Haverford College Sponsors Special Convention of INA

"Albrightian" Represented by Editor, Russell Bonney and Business Mgr. Wm. Berg.

The Inter-collegiate News Association held its Spring Convention at Haverford College, in Haverford, on April 15 and 16. Approximately 50 delegates were present, representing over a score of inter-collegiate newspapers. The delegates were guests of the HAVERFORD "NEWS" during the convention.

The convention was called to order Friday afternoon by the President, R. B. Counsellor of Dickinson. The afternoon speaker was Mr. W. B. Littell, who spoke to the delegates concerning papers. Transaction of business and national advertising in collegiate the discussion of various problems in school journalism completed the first session. Friday evening all the delegates were invited as guests at the local theatre.

Saturday morning the representatives of the Editorial Board and the Business Board held separate sessions. The Editorial Board delegates were addressed by Mr. Harry G. Proctor, of the Philadelphia "Evening Bulletin." He spoke on the work of reporting and listed the main requirements of a good reporter as follows: (1) "A keen sense of accurate observation and (2) the ability to form lasting friendships." The Business Board delegates were addressed by Mr. Clifton McDowell, resident manager of F. W. Lafrentz and Co., and Mr. James E. Hanna, of N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc. A business meeting was held in the afternoon. The delegates also enjoyed a ball game between Haverford and Muhlenberg and a track meet between Haverford and Lehigh.

The formal banquet was held Saturday evening. Musical selections were (Continued on page four)

Girls' Glee Club Announce Program

The Girls' Glee Club have arranged a varied schedule to carry out their Spring program this year. They will present a concert on Thursday evening at 8:00 P. M., April 21. The following Monday, April 25, they will sing at a card party being held by the Woman's Auxiliary, of Albright College, at the Woman's Club of Reading. On Sunday afternoon, May 8, they will appear in the Mother's Day Program held at the Astor Theatre. Their final appearance will be in a combined program with the Boys' Glee Club, planned for the week before commencement.

Boys' Glee Club To Sing at York

The Boys' Glee Club will present a concert in York, Saturday evening, April 30, which will bring to a close the outside activities for the year.

At a meeting of the club, Monday, April 11, it was decided that a constitution and by-laws should be drawn up in order that future activities of the club should be properly regulated. A committee of three was appointed by Manager Hallinger to look after this matter.

Installation of "Y" Cabinets Present Impressive Service

Ceremonies Conducted by Prof.
Albright; Installation by Retiring Presidents

The joint installation of the members of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Cabinets took place in the Theological Chapel on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony, which was very impressive, was in the form of a candle-light service. A triangle and a cross in red, white and blue, characteristics of the organizations, and illuminated by electric lights, formed the decorations.

Ex-Presidents Talk

The retiring Presidents, Lydia Schorber and Paul Gottschalk, gave short addresses, summarizing the work of the past year and expressing their wishes for success to the new Cabinets. The incoming President, in turn, stated their purpose and plans for the coming year. Irene Fray compared the Cabinet to the cornerstone of a building, while Leroy Bringer stressed the fact that Christ is the center of the organization. Cynthia Wallace then sang an appropriate solo entitled, "I Shall not Pass Again This Way," accompanied by Harriet Venus at the organ.

Prof. R. W. Albright Speaks

Professor Raymond W. Albright was the speaker for the service. He spoke of the development of qualities that go to make up leaders and gentlemen, and the importance of attaining them while in college. He described George Washington as a religious character and a typical gentleman. "There is only one thing that matters, and that is that a man shall have His Spirit."

Officers Installed

The installation of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet was performed by Lydia Schorber, and that of the Y. M. C. A. by Paul Gottschalk. The Cabinets are as follows: Y. W. C. A.—President, Irene Fray; Vice-President, Sarah Hoffman. (Continued on page three)

Frosh Debaters Climax Season with Muhlenberg

Contestants Evenly Matched; Decision Awarded by Judges to Allentown Team.

On Thursday, April 14, the Albright Freshman Debating Team traveled to Allentown to compete with the Muhlenberg Freshman Team. This event, the last Albright debate of the season, was the climaxing event in a new program of Freshman forensic training inaugurated this season.

Debate Closely Fought

The debate was a closely fought contest on the question of the soundness of the principles of capitalism. The rebuttals were particularly interesting on both sides. The decision of the judges was in favor of the Allentown team, whose weathered members rendered their contentions in good form.

Albright was represented by Elliott oldstein, Alfred Kuhn, Bernard Levin, the speakers, Lester Stabler, manager and alternate and John Rader, substitute. The freshmen were coached by Dr. Houck.

Nat. Philosophy Club Lose Many by Graduation

Levi Snader opened the meeting of the Society of Natural Philosophy, Thursday evening, April 14, by a half hour's entertainment with "Mathematical Wrinkles," which included mathematical puzzles and fallacies.

David Savidge presented a very interesting paper on the "Solar Spectrum." Mr. Savidge has been working this entire semester with the spectroscope and had the first-hand experimental knowledge to present this paper.

The Society will lose the following members by graduation: President, Wilbert Peifer; Vice-President, S. Richard Wiley; Secretary-Treasurer, Franklin Johnstone; Orville Persons; Levi Snader and David Savidge.

Several bids to membership will be given out in the near future to students of exceptional ability in the sciences.

IN APPRECIATION

The Officials of the Berks Co. Track Meet held April 16, in the Albright Stadium take this opportunity to express their thanks to the students of Albright College for their efficient co-operation extended at the meet.

Committee Heads Announced for June Pageant

Chairman E. L. Mohr of the Executive Committee has working with him at present sixteen different committees that cover every phase of the production of Albright College's Washington Bi-Centennial Pageant to be given on June 4.

An idea of the amount of work to be done in preparation for pageant production can be gained easily enough by noting the activities of these various groups.

The committees and their chairmen are as follows:

Executive Committee: E. L. Mohr, Chairman; Willard Mohr, Vice-Chairman; Florence Schlegel Miller, Secretary; Isabel Willard, Assistant Secretary; and Edward W. P. Binkley, Treasurer.

Finance Committee: Fred Howard, Chairman.

Ways and Means Committee: Fred Bollman, Chairman.

Patron Committee: Anna Benninger, Chairman.

Reading Chem. Club with Chem. Seminar Hear Dr. V. La Mer

Noted Chemist Lectures on Subject "New and Old Theories of Ionization."

Prof. Victor K. LaMer, one of America's greatest physical chemists and probably the most scholarly man to ever visit our campus, lectured on "The Old and New Theories of Ionization" at the meeting of Reading Chemists' Club, Tuesday evening, April 12. Both the Reading Chemists' Club and the Albright Chemical Seminar turned out to fill the Science Lecture Room and gave Dr. LaMer a great reception.

Presents Theories

Dr. LaMer presented the most important developments in the theories of dissociation in solutions. He began with the first theory of Van't Hoff, showing the relationship between concentration and osmotic pressure. Following Van't Hoff, Arrhenius advanced his theory of fractional dissociation, based on his data of conductance ratios.

The theory of complete dissociation developed next, asserting that the decrease of experimental values for dissociation under the theoretical values is due to interionic electrostatic forces. This theory is strengthened by Bragg's crystal analysis by X-rays.

Debye-Huckel advanced the theory of activity co-efficient of an ion is the factor by which the stoichiometric concentration must be multiplied to make the law of mass action hold.

The most modern and satisfactory theory of dissociation is the ionic strength theory of Lewis and Randall. (Continued on page three)

OSLISLO MAKES HOME RUN

Wednesday's Game

The Albright "Lions" did just what was expected of them, in trouncing the "Teachers," 14 to 2.

Despite the perfect football weather, "Luke" Wenrich, ace of the Lion aggregation, easily subdued the Kutztown Collegians.

Larry Hutton and Jimmie Oslislo were the outstanding performers of the game, each collecting three hits.

"Les" Wentling was the only "Teacher" to break through for two hits. Wenrich's effective twirling held the "Teachers" to four singles.

It was necessary for Kutztown to use three pitchers to quell the "Lions," and then only because the game was a seven inning affair.

Oslislo's hard hit drive to deep left was the outstanding hit of the day.

"Stubby" Crutenden, covering centerfield, accepted six chances without a mis.

Schaeffer's hit into deep center looked like a homer until "Stubby" pulled the Frank Merriwell act and ended the game.

Skull & Bones Club Hear Talk on Life of Robert Koch

Monday evening, April 19, the Skull and Bones Society held its monthly meeting in the Science Lecture Hall. The meeting was opened by Harry Crystal, who delivered a short talk on the life and works of Robert Koch. In his talk Crystal explained, how fifty years ago Robert Koch astounded the world of medical science by saying that he had discovered the Tubercle Bacillus, which caused tuberculosis; and how he proceeded to prove the truth of his discovery.

Following this short talk, the rest of the evening's program was filled by Louis Rosenstien who read his research paper, "The Technique and Methods of Histological Staining."

Professor Horn To Speak in Special Chapel Program

An unusual program for the chapel hour this coming Friday morning has been arranged for the students. As this is the 50th Anniversary of the discovery of the Tubercle Bacillus, by Robert Koch, Prof. Horn has been asked to take charge of the chapel hour.

Professor Horn has secured two moving pictures on Tuberculosis. The first, entitled, "The Diagnosis of the Tubercle Bacillus, and Methods of Treatment," the second, entitled, "Methods of Recognition of Early Tuberculosis and Subsequent Treatment."

Both of these pictures have been obtained from the Reading Tuberculosis Association and promise to be most interesting and educational. Everyone is invited to be present.

A TOKEN OF ESTEEM

With the hovering of its beloved president between life and death, Albright College has been suddenly wrested from a state of placidity, and cast into one of anxious waiting and prayer. Untold petitions have been sent to the omnipotent. One that He might see fit to permit this moulder of mankind to remain to further the work of developing an institution which seeks to create the finest product of physical, mental and spiritual beings. He it is who, through the sacrificing of self, has raised it from the position of a comparatively insignificant seminary and preparatory school to one of the most outstanding of the smaller Eastern Colleges. He, it is, who piloted it through the most trying of financial crises to a victory bespoken of by the splendid new structures which grace its beautiful campus. No man could have accomplished more, and few as great a work as has Dr. Warren F. Teel. May God grant the preservation of their leader to the faculty and students of the college.

FREE SPEECH

The Inter-collegiate News Association in session at Haverford formulated a resolution placing the association on record as being opposed to censorship (faculty or other methods) of Collegiate newspapers. Only a few schools represented complained of censorship, but some of the protests stated were absurd. The large majority of colleges claimed that they published their papers with no supervision or censorship whatever. Some effective, as well as ridiculous, journalistic campaigns were reported.

This brings up the age-old discussion of free speech which finds application here. Human nature has always prompted man to be careless in his language and it has almost become a tradition that a man is free to utter whatever he wills.

We take exception to this thought. Every man is not qualified to have free speech. It is additionally pathetic when a person uses the press for this end. Highly emotional outbursts of student opinion are as often mistaken as they are correct. Free statement of "Youth's Opinion" is in order only when it is sincere.

To make a local application, the above describes our editorial policy. We ask the freedom to state our honest thoughts. Should we criticise, it will not be for publicity purposes but a sincere effort to show conditions in their correct perspective and to be the majority voice of the student body. Complete accord is a practical impossibility, so all we ask is an open mind.

LIVES AND LETTERS

By Rudolf Shook

Portrait of a Lady to whom Books are Friends: (From The Diary of a Provincial Lady, over which I am still infinitely amused.)

"Conversation again languishes, and I have recourse to Lord Beaconsfield. What, I ask, does Mrs. B. (age 66 swathed in shawls, and discovered ostentatiously reading, feel about him? She feels, Mrs. B. replies, that he was a most Remarkable Personality. People have often said to Mrs. B., ah, how lonely it must be for you, alone here, when dear Barbara (age 23 and daughter to Mrs. B.) is out enjoying herself with other young things. But Mrs. B.'s reply to this is no, no. She is never alone when she has Her Books. Books, to her, are Friends. Give her Shakespeare or Jane Austen, Meredith or Hardy, and she is lost—lost in a world of her own. She sleeps so little that most of her nights are spent in reading. Have I any idea, asks Mrs. B., what it is like to hear every hour, every half-hour chiming out all through the night . . . Mrs. B.'s parting observation is an expression of thanks to me for coming to enquire after an old woman, and she is as well as she can hope to be, at sixty-six years old—she should say, sixty-six years young, all her friends tell her."

Dawn Comes to the Cinema

Movie producers (praise due the Depression) have engaged a goodly array of plays and stories to lure the laconic public. Leading the pack, of course, is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with the be-Garboed, be-Barrymored, be-jewelled Grand Hotel, Judith Pirandello's success, As You Desire Me with Garbo and Nils Asther, Strange Interlude with Norma Shearer and Clark Gable, and (Mayhap) William McFee's The Harbourmaster with Clark Gable. Ronald Colman will do this year's hit, Cynara, and Marlene Dietrich will play An Entirely Different Woman. (A different one, I fervently pray, than the never-acting, ever-posing (Shanghai Lily.)

Ivanhoe, the Super-Spectacle

I was much interested, while paging through a cinema trade journal, to discover, in the most amusing department that printing the purported "opinions" of "fans", that a great mind has conceived a movie of Ivanhoe with a great cast like that of Grand Hotel. Can you imagine anything more menacing than the following line-up: Ramon Novarro as Ivanhoe; John Barrymore as Sir Brian de Bois-Gilbert; Dolores Costello as Rebecca; Bebe Daniels as Rebecca; and Will Rogers as Wamba?

LIFE LOVES

I love Life.
Not merely the fact
That lam here
To eat—to sleep—
To play a little while—
Then to sleep again.
But all the vibrant throbbing
Of my body—
The beauty, then the pain.
The swishing of the rain
On waves at sea.
The silent happiness
Of hours you spent with me.
All these
I'll love until I sleep
Forever.
And, for these
I want to keep My Life.

Contributor's Column.....

"THE SIMPLE ART OF MAKING AN ENEMY"

In my estimation, I am polite and courteous as I can be, but still I find it very easy to make enemies. I try to make friends, but I just can't do it. When I first meet people whom I should like to know I give them a "buzzing" hello, and literally crawl all over them. They seem to resent this, however, and after I have turned my back I hear them whisper, "I do wonder where all those pests come from." Really, this hurts my sensitive feelings, and I try to make up with them. I usually do this when I think they are in deep trouble, but all I get is a "shoo."

Of course, everyone likes to be invited to dinners, so I, too, try to get some invitations. It always seems, however, that I am not cordially invited and that I have to force my way into society. Then, after I do get there, I am treated like a diseased foreigner, and several, stern, tall, white-haired men, I believe called butlers try to keep me out. Oh, why am I not accepted in society, and why can't I make friends as others do?

At one particular dinner, I remember seating myself beside an elderly dignified man whom I thought would make a good friend. All I did was "buzz" in his ear a bit about a few current events, and help him to eat his buttered roll. Evidently though, he did not like this, and all I remember now was being showed the door. After this I was ostracized from society and have not been invited to any banquets since.

Well, it doesn't seem to me as though I can make friends, readily, but perhaps the reason is that I am only a member of the insect group. By the way, my name is Mr. Fly.

Bible Class Notes

The President, Harold Hornbeck, was in charge of the Albright College Bible Class, held in the Theological Chapel on Sunday morning at 9:00 o'clock. Leroy Brininger led the singing while Irene Fray presided at the console. William Basom led in the opening prayer after which Lester Stabler read the Scripture lesson. Harry Paul sang a solo entitled, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," and Roy McNaughton collected the offering.

Lloyd Helt discussed the lesson for the morning. The lesson subject was "The Conquering Power of Faith" and he stressed the importance of going forward rather than letting our lives become stagnant. After the lesson, election of officers was held with the following results: President, Edwin Minnich; Vice-President, Ralph Weigle; Secretary, Marion Myers and Treasurer, Kenneth Bergstresser. The meeting was closed by repeating the Mispah Benediction.

SPORT LIGHTS

(By Alan McCarroll, '32)

Although the weather was not altogether propitious for athletics, the baseball season got under way with Kutztown dropping two to the Lions one on Wednesday and again on Saturday. Last year the team, although possessing a superb pitching staff was somewhat the sphere about the park in the first two games, it looks as tho they may overcome this handicap.

The Frosh showed great strength against the Wyomissing team in their first encounter, behind the pitching of Joe McGovern who turned in what is known as the pitcher's dream, a no-hit, no-run game. Captain Gruzzis and his men will supply the variety with some great material next year. It is interesting to note that there are only two seniors on the varsity squad this year.

Next Wednesday the Albright nine meets Mt. St. Mary's for a tough battle. The Saints have a fine team and will not be easy to beat. On Saturday, Coach Smith and his team will travel to East Stroudsburg while the tennis team remains home to meet the same opponents. The racquetters have been getting a lot of practice and look like a good bet. The tennis schedule is likely the best that Albright has ever had. If more interest were shown in this sport, tennis would undoubtedly become a major sport on the campus. The first thing necessary is to build some new courts, this will come no doubt sometime in the future, but when?

The inter-class baseball games have been broadened to include the hard and soft ball, a very excellent addition to the intramural activities.

The Berks County Track Meet proved to be very interesting to the many spectators who braved the cold. The time for the various events was rather slow, but this was probably due to the early date of the meet which made it hard for the men to get in shape. This meet was sponsored by Albright College and run under the auspices of the Berks County Track Association.

The Albright Track Team opens against Stroudsburg S. T. C. on Friday, at Reading. Captain Andrews backed by a few old timers as well as some new material make a formidable array of trackmen, that promise stiff opposition to their opponents.

LIONS WIN TWO

Last Saturday, at Kutztown, the Smith-Coached baseball team again administered a sound drubbing to the State Teachers College of that town. Although the weather was very unfavorable for baseball, Albright succeeded in piling up a 15-7 advantage before the game was called in the seventh inning. Betz pitched for the Lions and had the situations well in hand at all times. Eppler started for the Teachers but was soon driven to cover and the job was taken up by Schott and Kriessly.

Kutztown led until the third inning when the Lions gathered four runs. Four more tallies in the fourth inning and six in the sixth session turned the game into a walk-over.

Individual honors went to L. Hatton and Oslalo. The former collected three hits out of five trips to the plate whereas, Oslalo got two safeties, one being a homer. Swoyer led the losers with three out of four while Kriessly pounded out a four-bagger.

Frosh Win Opener

Frosh Ace Repulses Wyomissing
in Hurling Classic; Fans 18.

The Albright Frosh opened their season on Saturday with a 5-0 victory over the Wyomissing A. C. at Wyomissing. McGovern, speed-king of the yearlings, completely baffled the home team, setting them down without a hit or run. McGovern fanned eighteen men and passed but three. It was a pitching classic considering the adverse weather conditions. Kurtz, who tossed them for Wyomissing was also in fine form, allowing but five bingles and retiring fourteen yearlings on strikes.

Captain Gruzzis led his club with two hits while Haldeman, with a double, Gabriel and Cox gathered the other safeties.

This theory is based on Debye-Huckle's theory and the theory of complete dissociation. The ionic strength theory holds that the activity coefficient of a salt of a given concentration is the same in all solvents of the same ionic strength. The ionic strength is one-half of the product of the molar concentration multiplied by the product of the electrostatic charges on each ion.

Dr. LaMer came to us from Columbia University, where he is the head of the physical chemistry department. He has held many scholastic honors, including a European scholarship and a visiting professorship in Leland-Stanford University. He is now at Pennsylvania State College, delivering the annual lectures in honor of John Priestley.

Student Chemists
Will Read Papers

The Chemical Seminar of Albright College will meet today at 4:30 in the Chemical Library of the Science Hall. Wilbert Peifer, president, will read his second of a series of articles on "Catalysis." Linwood Hagenbuch and Franklin Miller will also present papers.

Keep a Regular
TELEPHONE
Date with Home

HERE'S A TIP for Freshman! Now you're at college, you can always "go home by telephone."

Regularly, or whenever you like, give Mother and Dad a call.

Tonight, for instance, pay them a "voice visit." Tell them how you're settling down. What a thrill they'll have to hear your voice—and maybe you won't enjoy it, too!

But, best of all, arrange to call home each week. That's a joy they'll look forward to as much as you.

FOR THE LOWEST COST
AND GREATEST EASE

Set your "date" for after 8:30 P. M. and take advantage of the low Night Rates. (A dollar call is 60c at night; a 50c call is 35c.)

By making a date the folks will be at home. Thus you can make a Station to Station call rather than a more expensive Person to Person call.

Just give the operator your home telephone number. If you like, the charges can be reversed!

MENTAL HYGIENE

Ernest Pastorello, '32

THE CAUSES OF MENTAL DISEASE

The causes of mental disease are divided into two large groups; namely, predisposing and exciting. By predisposing causes are meant those conditions which are long existing within the individual, or his environment that render him liable to develop a mental disorder. By exciting causes are meant the immediate circumstances as conditions within the individual or his environment which produce or precipitate the actual attack.

One might say that the chemical nature or make-up of a stick of dynamite is the predisposing cause and that the electric spark is the exciting cause of the ensuing explosion.

It is generally accepted that with most mental diseases, just as in the case of the dynamite explosion, it is necessary to have both the predisposing and the exciting causes in order to bring about the disease.

Among the predisposing causes are heredity, the physiological epochs like adolescence and the involuntional periods, prolonged excessive indulgence in alcohol, and the increasing physical and mental strains and stresses of civilization.

The exciting causes may be physical, such as infections and other bodily diseases, poisons, injuries to the head, exhaustion from prolonged physical strain or exhaustion from severe hemorrhage. Exciting causes may also be mental, for example, the emotional shock induced by the illness or death of a loved one or by financial or social reverses.

We need not, however, be underly alarmed. A moment's thought will convince one that most of the causes mentioned above are not inexorable forces of nature to which we must passively submit. On the contrary all of the causes mentioned are either entirely preventable, or, if not preventable, their pernicious influences if given timely recognition and wise handling may be so modified as to avoid a mental breakdown. Many are burdened with a defective or faulty heredity. This does not necessarily mean that such a one will develop a nervous or mental disease during his life time. It is true that one's heredity cannot be changed, but heredity in itself is but a predisposing cause and without the presence of an additional exciting cause, no mental disease will develop.

A frank facing of the issue with the proper ordering of one's life will go far towards avoiding a breakdown even if one is definitely burdened by heredity.

The development of a common sense philosophical attitude toward the immutable vicissitudes of life such as illness and deaths in the family; the proper utilization of religion, mental hygiene, and other similar resources; the frank facing of one's weaknesses and strengths, and last but not least the old dictum of "a sound mind in a sound body,"—all of these proven effective weapons in the battle against mental disease.

Chess Club Tie in Temple Tourney

The Albright College Chess Team engaged the Temple University Team, Saturday evening in a six board match, the contest resulting in a 3-3 deadlock. Wiley, Harrie, Burger, McCarrroll, Peifer and Knoblauch represented Albright while Fine, Feldman, Fox, Weinberg, Kurtz and Goodrich played for Temple.

A return engagement will be played at Temple, Saturday, April 23.

Ask "Pat" Valentine why he doesn't wear his new leather suspenders we've heard so much about.

The poet's corner of Selwyn Hall is occupied nightly by Reba and Ralph. "Nettie" and Gene occupy another corner. Name it and you can have it.

Some additional blossoms on "our pair tree": Sally and "Stribble"; "Pat" and Eve; "Jake" and "Doc"; "Kicker" and "Cyn." Spring is here, so watch out for new buds.

FOR SALE—Two pairs of second-hand roller skates. Apply, Lola Silvers or Ruth Lloyd.

Hold on to your men, girls! Competition is running rampant.

We have heard from a very good source that "Hen" Bollman is so shy and bashful in the class room at Senior High.

Is the world coming to an end? Student government is actually being inaugurated in the girls' dorm.

The College Jester—none other than our friend "Les" Basler, whose sparkling wit and ever-ready supply of sarcasm, wipes the frowns from the faces of the colds and sends them into gales of laughter.

Spring—and the young girls' fancies turn to white shoes, led by Betty R. From whence comes the inspiration, Betty.
