Y Campers Leave Tomorrow for Weekend Retreat at Blue Mt.

'Religion' Is Topic For First Seminar

Tomorrow at 1:00 p.m. a group of students will leave from the parking lot for a weekend camping trip at Blue Mountain in Hamburg, Pa., which was the site of the Spring Retreat of '54.

Scheduled for the weekend will be a series of seminars during which Dr. Daniel Wetzel will present his interpretation of the topics: "Religion—A Resource of Strength" and "An Adventure of Faith." Dr. Wetzel, pastor of First Evangelical Reformed Church in Reading, is a familiar figure with this group, having previously participated with the "Y" in fireside chats.

Saturday night will feature a doggie roast, followed by a songfest, after which the campers will retire in order to rise early for an after-breakfast hike which will be climaxed by an outdoor meditation service.

Should the group find free time on their hands, this can be consumed by the various sports available, badminton, ping pong and volleyball. The environment also provides excellent opportunity for swimming and canoeing.

Dr. and Mrs. Reppert have graciously consented to act as chaperons. Also attending as guests will be Professor and Mrs. Lewis Smith, Miss Benninger and Reverend Eugene Barth.

Participating in the weekend program will be Lorraine Wagner, Mary Ellen Appelman, Mary Jo Wolf, Paul Hetrick, Ted Tiege, Ray Horan and Ray Faunce. John Bubel will direct the songfest.

Activities for the Fall "Y" Retreat will be brought to a close under the direction of Ray Horan on Sunday afternoon by a special program of recordings and meditation entitled "The Way It Looks From Here." The campers will leave behind them the Blue Mountains in Hamburg and bring back to campus memories of an inspiring and enjoyable weekend.

Sororities To Induct Pledges Monday Nite

Induction of pledges to the Phi Beta Mu and Pi Alpha Tau sororities will take place at 8:30 p.m. Monday, October 18. The PAT induction will take place in the Pine Room and the Mu induction will take place in the Selwyn Clubroom.

Pledges to the Phi Beta Mu sorority are Ruth Hotz, '57, Nancy Hitchner, '57, and Shirley Henry, '57.

Pledges to the Pi Alpha Tau sorority are Karen Saul, '56, Betsy Griffiths, '57, Kathleen Forry, '57, and Jeanne Walker, '55.

Administrators Attend College Conference

Miss Anna R. Benninger, registrar, and Dr. Samuel B. Shirk, assistant to the president, attended the sixth annual School and College Conference at Cedar Crest College, Allentown on October 12.

The subject of discussion was "The Role of School and College in the Orientation of a Freshman." In the evening Dean Eugene Wilson, Amherst College, Amherst, Massachusetts, addressed the group.

Mrs. Molloy Starts Workshops; Dominoes Give Plays Thursday

Mrs. Yvonne Voigt Molloy, director of Domino Club, is creating two new workshops for students interested in learning more about the theatrical arts. Organizational meetings for an acting and directing workshop were held October 14 and one for a make-up workshop will be held next week.

Scenes from Shakespeare and short skits will be the first attempts of the amateur thespians who will try their hands at acting, directing and make-up to gain greater experience for the major production this year.

Rehearsals for the two one-act plays, to be staged next Thursday, October 21, are progressing.

"Aria da Capo", by Edna St. Vincent Millay is a play in the Comedia del Arte style. The comedians in the play discuss all serious aspects of life in a flippant manner. The tragedy within the play, based on the themes of being against wars and against building walls between neighbors, is acted out by two shepherds who begin to build a wall for fun, but becoming emotionally agitated, kill each other. The comedians then return and, deciding to overlook the bodies of the tragedians, hide them from view and continue their comedy.

"Riders to the Sea" by J. M. Synge takes place on a primitive island deeply influenced by the all surrounding sea, which is symbolic of God. The tragedy is that the family in the play needs its men badly, but the only remaining son goes out for a foolish reason, falls from a cliff and is washed out with the surf, leaving the grieving women behind.

Dr. Masters Reports Foundation Grant

President Harry V. Masters announced, October 11, that Albright College is included with four other liberal arts colleges and Temple University in a cooperative study for teacher education.

The program, sponsored by Temple University and announced by its President, Robert L. Johnson, is made possible by a grant from the fund for the advancement of education of the Ford Foundation, which has appropriated $53,150 for the first year of a five-year project.

The cooperative plan includes, in addition to Albright College and Temple University, Muhlenberg, Franklin and Marshall, Lebanon Valley and Ursinus colleges.

Dr. Joseph S. Butterweck, Acting Dean of the Teachers College of Temple University since March of 1953, will serve as director. The faculty for the experimental studies will include representatives from each of the cooperating colleges. Through this plan the program is assured of a staff that combines the resources of six institutions of higher education in southern Pennsylvania.

Miss Raepfel Attends Conference In Easton

Miss Josephine Raepfel, librarian, attended a conference of the college club of International Relations at Lafayette College in Easton, Pa., October 9. She is a chairman of the International Relation Study group of the College Club of the City of Reading.

Assembly To Feature Freshman Induction

Next Tuesday, October 19, the traditional Freshman Induction will be held in Krause Hall during Assembly. This program will feature a speaker, and James Hall, president of the Student Council, will deliver the charge to the Class of '58. The newly-elected president of the freshman class, who is, as we go to press, still unknown, will receive the charge on behalf of his fellow classmates. The "hurling of dinks" will climax the program.

Last Thursday, October 14, freshman class officers were elected and the Homecoming Queen candidates were named.

Bishop Enrique Sobrepena of the Church of Christ in the Philippines was the speaker at Assembly on Tuesday, October 12. Bishop Sobrepena spoke on the long struggle for the independence of the Philippine Islands, and the aid given the Philippine people by the United States.

A football pep rally, sparked by the cheerleading squad captained by Sylvia Greul and the marching band under the direction of David Lubba, will be held during the Assembly period next Thursday, October 21, in the physical education building. Coach Gullian will introduce the team, and alumni will speak on Albright's colorful sports history.

Freshmen Appointed To Albrightian Posts

Culminating a two week try-out period during which 48 applied for positions, Patricia Wehner, editor of The Albrightian has announced this year's staff.

Appointed to the editorial board as assistants are Lester Deppen, '56, formerly a member of "The Bucknellian" staff and John Ramsey, '58. Typists this year are Sylvia Schiavo and Blanche Merkel. Assisting in make-up are Mildred Folk and Ann Miller.

News beats have been assigned to the following reporters: freshmen: Rosalind Naugle, Patricia Gregas, Billie Williams, Josephine Polvino, Sheila Sosnow, June Sneath, Nancy Pines, William Mays, Jean Dufford, Barbara Smith, Carol Lynn Mueller, John Luckenbill, Jean Weik and Ann Miller.

Also, Betty Schmick, Phil Goldfeder and Sandra Goepfert. Upperclassmen re-appointed to the news staff include Sara Joramelon, '57, Shirley Henry, '57, Jeanne Palm, '57, and Janet Lanfranke, '57, news editor Mary Jo Barbera announced.

Sports writers include Philip Eyrich, Lee Swartz, Sandra Goepfert and Jean Dufford, all of '58.

Virginia Frey, Patricia Schatz, Patricia Nein and GERALD Hall are freshman writers on the feature staff, feature editor Marilyn Teeter, '57, asserted.

Registrar Compiles Survey Of Religions

Miss Anna Benninger, Albright Registrar, has made a survey of the religious affiliations of Albright College students. There are 421 students of the Protestant faith, 84 of whom are affiliated with the Evangelical United Brethren Church. Among the protestant faiths, the Lutheran Church ranked highest among Albright students with 129 members.

Ninety-four students are affiliated with the Catholic faith and seven students are members of the Greek Orthodox Church. There were 19 other religious denominations mentioned and 11 students expressed no preference.

Sally Lanz Elected Prexy Of F.T.A. Clubs In Eastern District

Sally Lanz, '56, was elected president of the Future Teachers of America of the Eastern Convention District of the Pennsylvania State Education Association in a meeting of district chapters and clubs in Allentown, October 8.

As part of her official duties, she will accompany Dean LeVan P. Smith to Penn State University October 21-23, to attend a convention on Teacher Education and Professional Standards. A junior home economics student, she is a member of Pi Alpha Tau sorority and of The Albrightian staff.

The F.T.A. delegation from the Virgil Zener chapter on campus included Dr. Daniel Skeath, new adviser to the club, Genevieve Sweitzer, '55, newly elected president, Lorraine Wagner, '55, vice-president and Sally Lanz, treasurer. Lucy Schuman, '57, is the secretary-elect.

Four seniors from the education class attended English and social science subject conferences at the convention. Accompanied by Dean Smith, they were William McHugh, Jeanne Walker, Richard Smoker and Patricia Wehner.

Organizations Finish Elections

French Club

Members of the French club met to elect officers for the coming year and also to decide on a time for regular club meetings. Those elected were: Barbara Ross, president; Eleanor Hinnershots, vice-president; Nancy Cashin, secretary; and Mrs. Katherine Minnich, treasurer.

A cake sale will be held on November 12 in the lobby of the Administration building.

There will be a lecture at Reading High School on Friday evening, November 19. This will include a movie on Paris, France. Mrs. Douds has urged that all students interested may attend this cultural program.

A. C. S.

On Wednesday, October 13 at 7:30 P.M., a meeting of the American Chemist's Society took place in the Science Lecture Hall. There was an election of officers, followed by a tour of the new Carpenter Steel Hot Rolling Mill.

Dr. Handorf stated that all chemistry students, especially chemistry majors, are invited to join this society.

Sigma Tau Delta

Pledges were chosen, future meetings were discussed and the annual banquet was planned at the first meeting of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary fraternity, Thursday, October 14.

President Claire Speidel presided over this first of four scheduled meetings this year. It was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John B. Douds, 10 North Los Robles Court, Pennside.

Heo

Monday evening, October 11, the Heo Club had the privilege of touring a part of Metropolitan Edison Company. The hostesses, Mrs. Ar buckle, and her two assistants, Pat Turner and Pat Waters introduced the club to some popularly known electrical appliances. Two short motion pictures were shown entitled "Just Like Magic" and "Your Washable Wardrobe." Pamphlets were (Continued on Page Four)

Somebody Goofed Again

It seems that somebody goofed last Saturday at the Gettysburg game. According to one story, the cheerleaders neglected to lead any cheers. Another version states that the cheerleaders were leading all right, but that nobody was cheering. Whatever happened, Albright looked pretty feeble as far as school spirit goes.

This incident is just one example of the biggest lack on this campus—the lack of school spirit. Not only is this evident at football games, when high school bands have to cheer our team out of courtesy because we are either too lazy or too indifferent to do our own cheering; but, it is also very evident in every other activity on campus.

"What did you think of the meeting last night?"

"Meeting? Was there a meeting?"

This, believe it or not, is a typical campus conversation. Few students seem to know or care what is going on on campus. Club meetings are poorly attended, and the interesting and worthwhile programs they sponsor flop time after time because of the absolute indifference of most of their so-called members. The ratio of criticism to active participation is so high that leaders and those few students who are active in campus affairs are practically defeated right from the start by the discouragement heaped upon them by the idle hecklers.

There must be a reason for this miserable mess. Albright has more than its share of talent, wit, and intelligence. Why isn't more of it being channeled into school activities? Some good answers to this question would definitely be appreciated. Somewhere, somehow, there must be a remedy for the present situation. Anyone who would like to suggest a solution is asked, urged, and begged to do so. The Albrightian will print those letters that seem to best reflect campus opinion on the subject of lagging school spirit, and will see that any letter submitted is given careful consideration.

Order of the Day—Retreat!

Every year, just as the leaves are turning, the Fall "Y" Retreat is held in the Blue Mountains. This is one of the biggest events that the "Y" sponsors, and also one of the nicest. Having this retreat every year, helps to bring the students not only closer to themselves, but closer to God.

Boating, volley ball, and hikes are some of the recreational activities that make an enjoyable weekend for all. On Saturday night, with the perfect atmosphere of all weather and a big lake, everyone joins in a doggie roast around the campfire.

Another nice feature of this retreat is the discussion periods. This provides an opportunity for everyone to give his views. Maybe it could be called an informal worship period.

Finally, we have the main reason for our "Y" retreat—our worship service. There couldn't be a better place to hold a service than up in the mountains with all their beauty.

This year the Reverend Wetzel will be the speaker at these services.

This brief outline of what happens at a "Y" retreat, just shows that the weekend of October 16 and 17 is going to be wonderful for all who are heading into the Blue Mountains. By the way, there is still time to sign up. Why don't you go along?

The Snake Pit

by Pat Schatz

Why does Jack Lewis have the feeling that he is despised by a certain freshman? Like to know who she is, wouldn't you, Jack?

If the cheerleading squad ever needs a new member, look up Buddy Matz. He did a terrific job leading a group of frosh in front of the library the other day. You've really got the spirit, Bud!

It's been noticed that certain frosh have been going around minus ties and dinks, turns out their theme song is "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" or could it be "Smoke Runs through Your Ties?"

Try A Snake-Dance

Ever do the bunny-hop around the fish pond? It's loads of fun. If you don't believe me ask the next frosh daywoman as she hops by.

Bouquets to Doctor Duddy and the Glee Club for a terrific opening to their concert season. The chorus sounds great. Sonja Flicker and Dick Smoker did the usual excellent job of rendering solos for the affair.

Next time you get a chance to talk to Pat Nein don't mind if she sounds a little like a crazy-mixed up kid. It's just that she swears she's taking animal husbandry and must concentrate on her studies at all times. That's a difficult task because it's not an authorized course given here at school.

For Crying Out Loud

If you ever care to know the price of onions in Peru, ask Professor Green's Natural Science Fundamentals students. They're well versed on the subject.

After all the campaigning the candidates for the officers of the class of '58 have been doing, the best man was bound to win. Good luck kids.

Andree Schmoeyer will be awfully lonely when Charlie bursts forth with a chorus of "California, Here I Come."

Parlez-vous Sh-Boom

Sh-Boom, ya da-da-da-da is the latest phrase used by French I students. Right, Gerry?

Sub comes up with latest style moo-cow. A three flavored species at that. For one thin dime students can wet their whistles with white, chocolate, or orange (????) milk.

Which "little ol' co-ed" has Lester Deppen's "Little Brother" in an uproar? Which "l'il ol' co-ed has Lester Deppen in an uproar?"

If you want to get some work done, steer clear of the "Albrightian" room, it's been turned into a practice pit for gladiators. Seniors at that.

LOVE LORN?

You got nothing to do but sit around on your textbooks and dream about the problems of those who are doing nothing but getting fouled up with the campus belles, or the talking wheels? Well Lions and Lionesses this we have for you . . . the germ of an idea, straight from the shoulder of the Old Cotton picker . . . Lovelorn cologneist Phoebe Phalarope, (she's a real bird).

If you never had a love to lose, or the one back home is always on your back, drop a line to Miss P. P. and she will, in next week's issue, trip the light fanatic with your problem.

As long as it can be printed and Dr. Kinsey never explained it, bring it to the Albrightian office and place it in Miss Phalarope's box. —P.P.

A Pre-Med Reflects

First year came and I was new; Second year brought Bio two; Junior year—organic chemistry And comparative anatomy; Then I took a histo course (Nerves and muscles of the horse), Tissues, cultures and the like . . . Now I'm ready for that hike To the heaven of Pre-Meds Where we'll start to fill our heads With items 'bout cadavers gray, Medical terms long as a day, Soon someday I'll cure your ills, Hang my shingle, peddle pills!

Jane

One of the fairest members of the V.I.P.O.C. (Very Important People on Campus) is Jane Zenke. Jane came to us as a Liberal Arts fugitive from Penn State. Through the artful persuasion of Professor A. H. Smith, she was converted to a successful home ec. major.

During the time between her exodus from State until her entrance here, Jane worked in the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company office. It was there that she began to increase her proficiency in what has now become her favorite hobby, writing letters.

When she is not writing letters to Fred, Jane can usually be found in the kitchen of Sherman Cottage, where she will be living until she begins her student teaching at Northeast Junior High in November. Her favorite foods, although the inmates of S.C. disagree with her choice, are spaghetti and lemon meringue pie.

Jane says that Bach and semi-classical music head her list of most-enjoyed things. Her pride and joy in the cottage is the phonograph and collection of classical records. Next on the list comes 510 Elnore Avenue, South Temple (home) and tennis. Oh, we almost forgot the lawyer-to-be in Chicago . . . he rates pretty high, too.

Although Jane says that she's not participating in much this semester, we think that she'll be quite busy as president of Phi Beta Mu, an active helper in Domino Club and an avid sports fan. Also listed in her date book is the W.S.S. Fashion Show in which she will model in November. Her future plans are not definite, but we think she might enjoy spending another summer working at Beach Haven in N. J., as she did this last summer.

Library News

The Lipton Tea Company has given the library a complimentary subscription to its quarterly "Lipton Magazine".

The present issue features articles on the history and preparation of menus, baseball training, the Hummel angels, food packing and flower arranging.

An interesting item noticed in one of the columns, "Baker's Dozen", was on the pretzel. It stated that the word pretzel comes from the Latin word pretiola, meaning "a small gift". In early times, it was a common practice among priests to give children some remuneration if they learned their catechisms. So originated the custom of giving "pretzels" or "small gifts".

Furthermore the twist in the pretzel is supposed to represent the two arms embraced together in a prayerful position.

Snooping Around

What do you think of Bermuda shorts?

Jon Hole—Like them. They are the last word in good looks.

Robert Fox—Yes, I like them.

Jay Miller—I like them, but I like skin tights better—the shorter the better—but Bermudas are all right.

John Weishampel—Thumbs down. The knee in itself is an ugly part of the female anatomy.

Ira Fischman—Great. It would be great if they were instituted here in Albright.

Allen Lentz—Ugh!

Clinton Walbank—I don't like 'em. Quintan Staudt—Not much.

David Lubba—They're all right.

Prof. Speicher—I like to see girls in skirts better than anything else.

Bill Shirk—I think they're okay. Girls' shorts were getting too short.

Claire

Curtain going up on Miss Claire Speidel, as the first lady of the Pats calls the meeting to order. You know her, we all know her. The "busy one" her friends call her. This little blonde wonder whom you see dashing about the campus is Miss Responsibility herself. Claire is an ardent member and promoter of Domino Club. Besides being president of the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority, she also raps the gavel on Sigma Tau Delta and International Relations Club meetings.

Frosh, watch out—the orientation committee is a pet hobby of Claire's, and we hear by way of the grapevine that she's doing an excellent job of keeping the frosh on their toes.

A pre-law student, Claire is majoring in history. She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, the national honorary social science fraternity, along with being an efficient associate editor of the Cue.

An APO party is never without fun-loving Claire, who by way of mention is usually seen with a certain M.F. Claire can always be found over a cup of coffee in the Sub, and is usually engrossed in a juicy debate.

She can't abide inefficiency in any shape, form or manner, to say nothing of unpunctuality. An old astrologer and poem reader has predicted the future will hold the greatest achievements for Claire . . . Slowly the curtain descends.

Real Gone Fashions

Hey, chicks, dig those cool cats! They're gone, man, real gone! To say the least, they're the most! Yes, the most appalling sights I've seen in years. How anyone can think they are the epitome of male fashion by going around in a rainbow-hued wardrobe with trimmings of leopard skin and zebra skin is beyond me. A cat of today considers himself well dressed if he appears on the scene in a keen sport coat of delightful orchid, while his lower limbs are adorned with a pair of chartreuse slacks. His shirt is in the latest shade of pink with a wide, wide spread collar.

To complete his ensemble, he wears shoes of forest green suede with a very narrow matching belt encircling his hips. At his throat, he wears a bow tie of purple and black (polka dots or stripes, take your pick), which gives one the impression of an oversized shoe string, and upon his precious pointed head with its Frenchies, he wears a wide brimmed slouch hat of fine white felt with a wide band of silk which matches the exquisite material of his tie. Fastened to his belt and cascading down to the cuff of his pegged trousers is a chain of the purest gold which he occasionally twirls as he stands on the street corner whistling at attractive members of the opposite sex.

Usually he can be seen wearing a pair of fashionable sun glasses; of course it may be night or the rain may be falling, but, he still wears them. Our description of his attire would not be complete if we forgot the bits of animal skin setting-off the lapels, pockets, and seams of his outfit. To some he may be a divine creature but give me a man who considers a neat blue or grey suit of flannel, a sweater of fine color and texture, a white or colored conventional styled shirt, and a pair of bucks or loafers as the best mode of dress.

Tom Pollack—I don't like them—period.

Dale Yoder—They're all right in Bermuda.

Bill Daves—They're the worst—they're terrible.

Duke Carl—I think they're quite disgusting.

Dr. Reppert—I think they are strictly for "aficionados".

Dr. Shirk—With Zaferes as a model, they should go far.

John Lewis—Dignity always dignity. Now take the Dior look . . .

Lions Renew Grid Rivalry With Alfred Tomorrow

In The Lion's Den

by Dave Widland

Last Saturday's game marked the first time that an Albright eleven coached by Eddie Gulian ever met defeat at Gettysburg. The Lions could not seem to get a sustained offense rolling. The Bullet's line play was very good, but was overshadowed by their excellent offense. The brightest spot on the Red and White side was the running of halfback Willy (Crazylegs) Smith, who racked up 82 yards in 17 carries for a 5-yard average. Roy Dragon averaged 6 yards for nine tries, while Tom Pollock carried 16 times for 41 yards.

Brains and Brawn

Bobby Morris, who last year was a halfback on the Albright football team, will compete in the Senior Berks County Physique and Weight Lifting championship program scheduled for Saturday, November 20, in the Mount Penn High School auditorium. Morris last year won first place in the Mr. Berks County contest, which event is also sponsored by the Reading Barbell Club. He also won first prize in the Mr. Philadelphia contest, second place in the 1952 Mr. Berks County contest, first in the 1953 Berks event, second in the Mr. Pennsylvania contest, and sixth in the Mr. America competition. At the present time he is in training for the 1954 Mr. America contest.

Predictions

With two of the toughest games of the season now past, Coach Gulian's gridsters should find themselves on the long end of the score in most of their remaining games. Alfred, tomorrow's opponent, is not too well known in this part of the country, but the Lions are expected to give a very good account of themselves. The Franklin and Marshall and Pennsylvania Military College games should be tossups and could go either way, while the Lions will be in there fighting against Bucknell. Although on paper the Bisons are 57 points better than Albright, the score should not be nearly as lopsided. Moravian and Lebanon Valley should be easy victories. But, as evidenced by Lafayette's defeat at the hands of Muhlenberg, things do not always go the way they are supposed to. We will go out on a limb, however, and pick the Lions to end the season with a 5-4 record.

Intramurals

On the intramural scene, the unbeaten Pi Tau aggregation is leading the league at the present time. In games played last Monday, the APO's sneaked by the Kappas, 6-0, while the second-place Zetas soundly trounced the Dorm men, 44-0. On Tuesday the Daymen forfeited to the Zetas, while the Pi Taus sneaked by the Dorm team, 7-6. The Red and Black's only score came when Don Pryor intercepted Ernie Brodbeck's pass on the Dorm ten-yard line in the last thirty seconds of play and raced into the end zone for the tally. Bill Davies' pass to Ken Greenwald in the end zone was the margin of victory.

Lionesses Open Hockey Season With Play Day

The Albright Lionesses opened the 1954 hockey season by sharing play-day laurels with Cedar Crest. Moravian and Kutztown also took part in the play-day, which was held October 9 at Cedar Crest.

Thelma Arnold, Bonnie Orr, Carol Ringler and Shirley Henry were the substitutes.

The Albright co-eds gained the honor of sharing first place with Cedar Crest by beating Moravian 1-0 and tying Kutztown and Cedar Crest. Gretchen Vogeler scored the goal.

Tomorrow the Lionesses will play host for the same three teams at a playday to be held here. All of the visiting co-eds will be invited to stay for dinner in the dining room.

Mules Beat Lafayette

Last week the alert Muhlenberg College football team recovered ten of twelve Lafayette fumbles to chalk up its first triumph of the season by a surprising 27-0 victory over the Leopards before some 7500 persons in the Allentown High stadium.

Registering its third straight triumph over its old Lehigh Valley rival, the Mules scored first time they got their hands on the ball. They took the opening kickoff, rattled off six first downs in a row, and marched sixty yards for a score. Harry Kreutzberger finally spinning over from the seven.

In the third period, the Mules recovered a Lafayette fumble on the Leopard 28, and six plays later, Frank Mero took it across.

Dick Wekheiser of Muhlenberg stole the ball from a Lafayette back and went 72 yards for an apparent score, but the play was called back and the Muhlenberg team penalized for clipping on the 35. From there the Mules marched up to the one, Bill Keeney taking it over on a quarterback sneak.

Wekheiser recovered a Lafayette fumble on the six in the last four minutes of play, took it to the one, and from there, George Haengeage took it over.

Court News

The fall tennis tournament has been blessed by a spell of fine weather, and is well under way. In the opening round Lee Swartz defeated Al Daniel, Don Noga beat Hal Kretzing, Leroy Long succumbed to Charles Sample, and John Rickenbach triumphed over Dick Steffy. In the quarter-finals Mike Daugherty beat Swartz, Noga defeated Ernie Firestone, and topped Jack Rosen waxed victorious over Charles Sample. In the semi-finals Daugherty will play Noga and Rosen will take on the winner of the Rickenbach-McMackin match. The winners of these two matches will play to determine the champion.

Battlefield Action

Lions Succumb To Gettysburg By 28-0 Count; Smith Stars In Loss

Last Saturday the Lions dropped a 28-0 decision to the Gettysburg Bullets at Gettysburg. It was Albright's second loss of the season, both of which took place on the road. Last week, the Red and White handed Muhlenberg a 12-7 setback for their initial conquest of the year. An enthusiastic crowd of 3500 fans watched Gettysburg thrill their Dad's Weekend audience with their first victory of the year.

The Albright offense, both in the air and on the ground, never got rolling as the Lions picked up but two first downs throughout the afternoon. The Bullets scored in every quarter, with their big star being Jim Megee, a senior playing his first college football game. He dashed 50 yards for the Bullets' third period score. Although Albright never gave up hope, their attack stalled constantly, while the Gettysburg offense proved too much for the Lions. The Bullets used their superior power in their scoring drives to open wide gaps in the Albright line.

Lions Hold

Roy Dragon received the opening kickoff for the Lions and returned the ball to his own 38. After three unsuccessful plays, the Lions were forced to punt with Tom Pollock booting out of bounds on the Gettysburg 40. From there the Bullets marched to the Albright 50. During the drive, a 15-yard penalty was assessed the Lions. Here Dragon intercepted a Bullet pass and returned the ball nine yards to the Lion 24. Again Albright failed to gain and Pollock punted to the Gettysburg 30. Gettysburg went on the march for the second time, but superior line play by the Lions stopped the Bullet's offense on the Albright 48. Following the punt, the Red and White took over on their own 11, but on the first play Dragon fumbled. The Bullets got their first break of the game as the loose pigskin was recovered by Gettysburg's Mike Duka on the 17 yard line.

Bullets Score

From there, fullback Eppelman raced to the Lion's 10 yard line. On the next play, Gagliardi bulled his way to the four yard line and from there Eppelman scored. The quarter was drawing to a close as Gettysburg's Jim Saltesz found the crossbars for his first of four extra points. Albright failed to gain following the kickoff and Pollock was forced to punt again. This time his near-blocked punt went out of bounds on the Albright 21 yard line. From here, a pass, Gagliardi to Lewandowski, and a run by Morro put the ball on the one and on the next play Megee crossed the goal. The conversion was good and Gettysburg led 14-0. Albright's Pollock quickly kicked to the Bullet 25 after the Lions had received the kickoff. Bob Wetzel then intercepted a Gettysburg pass to put the Lions in scoring position, but the Bullet line rose to the occasion and held on their own 10. Neither team gained offensively in the remainder of the period and the half ended with the Bullets still holding a fourteen point edge.

Megee Breaks Loose

The Lions kicked off to start the second half. The third period was highlighted by Jim Megee's fifty-yard scoring run. The teams exchanged punts to start the quarter. Pollock punned to the 50, where Gettysburg took over. On the first play, Megee took a handoff and went right through the center of the line for the score. Again, the conversion was good and the Lions trailed 21-0. After receiving the kick, the Albright offense stalled once more and soon the Bullets had a sustained drive under way. Huntzinger recovered a fumble for the Lions on the Red and White 48 to stop the advance. Roy Dragon attempted to get the Albright offense rolling, but the Bullets' line proved too much for the Lions.

Dragon Takes to the Air

Early in the last period, Gettysburg again moved into Albright territory. The Bullets had moved to the Lion 29 when Ernie Paleszewski slashed off tackle for the 29 yards and the final score of the game to cap a 61 yard drive. As the game went into its last minutes, Dragon tried to pass the Gulianmen to a score, but the Bullets soon regained control of the pigskin, and, as the game ended, had marched to the Albright goal line.

Throughout the afternoon, the Lions found themselves outplayed by a superior Gettysburg team and their new-found star, Jim Megee. Statistics told the story as the Bullets racked up 17 first downs to Albright's 2 and completed 11 passes to 2 for the Lions. The Albright backfield of Dragon, Wetzel, Wenger, and Pollock found themselves bottled up for most of the game and the Lion line was definitely outplayed.

Gulianmen Look For Second Win

Coach Eddie Gulian's Albright Lions, who on Saturday were handed their second defeat of the season at the hands of Gettysburg 28-0, take their longest road trip of the season tomorrow when they journey to Alfred, New York, to take on Coach Alex Yunevich's Alfred Saxons. The Saxons who sported a 1953 record of 5 wins and 1 loss, and who are undefeated in 3 starts this year, beat St. Lawrence 7-6 on Saturday.

Alfred, which is located near Buffalo, New York, has an enrollment of 931 students. Its last and only meeting with the Lions was in 1929 when Albright, under the guidance of Coach Alvin Julian, walloped the Saxons 73-0. Although the records favor Alfred, little is known about the type of competition which the Saxons encounter. The Lions will be keyed up for this game, and will be looking for their first victory away from home.

Albright's starting lineup is expected to be the same as it has been all season. The line will include Bob Krize and Ed McNeill, ends; Fred Hess and Wally Goss, tackles; Bob Sulyma and Frank Goldstein, guards; and Jack Huntzinger, center. In the backfield Roy Dragon will be at quarterback, Willy Smith and Tom Pollock at the halfbacks, and Chris Wenger will run from the fullback slot.

John Yovocsin, who began his third season as head football coach at Gettysburg College this year, has one of the finest records of any young mentor in the East.

In two seasons since taking over for retired coach Henry Bream, the 35-year old native of Steelton has directed Gettysburg teams to fourteen wins against only four losses. In 1952, the Bullets won six and dropped three, and last season, after losing to the University of Delaware in the season opener, turned in eight consecutive victories for the finest season in the history of the school. No team has been able to beat Gettysburg by more than two touchdowns during the past two years, and only Delaware, in a 19-7 game, was able to turn the trick by that large a margin.

Yovocsin, married and the father of three boys, was graduated from Gettysburg in 1940. As an undergraduate, he earned varsity letters in football, basketball, and track, and has gone into the record books as one of the college's greatest ends. He coached at Valley Forge Military Academy and Middletown, Pa., high school before returning to Gettysburg in 1948.

The Bullets open their eight-game schedule on the night of October 2, at Bucknell, minus twelve lettermen, including All-State and Little All-American halfback Joe Ujobai.

The Gettysburg roster is made up of seven ends, seven tackles, eight guards, five centers, and nineteen backs. Included in the squad will be nine seniors, twenty-two juniors, and fifteen sophomores. Twenty-two of the returnees are lettermen; players who helped win eight and lose only one last year for the best record in the history of the school.

The schedule: October 2, Bucknell; October 9, Albright; October 16, Lehigh; October 23, Muhlenberg; October 30, Lafayette; November 6, Delaware; November 13, Western Maryland; November 20, F. & M.

No Offense Intended

(ACP)—Sister Matilda Mary, in charge of casting for "The Young and Fair" at Holy Names College, Spokane, Wash., was quick to explain her criteria.

"When I give a girl a certain part it is because I think she can do it well," she said, "not because I think it fits her own personality."

Characters in the play include a bully, a liar, two women who value material security more than a clear conscience and a kleptomaniac.

Perfectly Normal

(ACP)—At Oklahoma City University a coed placed a want ad in the school paper to recover some lost articles. Among the items she advertised were two mechanical pencils, a purple formal, a $3.00 check, one shoe, a pajama bottom, a suit of long underwear and a white shirt.

"It's normal for a girl to lose these things," she said.

Chemistry

(ACP)—From the University of Rhode Island Beacon comes this chemical analysis of a woman:

Symbol: Wo.
Accepted Atomic Weight: 120.
Physical Properties: Boils at nothing and freezes at anything. Melts when perfectly treated and very bitter if not well used.

Occurrence: Found wherever man exists.

Chemical Properties: Possesses a great affinity for gold, silver, platinum and precious stones. Violent reaction if left alone. Able to absorb a great amount of food matter. Turns green when placed beside a better looking specimen.

Uses: Highly ornamental. Useful as a tonic acceleration of low spirits and equalizer of the distribution of wealth—is probably the most effective income reducing agent known.

Class Of '58 Runs Vigorous Campaign

Freshman class officers were elected in assembly yesterday after some of the most vigorous campaigning for office seen on campus in years.

Although this paper cannot print the winner, since the story broke after deadline, it can print the story of that campaign.

Bob (Let's Go Frosh With Bob Gosch) Gosch, Charles Shearer, and Kenneth Eberle ran for president.

Candidates for vice-president included Philip Eyrych, Willie Rieser and Ginger Lloyd, who ran on the remarkable platform "Sugar and Spice, Ginger For Vice".

Barbara Smith, Patricia Schatz (C'mon cats, vote for Patty Schatz), Mary Ellen Wray and Deborah Klonsky fought it out for secretary. Terry Johnson ran for treasurer.

Formal Dinner Held In Sherman Cottage

Dr. Milton Geil and Dr. Samuel Shirk were guests at a formal dinner prepared by senior home management students in Sherman Cottage Wednesday night.

Mary Althouse was hostess for the occasion, with Leda PasYotis assisting. Also present were Miss Miriam L. Parker, home economics instructor, Ann Stalneck, Genevieve Sweltzer and Jane Zenke.

Dorm Council Elects Additional Officers

Lucy Schuman was elected secretary-treasurer of Selwyn Hall Council by the members of the council, while Karen Saul was elected secretary-treasurer of Teel Hall Council.

At a recent Selwyn-Teel Hall dean meeting in the Pine Room, Jean Filbert, President of Women's Dormitory, introduced the counselors: Rachel Kaebnick, vice-president of Women's Dormitory and Selwyn Hall president, Nancy Cashin, Nancy Hitchner, Sally Bubeck and Jean Hagenbuch, counselors for the freshmen, and Lucy Schuman, south wing sophomore counselor.

Miss Filbert is senior counselor in Teel Hall, Sally Lanz and Karen Saul, junior counselors, and Cynthia Winter and Jeanne Palm, sophomore counselors.

Mrs. Ella Lesher is head resident of Teel Hall and assistant to Dean Morton while Mrs. Anna Spencer is assistant to the dean in Selwyn Hall and supervisor of housekeeping in both dorms.

Dean Morton led a discussion of the new women's handbooks, which was a joint project of last year's and this year's Council. Winifred Neuklis provided the clever drawings.

Friendly Atmosphere Impresses Dave Bichsel from Switzerland

On the Albright campus this year is one certain spirited young fellow from a little country in Europe. Dave Bichsel from Kuengoldingen, Switzerland is being sponsored by the Evangelical United Brethren Church for one year to attend Albright and continue his studies in economics.

Dave is 19 years old (in fact, he was just 19 on September 11, the exact day he arrived in Reading). Sailing aboard the Greek liner "Olympia", Dave got his first glimpse of America when he sighted the New York skyline as "Olympia" neared her destination. He relates that the New York skyline and the Statue of Liberty really gave him a most welcome feeling. He disembarked August 24 after a seven day trip across the waters. Accompanying him on this trip was another young fellow from Dave's home town who is attending Lebanon Valley College under the same church sponsorship.

When asked about Albright, he remarked that he is impressed greatly with the fine friendly atmosphere and the wonderful faculty. "I can't understand why we have so few classes in America. In Switzerland, the average student has 35 classes per week with much more homework than we are given here. Of course, we do most of our homework in the classroom under the teacher's instruction."

When he finishes his studies at Albright, Dave wishes to go to South America and work there for a year before returning to his home country.

Dave states that our social life in American colleges is much more extensive than is the social life in European colleges. And he believes this is a good thing. As he puts it, "When you graduate from a college in Europe, you have the 'book knowledge' but you don't have the social experience that one should have."

Summing it all up, Dave remarks, "I am very grateful to the EUB Church for giving me this wonderful opportunity to visit America and consider myself lucky in being able to attend a college like Albright."
