

'Y's to Worship By Firelight, Plan Holy Week

A student worship campfire service, sponsored by the Combined "Y's, will be held this evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Lower Social Room, Selwyn Hall Annex. A pre-Easter service, it will take the form of a service of meditation with its theme as the tragedy of the cross. The combined worship committee of the "Y's, headed by Irene Fisher and Fred Clewell, is in charge of the program.

Last Tuesday the "Y's held an "Hour of Religious Music" directed by Marjorie Christ and Robert Holtzapfel. In addition to the devotional period, the program consisted of numbers by a string, flute, and piano ensemble, made up of Ruth Ritzman, Julia Hassler, Marian Gerberich, and Geraldine Wentzel. Selections were presented by a quartet, Elaine Kyle, Margaret Walker, Cecil Pottier, and Newell Wert; and by a trio, Gladys Savidge, Esther Savidge, and Ruth Leickel. There were solos by Marjorie Huntzberger and Glenn Bailey, Robert Holtzapfel and Marjorie Christ were at the organ and piano respectively.

Next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, March 26-28, a series of Holy Week services will be held by the "Y". On Monday at 7:30 p. m., Dr. Gerrit Memming will have charge of the program, and on Tuesday, at the same hour, Dr. F. Wilbur Gingrich will preside. At 6:30 a. m. on Wednesday, Professor Lewis E. Smith will have charge of the Holy Communion in the College Chapel.

Religion Through the Week
Ruth Ritzman will be in charge of vespers this Sunday afternoon, March 25, when a special Palm Sunday service will be held at 4:00 p. m. in the College Chapel. The program will be announced this week. Herbert Sigley led vespers last Sunday evening in Sylvan Chapel. Bible class leader for this Sunday will be John Spindler. Last Sunday, Marian Schwartz was in charge, with Prof. Lewis E. Smith as speaker.

Gifted Concert Star Shows Artistic Ability In Program of Widely Ranging Classics

By ELIZABETH POTTIEGER

A bass voice of rich, true quality and unusual range brought Wellington Ezekiel, last Thursday morning's Cultural Program artist, the approval and applause of his Albright audience. Because Mr. Ezekiel was born and raised in Allentown, Pennsylvania, his appearance was of special interest to natives of this section.

With a varied program that pleased all music lovers, Mr. Ezekiel delivered his selections with commanding presence and unflinching tonal depths. However, it is possible that had his accompanist supported him with more accurate and imaginative playing, the basso might have felt more at ease and projected more personality and feeling into his songs.

The fact that Mr. Ezekiel left some in his audience unmoved may be attributed partially to several other handicaps beyond the artist's control: the acoustics of the chapel are notoriously bad for singing, and Mr. Ezekiel was laboring under a heavy cold. Furthermore, a chapel full of college students assembled for a compulsory program at ten o'clock in the morning is hardly the most inspiring atmosphere for an artist singing a repertoire more adapted to concert hall and formal attire.

Although he is undoubtedly gifted with a beautiful and powerful voice and he delivered his program for the most part with excellent technique, some of his more critical

Council Probes Process For May Day Elections

Student Council will investigate the method of the May Day elections and also an alternate plan presented at the last Council meeting, Thursday, March 16. According to the proposed setup elections would be held for the maid of honor and the court, separately from that of the May Queen.

President Paul Deyscher appointed the following committee to look into the matter: Mary Jane Weber, chairman; Jeanne Miller, Edwin Biehl, with faculty members Dean Helen Cunliffe and Prof. Anna Smith also serving.

Wartluft Named Senate Prexy

Head Selects Committees
At Meeting, March 16

Anna Wartluft, president of the daywomen's organization, will hold the women's Student Senate for the remainder of this year it was announced at their last meeting, Friday, March 16. She was appointed by Dean Helen Cunliffe and Professor Anna Smith, advisors. Serving in advisory capacity will be Jane Teitsworth, former prexy of the daywomen. Next year the president will be elected by the Senate, when the mechanics of the Senate will be carried out completely.

At the meeting Miss Wartluft appointed the following committees: constitution, Marjorie Christ, chairman; Eileen O'Neil, and Margaret Ball; handbook, Janet Luckenbaugh, chairman, Martha Friedericks, and Jean Borgstrom; ethics, Joy Cutler, chairman, Erna Leinbach, and Jean Zwoyer.

Each committee will present its report on the meeting of the senate to be held on April 19. Both Miss Wartluft and Miss Teitsworth will serve in an ex officio capacity on the committees.

In planning a handbook the Senate is considering the matter of issuing a handbook for all Albright women. It would contain rules and regulations, traditions for Albright women, and the constitutions of the dorm and day councils and the Senate.

listeners may have felt that his lack of emotional expression made his program fall short of the inspirational. Mr. Ezekiel overcame the stiffness of attitude when he reached the spiritual, "Were You There," and achieved a human quality that won his audience. In spite of the criticisms mentioned above, it may be assumed from the enthusiasm of the students for encloses that the great majority of them came away with a very good opinion of Wellington Ezekiel, and with that as a criterion, the program can be called a success.

Local Red Cross Worker Initiates Drive in Chapel

A March of Time film entitled "Portugal" was presented in the College Chapel this morning at 10:10.

Mrs. William Richardson, a representative of the local Red Cross Chapter, spoke at the special Red Cross program in the chapel, March 13, which opened the campus-wide Red Cross drive. Paul Deyscher introduced Mrs. Richardson, who related the background, and explained the activities of the Red Cross. "Angels of Mercy," theme song of the Red Cross, was sung by a trio consisting of Ruth Leickel, Gladys Savidge, and Esther Savidge. They were accompanied at the piano by Marjorie Christ. The Red Cross drive will continue throughout March. Professor Elsie Garlach has charge of Red Cross activities on campus.

Masters Says Campus to be Site For Commencement This Spring

Albright's campus will be the scene of the commencement of the Class of 1945, it was announced by President Harry V. Masters at a meeting of the commencement committee on Friday, March 16. As a result of enthusiasm of the class for outdoor exercises, the administration agreed to the plan. The ceremony will take place on the afternoon of June 3 in front of Selwyn Hall.

The last commencement held on campus was that of the class of 1941. During the following three years, exercises were held at Northeast Junior High School because of inclement weather or the presence of the Army on campus.

Seniors on Committee

Six seniors and President Masters compose the commencement committee, to aid in choosing the baccalaureate and commencement speakers and to help plan exercises. At the Friday meeting, held in the president's office, suggestions for speakers were made. However, the committee has come to no definite decision as yet. The seniors serving on the commencement committee are: Jack Teger, class president, Bertina Blauch, Ann deFarges, Felice Epstein, Janet Luckenbaugh, and Paul Deyscher.

"Will this scene be a repeat performance?" was what seniors have been asking each other recently. As a result of Friday's meeting it was announced that once more Albright's campus will set the stage for commencement. Seniors like the open-air idea.

College Launches War Bond Drive

In cooperation with the 7th War Bond drive Albright College will launch its own drive, with the sale of bonds and stamps beginning on April 9. Students will be permitted to sell bonds which will be issued by the treasurer's office. The goal will be reached by promoting the sales to friends, relatives and parents as well as to the students.

As a part of the drive, Albright College will participate in a statewide radio contest to be held in early May among the cooperating colleges and universities of Pennsylvania. The broadcast, in the form of an original play written by an Albright student, is being arranged by the War Finance Committee of Pennsylvania. Students wishing to try out for the broadcast are to register with the Public Relations Office before March 26. Tryouts will be held on that date in the College Chapel at 1:00 P. M. and 4:30 P. M.

The climax of the drive will come during the first week of May when there will be an intensive sale of bonds and stamps on campus as well as an extravagant rally to take place in the College Stadium.

The Bond Drive Committee consists of: Marilyn Jacobson and Gloria Salfetty, co-chairmen; the chairmen of the various clubs: Felice Epstein, Resident Women; Walter Hayum, Resident Men; Eileen O'Neil, Day Women; Herbert Hyman, Day Men; Bohdan Procko, Student Council; Dr. Milton Geil, Faculty; Mr. Charles Gordon; and Mr. Lester Stabler, general co-ordinating chairman.

The drive is being conducted in conjunction with the Community War Finance Committee.

Ladies Auxiliary Conducts Craft and Quilt Exhibition

An early American Quilt and Craft Exhibit was sponsored by the infirmaries committee of the Albright Ladies' Auxiliary to raise funds for the maintenance of the Albright infirmary. The exhibit was open from two to five p.m. Contributions were twenty-five cents or more.

Among the various objects on exhibition was a colorful quilt over 170 years old belonging to Dr. Daniel Wetzel. Another quilt was taken from the dowry chest of a Lebanon county girl. Besides quilts, there were collections of early American glassware.

Domino Club to Give Two Religious Plays Palm Sunday Night

Prof. Shaffer to Direct
'Crown of Thorns,'
'Terrible Week'

"The Crown of Thorns" by Eliot Field and "The Terrible Week" by Charles Kennedy are the Easter plays to be presented by the Domino Club, this Sunday at 9:00 p. m. in the College Chapel. Professor Ruth C. Shaffer of the English department is directing the plays.

Marie Bonner will play the part of The Woman in "The Terrible Week." Jack Shafer will be The Captain and Herbert Hyman, the Soldier.

MARIE BONNER

The cast for "The Crown of Thorns" includes: Mordecai, a member of the Sanhedrin, Forrest Dunkelberger; Rachel, his wife, Marjorie Christ; Jude, their son, Lloyd Schwartz; Miriam, their daughter, Betty Jacobs; and Sergius Paulus, a Roman youth, Herbert Sigley.

"The Terrible Week" takes place at the foot of the cross, six hours after the crucifixion of Christ. It is the story of the reactions of Mary, the Roman captain who supervised the crucifixion, and the Roman soldier who nailed Christ to the cross.

"The Crown of Thorns" concerns the conspiracy of Mordecai, the Biblical Jewish character, and Sergius, his daughter's lover, to convert Christ. Their plan includes

Women's Glee Club Sings For Park Church Service

As part of a special service for college students, the Women's Glee Club presented a concert at Park Evangelical Church, last Sunday evening, March 18. The program also included readings from "Sifting Mens Hearts and Motives" and "His Enemies Shall Be of His Own Household," by students of Albright who are affiliated with Park Church.

Musical portions of the program included "He Was Despised," from Handel's "Messiah," and Mendelssohn's "O Rest in the Lord," sung by Elizabeth Pottieger. Betty Fieleitz sang "The Holy City," by Adams and "As the Rain Cometh Down," MacDermid.

For the glee club selections, Marjorie Christ accompanied on the piano and Ruth Ritzman was student director. Glee Club plans are being made for a return engagement to Zion Baptist Church and for a program at the Shillington County Home.

Shure and It's a Foine Toime We, re Havin' With the Colleens O' Selwyn Hall, Beguara!

The sanctum sanctorum of modesty through whose portals no male is ordinarily permitted to enter threw wide its doors to the public of both sexes on Sunday, March 18, when the women of Selwyn Hall and Annex held their annual Open House. The lovely femmes acted as hostesses and allowed their abodes to be inspected G.I. style. We have Captain Joseph Duncavage, plus several of the Albright men, to thank for this through going-over. A minimum of dirt was found even on door-ledges.

The turn-out was large, with parents, friends and professors in attendance. The registries in the guest book, situated at the entrance Selwyn Annex, added up to the amazing total of eighty-six. The gals at Albright must have some attraction.

Sherman Cottage was also open for inspection. A warm welcome was extended to each guest and everyone was shown through the house from the kitchen to nursery. Many a favorable comment was passed about the little grey house.

And shure and it was a lovely Patrick's Day motif by serving the girls carried out the out the St. afternoon in Selwyn Hall Parlors as green punch and cake with green icing. Yes, the Irish eyes were were smiling and so were all the others.

Facts & Figures

"Open House" was held in the women's dormitory on Sunday, March 18, from 3-5:00 p.m. Janet Luckenbaugh, president of the dormitory council, received the guests, and the senior and junior women conducted them through the dorm.

The refreshments were in keeping with the St. Patrick's Day motif. Green punch was served with green-iced cake, and the white napkins were decorated with green shamrocks. Dean Helen Cunliffe poured the punch in the parlor.

Chairmen of the committees were as follows: Ann deFarges, invitation committee; Mae Jean Picking, reception committee; Mary Alice Lippert, decoration committee; Kay Connors, refreshment committee; and Irene Fisher, entertainment committee.

So Nice to Come Home To -

For the first time in two years the women of Selwyn Hall held Open House. They scrubbed and cleaned and polished every bit as much as if there were to be an Army inspection like those which the Hall has seen in the past. But there was a striking difference between the type of inspection carried on last Sunday and the G.I. variety. Ours was informal and gay, full of laughter and fun, and when a speck of dust was found lurking in a corner, the only penalty was the ribbing. But there wasn't much dust and everything went off fine. For the people who had seen Selwyn Hall while it was Army territory, the change in accoutrements was remarkable. Although the rooms and furniture provided are extremely similar, it is amazing the way the girls manage to make each room look different. Each reflects the taste and personality of the owner and some mighty beautiful jobs of interior decoration are accomplished with comparatively limited resources.

Red and White - AND BLUE

Heretofore unbeknown to most Albrightians, there is a committee on campus which is planning a War Bond Drive sponsored by Albright. This committee has been functioning for some time and is attempting to organize a program whereby the sale of stamps and bonds can be promoted by students to their parents, friends and relatives. Bonds can be sold by us, with the credit for the sales going to Albright College, beginning April 9. Full instructions on the matter are forthcoming. The first week of May will be devoted entirely to the intensive sale of stamps and bonds. Huge programs are being planned. The most vital need of the committee at this point is the cooperation of the students. We must sell as many bonds as possible. We must go all out in this endeavor. Our success will mean much to the reputation of Albright. But it will mean a lot more to a gang of our pals whom we want to see back here in short order. So GIVE. It doesn't hurt.

We Thank You So Much

We don't know whether "The Albrightian" had anything to do with it or not, but the administration has agreed that an outdoor commencement is just the thing for the Class of '45. Most probably it was the wholehearted enthusiasm of the Senior Class that influenced the decision. However regardless of the reason behind it, the ceremony will be held on our own campus. And for that we give a loud and hearty cheer plus a vote of thanks. It can easily be understood what additional sentiment is provided by a ceremony held right here in front of Selwyn Hall. All we need do now is hope and pray for the rain gods to sleep through the day of June 3, 1945.

From Things Temporal

To climax this year's Lenten season, Albright offers several activities worth noting. First, the Domino Club will take to the footlights again this Sunday night when they present two religious dramas as their traditional Palm Sunday production. Then, the Combined "Y's" will sponsor a series of Holy Week services next week, with the final one the traditional communion at 6:30 next Wednesday morning. And, the German Club will hold a devotional service in German for its monthly meeting tomorrow night. We hope that all Albrightians will take time out from "things temporal" to grow in "things spiritual."

Horatio in Hibernation

It seems that old lady Fate has decreed that the Skunk Day match will not be held this year, for here we are announcing that it must be postponed again—and changed. Because we cannot secure the gym for a basketball game, THE ALBRIGHTIAN has decided to schedule a men's-women's softball game sometime this spring. Have patience, guys and gals, ol' Horatio will have his day sometime.

With windows flung open to the beautiful outdoors, the busy, weather-beaten chemists (most of whom seem to have acquired the "sniffles") display their will-power as they energetically continue to "hit the books" despite the spring-fever that has enveloped the campus.

In quon lab "Mr." Kenneth Good (as he is known to his pledges) continues to jot down his calculations in true Janzen's style—with even the exact shade of black ink. Tiny Landis, in a sparkling bespeckled pledge tie, carries on without error—dividing his four place decimals, despite the many females hovering about him. Bob Gale nonchalantly lounges on several stools chewing a wad of gum as he waits for his balance to "warm up." Marv Weaver hunts for the out of place "joint" in his analytical balance. Elaine Schwartz looks quite lost in her mass of white paper strips covered with figures. Mary Louise Schappell takes time out to read a love story while her beam stops swinging. Vladimir Kolton continually inquires—"do you or don't you?" Moose Biehl proves that two things can be accomplished at one time as he determines his normality and keeps up his fellow students' morale with his double talk. Dick Derr shows Larry Haag how to divide correctly—this may be vice versa.

Nearby where the strangest odors come from—organic lab, no doubt about it—Bob Deach can usually be found with a "chunk" of ice. "Man of the Hour" Manzollito struts in his quaint lab coat that has quite a history behind it. Petite Duncavage ponders over an intrinsic equation, and Jeanne Miller hums as she works—that beam on her face is not due to organic—must be a special outside influence wonder what?

Campus Carrousel

Ah, it's spring again and "Boids on the wing again," yes . . . and even trolleys ARE running . . . Once in a while the beautiful spring air carries the correct time, through the courtesy of the Z O E fraternity . . . Weird looking creatures called Pat pledges walk around with grandfather clocks about their necks . . . Then there is Maggie Christ with a sad, melancholic smile on her face. Love Willy must have run out of ner.

With the touch of the season, Robert George Sinder, Esq., received his b.s. and I can only hope that it is still standing by the time this issue reaches you . . . The two Jeans (Borgstrom and Jaglom) have more than one thing in common now—they have returned to the good old high school days. It's usually very easy for a large school to conduct successful campaigns, for they have no problems of any sort. It's the small schools that really have it tough! They usually stand in the middle without getting much of anything done. Let us all remember that when Albright starts its 7th War Bond drive; your ideas to make people come up to the campus and buy bonds from us will help us to reach our goal. Without your full cooperation we shall not be able to put anything across! So when the drive opens, remember, your part in it counts.

It seemed funny to some of us, that when one girl was asked what she thought most exciting about the basketball game, she mentioned the carton of ice cream she sold. It's a good thing some (99 per cent) still go to the games to see the players.

The Inquiring Reporter

Catching up with those busy, breathless practice teachers, your Inquiring Reporter stopped them long enough to ask:

What was your most amusing or interesting experience during practice teaching?

Jan Zwayer—German—'45.—The day my third period class made me feel like a quiz kid.

Betty Claire Voeste—German—'45.—When I was in the hospital, and each of my classes sent me flowers.

Betty Bradley—English—'45.—My most embarrassing moment was when one of the teachers took me for a pupil. (By the way, she teaches Jr. High School.)

Rachel Willauer—English—'45.—The day a student came in to class, and pointing to me said to another student, "That's my girl."

Marian Barger—English—'45.—One of the things which amuses me is my walking across campus in my bobbiex, and having some of my pupils yell, "Hello Miss Barger."

Jane Helms—Math—'45.—The day one of my pupils said "So long, Miss Helms," when I took him down to detention. (Your Inquiring Reporter would have said worse than that!)

Janel Luckenbaugh—Home Ec—'45.—My name takes a beating—the best one yet is Miss Duckbar.

Christine Galpin—Home Ec—'45.—My most exciting time was the first time I took charge of a study hall. The pupils wouldn't even read their comic books that day. They did everything but jump out the window.

Erma Leinbach—Home Ec—'45.—Northeast is a wonderful school and I'm "crazy about it." What bothers me most is a backache from trying to find those tiny kids.

This week, Dandy tosses a bouquet of hockey sticks and test tubes to that science and sports enthusiast, Bert Blauch. This Upper Darby miss, who once claimed the distinction of being a Belfry Bat, has served the school as Chief Air Raid Warden, member of the Dining Hall committee, and chairman of the recreation committee of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

She was a member of the Cue staff last year, and is serving in the capacity of class treasurer this year. This future lab technician is a biology and chemistry major and can usually be seen bustling about the science hall as a lab assistant. She is a member of the Alchemist club, and is now vice prexy of the Skull and Bones.

Bert is an expert piano player and many a dorm student has jitterbugged to her boogie-woogie. She, and her side-kick, Jeanne Miller, are also adept at planning dance routines.

An athlete supreme, she has won her numeral letter and sweater as one of Mrs. Mosser's pride and joys. She has played basketball for her class, and baseball for her sorority, the Phi Beta Mu. This year she was leader of the hockey and cheerleading squads.

war time. A good time was had by all—even Ginny Woerle, who had more stores to visit than anyone.

The most startling, slinkiest gowns ever designed in home ec 3b are by Lucille Lott. Don't ever wear those dresses to class, Lucy!

Pupils aren't the only ones that learn. Gloria Bast is learning things from her high school girls. Says Gloria, "I was never like that when I went to school."

Albright About Town

Now that the trolley strike is over and a night at the movies no longer entails a long trek to town, let's see what's on the cinema list.

At the Astor is "Murder, My Sweet" starring Dick Powell, Claire Trevor and Anne Shirley. It's a different type role for Dick. His handling of this new characterization should be interesting.

That hilarious comedy, Clairette Colbert and Fred MacMurray, is here again co-starring in "Practically Yours." Bob Benchley is with them, too, so if it's laughs your looking for, your best bet is the Embassy.

Vicki Baum's novel, "Hotel Berlin," has been brought to the screen. Faye Emerson, Helmut Dantine, Raymond Massey, Andrea King, and Peter Lorre star in this story of the Nazi's under fire—now playing at Warners.

The main feature at Loew's is still "I'll Be Seeing You" with Ginger Rogers, Joseph Cotten and Shirley Temple. This picture revolving about a neuro-psychiatric is excellent entertainment—one we'll all want to see.

Take It Standing Up

About 60 Albrightians took a night off to show their "wheel polo-tonality," attending the roller skating party held last Friday night, March 16, at the Sinking Spring rink. Taking the turns with the rest of them were Dean Cunliffe and Ann Benninger, chaperones, and the Albright gang really came out in families as "Pete" Pottieger was seen with his wife, "Louie," with both of them hanging on to their small son, "Scotty." Making the arrangements (including ending the trolley strike) were Kenny Good, Bobby Calamara, Reed Fredricks, and Ginny Woerle, soph social committee.

"Red" Heads

With unanimous approval, Homer "Red" Angstadt was re-elected as president of the Fraternal Order of Daymen. Richard Derr and Russell Luck secured positions as vice-president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

The Daymen decided to keep in contact with their former classmates in the service by corresponding with them regularly. Their addresses are posted on the bulletin board. The group has also decided to buy new softball equipment to be used by the members.

Through the generosity of one Edwin T. Biehl, a cabin was offered to all members, to be used for weekend excursions. The only expense will be for all visitors to launder the sheets.

A statement was also made, expressing the opinion of all members, that the club rooms have been kept clean and tidy for the past few weeks. The daymen are urged to watch the bulletin board for their names on the clean-up squad.

More Pi Gammas

The initiation meeting of Pi Gamma Mu, the honorary social science fraternity, was held Wednesday evening, March 14, at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Dr. Milton Geil, North Eleventh St. New members are: Fred Clewell, Ann deFarges, Jean Harer, Marilyn Jacobson, Bohdan Procko, Eleanor Wentzel, and Jean Zwoyer. Following the initiation, a paper, "Cooperative Housing," was read by Jane Teitsworth. The society decided to send a mimeographed bulletin to all alumni members, informing them of the fraternity's activities for the year. A committee consisting of Phyllis Abrams, Jane Teitsworth, and Felice Epstein, will prepare the bulletin.

Sisters Meet

The spring sorority dance, given by the Phi Beta Mu and the Pi Alpha Tau sororities, will be held on May 12 in the Berkshire Hotel. Jimmy Eaton's orchestra will play. Mr. and Mrs. Neal O. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gordon have been invited as chaperones.

Plans for the dance were discussed at the sorority meetings of the Mus and Pats, held last Monday night, March 12. Both sororities also decided to contribute $7.50 to the Student Council for records for Council dances.

Prof Panel

International Relations Club will hold a faculty discussion panel on the Dumbarton Oaks Peace Conference at its next meeting, April 5. The meeting is open to all students. Between this meeting and the May meeting, the president, Joyce Moyer, will call a special session for the purpose of electing officers and pledging new members.

New K. T. X.'ers

Ten members were inducted into the Kappa Tau Chi, pre-ministerial fraternity, Monday evening. Dr. Virgil Zener, faculty advisor to the fraternity was the speaker. The new members include: John Spindler, William Ebbert, Robert Ziegler, Jack Shafer, Berwin Hainley, Harry Gruber, Ray Pottieger, Robert Buxton, Stewart McCleary, and Robert Holtzapfel.

The officers of the group had charge of the ceremony, and they listed the objectives of the fraternity. Cecil Pottieger, president, explained the symbol of the fraternity and the handshake.

At the next meeting, to be held April 12, Dr. M. S. Greth will speak on the "Minister's Library." This meeting will be open to all pre-ministerial students.

Unser Vater

The monthly meeting of the German Club, to be held tomorrow night, will be in the form of a religious service. The meeting, open to all Albrightians, will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the College Chapel.

Charles Kachel will begin the service with the Lord's Prayer and Robert Binder will read the Scripture. Mervin Helfrich will speak, followed by musical selection from a quartet. Gladys Savidge, Esther Savidge, Jack Shafer, and Warren Loesch. Betty Fielitz will be soloist. Hymns by the groups will complete the program. The whole service will be in German.

Toast to Pfost

Warren Pfost will be vice president of the freshman class, according to an election by the class, held at its meeting, Friday, March 16. Those nominated were Steve Winters, Robert Gale, Hampton Pullis, and Mr. Pfost. Mr. Pfost succeeds Herbert Hyman, who took over as prexy when Owen Henry left.

LIONS in the RANKS

Here at Albright we are settling down to mid semesters. Again Prof. Green was first with his zoology, organic, and embryology tests. He never misses.

Remember the letters from the faculty? Here is a note to all of you from Dr. Geil: Dear Albrightians of the Armed Forces:

You people are constantly in our thoughts. I doubt very much that even a day passes, busy as we all are, without in one way or another recalling the names of at least one or several of you, wondering how you are faring out on the far-flung battle lines and offering at least a silent prayer that God will embolden you and protect you—each one of you—and bring you back home safely soon.

Life on our campus is as crowded as ever for each faculty member, though our student body is considerably smaller and we are distressed by the many empty chairs in many of our classrooms. You men and women are also keenly missed in our social activities. Most of these social affairs are just not complete without you and I am not the only one, by any stretch of the imagination, to express frequently that sentiment.

A warm welcome awaits each one of you from each of us.

Sincerely,
MILTON G. GEIL.

CAPTAIN ADAM F. LEVEN-GOOD; PWD.SHAEP (forward); APO 757, care PM, NYC, wrote to tell us that he has been receiving THE ALBRIGHTIAN. He said, "After participating in the North African, Tunisian, Sardinian, Corsican, Sicilian, and Italian operations, I returned to my home. Immediately following this I returned to ETO for the French Operation. At present, and since the first of October, 1944, I have been Liaison Officer between Psychological Warfare Division and the Supreme Headquarters at AEF, Forward, for the German Operation—possibly the most interesting job in this theatre. Prior to entering Psychological Warfare Division, I did, throughout the Mediterranean campaigns, special intelligence work—making nine parachute jumps. I plan to spend at least one year in Germany for occupational work in the Control Commission's Educational Section."

Adam asked for the address of Paul D. McCormack, '38. He lives at Rimersburg, Penna.

In a letter from SGT. KENNETH CAMPBELL, says that in his outfit is Richard Reichard, the son of a Muhlenberg prof. When the Mules beat us in basketball, Ken took an awful "razzing" from the fellows, but Ken says that since we turned the tables, everything is fixed up again. The "Stars and Stripes" printed the news of the Albright win.

CPL. KENNETH HOPKINS says that he is very proud of our team. "H" also wants us to say a big "Hello" to GEORGE (BEEP) HORN for him. George, Kenny says is considerably smaller and we are distressed by the many empty chairs in many of our classrooms. You men and women are also keenly missed in our social activities. Most of these social affairs are just not complete without you and I am not the only one, by any stretch of the imagination, to express frequently that sentiment.

Quite a few kids were on campus this week. They were: Marine LT. TED SZELEA, whom I didn't get to talk to but I saw him out of the window. Did Ridolfi and Pushman get leaves, too? SEAMAN JOHN SOJA of Bainbridge was here Sunday. Navy Flyer ROLFE HASTINGS was around Monday. Last Friday, CPL. SANDY ROSENBERG of the Army program, was here to see us. He is an aerial gunner. He said that BOB FLYNN will be graduated on Saturday as an Army Navigator. Also here, 1st Lieut. FRANCIS FLETCHER, who has just completed his quota of missions overseas.

ALLEN R. DELONG AMM 2/c; AROU 2; Navy 3149; care PPO: San Francisco, Calif., writes from somewhere in the Philippines that he gets the ALBRIGHTIAN at intervals. He told us a little about the Filipino huts and people. He said that some of them are educated, thanks to the missionaries. He also said that the Filipino guerrillas are doing a grand job. Al has never seen his daughter, Johanna.

Eschwei to Head W.A.A. for 45-46; Frosh Take Tilt

Mary Eschwei will head the Women's Athletic Association for the 1945-46 year. Elections for W. A. A. officers took place on Wednesday, March 14. Vice president will be Phyllis Carter. Secretary will be Virginia Woerle, while Gladys Savidge holds the treasurer's position.

Miss Eschwei, succeeding Erma Leinbach, is active in intercollegiate competition in hockey and basketball. She plays at the halfback slot in the former sport and is forward in basketball. She is also well known as a softball player, having played on a softball eleven in her home town of Sea Cliff, N. Y., during the summer vacation.

The main duties of the W. A. A. cabinet will continue to be the planning of the season's program and the determining of the point system. Class representatives are elected annually and are members of the cabinet.

The freshman varsity travelled to West Reading High School on Tuesday, March 13, and came through with another win, 25-22. The high school lassies, holding the lead at the half, trailed the Red and White by three points at the end of the game.

By JIM HEDGLIN

Now that spring is here again we notice that the sports interest has shifted from basketball to baseball. In connection with this baseball "fever," a petition has been circulating about the campus which expresses the desire of the students to have a college baseball team. This petition has been presented to the proper authorities, and so all we can do is to wait and hope for the best.

A little might be said, however, as to the material on the campus for

Side Lions

Billy Miller, varsity court man of this year, is in the Army Air Corps, and is stationed at Keesler Field, Miss. Incidentally Bill met a lot of Berks County boys who are also stationed down at Keesler.

Kutztown State Teachers College, a Lion basketball foe, is going ahead with plans for a track and tennis team this spring in spite of the fact that they only have sixteen boys enrolled. In the Kutztown plans are two track meets one being a State Teachers Collee meet and the other being an eastern Pennsylvania Collegiate Meet to which it has been rumored Albright received an invitation.

Muhlenberg High School captured the Berks County Scholastic basketball championship by defeating Hamburg High 47-27. Coach Harris may go to the county high schools next year for material, who knows? Jimmy Bunn, former Albright court star, has been reported a prisoner of war in Germany. Jim was quite the basketball player at Albright and should, after the war, play an important role in court sport here.

In the way of using the new tennis courts it was suggested that a tournament be set up for both boys and girls. (Fraternity Council, take note).

Forrest Saylor, the swift little basketball flash from Kutztown, gathered 21 points for a losing cause on Tuesday evening, March 13, as Croll & Keek defeated Kutztown High Alumni, 82-78.

The Interfraternity Council under the supervision of its president, Bob Deach, is attempting to form a softball league. A schedule is now in the making and plans for a complete program are being laid.

Harrismen Shatter Former Records; Bill Landis Paces Team Scoring; Braun Shines on Foul Line

Although winning games was Coach Neal O. Harris's main objective, his team this year broke records in addition. It was obvious that the team wasn't after high scores, although they had ample opportunity on several occasions "to pour it on" if they had so desired. However, in 29 games they did score 1,122 points, only one point less than the total for the 1940-41 team, which played 23 games.

Albright broke the existing win-loss record of 15 wins and three losses by winning 19 out of 20 games. They also shattered the straight win record for one year by nabbing their first eleven games. The previous record was eight victories. The record for the total number of straight wins on the home court was also thrown to the winds when the boys won their last four engagements last season and went on to make it fifteen consecutive with the victories of the first part of the current season. After the defeat by Muhlenberg, the Lions captured the remaining eight games.

Pi Tau's Defend Title In Marble Contest

In keeping with a tradition started last year, the Pi Tau Beta and the Alpha Pi Omega fraternities will engage in an athletic tussel to determine the master of the two frats. In the sports field. The battle will be of a different nature this year in that the game of marbles will be used instead of basketball, the sport used to determine the winner last year. Also, this year, only the pledge from each fraternity will be eligible to compete. In last year's basketball battle the Pi Tau came through victoriously, gaining an easy win over the A. P. O.'s with a score of 44-33. Bill Miller, drafted varsity courtster of the current season, was the Pi Tau mainstay gathering 15 points.

As yet definite rules, a date and a place have not been announced. Both frat prexies are busily engaged in determining rules, setting a date and place and also laying other plans for the affair. As for material, Bob Deach, Pi Tau leader, reports that from recent practices it appears that Steve Winter and Hep Yegaley are his strongest shots, while from the other side Coach Jack Teget states that Slug Weaver, Butch Harting and PeeWee Walb are his best marksmen with the marble spheres. Both frats report Teget and Deach, will see to it that the students are informed as to the date, time and place of the momentous event.
