Upperclassmen who were bid are Paul Ackert, Albert Falcone, Henry Hellstrom, Rodney Weaver, Natalie Brant, Lynn Brown, George Evans, Jerry Felter, Jack Gundlach, Lewis Pearce and Maxine Pincus.

Sigma Tau Delta Initiates Pledges

Frundt, Bertolet, Reber, Witmer Chosen

Four new members were initiated into the Rho Beta chapter of Sigma Tau Delta before the annual banquet held Wednesday evening at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room. The initiates were Marjorie Frundt, Marie Bertolet, Dorothy Reber and Woodrow Witmer.

Mr. Donald Shenton, teacher and writer, was the speaker for the banquet. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shenton, Dr. and Mrs. Douds, Professor Clyde Harding, Miss Ethel Norton, Robert Work, Marian Plummer, Mary Jane Ward, Betty Ebbert, Myrtle Stegman, Phyllis Kaltreider, Thelma Rebert, Margaret Hollenbach, Ada Gossler, George Henry, Jerome Denner, Robert Gerhart, and the initiates.

K. T. X. Selects Buck; Induct Pledges Tuesday

The K.T.X. fraternity held its annual election last week with the following results: Harry Buck, president; William Helt, vice-president; Bruce Knisely, secretary; and Donald Floyd, treasurer.

Next Tuesday evening the fraternity will formally induct its new members. Following the induction, there will be a social program. All members are urged to be present.

C. A. A. Flight Training Program Offers Challenge To Albright

Students Object On The Basis Of Military Aims

Once again the Albright students are confronted with a challenge—a challenge that, even though they may not realize the fact, means very much to the college in the way of prestige and future student-drawing power.

Spring is here, the school year is all but over and it is time for Professor Oliver George to send the names of CAA flight training aspirants to the authorities in Washington for approval. Only one person thus far has shown his intention of applying for the flight training, however, which may mean that the college will lose its program.

Nowhere else could a person obtain this $350 worth of flight training for the mere sum of $25 and costs. Besides this the funds appropriated by the government are becoming more limited and some of the colleges are being weeded out of the program. Only because of its excellent record thus far has Albright been able to keep up this long.

Upon the request of Professor George, some comments of various students concerning this program have been obtained.

Donald Blackmore states, "One of the best systems of inducting good men into the air corps. I personally object to my obligation to the government in the event of war."

Verna Eye also objects with, "It's just another part of the military program. I approve of flying and of teaching young men to fly, but I don't approve of training under military direction and for military purposes."

Winfield Morgan gives his consent with, "I think the program has distinct advantages and offers a student the opportunity to discover that aviation is the field for which he is best fitted. There is a promising future in it."

Ted Kobrin says, "I think it's one of the best things that has ever been offered here. I'd take it if I could."

Bob Giomatti seems very eager as he states, "Very good program. I think it should be a required course for boys at college. I expect to take it myself next year, I don't think anyone should pass it up as the government is going to great expense to offer the program."

In Polly Walls' opinion, "I think it's a good program; I think more girls should take it."

Marshall Popelka, who at present is connected with the program, states, "It's exactly what we need in times like these. More students should take this opportunity. I gained a lot of confidence when I learned to fly. I learned as much

Amateurs Take Heed; You Can Play Too!

Coach Neal Harris announces for the benefit of the sports-minded non-varsity students that athletic equipment such as quoits, badminton, etc., is available to all students who wish to use them.

German Club Receives Merit Award

Plan Outing With German Band

Following a precedent begun at the inception of the Foreign Language Cultural Olympics, the Albright College German Club again received an award of merit for its presentation of "Der Späte Gast," in Philadelphia on May 3. The cast included Geraldine Ross, Emma Cora Hafer, Gretchen Bieber, John Hertz, Richard Major, Dorothy Leiby and Kathryn Muhs, and were accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Gerrit Memming and Mr. Robert L. Work. The play, along with Swarthmore College's production, was given in the afternoon. Later the group was entertained at dinner in Houston Hall at the University of Pennsylvania. Flycifererent colleges and universities were represented at this gathering which later witnessed the plays of Penn and Rutgers.

Plans for a German Club meeting in the near future include a meeting at Startlesville. At this meeting a German band will be featured and Pennsylvania German language and customs will be discussed.

Poets To Enter National Contest

The English department announces that the winners of the Dr. Douds' Poetry Contest will have the opportunity to enter the national poetry contest to be held in New York City. The contest will be held in the last week of May, which is National Poetry Week. The college will officially send entries to the event. The winners will be chosen by Angela Morgan, Arthur Guiterman, and Miss Jessie Rittenhouse and will be announced on National Author's Day, which is November 1.

Labor Class Discusses Unions

Mr. Henry Cummings, secretary of the Berks County Manufacturing Association, met with the labor economics class on Wednesday to lead a discussion on the manufacturers' approach to "Relations with Unions."

Dennis Strawbridge Close Second; Miller Gets Junior Nod

Campaigns End In Final Round Of 'Hot' Contest

Ray Hain, a Pi Tau Beta fraternity man, has been elected by the student body to the highest and most coveted office on the campus—student council president.

After many heated discussions, violent arguing, very active campaigning, and quite a few lessons in politics, the all-college elections finally drew to a close on Tuesday at 5 p. m.

Dennis Strawbridge, the day students' choice for the office, followed close on the heels of Hain right up to the final tabulation. Ray Swett, the other contender for the "throne," finished third by a definite margin.

Juniors Elect Miller

The junior class elected Burdsall Miller to the presidency of next year's senior class by an overwhelming majority—in fact the entire roster of junior electees had no trouble whatsoever in maintaining the lead over all other competitors.

Next year's senior offices are as follows: Burdsall Miller, president; Harold Werner, vice-president; Ellen Witmoyer, secretary; and Jack Boardman, treasurer.

Schneider Soph President

Nick Schneider, a Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity man, got the nod from his fellow classmates as he was elected the piloting position of next year's junior class.

The remaining offices were filled by: Sally Weaver, vice-president; Jane Spotts, secretary; and Dick Weber, treasurer.

Snellbaker Leads Frosh

Making the first office choice of their college life, the freshmen showed excellent judgment in handing to James Snellbaker the regal dish of leadership.

Assisting Snellbaker next year will be: George Morfogen, vice-president; Doris Schlosser, secretary; and Rolfe Hastings, treasurer.

Ray Hain, the new council prexy, hails from Shillington and is an expert tennis player. He has been quite active in student council in the past, being a member of this year's constitution committee.

Y. W. To Hold Party For Senior Members

On Tuesday evening the YWCA will hold a party for the Senior girls in the Y room. Before the party there will be a short business meeting to discuss a revision of the Y constitution.

A Letter To The Editor

Having stated previously our unbiased position, we feel it our duty to submit this letter, which concerns a vital campus organization, to you. This letter is not the opinion of the editorial staff.

To the Editor of the ALBRIGHTIAN:

We the "College Democratic Committee", would like to air a few of our opinions on the scandal mongering efforts of certain members of our "Y" social action committee.

These persons, who sign their statements as A. Mc. and S. M. (whose identity anyone can give), seem to have assumed the entire authority and responsibility of the committee as a whole. Since when has the "Y", essentially a religious organization, decided to follow a political pathway. We feel that you, A. Mc.—a minister, are trying to mix politics with religion, and you should know that they have never mixed. We condemn you, not because you have entered politics, but because you as president of the "Y" have tainted it in a manner unbecoming a minister.

As for you, S. M., we condemn you for being an office-hungry turncoat. Refute this statement if you can; you were unforgivably avaricious in wanting to hold six of the most important positions on campus next year. The balloons have burst in midair, so now you cry the blues.

Could it be that you two are jealous of those people who are more capable to hold office and popular enough to get in ahead of you?

Addressing our remarks to the college students now, we assure you that these men will do a good job in student government. These men will be responsible only to you and you will be the judge as to their actions.

Signed:—

The College Democratic Committee.

We are sure that this letter will bring some comment to us and we shall print it, as we have this letter, in accordance with our policy.

Are We Going Back To 1914?

By ART MCKAY

Since last week's comment on the speeches of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Knox was printed, much criticism has been leveled at your observer relative to the position assumed. In an attempt to clarify his position on this one point and to set the stage aright for future remarks, he now endeavors to list a few basic convictions.

What the article said was that convoys and the other elements of foreign policy now employed by the Administration are not incongruous in the light of the previous acts it has made. The logical consequences of our present foreign policy are these.

But to say that is not to agree that this policy is ideal! The whole program of aid to Britain is based on the assumption that American safety is dependent upon a defeat of Germany. I am NOT willing to accept that premise!

I said that 'if we accept that premise to delay or stall is sheer folly. I sought to imply, too, that the majority of

STRICTLY PARTIAL

Hello, Folks—

Let's start off by discussing the defense budget. That's as good a topic as any to toy around with. It takes your mind off of the little things in life such as flunking a final exam or getting behind with a term paper. If Jesse Jones is right about that $90,000,000 national debt it's going to be more expensive staying out of this war than it was winning the last one. Our ancestors shouted, "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute!" Today, a million bucks wouldn't even pay for the red tape that's being thrown around in Washington. The taxpayers six generations from now will still be dishing out the folding money and trying to remember which crisis it was that they are paying for.

Now for the foreign news:—I see that Franz "Mosul" Von Papen (the guy's got more "oil" than a Texas gusher) is putting the pressure on Turkey. Everything was progressing smoothly until he promised that Turkey would not be molested by Germany. Thereupon the Turks promptly began to evacuate. It takes a stop watch to clock most of Hitler's "Eternal Friendship" pacts and the "children of Allah" feel that Papen's not talking "Turkey."

From inside Greece comes a batch of reports concerning conditions there. These reports have come to me from one of my most trusted men. This individual, by shoving out his chest, keeping his mouth open all the time, and gargling with concentrated garlic juice has been able thus far to pass himself off as an Italian war correspondent. He says that the "magnificent ruins" of Athens don't impress the German soldiers very much. They figure that it took two thousand years for them to get that way—and look what the Luftwaffe did to Coventry in two nights.

Well, the "Enigma of the Kremlin" finally took over officially recently, but as far as its influence on Asiatic or European affairs is concerned the "Red" army might just as well be irk. After seeing the Finland scraw and the Libyan campaign, I'm convinced that the clash of the century would be Stalin's "Invincibles" vs. Mussolini's "Invincibles." All retreating records would be broken and "No Man's Land" would be the widest expanse in Europe's history.

Virginio Gayda advises the United States to appease the axis since it's now too late to aid Britain. If it's too late what's he worrying about us at all for? Each year U. S. newspapers pay from $10,000 to $15,000 in cable tolls to learn what this Gayda boy says about things in general—and when you stop to think of it, who cares what he thinks?

"The fortunes of war cause some nations to blow hot and then to blow cold," says an old proverb. Well, you can always count on Gayda to blow hard no matter which way the tide runs.

This week's prediction: I do not think that international law will govern our decision concerning the convoy question. International law now merely consists in checking the other fellow's police record to prove you can do worse if you feel like it.

in this program as I did in many of my regular courses."

From Cadet Paul Schlegel, stationed at the U. S. Air Station in Jacksonville, Florida, we hear the following, "This isn't a half bad place . . . They are trying to push you through with the regular course in six months instead of the usual ten. If a person fails a test in a certain course, he just takes it over until he passes it . . . My ground school comes quite easily. I'm rating number two in my class of 63 so far. I'll get that top man yet, when I start flying. He doesn't know the first thing about it . . . Ray Thorpe and Bill Brandenburg are graduating from Pensacola. Ray jumped ahead one class due to his CAA training."

It might interest students to know that the city has already set up a program which would cut out college students entirely. This program will only go into effect if Albright loses its program, however.

Lions To Battle Grizzlies

Albright has made formal application for admittance to the Middle Atlantic Track and Field Association. The bid was placed last Friday when the Association held its annual track meet at Alintown with Muhlenberg College, the host school.

The college authorities should be complimented for this step. Membership to this organization will greatly stimulate interest in the Lion's track squad. However, whether Albright is elected will not be known until next September when a committee will meet to decide.

The Middle Atlantic Track and Field Association is composed of 16 colleges and universities from Pennsylvania, New York, and Delaware. Each year the member schools compete in a highly publicized track and field carnival. Lafayette was the winner last week coming out on top over such schools as Rutgers, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, and Lehigh.

As we said before, if Albright can gain admission to the Association, the track athletes should have an added incentive for participation in the cinder sport.

As it is now, some of our best performers appear to be content on just getting by. (Watch 'em howl.) If they had something for which to strive maybe the athletes would attempt to condition themselves a little more.

Intra mural softball swings into its last week of action with the Kappas, Zetas and Day Students in the running for the championship. At present, the Kappas, well balanced club appear to have the edge. However, we wouldn't count the Zetas and the Day Students out of the picture.

The Day Students have been the surprise of the league. Other seasons the local softies were usually at the tall end of the circuit. The pitching of Joe Zeock, Hal Werner, and Don Reinhold has told in the won and lost column.

Didya know dept. — Dr. Geil (who we think is the personification of his applied psychology course—and we're not bumping either) was a star center for the North Central College basketball team for three years. He also was the No. 1 man on the tennis squad.

Squad Out Hunting; Seek First Victory At Loss Of Bears

Breen, Boland
May Bear Brunt;
Biting Undefeated

Albright's track and field squad resumes an ancient rivalry tomorrow afternoon in the stadium when they entertain the Ursinus Bears in a dual meet. The affair is slated to get under way at 2 o'clock.

A vastly improved Red and White team will attempt to avenge the 82-44 pasting suffered at the hands of the Grizzlies last season at Collegeville. The Lions have yet to taste victory, tying Dickinson last week and losing to a strong Villanova ensemble previously.

Jimmy Breen and Clem Boland are expected to bear the brunt of the Lion's point getting. Breen copped the century, furlong, and tied with co-captain Paul Petrucka for first in the pole vault against Dickinson.

Boland holds the Ursinus' stadium record for the 440 yard dash with his sterling 51.9 performance last spring. "Bonesy" will probably receive his stiffest competition from Joe Ingham, the visitor's ace dash man.

Coach Lone Star Dietz has been heartened with the steady improvement of "Big Burd" Miller in the mile and half mile runs.

The transfer from Hershey Junior College came through with a victory last week in the 880 and finished second in the mile. Dietz feels that the three letter athlete can still knock a few seconds off the half mile run and strengthen the team in that department.

Dietz will rely on Harry Biting to come through with a win in his specialty, the running broad jump. Harry is undefeated this year.

In the field events, the stars appear to be co-captain Marshall Popelka, Bob Baum, George Manderbach, John Killiany and John Durko. Manderbach is the best bet among the discus throwers.

Tuesday the Lions journey to Philadelphia to dual a strong St. Joseph's track and field outfit. Albright lost to St. Joe's two years ago but the two schools did not compete last spring.

Are We Going?

our American people DO, as the President suggests, accept it.

As for me—I believe sincerely that the course which we are now following is leading us directly to a tragic repetition of the holocaust of 1914-1918. I am opposed to all wars as instruments of national policy, whether they appear to be 'holy' or not. I do not feel that the United States should enter the conflict now raging in Europe. To do so would be to jeopardize the very ideals whose perpetuation we

Mu's Cop First With 21-4 Win

Bomgardner Leads With 6 Runs

The Mu softball team, in their first game of the league, defeated the Non-sorority day students to the tune of 21-4. Diminutive Jeanie Bomgardner showed the way with 6 runs. Close at her heels was "Tuffy" Levan with 4 hits.

L. V. Nets Win

Winning her singles match and pairing in the doubles, Olga Bitler, the number one player of the tennis team, prevented the Lebanon Valley tennis team from swamping Albright. She defeated Widmeyer, Lebanon Valley, in a closely contested battle. It seems that "Kate" Muhs, her partner in the doubles, was so enthused over the victory in the doubles match that she broke the net and nearly her neck in her attempt to console the losers:

The scores: Lebanon Valley, 4; Albright, 2. O. Bitler defeated Widmeyer, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4; P. Schindelf defeated K. Muhs, 6-2, 6-0; Stabley defeated J. Belmont, 6-0, 6-1; O. Bitler and K. Muhs defeated Widmeyer and Schindel, 6-2, 2-6, 6-1; Bernhard and Stabley defeated J. Belmont and E. Bitler, 6-1, 6-0; Mehauffey and Berkhart defeated Laverty and Seltzer, 6-1, 6-1.

Zetas To Stump At Formal Tomorrow

The Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity will hold their annual spring formal dance at the Wyoming Club tomorrow night. Jack Heath's orchestra will supply the music. Professor and Mrs. Henry G. Buckwater, Dr. Zehner, and Jan Van Erbin will be the chaperones.

The committee has arranged an interesting program starting with a softball game at 2 o'clock between the alumni and active members, dinner in the dining hall at six, a smoker, and the dance.

Approximately 150 active members, alumni and friends have sent in reservations.

claim so earnestly to desire. The sacrifice of democracy which participation in international warfare (even in wars to "make the world safe for democracy") demands, makes of the effort a strange paradox. There was once a fool who could not understand how people fought for peace. Can you??

Albright Speaks

The annals of Albright are studied with the names of successful alumni. This week brings to light the name of an Albrightian who has kept the prestige of Albright growing. He is John B. Kozlowski, a member of the class of "32." Dr. Cook recently journeyed to Elizabeth, New Jersey, as speaker at the testimonial banquet honoring this alumnus. Mr. Kozlowski, after graduating from Albright, continued his studies at N. Y. U. This year he is completing seven years of teaching in the Elizabeth public school system. His record of service is an inspiring contribution to the welfare of his community. This week your science column salutes Mr. John B. Kozlowski—an Albrightian who possesses the stuff real men are made of.

With the growth of the prestige of our school there also grows a demand for our professors to speak to various organizations throughout the community. This past week Professor Marcus Green delivered an address at the Berkshire Heights Evangelical Church. So grows the name of Albright.

Academic Attainments

On May 12, the Skull and Bones Society held their last meeting of the year, a meeting which was one of the high lights of the society's academic achievements. Three exceptionally fine research papers were presented by senior members of the society. To Marge Cavidge for her fine paper on the "Bacterial of Foods" and to Kitty Buzzard and Al Falcone for their work on "Histology of Tissues," this column says "hats off." Tom McGavin, the presiding president, after elections were conducted, gave the gavel to the new president, Dick Reinsel. To Wayne Allen and Elaine Shade go the honors of holding the vice presidency and the secretaryship for the coming year.

The Sting of Science

Some who seek the truths of science must pay a high price for success. This price was paid by Leon Steckley through an unfortunate accident in the chemistry lab in which he suffered severe burns of the face and neck. This column extends to him its best wishes for a speedy recovery and a more fortunate future in the field of science.

College Library Receives Biographies

Famous Life Stories Compiled Into Book

True life stories of more than 1000 famous international and national leaders in all professions are now compiled into CURRENT BIOGRAPHY 1940, a new book just received at the College Library, Mr. Robert L. Work, head librarian, announced today.

Detailed biographical facts of 1002 modern famous men and women and their personality quirks make CURRENT BIOGRAPHY interesting reading for library patrons who like to know "who's news and why." Mr. Work declared. Published by The H. W. Wilson Company of New York City, the book contains 928 pages and over 650 photographs of people who have been most significant in the news of 1940.

Little-known items taken at random from the biographies by the librarian include: Dr. Thomas Parrott, Surgeon General of the United States, once milked a cow on a city street to boost milk consumption; Leon Blum, former premier of France, did not abandon journalism and law for politics until the murder of a political friend; Al Jolson, comedian, is the son of a rabbi, and Erskine Caldwell, author of "Tobacco Road," is the son of a minister.

Mu's Elect Frundt; Hold Formal Tonight

The Phi Beta Mu sorority held its regular meeting Monday evening at 7 o'clock. Plans for the formal dinner dance to be held tonight at the Reading Country Club were completed and the following officers were elected: Marjorie Frundt, president; Jean Bomgardner, vice-president; Irene Snyder, recording secretary; Ellen Witmoyer, corresponding secretary; Marion Bittenbender, treasurer; Jane Spotts, student council representative.

U. of P. Law School Accepts Carl Mogel

A little-known angle of Albright College life is its quota of pre-law students. Quite a few months ago we heard that one of our eloquent debaters, David Levan, had been accepted for law school. Today we find that another one of our Wyoming High products has been accepted and is joining his friend Levan at the bar.

Carl Mogel, the former sports editor of the Albrightian, has been accepted by the University of Pennsylvania Law School to study law there after his graduation this year.

Witmer To Guide A. P. O.'s; Kuklis Is Running Mate

Woodrow Witmer was elected president of the Alpha Pi Omega fraternity for the next semester at the meeting held last Monday evening for election of officers.

The other members to receive offices were Stanley Kuklis, vice president; Joseph Brand, recording secretary; Willis Helsey, corresponding secretary; Alois Makovsky, treasurer; and Robert Richards, student council representative.

HOME EC. SHORTS

Miss Florence Innis is a member of the state committee of Home Economics education which at present is probing into the question, "What constitutes satisfactory student teaching experience?" Questionnaires have been sent to Albright Home Economics alumnae of the past five years and the teachers who are supervising the student teaching of the present senior Home Economics students. These questionnaires are to be filled out and mailed prior to June 1st to the state chairman.

For the past three months Miss Evelyn Belmont has been employed as assistant to the dietitian in the Homeopathic hospital. She is the fourth Albright Home Economics student to be employed at the hospital. The Home Economics department has had very little trouble in placing its graduates.

The Senior and Junior Home Ec. students have been very busy preparing, serving, and eating a series of formal dinners and luncheons. Perhaps you have had a chance to be one of their honored guests and can vouch for their ability.

A number of these girls have also been very active in planning entertainment and aiding with the costumes used on May Day.

The Home Economics Department is very well pleased to report that there have been twenty graduates of this department employed in various capacities in Reading and vicinity during the present school year. This number includes those who are engaged in the teaching profession in the regular day school in Reading Senior H. S.; Northwest Junior H. S.; Southwest Junior H. S.; Southern Junior H. S.; Shillington H. S.; Mohnton H. S.; Mt. Penn H. S.; Exeter Twp. H. S.; Amityville H. S.; N. Y. A. classes in Southern Jr. H. S.; Evening School classes; Public Utility company (Consumers Gas and Metropolitan Edison Co.); Homeopathic Hospital; Social Welfare Dept.; and the substitute teachers, or the workers who are on the list of the Reading School District. This list does not include the graduates of Albright who are employed in localities outside Berks County.
