D. P. FUND SURPASSES $1200.00 GOAL

160 Seniors Graduating on Albright's Ninetieth Annual Commencement Day

Approximately 160 seniors will graduate on Sunday, June 5, when the 90th annual commencement will be held on the Albright College campus at 3:30 p.m. At 11 o'clock that morning the baccalaureate service will be held in Union Hall. Preceding these final activities will be the President's Tea for Seniors on Sunday, May 22, and the senior dinner-dance on Thursday, June 2.

Dr. Harry J. Carman, Dean of Columbia College of Columbia University, New York City, will speak at the commencement exercises. Noted educator and historian, Doctor Carman is also at present a member of the Board of Higher Education of the City of New York. Dorothy R. Seisler, English major from Reading and editor of the "Cue," will be the student speaker for the class of 1949 at the commencement.

Stamm to Speak

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Bishop John S. Stamm, bishop of the Eastern Area (Ev.) of the Evangelical United Brethren Church and president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

President and Mrs. Harry V. Masters will be hosts to the seniors and faculty at their home, 1605 Palm St., from 3-4 o'clock on Sunday, May 22. The senior dinner-dance will be held Thursday, June 2, at the Green Valley Country Club. Music will be provided by Jimmy Carl and his orchestra. The dinner will begin at 7:30 p.m. and the dance at 9

Tickets Obtained

Tickets for the dance may be obtained for $5.00 per couple from Lois Lackey, June Fehr, John Dohner, Richard Dexter, Hampton Pullis and Dorothy Rath. Chaperones for the closed dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank Voss, Mrs. Annadora Vesper and Mr. Eugene Shirk.

William Marlow, senior class president, has announced that the gift of the class to the college will be benches, similar to those along the walk from the Administration Building to the Chapel, to be placed around Sylvan Lake.

Degrees Awarded

Five honorary degrees will be awarded by President Masters at the commencement exercises. Receiving the degree of Doctor of Letters will be Doctor Carman, Mr. J. Paul Burkhardt, superintendent of Cumberland County schools; Mr. Leonard M. Miller, counseling specialist for the United States Department of Education; Mr. Dale H. Gramley, president of Salem Academy and College, Winston-Salem, N.C. The Doctor of Science degree will be awarded to Mr. J. Heber Parker, chairman of the board of the Carpenter Steel Company.

The academic procession for the baccalaureate service will begin at 10:45 a.m., and for the commencement exercises at 3:15 p.m. In the event of inclement weather the commencement exercises will be held in the auditorium of North-east Junior High School.

Commencement weekend will also feature the annual Alumni Day activities, Saturday, June 4.

English Fraternity Chooses Officers

Joyce Thompson was elected president of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, at the meeting held on Thursday, May 12. Other newly-elected officers for 1949-50 are James Malager, vice-president; Sarah Dayenport, secretary; and Doris Chamin, treasurer.

A graduate of Wyomissing High School, Miss Thompson is preparing for the teaching profession. This year she was secretary of Student Council, a cheerleader and a member of the International Relations and Spanish Clubs. She is majoring in Spanish and minoring in English.

Following the election of officers, the fraternity members read some of their favorite poems and discussed the lives and works of their favorite poets. Among the poets presented were Browning, Sandburg and Whitman.

New Adviser

Dr. Edith Douds Named Albrightian Adviser

Dr. Edith Douds, assistant professor of English, has been appointed next year's adviser for The Albrightian. She replaces Prof. Clyde Harding, who has served in this capacity for the past two years.

A graduate of the University of Mississippi, Doctor Douds received her master's degree there in 1926. In 1934 the new adviser received her Ph.D. degree from Cornell University. She has been an instructor at the University of Mississippi, William and Mary, Baylor College, Albright College and Wyomissing High School. She has had several articles published in the Cornell Ives and the Pennsylvania Language Association Bulletin.

Doctor Douds has traveled extensively throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and Europe. At the present time she holds membership in many organizations outside of Albright.

49 Roses to the Cue

Our thanks to the Editor and Staff of the 1949 "Cue" for publishing a wonderful book! We enjoyed every page of it.

To our office-sharers, brother-journalists, and fellow Albrightians — congratulations for a job well done!

Faculty, Students and City Residents' Contributions Help Drive Over Top

With $1252.62 already contributed and other receipts not finally tabulated, the minimum goal of $1200 for bringing two displaced persons to Albright College has been achieved. Credit is due the Albright students and faculty, the citizens of Reading and all others who contributed to the success of this drive.

The two European D. P. students who will study at Albright next year will be sent to the college by the World Student Service

Albrightian Given 2nd Class Rating In ACP Evaluation

The Albrightian received an overall Second Class Rating of "good" as a result of its entry in the first semester All-American critical service, Mary Fry, retired editor of The Albrightian, announced. This was the first time that the campus weekly was included in this type of evaluation, sponsored semi-annually by the Associated Collegiate Press.

52 in Class

Fifty-one newspapers, other than The Albrightian, were in the class of newspapers of colleges with enrollments from 500 to 999 students. Of these only nine received the All-American rating.

The Albrightian received an "excellent" rating for the vitality of its news stories, headlines, and the treatment and coverage of sports stories. A "very good" evaluation was given for news coverage, balance, treatment, originality, context and style of news stories, features, typography, front page make-ups, printing, editorial columns, editorial features and writing and display of sports stories. Evaluation of the second semester issues is in process now. Results of this evaluation will be published in the September issue of The Albrightian.

NOTICE

Students who have not already held conferences with their advisers are reminded that they must do so before Wednesday, May 25. It is especially important that seniors confer with their advisers to make sure that they have met all academic requirements for graduation. Present freshmen, sophomores and juniors need to have their schedules approved for next year.

Registration for the first semester of the 1949-50 term will take place in Union Hall next Wednesday.

Juniors and seniors will register between 9:00 and 12:00, while sophomores will register 2 to 4.

Fund, which is under the auspices of the Student Christian Movement. Other colleges and universities throughout the United States will also open their doors to foreign students.

Personal Soliciting

Through the personal soliciting of Stan Taub, an Albright student from Reading, over $400 was contributed by local citizens. The Albright faculty aided the drive through their Faculty Variety Show, held in Union Hall, on Friday, March 4. Two weeks later the students contributed by producing their own variety show. A substantial sum was received through the food concession at Stunt Night and the Sports Carnival. Mr. Frank Voss and his "record request" program, Milton Berle's program into the wee hours of the morning and the Albright Radio Workshop's original play by Walt Hayum all contributed to the success of the D. P. Drive.

Credit Due

Credit is also due the students who scrubbed floors, washed cars, mowed lawns and did other jobs and turned over half of their initial earnings to the D. P. Drive. Sports fans made a large donation at one of the basketball games during the past season. Other contributions were received from campus organizations such as the Y's, the Spanish Club and the French Club.

The total receipts for the D. P. Drive from the Mardi Gras and several other sources have not been finally tabulated. Although the minimum goal has been achieved, additional contributions will still be welcomed by the D. P. committee, in order to assure the European students a warm welcome to the Albright campus next fall.

Hangen To Speak At Alumni Dinner; Reunions Planned

Featuring the annual business meeting, class reunions and the Alumni Dinner, Alumni Day will be held on Saturday, June 4. Registrations must be sent to the Alumni Office no later than Wednesday, June 1.

Mr. Emerson Hangen, class of 1922, will speak at the Annual Alumni Dinner. Other special features are being planned. Classes which will hold reunions will sit together, at specified tables in the college dining hall.

Registration for Alumni Day will begin at 9 o'clock in Union Hall. The annual business meeting is scheduled for 10:45 a.m. in the College Chapel. From 12:15 to 1:15 p.m. a buffet luncheon will be served in Union Hall.

The Alumni Tea, in charge of the York Area Alumni Club, will be held at 3:30 p.m. in Union Hall. At the same time classes ending in four and nine will hold their reunions.

Two sports contests between the alumni and the varsity are scheduled. A tennis match will be played at 9 o'clock and a baseball game at 1:30 p.m.

Dr. George W. Frey, Jr., class of 1934, is chairman of Alumni Day. The executive secretary of the Alumni Association is Mr. Lester L. Stabler. Mr. Fred E. Luckenbill is president of the Alumni Association.

All Alumni are urged to return to Albright for commencement weekend and participate in the Alumni Day activities.

Albright Delegates Will Attend N S A Regional Confab

Doris Chamin, Joyce Thompson and Robert White will represent Albright College at the next semi-annual Pennsylvania Regional Conference of the National Student Association, to be held at the John Bartrum Hotel, Philadelphia, on June 16, 17 and 18.

Preparing Delegates

In addition to dealing with problems of regional policy and the implementation of intercollegiate projects on student government and welfare, effort will be directed toward adequately preparing delegates for attendance at the National N. S. A. Convention, to be held at the University of Illinois from August 24 to September 3. Doris Chamin and Robert White will be Albright's delegates to this convention.

Workshops to Meet

The problem of relationship with the International Union of Students, including the D. P. program, foreign correspondence, and work, travel and study abroad will confront this regional conference. It is expected that the recent National Executive Committee resolution on academic freedom will be discussed. The routing out of plans to receive and care for the European and displaced students who will be attending Pennsylvania colleges and universities next year will also be discussed. The agenda will include an Evaluation Workshop, through which delegates will have an opportunity to voice their opinions on the past work of N. S. A. and to contribute new ideas for improvements within the region.

Election of a new staff and a Leadership Workshop for the old and new officers will conclude the conference program.

Sports Banquet Wed.

Albright's annual sports banquet will be held this coming Wednesday evening from 6:15 to 8:00 p.m.

Parents' Weekend Activities Great Success

This year's Parents Weekend program, held from May 13-15, was a huge success, judging from the reactions of the parents, students and friends who were on campus at that time. Highlights were the Mardi Gras Friday night, coronation of the May Queen, and the Parents' Banquet and the Music Festival on Saturday and the tree-planting ceremony and worship service on Sunday.

Fun Friday Night

A large crowd was attracted to the campus by the side shows, concessions and other activities of the Mardi Gras. Among the main attractions were the A.P.O. minstrel show, the "Kappa Mouse," the Spanish Club show, the K.T.X. booth where one could "Duck the Dummy" and a stand where the students could "shoot" (with a pop gun) caricatures of Dean Levan P. Smith, the Rev. Eugene H. Barth and Prof. John W. Khouri. The concessions closed at 10 o'clock so that everyone could attend a dance in Union Hall, sponsored by the Displaced Persons committee.

Saturday morning the parents registered and attended a Coffee Hour in Selwyn Hall Parlor under the sponsorship of the Women's Student Senate. The annual May Day ceremonies were held at 2 o'clock on the lawn in front of the Alumni Memorial Library. Joyce Marcia Ruth, a home economics major from Reading, was crowned May Queen. An early American theme was carried out in the May Day festivities. Announcement was made of the appointment of Joyce Costenbader as Mistress of Ceremonies for the 1950 May Day and Grace Cunningham as Custodian of the Crown. From 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. there was open house in the dormitories.

Banquet Speeches

Dr. F. Wilbur Gingrich spoke at the Parents' Banquet in the College Dining Hall Saturday evening. The invocation was given by Prof. Eilery B. Haskell. Joan Laveson and James Gerhard welcomed the parents. The response of the parents was given by Mrs. Yudenfriend, aunt of Marilyn Himmelstein, and Doctor Pollack, father of Jane Pollack.

Inclement weather forced the Music Festival, scheduled for Albright Stadium, to be held in the Reading High School auditorium. The program featured the choruses and orchestras of Kutztown State Teachers College, Drexel Institute of Technology and Albright College.

Sunday Activities

Sunday morning after breakfast, the Pi Alpha Tau sorority held its annual Tree Planting Ceremony. Beverly Morgan, the newly-elected president, conducted the service. At 11 o'clock a worship service was held in Union Hall, with Rev. Mr. Barth speaking.

Joyce Thompson and Harold Matter served as co-chairmen for Parents' Weekend. Dick Dexter directed the Mardi Gras.

Today Is F-Day Minus Five

Today is F-Day minus five. By F-Day we are naturally referring to that time so fast approaching, Wednesday, May 25, when Albright's student body enter their "final" campaign for 1948-49. In the brief interim before the holocaust of examinations that often times makes us or breaks us, there should be some period taken in which to reflect and prospect as individuals, citizens, classes, and as a whole college. A tremendous number of history pages have been added this past year and many more are coming straight ahead.

Two facts have seemingly struck home this year on our campus. The first is that Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen have really worked together for the betterment of Albright, not just for themselves. Their idea has been "what can we do to make our college not only better, but the best possible; to raise the prestige of Albright in the eyes of the community and the collegiate world; and to more ably prepare ourselves for the future." Those who do not have this common spirit of being a part are in the minority. Examples of the results of the efforts put forth can be seen in Student Council, the "Y's", the sports teams, fraternities and sororities, the faculty and administration, etc. Albright is no longer exclusively Reading. Yet next year we can continue to do more in this line.

The second fact is that there has been an awakening of a realistic sense of responsibility to our college, to others, and to our world. We cannot live unto ourselves and we must have a purpose. This progress has come after a transition period between a war and comparative peace in which the world has striven for idealistic goals.

On our campus today we have veterans who fought, men and women who worked, and students who watched, all of whom have clear recollections of what has taken place in the critical last two decades. Next year's freshmen will bring very few memories other than those which are linked with war news. Not many will be able to say, "I was there."

To the approximately 175 graduating seniors this fact of responsibility and preparedness is sharper and more practical. They have come to the end of the road that leads to the main thoroughfare. They have given their best to Albright, and hope they have received the best from Albright, in order to be at their best in future areas of experience. For the remaining classes, especially for the juniors, there exists a big spot to fill.

So, to the Seniors, we dedicate this last issue of "The Albrightian" for 1948-49. To them, to the staff, and to every other student and the teachers, we say, in journalistic parlance,—30—
Now hit those tests!

We're Only Human

Well, here we are again—time for final examinations.

It's almost the end of another college year. Some of us will be graduating; others will be back again next year to pursue our education. Of course, we will have those final exams standing between us and summer vacation. Like New Year's resolutions, each year we promise ourselves to work harder, and each year we are found in the same worried predicament when May rolls around. Perhaps, too often, we blame the professors for making exams nerve racking, but no doubt if we studied more during the year, maybe we wouldn't find ourselves dreading the forthcoming weeks. But ah, there's always another year, nevertheless, carrying out our best-laid resolutions about studying. Didn't some one say that to err is human?

Well—guess that covers what I don't know.
Now,—where can I put 'em?

TREES; an Ode

In Blankety-Blank Verse

Together we have come,
A lot of places from;
We-all have formed a coterie,
To see the planting of a tree,
Silence have we now contrived,
For the moment has arrived;
Now let us all together say,
As we our sentiments convey:
"For shade and shadow and shelter from the sun,
We dedicate this tree;
For limbs and twigs and trunk and roots,
We dedicate this tree;
For blue-yellow leaves and black bark,
We dedicate this tree;
For foliage and fruit—apples or cherries, or lemons, or Chestnuts
We dedicate this rhododendron;
For the birds and the bees and the semi-wild life,
We dedicate this tree;
As a matter of fact, and subsequently—
We dedicate this tree, eloquently—
One hundred years now have passed,
And we're the biggest drips at last,
One hundred years we have planted trees,
With all sorts of names and pedigrees,
One hundred years—by George! One hundred trees;
Can't put another in, regardless how we squeeze!
One hundred years—a jungle we've got!
Have we any more room? We have not!
"For shade and shadow we've dedicated these trees;
And by now there ain't even any room to sneeze
For limbs and twigs and trunk and roots—
Of these we're far from destitute.
For leaves and black bark we've dedicated these trees,
Until nothing can get through—not even a breeze!
For the semi-wild life, bees and birds—
All these have come in droves and herds.
As a matter of fact, and subsequently—
We've sure dedicated these trees!"

—Don Repsher.

Science Slants . . .

Science Hall is filled these days with students busily finishing up their work for the year. In the Biology department, all are awaiting those final "Third Degree" quizzes and wishing that the next two weeks were over.

The Zoology class has seriously taken up the study of abnormal psychology. (Our guess is that they are merely trying to understand each other.) Betty Bratton has made advances in this field by applying the study to the behavior of snakes, and as a result, has decided that the lab snakes "pit" because they acquired a complex when they heard Jim Evans, Bob Flinger, and Elmer Umbenhauer harmonizing on Shorty Long's version of "Careless Hands".

There are a few gifts that I'm sure the class of 1949 would like to leave to the Science Department. To Dr. Horn, a thesis on how to better dissection the lower class students from going into pre-med work, and enough money with which to build a med school of his own; to Prof Green, a new pair of skes for his bird hikes; to Hollenback, no more Home Ec; and a General Psychology book; to Frank Ritter, a welcome back for the fine instruction this semester; to Prof Handorf, Joe Miller's newest Joke Book; to Prof Scoles, a lipstick remover; to Prof Danford, a bottle of Air Wick for the lab; to the lab assistants, many thanks for your guidance; and to all, a very pleasant summer.

Hea News . . .

Latest developments among the Home Ec students include a lecture by Kay Collins which she presented at a recent Mother and Daughter Banquet held by the Women's Guild of the Olivet Presbyterian Church. Kay's subject was "What's New in Textiles," and included a discussion of the progress which has been made in plasticized fabrics, and synthetic fabrics such as nylon and vinylite.

Hike, hike up the mountain. What for? Why food—naturally! Heo club had a "Sorry to See You Go" picnic for the seniors at Hampden Park but everyone was too busy eating to be sorry about anything. After the piles of ham sandwiches dwindled and the last of the tossed salad (topped with Miss Innis' special dressing) was eaten, chocolate milk and ice cream disappeared, and we settled on the comfortable benches to watch the seniors open their gifts. Then, it rained, as it usually does when picnic time rolls around, and Hampden Park was suddenly left as deserted as we found it.

And speaking of deserted places, the lab in the basement of the Ad building will be sad and lonely without the girls in white uniforms who used to swarm back and forth between the stoves and sinks. And the saddest part of all is that the senior Home Ec girls will not leave behind so much as a crumb for us to remember them by. Next year will perhaps bring new faces, but the same odors of liver and onions and spice cake will still invade the sanctity of history class when books open again, and the new batch of Home Ecers digs in. Good luck, seniors. Having spent four years learning the way to a man's heart, your futures are secured.

DANDY LION

In order to interview this week's Dandy Lion, it was necessary to make an appointment at least three hours in advance. Although she makes her headquarters at the Albrightian office, important business matters often call her away from campus, and since you'll of course want her autograph in your Cue, you had better start looking for Mary Fry immediately, for she is a busy person.

Mary, of the green eyes and warm smile, majors in sociology and social science and minors in psychology. It seems that these three courses would just about take all one's time, but our Dandy Lion manages to crowd into her schedule a number of extracurricular activities. Naturally enough, we will best remember Mary as editor of The Albrightian, a job which requires the ability to organize and to get along with people, and demands an endless amount of time, both night and day, week in and week out. Mary has been president of the Phi Beta Mu Sorority during this year and vice president of the Women's Student Senate. A member of the Glee Club, Mary also belongs to the Pi Gamma Mu, Future Teachers of America, and the Spanish Club. A member of the Court of Honor in the May Day festivities, she has been voted in the senior popularity contest, "the woman most likely to succeed," and an honor topping event this one was her selection by the faculty to represent Albright in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Mary is interested in working with the Young People's Society in her church, and in her spare moments (we can't possible imagine where these might be), she likes to play the piano and to keep up to date in her scrap book.

In the crystal ball, Mary sees in store for herself several years of teaching, then perhaps a school position connected with guidance or public relations.

And from your staff, Mary, the following: We have truly enjoyed being able to work with you. Experiences may have been rough at times, as is to be expected, but we hope you will best remember along with us those many pleasant times The Albrightian has afforded us. We sincerely wish you the best of everything. You certainly deserve it.

Kentucky, California, India; Which Is Your Direction?

And when the last trunk lid slams shut, where will you be heading? To Kentucky, California, India, Puerto Rico? Will you be sightseeing, slaving over a hot desk, learning a new language, or just soaking up sun? This summer, Albrightians will be found in all kinds of places and situations, and we thought it might make interesting reading.

Perhaps the biggest news is Bill Marlow's trip to India. He will be studying the language at Hartford, Connecticut during the latter part of the summer, and then on or about September 1, he will leave for three years of student work in India. During their stay, they will be of an inter-denominational group of fifty who will be teaching and working with young people there. We're proud of you, Bill. Albright won't be the same without you, but for India (and only for India), we'll give you up.

Flying off in another direction, will be Jane Roney and Helen Sieber. Accompanied by Miss Rodriguez and their Spanish Dictionaries, they will leave on August 16th for a month in Puerto Rico. During their stay, they will live with Miss Rodriguez, and through sight seeing tours and general contact with Spanish speaking people, they hope to improve their Spanish. We commend them for their bravery, for in such a situation, one can easily starve to death. However, they have our best wishes, and may they return con maestria de la lengua.

Taking up where other Albrightians left off last summer is a group of young men whose destination will be Red Bird Mission, Kentucky. They will work on rehabilitating the homes of the people in the area, and in the mission itself. And of course, if there are any cows around that need help, the experiences of last summer will undoubtedly be of value. The list of Kentucky-bound Albrightians so far is Percy Brown, Gordon Farscht, Devere Pomeroy, Jack Snook, Ed Yarnell, and Charles Klingner. So long, fellows, we all hope you-all and the boll weevils have a right nice time.

There are always people around Albright who go all out for the institution of marriage, and this summer is no different. Jumping into the sea of matrimony are Nancy Matten and Charles Crouse, Wilson Dickert and his Joyce, and Arlene Shell and Ralph Wagner, to mention a few. Nancy and Charlie, and Wilson and Joyce will live in Reading, while Arlene and Ralph head for Syracuse, N. Y.

So you see, it doesn't matter much where you go, you will probably bump into somebody from Albright. Barbara Knauer will be in California in August, and Dave Bailey in Ohio at the Flatrock Children's Orphanage. To all, we say "Have a grand vacation" and to the seniors, "Good luck, and let us hear from you now and then—we'll miss you!"

Al Harnly Sets Lone Record In Middle Atlantic Track Meet

Cappel, Brenner Also Place in Finals; Lebanon Valley, Scranton Meets Next

With Al Harnly setting the lone new record of 201 ft. 7 ins. in the javelin throw, three Albright representatives won further honors for the Red and White at the Middle Atlantic track and field meet at Gettysburg last week. Harnly had previously erased an Albright record in earlier meets with heaves of 186, 191, and 194 ft., the latter toss giving him second in the Penn. Relays.

Besides (What'll he do next!?) Harnly's new mark, which eclipsed the previous record of 195 ft. 8 ins., Albright's sophomore spearman Lee Cappel finished fifth in the javelin throw.

Howie Brenner, after qualifying for the finals in his event, the broad jump, made a leap that took sixth place in the meet. The tall, blond-haired leap frog artist also finished fourth in the semi-finals of the 100-yard dash.

Repeating last year's performance, St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia, won the meet by a one and two-sevenths points margin over second-place Lafayette. Swarthmore was third, Franklin and Marshall fourth, and LaSalle fifth in the team scoring.

Double Winner Grosholz

The meet's lone double winner was Haverford's Jim Grosholz, who won the 880-yard run and the mile. Russ Einder of Ursinus captured the 100-yard dash, St. Joe's John Kelly retained the two-mile run championship, and Tom Foley, of St. Joseph's, won the 220-yard low hurdles to round out the track events.

Muhlenberg's Russ Strait garnered the shot put and LaSalle's Jim Tuppeny won the pole vault with a 12' 3" leap.

Harnly's 202-foot is the second best heave registered this year in the nation. The Drake Relay winner had a 208 mark. Nearest rival to Al is Bob Kirk of North Carolina with a 200 ft. toss. Last year a Finn won the Olympics by throwing the spear 228 ft. Al's hopes for entering the 1952 Olympics at Melbourne look bright.

Preceding the Albright-F. and M. baseball game on tomorrow's home sports card will be a dual meet with the Lebanon Valley Dutchmen at 1:30 p.m. The meet, featuring a final half-mile relay event, will be the first Lion-Dutchmen clash on any track field. Lebanon Valley's outstanding performer will be Truman Cassel, dash man and second-best broad jumper in the recent Middle Atlantic Meet; while Kenneth Kirkpatrick, who tied for fourth in the

Batdorf Sets New Golfing Low; Aids In Nipping Devils

Yocum, Dunlop Score In Scranton Loss

Setting a new low score in Albright's golfing history, diminutive Bob Batdorf went the rounds of the local Berkshire Country Club for a four under-par 68 against Dickinson last Monday to spark the Lions to a 6-3 victory. Batdorf's unlucky victim was Jim George, the Red Devil's top linksmen. Other winners in Coach Harry Merkle's lineup were Earl Langford, 75; Johnny Yocum, 76; and Art Dunlop, 79. The Red and White now have 5-5 record.

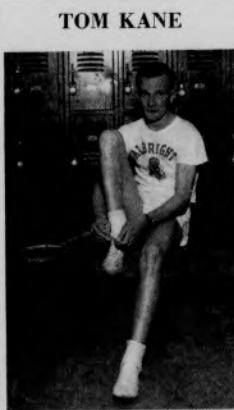

Tables were turned on the Lion's Golfmen, Thursday, May 12, as they suffered a 6-3 defeat at the hands of the Scranton Royals. Lone pointmakers for the Red-and-White were John Yocum with a 79, and Art Dunlop with a 75.

Batdorf (A), defeated George, 1-0; Yocum (A), defeated Dick Lane, 1-0; Art Dunlop (A) 79, defeated Joe Burgoon, (81), 1-0; Langford (A) defeated John Hatfield, 1-0; Russ Roberts (D), defeated Joel Gilbert, 1-0; Jim Wyand (D), defeated Sterling Rickenbach, 1-0. Albright won best ball two and Dickinson one.

Last Tuesday another Lion golfer, Johnny Yocum, set a record below par 32 score on the 36 par course of the Green Hill Country Club.

Bloom's Proteges Balance Books In Home Stretch

Seek Two More Victories Against Drexel, Alumni in Final Matches

TOM KANE

TALL TENNISER

Snaring their last three consecutive matches by convincing 9-0 counts, Albright's red-hot netmen balanced the season's books at seven wins, seven losses, and one tie when they topped Ursinus last Friday and Moravian on Tuesday by the shut-out method.

Ursinus's hapless crew found little to cheer about when coach Leo Bloom's men executed a clean sweep of all the singles and doubles matches. In fact, the Red and White lost only one set as the Collegeville's Dick Lytle and Paul Jones extended Jay Shenk and John Dohner before bowing 4-6, 6-3, 6-3. As usual it was a powerhouse six in Jim Mengel, Tom Kane, Bob Ruoff, Paul Kissinger, Dohner, and Shenk that provided the wins for Albright.

Reach .500 Mark

On Tuesday the Lions ran through a Moravian team that failed to garner even one set. The Bloom boys, who never looked better, repeated an earlier season 7-2 conquest as they reached the .500 mark for the first time this season.

Next Wednesday the Albright Racketeers entertain a loaded Drexel tennis team here and then finish the 1949 campaign against a strong Alumni Saturday, June 4, at 9 a.m. Cavorting for the grads will be such former stand-outs as Alan McCarroll, Willis Heisey, Doctor Harold Zehner, and a host of other one-time greats.

After a rather slow start it appears as if the net men will live up to pre-season expectations as they come galloping into the home stretch with a basket full of victories.

Gals Drop Fracas

To Ursinus Team

The diamond debts rolled off to a slow start behind a well turned out Ursinus delegation on last Wednesday. A valiant push set Albright one marker behind the Collegeville co-eds in the fourth inning, but they ended by dropping the game 12-6. Each year the red-shirts have put up a better showing, but they fell short of victory again, though marked improvement was shown.

Marge Zeock and Jean Magee led the lassies in the score box with two tallies apiece. The battery belles, Jean Schwartz and Janet Price, proved to be a working combination for freezing runs. The debts hit several healthy swats into the glove of their short center, but our own Debby Bedding had three outs for Albright in that spot. On the opposite side orchids are due to "Moe" Mayer for a well pitched game and three markers for Ursinus.

Spirit ran high throughout the contest. A fan sized turnout of lusty-throated spectators gave free criticism of the umpires accusations. The debts expect to sparkle in their last showing this year when they journey to Jenkintown to meet a Beaver College challenge on Monday.

Roney Chosen New

W. A. A. President

Jane Roney, newly elected president of the Women's Athletic Association, together with other newly elected officers was inducted into office at a banquet held at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room last evening.

Other officers are vice president, Margaret Zeock; secretary, Charlotte Winner; and treasurer, Jean Magee. Cleta Rein will represent the senior class, Nancy Stump the Juniors, and Joan Betty Peck the sophomores on the cabinet next year.

The retiring cabinet is Jean Schwartz, president; vice president, Jean Long; secretary, Jane Roney; and treasurer, Anna Lauver. Sylvia Hoppaugh represented the senior class; Gletty Rein, the juniors; Jean Magee the sophomores, and Barbara Wrisley, the freshmen.

KTX Takes Second Place in Playoff

The amazing KTX softball team pulled the lever on a four-game win streak and came up with a jackpot of undisputed second-place in the National League of intra-mural softball. Latest routs which split the three-way tie by the saintly sluggers were a 15-11 victory over the Hot-Shots and a 12-8 win over the Baby Lions. Pitcher Klinger hurled both wins for the KTX.

Jim Harring had a perfect day for the angel-wingers against the Baby Lions with three for three, one of them a homer. Highlight of the game was a homer in the first inning by KTX third-sacker Shall with the bases loaded.

Daymen—Pi Taus Series

Coming from behind in the sixth inning, the Pi Taus won the first game of the series, 6 to 4, with Ray Chelius hurling. Paul Kohl led the batting attack with three hits.

With both batters giving up one hit apiece, the Daymen evened the series in one of the best games of the year as they won the second, 1-0. Third Sacker Pete Rothermel and pitcher Mort Witman starred in the brilliant defensive play for the Daymen, with Jim Dougherty getting his mate's lone hit. Fasheller Bruce Reber was credited with the loss for the frat.

meet at G-burg, will demonstrate his winning high jump form.

Next on the roster of track events is a dual meet with the Scranton Royals, Tuesday, May 24, on the foreign track. The Shirk-men hope to repeat last year's prophetic 70 1/2 - 55 1/2 win, which was the first meet they had capped in three long years. Sprinck Bob McDowell, who has been clocked at 9.7 on the 100-yd. dash this year, will be the opponent's chief performer.

Tossers Vs. F & M Here On Saturday Record Now Stands At 7 Wins, 6 Losses

After pulling out only one victory in their last three starts, the Lions are preparing to take on G-burg this afternoon and F. & M. on Saturday in their own den.

Although a lot of effort will be used to make the "Bullets" backfire, the main objective will be to subdue the Lancaster aggregation who landed us a 17-0 slaughtering last season.

Although he struck out nine batters and gave up only six hits and one free base, Danny Bieber was unfortunately credited with a 6-0 loss to the Greyhounds from Moravian. Four runs in the first and second innings on one single bagger and five errors started the ball rolling for the Greyhounds, who added their two other runs in the fifth and ninth innings. Big guns behind the bat for the Lions were tall Jim Fromuth and Emmett Glass, each with two clouts for four attempts.

Gottfried Shines

George Baumgaertel showed his neighbors from City of Brotherly Love how to control the spheroid in his 7-1 win over Drexel. He not only pitched three-hit ball after relieving Martone, but slapped in two runs with two triples. The fielding support behind him was the only outshine by the big sticks of Glass, Fromuth, and Krotho, who all had two for five at the plate.

Lack of hitting power caused Paul Muller's five hitter to slip

As the last chapter of college life nears the end for some thirty Red and White athletes, it seems fitting that we give a final glance to those lads and lassies who helped make up the mighty roar of Albright's fighting Lions in every field of sports the last four years. True, these flashy seniors were not always led to the winner's circle, but if there were a place where the will to win and good sportsmanship was rewarded, the signs would read "standing room only" as far as Albright's senior section would be concerned.

Leading the Cats' football machine last fall was curly Cupt. Mike Plaskonos. This rugged fullback was given top-notch support by some other huskies in the form of Larry Delewski, and Elmer Davis. More Red and White pigskin toters of the past four years include Dick Hagmyer, Gerry Schaeffer, and Tony Morfy.

Out on the basketball court was the year's most valuable player, Hops Guldin, along with Mort Witman, Elmer Davis, and Johnny Yocum. Joe Kubisen led the Albright J. V. five on a successful year. Jim Delp, Emmett Glass, Mook Guss, and Gene Shorler-Singer, were all seen cavorting under the Red and White banner, at one time or another during their college life.

Outstanding Trackmen

Outstanding on the cinders was reliable Fred Roland. Also found roaming the cross-country course, Roland nabbed more than his share of points for the Shirkmen. Joe Kubisen starred in the field events with the shot put being his specialty.

Among the missing netmen next year will be Captain John Dohner and Alex Zervanos. Again the records may not have been too impressive, but the racket game is rapidly developing into one of the campus' bigger sports, thanks to away to the Bears of Ursinus by a 3 to 2 score. Early inning chances of piling up runs went into the winds as a total of eight men died on base. Millard crossed the platter in the first inning after having walked, pilfered second, and scampered home on Jesse Ervin's powerful single. Our other tally came in the ninth on Glass' long fly to left to score Muller. Paul had a big day at the plate with two for four, along with the slugging midgets Delp and Millard. The Bears gathered their runs in the eighth on Dick Cherry's dragbunt double and a few untimely miscues.

Remember the password — "Revenge for that 17-0 beating last year."

the surge of the tennisers the last couple of years.

The Lions' baseball team found three heavy hitters in third baseman Emmet Glass and outfielders Jim Delp and Steve Beyerle for the past two seasons. Also handy with the bat during past seasons' campaigns were Gerry Schaffer, and Bob Stapleton.

Of course we're not forgetting the girls of this 1949 class who were found at one time or another on the field hockey grounds, the basketball court, the baseball diamond, or the tennis court. Included among these truly all-rounders were Elaine Huber, Ann Lauver, Jean Long, Jean Schwartz, Sylvia Hoppaugh and Helen Sieber. Especially during this past year did the Lionesses rack up win after win in all fields of sports.

Basketball Manager

Lastly, credit is due to Nick Sheetz, the redoubtable basketball manager for the past couple of years. Always on the job, Nick really had the fouls and field goals well under control at all times.

Well, that looks like it. Quite a list of great athletes that was. And before the commencement speakers get hold of the group, along with all the seniors, to tell about the cruel, hard world they're entering, we give one last "Hurrah!" and a big "thank you" to all you senior sportsmen and sportswomen for really making up the backbone of teams of which Albright can really be proud.

You might think a runner who trains on upside-down cake would gallop around on his hands.

But that's not the case with Albright's all-around trackster, Fred Roland, who is currently running and winning mile and two-mile grinds on the Red and White roster. The tall, dark-haired, bespectacled legman doesn't rest content with that, but dabbles in the 440, and the 880-yard runs, all on his muscled, lanky legs.

The upside-down cake is, however, the lighter side of Fred's training schedule. Rain or shine, Fred runs. And what runs! Up at 6 a.m. during the summer, Fred—in a sweat-suit and sneakers—sets out, running a dizzy and somewhat strenuous course over the Mt. Penn Skyline. If not the Skyline, he directs his huge frame on the Pricetown Road, jogging along the lengthy cement until he's tired.

That's the sort of stuff that overruns Fred's schedule during the off-season period. During the regular track and field season, he sticks to what Coach Shirk says.

Fred came to Albright from Reading High School where he ran varsity for two years. The high jump, 440, 880 and even the mile received his attentions. Fred was pacing the cross-country teams even in his high school career and got into a comfortable groove as evidenced by his brilliant hill and dale running at Albright.

Daymen Snare Softball Crown

Breaking a 4-4 tie in the eighth inning with an eight run blast, the blazing Daymen took another crown into their gleaming array, this time copping the three game playoff of the intramural softball leagues from the American League champions, the Pi Taus. Both entered the series undefeated.

Mort Witman, hurling seven hit ball, won the deciding third game from speedy Ray Chelius, who had snared the opener 6-4. Witman had won the second fray on a one hitter, 1-0.

Limiting the Daymen to only five hits, Chelius, nevertheless, let the victors tally three runs in the fourth to deadlock the contest, until the fateful eighth. The Pi Taus lost a chance to sew the ball game up in the seventh when with one out and Kohl on by means of an error, and Pullis on third after a bingle, Reber popped out to Witman in an attempted bunt. Witman then doubled Pullis off third after he started home without tagging up.

In that climactic eighth, Chelius walked in the first run, Pete Rothermel, after loading the bases with Daymen. With one run rubbed out at home on a forced play, Witman, and Paul Siegfried walked into home plate by virtue of two more free passes. Werley and Dougherty scored on a Scolastico smash. A bad peg by relief pitcher Reber let Scolastico and Bunny Witman tally, while the final run came in on a single by Angstadt.

The Pi Taus could do nothing in their half, as Mogel struck out, Chelius went out on a long fly and Harkness popped to the infield.

Frosh and Juniors Win Easy Victory

A power-laden junior-freshmen softball combine made mincemeat out of a try-hard team of seniors and sophomores last Wednesday afternoon, as they piled up a 24-6 score. With Jane Pollack and Doris Chanin sharing the pitching honors, the winners tallied in every inning except the first and sixth, the big frames coming in the second and fifth. In those innings ten and eight runs were racked up, including homers by the moundswomen, Chanin and Pollack. Although splitting the losing chores, Elly Spring and Mary Swartz scored two runs, Swartz on a four bagger.

Ed and Gwen Engaged

The Albrightian extends congratulations to Gwendolyn Bachman and Ed Anlian, who recently announced their engagement. Miss Bachman, who graduated from Mt. Penn High School in 1945, is working as a secretary in Reading. Anlian, an Albright junior, hails from Union City, N. J.

Paul Mueller, a four-year old; Art Diaz, gangster and drunk, and Jerry Pedota, wife-beater, were uproarious in their roles.

Albright Grads Relate Venture

Interviewed by Beverly Bresler liberal arts college education doesn't exactly equal one to supervise the teachers of 20,000 pupils, translate science, hygiene, language and other textbooks from English into Kikongo, run a printing shop and a store, do all the bookkeeping for a mission, and solve all the million and one problems that occur every day during life 700 miles inland in the Belgian Congo.

Yet if one has the pioneering urge, the spirit of service and love of God in his heart, he can accomplish all these things, and enjoy doing it tremendously.

The spirit of love and confidence that emanated from Chet and Margaret Jump, just back from four years at a Baptist mission in Africa, proved for us that this is so. Albright alumni, the Jumps are supervising the native teachers in the schools in their area, which run from first to sixth grade.

They also have training schools for the sixth grade graduates who wish to become nurses, storekeepers, etc. The jungles are not as wild as we might imagine, for Lever Brothers have a palm oil plant there, and have built good roads, over which American food is imported.

Last year the famous Dr. Lanch visited the mission to demonstrate his revolutionary method of teaching language.

Last Broadcast June 4, 5:15 P.M.

The Albrightian's weekly radio news broadcast, "What's News at Albright," directed by Nan Heckman and announced by Hal Matter, will put on its final program on Alumni Day, Saturday, June 4, over station WHUM. Time for the broadcast has been changed to 5:15 p.m. instead of the previous 5:45 spot. The change takes effect with this Saturday's program.

During the year "What's News at Albright" has brought to the listening audience interviews with campus personalities, on the spot broadcasts of college activities, and special recordings of United Nations committee proceedings, besides the regular rundown of Albrightian news.

On WUEU next Thursday afternoon, the Radio Workshop will bring the concluding presentation, directed by Walter Hayum.

NSA Requesting Federal Provisions

The National Student Association, which represents 700,000 students in 289 colleges and universities, has called upon Congress to enact legislation providing for a national program of federally-financed scholarships for approximately 300,000 college students.

The program would provide for direct support of individuals on the basis of need and ability, and would be administered by the states without discrimination.

The purpose of the program is to remove economic barriers to education, and to enable our most competent youth to obtain the maximum benefits to be granted from higher education.
