Y's Plan WSSF Week

Program To Include Sport's Carnival

February 16 and 20 has been designated as Albright's World Student Service Fund Week, Evelyn Kressler and Robert Myers, presidents of the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. announced this week. The campaign is designed to raise funds for the aid of foreign students and universities.

A tentative program has been set up for this special week. It will consist of a guest speaker, a special "Y" meeting by the World Relatedness Commission and the traditional Sport's Carnival.

The following committees were appointed to plan and promote the campaign: administration, Consuelo Rodriguez Jordan; publicity, Phoebe Hunter; special events, James Barrett; and solicitation, James Buch.

When asked about the importance of this week, a fellow student replied, "Since we, as American students and faculty, are part of the world university community, it is our responsible duty in this international community to aid all students who are in misery and need. We must lend a hand to those who are trying to help themselves. This means demonstrating a generous sense of partnership with them."

A W.S.S.F. representative mentioned a few specific ways in which Albright's funds could be used in aiding foreign students. He stated that $400 will cover costs of one X-ray examination for a student in the Delhi Clinic, $350.00 will provide full assistance for one refugee student in Paris for a year, and $250.00 will give full urgently needed equipment.

Courtmen To Meet Conference Rivals

Albright College's varsity basketballers will play their third game of the week tomorrow night as they travel to Annville to take on Lebanon Valley as both teams launch their 1953 Western Division Middle Atlantic States Conference campaign.

The Lions will next meet St. Joseph's of Philadelphia on Wednesday, January 14, at home, as the two schools renew their basketball relations.

Lebanon Valley will be out to avenge an overtime 77-75 upset loss administered by the Lions last January 12. Jim Croke earned the hero's role by sinking a field goal to put the game into an extra period besides dropping in the winning bucket with 15 seconds to go.

In their encounter at Annville on February 6, last year, the Dutchmen battered Albright 84-67 to square the books in Conference competition.

John Doogen will lead the St. Joseph's Hawks here next Wednesday in an attempt to get back into the win column, after losing to Temple at Philadelphia's Convention Hall.

Doogen, 6 foot 6 pivot man, is the mainstay of the Hawks, and is expected to give Coach Eddie Gulian's squad a hard time.

The Lion starting five will probably consist of co-captains Connie Dettling and George Amole, Mike DePaul, Bill Spaide and Kenny Nase.

Student Council Dance Opens New Social Year

Tonight the Student Council social committee will sponsor its first dance of the new year. It will be held in Krause Hall from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m., reported Robert Bieler, committee chairman. Again music will be furnished by America's top bands, and refreshments will be served at intermission.

Faculty Approves Local Advertising For Publications

The faculty committee on student publications made known recently its approval of the use of advertising in both the Albrightian and Cue. This decision makes it possible for both the student publications to use local advertising as a means of augmenting their budgets and marks the first time in many years that advertising was sanctioned by the school.

Publications Lay Plans

Immediately after Dr. Samuel B. Shirk, faculty advisor for both publications, made the decision known; representatives of both groups met to lay plans for the new undertaking. An advertising code of ethics will be drawn up by members of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, before advertising is launched by either group.

Applications Accepted

At the same time, Nancy Geissler, business manager of The Albrightian and Eugene Lang, associate editor of the Cue, announced that they will accept applications from anyone desirous of serving on the advertising staffs of either publication. Notification of the willingness to serve should be made to Miss Geissler or Lang by Wednesday, January 14.

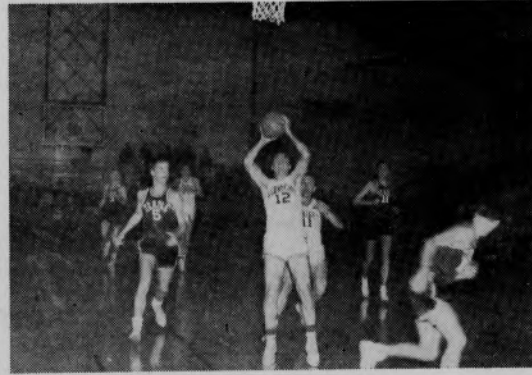

Council Hears New Proposal On Representation System; Student Code of Ethics Submitted For Approval

Discussion of the representation in the revision of the Student Council constitution was continued at the meeting on Tuesday. Donald Grisby, Kappa Upsilon Phi representative, moved that the representation remain the same in the revision. During the discussion of this motion Ray Weitzel, daymen representative, presented a proposal for a new system of representation which would limit the total membership of council to eighteen.

In elaborating the plan, Weitzel showed that it called for a reduction in representation of the fraternities and sororities by half, thus bringing the number from the present total of twelve to six. The daymen's and daywomen's representation would each be reduced from the present number of five to two, while the dorm men and dorm women representation would remain at two, all of these being limited to non-fraternity, non-sorority representation. To complete his total number Weitzel's plan called for the election of four representatives by the whole student body.

Weitzel stated that a smaller council would work more efficiently and progressively. He also felt that electing representatives at large would allow for representation in council to be more versatile and would also tend to attract the best leaders of the campus into council.

Temple Reverses Basketeers, 61-54; Gulianmen Suffer Third Setback

Pictured above is Co-Captain George Amole (12) as he attempts to score at the Albright-Temple game Wednesday night in the new gymnasium. Other Albright players in background are Ken Nase (11) and Connie Dettling (22). The Lions fought back in this third quarter to cut down the margin to five points, 42-37. However, they were set back with the final score being 61-54.—(Albrightian Staff Photo.)

Third-Quarter Drive Falls Short for Lions

Albright's hard-fighting basketball aggregation suffered their third defeat of the season against one victory last Wednesday evening when they were subdued by Temple University, 61-54, in the new gymnasium. The Owls, who have taken five out of their last six contests against some of the finest inter-sectional competition, showed their class in the first half and fourth period to take the victory home to Philadelphia.

Harry Silcox, shifty forward, and Al Didriksen, chunky guard, set the pace for the visitors with 15 and 17 points apiece. John Kane, big pivot man, tallied four field goals and as many fouls for a 12-point total. Albright's biggest threat was little Mike DePaul, who had his best night at home with 16 points. Bill Spaide, another freshman performer, showed good form under the boards and also popped in 11 markers, mostly on tap-ins.

The Red and White were behind by only five points at the quarter, 16-11, but with the Lion second string in the contest in the second period, the Owls began to pull away, using their height and fast-breaking speed to good advantage. Silcox and Didriksen did the most damage in this period as the visitors held the homesters to only six points while rolling up a 32-17 margin.

With the first array back in the game, the Red and White began to cut down the margin. A one-hander from the side by co-capt. George Amole brought them to within five points, 42-37, but this was as close as they came, and the tally at the third-quarter mark read 45-39. But the Red and White's rally petered out in the fourth quarter when, with the score 51-45, the Owls iced the decision with nine straight points. This accounted for a 60-45 edge before Connie Dettling could hit the hoop for Albright on a two-handed pivot shot. The hosts put on another surge to make the final count 61-54, against Owl subs.

In the preliminary contest, the Lion Cubs rang up an easy 59-42 win over the CIO of Reading. It was their second consecutive triumph.

Dr. A. W. Gottschall To Speak Before Chapel

A conference on Christians and Jews will be presented in Chapel by Dr. A. W. Gottschall on Tuesday, January 13.

On Thursday, Mayor James B. Bamford of Reading spoke on his year's experience as a chief executive. Mayor Bamford also addressed Albright students last year. Shirley Haskin and James Barrett, co-chairmen of the Student Council chapel committee were in charge of the program.

"Way to Purposeful Living" was the central theme of Rev. Eugene H. Barth's chapel address on Tuesday. He stressed that by finding the key to unity and following a master pattern, we can live in harmonious accord.

Tuition To Rise Second Semester

Effective the second semester of the present academic year, tuition rates at Albright College will be increased $25.00 per semester. This brings the total tuition for each semester to $275.00. The increase was announced by the board of trustees of the college in order to help meet operating costs. It is in no way connected with the purchase of new buildings.

It was noted that operation costs have increased 100% during the last 10 years, tuition at Albright has only made an increase of 56% since 1938. The last raise in rates was made in September 1951 when

Cue Requests Informal Photos Of Campus Scenes

To complete a special view section of the 1953 Cue, snapshots will be needed, Patricia Miller, "Informalities" editor, announced this week. Students who have clever, or true-to-life photos depicting campus scenes are invited to submit them to the editor for selection.

The snapshots may be any size, preferably glossies, and should be submitted in an envelope with the photographer's name thereon. Ronald Schlossberg, photographic editor and Miss Miller will make the selection. All photos must be submitted before January 23.

Code of Ethics Submitted

Grisby also reported that the judiciary committee formulated and submitted to faculty and administration a code of conduct and ethics for the judiciary committee. The code is as follows:

Article I

In accordance with the powers established in the constitution of the Student Council of Albright College, the Judiciary Committee of the Student Council hereby establishes the following Code of Conduct and Student Ethics for all Albright students.

Section 1. All intoxicating beverages, gambling, immoral practices, malicious destruction of property and violation of established school rules will not be permitted.

Section 2. Any conduct detrimental to Albright College or any conduct unbecoming an Albright student will not be tolerated.

Mary Jane Titlow, daywomen representative, again questioned why the students could not receive a schedule of the courses, the instructors and the books which are to be used a few days in advance of registration day so that they would be able to plan their schedule more effectively. This request was made twice before by council at which time no action was taken by the administration. Pres. James Buch then said that he would again investigate the matter and report to council next week.

Intramural Basketball Opens With 2 Leagues, 18 Teams

Several Teams Boast Winning Streaks

The winter intramural basketball program got under way last December 15th with eight games, four in each loop. Sixteen teams were represented at the organizational meeting; hence, Coach Bobby Hicks organized two loops with eight teams in each league.

Four fraternities are being represented by two teams each, one in each league. They are A.P.O.'s, Kappa's, Zeta's and Pi Tau's. The other, Frosh and the Aces; while the four remaining teams in the "B" league are the Hot Shots, F.B.I.'s, Rockets and Keglers.

In the "A" league are the games played on December 15th and January 5th. The APO's, Zeta's and Pi Tau's all got off to good starts by winning a pair of games each. The only other two teams to pick up wins were the Kappas over KTX. The scores of the games in the "A" league follow:

December 15—APO's 56, KTX 16; Zetas' 45, Rebels' 26; Pi Tau's 1, Frosh 0, (forfeit); Kappa's 27, Aces 26.

January 5—APO's 41, Rebels 26; Zetas' 53, Aces 24; Pi Tau's 35, Kappa's 28; Frosh 38, KTX 16.

The Kappa's and F.B.I.'s are currently leading the "B" circuit with two wins each however, the Keglers also are undefeated, although they only played one game. The APO's "B" team has split its two games so far. Two games were scheduled last night in which the Hot Shots were pitted against the Keglers and the Zeta's "B" against the Rockets. The scores of the game in the "B" league follow:

December 15—Kappa's "B" 25, Rockets 23; F.B.I.'s 32, Zeta "B" 26; Keglers 93, Pi Tau's "B" 17; APO's "B" 32, Hot Shots 14.

January 5—Kappa's "B" 27, Pi Tau's "B" 7; F.B.I.'s 28, APO's "B" 19.

Postcard Collection Added To Library

Miss Josephine Raeppl, librarian, recently said that the library is successfully building up a picture post card collection of the U. S., Canada and Europe. Many students are borrowing the cards to illustrate travel talks.

The library is also getting along with its collection of reprints of famous artists' works. They represent the various schools of art, and many are classed as excellent reproductions. Both the post cards and the reprints may be taken out from the library.

Dr. Shirk Is Speaker

Dr. Samuel B. Shirk was guest speaker at a Watch Night Service held December 31 in the Christ U. E. B. Church. The theme of his speech was "Ring Out Wild Bells." Ivan Moyer, '54, was in charge of the worship service, replacing his father who is pastor of Christ Church.

Novel Notes

by Norm

Men At War

The best war stories of all times in a collection with an introduction by Ernest Hemingway.

The stories in this book are tales of war, what it is like, how it is won or lost through great or small things, with the courage and fear of humans pictured vividly through the ages by the many well known story-writers that have contributed to this striking book.

There are tales of the French Crusade (1249-1250 A. D.), The First World War, The Battle of Shiloh and many others all broken down into sections with the headings such as "War Is Part of the Intercourse of the Human Race"; "War Is Fought by Human Beings" and many others.

This is an interesting and important book giving its readers a glance at the immense chess of war through an orderly window.

The Sex Habits of Modern Woman

An analysis of modern woman's repressions, frustrations, inhibitions and other emotional complexes, with illustrative graphs for better understanding.

The object of this book is to replace misinformation with scientific truths of complicated and intimate subjects which are treated in such a manner that all of its readers may understand and so that no one will be offended. A well written, informative non-fiction for the thinking members of both sexes.

Perversity by Francis Carco.

A cheap novel of life in the lower depths of Paris that is not worth the paper that it has taken to print this tale of sadistic pleasures with a Parisian prostitute and her fear-ridden brother with an ending in death and despair.

From the Varsity News, University of Detroit:

I serve a purpose in this school on which no man can frown—I quietly sit in every class and keep the average down.

Sororities, Fraternities Name Committees, Induct Pledges

At the last meeting of the Phi Beta Mu sorority, Monday night, Patricia Miller, president of the organization, announced committee heads for the second semester. They are: Valentine tea for the PAT's—Dorothy DeLaney, chairman, Eleanor Dick and Bethlyn Emmett; cake sale—Roberta Crimbring and Carole Althouse, co-chairmen; Stunt Night—Barbara Ravel, Phoebe Hunter and Patricia Miller; Sports Carnival—Barbara Smith and Patricia Upczak; Mardi Gras—Barbara Farris, chairman, Ruth Fry, Kathryn Lyttle and Joan Nielson; spring dance—Patricia Kennedy, chairman, Micheline Cacciola, Kathleen Carls and Ann Stahlnecker; and rummage sale—Julia Leinbach, chairman.

Also announced at the meeting was the appointment of Kathleen Carls to be in charge of Cue snapshots.

Pi Alpha Tau

Elizabeth Martin, president of Pi Alpha Tau sorority, appointed Jean Filbert and Jean Dirmitt to plan for the group's participation in Sport's Night. Plans were also begun for Stunt Night.

Martha Little presented a report on the selling of basketball programs at the home games.

DANDY LION

Dandy Lion of the week is the vivacious and versatile president of the Women's Student Senate, Betty Martin. An active senior from West Leesport, Betty will graduate with a psychology major and a sociology minor.

Wielding the gavel at W. S. S. meetings is not her only chore, she also serves as president of Pi Alpha Tau sorority, secretary of the Y.W.C.A. and secretary of the class of 1953.

Her future plans include a job as flight stewardess with either TWA or Eastern Airlines.

Varsity Letters Awarded To 23 Football Track Men

Y's To Plan Future Activities

On Tuesday the combined "Y's" will meet in Krause Hall at 7:30 p. m. in the form of four committee groups to plan future activities of the respective groups. They are "Christian Faith and Heritage," "World Relatedness," "Social Responsibility," and "Personal and Campus Affairs."

Last Tuesday night, a fireside chat was held in the homes of various faculty members. Rev. Eugene Wetzel and Rev. Eugene Barth spoke. The topic of discussion for the group was, "Are Albright Students Becoming Apathetic?"

Vespers

Approximately ten students and their advisors from Ursinus College in Collegeville, Pa. will visit Albright campus Sunday evening to present vespers in the White Chapel at 7:00 p. m.

Refreshments will be served in the lower social room following the service. Next semester a group of Albrightians plan to go to Ursinus College to present a "Y" meeting.

Bible Class

"The Valley of Death's Shadow" is the title of the sixth chapter of the book, "Rediscovering Christ," to be reviewed by Dean LeVan P. Smith Sunday morning in Selwyn parlor at 8:45 a. m. The question which will be discussed is, "Why Do Good People Suffer?"

Tuition To Rise

tuition went from $212.50 to $250.00 per semester.

The Board of Trustees pointed out that for each $300 paid by a student for education here, an additional $100 is secured from another source, such as endowment income, aid from the supporting church, alumni loyalty fund and gifts. There is expected to be a deficit in such funds and the tuition increase will help to offset such a deficit.

Both Squads Record Favorable Seasons

The Athletic Council of Albright College awarded varsity football letters to 23 members of Albright's team that compiled a winning record of six victories against three defeats during the 1952 campaign.

The list of letter-winners, announced by Gene Shirk, Albright's athletic director, follows:

Robert Carney, Interlaken, N. J.; Jack Clopper, Carlisle, Pa.; Anthony D'Apollito, Peapack, N. J.; Michael DePaul, Reading; Bruce Eickhoff, Bath, Pa.; Joseph Haylick, Palmerton, Pa.; Fred Hess, Lemoyne, Pa.; Jack Huntzinger, Shillington, Pa.; Robert Krize, Reading; Theodore Kujawski, Colonia, N. J.; William Locher, Roselle Park, N. J.; Herbert Mackler, Avon, N. J.; Edward McNeill, Atlantic City, N. J.; John Mishko, Northampton, Pa.; Jack Peiffer, Reading; Norman Ruppert, Reading; Raymond Stoneback, Red Hill, Pa.; Fred Strahlendorf, Elizabeth, N. J.; Jack Sudol, East Rutherford, N. J.; Bruce Tenley, Doylestown, Pa.; Albert Weidman, Bangor, Pa.; Leonard Zahurak, Lebanon, Pa.; and Robert Zapora, Nanticoke, Pa.

Letters also were awarded to Max Nusher, Binghamton, N. Y., manager, and Theodore Whitby, North Hills, Pa., assistant trainer.

Varsity letters were awarded to the following members of the cross-country squad, which won four meets and lost four meets:

March of Dimes Makes Special 1953 Appeal

Polio played a game of numbers with human lives in 1952. In its most savage attack of all time, the disease swept down upon the nation and made statistics of people. Week after week, in countless communities, public interest was focused grimly upon numbers—the significant numbers which summed up in cold, simple terms the full extent of polio's ravages.

Americans of all ages are suffering, in 1952, history's most ravaging polio epidemics. By early September of last year the record shattering pace of 1949 incidence had already been surpassed. Because of the unprecedented demands thus made upon every resource of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, all college students are urged to support the 1953 March of Dimes. To assure adequate, continued financing of the polio fight, the March of Dimes this year, for the second time, must be a month-long, intensive campaign. It will run from January 2 through January 31.

Harding Speaks To F.T.A.

The fourth meeting of the Future Teachers of America group was held Wednesday evening, in the lower social room. Prof. Clyde Harding demonstrated to the group how to compose an effective letter of application.

Mary Ellen Greth was in charge of publicity, Dolores High in charge of refreshments.

The next meeting will feature former graduates who will return to report on their teaching experiences.

boarding men, gifts were exchanged.

Alpha Pi Omega

The Alpha Pi Omega took four persons into membership at their meeting on Monday evening. Those inducted were Jerome Lengel, Donald Seltzer, Theodore Teige and Roland Roth.

Tuesday night the fraternity held a Christmas party for fifteen Junior Optimists. The boys were entertained in the newly decorated basement of the house.

Seventy-five couples plus Dr. and Mrs. Charles Kistler, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Van Driel, and Dr. Samuel Shirk were present at the winter dance which was held at the Reading Country Club last Saturday evening. John Barker's orchestra provided the music for the dance.

Kappa Upsilon Phi

The Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity held its regularly scheduled meeting Monday, January 5, 1953. The recreation room, which has been recently completed, has a new addition—a new television set. Plans were made to hold a faculty open-house in the near future.

The following pledges were inducted into the fraternity, prior to the dance on December 6: Don Leo, Len Zahurak and Joe Huyick.
