JUNIORS PROPOSE SCHOOL PICNIC AT HERSHEY PARK

Planning Big Outing At Popular Resort To Replace Junior Prom—
Now Before Faculty

STUDENT SUPPORT NEEDED

The Junior Class is seriously contemplating staging a college picnic at Hershey Park instead of the Junior Prom, which has been the custom for years back—just how far—no-body knows.

Several months ago the Juniors decided to defy tradition and abandon the Prom idea—especially since it had been wearing out its welcome, and was not receiving the support of the student body for the past several years despite the repeated exhortations and appeals that the Juniors of other years made to their fellow students. At the time that this action was taken, it was decided that some substitute would be offered the students. After some deliberation and consideration on the part of the class of '28, it was deemed best to try a picnic at Hershey Park, the details to be worked out later, in lieu of the antiquated prom.

Await Faculty Approval

The idea passed the Juniors by a unanimous vote, with certain conditions which will be explained later. At the time the Bulletin went to press, it was before the faculty for approval. Immediate action was promised, as it was scheduled to be brot up before a special committee as soon as possible. Until certain and definite faculty action could be taken the project necessarily has to lie dormant. Then as soon as the faculty stamps its approval, the final judgment will be left to the student body. If the faculty disavows the plan, it will of course mark its quietus.

Project A Good One

The project, if it can be put across will be a good one. If present plans materialize, the entire school will migrate to Hershey some time during the morning of Saturday, May 28th and will enjoy a complete day's outing. The Albright-St. Joseph's baseball game scheduled for that afternoon can be transferred there, and will prove an added attraction. There will be plenty doing of the grounds, also. There are all kinds of amusement devices, including aquatic sports, which will prove popular, without a doubt. The park and grounds

Have Great Get-Together Meeting At Hotel Pennsylvania—Leonard "Shorty" Miller Elected President

"The Alumni of Albright College have added another feather to their cap. In a glorious "Get Together" meeting in New York last week, at which about twenty-five grads were present, New York Branch of the Alumni Association of Albright College was organized.

The affair, which was sponsored by Leonard Miller, '20, who is assistant pastor to Dan A. Poling, at Marble Collegiate Church, New York, and Manager of the J. C. Penny foundation, which has its headquarters in New York City, was held on Friday, May 7th, at Hotel Pennsylvania, where a sumptuous banquet was held, and where the organization was effected.

The toastmaster of the evening was E. Spurgeon Fulcomer, while the principal speaker of the evening was Dr. C. A. Bowman, president of the college, and an alumnus. Practically all of the alumni present were

E. LEROY EBERHART ELECTED PRESIDENT OF OXFORD FELLOWSHIP

Officers For Ensuing Term Elected At Meeting Last Thursday—
Oscar Kneller, V. Pres.

A very important meeting of Oxford Fellowship was held in the Oxford room on May 5, 1927. Edwin Harris, the president, was in charge. Mr. Eberhart had charge of the devotional service after which the officers for the next term were elected.

They are as follows:—
President, E. Leroy Eberhart.
Vice President, Oscar Kneller.
Secretary, Benj. Heiser.
Treasurer, Claire Keafer.
Chaplain, Robt. Lundy.

The new officers were then greeted by the retiring President who left with them his sincere desire that they will carry on the work in the best possible manner. A bright future is predicted for this organization.

'Y' MEMBERS AND PROFS. HAVE BIG TIME AT PARTY

Stag Social Held By Y. M. Was Well Attended—Program Enjoyed—
Eats Disappear Quickly

On Monday night the college Y. M. C. A. gave a stag party in the "Y" room. It was very well attended by the men students and Faculty who enjoyed it very much. Smokes, pipes, pipe tobacco, and cigars were distributed amongst the fellows. "Red" Morris, the President opened the party with prayer. After this he turned the party over to Milton Weaver, the Chairman of the program committee, who called on Prof. Zener for a talk.

Red and White Quartet Sings
After his very interesting talk the famous Red and White Quartette sang a selection, which was enjoyed by all. President Bowman gave a very interesting as well as helpful talk. Rev. Keen then gave a few remarks which was followed by another selection by the quartette. After these talks from men who guide the academic and spiritual welfare of the students. Coach Welger gave a helpful talk on what is real pleasure.

Profs. Relate Experiences

While refreshments were prepared to be served the fellows sang old familiar airs. Following this Prof. Walton and Hamilton gave some of their experiences in trying to smoke. Dr. Gobble gave a very helpful talk on the purpose of the "Y". He said that social functions should be only a means for the real work of "Y". The men should attend the weekly meetings where real work is done. Mr. Luboin said a few things which completed the regular program of the evening. The chairman of the com-

BETTY BITTLE WINS HONORS IN JUNIOR ORATORICAL CONTEST

Wins Judges Decision Over Other Contestants—Kneller, Keafer, Loucks, and Heckert Make Fine Speeches

Last Friday evening in the College Chapel another of the Spring activities took place in the form of the Junior Oratorical Contest, which was inaugurated by Prof. Charles Kelchner, of Lebanon, for many years professor of modern languages and head of Physical Culture Department at Albright. Five contestants, eager to win the prize of Fifteen Dollars in Gold, offered to the winner, were on hand for the contest.

Professor Zener, acting as Chairman, opened the contest and introduced the orators. Oscar Kneller came first and spoke very finely on the subject, "The Usosn Creator." Following him came Clair E. Keafer with his espousal of "Cares of Modern Youth." Then came Russell Loucks, of '20, in a great deal was expected. He fairly outdone himself in presenting his subject, "A Message to Gaea." Ernest Heckert, following him, had a very unique subject, "Let's Stay Awhile", a scathing denunciation of professional athletics in col-

GORGEOUS MAY DAY PAGEANT TO BE HELD ON SOUTH CAMPUS TOMORROW

Fifth Annual Event Doubtless Will Attract Great Throng of Witnesses—Girls Making Extensive Arrangements To Make Fete A Gala Event—Fete Built Around Old Fairy Story of "Cinderella"

TO REACH CLIMAX IN CORONATION OF QUEEN & MAY POLE DANCE

Tomorrow afternoon the Thesiminn Literary Society girls will offer the college one of the best attractions of the season in the fifth annual May Day Fete on South Campus. This gala occasion which is awaited with great anticipation each year by students, friends and faculty, as well as the girls who are responsible for its success, promises to be one possessing great charm and beauty.

On Monday afternoon, Arline Herr who is directing the pageant this year accompanied by several of the other girls went to leading to get Here are several scenes from the May Day fete of last year—which was acclaimed a great success. In the upper view on the left, the great dance around the May Pole is at the height of progress. The lower view shows the Queen of the May approaching the throne before her coronation, accompanied by her attendants and heralds. In the center is another view of the May Pole dance. On the extreme right are two photos of the processional as it left Mohn Hall and wended its way to the Mohn Hall Campus where the occasion took place, and where history will repeat itself tomorrow.

1928 SPECULUM SOON TO BE DISTRIBUTED

Sale of Books Is Going On At Rapid Rate—Books Now In Bindery

The "Culmination of Hopes" is about here. Quite a number of the 50 extra copies of the "Speculum" have been sold, according to Mr. Warren Wadsworth, subscription manager of the Junior's annual. Quite a few have sent in the three iron men with their subscription, and a number are having their copies sent C. O. D. Those who are including money for their books will have them sent postpaid as soon as the edition is put on the market.

The business manager made a trip to Williamsport, last week end and reports that the Grit Publishing Company has completed the printing, and the book is being bound, which means that the annual will probably be ready for distribution next week, only a few days behind the scheduled 15th.

Better not delay in sending in your order for the "Speculum," you may be left.

BULLETIN HISTORICAL CONTEST ENDS SOON

Only One Week Left to Hunt Up Answers—Will be of Great Benefit To Students

The Bulletin Historical Contest will close in about a week. As a number of the questions will be answered in the Speculum which will arrive here about the twentieth of this month, the competition will have to be closed at that time.

On Monday no answers had drifted into the Bulletin office, which is far from strange, considering the little research which will be necessary to answer the questions intelligently. By today, however, the Bulletin staff is expecting the answers will appear. There are several days left for anyone who has not made an attempt to answer these questions to do so, for the contest is not over yet, and there are about seven big days left. If there is anyone who does not remember the conditions, he or she could do no better than to get the last Bulletin and look up the questions and conditions and answer them, and be the lucky prize winner.

A contest of this type will be

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

With the promotion of the Freshmen last week to Sophomore standing we are beginning to think of the class of '31, and the problems they will bring to us.

Our first care of them will be to see that they have the right dope about Albright, and what to expect when they get here. The "Y" Handbook will take care of that very well. But the real problem begins with their reception at the opening of school in the fall.

An innovation in many colleges has been the adoption of a Freshman week. The feature of this plan is having the new men report a week ahead of the others, in order to become acclimated. By so doing, the Freshmen become acquainted with the town, campus, and buildings. They familiarize themselves with the various traditions of their college, and learn its customs. They know the professors by sight, and in general, become thoroughly imbued with that indefinable something, "college spirit." Albright needs something of this sort, and if it would not be practical to have the Frosh here a week ahead of time, even a few days would bring results.

When we have thoroughly introduced our Freshmen to Albright, be it a week or a day, the most serious problem arises. How shall we make them behave? With the experience this year with the Class of 1930 we shall be divided in our opinion. It must be either strict rules or no rules at all. The Class of '30 will be the enforcers next year. We should plan now to see that the thing is started right. The half-way enforcement of this year must not continue. No rules at all would be much better than the dogging of a few and letting the others get away with "murder."

Let us give the Class of 1931 a fair shake.

WOULD IT NOT be better to end the chapel devotional service with a march more appropriate than "Turkey In The Straw"?

CUTTING CAMPUS AGAIN?

Now that the lovely weather has come and nature has spread her glorious spring over our campus, let us remember to follow the gravel instead of taking random strolls across the grass. Just when the lawn is fresh, is no time to wear paths where there is no necessity for them. We must try to keep unsightly trails away, especially that one leading from the Studio toward Recitation Hall. The students of course are not to blame entirely for this one, because many other folks cut across the campus here, too. But can't we see to it that we at least try to keep our campus in the fine shape it ought to be? And that path right out from Main Building should either be cemented or roped off, because more of us seem to use this short cut, than the walk itself. Which should not be.

We think, finally, that to remedy the matter some school spirit must be aroused. So when an offender thoughtlessly scampers over the grass just ask him if he's "Cutting campus, again!"

are complete in every respect. Naturally, more complete details can be worked out later, and posted in plenty of time. The Juniors will provide transportation, and along with it, one meal, which is all the Junior prom offered in years past.

Support of Students Needed

However, good as these plans may be, the Juniors will not go ahead with their ideas, unless the support of the student body is assured. The project will be placed before the student body, who if they signify their intention to cooperate with the Juniors, can be assured of a day's entertainment de luxe. However, if the students are as indifferent as they were about the Junior Prom during the last several years, especially, they will not be inclined to face a beating, and will suspend all negotiations. But if they (the student body) are willing to cooperate and merely add their physical and moral support, the Juniors will spare no effort to make the occasion one of the most glorious and noteworthy in recent years.

occasion, in the behalf of which the girls are sparing no trouble to make it the best they know how, and will try to make the fete surpass any that have been held before.

A rather unique program has been arranged for the pageant this year, the entire program being built around the old fairy story, Cinderella. The role of Cinderella will be played by Margaret Haak, which will correspond to the Maid of Honor of former years. Besides the honored Queen of the May, Anna Benfer, the other notable special costumes for the galaables of the occasion are Catherine Steltz, jester, whose cavorting and pranks in this same capacity last year are clearly remembered, and a good supply of others.

Besides the pageant itself which will be a feature complete per se, there will be special dances galore, besides musical numbers, including the efforts of a special orchestra. There will be a minuet, an Irish Tilt, a Dutch dance, a Crazy dance, a special waltz, an Ace of Diamonds dance, and finally, and most notable—the indispensable May Pole dance. The complete cast follows:

Cast

Queen—Anna Benfer.
Queen's Attendants—Laura Brown, Margaret Weist, Caroline Mowry, Blanche McCauley, Mildred Leitner, Elizabeth Pettee.
Cinderella—Margaret Haak.
Fairy Godmother—Kathleen Miller.

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN COLLEGE IN GOOD MUSICAL RECITAL

One of Most Pleasing of Year—Piano And Vocal Numbers Show Technique

Last Tuesday evening in the Chapel the Juniors in Music, afforded the entertainment in the form of the annual Junior Recital. The numbers were many in number and in kinds. The piano quartette was especially well received by the audience. But to say the least, all the numbers, both vocal and piano showed art and technique. The artists for such they are performed exceptionally well and were well received. It indeed was one of the most pleasing recitals of the school year.

PAY TRIBUTE TO MOTHER IN SPECIAL COLLEGE CHURCH SERVICE

Speeches By Benfer And Fassnacht, And Duet By Strassner—Garrett Features

In the College Church, last Sunday evening, internationally celebrated as Mother's Day, the entire service was devoted to Mother. The usual preliminaries took place, after which Anna Benfer gave a most beautiful as well as impressive address on "Mother's Hands."

Hartwell Fassnacht, another Senior spoke of the three phases of Mother's service, Mother, is the Home community, Mother's influence, and Mother's love.

Another attractive feature was a duet by Miss Strassner and Glenn Garrett, and the selection being an appropriate one to the occasion.

worth while, exclusive of the prize. Naturally, the prize will make it that much more worth-while. Students are prone to study ancient history during their college career, and neglect the present. Again, they are prone to study about the Orient, the glory that was Greece, and the grandeur that was Rome, or about Asia, or even Europe, yet let that history, which is the most interesting—and the most useful and practical, in the long run, go.

So this Bulletin contest is meant to supplement the history courses offered in the curriculum, and offer some local history. Albright College has a rich legacy—there is not a student at Albright who should not know more about his Alma Mater. A practical survey of this knowledge which must necessarily come with this historical contest will also develop a greater love and respect for Albright—the college of his choice.

So, in order to do something worth while, both for yourself, the college, and your fellow students, enter the Bulletin Historical Contest!

SUNBURY FANS PAY TRIBUTE TO CAPT. GASULL

Present Peppy Albright Leader With Handsome Wrist Watch On First Trip To Plate

Henry Gasull, captain of the Albright College team, and native of Sunbury, was paid a high tribute by the baseball fans of his home town when he stepped to the plate to start the game between the Albright team and Y. M. C. A. team of that place. Time was called, and the Mayor of Sunbury, followed by the members of both teams grouped around home place while he in a few words, the appreciation of his fellow townsmen of his deeds on the grid-iron and diamond, and the honor he has brought to Sunbury by his records, and in behalf of the fans of Sunbury, presented him with a wrist watch, engraved on the back. To H. R. Gasull from the Baseball fans of Sunbury. Then telling him to do like all great ball players to go up and fan. But Shorty fooled them, he walked.

center, Clemens sacrificed him to second and Sherrid drove him home with a drive to right field. This ended the scoring in this inning, but the boys came back in the third with another tally, on a hit by Gasull, who stole second and came home when Angle tagged one to right field. Albright kept this two run lead to the sixth when they put two more markers across on successive hits by Shoap and Griggs, and a passed ball. Two more were added in the eighth on a single by Kerns, and rousing double to right by Shoap. Shoap scored later when the first basemen erred on a drive from Sherrid's bat. This ended the scoring for the Albright boys but the best the Bisons could do was gather two runs in the 7th and 8th.

Team Fields Well

The whole team fielded well and it was their sensational catches that pulled Shoap out of many holes. Griggs went back to the stadium to make a sensational catch of a foul ball, and Angle an inning later made a sensational catch of a foul ball about twenty yards over his head. Strickler played a nice game in the outfield handling four chances in big league style. Kerns played a nice game at the keystone sack, handling five chances flawlessly.

Jones was the fielding and hitting star for the Bisons, accepting eight chances in the field and getting two of their five hits.

Shoap, Griggs and Gasull were the leading hitters for the home boys, getting two bingles.

Sunbury Y. M. C. A. Vanquished
The Sunbury boys proved little opposition for the Collegians, and the boys won an easy victory 7-4.

Strickler held them to one scratch hit for seven innings, but in the eighth weakened momentarily, and the 'Y' boys put over four runs, but Strickler tightened and stopped all further scoring. The Red and White scored two in the first, and one in the fourth, and four in the fifth, while Sunbury got all theirs in the eighth.

Shoap was the hitting star of the game getting four hits out of five turns at bat.

leges, which he presented in a very able manner.

Miss Elizabeth Bittle, the only girl to participate in the contest was next to deliver her oration. She had as her subject "Lincoln, The Leader." The orators who preceded her were good, but there was no doubt whatsoever in the minds of every one present that she excelled every one of them in her delivery, and that her subject matter was far better. Therefore, the judges' decision that Miss Bittle was the winner was favored by the audience.

The judges were: Professor Hartzler of the Myerstown High School; Rev. N. M. Miller of the Pittsburgh Evangelical Conference, and Dr. David Lockart, Pastor of the Myerstown Reformed Church.

Any industrial worker who moves things by hand is doing work that Electricity can do for about 2 cents an hour

More than 60 per cent of the mechanical power used by American industry is applied through electric motors. But the electrification of the tasks performed by man power has hardly begun. Electric power not only saves dollars; it conserves human energy for better purposes and raises standards of living. College men and women may well consider how electricity can lessen the burdens of industry and of farm and home life.

You will find this monogram on all kinds of electric equipment. It is a symbol of quality and a mark of service.

OF PLEASING RECITALS

Caroline McGury, Assisted By Garrett
And McGuigan Pleases Large
Audience in Chapel

Someone has said that the most enjoyable events of the entire school year are the senior, junior, and student recitals. This is the time of the year the music students show their wares and recitals come in rapid succession. So this must be the most delightful time of the entire year. And not for this alone.

Last Tuesday evening in the College Chapel another very wonderful recital was given by Miss Caroline McGury, Piano, and Glenn Garrett and Elwood McGuigan, Voice.

The stage with its ferns and footlights fairly created a magic spell over the audience, and also upon the performers. And too, it was a beautiful evening.

Miss McGury, whose graduation recital it was, opened and closed the program. She proved to the audience that she was a master of the piano. She played without a false note, and without an untrue tone. In short, her performance was superb in every respect. She graduated—with honors.

Glenn Garrett, the school's famed tenor, was at his best and rendered his several numbers with his customary ease and success. "A more perfect tenor voice is hard to find," said one of America's foremost musicians.

Elwood McGuigan, baritone, sang his several numbers in unusually good style and especially was his second number, "Rolling Down To Rio," noteworthy.

The Program—

- May Night _____ Palmgren
- Legende _____ Paderewski
- Chair de Lune _____ Debussy
- Miss Mowry
- Eri tu che Macchivi _____ Verdi
(Un Ballo in Maschera)
- Rolling down to Rio _____ German
McGuigan
- Romance _____ Sibelius
- Valse Brallante _____ Mono Zucca
- Miss Mowry
- Toreador Song (Carmen) _____ Bizet
- Calling me back to you _____ Seaver
Garrett
- Phantasia Op. 18 _____ Mozart

POETS' CORNER

EVENING

In the West the sun is setting
Shades of crimson span the sky.
And the day, the world forgetting,
Yields to darkness from on high.

From the field we see the farmer,
Weary with a day of toil,
Leave his agricultural armor,
Leave his labor in the soil.

Birds have gathered to their resting,
Chirping there a final note.
Children too have ceased their jesting
Weary, they go down the road.

Everything throughout creation,
Seems, with one accord, to say—
Stop, thou busy rushing nation,
We are at the close of day.
—M. Elmer Dettlerline.

TOWARD HEAVEN

A man, alone,
Was looking up toward Heaven—
His eyes were misty
With a gladdening touch of light;
He seemed to sing,
But only I could hear the song:
It was a prayer
Of faith, and hope, and love!
—Virginia Zener.

LIFE?

For life is all around us,
Nor can we escape—
And living, tho' expensive,
Holds a destined fate.

Athletic Carnival Exciting Attraction
On Girls' Campus

While the Hallers were having a grand and glorious time at their various homes, a number of day students indulged in outdoor sports. "Tiny" and "Shorty" engaged in a bubble-blowing contest, with "Vaps" Beshore acting as official referee. Their motto—Bigger, Better Bubbles—was very appropriate for the occasion. "Vaps" had a strenuous time dodging the bubbles, for he can't stand soap in his eyes. "Tiny's" bubbles were the biggest and the best, and some may even now be seen floating over the campus. But "Vaps" undoubtedly was prejudiced in his decision as "Shorty's" bumper bubble burst in his face, on striking one of his manly whiskers.

"Curly" Youse and "Boush" Whitmoyer had a quarrel over a hotly contested parchesi game, "Curly" accusing "Boush" of using loaded dice.

Stelzie wanted to play jacks with Dechy, but Dechy complained it was too strenuous, so they compromised on Old Maids. Stelzie quit after being the Old Maid six successive times.

Two negroes were walking along when suddenly one stooped over and examined the pavement very closely. On straightening up, his pal said, "What'd de matteh, Rastus?" Rastus answered angrily "Ah'd lak to ketch de guy what spits lak a quartah."

A new volume has been added to the Nature set, entitled "Albright Campus Awakens at Nature's Touch." A valuable book, with charming style. Study it carefully, but handle it gently, and do not marr or tear the pages.

Proverbs of English

The optimist fell ten stories—
At each window-bar
He shouted to his frier:
"All right so far!"

"Meet trials with smiles and they vanish;
Face cares with a song and they flee."
—Anon.

When things first got to goin' wrong with me, I says: "Oh Lord, whatever comes, keep me from gettin' sour!" Since then I've made it a practice to put all my worries down in the bottom of my heart, then set on the lid an' smile.—Mrs. Wiggs.

Little jokes—in mischief,
Little jests—in fun,
Make a happy campus.
Enjoy them, Everyone.

Nise Baby

FAMOUS COLLEGE DIVINE IN REFORMED CHURCH

Rev. Fredrick Shannon, One of Twenty Five Best Preachers in Country
Here Next Wednesday

On the coming Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, Rev. Fredrick F. Shannon, D.D., will appear in the Myerstown Reformed Church. Dr. Shannon comes from Chicago, where he is the pastor of the Central Church. Recently he was given the signal honor of being chosen as one of the twenty-five greatest preachers in America, in a poll conducted by the Christian Century.

His congregation meets every Sunday morning in Orchestra Hall in The Loop District. It numbers more than 2000 and the service is broadcasted from one of the largest stations in Chicago. Dr. Shannon is a successor of Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis in Central Church. A cordial invitation is extended to students and faculty of Albright to hear this distinguished man.

This is indeed an exceptional opportunity for the students of Albright to hear this noted divine. He is certain to bring something inspirational and worthwhile to every one.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

There was a young farmer from me,
Who wanted to catch a fast tre,
He jumped with a careless diside,
And cracked his solidified bre.

Cyrus (lovingly)—"What would you do if I kissed another girl?"
Mabel—"Congratulate you."

Sheldon—"Dough," what does "unaware" mean?"
Brown—"Why it's the last thing I take off in the evening."

Be it ever so homely, there's no face like one's own.

A Wet Party At Albright

Four coeds in the Majestic, looking at a sad picture—and having only one handkerchief.

Prof. Kiess: "Say Bowman, what's all that noise about?"
"Putt": "Oh, I just dropped a perpendicular."

Haney says he would rather be a regular third sacker, than a substitute right fielder.

Pape McGuigan

Someone has invented a tickless clock. Now if some bird will come out with an alarmless one we'll be all right.

The Bulletin is not the only publication carrying boloney accounts. Look at the restaurant menus.

At Breakfast

"I'll have a plate of friend potatoes."

Bill Caulwell attended a convention of dairymen last week and he came back with the report that the two most popular songs of the convention were "Shall We Gather at the River?" and "The Old Oaken Bucket."

Famous Comebacks

The May Day Fuss.

Doc, Derm says: "Every time a group of bankers assembles somebody loses a lot of credit."

Famous Sayings

"Game postponed—rain."

AROUND THE MAY POLE

Come to the Maypole where ribbons are streaming,
Where coeds with fun and high spirits are teeming;
Their bright locks are shorn but their manners and dress
Date back to Old England when ruled by Queen Bess.
Forgotten today are the classroom and book;

Bring the poke bonnet and shepherdess crook.

The brocaded frock with bodice of satin—
Away with Philosophy, Lectures and Latin!

Back to the "Hey and a Hi Nonny O!"
That Shakespeare evolved when his drama was slow;
For over the greensward the Queen of the May
Trips so demurely in crinolines gay.

Rainbows a-quiver with silvery sheen,
Long lanes of color, now purple, now green,
With yellow and red in a swirling array—
Sunshine and shadow in infinite play.

But the pipers are playing, the morris dance waits;
Robin Hood's archers are storming the gates,
Over the campus a trumpet sounds clear—
Come, tread a fine measure, for springtime is here!
