Alumni Chairman Appointed For Diamond Celebration

Elmer L. Mohn, '02, has been appointed chairman of Alumni Day, June 8. The 75th anniversary of the organization of the Alumni Association will be commemorated at this time.

President of the Alumni Association from 1929 to 1939, Mohn was appointed to this post by John C. Lanz, '37, alumni president. He will head the alumni committee making plans for the annual spring reunion.

A very active day has been planned to celebrate the 75th birthday of the Association. The day's program will include a morning symposium, noon alumni dinner, annual business meeting and afternoon tea. Classes ending in '2 and '7 will meet in reunion that evening.

Eastman College Graduate

Mohn is a graduate of the School of Banking and Business, Eastman College, Poughkeepsie, N.Y. He has been affiliated with Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance for the past 25 years and is now special agent emeritus. He is president of the Salisbury Realty Company, Salisbury Township, Bucks County, and is a trustee of the Deep Run Doylestown Presbyterian Church, Doylestown.

Mohn, who is a member of the Varsity Club, was the first varsity captain of Albright's first basketball team in 1902. A charter member of the Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity, he was the recipient of an Alumni Citation in 1949.

IFC To Sponsor Dance In Spring

The Inter-Fraternity Council will sponsor for the first time, an Inter-Fraternity Dance in the spring. The dance is scheduled for Saturday, May 4, at Rajah Temple. Richard Ebricht, '57, is in charge of selecting the band.

David Townley, '57, of the Alpha Pi Omega fraternity, is chairman of the decoration committee. The publicity committee is headed by Richard Engelhardt, '57, of the Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity. Ralph Swenarton, '59, of the Pi Tau Beta fraternity, is chairman of the reception committee. The program and ticket committee is headed by Ernest Brodbeck, '57, of the Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity.

The Council also decided that there will be no silent period this year, since the previous ones were not strictly enforced.

The fraternity open houses for freshmen will begin the first week of March.

Other candidates for B.S. degrees are Alfred Irwin Daniel, a biology and chemistry major; Lois Celeste Deppen, a home economics major; and Fred Calvin Loeser, an economics major.

Loyalty Fund To Start

On Monday evening at 6:30 p.m. approximately 50 Albright alumni will gather in the college dining hall for the annual Loyalty Fund Dinner. Fred A. Howard, '12, chairman of the dinner, announced that the affair will serve as preparation for the 1957 Loyalty Fund for which these 50 Albright alumni will be making preliminary contacts. The Loyalty Fund is an annual fund to which all Albright alumni are asked to contribute.

Dr. Harry V. Masters, president of the college, will speak at the dinner. John C. Lanz, '37, president of the Alumni Association, will also say a few words.

Dr. John R. Spannuth, '21, chairman of this year's fund, disclosed that the drive will formally commence on Friday, Jan. 25, when the first mailing will be sent to all alumni.

Domino Names Dates For Spring Tryouts

Tryouts for the Domino spring production will be held Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 6 and 7, the first two days after semester break. The play will be presented Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 21 to 23.

Domino Club members and all other interested students are urged to attend the tryouts at 8 p.m. in White Chapel on Feb. 6 and 7.

Patricia Hostetter, instructor of English and Domino Club advisor, will announce the title as well as full details about the play in the near future.

'Flunker's Follies' On Stage Tonight In Krause Hall

Tonight "The Flunker's Follies" will take over the Krause Hall stage at 8 p.m. Reports reveal it to be one of the finest revues staged at Albright. Donations will be taken up during the show by members of the two sororities and will be used to start a fund to meet the expenses for a Hungarian student who will study at Albright in the near future.

Best Albright Talent

The revue features some of the best Albright talent, brought together by the host and hostess of the evening, Robert Blatt, '58, and Thalia Voight, '57. In the past, these two have worked together to produce two of our annual one-act plays. "Dee" will provide a high point of the evening with her final scene from "Riders To The Sea", while "Bob" promises (if the goal of $125.00 is met) that he will go through his "Somebody Loves Me" routine.

Others in the act include Agnes Memming, '57, Vaughn Mervine, '59, and Alexander Wipf, '60. The Fraternity Four and the Pi Tau Beta Octet will also be featured. Arrangements have been made to have dancing after the show.

The revue is presented by the Domino Club and Student Council. Patricia Hostetter, instructor in English, is faculty advisor. The program is open to the public.

Retreat Slated For Kirkridge

Eighteen students will leave Thursday afternoon, Jan. 31, for a between-semester, spiritual retreat at Kirkridge in the Pennsylvania Appalachians.

Discussion groups, silent periods of meditation, and a cooperative work plan for cooking and cleaning will be a part of the retreat. An important feature will be some group project for the improving of Kirkridge facilities.

Those participating will include Nilda Calder, '57, Kathleen Forry, '57, Hans Gilde, '57, Clarence Hall, '57, Allan Hoch, '57, Jonathan Kurtz, '57, Jeanne Palm, '57, Elizabeth Reynolds, '57, and Elizabeth Wellenmann, '57.

Also, Mary Ellen Appleman, '58, Carlton Dodge, '58, Frank Fisher, '58, John Ramsey, '58, Ronald O'Reilly, '58, Josephine Seyfert, '58, Carolyn Stillwaggon, '59, Anne Young, '59, and Pauline Ziegler, '59.

Anna Benninger, registrar, and Dr. Paul Lenninger, associate professor of chemistry, will also accompany the group.

Square Dance Listed To Start Semester

The combined Y's will open the second semester with a square dance in Krause Hall, Tuesday, Feb. 12, at 7:30 p.m. Ann Miller, '58 is in charge of the program. The Rev. Paul Scherer, of Pottstown, will be the caller.

There will be no Y program on Tuesday, due to final examinations. David Fife, '58, will speak at the Y-sponsored vesper program on Sunday night.

Annual Albright Convocation Scheduled Tomorrow Night

Louis Fischer

The third annual convocation, which features Louis Fischer, authority on Russia and International Relations, will be held tomorrow night. A highlight of the program will be the appearance of the newly-uniformed band.

Following the dinner served in the physical education building, Fischer will address the group on "The New Era in World Affairs." Cooperating with the college are the Berks County United World Federalists and the League of Women Voters.

Cultural Speaker

Fischer, one of the cultural program speakers last year, was born and educated in Philadelphia. He taught school before he became a journalist. In 1921 he was sent to Berlin by the New York Post and spent most of the next 25 years on various assignments in Europe and Asia.

In each country he has visited over the years, Fischer has interviewed and watched at work virtually every important world leader. He was the house guest of Gandhi in 1942 and again in 1946. He knew Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin. He has had several meetings with Tito and knows Nehru well. He first went to Germany in 1921, and four years later wrote an article about Hitler to which the German leader replied with a personal attack on him.

Political Analyst

A political analyst of skill and experience, Fischer is author of more than a dozen books on world affairs. In the spring of 1956 he published a new major book, This Is Our World, a postwar sequel to his earlier autobiography, Men and Politics. His new book contains a review of world events since 1945.

In 1952, Fischer's The Life and Death of Stalin was published. More than the life story of one of the most powerful individuals of our age, it was also a mature analysis of the nature of the Soviet System and traced the history of that system from inception to the present. The book has been translated into French, Italian, Hebrew, Japanese and Chinese (in Hong Kong).

He has also written The Great Challenge, The Soviets in World Affairs, Empire, Dawn of Victory, and A Week With Gandhi.

All alumni and townspeople are invited to the dinner set for 6:30 p.m. and can make reservations in the Public Relations Office. Students may attend the address by presenting Activity Ticket No. 29. The television station, WGAL of Lancaster.

Musical Group Lists Semester Concerts

The Glee Club Concert schedule has been issued for second semester. On Thursday, Feb. 28, they will present the chapel program. March 31, April 1, and 2, are the planned dates for the annual tour. In contrast to previous years, however, only one tour has been scheduled with the selected Glee Club. While on tour, they will perform in Harrisburg, Lewistown, Johnstown, Somerset, and Carlisle. They will round out the semester by presenting a sacred concert on Sunday, April 7 at 7 p.m. at Nativity Lutheran Church in Reading.

Octet Schedule

The Octet also has a full schedule for second semester. They start off on Friday, Feb. 22 by presenting a concert at Exeter Township in the morning and one at Northeast Junior High that afternoon. Honeybrook High School is listed next for Friday, March 8 at 9 a.m. Thursday, March 21, they are scheduled to sing at Perry Township. Fleetwood Joint High School will feature the Octet on Wednesday, March 27. On Friday, April 12, they will terminate their schedule by giving a concert at Oley Township School.

Gals To Ask Guys (?) To Valentine Dance

Women's Student Senate will sponsor a Valentine Dance, Friday, Feb. 8 in Krause Hall. The dance will be a turnabout, with the women inviting the men.

Martha Richards, '59, and Nancy Ratajczak, '60, are co-chairmen of the affair. The publicity committee is headed by Maxine Thus, '60. Other members of the committee include Nancy Blatt, '59, Sarah Ann Bell, '59, and Marianna Wonder, '60. Louise Reid, '59, is chairman of the decoration committee.

The Albright College Combo will perform and refreshments will be served.

Opportunity

Tomorrow night marks a great opportunity for Albright students. Louis Fischer, an outstanding authority on Russia and International Relations, will speak at the college.

Do you realize the importance of this man? He is the author of more than a dozen books. He has spent years traveling in Europe and Asia and had a personal acquaintance with Ghandi, Tito, and Stalin.

During the 1920's and 1930's the noted journalist spent fourteen years reporting from the Soviet Union, resulting in the publication of The Life and Death of Stalin in 1952. Two years before that, The Life of Mahatma Ghandi showed an exhaustive study of the late Indian leader's philosophy and achievements.

It is not often that an opportunity such as this is given to us. It is part of our college experience to take advantage of it.

The alumni and townspeople are supporting the convocation excellently. The Lancaster television station, WGAL, is covering it. The newspapers have made it an article of prime importance. Let us, as students, also join in the celebration of the third annual Albright Community Convocation.

Benefit Show

Earlier this week, before a meeting of the Berks County Alumni, Rev. Ronald Cocroft, instructor of religion, told the alumni of the many unpublicized charitable services Albrightians have performed this year for the college and community. Had the talk been scheduled for a later time, Rev. Cocroft could have mentioned a new undertaking by a score of students which would have eclipsed all previous undertakings by students this year. The service referred to is the "Flunker's Follies," scheduled to be presented this evening in Krause Hall by members of the Domino Club. Admission to the show will be by donation, with the proceeds being used to finance an education at Albright for a Hungarian refugee.

When the project was first announced, several comments were heard by students along this line. "Why should we help finance the education of a Hungarian refugee, when there are many underprivileged Americans who would also appreciate a college education free gratis." Perhaps this is the correct attitude to take, but there are several important reasons why this project deserves the wholehearted support of the entire student body.

The recent revolution in Hungary printed in bold, bloody letters that the intentions of the Kremlin have not changed despite the so-called "peaceful coexistence" propaganda drive. Although softened somewhat by England's untimely and unfortunate intervention in the Middle East, the effect upon the minds of neutral peoples of the ruthless methods used by the Russians to suppress the revolt will cause many of the neutrals to duly reflect which offers the most liberal route to self-determination—the East or West? The millions our government has spent on foreign aid could not sway more neutrals to the West than the brutal example of "peaceful coexistence" the Russians used in curbing the revolt.

In another light, think of the educational benefit both Albrightians and the refugee will mutually share. What better way is there to learn the truth about life behind the iron curtain than by close association with one who has personally experienced such an environment? And think of the value a first hand report on college life in the U. S. will have on refugee neighbors when he returns to his native land.

For these basic reasons, all students are encouraged to support the benefit show. It is a supreme test to aid a worthy charity not only for the benefit of the college and community, but the world.

An Incident

By Billie Williams

The puffy, dark clouds lay in the sky, scarcely moving. The earth hardly breathed. It was cold—not crisp, refreshing cold; but seering, penetrating dampness. The daily routines began on schedule. By six o'clock, children were eating their breakfasts before going to school. At eight the 7:58 commuters' train dragged into the grey station.

Since it was Thursday, housewives set out on their weekly sojourn for the weekend shopping. The busses carried women to town with full wallets and brought them back with full arms. The traffic cops, now immune to women drivers, were apathetically indicating the best routes of escape for impatient cars. Shopkeepers braced themselves for another day of dealing with the public. They thought, "Tomorrow will be Friday and the next day is Saturday. Then we have a day of rest. Hurrah for rest!" Newspaper boys were returning their morning papers to the stand, where trucks would pick them up and send them back to be made into pulp to be reused as fresh paper.

Meeting

Toward the middle of the morning the breadman and mailman met where their routes coincide. They exchange some sage remarks about American capitalism and the Russian threat. They decided that they didn't like winter when it was so damp. They each went their separate ways. At 11:30 the children came home for lunch. They were always hungry and on days like this were quite ready for a bowl of steaming soup. All over town mothers were fixing sandwiches, pouring milk into glasses. Suddenly the windows began to vibrate, the pans on the stove rattled, and mothers momentarily ceased breathing. At the exact moment when both hands of the clock hit twelve noon, a monstrous and enveloping roar filled the air. It was impossible to hear the cars driving in the streets. The music from the radio was drowned out. All that could be heard above the horrifying din was the hysterical shrieks of the children. Mothers tried to remain calm, to console them, but it was hard to shout words of reassurance when they were based on fear.

Pandemonium

It was impossible to imagine such a din being any louder, but, outside the absorbing walls of the houses, the pandemonium was unbearable. People rushed anywhere to find shelter. Drivers stamped on brakes and covered their ears with shaking hands. Although the roar could never be blotted out, it was possible to deaden the shrill note which tried to pierce eardrums. The streets and sidewalks were emptied almost immediately. No children were sent back to the afternoon sessions at school. Stores were empty, the shopkeepers having braved the hideous din to reach their homes. All activity ceased.

No Explanation

With the arrival of dinner time, fathers returned home. They appeared dazed and spoke incoherently. No explanation of the uproar was available. Evening came and children were put to bed. They could not sleep. They were exhausted from all the shouting, but no one could sleep with a terrifying, unending roar in the air.

The next morning was more hideous than the preceding day. There was no letup in the racket. People had not slept. No one could discover what was the cause of the uproar for the radios, televisions, and telephones could not be heard. Rather than strain themselves by shouting, people preferred to keep silent or write what they had to say. This condition persisted for days until many started to lose their minds. Then, gradually, as if some miracle were taking place after

Albright Personality

Marilyn Wertz

By Pat Nein

One of the most active bundles of pep on our Albright campus is Marilyn Wertz. She can generally be found scurrying between the home ec. lab and the gym.

Her trips to the gym have resulted in her being on the hockey team for three years and on the cheering squad for four years. This year she is co-captain of that vocal group. Marilyn has also participated in the Women's Athletic Association for four years. She is vice-president this year.

Home Ec.

A home economics major, Marilyn is noted for her cooking. Her specialty is angel food cake. No one can make one like Marilyn. Also, in the home economics line, Marilyn likes to knit. Her sweaters are beyond comparison.

Advice

By George Withers

It was the middle of January. Semester exams were about to begin for the students at Custer University. These exams held the fate of the freshmen, and the hope and ambition of the upperclassmen. No matter what the exam, each student used a different method to pass the evils.

Wilbur Worrywort heard two weeks ahead of time when his first exam would be given. He fretted and worried constantly for the next two weeks, and just before the exam began Wilbur had a nervous breakdown.

Harry

Happy-Go-Lucky Harry hated the idea of opening a book, and rarely did. He always handed his assignments in late, and frequently they were transcribed from a friend's paper, but he managed to get by. He thought that it would be easy to cram all that he needed to know the night before the exams. On the eve of the exams he began studying the irregular German verbs and continued until one o'clock a.m. Next, he studied Chemistry. Every experiment, process, and theory he knew by heart at five o'clock a.m. Then, he began cramming for his English exam. He reviewed and reviewed; finally, he fell asleep reciting Hamlet's soliloquy. An hour later Harry went to class and began his exam. After five minutes he found it difficult to keep his eyes open. Two hours later the professor nudged him and wanted to know why he didn't get a good night's sleep. Thoroughly embarrassed, he handed his blue book in and tried desperately to stay awake for the next exam.

Prudence

Now Prudence Pringle did her assignments daily. Two weeks before her exams, she began reviewing each subject carefully. When it was time for the exams, Prudence was prepared and confident. Incidentally, she made the Dean's List.

Jovial Joe had over thirty-five cuts by the end of the semester. He refused to touch any of his books and hadn't even bought all of them. Since he was too lazy to study and yet wanted to pass his courses, he obtained copies of previous exams from his fraternity brothers. The exams were changed, however, this year and Joe received an incomplete in every course.

Whether you are a Wilbur, Harry, Prudence, or Joe; make it your New Year's resolution to improve your study habits now, for the second semester is about to begin.

February will find this Miss expounding her knowledge on the minds of Wyomissing High School, where she will be doing her student teaching. Teaching is no new experience to Marilyn as she spent the past two summers as a play leader at the West Reading playground.

Good Friend

Marilyn's friends say that she is a good, true friend. Marilyn's roommate for the past two years is also from West Reading. The two girls decided that they would like to be dorm women in their junior and senior years. Marilyn feels that by staying at school she has had more time to devote to H.E.O. and F.T.A. in which organizations she serves as secretary.

This able president of Phi Beta Mu culminates her short romance of eight years this summer. Since her hubby-to-be is a chemical engineer at Niagara Falls, Marilyn will spend more than a honeymoon there. We wish loads of luck to the happy pair!

Dizzy Diet

By Sandie Gerhart

Do you have a hard time finding clothes that will fit you? Do people whisper about you behind your back? Does your date refuse to snuggle close to you in the movies because she (or he) can't get near you? Let's face it, pal! You have too much adipose tissue. In other words, you are too fat!

Well, now is the time for me to come to the aid of the F.P.A. (Fat People of Albright). I'm not offering any type of pill, powder, or liquid. My remedy is one simple diet. This diet has been approved by the health and hygiene staffs of the following magazines: Good Housekeeping, Collier's, Reader's Digest, Confidential, and Mad. I would also like to add that it is the same diet that Elvis Presley is using at the present time.

No Guarantee

I do not guarantee immediate results, but I do know that if you remain on this diet for a period of one year, you WILL lose weight! You might die of malnutrition, but you will have a slimmer, lovelier figure. Who knows, you might turn into another Jayne Mansfield or Wally Cox.

So follow my simple diet and you will find yourself in paradise. Good luck!

Dickinson Red Raiders Next Foe For Albright Cagers

IN THE LION'S DEN

By Phil Eyrich, Associate Editor

The varsity cagers put on another fine exhibition of teamwork and play-making last Saturday night as they copped their third victory in 10 starts. It was evident that the Lions are well-versed in the setting up of Coach Will Renken's plays as they ground out a 15-point victory over the Moravian Greyhounds. Several times the Moravian five began cutting away at the Albright lead, but in each instance the Red and White met the challenge with a barrage of points. For the first time this season, three Lion cagers scored 20 points or more, as Fred Dietzel collected 26, Captain Jim Foreman 25, and Bruce Riddell 20. A fourth starter, Merrill Eckhart, also hit double figures with a 10-point performance. Many of Albright's markers were the direct result of the smooth working of the Lions' offensive plays.

The previous week, at Seton Hall, the sportswriters in the pressbox had commented on the fine style of offensive play that Albright exhibited and the smooth way the offense functioned. It was the same story against Moravian, as the Renkenmen reached their highest total number of points in a single game this season with 93. Even with Albright's high-scoring duet of George Conrad and Mike DePaul, the varsity court team of a year ago only surpassed this total in three games. The 1955-56 quintet reached their highs of 102, 99, and 96 points in encounters with the New York Athletic Club, Lebanon Valley, and Dickinson respectively. The Lions, now approaching equals in the court schedule, should be able to bring their record above the .500 mark if they continue to exhibit the fine teamwork used against Moravian in their coming games.

Jayvees Improve . . .

The junior Lions appear to have found themselves after a slow start and seem ready to bring their record to the winning side also. It was against the Seton Hall frosh that the jayvees hit their stride when, although losing a 10-point decision, they handled the much taller opposition well. They came into their own with the 69-52 victory over the previously unbeaten West Chester jayvees, and the 91-51 lacing given the Moravian frosh was ample proof of their growing adeptness. Richie Greene, leading scorer for the junior Lions, has enjoyed the improved play of the remainder of the squad (Charlie Smith, Bob Shoup, Lew Molnar, Jack Tucker, Tom Faust, Lowell Scherer, and Chuck Kachel) in the recent games.

One of the most startling accomplishments of the jayvees has been the rebounding of Faust and Smith, among others, when completely dwarfed under the boards. Both high-jumpers in the spring, they stand 6-0 and 5-11 respectively. The experience gained in the early games of the season has turned them into aggressive rebounders who made key contributions to the recent victories. Although offensive play was concentrated in the hands of only a few players at the start of the campaign, a more evenly balanced attack has been formed in recent games, as evidenced by Tucker coming off the bench against Moravian and scoring 13 points and reserve Scherer's 14 against West Chester. Many eyes will be on the jayvees to see if they continue their climb because from them will come needed material for next year's varsity. The importance of this jayvee training is shown by observing the key roles that sophomores Dietzel, Eckhart, Dick Kelly, and Paul Marrella have played in the varsity games so far this season.

F & M, Cadets Also Highlight Coming Games

Dickinson will provide the opposition for the Albright cagers in their next game, an away encounter with the Red Raiders next Saturday night at Carlisle. The Lions stopped Dickinson by an 82-45 count on Dec. 1 in the Albright fieldhouse. Franklin and Marshall visits Albright on Feb. 2 for the first of two games between the two teams this season.

The Red and White will travel to West Point for a game with the Cadets to begin the second semester on Feb. 6. This will be an afternoon contest. Scranton meets the Lions on Feb. 9 in the Albright fieldhouse and two days later the Gettysburg Bullets will be host to the Renken-men at Gettysburg. An all-important test will pit the Wagner Seahawks against the Lions on Feb. 13 in the Albright fieldhouse.

Jayvee games will precede the contests with Franklin and Marshall, Scranton, Gettysburg, and Wagner, the latter game being with a local quintet.

Franklin and Marshall has compiled an 8-1 log going into this week's competition with wins over Juniata (79-69), Western Maryland (99-69), Ursinus (85-60), Swarthmore (88-78), Johns Hopkins (92-73), Dickinson (98-76), Lebanon Valley (82-64), and Muhlenberg (70-68). Lehigh topped the Diplomats 68-58. Jack Ziegler and Rudy Koenig, both basketball products of the Reading area, pace the F&M quintet, which is having one of its best years on the court.

Mediocre

Dickinson, Army, Scranton, and Wagner have only mediocre records to show for their season's work, while Gettysburg enjoyed slightly more success on the court.

Ten-game totals show that Bruce Riddell leads the varsity cagers in rebounding with 106, while Bruce Storms follows with 77. Captain Jim Foreman and Fred Dietzel have grabbed 54 and 42 respectively. Albright's opponents have outscored the Lions 697 to 649 in the first 10 games. Riddell has cashed in on 43 of 57 foul goal attempts for 75.4% at the free throw line. Foreman has hit on 75.6% of his free throws, Dietzel 90.0% and Eckhart 73.4%. The foul shooting of the team as a whole has also been far above average.

For The Record

Ten of Albright's 1956-57 basketball opponents have participated in tournaments so far this season, but only one, Lafayette, has emerged victorious. The Leopards won the Richmond Invitational Tournament. The combined tournament record of the 10 teams is 15 wins and 15 losses.

Riddell Surpasses 1000 Points As Lions Lose

Lewisburg, Jan. 15—Bruce Riddell, Albright's senior forward, surpassed the 1,000 point mark in his basketball career at Albright on Tuesday as the Lions bowed to the Bucknell Bisons 76-59 at Lewisburg. Riddell, who has played in every game since coming to Albright, cracked the charmed circle with 7:40 remaining in the first half of the game when he scored on a push shot. He ended the game with 19 points.

Bucknell Frosh Down Jayvees

Albright's jayvees took an early 4-0 lead over the Bucknell frosh in a game at Lewisburg on Tuesday, but were eventually defeated 66-50. The first half of the contest was a see-saw affair until the Bucknell squad broke a 24-24 tie late in the first half with a four-point outburst. The hosts were never headed after that time.

At the end of the first half of play in last Saturday's game with the Moravian jayvees, the Greyhounds had a green(e) look with the junior Lions out in front, 39-23. Led by Richie Greene, who scored 20 of his 27 points in the first half, the jayvees put all eight men in the scoring column for the first time this year in their 91-51 maul of the visitors.

Delaware Drops Lions In Mat Debut 38-0

Albright's newly-formed wrestling team opened the season last Saturday by absorbing a 38-0 defeat at the hands of the Delaware Blue Hens. The match was held at Newark, Del. Tomorrow, the Lion matmen will travel to Collegeville for a test with Ursinus in an attempt to gain their first win. This is the first season for wrestling at Albright.

Five falls, a decision, and a pair of forfeits gave the host Blue Hens their 38 points. Albright failed to enter anyone in the 137-pound and unlimited classifications. Ted Erickson was the lone Lion who lost by decision, to Steve Voorhees by a 3-0 margin.

Delaware Stars

Jim Horn, Bob Peterson, Bob Seaman, Bill Walker, and Jim Zawicki led the Delaware matmen to their first win of the season by pinning their opponents. Previously, the Blue Hens had tied two matches. Dick Reidler, Charlie Sample, Alex Stuart, George Zug, and George Morfogen, in addition to Erickson, participated for Coach Gerry Barger's squad.

The Lions tied the game at 10 all, but here the hosts scored on a push, a jump, and four foul plays to pull away for the last time.

The taller Bucknell quintet controlled the rebounding throughout the game, which featured aggressive play on the part of both teams.

It was the Lions tenth loss against three wins in the present campaign.

Beat Moravian

The Lions finally hit their stride as they dined a good Moravian team 93-78 last Saturday in the Albright fieldhouse. The Renkenmen turned in their finest performance of the season as they collected their third win of the campaign. The Lions' home record is now three wins and one loss.

Sophomore Fred Dietzel scored 10 field goals and six fouls to emerge as high scorer for Albright with 26 markers. Captain Foreman and Riddell were close behind with 25 and 20 points respectively.

The Lions led throughout the entire contest, including a 46-35 half-time edge. Hitting on 44% of their shots from the floor and displaying good all-round rebounding strength, they completely outclassed their opponents.

Moravian guard Fritz Toner took game scoring honors with 28 points, as he kept the Greyhounds in the game with his outside shooting.

three months of terror, the din lost its shrill quality. People were sure the danger was softening. Life started to return to normal. Within a few days the roar was diluted to a hum. Without anyone noticing, it disappeared.

The strangest development was that, whenever one of these people visited a foreign land, they could hear nothing. They were deaf. And when foreigners came to visit this land, they could hear nothing for they claimed a terrifying roar blotted out all sound!

Religion-In-Life Program Substituted At Western

A religion-in-life program, planned to promote campus religious emphasis throughout the year, will be substituted this year at Western College for Women for the traditional Religion-in-Life Week. The religion-in-life committee was given sanction for such a change by vote of the Student Government Association.

It is hoped that such a program will (1) encourage religious thinking throughout the year rather than only during the four days traditionally allotted to Religion-in-Life Week; (2) bring more and better speakers to the campus by enabling them to come at their own convenience; and (3) aid in the functioning of activity groups on campus by integrating their programs with those of the religion-in-life committee.

With such an arrangement, the theme for religion-in-life studies will vary throughout the year in accordance with the programs of the different campus groups. A spring emphasis weekend is planned for the entire academic community early in the second semester, to stimulate serious thinking in areas of religious faith and to aid students in solving their individual religious problems. Though final plans have not yet been announced, such a religious-emphasis program might include: the showing of films in accordance with the History of Movie series; recorded choral music in accordance with campus music department programs; radio broadcasts with religious themes; encouragement of competitions for creative religious writings for Scope and in the English department; discussions in the fields of the natural and social sciences—relating science to religion; and possibly religious dramas to be presented by the theatre department.
