THIRTY STUDENTS EARN FREE CUT PRIVILEGE

12 Seniors and 12 Juniors win position on Dean's List as result of high academic rating through semester just completed. This honor carries with it privilege of voluntary class attendance during the second semester.

The "Free Cut" policy was begun last year as an experiment in recognition of meritorious work, but was limited to Seniors only. This year because of the successful results evident among the Seniors who have previously won the distinction, the privilege is extended to the Juniors in their second semester.

Arms, of the Universalist Church in Reading.

STAFF ANNOUNCED FOR ANNUAL FRESHMAN EDITION

Eighteen freshmen of diversified literary talent comprise the staff for the "yearling's" issue of the Albrightian. There was great difficulty in making a choice, due to the large amount of eligible material in the freshman group.

These persons will engineer the annual "green" issue of the school paper: Editor in Chief: Gene Barth.

Associate Editors: Elizabeth Blecker, Olaf Holman.

Managing Editor: Marco Hunsberger
Editorial Staff: Edward Fatzinger, A. Levingood, Arthur Morris, Betty Campbell, Jeanette Henry, Charles Moravec.

Reporters: Maryet Kline, Fred Austine, Jean Boner, Dorothy Butler, Mary Falcone, Eugene Hatton, Ethel Goforth and Irvin Batdorf.

The positions herein stated are subject to revision and the staff will be enlarged if the need arises.

Every freshman is urged to submit any material that he or she thinks usable. A large amount of material to choose from will mean a better publication.

GREEN GUILD HOLD ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The Green Guild held its second meeting of the year Thursday evening, February 8. The club, under the Senior advisorship of John Wyle and Leroy Garrigan, is sponsoring a program that will include a number of one-act plays in which all members of the Freshman dramatic organization will have the opportunity to participate. A great many of the yearling class have manifested interest in the thespian art, and the Domino Club will doubtless have much talent from which to choose.

At the meeting last night, Adviser Garrigan informed the guild concerning the content of their constitution and later conducted a series of try-outs for two particular plays. After a brief business discussion, the club elected its officers, as follows:

Ainslie Wyle, President; Maryet Klein, Vice President; Jeannette Henry, Secretary; and David Fray, Treasurer. The program committee consists of Charlie Moravec, Chairman; Gene Barth, Maryet Klein.

FACULTY-STUDENT FIRESIDE HOUR TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Opportunity Presented to Have More Intimate Contact With Professors

Tonight at 7.30 o'clock, there will be a Faculty-Student Fireside Hour in the college dining hall. The social committee of the Y. M. C. A. has arranged it as a very informal get-together, making possible a closer and more intimate contact between members of the faculty and student body.

A short program for entertainment has been planned, but the main purpose of the Fireside Hour is to offer us an opportunity to meet our professors outside the lecture hall and class room; to approach them as man to man; and to discuss with them any question, topic, or problem that we might have.

We cannot expect to remember the specific details and the subject matter which college offers us, but we can hope for a retention of general knowledge and experiences applicable to the society into which we are thrust upon graduation. The impressions and influences of a professor very often have more effect on our post graduate life than mere subject matter and hold greater value for us, providing these beneficial impressions are given the opportunity to develop.

With this in mind, let's all join the Fireside Hour and have a jolly time with the 'profs.'

ALBRIGHT REPRESENTED IN FASHION CONTEST FOR COLLEGE DESIGNERS

Several students from Albright took part in the Fashion Contest for Young American Designers sponsored by Marshall Field and Co. of Chicago. This contest was open to all registered students in accredited colleges and universities in the United States. The purpose of the contest was to find those who have latent talent in designing. Twenty prizes ranging from $5.00 to $10 will be given to the winners.

Judges are such prominent people as the Editor in Chief of Vogue, the Fashion Editor of Harpers Bazaar, the Head of "Fashion Center" at Marshall Field & Co., and others. Results will be announced later.

SECOND SEMESTER CURRICULA INCLUDES 5 NEW COURSES

With the beginning of the second semester several new classes have been started.

Under Dr. Gingrich, Greek 7 has begun. This course deals with the classical element in English. A study of the derivation of English words from Latin and Greek will be made.

Biology 13, Physiology of Co-ordination, deals with the nervous and endocrine systems. It is of especial interest to psychologists, physiologists, and educational people. Professor Horn is the instructor.

Students taking the Business Course may be interested in Advertising Fundamentals and principles, and Contemporary Banking which Professor Buckwalter is offering this semester.

Criminology is being given by Dr. Greth for Social Science pupils, and Dr. Fluck is offering a course in Abnormal Psychology.

DEBATERS PREPARE FOR OPENING OF CURRENT SEASON

Initial Encounter to be with Western Maryland College in Reading, February 19th

Albright debaters are at work in preparation for the opening of the season a week hence when Western Maryland comes to Reading for a debate. This first contest will be held either on Friday, February 16, or Monday, February 19. The topic to be discussed is "Resolved: That the Essential Feature of the NRA Should be Made the Permanent Policy of the U. S." Albright will uphold the negative and the three Albright speakers will be chosen from the following: Elliott Goldstan, Paul Fye, Leroy Brining, Leroy Garrigan, James Doyle, Hunter McKain, Knute Danford, Irvin Batdorf.

Following the Western Maryland contest, the following teams will be met: Lebanon Valley, home and home debates, February 23; Millersville State Teacher's College, here and away, February 28; Juniata, at Northeast Junior High School, March 8; Elizabethtown, away March 14, here March 21; Gettysburg, here March 14, away March 23; Ursinus, here March 16; St. Francis, at Loretto, March 21; Western Maryland, away, March 22.

Albright will debate both sides of the NRA question, at home and away. Various styles and plans of the debate itself will be employed, and different methods of decision will be tried.

The present schedule and the prospects of the candidates for the team indicate strong possibilities of an interesting season. Professor Page, debate coach, hopes to revive debating to the level of ability and interest it formerly enjoyed at Albright. He announces that there still are opportunities for prospective debaters to come out and work with the team, with a good chance of getting in one or two debates before the end of March.

FRED HOWARD ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE BERKS COUNTY ALUMNI ASS'N

The Berks Co. Alumni Association met on February 5. Officers for the coming year are: President, Fred Howard; Vice President, Mrs. Paul Early; Secretary, Isabell Willard; and Treasurer, Edward Binckley.

Plans for the June home-coming season were discussed but nothing definite was decided. The association is arranging for a card party to be held sometime after the Lenten season.

Dr. Gingrich gave an interesting talk on the Greek language.

Regular meetings of the group will be held on the first Monday evening of each month in the Spanish dining room.

SKULL AND BONES CLUB TO MEET MONDAY EVENING

The Skull and Bones Society will hold their semi-monthly meeting in the Science Lecture Hall, Monday evening, February 12, at 8.00 o'clock. The program will include the reading of two papers. The "History of Embryology" given by Carl Sweitzer and "Joseph Lister" by Kenneth Bergstresser. All are invited to attend this meeting, especially those freshmen interested in pre-medical work.

RUSHING SEASON

The period draws near when Fraternity and Sorority groups will seek out those members of the yearling class whom they have favored and endeavor to place the pledge of their particular organization upon them. It is significant to note that Albright does not popularize the so-called "rushing" period as do many schools. Our administration has thought it wise to delay the actual pledge service of new candidates for over the period of one semester. It is assumed this practice will allow equal opportunity for the new man to become fully acquainted with the various organizations and in turn the Fraternal body to carefully analyze its prospects. The date of February 22 has been set up as the deadline, and no man may be formally pledged before this date.

Everyone can readily recognize the value in such a procedure, but the question arises in my mind whether this very form of acquiring new men is not the underlying cause of the anti-fraternal spirit that does exist among our organizations on the campus. In reality, our fraternal affiliations are actually contacted at the beginning of the year. Representatives of the various groups return a few days early and weed out their prospects among the incoming frosh, promptly march them off to their respective quarters and deposit them as a permanent fixture without consulting the probability of their fitness. In nine cases out of ten a new man, on being placed in one particular atmosphere, will find it exceedingly difficult to remove himself even though he sees the necessity of such a move. Without a doubt a great many freshmen realize the error they have made during that first semester, in which they are supposed to adjust themselves. But to retrocede would very probably cause friction not only between the individual and the fraternity, but also between the fraternities themselves.

In answer to this problem, I would therefore first appeal to the new men and women. Such points as knowledge of the organization, financial obligations, type of individual in the group, value given and value received from the organiza-

SURVIVAL

With repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment there has been a deluge of advice, much of it to the college man, on how to use this new freedom. Of course such phrases as "new freedom" and "unfamiliar possibilities" are not valid. The college man, as well as others who have desired it, has been able to drink as much as he liked during the prohibition era.

Repeal has, however, given the educators a valid excuse to discuss drinking by students, something theoretically non-existent during prohibition. Much of this discussion has been of negative value largely because of its appeal to morals and ethics.

It is gratifying, therefore, to find an intelligent attitude, well expressed, such as that of Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin. At a recent student convocation Dr. Frank urged the men to wait until they had graduated before they decided the problem of drinking. "Not until student days are over should an individual decide whether such a minor disadvantage as drinking is permissible.

"You will need to have your wits about you. For your generation temperance becomes not so much a matter of morals as a matter of survival." In the last sentence Dr. Frank has stated the principle which is so often overlooked. The matter of morals is of little significance to the average college man; the question of success in life is of vital importance.

The man who has drunk in the past realizes the handicap which the "hang-over" imposes in college work. This handicap will be greatly increased when he enters a business or profession. If he is wise he may make the advent of legal drinking the time to decide, from purely selfish motives, on a program of temperance. —The Brown & White, Lehigh University.

tion, should all be thoroughly considered by all who contemplate becoming a member of a fraternity. It may be difficult to gain direct knowledge of the organization, but such information may best be gained through contact and observation of the persons representing their group on the campus. As to the financial obligations involved, which is an absolute personal matter, the individual should know definitely what is expected in this line. The most important feature is to ascertain the group contemplated is of your type, in which you may gain a freedom of personality and realize the capacity of your abilities.

In regard to the fraternities and sororities, it is hoped they will adhere to the rules and regulations governing the pledging of new men, paying strict regard to the rights of the individual in making his or her choice. Keep in mind that there is yet a higher organization than that of the fraternity and sorority, one that demands loyalty above that of our social groups. I speak of the college itself, whose standards can be upheld only through gaining the unity of its lesser organizations.

A NOTE OF SYMPATHY

May we take this opportunity, in behalf of the students and faculty of the College, to express our heartfelt sympathy to Dorcas Haines, whose mother passed away at their home in East Prospect, Pa., Friday, January 26th.

PROMINENT PEOPLE . . .

OTHO HOOFNAGLE
(Kappa Upsilon Phi)

Pictured above we have the jovial countenance of a senior whose energetic enthusiasm is the real power behind many of the outstanding functions on our campus. "Hoofey" possesses the coveted faculty of making things go. As the chief executive of the Y. M. C. A. this year, he has proved himself an able leader. One of the outstanding accomplishments he has performed in this connection was the renovation of the old Day Student room into a spacious and suitable "YM" quarters. Besides his work with the Y. M. C. A. Council the past three years, Otho has been an active member of the Oxford Fellowship.

A pre-ministerial student, "Hoofey" has confided that he intends entering a theological school in New York City after his graduation from Albright, from whence he aspires to enter the Episcopal ministry and ultimately become a Bishop of some large Diocese. Blessed with that something which we call pleasant disposition and inspired by definite ideals, (you should have him tell you about them) we feel safe in predicting a career of achievement and success for Otho.

A WORD FROM THE "Y" . . .

Fellow Students:

Haven't you often wanted to get down with some of your professors, apart from the class room, and talk informally on the many topics in which you may have a kindred interest. Hasn't an issue, at sometime, held your attention, in class, but class room pressure has limited a satisfying discussion about that point. Perhaps you have found yourself wondering just how the professor would consider suggestions as to the further enrichment of a certain course. Or perhaps you are an individual that is stimulated by good conversation. The Faculty-Student Fireside Hour offers to you the opportunity that you have long desired. The comfort of a warm fire, the enrichment of leisure time, and the sense of harmonious fellowship, one with another. May the Fireside of the College Dining Hall at seven-thirty Friday evening, February 9, realize at least in part a rich desire that we all have coveted at one time on another.

Old Friends, a Fireside, Fellowship; then contentment.

Take It From Me . . .
Jay Fay

The Albright cheer leaders finally came to life at the game Wednesday night and gave us a few cheers. The cheer leader was no doubt shamed into doing so because the frosh up in the gallery were cheering without a leader. We finally woke up to the fact that cheers should be led at the basketball games only after the Reading papers had called our attention to the lack of such. The time for our cheer leaders to start cheering is at the beginning of the game and not in the second half. It was a poor attempt on their part to start leading cheers in the second half when the going was "tough." Saturday night there is another game and it would not be a bad idea if we had some good, peppy cheering from the start.

It is thought in political circles that the days of "rugged individualism" had passed out with the Hoover administration, but we have a fine demonstration of such right here on our Red and White basketball team. This idea of individualism is a ticklish thing to write about because of the reaction of the players to any such open criticism. The subject would never have been brought to light in this column if the student body was not discussing it in the corners and in their sacred "bull sessions." The topic is widely discussed and is not the creation of the writer. The first half of the F. and M. game was more or less of "I wouldn't pass to you because—" We seem to have a combination that can work together when it wants to, as was proven to all without a doubt in the second half of the game. The first half was more or less of a 2-2-1 combination that should not and does not have any place in Albright College athletics. The writer sat in back of three students who undoubtedly had forgotten that they were members of Albright College and that their own college basketball team was playing on Wednesday night. They had the idea that the team was made up of two players and continually reported to the entire audience that so and so was a member of this organization, but when the other players scored they were strangely silent. This sort of attitude has no place in the Albright athletic program and the sooner it is realized the better off our teams will be. There is no organization that exists as a unit of the college that should come ahead of the college in any shape, form or manner. Let us all co-operate, and when we want to yell for a player, yell because he is a member of an ALBRIGHT TEAM and not because he is a member of your particular organization.

The standing in the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference at the present time is Gettysburg first, Lebanon Valley second, Albright and F. and M. tied for third; the other teams are scattered below the halfway mark. Albright still has a chance of winning the Conference title if the Smith men can win the rest of their remaining games, which include two with Gettysburg, one with F. and M., two with Lebanon Valley, one with Ursinus, one with Drexel, and one with Muhlenberg.

LIONS DROP CLOSE CONTEST TO F. & M. QUINTET, 43-42

Contest is Closely Fought; Jacobs Woods and Osislis Display Brilliance in Offense

As a result of the defeat suffered at the hands of Franklin and Marshall College, the Lion quintet stands third in the Eastern League standing. This is the second Conference defeat of the season, and was somewhat of an upset, the Smith men entering the contest as general favorites. The game was nip and tuck all the way through, a pair of last minute two-pointers decided the closely fought battle with the Nevonians emerging victorious 43-42.

The game was featured from the start by the stellar playing and dead-eye shooting of Sammy Jacobs, bespectacled F. and M. forward, who seemingly converted impossible plays into easy scores. In the outset the Red and White team appeared in their usual championship form with Captain Osislis and his running mate, Red Woods, accounting for eight points in quick succession. Slowly the Nevonians began to function and appeared to outplay the Lion five in the last half in every phase.

At the closing minutes of the game, the Albright colors came to the forefront, only to see-saw back and forth and finally to lose by the single point.

FIRST HALF OF INTER-FRATERNITY B. B. LEAGUE WON BY LIONS CLUB

Second Half of League to Begin Tuesday Evening; Schedule to be Announced

The first half of the Inter-Fraternity Basketball League has terminated with the Lions club victorious with four victories and no defeats. Runner-up in the league is the Alpha Pi Omega fraternity with three victories and one defeat. The Pi Tau Beta, Kappa Upsilon Phi, and Zeta Omega Epsilon placed third, fourth and fifth, respectively. The second half of the International League will begin Tuesday evening, Feb. 13.

Fraternity	Won	Lost	P.C.
Lions Club	4	0	1.000
Alpha Pi Omega	3	1	.750
Pi Tau Beta	2	2	.500
Kappa Upsilon Phi	1	3	.250
Zeta Omega Epsilon	0	4	.000

The Lions club kept their record clean and the A. P. O.'s garnered their second victory in a pair of pre-examination games. Apparently missing the stellar playing of Tom Hepler, the Lions encountered unexpected opposition from the Zetas, but finally outpointed their opponents 34-20. "Mouse" Fittipaldi netted twelve points for the victors, while Reedy was high scorer for the vanquished with nine points.

Fast, clean play featured the clash between the Pi Tau Beta and Alpha Pi Omega fraternities. The Blue and Gold quintet secured an early lead and retained it throughout the hard fought battle, the final score being 41-22. Vanness tickled the cords to the tune of sixteen points, while "Willie" Carvell played a bang-up game for the losing Pi Tau's.

The Lions continued their winning streak on Tuesday evening, smashing the Pi Tau Beta team 32-8. A rough battle ensued, but the fine charging of the basketball five of the Lions club could not be checked by the hard playing Pi Tau's. Tom Hepler led the Lions in scoring as well as feats of strength; Carvell put up a game battle for the losers against superior force.

A scare was thrown into the A. P. O. quintet when the Kappas got off to a flying start in the other game played Tuesday evening. The former five emerged victorious from the closely contested battle by virtue of a last minute scoring spree, the score 26-19. "Moon" Mullen again starred for the Blue and Gold, while "Jake" Orr supplied the scoring power for the defeated.

On Saturday evening, February the 17th, the Junior Class will sponsor a "cue dance and card party" at the Berkshire Hotel. Music will be furnished by "Paul Bettler and his Checkers," and admission will be fifty cents per person. As an added attraction, the class will offer, to Albrightians, two "cues" which will be given as door prizes. Doctor Cook and Doctor Page and their wives will act as chaperones.

Well, boys and so forth, it's time to gird up your well-known loins and get set for the Cue Dance? The gals are chafing at the bit and waiting for the phone to ring—so, up an' at 'em.

The alumni of the Phi Beta Mu Sorority entertained the actives and guests at a bridge at the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday evening. Those receiving invitations were: Sally Caramana, Mae Caramana, Mart Caramana, Rachael Snyder, Ethel Schaffer, Jeannette Henry, Ethel Goforth, Grace Mengel, Helen Fox, Marjorie Eastwood, Edith Marquette, Kitty Knerr, Maryet Klein, Amy Leitner, Leona Reed, Mary Benschel, and Mildred Newkirk.

Prizes were awarded to: Kitty Knerr, Sally Caramana, Maryet Klein and Mildred Newkirk.

That Don Juan who stood up two of our co-eds on the nights of their sorority dances had better take to the monastic life. They've got their claws unsheathed and are seeking him. Thar's blood on the moon!

At a recent meeting of the Pi Tau Beta fraternity, the following were elected officers: President, Marshall Brenneman; Secretary, Norman Hummel; Treasurer, Paul Mohney; Chaplain, Mark Fiester.

One of the practice teachers recently lapsed into conde humor while teaching his bug-ology class. The remark went thus: "Now, here are some carrots to cut up, but don't be rabbits."

THE WHOLE WEEK'S BRIGHTER

If You Telephone Home!

WHEN the skies fall (as they fall on all of us) . . . when college life palls (as it will at times) . . . "talk it out" with the Home Folks by telephone. To hear their voice is next best to seeing them.

How quickly you'll snap back to normal! A telephone "voice visit" can brighten your whole week. That's why so many college students telephone Home as a regular practice, once a week at least.

FOR LOWEST COST and GREATEST EASE . . .

Use the inexpensive Station to Station service when you telephone Home. (By making a "date" the Family is sure to be there.) Call after 8:30 P.M., when the low Night Rates are in effect.

Just give the Operator your home telephone number and "hold the line."
Charges may be reversed.
