Snader Develops Math System

Albright Graduate Writes Three Texts

Dr. Daniel W. Snader, a graduate of Albright College, has recently developed a new conception of individualized instruction in mathematics in three new books which are now in the hands of publishers.

Dr. Snader, at present is director of undergraduate mathematics at the University of Illinois, took his undergraduate work in physics and mathematics at Albright. The author took graduate work at Penn State, the University of Pennsylvania, Ohio University, New York University, and Columbia University. He received his master of arts and his doctor of education degrees at Columbia University. Traveling abroad, he studied teacher training in mathematics in Germany in 1935. In 1936 and 1937 Snader was graduate assistant at Columbia.

The new books which the Albright grad has written are titled, "First Year in Algebra", "Advanced Algebra", and "Plane and Spherical Trigonometry". The books, to be published by John C. Winston Company, Philadelphia, are adaptable for both college and high school.

Y Delegates Report On Illinois Student Christian Conference

The National Assembly of the Student Christian Association Movement met on the spacious campus of the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana, Illinois from December 27 to January 3, to discuss and formulate national policy for the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. campus organizations. Over 1200 delegates representing colleges and universities of every section of the United States were present. In addition many students represented more than a score of foreign countries. Marjorie Christ, Agnes Snyder, and Robert Ziegler represented the Y.W. and Y.M.C.A.'s of Albright College at the Assembly.

The main object of the National Assembly was to formulate the policy and program objectives of the movement for the next three years. Carrying out this object, a declaration of Christian Faith was adapted and placed at the center of the association's activities. Other policies concerning political effectiveness, racial equality, economic justice, prevention of alcoholism, churchmanship, world relatedness, personal relations and campus associations procedures along with several others were adapted.

Agnes Snyder Reads Paper on Toynbee

Agnes Snyder presented a paper on the Philosophy of Toynbee at the Philosophy Club meeting held last night in the Lower Social Room. Mervin Helfrich, president of the club, has announced that next month's meeting will be open to anyone who wishes to attend.

Frosh Meet About Dance, Class Business Discussed

The frosh-soph dance on February 14 was the main subject of discussion at the freshman class meeting held on Thursday, January 9. The president, Frank Bird, urged each member of the class to take an active part in helping to make the dance a success.

The co-chairmen of the publicity committee asked the cooperation of the class in assisting their committee to give full publicity to the class by reporting to any member of their committee any honor or achievement of a member of the class.

The social committee chairman, Stanley Taub, urged class members to give his committee suggestions in regard to what type of social function the class desires. As yet no calendar date has been set for the event.

F.W.A. Assigns Virginia Building To College

Word has been received from the Federal Works Authority in Washington that the specific building chosen by Albright College in the emergency building program has now been turned over by the Army to the authority. This is official notice that the building, now located at Camp Patrick Henry near Williamsburg, Va., has been allocated to Albright.

Contractors to do the work for the government have been selected, and representatives together with architects will go to the camp this week to inspect the building for demolition and moving.

The building, which the college hopes will be ready for use at the beginning of the fall term, will be used as an auxiliary reading room, recreation room, and auditorium.

Architects' plans for the erection of the building here have been approved by the proper state officials in Harrisburg.

The allotment of the emergency unit was determined by a formula based upon pre-war student enrollment, present enrollment, percentage of veterans enrolled and probable enrollment next fall.

Y's to Feature Discussion "Christ For the World"

Tonight, the combined Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. organizations will present a discussion on the subject "Christ for the World", in the Lower Social Room at 7:30 p. m. The discussion will be largely composed of reports by Agnes Snyder, Marjorie Christ, and Robert Ziegler, representatives of the National Assembly of the Student Christian Association Movement which was held at the University of Illinois from December 27, to January 3.

Doris Hicks and William Marlow were in charge of a recreational evening last Tuesday evening in the Lower Social Rooms.

Music Groups to Give Special Programs

The Men's Glee Club will give a concert at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Norristown in the evening of January 20, announced Dr. John H. Duddy. The organization will travel to Philadelphia to give a concert on the same date. The men will sing in Chapel February 25 and 27.

The mixed chorus began practice on the cantata "Elijah" last week. The College orchestra will give a concert in the College Dining Hall February 20.

The Women's Glee Club will sing at Trinity Evangelical Congregational Church at Eleventh and Spruce on January 19.

Heck to Speak At K.T.X. Induction

Kappa Tau Chi will hold its monthly meeting next Thursday, January 16 in Selwyn Hall parlor at 8:00 P.M. Dr. J. Arthur Heck, president of the Evangelical School of Theology, will speak on the subject of "Sermon Construction". Thomas Young, Fred Wolf, William Marlow, Mervin Helfrich, Kenneth Spatz, and Eldon Snyder will be taken into the active membership at the meeting. Devotional services will be conducted by Dale Weber.

Change, Please!

The Treasurer's Office desires the cooperation of students who purchase stamps at that office. In checking cash returns for stamps there have been shortages probably caused by students making change incorrectly. Continued shortages will probably result in the curtailment of future stamp sales, says the office.

Dance Band Plays In Chapel "Little Cultural" Series Engages Celebrities

Student Council's third "Little Cultural" presentation is in the form of a program Monday, today, and tomorrow by Abe Markowitz's College dance orchestra. The Celebrities have infiltrated from some of the outstanding orchestras in the city.

The program includes: "Southern Fried" (special arrangement); "Song of the Volga Boatman" (Glenn Miller arrangement); "If I'm Lucky"—Vocal — Beverly Morgan; "Somewhere in the Night", sung by Miss Morgan; "Temptation" (Artie Shaw arrangement); "Two O'Clock Jump" (Played by special request).

The band consists of the following members:

Vocalist—Beverly Morgan
Trumpets—Al Scharlet, Don Snyder, Thomas Enoch, Bill Playmeyer
Trombones — Bill Simon, Don White, Bill Wessner

Saxophones — Phil Regner, Dick Hebbeling, Caleb Killian, Ira Derschwitz

Guitar—Richard Deam
Piano — Marjorie Christ, Betty Bratten
Drums—Abe Markowitz

Abe Markowitz ably wields the baton of this fine band. Abe started to beat drums at the early age of six. He stopped playing the same day because the drums were not his own. A few years later he decided to buy a set piece by piece, and as he grew older he played with quite a few bands in the city. At 15, he (Continued on Page 2)

Seniors Discuss "Cue", Graduation Details

At the senior class meeting last Thursday noon, President George Morfogen raised the question of the person to whom the yearbook should be dedicated. The problem will be voted on at a future meeting.

Aaron Taub, business manager of the "Cue", reported on the progress of the yearbook.

President Morfogen appointed Louise Trostle to be in charge of commencement announcements and name cards. Willard Bollinger and Bea Ribner will be in charge of selecting a class gift.

Domino Club Plans Trip; Holds Workshop Period

Plans for a field trip to Philadelphia to see several stage productions were discussed during the business meeting of the Domino Club last Thursday in College Chapel at 8:00. This trip will take place the second semester. As yet the plays to be seen have not been selected.

Prof. Annadora Vesper, advisor of Domino, conducted a workshop period. Such fundamentals of acting as stage positions, use of the telephone, and food props were discussed. Various members of the club illustrated the workshop.

Dr. Ralph Behm Joins Faculty Former Albrightian Teaches Chemistry

Dr. Ralph Behm, an alumnus of the class of '38, will become acting assistant professor of chemistry beginning the second semester, announced Pres. Harry V. Masters. This addition to the faculty is necessary because of the large enrollment in the science department.

Research Chemist

Dr. Behm is well qualified for this position, having conducted chemical research for the Bollman Hat Company of Adamstown and research in paint for the DuPont Company of Wilmington, Delaware.

Colgate Degree

Majoring in chemistry while at Albright, Dr. Behm completed his Ph.D. at Colgate University in 1943 and engaged in post doctorate research at the same institution the following year. He taught summer classes to beginning students in 1944.

Frosh Guidance

By Betty Burnett

"Looking mighty sharp today" . . . Taking another look in the next mirror you pass, are you?

First of all, what do your fellow Albrightians consider to be "sharp"? Well, as far as Albright is concerned with the problem, we can toss that too often-used word aside and substitute, "well-dressed".

Does it take more money than you have to be well-dressed? That's just your excuse for not bothering with the issue. The best-dressed man or woman is not necessarily the person who spends the most on his or her clothes. It is not what you have to wear, but how you wear it.

One thing to remember is not to waste money when buying clothes. If you're the person who has to hang on to your clothes for years instead of months, buy your way into the conservative class. Then your clothes won't be as well-remembered from year to year. A bright tie or blouse can live a subdued color enough to give your whole outfit the snap it deserves.

The second point is to buy clothes that fit. If alterations are your only answer, then have them done immediately. There is nothing worse than waiting until the clothes are too worn to be altered. You've bothered to buy something and you have at no time given it a chance to look really good. If this is the case, why bother?

Clothes that fit are also clothes that fit into the general trend of our campus. Play boys and sophisticates are as out of place at Albright as a striped blouse with a plaid skirt.

The third and last requirement is one that shouldn't have to be mentioned, but, amazingly enough, college students need to be reminded more than now and then. Soap and water or the dry cleaners are all that is necessary for being well-dressed at Albright.

Faux Pas

Somewhere between the printer and the paper, there was lost a paragraph commending the splendid work of William Lewis as the terrorized little Dr. Einstein in the Domino production of "Arsenic and Old Lace", which was intended for the write-up of the play that appeared in the ALBRIGHTIAN of December 20.

Our sincere apologies to Mr. Lewis. His professionally smooth characterization and his technical proficiency in carrying through the twisted shoulder and drooped eyelid of the drunken surgeon deserve the highest credit.

Mr. Lewis' performance was outstanding in a production that had many such performances.

A Big New Year

The new year is only some fourteen days old, and like the rest of the world, we've been making resolutions, ours having to do with giving you a better and better paper.

To do this, however, we have to know what you want and what you think, and we really want to know. We'd like to have your suggestions and criticisms, and your "letters to the editor" about pertinent student questions. You can be sure they will be given thoughtful consideration.

Tooting Its Horn

Albright really has an up-and-coming thing in the recently formed Celebrities' dance band under the direction of Abe Markowitz, and the aggregation deserves every sort of support Albright can give it.

Anyone dropping in at the twice-weekly rehearsals can see the sweat and tears that goes into the making of this sweet and hot outfit, composed of a bunch of fellows who like to make music, and who want to see Albright have an orchestra of its own.

Student Council is helping to support the band financially. We can all help to support it morally by giving it all the recognition possible.

Hurry, Hurry!

Dean Cunliffe announces that only 200 tickets are available for the faculty-student party Friday night, so if you plan to go, get your tickets today and tomorrow in the Ad Building.

It's going to be a lot of fun, so hurry and get in line for your tickets!

School Daze

By Mori

I thought that it would be difficult to understand a college system after coming out of the army, but at Albright I found that it's easy to understand, because there is always someone to help you make your schedule. It's easy to figure out what courses you are going to take too by looking at your major. For instance, if you are majoring in religion you naturally take religion courses and if you are majoring in chemistry you naturally take chemistry—it's easy to understand.

In the class rooms methods aren't too different from the army, either. The prof is the same as the Platoon Leader and the class the same as the Platoon. Some people in the army found that brown nosing was profitable, but we don't have brown nosing at college—it says here (students just like to laugh at corny jokes). There is one thing that vets might find hard getting used to at college, though, and that is when you are A.W.O.L. from classes they don't court-martial you. The office just sends you a ticket about three by five inches which is a useful book marker or a place to list some neat blonde's telephone number for emergency use.

Last week I said that we would have the Infuriating Reporter ask the returned vets the question (because the returned vets hadn't returned from Pete's yet) "What do you think that Albright will look like after the next war?" Oddly enough I found that the question had already been asked; therefore, the Infuriating Reporter interviewed one of the persons who had already been interviewed. George Glurk was the person who submitted to a second interview. George said, "Here's da way it happened. I was standin, on de corner watchin' some babe come outa Pop Moser's, when dis Infuratin' Reporter grabs me and mumbles some double talk at me. I jus' stands on da corner and shrugs me shoulders. Next week I sees me name in da paper wid dis statement 'George Glurk, who just returned to Albright from da wars, says dat he thinks da school will be better den ever after da next war.'" The moral to this story, George, is next time don't shrug your shoulders when a reporter asks you a question, hit her with a brick!

Inquiring Reporter

Well, 1946, is in the past and a brand new year is starting after much ado — quiet and otherwise. (mostly otherwise). By now everyone has gone out and turned over a new leaf and, in doing so, made scores of resolutions for the New Year. In view of this fact the question your Inquiring Reporter asked of "subjects" was: What (to) Year's resolutions did you make?

Henrietta Morris — '48 — Liberal Arts—I made one simple resolution — to get my term papers in on time. Of course I'll have to start next semester because I have two that are late now.

Robert Bachman — '48 — Liberal Arts—I didn't make a single resolution because I knew I would break them anyway.

Miriam Hellman — '49 — Liberal Arts—To get up when the alarm goes off and not twenty minutes later.

Samuel Orlando — '49 — Liberal Arts—No more insults; remarks or corny jokes. (Seeing is believing).

Lois Lacey — '49 — Liberal Arts—Not to cut my hair any more.

Robin Fenichel — '49 — Social Science—I never keep mine anyway.

Lucille Dissinger — '49 — Home Ec.—I made some, but they're not printable.

Joan Wenger — '49 — Chem. — I've broken all mine already.

Bill Wilkinson — '50 — Pre-Dental — Don't believe in 'em!

BY ANNE ONYMOUS

If you see Art Lockner walking around in an apparently reverent attitude don't be fooled. He's looking for Beverly Bresler's pearl necklace.

Vilma Griesemer is tottering between Penn State and Albright. She applied for a transfer and now she's wondering if the universal woman's right to change her mind applies to her. She thinks she has a good reason.

If Lillian Boyer could follow the dictates of her heart, she would head for Duke University. That's reason enough for her.

Congratulations, George Morfogen. Perhaps when the underclassmen see the fruits of Dr. Geil's Courtship and Marriage class, it will be renewed before our frustrated attempts drive us mad.

Attention, girls: Bill Emes is one who can't say no when a girl asks him to take home her books.

Joe Van Houten is paying attention to a fraulin from Lancaster. Tell us, Joe, does she wear a lace cap and 16 petticoats or is she a modern design?

This year's chem class is like an infirmary with Gerry Schaeffer massaging Dottie Moyers' aching neck and Dick Roland burning himself with bromine just to see what happens.

Since working at the Post Office is a lucrative business and since most of Albright students do it yearly, Annie figures next year's students better be warned that even though they have saved their cuts for it, although the boss insists on them staying late, and the Sandman adds impetus to the whole situation, they shouldn't cut a psychology test if they expect to go home permeated with the Christmas spirit.

Starting the new year with a BANG! Walter Gippich was married on the second day. This year he has a policeman to make sure he keeps those shiny new resolutions.

Albright is fast becoming a family affair. Jack Witman married Mary Jane March and her sister married Don Rabuck. The boys are still marching.

On this gay carousel of life some of the lucky manage to catch a ring if they don't get too dizzy. Anne Spincas, Ruth Stettler, Barbara Pearsell, Betty Fisher, and Betty Cusano all caught rings and what goes with them. Gog McKittrick is to be offered sympathy; she is one of those girls who got so near to the rings that she still has stars in her eyes.

decided to go out and try his chances with the big times.

Landing a job with Lou Menchel and his "Pasadenians," he played under the name of Al Mark and made quite a few recordings. It was at this time he had his real chance to tour the country. The end of the summer vacation descended upon him and back to high school he went.

Albright gained Abe in 1942 for a short stay. Next he gave his talents to Uncle Sam as an army medic. After serving in the E.T.O. and his consequent discharge, Markowitz re-entered Albright as a pre-med.

Not Hard to Please

Mr. Satterlee: "Waiter, I want some oysters, but they mustn't be too large or too small, too old or too tough, and they mustn't be too salty. I want them cold and I want them at once."

Waiter: "Yes, sir. With or without pearls?"

Between the Bookends

Happy Holiday season! The library's all decked out in cheerful Christmas apparel. One notices the nicely decorated mantel and display cases, broadcasting good cheer, thanks to Ferne Allen, and Mary Fry, Alumni Memorial Library staff members.

In keeping up with the season, Miss Raepfel reported that some Christmas books have been ordered. A number of other new books have been received.

Under the classification of fiction are Remark's "Arch of Triumph," Ullman's "The White Tower," "Brideshead Revisited," by Hugh Waugh, and "Embezzled Heaven," by Werfel.

Also available to Albrightians is a new selection of books on music. They are "At Home With Music," by Spaeth, "Evenings With Music," by Skolsky; Nester's "Sergei Prokofiev, His Musical Life;" Scroff's "Dimitri Shostakovich," and "Theme and Variations," by Walter.

Under the classification of fine arts is Elliott's "Fashions in Art," and, under useful arts, Halliday's "Hows and Whys of Cooking."

Miss Raepfel has a booklet which looks to be really good reading. "Job Education," number 75 of "Vocational and Professional Monographs," is divided into several parts, each part being subdivided into a short paragraph. Some of the topics taken up by the paragraphs are on education and training, self-analysis, and interviews.

Our Dandy Lion of the week brings to mind an old phrase that in this case takes on a new significance. She's Agnes Snyder, she lives right here in Reading, and we like to call her Aggie. A busy Albrightian since her freshman year, Aggie still maintains her cheerful, friendly manner. After four years outstanding work with the Y.W.C.A., she was justly rewarded this year with the presidency of the organization.

Freshman year Aggie was with the "Cue!" and again last year, when she served on the business staff. She was on The Albrightian staff her first three years and has been a member of I.R.C. for four years.

Philosophy Club too has claimed her as a member for two years and this year she is acting as secretary of the club.

Aggie is a real leader. Besides her exceptional work with the "Y" she has proven this conclusively in the three years she has served on Student Council and in her two years on the Women's Senate. She's a worker in the Daywomen's Club, too, and was president of the organization in her junior year. As though all of this weren't enough to mean a full schedule for this senior, last year she was business manager for the "Compass" and this year she is vice-president of Pi Gamma Mu, of which she's been a member since her junior year.

Aggie is musically inclined, too, and played in the orchestra her freshman year.

There is a lot of power behind, that sweet personality and in her pleasant, efficient way, Aggie has made a real place for herself among the students and faculty at Albright. Dandy takes his hat off to you, Agnes Snyder, and knows that you will go on to be a vital addition to your community after college.

Council Says:

If licensed operators can be secured, a public address system to publicize campus announcements will be set up in the balcony of the Library, it was decided at last Thursday's Student Council meeting. Details, such as the most feasible time to broadcast the announcements, will have to be ironed out, says Gilbert Feeg, chairman of Council's publicity committee.

Perry Matz, Student Council's representative to the United Students' Movement conference at the University of Chicago, reported on the activities of the conference to Council members. Since it will take some time to cover the entire proceedings, Matz will take 15 minutes a meeting for the next few weeks to complete his report.

After expressing a vote of confidence for the cooperation and fine spirit of Abe Markowitz's newly formed College dance band, Student Council voted a new sum of money to the band, which it is sponsoring, for musical equipment.

The amendment to Council's Constitution concerning a yearly "Cue" has been passed by Council and a faculty committee and will next go to the student body for a general vote.

Council is trying to arrange a date on the calendar for a freshman class social affair at the request of Frank Bird, president of the class.

Also received are the "New Encyclopedia Britannica," 1946 and the "Encyclopedia Britannica World Atlas."

Flash! Something new has arrived. It's a "Biography Index," a one-place index to biography, and it certainly ought to be popular. The book contains two alphabets, a "name" alphabet, and an index of professions and occupations. It includes material about individuals both living and dead.

What really tops the list is an "Educational Film Guide." Part I is an alphabetically arranged list of the titles and subjects. Part II gives the descriptive material about Part I, the cost of renting or buying the film, source, length and width of film, sound or color. The films are classified according to the Dewey Decimal system. Some of the films listed are "Macheth," "Memories of Spain," "Our Louisiana Purchase," "Life and Loves of Beethoven," "Saint Francis of Assisi," "Corporations," "Buenos Dias, Carmelita,"

Faculty, Students To Get Together

The third annual student-faculty party will be held Friday, January 17 at 7:30 p. m. in the College Dining Hall, announced Dean Helen Cunliffe. This party enables students and faculty to become better acquainted with each other in an informal manner.

Games, planned by the social committee of the Y's and faculty, will be played and refreshments will be served. Dean Cunliffe is the chairman of the faculty social committee and Doris Hicks is the chairman of the Y social committee.

Y DELEGATES REPORT

bright delegates. Charles Bolte, chairman of the American Veterans' Committee, discussed "The Veterans Look at the Peace". Dorothy McConner, international traveler and author, spoke on the international scene.

A series of lectures addressed on "Christian Affirmations—Their Personal and Social Significance" was presented by Dr. Albert Cutler, associate professor of theology at Yale University. In addition to the platform addresses, worship services were conducted every morning by Dr. Howard Thurman, co-pastor of an inter-racial church in San Francisco. Bible study groups, program laboratories, and recreational periods were conducted throughout the day.

The SCA Assembly proved to be a complete success both in the formation of intelligent, liberal national association policy and in its inspiring program of fellowship and instruction in the ways of campus Y. M. and Y. W. procedures.

LOOK RECORD REVIEW

TOPS IN WAX—Stan Kenton and Harry James both share honors for the current outstanding albums.

KENTON: Artistry In Rhythm. JAMES: All Time Favorites. In Stan's album of four 10-inch discs, he climaxes over five years

Weston, pair Matt Dennis in vocals of So Would I and At Sundown, a favorite of the '20's. Charlie Spivak leaves his "Sweetest Trumpet" in the case except for a short warm-up, and the band makes an instrumental pairing of Stomping Room Only and Let's Go Home (RCA Victor).

Eddie Safranski of effort to albumize his distinctive and original music. He offers eight sterling sides, all originals, never before recorded and each based upon his Artistry Theme. Among the titles he features famous Kenton sidemen—Safranski, written for the bassist and rhythmic spark-plug of the band, Eddie Safranski; Artistry In Percussion, features his new drumming sensation, Shelly Manne (of the pre-war Bobby Byrne band); Fantasy—with solos by Vido Musso, tenor, and Boots Mussulli, alto; and a bit of Debussy in Willow Weep For Me—some choice warbling by June Christy and tromboning by Kai Winding (Capitol). The James album includes those scarce collector's items—Concerto For Trumpet, Flight Of The Bumble Bee, and One and Two O'Clock Jumps. The balance of the eight sides include such as Sleepy Lagoon and You Made Me Love You. All discs are selected from the great James productions that stand as milestones marking his climb to fame (Columbia).

VOCAL STANDOUTS—Bing Crosby, with backing supplied by John Scott Trotter and band, sings Anniversary Waltz and Yours Is My Heart Alone (Decca). In a lighter vein, the King Cole Trio, with Nat Cole at piano and vocals, make one of their typicals—It's The Beginning Of The End and But, She's My Buddy's Chick (Capitol). Dinah Shore has one of the best of: A Rainy Night In Rio, reversed with Through A Thousand Dreams (Columbia).

JAZZ FOR COLLECTORS—Blue Note, the famous label of the Chicago and New Orleans styles, makes an entry into frantic modernism with Tiny Grimes and Swingtet. Tiny, always a great guitarist, finds some excellent show-casing in two-sided 10-inch Flying Home, and in another 10-inch released at the same time: Tiny's Boogie Woogie backed with "C" Jam Blues. He uses "Trummie" Young, tram; John Hardee, tenor; Marlowe Morris, piano; Jimmy Butts, bass and Eddie Nicholson, drums. "Trummie" tram stands out, so does the Grimes guitar. Hardee's tenor gets raucous in its exhibitionism and several ragged spots in the ensemble appear during the excitement. The tempo on all four sides is fundamentally the same, it still gets a lashing into pressure which causes bobbles and rushing, noticeable at the drums and piano—which discards those who like rhythm and licks from melodic instruments instead of great tone production, may enjoy these.

DANCE—Dance records this month fall into a relaxed vein with Tex Beneke and The Miller band leading off with the immortal Carmichael opus - Stardust, and backing it with Falling Leaves. Both instrumentals receive the same arranging care that Tex consistently uses to capture the attention of audiences and record buyers, and retain the same high standards he has set and maintained since the inception of the re-organized band (RCA Victor). Another Victor offering is their dynamic star, Desi Arnez, who with band plays a bolero—I'll Never Love Again (with Elsa Mirra's vocal), and an instrumental, Tia Juana. Gene Krupa, of the frantic stick-licks, has a highly listenable pairing in There Is No Breeze and Aren't You Kind Of Glad We Did? Carolyn Grey sings on both, and on the latter she is joined by Buddy Stewart (Columbia). Loyola, Kutztown, Juniata Subdued Coach Forms Frat Basketball League

Ambitious Intramural Schedule Formed By Coach Harris

Albright College's Intramural League, which got underway yesterday, is due for more action tomorrow night when the Kappas hook up with the Zetas at 7:00 at Thirteenth and Union. That fracas should prove to be one of the best games. Also carded for Wednesday are Sigma Mu and Lambda Chi, while Delta Rho takes on Psi Beta.

Our Lion men are jammed packed with various kinds of talent and with ten teams in the league the race is wide open. So since I am not a Grantland Rice, I shall not venture any predictions.

Kappas Favored

However, Kappa Upsilon Phi seems to be the team to beat. The Kappas have Duncavage, Gigli, Uro-sevich—a former varsity man, Bud Fromuth; Rudin Plaskonas, Soja, Mertz, Ralph Wagner, Rin Bidolf, and Stew Beyerle. Stew, as you doubtless recall, played on Harris' 44-45 aggregation.

Zeta Omega Epsilon is another powerhouse. The Zetas have Miller, John Patricia—former varsity man, big Gerry Laucks (who will cause trouble by just standing in the way) Herbie Vogt—of Pete's vets, Holtz-apple, Les Pushman, Boland, Lam-berston and Newell Wert.

The Pi Tau Betas may be a dark horse in the league. The worst they can do is hit tenth place! Captain Ken Foust has Charlie Stump, Grim, Dave Voigt, Bob Thomas, Dick Heberling, Herb Yeagley, Don Snyder, Russ Luch, Kissingner, and Bill Miller—who also pastined with the 44-45 powerhouse.

The A.P.O.'s will prove a tough bunch of nuts to crack. After pass- ing by the Gable boys, we have Ken Good, Rowland, Lieb, Abe Markowitz, Bigler, Felter, Morfogen, White and Solomon.

Six New "Frats"

Then follows a list of new "frats" coined by Neal Harris for conveni- ence. The Chi Phi's look like a snappy outfit. It's composed largely of ex-gridders men. Needless to say, if they demonstrate their football performance on the basketball court, it will be rough. George Baum- gaertel, Matter, Jim Fromuth, Ros- sen, Big Frank Bird, Laughing Larry Delwiski, Jerry Pedota, Wilkinson, Halpin, and Smolnik round out the squad.

The Phi Mu's may turn the tables on some big teams. They have the following in fold: the Schiefer boys, Stevenson, Stapleton—who has seen some hardwood action, Ed Seisler, Shorty Umbenhauer—who struck with the Jaycees for a while, Dave Roland, and Simon.

Lambda's Tough

Lambda Chi is another new aggre- gation. They sport the following re- cruits: Himmelberger, Barro, Don Gittleman, Fornwall, Holselan Reeves, Bill Westner, Kostrat, Koch, and Siegfried.

The Psi Beta (not to be confused with Pi Tau Beta) squad sports a nice looking group of ball hawks. Zimmerman, John Dohner—of tennis fame, Gerry Hertzog, Czewski, H. Delk, Mengel, Freddie Roland, and Marlow.

And last but not least, are the Delta Rho's. Bob Evers, Kaebnick, Jack Snook, Don White, Mech, Nace, Bailey, and Hummer round out the

Red and White Hosts To Powerful LaSalle; Play L.V. Tomorrow

Albright's Rip-Roaring Lions face one of their toughest jobs next Saturday night when they tangle with LaSalle's powerful Explorers. The Philadelphians will be seeking revenge for last year's twin setbacks handed them by Coach Neal O. Harris' squad. Albright won in two close contests, 63-59 and 67-61, but both teams have considerably im- proved since last year.

Most of the Explorers' team of last year is back again, with several important additions. Chief among these is Larry Foust, a six foot nine inch giant from Southern Catholic of Philly. Foust has only been out- scored by little Bobby Walters, one of the best shots in the Philly dis- trict. Last year Walters not only paced his team in scoring, but re- ceived many honors for his all- around play.

To date LaSalle has won seven out of their eleven games, mauling Boston College and their 7' 1" center 76-41. Look Haven, Scranton, Gettysburg, The LaSalle Alumni and North Carolina all have been brushed aside. The latter lost to the Explorers this past Saturday night in Convention Hall 65-62 in two extra periods. The only common foe met was Loyola, who was crushed by LaSalle 71-46. The Explorers have lost only to unbeaten Seton Hall, Muhlenberg, Utah and Penn.

Lions Meet Lebanon Valley

Tomorrow night Albright's Lions take to the road for the second time of the year, meeting Lebanon Valley in the Lebanon High School gym. This will be a tough obstacle for Albright, who will be desperately seek- ing to avenge the two lachings hand- ed them last year by the Flying Dutchmen.

Well, there they are, fans, take your pick! I say flip ten coins and which one stands on end is the winner.

Lions Win In Overtime

Two thousand Lion fans at North- west were treated to one of the most thrilling games in Albright history as our Lions downed Loyola College of Baltimore 66-64 in a sizzling over- time period.

Hops Guldin, Russ Guensch, and Eddie Anlian all canned deuces to put the Lions ahead 17-12 at the end of the initial quarter. Bill Roche and Kenny Olinger managed to keep Loyola in the ball game with some beautiful hook shots.

Moving into the second period the floundering Saints found themselves as Bill Roche continued the assault to build up a 26-23 lead at the half- time.

Guensch Knots Game

The game fell out of hand in the last half as the lead changed hands no less than six times. Our Lions, playing brilliantly, built up a 45-39 lead at the third quarter. Russ Guensch with 11 points and Hops Guldin with six pointed the punch while Roche and Lacy kept the vis- itors in reach of the lead. Cruising into the last chapter the Holy Joes began a dogged drive to bridge the gap. The highly-touted Jim Lacy began to show his skill and the Saints built up a 56-51 lead before the Lion machine could throw water on the drive.

With three minutes to go the Roaring Lions began their stretch drive to stay in the ball game. Guensch added a field goal and a foul. Then Guss hit the hoops fol- lowed by big Ozzie Kriebel, who tapped in the deuce that put us one behind. Then with less than a minute to go, Russ Guensch added the foul shot that sent the game into an extra period.

Lions Launch Overtime Drive

Continuing their fast pace the Lions quickly grabbed the lead. Big Ozzie Kriebel sparked with a beau- tiful hook shot. Hops Guldin fol- lowed this with a layup. The Saints tried valiantly to stop the drive as Lacy and Roche canned deuces. But Anlian's three foul shots, Guensch's field bucket, and Witman's foul sew- ed up the thriller for our Roaring Lions.

Last Half Rally Crushes Indians; Guensch Leads Attack, Scores 28

Albright's steamrolling Lions continued along the victory trail by burying Juniata's Indians under 69-44. Paced by Russ Guensch's 28 markers which, by the way, set a new high for this year's club, our Lions waded to their third straight conquest. The latest Lion victory, made amidst the delightful roar of 2,000 fans, stretches the Lion season record to four wins and two setbacks.

Albright Mauls K-Town In First Away Game Lead 37-11 at Half

The Roaring Lions of Albright College took over the driver's seat in Berks County basketball circle as they snowed under the Golden Avalan- che of Kutztown State Teacher's 65-32.

Paced by hot shots Russ Guensch and Eddie Anlian, who dunked a grand total of 31 points between them, the Lions built up their big- gest lead of the year.

Lions Grab Lead

Hitting the road for the first time, our Lions took off their snappy bow- ties, which seems to be the accepted road "uniform," and promptly took off to a 15-5 lead at the quarter. Roaring into the second quarter, big boys Guensch and Anlian took fring line honors with 14 and nine points respectively, while the already com- manded lead sky-rocketed to 37-11 at halftime.

Golden Avalanche Bulldozed

Zipping into the third quarter Guensch, Anlian, Yocum and Guss continued to make it miserable for the Kutztown Club as the lead climb- ed to 49-17. When Harris finally threw in the shock troops in the last quarter, Kutztown began a feeble fight, but Shollenberger and Oxen- reider dumped in clinchers while Rauenzahn of Kutztown brightened the loser's lot cause with a total of twelve points.

Femme Cage Quintet Opens Season Jan. 21

Resuming practice after a two week layoff the girls' basketball team is hard at work preparing for their coming schedule opening with Ursinus on January 21, at Collegeville. On Wednesday, Jan. 8, the team under the coaching of Mrs. Eva Mosser gave a demonstration of drills for varsity practice. The demonstration was part of a program given at the Mt. Penn High School for a Berks County Basketball clinic. It included various warm-up drills for passing and shooting, and fundamental offensive and defensive types of plays. Those participating were: Virginia Woerle, Jeanne Flickinger, Jean Schwartz, Faye Schwartz, Joyce Thompson, Elaine Schwartz, Jean Borgstrom, Joy Stahler, Beth Sanger, Sara Johnson, Silva Hoppaugh.

From the Pennsylvania State College' Collegian we learn that State College is going to receive an allot- ment of six buildings from the Fed- eral Works Agency. The units for Penn State will come from Fort Washington, Maryland.

Our Lions, forced to play without man mountain Kriebel, who was sidelined with a sprained ankle, were quick in getting underway. At the outset Guensch put us in the lead by chalking up four fouls and a field goal, while teammates Ed Anlian and Elmer Davis were also hitting the hoops to put Albright ahead 11-10 at the quarter.

Blasting back in the second half, with Andy Christos, Big Bob Norris, and Ray Clapperton showing the way, the Juniata Indians took our Lions into camp with a 14 point barrage. Guensch, Guss, Witman and Anlian canned deuces but the most the Lions could muster was 12 points which left the visitors in com- mand 24-23 at the intermission.

Lions Pile It On

Roaring into the second half while the Lions tallied a cool 29 points while Juniata's scalped Indians could only collect five. Russ Guensch was never hotter as he poured in 14 points from all angles. Hops Guldin and Captain Elmer Davis added six apiece and as that frame ended Jun- iata's Indians were perfectly willing to return to their reservation and call it quits.

Fortunately Harris was kind enough to call off his big guns and with five minutes to go, he put in the shock troops and permitted the Indians to collect a respectable 44 points for their evening's chores.

Junior Varsity Edges Mercury Rug, 26-22

In an unusually low-scoring game, the Albright reserve team nosed out Mercury Rug Cleaners, a City League outfit, 26-22. Bruce Reber dumped in five of Albright's seven points to put the Jaycees out front 7-4 in the first quarter. Strong defense on the part of both teams quashed all aggressive play and by the half the baby Lions led only 9-6.

Not until the last quarter did the scoring really begin, but at the end of the third Albright still was in control 13-10. The lead see-sawed back and forth until the last minute of the play, as both teams felt the time running out. McKenna put in three foul shots, Shafer two buckets, and Werley three other points to clinch the verdict.
