GRADUATES TO HEAR SPRUILLE BRADEN

Jeanne Welty, Noted Monologist, Slated For Final Culture Program

Jeanne Welty, outstanding young artist of the monodrama, will be featured in the last of Albright's 1945-46 Cultural Series programs Thursday at 10:10 a. m. in the College Chapel, announces Dr. Milton W. Hamilton. Besides distinguishing herself as a monologist, one of the most difficult of theatrical forms because one performer is responsible for carrying the entire play, Miss Welty writes and produces her own programs.

Ohioan

Miss Welty was born in Lima, Ohio, where at the age of seven she presented her first play. The play, which she adapted from a child's story, was presented on the porch of her home for the benefit of the local Day Nursery.

Famous Teachers

She is the daughter of a lawyer and former Congressman. She was educated at private schools in Lima, Cincinnati, and Washington; and received her professional training at the Schuster-Martin School of the Theater, the Cincinnati College of Music, and the Pasadena Playhouse. She also studied with such famous teachers as Constance Collier, Isaac Van Grove, Frances Robinson Duff, and Ralph Bellamy. After playing leading parts in production of a stock company which traveled from coast to coast, Miss Welty began her career in monodrama.

Theodosia Burr

In her programs Miss Welty presents the dramatic moments in the lives of such memorable women as Theodosia Burr, daughter of Aaron Burr, Fanny Keruble, popular British actress, and Adrienne Lecouvreur, toast of eighteenth century France. For her presentation on Thursday Miss Welty has chosen the enigmatic story of Theodosia Burr. The program will consist of three acts and an epilogue, all written and produced by Miss Welty herself. The Domino Club of the College will be responsible for the stage setting.

Philosophy Club Elects Mervin Helfrich, Plans Banquet For May 23

Election of officers for the coming year and planning for the annual banquet May 23 comprised the main part of the Philosophy Club meeting last Thursday evening. Mervin Helfrich was selected by members to serve as their president, while Newell Wert will be vice-president; Agnes Snyder will be secretary; and Margie Handy will be treasurer. Three new members were welcomed into the club at this meeting, Barbara Rhoads, Mrs. H. Handing, and George Morfogen.

Philosophy Club's traditional banquet will be held May 23 at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room at 6 p. m., announce the committee who are working on the affair. Present and alumnae members of the club will be there, as well as Dr. Morris S. Greth, advisor to the club, and Mrs. Greth. A speaker for the banquet has not as yet been selected.

Gloria Salfetty has charge of tickets, decorations, and place cards. Newell Wert, Robert Schneider, president of the club, and Miss Snyder are also working on arrangements for the banquet.

Peter Cianci read a paper entitled "Philosophy of Karl Marx" at last Thursday's meeting. Club members then discussed the problems of democracy as related to the Marxian theories.

MONOLOGIST

JEANNE WELTY

Attention, Vets!

Dennis Ertel, president of the Veterans Club, urges all vets to be in the Science Lecture Hall at 1 p. m. tomorrow for the election of officers for the coming year. Ertel stressed that the election is of vital concern to every Albright veteran.

"Y" Presidents Select Cabinets For '46-47 Work

Newell Wert and Agnes Snyder, presidents of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. have delegated their cabinets to carry on "Y" activities for the next year. They are Jack Shafer and Marjorie Christ, vice-presidents; William Marlow and Lucy Smith, secretaries; Warren Pfost and Ferne Allen, treasurers; Robert Holtzapfel and Miss Christ, worship committee chairmen; Shafer and Doris Downes, social action chairmen.

Other Members

Other cabinet members are Robert Ziegler and Shirley Miller, publicity chairmen; Marlow and Doris Hicks, recreation chairmen; Stewart McCleary and Joy Cutler, frosh commission chairmen; and Betty Shroyer, records.

Installation

Wert and Miss Snyder, as well as their cabinets, were installed by Irene Fisher, retiring Y. W. president, at last Tuesday's meeting. President Harry V. Masters addressed the group on the responsibilities and problems facing the "Y's" next year, including an increased student body and a large enrollment of war veterans. A social hour followed at the home of Professor and Mrs. Lewis E. Smith.

Quiet Games

Wert and Miss Snyder announced that a program of quiet games will be the feature of the "Y" recreational meeting this evening, 7:30 p. m. in the Lower Social Room. Students will have the opportunity to play checkers, croquet, checkers, and other games of this kind, and refreshments will be served. Co-chairmen for the affair are Miss Cutler and Ziegler.

U.S. Assistant Secretary of State To Give Main Graduation Address

Spruille Braden, Assistant Secretary of State of the United States, will be the main speaker at the 1946 Albright College commencement exercises at 3:30 p. m., June 2 on the college campus, revealed Lester L. Stabler, director of Public Relations, today.

Braden, whose appointment as Assistant Secretary of State was confirmed by the Senate on October 22, 1945, was enthusiastically welcomed to his new capacity by the press throughout the western hemisphere. Since Braden has spent much of his life in South America, his personality is expected to knit Pan-American ties more closely.

Born in Montana

After spending several years in Montana, where he was born and where his father was a mining engineer, Braden accompanied his father to Chile. He returned to the U. S. to study mining at Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University. Leaving mining to enter industrial engineering, he was connected with the electrification of Chilean State Railroads. In 1919 Braden came to the U. S. to organize an industrial corporation and here became a personal friend of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Braden's diplomatic career began when President Roosevelt named him a U. S. delegate to the Inter-American Conference in Montevideo in 1933. In 1935 he served as delegate to the Pan American Commercial Conference. With his appointment as chairman of the U. S. delegation to the Chaco Peace Conference, he achieved ambassadorial rank. Since then he has served as ambassador to Colombia, Cuba, and Argentina.

Braden is known as an executive who surrounds himself with able subordinates.

New York Resident

Secretary Braden enjoys people and likes to give large, informal parties. He, Mrs. Braden, the former Senorita Maria Humeres del Solar of Santiago, and their five children, live in the Riverdale section of New York City.

Mantle Ceremony Officially Greets New Council

At the annual Student Council Mantle Ceremony last Thursday in the College Chapel, Kenneth Good was officially installed as president of Student Council by President Harry V. Masters, who outlined the purposes of Council.

In installing the other members of Council, Good summed up for the purposes and plans of Council for 1946-47 by saying, "To the Administration, faculty, students, and members of Student Council of Albright, there lies a challenge in the next year. This challenge, if competently met, will make for a greater Albright."

Marie Bonner, president of the senior class, spoke briefly on the problems her class has had to face under wartime conditions. She then passed on the mantle of the class of (Continued on Page 4)

Senate Holds Induction Rites For New Leaders

Albright women participated in a ceremony last Thursday in the College Chapel which featured the first formal induction of the Women's Student Senate, which was organized on Albright's campus one year ago. In a candle light service, Joy Cutler was installed as president of the Senate by the retiring president, Anna Wartluft.

Joan House accepted the duties of presidency of the Dormitory Council and Agnes Snyder of presidency of the Daywomen's Organization from the former presidents, Rita Duncaavage and Miss Wartluft.

Masters is Moderator, Discusses Gap College

Last Wednesday President Harry V. Masters acted as moderator for the first broadcast of the Junior Town Meeting of the Air for Reading and Berks County. "Can Private Enterprise Meet the Housing Shortage Adequately?" was the question discussed. This program may be heard every Wednesday morning at 9:30 over WRAW.

Professor Paul Speicher, Dean George Walton, Professor Lewis Smith, Dr. F. W. Gingrich, and Dr. Masters attended the annual meeting of the East Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical Church which convened in Lebanon last week.

Cold Weather, Seminars, Camp Capers Combine To Make Wonderful Retreat

By MARIAN FIEDLER

Cold weather did not daunt the spirit of enthusiastic Albrightians who attended the spring "Y" Retreat at the Blue Mountain Camp near Hamburg last Saturday and Sunday. By four o'clock, the time for the first seminar, everyone had warmed up by the fire, ready to do some serious thinking.

Rev. Arthur McKay, an Albright graduate and pastor of a Presbyterian church on Long Island, began discussion on the topic "What It Means to Be a Christian." His ease and friendliness aroused interest immediately as he presented his main idea: we must know what we believe, then live accordingly; faith is a prelude to action. "Let us believe what we feel about Christ," he declared earnestly, "but believe something and stick to it!" Discussions following each seminar provoked thought aplenty, judging from the questions asked by the group.

There were other less serious aspects of "Y" Retreat: camp capers around the table; reminiscing with George Morfogen about pre-war Albright; the circus, with Jerry Hertzog blowing feeble notes from his bugle and collecting peanut shells; Dick Major and Mervin Helfrich shouting German to each other across the lake; the breathless excitement at Herb Vogt's and Mrs. McKay's "tumbling" acts.

A challenge to thought and action was truly in forty happy hearts as they came away from Blue Mountain spiritually refreshed.

Dominoes to Present Freshman One Acters

The one-act committee of the Domino Club, with Minnie Silberman as chairman, is putting on several one-act plays written by members of freshman English classes the evening of May 11, announced Marie Bonner, president, and Dr. John B. Douds, head of the English department.

Jeanne Schlegel is directing "My Black Heaven" written by Jeanne Hartranft and Rhea Dobb, "A Favor" by Carl Kern, while Dick Major is staging "A Chance" by Dorothy Seisler. Betty Burnett will guide "The Dean Solves a Problem" by Elaine Huber and Claire Porter, "Creamery Guest" by Barbara Scheib. As yet, these plays have not been cast.

K.T.X. Bids Eight Men To Be Inducted In May

Eight pre-ministerial students were extended bids to join Kappa Tau Chi, local pre-ministerial honorary fraternity, announced Robert Schneider, president. The pledges include Dale Weber, Ronald Corcroft, Edward Bigler, Richard Cattermole, Charles Kachel, Evans Keim, Raymond Fidler, and Gerald Hertzog. These men will be inducted into the fraternity at the closing meeting of the year in Sylvan Chapel.

Swan Song

Since May is almost here and farewell speeches are the vogue at this time of year, it seems an appropriate time for the ex-editor to wish good luck to the new editor. My erstwhile first mate Eileen knows that she has my best wishes for success as she takes over as skipper on the good ship THE ALBRIGHTIAN. However, because I know that being an editor is very much a process of becoming sadder and wiser about the foibles of mankind, I give her my sympathy too.

There are several varieties of farewell editorials. The sweet and sentimental sort is not quite my type. I might be more inclined to go philosophical on my readers and try to impart that one golden grain of wisdom which being an editor gave me; but that would require giving advice, and nobody likes advice, so I'll skip that too.

So I'll just take one last sniff of the rubber cement, give the files one last bang, say to my readers, "Keep plugging for THE ALBRIGHTIAN," and to Eileen, "Goodbye and good luck—it's all yours now."

BETSY POTTIEGER

Our Pledge To You

Just as farewell speeches are in order for retiring editors, so introductory speeches are in order for those of us who are starting down the long road of editing. Our speech will include thanks to Betsy for helping to make that road easier to travel. She knows, too, that our best wishes go along with our thanks.

Our speech will also include a pledge to all readers of THE ALBRIGHTIAN, a pledge to bring to you adequate and up-to-date news coverage, and interesting and informative features and sports stories. To do this we'll need the cooperation of every organization, every faculty member and administrative officer as well as every student on campus. We'll need your suggestions and criticisms, your "Letters to the Editor"; in other words, we'll need your moral support to make this a successful student paper.

Is This Cooperation?

Last Thursday Student Council started its 1946-47 year of legislation when about twenty-five new members were inducted—in front of an audience of about twenty students. Seems unbelievable, doesn't it? We thought so, too, that only twenty students were interested enough in the Council which they, themselves, elected to witness their installation as the supreme governing body of all Albright students. It seems unbelievable that only twenty students saw fit to pledge support, by their presence at this impressive ceremony, to the body which will make decisions this year and next year which will vitally concern the campus lives of each and every Albright student.

Let us hope Student Council does not become hopelessly discouraged by this seeming lack of support on the part of those whom they have been chosen to represent. Let us hope that Albrightians show a better spirit of cooperation in the future with their Student Council than this instance seems to indicate.

BY ANNE ONYMOUS

Notice Harriet Beilen today. She's all dressed in Navy Blue for a special Navy Lieutenant and a special dinner at Philadelphia's fashionable Warwick Hotel. Harriet knows that blue suits and cocky little hats are the favorites of most men.

George Morfogen knows that flowers are favorites of most women. In fact, we all do. But you don't have to wear them in your hair, George!

Miss Cunliffe found last week that the reason that a coach dog was following her around was that she wore a black and white checked suit.

If Jean Fehr doesn't cut her hair soon, she will probably find two Afghan hounds fighting over her.

Jerry Ferris is the only guy on campus who spends eighty-five cents to have his pajamas dry cleaned and pressed.

If Miss Rodriguez is looking slight or pale it is because she spent her Easter vacation here at school. She not only froze, but she also ate her own cooking. The one high light of her vacation was entertaining her bridge club.

Somebody stole Chick Crozier's car and later returned it. He doesn't know if he should be hurt or thankful.

Men's metabolism must be lowest around Easter, for we usually find several engagements cemented at this time—just no resistance. Doris Ferris has Dick Derr's frat pin and Betty Fiedt has Art High's.

Connie Ball was heard remarking to a friend, "He's just the sweetest date; before we drove away he even made sure my big toe was comfortable." The guy must be a chiropract.

Mollie Frederick was heard raving about someone who was obviously the light of her life, but much to our disappointment it turned out to be only Bugs Bunny.

PGM Revives Tradition With Annual Banquet

The first formal banquet since the start of the war will climax the year's activities of Pi Gamma Mu Friday night at the Wyomissing Club at 7:30 p. m., with Judge Warren K. Hess as main speaker. Shirley Rekon, president of this national honorary social science fraternity, will be mistress of ceremonies, while Milton G. Geil, secretary-treasurer, will welcome alumnae members of Pi Gamma Mu. George Morfogen, newly-elected president for 1946-47, will also address the gathering.

Jeanne Schlegel will furnish musical entertainment for the dinner. Committees in charge of arrangements for the banquet include: programs, Robert Schneider and Irene Fisher; invitations, Jean Harer; decorations, Gloria Salfecty and John Kissinger; place cards, Mary Briner.

College Selects Women For May Court of Honor

Rita Duncavage, mistress of ceremonies for May Day, to be held next Saturday, May 10, on the College campus, reveals that six women were selected by an all-college vote to assist Gayle Haupt, Queen of the May, as her Court of Honor. The women chosen are Margaret Ball, Margaret Hendricks, June Plowfield, Gloria Salfecty, Marybeth Schofer, and Marguerite Shalter.

Marion Latta was voted at the Student Council all-college election to be Maid of Honor, while Anna Wartluft was chosen last spring to be Custodian of the Crown.

The Rock Entertains Large Chapel Audience With Excellent Drama

"The Rock," a three-act sacred play by Mary P. Hamlin, was well received by a capacity audience in the College Chapel on Palm Sunday. The play was directed by Miss S. Helen Ahrens. It was the first time in several years that a three act Easter play was presented, in place of two sacred one-act plays. The story of the play concerned the trials, temptations, misconceptions, and final salvation of Simon Peter, who came to be known as "the Rock."

The demanding and varied part of Simon Peter was interpreted with unexpected depth and versatility for one so young, by William Marlow. His loyal, childlike young wife was played with grace and charm by Margaret Hohl. She lent the scene in the third act in which she realizes the cowardice of Peter's denial, a feeling of real pathos. The part of Deborah, Adina's widowed mother, was portrayed with dignity and sensitivity by Marian Fiedler, who made her first Domino appearance in the role.

Mervin Helfrich, in the role of a wealthy and somewhat pompous merchant with ideas of his own grandeur, gave the character a "wealth" of humor, as well as more serious interpretation. Mary Magdalene, the shameless beauty, favorite of the Roman court in Capuignum, was convincingly enacted by Jeanne Schlegel. Her red satin costume which she wore in the first act, was the "brightest" costume the Domino stage has seen in many a day. Charles Kachel was excellent in his brief, but outstanding role as a physician.

Richard Major, a veteran of Army life himself, made quite an impression as the overbearing Roman officer in his very brief toga. Jack Shaffer's brief appearance as the Greek sophisticate and poet offered the audience a superb bit of pantomime. The roles of servants were capably handled by Oldric Von Seekamm and Harry Kousaras, respectively.

The Red and Blue Networks . . . most people are immediately reminded of radio, but how many General Biology students see red and blue rubberized vessels inter-twining in a senseless mass? . . . we'll make no comments on this question; stating simply and sincerely that rubberized vessels do not make the best material for visions. One thing, if only one thing absorbed by the Bio 2b's, was the apparent fact that the frog is not to be listed as a simple organism, and hence forth we may be more appreciative while hearing the frogs croaking. (Wish they'd all croak).

Now as this article is being written last Wednesday we all hope as we read it today that it rained last Friday and 'de boid hike was canceled' but as we write this last Wednesday it is impossible to predict for today; very probably we started off at 5:30 last Friday and ruined a perfect day. Mrs. Powers says she can't make it . . . last Friday, for she's gotta make breakfast for her paternal relation. Rev. Keim summed it up, "Why, my word, man, at 5:30 the busses aren't even up yet." We now know that the early bird gets the worm, and we know that except for Binder (who really seems to know his birds) there aren't very many bird-men among us.

Fifteen flowers and ten tree leaves will be required of all General Bio students. In view of this announcement we shouldn't be surprised to see Jim riding shot-gun in a last ditch stand to protect the campus flowers and trees. The other alternative isn't so stable, for there's a fine for picking city flowers.

Phi Beta Mu Has Formal, Inducts Seven Pledges

Alumna and present members of the Phi Beta Mu Sorority will hold their spring formal dance this Saturday evening at the Wyomissing Club from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. Jack Heath will provide music, revealed Marybeth Schofer, president of the sorority.

Shirley Rekon and Marguerite Shalter, co-chairmen of the dance, have planned favors in the form of gold cigarette lighters with the sorority initials on them.

Officers of the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority have also been invited to the formal.

The Mu's received seven women into membership last night at their meeting at the home of Virginia Woerle. The new sorority members are Mildred Abrams, Betty Deibert, Mary Fry, Jean Long, Grace Miller, Elaine Huber, and Josephine Shalter. Election of officers was also conducted.

I.R.C. Entertains Ursinus And Selects New Pledges

At a meeting on Monday, April 15, the members of the International Relations Club of Ursinus College were entertained by those of Albright. A short business meeting was held before the students from Ursinus arrived, and the list of the new pledges was presented to the club. The new pledges are as follows: Dennis Erle, Rosemarie Behler, Helen Capozello, Jerome Dersch, Doris Downes, Oldric von Seekamm, William Heckler, Jacob Sklover, and Catherine Frantz.

A report on the book "Germany—Our Problem" by Henry Morgenthau, Jr. was given by Kenneth Good after the club from Ursinus arrived. Following Good's report, Mr. J. Bennett Nolan gave a speech on "Franklin's Philosophies Applied" to the German Problems. Refreshments were then served.

Veterans' Bureau Adds New Man to Staff As Waiting List Grows

Dr. Milton G. Geil, head of the psychology department, announces that there is a large backlog of cases accumulating at the Veterans' Bureau, and in order to eliminate the necessity for veterans to wait for long periods for advisements, another man has been added to the staff in the person of John Muthard, formerly a counselor with the U. S. Employment Service. Muthard is now in Philadelphia for a short training course.

Muthard holds a bachelor's degree from Kutztown State Teachers' College and is working toward his M.A. in psychology at Temple University.

Dr. Geil spoke at the Spring Youth Rally in the Evangelical Church, Mountville, Pa., last Sunday. The topic of his speech was "Youth and the New World."

Pi Alpha Tau Inducts 8, Makes Plans For Formal

Doris Ferris, Eileen O'Neil, Fay Sheets, Mary Bechtel, Betty Leinbach, Arlene Schell, Jeanne Schwartz, and Helen Ross were officially inducted into the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority at its last meeting April 15, in the Lower Social Room. Lynne Parr, who was absent, will be inducted at a later meeting, at which officers will be elected.

Rita Duncavage, chairman of the dance committee, announced that the spring formal will be held May 17 at the Green Valley Country Club.

Lions-in-the-Ranks

By JEAN HARER

From Taejon, Korea, BILL RANKIN writes to tell us what has been happening to him: "From what I have been reading in THE ALBRIGHTIAN, I see that many of my friends have been doing a lot of traveling so that I could keep up on the news of Albright and my friends. The December 18th issue of THE ALBRIGHTIAN is the latest one I have received. I imagine that the others will follow me from the islands when my other mail catches up with me.

"I am lucky in the fact that I have here someone that I can talk to about Reading and Albright. The one fellow that has been with me in all my stations since the day we were inducted is Bob Hutchinson, who lived in Reading and cooked in the Albright kitchen for a couple of years. Here in our room we talk over the triumphs of Albright and the improvements that are to be made. I am not so sure that I will recognize the place when I return. From the plans that I saw in one issue of The Albrightian, it will be a wonderful place.

"At present I am assigned to the 102d Military Government Group in Korea. It is cold here and there is little to do except go to a movie once in a while, play ping-pong, and write letters. Military Government is an outfit that helps the Koreans to get back on their feet and to set up what they call a free Korea. I am working in the Finance Department and enjoy my work a lot. I hope that in some way the work I have been doing in the army will help me when I get back into civilian life again, and that can't be too soon for me. I have sent quite a few fellows home and I always wish that I could have gone along. I will close with the hope that I will be back soon and once more taking classes at Albright."

IRWIN SOLOMON in Cuba says, "Once again I want to take this opportunity to thank you for sending me The Albrightian. I look forward to receiving it each week with eager enthusiasm.

"I expect to get discharged from the Navy about the 2nd of May and as you can well imagine I am eagerly awaiting the day when I'll be returning to Albright. I have been on board the "Borie" for over 18 months now and have seen quite a bit of the world—Tokyo, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, Saipan, Eniwetok, Ulithi, Pearl Harbor, Balboa, and Colon. Right now we are operating with the "Tarawa," an Essex-class carrier, on her "shakedown cruise." Thanks again and please give my regards to the boys in the APO."

We have received a note from Lt. Col. KENNETH L. BENFER saying that he has returned to this country and is on terminal leave, after 34 months with the medical corps of the Army overseas.

Another "thank you" note, this time from Lt. Comdr. RALPH E. WEIGLE: "I want to thank you for sending me The Albrightian during these war years. I have enjoyed reading the college news. I have met only a few Albrightians during the war whom I knew, but did serve with Robert Shippe and John Survey in Florida in 1943.

Biology Club to Elect Officers, Award Honor Certificates to Seniors

Election of officers will comprise the main part of the Skull and Bones open meeting tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in the Science Lecture Hall. Nominations for the offices include: president, Betty Burnett and Vladimir Kolton; secretary - treasurer, Joan House and Lawrence Haag. All students are invited to attend this meeting of the biological society.

Included in the program will be the reading of two scientific papers, "Thyroid Gland" by Marie Bonner and "Nature and Physiology of Shock" by June Plowfield, president of Skull and Bones. At this meeting, all senior members will be awarded certificates of honor for membership in the society for the past two years. The seniors are Miss Bonner, Rita Duncavage, Margaret Hendricks, Miss Plowfield, and Gloria Salfetty.

Danford to Return As Chemistry Prof For Next September

Professor Newton S. Danford, former assistant professor of chemistry at Albright, will resume his duties in that department in September, after a three-year leave of absence with the Navy, announced President Harry V. Masters.

Professor Danford spent most of his Navy duty at the Naval Training Center, Sampson, New York, as a Special Services Officer. Here it was his duty to arrange a training program of education for illiterates. Shortly before his discharge he was appointed supervisor of all continental education service centers of the U. S. Navy.

A graduate of Albright in 1935, Professor Danford continued his studies at the University of Pennsylvania, and after that was associated with Albright's chemistry department.

Attention, Chorus!

Special to all members of the mixed chorus! Prof Duddy announces that there will be a rehearsal Thursday night in the College Dining Hall at 7 p. m. for the Night of Music to be presented May 17. Come prepared for a full evening's work, everyone.

Alchemists to Picnic, Elect Officers Next Week

The final meeting of the Alchemists Club will be in the form of a picnic next Wednesday, announced Phyllis Carter, president. No definite place has been selected. The committee includes Vladimir Kolton, Richard Derr, and Kenneth Good. Betty Burnett, Joan House, and Heber Yeagley are in charge of refreshments.

The business of the meeting will include the election of officers for the next year. Robert Sokol, Richard Derr, and Mary Eschwei are serving on the nominating committee.

MASTERS

Friday morning the committee met with Governor Edward Martin to discuss the possibility of establishing a temporary college at Indiantown Gap.

Cutler Selected to Head Home Ec Organization

At a recent election of the Home Economics Organization, officers for next year were elected. They are Joy Cutler, president; Alice Albright, vice president; Betty Shroyer, secretary; and Betty Berger, treasurer.

A new rule was made stating that the terms of offices should run from February to February to relieve the seniors for student teaching.

SENATE

for representative; Geraldine Wentzel, junior representative; and Helen Capozello, sophomore representative. The dorm women inducted were Mildred Abrams and Alice Albright, senior representatives; Marjorie Christ and Grace Miller, junior representatives; and Lois Lackey and Betty Deibert, sophomore representatives.

At the same time as the induction service, all the women present participated in a moving-up ceremony, which has, before this year, been a tradition only of dormitory women. The seniors became alumna, the juniors, seniors, the sophomores, juniors, and the freshman, sophomores. Dean Helen Cunliffe presented to all Albright women a challenge to make the Women's Student Senate a vital, active group on campus.

APO's Lead Softball League In Third Week of Campus Competition

By DICK MAJOR

Since The Albrightian went to press last, the Intramural softball loop has opened its 1946 campaign with a good-sized bang. Four games have been played thus far while three others were rained out. The APO's copped two of the quartet to take over first place in what promises to be a mighty close race.

Inaugural Contest

The inaugural contest saw the Zetas apposed to the APO's on Tuesday, April 9. Jug Manderbach hurled a nice game, but so did Waid Rowland and a couple of errors when they hurt gave the Blue and Gold their first win by a 4-3 count. Manderbach and Butch Harting connected early for the circuit, the latter with two on; while George Morfogen collected a single, a double, and a walk in four trips to the plate for the best average of the day.

Daymen Lose

The Pi Tau-Kappa consolidation nine showed itself to be a power to be reckoned with in defeating the Daymen 6-3 in the second game of the season. Bob Starr kept the home-owners' 10 hits well scattered, while his combination team managed to take advantage of a collection of hits and boots in the third stanza for four runs. Pitcher Siegfried tried valiantly to win his own game with three bingles but smooth fielding and especially Johnny Killiany's swift legs and powerful arm kept his teammates from the platter. "Heffer" Shollenberger shone at the plate for the KUP-PTB outfit with three for four.

Zetas Win

On the 16th of this month the Zetas scored their first win when they nosed out the Kappa-Pi Tau combination 7-6 in a rather sloppy slugging duel. The combined team woke up in the late innings, but even three doubles and Shollenberger's pinch-hitting home-run were not enough to overcome what the Zetas collected on 14 bluffs and five errors.

14 Hits

The APO's maintained their top position by drubbing the winless Daymen 8-2 in the first game after Easter. They collected 14 hits off Mort Witman's pitching, four for extra bases; and held their opponents scoreless until the last frame. Big guns for the winners were Abe Markowitz who had three for three and George Morfogen with a triple and a single in five trips to the plate.

Called for Rain

In the other games scheduled, the APO-Dorm contest was called in the third inning for rain, with the non-fraternity club leading 1-0. Rain and conflicting schedules kept the remainder until a future date. With daylight saving beginning this week, there will again be twilight games after supper.

Albright Loses First Track Meet Shafer and Delp Star With Six Points Each

Albright lost its first track and field meet to Lafayette at Easton on April 24th. A well-developed and well-trained Lafayette team was led in points by the all-around trackman Bergenbech. He earned 11 points, winning first place in the broad jump with a distance of 19' 8 1/2", and also first in the javelin throwing the stick 153' 3". Jack Shafer and Jim Delp were tie for Albright high spots, both having six points apiece. Shafer won the 220 yard dash in 24.5 seconds. He also came in third in the 100 yard dash. Delp's second places in the 880 yard dash and in the one mile run gave him six tabs. George Manderbach threw the discus 112' 10 1/2" for first place. Albright took second and third places in the javelin. Dick Beyerle copped the duce and Johnny Killiany copped trey in the attempt most putting the spear thru the distance caller. Others from Albright to place were Lee Cappell being third in the broad jump and "Max" Binder third in the two mile event putting up a valiant run.

By BILL EBBERT

Now that Easter has come and gone, major league baseball has completed its first week and already pre-season favorites are beginning to show their power by outclassing their opponents.

In the American league, the teams to watch are the Boston Red Sox, the New York Yanks, and the Detroit Tigers. Currently, these three are far ahead of the rest of the league and will probably stay there. The Tigers are strong on pitching, the Yanks on both pitching and hitting, while the Red Sox make up for their weak pitching by having the services of such hitters as Ted Williams, Rudy York, and Dom DiMaggio.

In the National league, the St. Louis Cardinals are favorites to win. At this writing, they have won all but their opening game. The Cards seem to have everything they need; in fact, they have so many pitchers that they use first liners for warm up pitchers. With Marty Marion, Whitey Kurovski, Enos Slaughter, and others, the Cards should hit plenty of balls into the bleachers.

So far, the only team that has been able to keep pace with the Cards has been the Brooklyn Dodgers. The "Bums," with a whole new team of rookies, are making a strong bid to beat out the Cards. Just this past week, their pitcher, Ed Head, hurled a no-hit, no-run game against the Braves, the first of the year.

As usual, Reading is well represented this year in the majors. Whitey Kurovski is again with the Cards. In the first game, he failed to get a hit, but on Easter he appeared as a pinch hitter and promptly dumped the ball into the lower left field bleachers for a home run.

Another Reading boy, Carl Furillo, has been playing regularly in center field with the Dodgers. His record so far, as a rookie, has been very good.

There are several other Reading and Berks boys playing with major clubs. Luther Knerr recently lost a heart-breaking 2-1 decision to the Yanks over in Yankee Stadium. Dom Dallasandro, center fielder for the Cubs, has not played since his discharge, but he will probably soon crash the line up, because he was hitting around .325 when he was inducted. Pitchers Charley Wagner and Lefty Reeser will also soon see action on the mound. Having local boys in the majors always makes the race more interesting.

It seems that all concerned were glad to see the Inter-Frat softball league get going, and from the way the first games have gone, some real competition will develop before a winner emerges. Perhaps next year, too, the College will have hard baseball. Already quite a few of our neighboring colleges have resumed the sport, and we would like to see Albright do the same.

COUNCIL

Morfogen completed the mantling ceremony with an acceptance of the responsibilities of the senior class and pledged a continuance of co-operation in the plan for a greater Albright.

Warren Pfost, president of the class of '48, expressed his appreciation of the confidence expressed by his class in electing its officers. He urged greater unity in the class and greater interest in class meeting and social functions. Perry Matz, leader of the class of '49, pledged the group's whole-hearted cooperation in school affairs, and also challenged a greater interest in class activities.

Dr. Masters closed the mantle ceremony by presenting Irene Fisher, Reed Frederick, and Margaret Hendricks with Student Council keys, which are awarded to Council members of the senior class who have been faithful in attendance and active in Council legislation.
