LOCAL O. OF I. A. PRESENTS SILK FLAG TO THE COLLEGE

Hon. Gabriel C. Moyer, President of National P. O. S. of A. is Speaker of the Evening

PRESENTATION BY HON. RALPH SCHOENER

A very impressive flag presentation was held in the Albright College Chapel, Friday evening April 23rd, at which time the college was the recipient of a very handsome flag presented by the Order of Independent Americans of Myerstown.

Representatives of the order were there, accompanied by a drum and five corps. They occupied a space reserved for them on the left of the stage. The World War Veterans occupied the space to the right. The program was opened up with a selection by the college orchestra. After this Hon. Gabriel C. Moyer, Pres. of the National P. O. S. of A. delivered a masterful address in which he emphasized the sacrifice paid for the realization of Democracy. "Conditions have not changed," said Hon. Moyer. "We have the same ideals before us that our forefathers had. Even though the outward conditions have changed, yet there are the same time honored ideals that have remained solid and are dear to us. There are three things that are lacking today. Reverence to God, reverence to the Constitution, and respect for ourselves."

In closing, Hon. Moyer made a strong plea for loyalty to the flag. He said "The flag today should mean the most sacred emblem of our liberty".

Hon. Ralph E. Schoener, representative from Berks County, and member of the present Senior Class at Albright, then made the presentation speech. Hon. Schoener gave a brief history of the flag, both in the making and the part it has played on the battlefields of the world's history. "People are prone to forget the part played by these boys",

POLITICAL CLUB HEARS HONORABLE SCHOENER

Hon. R. E. Schoener, Member of Assembly at Harrisburg delivered a fine talk to the Political Club, Thursday evening. Hon. Schoener very interestingly gave the outline of the procedure of a bill through the Assembly from the time it was originated until its final passage.

The Edmunds Bill was thoroughly discussed, and the details were brought out by Mr. Schoener very clearly. People who know Hon. Schoener and have heard him speak will recognize him as a speaker of great ability, and the Club was very fortunate in getting him for their meeting.

Y. M. C. A. CABINET OFFICERS SELECTED

At a combined meeting of the retiring and the new Y. M. C. A. cabinets on April 30 a very helpful idea was introduced. The committee heads of this year reviewed their work, and emphasized points in which the new chairmen might better the work. The cabinet which has been appointed consists of:

Membership Snyder
Bible Study Kachel
Finance Kaufman
Missionary Benfer
Publicity Mowery
Social Mohr
Vice president Shiek and Secretary Hill Gramley were selected as representatives to the Officers' Training Conference, held at Gettysburg on May 4, 5, 6. The outlook for a year of successful Y work is promising, shown by the eagerness and interest manifested in the cabinet.

FRESHMEN DONATE THE NEW FLAG FOR POLE

Second Gift of Week to Be Waving Over Campus Within Few Days

At their meeting of Friday noon, April 27th, the Freshman class voted unanimously to donate to their Alma Mater a new flag to take the place of the old and tattered one which now flies from our flag pole. In taking this action, the Class of '26 shows that they have school spirit and are truly a part of Albright. It is indeed commendable that the Freshmen realize the need of a new flag and take such constructive action. President Yost appointed Albert Boyer, Paul Price and Dale Gramley as a committee to look into the matter and buy a good flag. The committee is at work and promises to have the Stars and Stripes on the pole in a short time. This makes the second gift of patriotic nature that the school has received during the past two weeks.

The class decided to send its sympathy to Mr. Clyde Hewett, the vice-president, by sending flowers to him. During the past three weeks Mr. Hewett has undergone an operation at one of the Philadelphia hospitals. Everyone, especially his classmates, are delighted to hear of

COMBINED GLEE CLUBS MAKE A HIT AT LEBANON

The Lebanon concert, given annually by the combined Glee Clubs, took place Thursday night, April 26, at the Malta Temple, on Eighth Street.

The United Evangelical Church, of whom Rev. Stauffer, is the pastor, fostered the affair, which was successful from all angles. The members of the Glee Clubs say they never had a more appreciative audience, and

ANNUAL JUNIOR PROM TO BE HELD MAY 26

The students are looking toward this greatest event with a degree of anticipation no other college affair could call forth. With our beautiful campus lit up in a most fantastic manner, and dreamy music floating thru the air, and all weather reports pointing to a clear moonlit night; could anything else be added to create a more ideal setting for a Junior Prom? The students realize that on this night of nights there will be a most pleasurable evening awaiting their disposal.

The Junior Class is doing everything in its power to make this a night to remain in the memories of every one. The efforts of the committees will be untiring until they discover something that will adequately take the place of the dance, which other colleges use so effectively in their Junior Proms. The greatest hope of the class is to give the students and their friends a Prom unusual in its procedure.

The Prom cards will be on sale from May 12 to May 26. The Class of '24 only asks for the approval of the students along with their support.

TEAM SEEMS TO LACK THE NECESSARY PUNCH

ALBRIGHT 2—DICKINSON 4

Base hits are just as essential in a ball game as rain is to the daises—if you want to win. Well, we lacked the base hits and we lost. A team simply can't win if the hits are not coming at the right time. This was the trouble in both the games we played this year. Dickinson out-hit us 7-4, but at that errors paved way for their victory. They started out with a bang. Pips hit the first ball pitched for a double, and Smith whaled the next one for a home run. This ended their run getting into the third inning when Smith was

Bahney Discusses Egyptian Embalming and Luckenbill Takes on Louis Pasteur

The initiation of several new members together with two interesting lectures and a resume of scientific current events comprised the happenings of the last meeting of the Club.

In the absence of President Hoffman, Vice President E. Freed Dice presided. The Misses Alice Gilmore and Esther Curry and the Hon. Ralph E. Schoener were initiated into active membership.

Edgar Bahney delivered an interesting lecture on "The Superiority of Modern Over Egyptian Embalming." Mr. Luckenbill spoke at some length on the salient facts in the life of the eminent scientist, Louis Pasteur. Edmund Andrew concluded the program with a summary of the outstanding recent current events of scientific import.

Climate aids Egyptian methods of preserving corpses. They use three methods: (1) at a cost of about $5000, the gruesome task of making incisions and removing all internal organs, except the heart, washing with oils, packing with spices, wrapping in mummy cloth, packing in cases and painting the "innards" picture on the exterior, is done; (2) by this method incisions are made, the body is packed in spices and wrapped—a little less elaborately than in the previous method; (3) poorer classes and criminals are washed in spices and wrapped in

Will Be Editor-in-Chief And Business Manager Respectively. Managing and Copy Editors Also Elected

NEW STAFF HAS GREAT RECORD TO UPHOLD

With this edition of the Bulletin, the staff of '22 and '23 takes leave of its duties. The issue that now appears in your hands is a farewell expression of its year's work. The next number will be the product of a new staff, not entirely new, for quite a few former members will be included on the roll. Albert Swank will assume the grave office of editor-in-chief, J. H. Ginter the duties connected with being Business Manager, Mary Marquardt, Managing editor, and Kenneth Snyder, Copy Editor. The two last offices are new creations on the staff, in name only, for the duties will be the same, the name of the office having been changed for various reasons. The new staff has quite a reputation to uphold. This past year's Bulletin has received numerous letters from Alumni and friends and exchanges have commented very favorably on its infant year as a newspaper.

For this excellence the work of Armita Miles, out-going-editor-in-chief is largely responsible. Miss Miles was of a dauntless spirit and carried through some radical changes that have resulted in the present state of efficiency of the paper. A word of high commendation is due Gordon Burgett ex-business manager who made possible the financial and advertising success, and the increase in circulation.

The associate editors are in the process of being chosen and the results will appear in the next issue.

PROF. AND MRS. DECH GIVE PARTY TO KAPPAS

On the evening of April 24th the Kappa Upsilon Phi Fraternity was entertained by Paul Dech at his home. When all the guests had arrived, Harvey Kline, the president ordered all the girls to be initiated as a sister Kappas. Accordingly they were called upon to do stunts, such as singing, whistling, pantomimes, charades, etc. Dr. and Mrs. Bowman were not excluded from the stunts, for they, too, had to act out a pantomime.

EDITORIALS

It is with mingled feelings of gladness and regret that we as the retiring Bulletin Staff bring our year's work to a close with this issue. Gladness—for any little success we may through our efforts have brought to the Bulletin; for any pleasures we may have been able to bring to students and alumni through its columns. Regret—for any mistakes or failures on our part that may have detracted from the interests of the paper.

We will consider our energies well spent, any sacrifices profitably made, if our efforts this year will have in any degree paved the way for the work of the incoming staff. We believe that in them is found the caliber upon which the success of the Bulletin of 1923-1924 can be safely predicted. It is our earnest conviction as well as our sincere hope that the coming year will be a most favorable one in the history of our publication.

However, just at this point a little but pointed suggestion may be timely. This—to the student body of Albright. The Bulletin Staff cannot on its own merits make of your publication all that the future promises for it. There seems to be the notion among the students that the Albright Bulletin is an instrument in which no one has a part but it's staff, that the Bulletin Staff is alone responsible for its ultimate success or failure. The sooner that idea is dispelled the better for the progress of the paper.

There will be installed at the beginning of next year a try-out system which will give every live student who has anything in him, a chance to contribute what he has, to prove his ability thru the columns of our paper. From now on there will be no excuse for thinking he has no part in its success or failure. Now is the time to build up a spirit behind the Bulletin, like that with which we back our athletic teams, which will be an incentive to the staff. In the past the spirit of the students in regard to the activities of the Bulletin Staff has been too much that of criticism. It is surely no more than just that in judging the new staff's work all remember that "To err is only human". It is at any rate only honorable that everyone at least keep any adverse criticism to himself until he has something better of his own to replace the condemned article or policy. After all, it is beyond the power of any human being, much less the staff of a college newspaper to please everyone. If anyone has a mind to be critical he has a chance to try his hand under the new regime to improve the conditions, and show himself the better man if that be he. Above all, let him not tear down until he has beyond all doubt something better to offer. The success of the 1923-24 Bulletin requires the support of all the sons and daughters of Albright. It is most emphatically not up to the Staff alone.

With this, we the retiring Staff of the Albright Bulletin bid you adieu, and would extend to the incoming Staff our heartiest felicitations and best wishes for a most successful year.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION

Several weeks ago the Bulletin, thru the editorial column, set before the students and public a need. We stated that a flag was lacking in our college chapel. We are most delighted to report that a magnificent flag has been presented to the school. A detailed account of the presentation can be read in another section of this issue.

As a staff we are glad to feel that our school has good, loyal friends boosting its interests. Deeds of this kind are inspiring to every student. We are conscious of the fact that a warm spark of enthusiasm exists in the hearts of Albright friends. We therefore express our sincere appreciation for the exquisite flag presented to the school.

The only missing links this spring are the Hurdy Gurdy and the Monkey. Can it be that the old spring evidence is passing from us? And the German Band? Where is it? * * *

Please leave your answers under the plates in the dining room.

The Mohn Hall Modern Gossip Crew meets nightly in the shadow of Edith Rosser's door for a lively, but entirely refined discussion of current events. The Johnstown Ledger Comic Section is the text book used. All subscribers are urged to be present.

Casey Billman continues to hold the college championship record for shower baths. Four per day is the latest record. * * *

Mohn Hall continues to exist under the ban of campus punishments. The sentence is not restricted as to class, all are represented. It is rumored that the fair sex rather enjoy their penalties and periods of exile, for their martyrdom makes the gentlemen even more attentive. * * *

We have noticed that the silver tongued orator, J. Kenneth Snyder, who has always said that women have no charms for him, has at last taken the high dive. It is also noticed that Edith Rosser has been casting winsome glances at Kenneth, and Kenny hadn't the power to resist. (Now what will Josh do?)

Tennis Terms:

The young man asks his fair one how old she is and she replies "thirty love." Later they decide to play "doubles" and rent a flat. Hubby comes to the table before breakfast is ready and shouts "service". This causes them to "return" a few of each other's "sharp cuts". The affair finally ends in a "raquet" which later has to be settled in "court" where wife tells hubby he can go to the "deuce" and that she is going home to mamma.

War News

According to newspaper reports the D. A. R. fought the Battle of Bunker Hill over again at their recent election of officers, at Washington.

Ever since that young Greek made his famous long run to herald the news of victory we have had Marathon races, but now we have Marathon sermons, Marathon lectures, Marathon visits and Marathon dances.

Sure sign of approaching final exams: certain class of students is inquiring for lost books.

Naturalist says foxes do not run in groups but in pairs. What a foxy student body we have at Albright!

Mr. Jiggs says Saint Patrick may have driven the snakes out of Ireland but Mr. Volstead got rid of a lot of them in America.

Coincidence: The Duke of York and the embezzler of York had their names in the paper the same day.

Around The Town

On Tuesday evening, April 24, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows celebrated their seventy fifth anniversary by a banquet in the Keystone Fire Company Hall. A splendid banquet was furnished by Embich's Taste Good Shop. Over two hundred and fifty guests were present. The program was under the direction of Rev. J. A. Heck, Hon. Gabriel H. Moyer, an enthusiastic Odd Fellow was the principal speaker of the evening. He is also the national President of the P. O. S. of A. and is nationally known as a speaker and orator. Rev. E. E. Stauffer, of Lebanon gave a very splendid address. A beautiful cello solo was rendered by David L. Sechrist, from Albright College. The Odd Fellow's octette appeared several times on the program and Rummel's orchestra also furnished music for the evening.

The order at present numbers three hundred and four members in good standing. One of its members, Mr. Coover, from Harrisburg is the oldest living Odd Fellow in points of membership and age. The treasury is in splendid condition; in fact the seventy fifth anniversary finds our local order occupying an enviable position among her sister lodges.

On Friday evening April 21, the Alumni of the local High School presented the play, "The American Citizen" to a large appreciative audience. The proceeds were turned over to the school authorities for the benefit of the play ground.

mummy cloth. The purpose of modern embalming, as brought out in the lecture is two-fold—to prevent the spread of disease, and, incidentally to preserve the corpse in as lifelike a condition as possible. It is accomplished by the injection of embalming fluid, chiefly formaldehyde, into the vascular system (the arteries), usually between the elbow and shoulder, with the removal of the body fluid from the veins.

Louis Pasteur, who started as a chemist, but ended as a human pathologist, devoted his life chiefly to the study of anthrax, tetanus and rabies. He contributed to the upsetting of the theory of the "de novo" origin or spontaneous generation of life. In connection with Pasteur Institute, Pasteur has discovered that there are two kinds of rabies—furious and dumb. We are familiar with the former kind; the latter disease is characterized by listlessness of the subject and paralysis of the drooping lower jaw. Rabies, if unattended, usually results in death in from four to eight days. Its prevalence in a dissected specimen may be detected by the growth of buds on the ganglionic cell capsule of the spinal cord. The methods of treatment are sucking the wound inflicted by the inflicted animal, cauterizing it, and administering serum.

We are likely to have a new code of automobile brakes, according to Edmund Andrew, in current events. Also, renewed interest in Forestry on the part of Yale and Harvard has been made possible by recent donations. The sun, after being above normal for some time seems to be losing some of its heat. A new compass, actuated by an alternating current instead of by a gyroscopic arrangement, has been devised for ships. Scientists have invented and perfected a new gas mask which will absorb all known gases.

safe on Jones' error, a stolen base, and a single by Saterlee sent him across the pan. Again in the seventh Smith singled stole second, went to third on Hoffman's out, and scored when Dave Hoffman threw the ball into centerfield trying to get Saterlee who had walked.

In the first inning we managed to get two on base, but the necessary punch was lacking and both died without advancing. Hollenbaugh got life in the third when he refused to strike at balls and strolled. He stole second, went to third on Miller's out and scored on Dech's sacrifice hit. Miller tried to tear down the tennis fence when he narrowly missed getting a homer, his hit just hitting the fence by inches. He got a double on it. Dech came to the rescue and hit a hefty liner over the infield scoring Miller. That ended our scoring, for Books, who relieved Robinson, was stingy with hits and passes. Henninger hit for Leh in the ninth and came thru with a single, but it was wasted as Yost, Leinbach and Hoffman went out in order.

ALBRIGHT 9—P. M. C. 15

The Red and White lost a loosely played game of ball to the Cadets of Penna. Military College at Chester on April 28th. It was a hard hitting contest in which both teams used their bats to advantage, Albright having 13 hits to P. M. C.'s 10.

The cadets staged a big rally in the sixth inning and, besides overcoming a three run lead, easily placed the game on ice when they sent 8 runs across the plate. Wainright was the hero of the session, getting two singles in his two times at the plate. Nick Wagner, the P. M. C. twirler, hit a home run in the second and Elliott duplicated in the fifth with a Cadet on base.

Our big inning was the fourth when six of the Red and White runners crossed the plate. It looked like a sure victory until the Cadets began their march in the sixth. Jones had three hits.

FRESHMEN DONATE THE NEW FLAG FOR POLE

his successful operation and resulting improvement, and all wish him a speedy recovery and an early return to school.

Following a suggestion of the Y. M. C. A., the class remembered the suffering Armenians, by a donation of ten dollars to the Near East Relief.

Money talks, and yet a nickel on the contribution plate makes more noise than a two dollar bill.

NAVY EXPERIMENTING WITH

GARNETT IN THE ROYAL SOCIETY

The First Electrochemist

NITROUS oxide, according to the science of a century ago, was "the principle of contagion when respired by animals in the minutest quantities." Mere say-so.

Imaginative yet skeptical Humphrey Davy, who believed in experiment rather than in opinion, "respired" it and lived.

It was this restless desire to test beliefs that made him one of the founders of modern science. Electricity was a new force a century ago. Davy used it to decompose potash, soda, and lime into potassium, sodium, and calcium, thus laying the foundations of electrochemistry. With a battery of two thousand plates he produced the first electric arc—harbinger of modern electric illumination and of the electric furnace.

Czar Alexander I and Napoleon met on a raft to sign the Treaty of Tilsit while Davy was revealing the effects of electricity on matter. "What is Europe?" said Alexander. "We are Europe."

The treaty was at that time an important political event, framed by two selfish monarchs for the sole purpose of furthering their personal interests. Contrast with it the unselfish efforts of Sir Humphrey Davy. His brilliant work has resulted in scores of practical applications of electrolysis in industry and a wealth of chemical knowledge that benefit not himself but the entire world.

In the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company, for instance, much has been done to improve the electric furnace (a development of Davy's arc) and new compounds have been electrochemically produced, which make it easier to cast high-conductivity copper, to manufacture special tool steels; and to produce carbides for better arc lamps.

audience filled the auditorium and their appreciation was manifested by hearty applause.

On Saturday afternoon all the girls were "motored" to Bangor for their concert there that night. Even though the weather was rather discouraging, the spirit of the girls was high, and they sang to a well-filled auditorium in the new Bangor church. Here as in Allentown, they were welcomed by an appreciative audience, and a goodly number of representatives from Albright stood up for the Alma Mater both at Allentown and Bangor.

Five soloists sang in the Allentown churches on Sunday morning, while the remainder of the club remained in Bangor and furnished music in the form of a quartet in Bangor church Sunday afternoon. After the services five machines were ready to carry the girls back to Allentown.

The girls are now looking forward to the trip to Sunbury where they will give a concert in the Lutheran Church.

many of the girls were either away with the Glee Club or home for the week end. Among other business transactions, the election of Managing Editor of the "Albright Bulletin" for 1923-24, is of interest to all. The two nominees for the position were Edith Rosser and Mary Marquardt. Miss Rosser declined the nomination and her declination was accepted. The secretary was then authorized to cast a ballot for Miss Marquardt.

After the transaction of business, the following program was rendered: Piano Solo—Mary Marquardt. Current Events—Ruth Hetrick. Original Short Story—Lena Bertolet. Vocal Solo—Violet Kinsinger.

THE COLLEGE DEVIL

Under the spreading campus tree,
The college devil stands,
This youth a mighty vamp is he,
With long and slender hands,
And the muscles of his bony arms,
Are strong as rubber bands.

Weak in and weak out at every turn,
You hear his wind pipe play,
He came to college not to learn,
But his sweet self to display,
To co-eds passing down the block,
With cheeks and eyes array.

He goes on Friday to his class
And sits besides his choice,
His ear closed to the Prof's loud bray,
But he hears his sweetie's voice,
Whispering nothing, sitting there,
Which makes his heart rejoice.

Cribbing, flunking, borrowing,
On through college he goes,
Each morning lying late in bed
To finish out his doze.
Nothing attempted, nothing done,
When the term comes to a close.

THE ACCIDENT

A mysterious hush settled over the excited crowd of spectators, as the two great football teams rushed together. There came a crash of man against man and the thud of falling bodies. The referee's whistle rose shrilly from the mass, and the players slowly unwound. Figure after figure stood up until only one silent shape, surrounded by his comrades, lay on the ground. A startled murmur ran thru the crowd. Who had been injured? Mothers grew pale and prayed that it was not their boys, students groaned and imagined the worst.

Why did those around the prostrate one not let him be seen? Could it be something very serious? Soon a player dashed to the side lines and after a brief consultation, the coach rushed into the field carrying a pair of football pants. A quick change, a scurrying of players and the game was on.

Anyhow, old King Tut didn't have to do a lot of lying about how many miles he could get out of a gallon of gasoline.

The Pi Tau Beta Fraternity takes great pleasure in announcing the engagement of frater Ray Lucky to Miss Anna Ritter. Our most hearty congratulations are theirs together with our sincere and best wishes for their future.

Frater Leonard Miller was the guest of the fraternity for a few days of the week of April 22nd.

NEOCOSMIAN HALL, APR. 27, '23

Owing to the flag presentation in the Chapel the regular program was short. This meeting, the first since the installation of the new corps of officers, was characterized by intense interest, a fact which bodes well for the future.

Mr. Hollenbaugh opened by giving the summary of events, National, state and local. He was followed by Mr. Yost who was up to form in his Ave Maria. Mr. Yost was accompanied by Sechrist, celloist and Schick, pianist. Mr. Schick gave a well prepared five minute talk on "Capture of Fittsmettes" and illustrated his talk by diagrams on the blackboard. Snyder gave a well prepared talk on the World Court, going into detail in the make-up of the Court and also discussing President Harding's proposal that America join it.

He Went a-courting'
Mowery: "What, you up at five o'clock to play tennis?"
Davis: "Gosh yes, one must get up early to get a court."
Mowery: "Ah, I see, you must get up early to court."

Efficiency Profundus
Coach: "I'll let you take your girl for a ride in my Scripps-Booth, you can run that with one hand."
Dech: "That's nothing, I can run our Ford with my knees."

Miss Curry: "Oooh, where did you get that rose?"
Schoener: "Oh, I have a greenhouse."
Miss Curry: "Yes but that's a red rose."

The first kiss is worth a million dollars to some fellows, but they wouldn't give ten cents for the second one.
