. Douds addressed the Woman's Club of Womelsdorf April 15, at 8 p. m. on the topic "Nurse's Aid." Saturday he will speak to the Woman's Club of Reading on the same subject.

Dr. Milton Gell left yesterday to attend the meeting of the American Psychology Association, which will be in session this weekend at Brown University, Providence, R. I.

Doctor Morris Greth aided in the installation of the new minister at the Lobachsville Lutheran Church on Sunday, April 12th. The name of the minister is Rev. Luther Lengle.

Prof. Henry G. Buckwalter spoke to the Women's Club of West Lawn last Friday evening on the subject of The Economic Aspects of Inter-American Trade. He was called upon to pinch hit in the absence of Miss Elizabeth Zug, noted Pianist, who was ill.

Zetas Cop Lead In Softball Loop

Freshmen Trounce Kappas, 11-5 As Leaders Take Three Contests

Klein Stars As Pitcher In Two Games

The Frosh team helped to decide who was to have first place in the intramural softball league by knocking off the Kappas and then losing to the Zetas in the last week. By turning in wins for all three of their games, the Zetas climbed into the lead.

Clem Boland was the fair-haired boy for the leaders. He limited the Pi Taus to five hits and one run on Wednesday, then hurled a one-hitter against the Frosh on Monday. Wally Duncavage's single, with two on, gave the yearlings their lone tally in a single.

Those unpredictable Frosh walked the Kappas in the twilight show on Wednesday to make the Zetas very happy. They fell on Chuck Klein's pitching for 11 safeties, two of which were homers by Duncavage and Hauser. Dick Stark held the Kappas scoreless for five innings and hitless for three in chalking up his first win.

The Zetas and Theologs staged a close battle Tuesday night. The league leaders got to Harry Dewire for seven hits and five runs in the first inning. The Theologs came back fighting after "Turk" Durko took over the mound, but their rally fell short. Their manager lodged a protest when the game was called while the sixth frame was in progress.

On Wednesday afternoon, the APO's stayed within half a game of the Zetas by trouncing the Daymen 11-7 in a game marred by errors. "Rev." McKay and "Boonton" Morfogen connected for the circuit for the winners while Woody Witmer shone afield.

What has happened to the intramural track program? After receiving wide publicity, the program appears to have been sidetracked somewhere. Why? That's what we'd like to know. This columnist tried to find the reason and in 48 hours no person in authority could supply an answer.

On paper, the formulated plans looked very good. But no Albright student is reaping any benefit or making himself physically fit by just reading about a proposed track meet. That some men are interested has been shown the past few afternoons when several tracksters have been working out on the stadium track. So, lack of interest on the part of the students doesn't appear to be the fault. Might be a good question for a quiz program.

Saturday afternoon Albright College will hold its 19th annual Berks County track meet in the stadium, beginning at 12:45. Fifteen high schools from Berks rural sections will compete for prizes. Muhlenberg is the defending Class-A champion.

If you want to see the personification of the true American sporting spirit watch one of the intramural softball games. The players are all keyed up as if a world championship is at stake and outbursts of temper sometime arise but after the game is over—all is forgotten. That's one of the privileges of living in a democracy.

Everything has an end and this is it. To Dick Major and George

Bomgardner Stars With Home Run

In the second softball game of the season, the Mu's outclassed the Frosh Non-Sorority girls 24-7. Holding the Frosh completely scoreless in the first inning, the Mu's, garnered 15 runs to begin their scoring spree. A change of pitchers on the Frosh team in the second inning saw Butch Borisevich holding the Mu's for a time. Home run hitter of the day was Fleet-foot Bomgardner of the Mu's. Stars for the Frosh were G. G. Scheib and Ramona Hiltterbrick, with two runs apiece.

Koehler, who will inherit all rights to this column, including the two readers, we extend our best wishes for success and a banner year in sports. This we hope for in spite of a bunch of Japs and Nazis who have lost their sporting blood. So—as a friend of ours always says in parting, "Have fun".

Pa. German Class Takes Field Trip

Visit Schoolhouse At Morgantown

On Tuesday afternoon, April 7, the Pennsylvania German class took a field trip to the one-room schoolhouse at Morgantown. Arriving at recess time, the class found the children at play. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in observing the classroom procedure. The teacher is Miss Stolz, sister of Grant Stolz, a former part-time student at Albright. All but a few of the children are named Stolz, and there are only a few who are not Mennonites or Amish.

JOURNAL OF SCIENCE

BY DENNIS STRAWBRIDGE

Skull and Bone Notes
 Last Monday at 8 p. m. the Skull and Bones Society held their regular monthly meeting in the science lecture hall. At that time, the group accepted the report of the nominating committee. The nominees for president are Marie Kaufmann and William Bast. The individual receiving the greatest number of votes will become president and the individual receiving the second highest number of votes will become vice-president. The nominees for secretary-treasurer are Sarah Fisher and Miriam Weider.

After the business meeting, three members of the society presented original papers from the field of biology. Carl Fredericks presented a paper on "Muscular Fatigue," Clem Boland presented a paper on "Vitamin B-1," and Wayne Allen discussed the "History of the Johnson and Vanderpool Families of Bradford County."

I believe it is only fitting to utter a word of praise for the results these lads obtained from their research problems. Too often those in science sit back rather complacently and listen to the presentation of papers without realizing that a vast amount of work goes into the preparation of a scientific paper.

Another interesting sidelight that was exposed at Skull and Bones meeting was the appointment of nation. In certain fields, applicants may apply under other announcements.

The annual examination, announced in January, included a number of options; the new examination is announced for all branches of junior professional and scientific work, but eligibles are particularly desired in the fields of Public Administration, Business Analysis, Economics, Home Economics, Library Science, and Mathematics through Calculus.

Applicants must have completed a four-year college course, or must be enrolled in the last semester or last quarter of the senior year. Those who meet these and other entrance requirements will be given a written test to measure their general knowledge and aptitudes. The Commission is planning to give this test early in May, hoping to establish the eligible lists the first week in June so that appointments can be begun as soon as possible.

The proper application forms may be obtained at any first- or second-class post office or by writing to our Washington office. Applications must be forwarded so as to be received in this office not later than April 27. Particular attention is invited to the provision

Clubbers Tour Casualty Building

"Machines and scientific management are the basic factors in present day business economics", said C. R. Ellis, treasurer of the American Casualty Company, at the meeting of the Albright Business Club held at the American Casualty Company last Wednesday evening.

The members of the club and students of the evening management statistics class were taken on tour throughout the building by Mr. Ellis and his associates.

In the very informative trip, Mr. Ellis elaborated on the various departments comprising the company. The statistical office departments were given as examples of how an up-to-date business firm utilizes science and machines in its operating structure.

NAVY ANNOUNCEMENT TO COLLEGE FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES 17^{THRU} 19

You want to serve your country! Why not serve where your college training will do the most good?

Under the Navy's newest plan, you can enlist now and continue in college. If you make a good record, you may qualify within two years to become a Naval Officer—on the sea or in the air.

Who may qualify

80,000 men per year will be accepted under this new plan. If you are between the ages of 17 and 19 inclusive and can meet Navy physical standards, you can enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You will be in the Navy. But until you have finished two calendar years, you will remain in college, taking regular college courses under your own professors. Your studies will emphasize mathematics, physics and physical training.

After you have successfully completed 1 1/2 calendar years of work, you will be given a written examination prepared by the Navy. This examination is competitive. It is designed to select the best men for training as Naval Officers.

How to become an Officer

If you rank sufficiently high in the examination and can meet the physical standards, you will have your choice of two courses—each leading to an officer's commission:

1. You may volunteer for training as an Aviation Officer. In this case you will be permitted to finish at least the second calendar year of your college work, after which you will be ordered to active duty for training to become an officer-pilot. Approximately 20,000 men a year will be accepted for Naval Aviation.
2. Or you will be selected for training as a Deck or Engineering Officer. In this case you will be allowed to continue your college work until you have received your degree.

After graduation you will be ordered to active duty for training to become a Deck or Engineering Officer. Approximately 15,000 men a year will be accepted.

If you do not qualify for special officer's training, you will be allowed to finish the second calendar year of college, after which you will be ordered to active duty at a Naval Training Station as Apprentice Seaman.

Those who fail to pass their college work at any time may be ordered to active duty at once as Apprentice Seamen.

Your pay starts with active duty. Here's a real opportunity. A chance to enlist in your country's service now without giving up your college training... a chance to prove by that same training that you are qualified to be an officer in the Navy.

You CAN HELP SPEED THIS VITAL WAR-TIME SERVICE!

Every telephone user can help to keep lines open and speed the service by following a few simple rules:

- 1 Be sure you have the right number before you make a call.
- 2 Don't ask "Information" for numbers that are listed in the directory.
- 3 Answer all calls as quickly as possible.
- 4 Be sure to "hang up" after each call. Don't let a book or anything else hold the telephone "off the hook."
- 5 If you can conveniently call at other times, try to avoid making Long Distance calls during the peak periods of telephone traffic—9:30 to 11:30 A. M., 2 to 4 P. M., 7 to 8 P. M.
