THREE MORE VICTORIES FOR THE VARSITY

ALBRIGHT TROUNCES
SWARTHMORE 39-17

ALBRIGHT 38; JUNIATA 26

Red and White Vanquishes Susquehanna 45-30.

The Quakers were unable to repeat their performance on last year's court or that of the gridiron this year, and the Red and White five were easy victors in the fray which ended with the score 39—17 in our favor. The floor work of the Albright team was too much for Swarthmore. Wagner and Dech gave the team an early start by dropping in several baskets from beyond the foul line. Miller and Kline by their careful guarding kept the Swarthmore forward from their basket while our men dropped the ball in the basket from all angles. Neither team was able to play under the basket, but we were able to run

MINSTREL SHOW IN HIGH SCHOOL MARCH 9TH—BENEFIT A. A.

Myerstown will have the opportunity to see the product of our local talent in a minstrel show to be held March 9. The old-time circle will give a program consisting of solos, quartets and choruses of the latest popular songs, augmented by our School Orchestra. The mimicry of the black face artists will be a feature that is certain to make a "hit". "The Bull Fight" and a Revue of 1921-22 will be the features of the olio. The entertainment is being staged for the benefit of the Athletic Association. The support of the entire student body and town people is solicited to make the show a success.

CARRYING ON THE WORK OF THE WASH- INGTON CONFERENCE

BY DREW PEARSON
I. N. A. NEWS SERVICE

With the close of the Washington Conference, there will be a great host of people proclaiming it is the millenium—the start of a new era of peace on earth; and there will be a smaller, but more vociferous group, which will denounce it as political camouflage under which are hidden many unhealed sores liable to infect the peace of the world.

Both groups will be partially right and partially wrong. But without going into the "ins and outs" of a political debate, it is worth while to summarize some of the less technical and more easily understandable results of the Conference.

A Step Toward Permanent Peace
Most of us are inclined to believe with the first group, that the Washington Conference is a step toward a new era of world peace—but only a step. A big step to be sure, but there have been many steps before it and there must follow many more before we have permanent peace.

An Educational Stimulus
H. G. Wells has pointed out that the greatest possible good resulting from the Conference will be its educational stimulus. The Conference has put people into an International frame of mind. It has made them think in world terms. It has aroused people to an understanding of Japan's problem of expansion; of China's problem of self-government. It has awakened people to the great wealth, the potential power of Siberia and Manchuria, and the problem of safeguarding that wealth against exploitation. It has joggled people out of their national rut, made them look beyond their own boundaries, forced them to rub shoulders with people from other lands. And as an inevitable result of all such

What Is Water Japan?

JAPAN—not the country but a metal-coating varnish—and your morning bottle of milk. Totally unlike, yet associated!

Ordinary japan consists of a tough, rubbery, tar-like "base" and a highly inflammable "solvent." The solvent dilutes the base so that the metal may be coated with it easily. The presence of the solvent involves considerable fire risk, especially in the baking oven.

Milk is a watery fluid containing suspended particles of butter fat, so small that one needs the ultra-microscope to detect them. An insoluble substance held permanently in suspension in a liquid in this manner is in "colloidal suspension."

The principle of colloidal suspension as demonstrated in milk was applied by the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company to develop Water Japan. In this compound the particles of japan base are colloiddally suspended in water. The fire risk vanishes.

So the analysis of milk has pointed the way to a safe japan. Again Nature serves industry.

Connected with the common things around us are many principles which may be applied to the uses of industry with revolutionary results. As Hamlet said, "There are more things in Heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamt of in your philosophy."

up the score by our skill in long distance shots. Wagner led in the scoring from the field with five field goals. Because of our superior passing we were able to have a comfortable margin thruout the entire game. Kingsley, by his superior floor work and passing, was a big factor in Albright's victory. In this game the team gave one of the finest exhibitions ever seen on a basket ball court.

The line up follows:

Swarthmore		Albright
Walter	F.	Wagner
Baxter	F.	Dech
Ogden	C.	Kingsley
Yarnall	G.	Kline
Earnshaw	G.	Miller

Substitutions—Hinebaugh for Ogden, Dieterle for Baxter, Grenhart for Hinebaugh, Raffensperger for Kingsley, Zeller for Dech, Leinbach for Wagner. Field goals—Wagner, 5; Dech, 3; Raffensperger, 3; Miller, 2; Kingsley, 2; Kline, 1; Zeller, 1; Yarnall, 2; Walters, 2. Foul goals—Earnshaw, 9 out of 13; Wagner, 5 out of 9. Referee—Tigert.

ALBRIGHT 38—JUNIATA 26

Coming to Myerstown confident of adding another to her string of victories, Juniata's fast and aggressive basket ball five met defeat at the hands of the Albright squad, on the local gym floor by the score of 38—26, Friday, Feb. 17.

The game was the fastest seen on the Albright floor for some time, and was agog with thrills. Juniata played a splendid game, giving a fine demonstration of her ability to pass. The game was a scrappy one right up to the very end.

The entire game was fast and furious, no team enjoying a substantial lead at any time. During the first period the Huntingdon collegians kept trailing the local boys continually, the work of Donaldson and Hoffman featuring for the visitors. The half ended 19—16 in favor of Albright.

The second period proved even more sensational than the first, but the ability of the Red and White boys soon asserted itself and Juniata proved incapable of stopping the rush. The Albright team played its usual high class game and proved to be too good for the visiting quintet in every department of the game.

Hoffman's consistent work from the foul line kept the Juniata five in the running thruout. The splendid floor work and aggressive playing of Dech was the feature of the game.

The line-up:—

Albright		Juniata
Wagner	F.	Donaldson
Dech	F.	Engle
Kingsley	C.	Shaute
Kline	G.	Oller
Miller	G.	Hoffman

Field goals: Wagner 5; Dech 2; Kingsley 3; Kline 2; Miller 2; Donaldson 3; Shaute 2; Hoffman 1.

Fouls: Wagner 10 out of 16; Hoffman 14 out of 19.

Referee: Saul, Otterbein.

ALBRIGHT VANQUISHES SUSQUEHANNA

Albright's powerful basket ball quintet continued its slaughtering of opponents by repulsing the Susquehanna invasion on February 18, by the score of 45—30, and incidently scoring the seventh consecutive triumph of the season.

The ever consistent Red and White team had no trouble in running up a comfortable lead from the start. The close guarding of Kline and Miller was too much for the visiting forwards, and before the whistle blew for the end of the first half, Coach Benfer had substituted his entire second squad for a few minutes. The half ends 26—10.

In the second half the varsity repeated its splendid record of the first period. The team work of our squad simply overwhelmed the visitors. The second team was again substituted near the end of the half. The final score was, 45-30.

Rogavitz and Sweeney starred for Susquehanna; Dech and Kingsley for Albright.

The line-up:—

Albright		Susquehanna
Wagner	F.	Sweeney
(Knecht)
Dech	F.	Cole
(Raffensperger)		(Bannon)
Kingsley	C.	Rogawitz
(Zellers)
Miller	G.	Raymer
(Leinbach)		(Thomas)
Kline	G.	Gaffney
(Mahaffie)		(Briggs)

Field goals: Wagner 5; Dech 4; Kingsley 3; Miller 1; Kline 1; Sweeney 4; Rogawitz 3.

Fouls: Wagner 14 out 19; Raffensperger 3 out 5; Sweeney 16 out —.

Referee: Olewine. Timekeeper: Crumbling.

shoulder-rubbing, nations now better understand each other, are better neighbors.

So the Washington Conference has started a great educational movement for a better understanding of the world's problems. For peace cannot come without understanding, and understanding cannot come without education.

Education the Solution

Education! That's the solution of a great many problems; but most important of all it's the solution of the problem of world peace. And that's exactly where we come in—the men and women of the colleges from the faculty to the sub-freshmen.

It is up to us to carry on what the Washington Conference started! It is up to us to carry on this educational movement for the better understanding of the world's problems!

We can do it! And we are the group in this country, just as the college men and women in all countries, which is best fitted to do it.

Because in our schools and colleges, history and politics may be taught in a way that will make for international misunderstanding or for international understanding. In our schools and colleges we may plant the seeds of future war or future peace.

During the last war, the colleges were asked to become an integral part of the national defense. They not only became military training schools but offered courses of instruction on the splendid war aims and ideals which motivated at least the great majority of American people. Of course the war is over now, and we lack the incentive and pressure to rush things thru that we had in those days of emergency. But even more important it is today, that we teach in our schools and colleges the aims and ideals that were behind the Washington Conference, and which must remain behind the people of the world if we are to obtain world peace.

A Long-Drawn-Out Job

This work of education is going to be a long-drawn-out job. It will be attended by no spectacular plenary sessions, no banquets to diplomats. No gatherings of renowned press representatives, no first page news

A NEW STANDARD

The new attitude of the students during the past month towards "cribbing" has done much to clarify conditions at Albright. The student body by their willing confessions regarding "cribbing" in the past mid-years have upheld their own honor and have done much towards gaining the good will of the faculty and of fellow members in the student body. Now that this new standard has been set, we should maintain it. Every organization in school should go on record as standing for honesty in the scholastic work and point out clearly to each individual student the folly and lowness of stooping to low down methods to obtain grades in scholastic work.

Our student body is no exception to the rules in the "cribbing" game. A recent issue of a nearby school paper tells of the suspension of two students for a period of six months. We have taken a stand that we shall have to maintain. The solution lies in the creation of sentiment and enforcement of the law. During the past year a plan for the doing away with the disagreeable conditions around Albright was presented. This plan provided for the creation of sentiment. At that time the plan was not well received. Many, however, have come to see that the only solution of the present problem lies in the creation of sentiment on the part of the faculty, student body, and student organizations against this condition. Along with law enforcement by authorities and with a severe penalty for violation, the new standard will be and must be upheld.

A NEED

What would government be without law? Without law government would be as an engine with open throttle. It would thunder along with uncontrollable speed, destroying everything which came in its path. Without law there would be no order, for law is essential to order. If a nation desires peace and integrity; if it wishes to accomplish the purpose for which it was established, then I say, "It must have law". But, on the other hand, law, without enforcement is a farce. This is partially the condition of our country today. We have laws, but many of them are not enforced. A large number of our citizens have no regard for law; and, in many instances, there are no steps taken toward the enforcement of the same. We as a people should awaken to the fact that our united influence is the direction of law enforcement and law obedience will alone place this nation on the heights of success.

The same principle holds true with regard to life in our college. There are rules and regulations laid down by those in authority. These are essential to the school. However, they are often considered as naught in the minds of some students. But, viewing it in another light, are rules enforced at Albright? No. There is little enforcement of rules in our school. The rule book is termed a "joke book", and many of the students say, "I'll do as I wish; the rule book is a joke." What we need at Albright is law enforcement. It is not the duty of the students to do this, but the duty of those in authority. Then it is our duty as students to obey the law and thus make our school an institution worthy of its name.

ALUMNI REPRESENTATION

The election of two alumni representatives to the trustee board has elicited nothing but favorable comment from all. The alumni are especially to be congratulated on their selection of men to represent them.

The trustees themselves have shown a progressive spirit in permitting two representatives to be chosen, regardless of their church connection. With this decided innovation we can do nothing but go forward.

We hope that this step by the trustee board in adding two men of the alumni, and chosen by the alumni, to the trustee board, may be but the initial step in a progressive policy. We hope that the trustee board will continue their plans for a Greater Albright.

The newly elected men are comparative recent graduates and know the needs of the school, its advantages, and its deficiencies. With their voice heard in council the policies can be only progressive. The student body, alumni, and friends of the school are looking forward to great things from the newly chosen trustees.

Messrs. Becker and Young, the Bulletin Staff congratulate you on your election to the Trustee Board. May your efforts be rewarded in building up a Greater Albright!

OUR AIM

With organized effort of alumni, school authorities, and student body, we shall have a two hundred and fifty student-body next year. Why not?

A RECORD

To date our varsity five have not lost to a Pennsylvania five. Among our victims are University Five of Reading, Lehigh, Swarthmore, Haverford, Juniata, and Susquehanna. Our aim—State Championship.

"Cribbing" days at Albright are past. They are if you say so.

Albright inaugurates Inter-Collegiate Debating on Friday evening. Nothing less than 100% support. Help the teams defeat Ursinus.

A DESERVED TRIBUTE

The following is from "The Phoenix", the Swarthmore College publication in commenting on the Albright—Swarthmore game

"The Garnet was unable to make any headway against the Albright quintet which was easily the fastest seen at Swarthmore this year. Throughout the entire game Albright displayed a marked superiority over the Garnet team in speed and teamwork."

stories and flaring headlines. It will be slow, up-hill work, never noticed by the vast majority of people. But in the end, it will accomplish more than the Washington Conference, for while the Conference took a great step toward peace by untangling the difficulties of governments, education will untangle the difficulties of the people behind those governments. And the day will eventually come, when because of education and understanding of each other, the peoples of the world will have no troubles to untangle.

Public Opinion Rules

At the Fifth Plenary Session of the Conference, I heard Elihu Root present his resolutions for the abolition of poisonous gas. And in closing, he said, in that forceful way he has of saying things, "Beyond governments and beyond armies, there lies the final ruling body, a public opinion of the civilized world."

The education of that public opinion to a better understanding of the world's problems, is, it seems to me, our job.

ed by the Ursinus team from a list of five men that will be submitted by the Albright team for the debate at Myerstown. The Albright team will have the same privilege at Collegeville. These two debates are the beginnings in the larger field of debating for Albright. The other contests are with Juniata and Gettysburg on March 18 and 25 respectively which will be conducted on the same basis.

The students will remember that the success of this new endeavor will be determined largely by the support accorded it by the student body. Support the debating teams with the same interest and enthusiasm that you have for the athletic teams. In this way you will be doing your part to get Albright started right.

LITERARY SOCIETY NOTES

Themisian

During the time of the mid-year exams the work of the society was not up to par. Now that those "trying" days are over, the members are showing more interest. However, the interest shown is not the steady and earnest kind of true Themisian spirit, but rather of one who wants to be entertained. If we want to live up to our motto "Una in amore, more, ore, re"—we must let excuses fly to the winds and be up and a doing. Don't push the responsibility on someone else, but show the same interest as you do in working for an "A" in English, Science, Math, etc. The price you pay will not be as great as the gain.

The programs for the last two meetings in Feb. are as follows:

February 17th

- Vocal Solo-----Mary Miller.
- Essay-----Mamie Tobias.
- Memory Gems From Famous Poets
Rosalie Camp
- Piano Duet—Marion Weigle and Mary Marquardt.

Debate:

Resolved—"That the course leading to the A. B. degree should be only three years.

Affirmative Negative

Grace Pewterbaugh Sea Stoner
The affirmative won by the vote of two to one.

Owing to the lateness of the hour, the Echo by Francis Faust was postponed.

The Program for Feb. 24th sented Feb. 10, after a short business session, consisting of four five-minute speeches.

"Outlook for Peace"-----Andrews
"America for the American", Basom
"Secret of Center's Success", Burgett
"Value of Physical Training"—Kline

Only a short business meeting was held Friday evening Feb. 17.

Excelsior

On Friday, February 10, the Excelsiors were treated to an extemporaneous program. There were extempo speeches, readings and musical numbers. In addition Coach Benfer spoke. The meeting was regarded as a success by all. One of the items of business was the election of the alternate for the final inter-society debate. Arthur Fahl was chosen.

The limited in time, the program for February 18 was an interesting one. A timely and well presented talk was a five-minute speech on "Washington as a Politician" by Swank. Realizing a need for some form of entertainment for the entire student body on the Saturday evenings when there is nothing special to do about the colleges, the society voted to entertain the other two societies and the faculty members in the Gym, Saturday evening, Feb. 25. The action was taken because it was felt that there should be some form of a big social where the entire student body could mingle together freely.

Y. W. C. A.

Two very helpful meetings were held under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A.

The first on Feb. 6 was conducted by Margaret Hetrick. The theme for discussion was: "Our Duty in Relation to Missions". The way to meet the arguments of a person who objects to foreign missions, was discussed by the girls.

"Customs and Standards of Conduct" was the topic for discussion for the meeting held on Feb. 13, led by Pauline Brower, our worthy president. The scripture lesson was taken from Mark 22:1—28 and 3:1—12.

The story of the disciples, who plucked corn on the Sabbath day and the answer Christ gave when reproached for their actions, was applied to our daily living. Other thots of great and practical interest were: (1) The relation of our morals to custom; and (2) When and how to depart from custom in striving to attain standards in accordance with those of the "Man of Galilee?"

Y. W. C. A.

Up to this time the girls have been loyal to the "Y" and nearly all have taken an active part in the work of the society. Each leader has striven earnestly to make her meeting a success.

Aside from interest in meetings, the girls have been working for the financial end too. Thursday evening is "sandwich night" and all welcome the time when a head is thrust in the door and "Sandwiches" is heard. A fresh supply of Hershey almond bars has been received and from the sales report of the first few days we feel that the candy man in "Main Building" must acknowledge competition and realize a decrease in his sales.

Y. M. C. A.

On Feb. 14, the "Y" was addressed by Prof. Zener, who spoke on "Gardens and the Soul". He said in part that all over the world there are gardens both large and small, and that men love these gardens. Gardens thus serve as a sort of bond uniting different people of the world. As men take good care of these gardens because they love them, so our souls must be taken care of since they are our beloved gardens. There are many evil seeds which often become implanted in these gardens, and the result is the ruining of life because the individual has not made an attempt to cleanse his life of these evil seeds. On the other hand, there are many good and noble seeds which ought to be planted in these gardens of ours, and which if developed will lead to completeness and fullness of life.

THE EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Sunday evening, February 12, was the closing night of a two weeks' series of evangelistic services in the local church. These were the most successful services held in the local church for a number of years. Some students professed a new allegiance to Christ, while many others re-consecrated their lives to the service of God, for firmer, stronger Christian living. The results of the revival are evident in the changed demeanor of life in the dormitory, for so called cussin has been dismissed to a considerable extent, and prayer meetings are held all over the building every week. This is very encouraging, as regarding the lives of the students; and the change in general lines of student activities seems to point to a coming deeper interest in religious enterprise than has been shown before. Due consideration must be given to Rev. Heck, whose deep earnestness and interest in the student body was as large a cause for the success of these meetings as anything. As stated before, the results are very gratifying, and it only remains for us as students to live the proper type of Christian lives in order that this atmosphere may continue in and about the college.

My Opinion Is This

Here is the place to give expression to your opinions about irregular conditions in our student life. The name of the contributor will be withheld if so desired.—Editor.

THE "PREPS" ATTITUDE TOWARD SENIOR TEACHING

Considerable comment has been occasioned by the change on the teaching staff of our Preparatory School—teaching by college seniors. This is not a new idea, for seniors have served as substitutes for a number of years; however, this year it is done on a larger scale.

This is brought about by requirements relating to the teaching profession. According to these conditions, one may not receive the state certificate after graduation unless he has completed five semester hours in teaching, one in consultation and twelve in the study of the principles of teaching.

Adjustments are being made by institutions of learning, so as to enable their students to meet this requirement. Albright has been prompt to meet this new status. Teaching of the required number of subjects has been provided, consultation periods are held and an avenue for teaching in the Preparatory School has been opened, as has already been intimated. It is the last provision that concerns the "Preps."

Let not the impression be left that the "Preps" are prejudiced against these student-teachers. On the contrary, their earnest efforts are appreciated. As a rule, they do commendably well, considering their experience. But does the end achieved justify the loss to the "Preps"? Should not due consideration also be given those taught?

In the first place, consider it from a financial standpoint. The Preparatory student pays the same amount for tuition as one doing collegiate work. Yet the latter is under instruction made competent by years of training and experience.

Furthermore, may not this system be inadequate for two particular reasons? First, because of the time element. The senior year is a very busy one—fraught with many pre-commencement duties. Can one do efficient work in both spheres at the same time? In other words, can a man carry a bucket full of water on both shoulders without spilling some of the contents thereof? To do so, one must be an exception to the general rule.

Second, to what degree is a beginner competent in whatever profession you may suggest? He can not expect to have a grasp of the subject as one of mature years, experience and training. Consequently, the "Prep" during a very critical stage in his quest for an education, is subject to inexperienced teachers. The far reaching results of this are greater than the ordinary observer would note. However, it is manifest when one sees another struggling in the college work, who is sadly conscious of the fact that he lacks the great essential for a successful college course—a strong foundation. The foregoing with a probable exception constitutes the opinion of the "Preps".

By a "PREP".

ON CASES

Before breakfast, at breakfast, after breakfast, between classes, in fact just about all the time. Are you wondering what in the world I am writing. Well, I will tell you. It is about a few unscrupulous cases at school, who never seem to see enough of each other. Cases at school are all right, it is human nature, for God did never expect male and female not to care for each other, but we can not help thinking that he did not intend them to become extreme in carrying out their human instincts. Seriously, it does seem a shame our school spirit must be spoiled by some few couples who think it necessary to their happiness to be together all the time. True friendships and real comradeships are thus placed on a low level and the school is made the subject of criticism by the faculty, the alumni and the students themselves. Let's better this condition.

ELASTICITAS STUDIO SI ANIMI

This article is a contribution from our good friend "Babe" Winters. "Babe" left us while a "senior" in the Prep. School. We are sure that those who were privileged to know him will be delighted to read his contribution.

This question is of very great importance, and has not yet been dealt with according to Hoyle. Due to the lack of space I shall not be able to deal with this topic with the mathematical preciseness that it deserves. This subject can be condensed and brought before the student body in a very concrete way.

The colleges of today offer the following courses; Ministerial, Fresh Air and Fusers.

The ministerial student should be given more credit as to the elasticity of his mind, because of his solemn devotion to his books and brotherly kindness to his fellow students. He can be considered the psychological man of any institution.

The Fresh Air Course, in my opinion, is a course, if properly conducted, will prove very beneficial to the elasticity of the student's mind; and if seriously dealt upon by the student he will, within the period of ten or fifteen years, receive a diploma.

The Fusers' Course should be put in a class by itself. It has been true of the past and will be of the future, that man has a never ceasing devotion to the opposite sex. Their minds, due to this filial affection, usually blossom into a new case and finally wither into a divorce case. This stage in an education should be dealt with very cautiously by the faculty.

If these three courses are properly conducted, the elasticity of the student's mind will be so developed that he will reach the culmination of his anticipations.

Affectionately,
T. A. WINTERS.

FRATERNITY NOTES

Kappa Upsilon Phi

The fraternity announces with pleasure that Paul T. Dech has been received into active membership in the fraternity.

Zeta Omega Epsilon

Frater O. B. Wanner, '08, of Fleetwood paid a short visit to the fraternity while on business thru this section.

Frater, F. A. Long, '17 was a visitor over the week end.

The members of the fraternity, together with the many friends of Frater P. M. Hartzler, '15, join in their well wishes to "Su" upon hearing that scholarship has been awarded to him by the Graduate School of Medicine of Harvard University.

SCIENCE CLUB

Dr. Gress, the present incumbent of the newly created office of State Botanist, gave us an interesting illustrated talk on "Noxious Weeds and Their Control", in the Sunday School room of the local church on Monday evening Feb. 13. Dr. Gress holds degrees from Bucknell University, and from the University of Pittsburg. He came here under the auspices of the Science Club.

The talk was well attended by the student body and was much enjoyed. Not only those students who are interested in the Biological and Chemical sciences, but also those who, having decided to enter other walks of life, have not had the opportunity to pursue scientific studies, would do well to engage in the activities of the Club. The practical instructive return has been proved to be out of all proportion to the time and effort invested.

COLLEGE NOTES

Albright little realized before the past three weeks what promising basket ball material was blooming unseen in Mohn Hall. The latest game was played between second and third floor of the Hall, and referred by a willing volunteer from the Squehanna varsity. Miss Grace Stetler distinguished herself as the hardest worker by having to her credit the largest number of tumbles. Judging by the large number of bruised muscles and lame joints, the Mohnhalls are far superior to the Varsity in ability.

We are glad to report that Willard Mohn's condition is again improved. He has the heartiest wishes of his friends for a very speedy recovery.

Pauline Brower has added another duty to her already well-varied list. She has lately taken upon herself the task of teaching "Speed" Hewett to play "jacks."

Amateur photographers who "snapped" scenes on the campus after the last heavy snow fall have produced some highly commendable results.

Among week-end visitors were

WHAT CHURCH UNION WOULD MEAN

The possible unfavorable results mentioned here may become in larger or smaller degree than is prophesied.

As to "what union would mean" in the way of the results of a combination of the memberships and material means of 2 churches into 1 church, thus putting more Christian manhood and a greater organization, with its total resources, back of the individual personality and dollars when they go forth upon their mission, yet at the same time weighing against this the possible disadvantages already noted, the "student" must himself be left to moralise upon.

PERSONAL

Christian H. Shirk, '96, is the author of a book, just published, "Twelve Live-Wire Questions in Religious Dynamics". This is a series of lectures delivered before student groups at the University of Pennsylvania, under the auspices of the college Y. M. C. A.

The engagement of Leonard M. Miller, '20, to Miss Ada Swengel, daughter of the late Bishop U. F. Swengel, was recently announced.

Will alumni, friends, and undergraduates please give or send to the alumni editor, Rev. J. A. Heck, all information of general interest concerning alumni of the institution? For personal items we are almost entirely dependent upon others. The editor has no time to go scouting for news. Keep these columns in mind and help and make them interesting.
