PRIMARY SYSTEM TO BE DEBATED IN PENNSYLVANIA

Widely Discussed Question In Modern Politics Selected As Intercollegiate Question for Colleges in State

NEW STYLES OF DEBATE ARE DISCUSSED—
INNOVATIONS PRESENTED

Albright Represented by Ex-Manager Heckert When All Others Are Away

On last Saturday afternoon the Debating Association of the Colleges of Pennsylvania met at the Penn Harris Hotel to decide the question for debate among the colleges and universities of the state, and to discuss some problems relative to the forensic field.

Fourteen colleges and universities were represented. Among those who sent one or two delegates to the conference are Bucknell, Dickinson, Elizabethtown, F. & M., Gettysburg, Juniata, Muhlenberg, Lafayette, State College, University of Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson, Western Maryland and Albright. Albright was represented by Ernest L. Heckert ex-manager of debate, and one of last year's delegates to the conference. All of the other varsity debaters of last year were out of the town, and as the notice came only on Saturday morning, the representation of the Red and White was reduced from three to one. A revision of the constitution of the conference was made to admit Western Maryland, a college outside of the state. From now on, any college outside of Pennsylvania may be admitted to the conference, provided that it is acceptable.

The greatest purpose of the convention was the selection of the question to be debated by the colleges of Pennsylvania. After President Kline, of F. and M. appointed a question committee, the whole group voted on four questions which were submitted by the committee. The question which was chosen by the representatives of the various colleges, each college being entitled to one vote, was, Resolved: That the system of primary elections for state and federal officials should be abandoned. The second question is, Resolved: That the system of primary elections for state and federal officials should be abandoned. (Continued On Page Two)

FROSH-SOPH FOOTBALL CLASSIC ON TUESDAY

Annual Underclassmen Gridiron Contest To Be Held On Date When There Will Be No Varsity Practice—Decided By Senate

LOITERING LAW ABOLISHED

The annual Frosh-Soph football classic will be played on Tuesday afternoon at three thirty in the afternoon on Albright Field. This was decided by the student senate when it was learned that there would be no varsity practice that afternoon, as Coach Weller would not be present. For this reason the game can be held without interfering with the varsity in any way whatever.

This classic is always one of the best and most thrilling events of the year, pep and enthusiasm at this game usually being far greater than at the varsity games. This is one example of the interest shown in intra-mural sport at Albright.

The Frosh are pointing toward this game, and are determined to cop it and thus avenge the defeat suffered at the hands of their arch-rivals the Sophs, whom they have not quite forgiven since that episode on the canal. On the other hand the Sophs are just as determined to win to keep their slate clean. The proximity of the (Continued On Page Two)

EXCELSIORS, THEMISIANS DEBATE PRELIM TONIGHT; MOVE ALBRIGHT TO READING?

Preliminary Debate Held Between Rival Literary Societies Should Attract Large Audience—Question Ultra-Interesting And Is Widely Litigated On Local Campus. Merger With Schuylkill Understood

WINNER TO MEET NEOS TO DETERMINE POSSESSION OF KELLER CUP

Tonight the Purple of the Themisians and the Red of the Excelsiors will battle for the debating supremacy of these two literary societies in the preliminary contest on the Albright forum. To the victors in the debate tonight goes the right to meet the Neocosmians for the 1927-28 possession of the Keller trophy. The Neos are the present possessors of the cup by virtue of their victory in the finals, last year.

The question which will be debated tonight is, Resolved: That Albright College Should Be Moved To Reading. The Themisians uphold the affirmative, while the Excelsiors uphold the negative. Merger with Schuylkill, which is now located in this city, and governed by the same denomination is implied. This is probably the most interesting question which could have been decided, for it is ever being litigated on the Albright campus, and plenty of places locally. The fact is that it seems to be even more of a question at Reading and Schuylkill than here, while it is constantly being discussed in the eastern districts of the Evangelical church. The fact is that only two weeks ago it was discussed at a combined meeting of the Excelsior and Neo societies. Although the arguments for either side so far have been only spontaneous, albeit good, every student of (Continued On Page Three)

JOE McMIMMENON PROVES INOCENT DEBUNKER

Attacks Present Status Quo; Upbraids Empty Forms, Listlessness And Hypocrisy In Religion

HEART-TO-HEART
TALK WITH MEN

Last Tuesday night, Joe McMimmenon, secretary of the Bowery Y. M. C. A. in New York City had a heart-to-heart talk with the boys in the Y-Room, and on the next day spoke in chapel for a few minutes. McMimmenon easily proved to be the most sensational and in a way radical speaker who has appeared here this year.

McMimmenon is an iconoclast. He is a debunker. He is bombastical. He is straight-forward and truthful. He is not afraid to say what he thinks, nor tell anyone what he thinks. And Joe McMimmenon has plenty of experience as well as five years of education in colleges and universities. It was the same Joe McMimmenon whom we here three weeks ago, but with a slightly different message.

McMimmenon began his talk in the Y-Room which was filled with eager boys by the statement that he (Continued On Page Four)

BATES RESIGNS AS MANAGER OF DEBATE

Edison O. Bates, who was elected manager of debate, last week, by the varsity debaters, has resigned this post, because of the pressure of other outside duties. During his entire college career Bates has been active in extra-curricular affairs, and that he could not do justice to this new position which was thrust upon him.

At present the office of manager, like that of coach is going begging. Neither is filled, nor are hopes any brighter for one than the other. The situation, putting it mildly is grave.

However, through various channels, several debates have been scheduled. Ursinus, and Dickinson are certainties, while debates will be scheduled with Western Maryland, Elizabethtown, and possibly Gettysburg if dates can be arranged.

"GUS" TOWSEN WINS COVETED CHESS CROWN

Albright Champion Wins Big Tournament At Harrisburg To Cop Central Pennsylvania Championship
WINS EVERY TOURNAMENT

By means of a brilliant sacrifice of his Queen in mid-game, Augustus N. Towson, local chess expert, defeated A. Karl Kramer, champion of the Cumberland valley, in the final round of the Central Pennsylvania Chess Association tournament in Harrisburg, last week, and thereby secured himself the championship of that organization.

After three hard days of hard playing, in which it was necessary to extend the playing time well into the morning, the smoke cleared away to reveal the fact that the graybeards had been outclassed completely, the local boy having romped away with first prize, while Herbert Hesse, another youthful contestant, secured second place. An elimination tournament played September 30th resulted in seven players surviving, and being qualified for the final tournament played on October 12th and 19th. Towson, though he had lost one game and drawn one in the preliminaries, came through the finals unscathed, making a perfect score.

The winning of the championship is made more significant as an honor for the Albright player due to the fact of its being the first time it upwards of twenty years that the championship has changed hands. (Continued On Page Four.)

NEW BEDS! NOW BOYS NEEDN'T SLEEP IN CLASS

On Monday the shipment of beds and mattresses which Mr. Stoner had ordered since the opening of the school year arrived. Forthwith the best exercise that the boys had in years for sleeping and "catching their winks" in class vanished straight-way.

It's tough, as the wise-boys say, but fate is fate, and can't be converted or controlled. Hereafter the profs can be assured that they will have a bright, alert and responsive body of boys to work out on.

FOR THE BULLETIN'S AND STUDENT'S BENEFIT

Last night the Bulletin had three star reporters at the Soph. Hallow'een Party in the gymnasium, where one of the best social events of the year was held, according to all advance "dope."

The complete account of this brilliant social event of the season will appear in next week's Bulletin. Do not fail to read it and re-experience the pleasant sensations and delightful time enjoyed last night.

NEOS DECIDE TO HOLD MEETINGS THURSDAY NIGHTS

Literary Society Thinks Change In Meeting Nights Will Bring About Better Spirit

BERGER, DAVIS & ADAMS JOIN

At the regular meeting of the Neocosmian Literary Society, last Friday night, it was decided to change the meeting night. After a lengthy discussion as to which night of the week would be the better for all concerned it was finally decided to change the night from Friday to Thursday, immediately after supper.

One of the big hindrances to the meetings on Friday night was the absence of so many members who go home for the week-end, and leave before Friday evening. The opinion of the society is that by holding the meetings on Thursday evening there will be a larger attendance, thereby arousing more spirit in the society. Every one feels sure that the move made last Friday night was a wise one.

Other business was also transacted and Berger, Davis, and Adams were taken into active membership in the society. Because of the absence of President Wadsworth, Vice-President Bates was in charge of the meeting.

The main feature of the program, the question, "Resolved that the Students are not going the authorities of Albright College a Square Deal", was postponed until next meeting night, at which time there will be an open forum debate on the question stated.

FROSH ENTERTAIN THEMISIAN SOCIETY

Majestic Artists Perform—Present "Her First Day At Albright"—Debaters Selected

The Themisian Literary Society was delightfully entertained on Thursday evening, Oct. 20th, by the Freshman Class. The president of the society, Susanna Heinze conducted the opening part of the program, which was followed by reading of the minutes and roll call by the secretary.

The impromptu speech by Maud Sittler on "My First Day At Albright" was very well given, and proves that the Freshman class possesses true literary talent. The "Majestic Artists," Dora Elizabeth Miller and Flora Gross very amusingly gave as their piano duet a reproduction of the music at the Myerstown Theatre. Themisian Echo by Martha Higgins was individual and entertaining. The final number was a skit entitled "Her First Day At Albright," presented by Grace Seibert, Eva Lauks, Evelyn Bowser and Evelyn Hand. This was naturally very interesting, especially to Mohn Hallers.

Coach "Jake" Weller's Albright College football team was outplayed by the clever football artists of Western Maryland, Saturday afternoon at Westminster. The Myerstown collegians lost to the Maryland gridders 32 to 0.

Albright outweighed Dick Harlow's eleven, but Captain Frock and his mates were unable to fathom the Western Maryland shift, and failed to gain consistently through the Western Maryland line.

Two touchdowns were scored by the Albright opponents in the first period, and another was registered in the second quarter. Half time score was 19-0. Two more six pointers were scored in the second half.

Christian Endeavor Holds College Church Service

"Following Christ Or The Crowd" Discussed With Campus Problems Arising From It

Christian Endeavor on Sunday evening was in the form of a church service, and was held in the College Church at 7:00 o'clock.

The topic, "Following Christ or the Crowd" was introduced by Mr. Keafcr. Then Mr. Lundy discussed some "Campus Problems" in relation to this topic. And touched rather deftly on some acts of irreverence which are quite common. Mr. Morris pointed out the lack of the Christ-spirit in modern business, politics and social life. Mr. Willitz, in conclusion, tried to paint the way to follow Christ in our own lives—by getting the spirit of God, which is Love, in our hearts. A beautiful solo by Miss Eisenhour was greatly appreciated. The meeting was quite successful and profitable.

EXCHANGES TO BE PLACED IN READING ROOM

Hereafter, all the exchanges will be placed in the Reading Room of the library. At the present time the Bulletin receives about twenty-five weeklies from other colleges. From now on they will be available for the use of the entire student body.

Clothes And Common Sense Discussed At Y. W.

Interesting Questions Are Thoroughly Enjoyed By All Present—Attacked From Many Angles

An interesting meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held on Tuesday evening at 6:30. Orpha Hagen had entire charge of the meeting, and after singing a few songs she led in the discussion of "Clothes and Common Sense." Some of the questions discussed were: Whether one's personality can be judged by one's clothes; whether one's clothes are of the "jazzy" type or of the quiet and reserved type; whether one's mother's or grandmother's clothes are so in keeping with your own, so that one may not dread to appear in public with them. The discussion was certainly very interesting, and everyone seemed to enjoy it.

The committees for "Confetti" are working hard in order to put over something "great." Don't miss it.

An Odd Dish
R. M. sends us the story of a young bride who asked her husband to copy off a radio receipt she wanted. He did his best, but got two stations at once, one of which was broadcasting the morning exercises, and the other the recipe. This is what he took down:

"Hands on hips, place one cup of flour on the shoulders, raise knees and depress toes and mix thoroughly in one-half cup of milk. Repeat six times. Inhale quickly, one-half teaspoonful of baking powder, lower the legs and mash two hard-boiled eggs in a sieve. Exhale, breathe naturally and sift into a bowl.

"Attention! Lie flat on the floor and roll the white of an egg backward and forward until it comes to a boil. In ten minutes remove from fire and rub smartly with a rough towel. Breathe naturally, dress in farm flannels and serve with fish soup."

FORTY-FIVE NEW BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY

Divided Among Various Departments With English Division Getting Lion's Share—Social Sciences Next—More Coming

During the past week forty-five new books were added to the college library. Practically all of these books were ordered for the various departments, with that of English getting the largest number, most of the books ordered for Dr. Chislett's students being literature. Included in this list are some of the best works of present day fiction, some of the authors being Hugh Walpole, whose famous "Cathedral" is here, Meredith, Hardy, H. G. Wells, Willa Cather Bennett, Hergeshimer, Anatole France, Anthony Throlope and many others. The books on fiction are far most numerous, and are of a very high calibre.

There are also a number of splendid additions in the department of Sociology, Economics, History, and Psychology, the latter probably claiming more than any other department except English. These additions will be warmly greeted by the student body, for they will greatly facilitate the work in these various branches. They are sure to be of a great help.

In addition to these, there will be another shipment of books next week, possibly this week, of about the same number. The books will be of about the same general nature. The list of new books follows:

- Rufener, Principles of Economics.
- Wallis, Introduction to Sociology.
- Ross, The Social Trend.
- Oggel Sharp, Economic Development of Modern Europe.
- Carr, Psychology.
- Patrick, Psychology of Social Reconstruction.
- Traille, Psychology of Leadership.
- Tracy, Psychology of Adolescence.
- Robinson, Readings in General Psychology.
- Reed, Psychology of Elementary School Subjects.
- Shreve, Supervised Study Plan of Teaching.
- Downey, The Will-Temperament at its Testing.
- Proctor, The Junior College.
- Pressy, Research Adventure—University Teaching.
- Adams, Founding of New England.
- Thorndike, Short History of Civilization.
- Paxson, History of the American Frontier.
- Bryce, The Holy Roman Empire.
- Eginhard, Life of Charlemagne.
- Beary, Chemistry Applied to Home and Community.
- Hamilton, Music Appreciation.
- Lutz, Field Book of Insects.
- Trycherly, Plays.

Fiction
Cather, Song of the Lark.
Cather, My Antonia.
Cather, The Professor's House.
Wells, Tono-Bungay.
Wells, History of Mr. Polly.
Cabell, Rivet in a Sandfather's Neck.

Balzac, Eugenie Grandet.
Bennett, Old Wives' Tale.
Moore, Esther Waters.
Moore, Evelyn Innes.
Hergeshimer, Three Black Pennys.
Turgener, Fathers and Sons.
France, Crime of Sylvester Bonnard.
Butler, Way of all Flesh.
Meredith, Diana of the Crossways.
Hardy, Under the Greenwood Tree.
Trollope, Barchesters Towers.
Walpole, Cathedral.
Dumas, Three Musketeers.
Forster, Passage to India.
Kennedy, Constant Nymph.
Voynich, The Gaffly.

FRIENDSHIP

I'm only a leaf in your path dear,
A leaf that the wind has blown down;
Just now in your mind I am crimson,
But after a while I'll be brown.
For there in his wonderful storehouse
The wind has such beautiful things,
He'll tire having me as his puppet
And lend me a pair of his wings.
And then you'll forget that you knew me
Except, perhaps, once in a while
You may spare a thought in remembrance,
Or may even grant me a smile.
But I'll be a memory then, dear,
A leaf that you saw in the grass;
You granted me friendship a moment
Before God so willed I should pass.
—Blanche McCauley.

JUNE IS IN MY HEART

The autumn leaves are falling
A chill is in the breeze;
The rain falls without ceasing
The wind moans thru the trees;
Although it is with sorrow
I see the birds depart,
I cannot keep from singing,
For June is in my heart.

The last fair rose of summer
Has withered long ago,
The golden rod has vanished
I miss it's golden glow.
The world looks drab and cheerless
The skies are dull and gray,
Yet in my heart there's sunshine
For June is there to stay!

No chilling winds of autumn
Can make me fear or doubt,
Is not the sunshine in me
More real than that without?
What though the skies are dreary
I will not fret nor care
My heart keeps right on singing
For June is always there!

—Erma E. Kaufman.

the college as well as anyone else who is interested in the question will have the privilege of hearing this question analyzed from all angles by experienced and anxious debaters.

The personnel of the Themisian (girls) team is composed of Virginia Zener, Orpha Hagen, Helen Ubrich, and Maude Sittler, while the array of Excelsiors will oppose them includes Garrison Wilkes, Carl Gunter, Francis Gibbons, and Terrance Sprague. Both teams are almost entirely changed in personnel, Wilkes being the only debater who was in action last year.

The girls will carry the burden of proof, advocating a change in the status quo, while the fellows will try to convince the audience that Myerstown is the best place for the college after all. All in all, it should be a grand and glorious debate. Neither side will have a cinch.
