

Miss Ethel Norton To Replace
Miss Shaffer As Dean Of WomenNew Dean Will Also Teach
English Class

Miss Ethel S. Norton will become dean of women in September, Dr. Masters announced last week. Besides her duties as dean, she will also be instructor of English.

Miss Norton, who is a native of Easton, is at present a teacher of English in the high school at Amityville, N. Y. She is a graduate of the Easton High School, with a B. A. from Antioch College. She earned her M. A. at Teachers' College, Columbia University, the degree being conferred in February, 1939.

Miss Norton's studies in college included not only the usual major and minor courses, but also courses to prepare her especially for this type of work. She has continued to take courses concerning human relationships and guidance since her graduation, keeping up to date in her chosen field.

In her teaching experience, she has taken an interest in various fields of extra-curricular activity especially student government. Other activities include archery, which she has coached, school publications, and dramatics, especially the technical side.

Miss Norton's coming here will enable Miss Shaffer to devote her full time to teaching Latin and English. Miss Shaffer has served as instructor and dean of women for the past sixteen years, since her coming to Schuylkill College in '23. Undoubtedly she will continue to take the same active interest in student government and activities which she has taken in the past, even during her own undergraduate days at Albright.

Music Night
Big Success

The annual Music Night at the college, was held last night.

Seniors Enter
Home Stretch

Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Then it's goodbye to the seniors. Two days of their Commencement Week are gone. The third will come to an end this evening when the one-act plays, written by the Freshman Creative Writing Class, have been presented in the college chapel.

And then comes Alumni Day which will open with tennis matches on the Eleven and Pike Courts at 9:45. At 10 a. m. Phi Delta Sigma Sorority will meet in Sunset Hall, Wernersville, to transact business and have lunch. Dinner will be served in the college dining hall at 12:30 p. m. The annual business meeting will be held in the chapel at 1:15, with Mr. Alan O. Dech, presiding.

The recreation period will open at 2:30 p. m. with an all-alumni softball game. The one act plays will again be presented at 3 p. m. President and Mrs. Harry V. Master will give a tea for the association in the Alumni Library.

The annual banquet will start at 6 o'clock in the college dining hall. Leonard M. Miller '20, director of Vocational Guidance, Rockland County, N. Y., will be the speaker. The day's activities will end with a fraternity and sorority open house.

Baccalaureate services will mark Sunday's ceremonies. Beginning with an academic procession, the services will be held out-of-doors on the campus. The Rev. C. A. Hirschman, D. D., pastor of Zion Church, Kitchener, Ontario, Canada, will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon.

The seniors' Albright college life will come to an end on Monday, June 5, during Commencement Exercises that start at 10 a. m. with another academic procession. The principal address will be made by the Honorable George S. Messersmith, Assistant Secretary of State.

CALENDAR

SATURDAY—Alumni Day.
SUNDAY—Baccalaureate Services.
MONDAY—Graduation.

Science Hall
Dresses For
May Day Show

On Wednesday evening, the college sponsored its sixth annual Greek play, the "Electra" of Sophocles. The performance was marked for excellent direction, a beautiful setting, and skillful performances.

The Science Hall was dressed up for the occasion with a nice new wine-colored curtain trimmed with a upon their hapless heads. Another sign of commencement week was the fresh coat of paint on the white pillars and pediment of the building. The actors have reason to know that it is fresh paint; for the past two weeks they have rehearsed in imminent danger of having buckets of white paint come cascading down upon their hapless heads. Another effective touch was the altar to Pheebus Apollo at the foot of the steps.

The play, directed with patience and skill by Robert Work, showed the effects of the long hours of rehearsal. The cast went through their difficult lines with the ease of veterans, which most of them are. The costuming was especially good, with the shabby attire of Electra and Arestes in effective contrast to the richer robes of Chrysothemis, Clytemnestra, and Aegisthus.

The cast gave skillful performances, complementing each other perfectly. The speakers were Seta Schmidt as Electra, Mary Kalina as Chrysothemis, Mabel Thomas as the leader of the chorus, Ada Gossler as Clytemnestra, Joseph Richter as Orestes, Lewis Briner as the paedagogus, and James Reed as Aegisthus. Others are William Bottanari as Pyraides, Charles Miesse, and Arthur McKay as attendants on Orestes, and Martha Hall as Clytemnestra's handmaid.

The chorus provided an effective background for the action. The members were: Martha Hall, Jane Louise Haupt, Millicent Lengel, Charlotte Guenther, Thelma Kutch, Sylvia Rosen, Lois Helmick, Anna Marie Nix, Marion Plummer, Margaret Hollenbach, Myrtle Stegman, Jane Dick, Mildred Angstadt, Jeanette Snyder, Esther Gingrich, Verna Fye.

Frosh One-Acters
Tonight At 8.30

The annual presentation of freshman-written one-act plays in the chapel tonight at 8:30 will bring the current Domino season to its official close.

Four plays are on the calendar for this evening ranging from fantasy to a sea story. The plays, as usual were selected by Robert Work from the manuscripts submitted by the members of the creative writing class.

The four plays are being directed by Joseph Richter, with James Reed as co-director. Jane Treat is in charge of make-up and Werner Rosacker of lighting. The plays will be produced under the general supervision of Robert Work.

The plays will mark the first public appearance of several students in a Domino play: Gayl Harris, Clement Boland, Millicent Lengel, Vincent Rusoshin, and Virginia Wright.

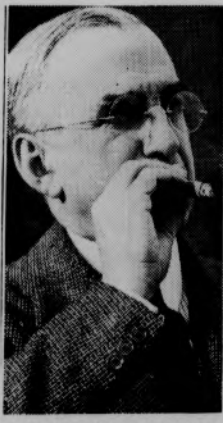

Charles Miesse will play the leading role of Joe Swithers in his own comedy, "Rusty to the Rescue." The other characters are Ella Decker, played by Millicent Lengel, Rosy, by Vincent Rusoshin, and Bob Banton, by William Bottanari.

The second play will be a story by Dorothy Zieher, "Sweet Wine." The cast includes William Woods as Seth, Paul Gols as Jim, and Harry Arnold as Bob Hagens. Virginia Wright is both actress and writer of "Music I Heard." She

Messersmith To Address
Seniors On U. S. Foreign Policy

SPEAKER

HON. GEORGE MESSERSMITH,
Assistant Secretary of State
Who will deliver the commencement address on MondayCeremony Marks
Queen's Crowning

Miss Martha Hall was crowned May Queen on Thursday, June 1, at seven o'clock. For the first time a large number of underclass girls participated in the ceremony. They held arches of roses beneath which the Queen and her court passed in the procession from the Memorial Library to the front of elwyn Hall. Following the coronation, a solo by Miss Virginia Gaul and selections by the Men's Glee Club completed the program.

The court included, in addition to Miss Hall, her maid of honor, Miss Seta Schmidt, and the Misses Madge Arnold, Mary Nagar, Jeannette Gaines, Thelma Kutch, Kathryn Becker, Ruth Kates, Jane DeLong, Elvira Woerle, and Thelma Kuder. The Misses Mabel Thomas and Charlotte Guenther were pages. Miss Patty Anderson was train-bearer.

Denner Wins
Poetry Award

Dr. C. A. Horn chairman of the awards committee, announced yesterday that the winner of the Douds' poetry prize of $10 is Jerome Denner, freshman from Mt. Penn.

The winning poem is dramatic in type and rather lengthy. It is entitled "Penny Arcade," and deals with a Coney Island type of resort. The characters are the boss and his patrons. The thoughts as well as the speech of each character are recorded, following a kind of multiple stream of consciousness idea.

Other awards will be made at the commencement exercises on Monday.

Speech To Be Broadcast Over
Station WRAW

The Honorable George S. Messersmith, assistant secretary of state, will be the main speaker at the commencement exercises to be held on the campus on Monday, June 5. His speech on "Some Observations on America's Foreign Policy" will be broadcast over station WRAW. Mr. Messersmith will receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Born at Fleetwood on October 3, 1883, Mr. Messersmith attended Keystone State Normal School and Delaware College from 1900-1914. Acting as principal of a school there he began his climb to his preposition. As an educator he was field agent for the American Society for Extension of University Teaching, vice-president and secretary of the State Board of Examiners of Delaware, lecturer at summer school, and the author of articles and pamphlets on education. He is also the author of a textbook on the government of Delaware.

George Messersmith has held consular positions in Fort Erie, Curacao and Antwerp. He has acted as foreign agent in Stockholm, Brussels, Berlin and Vienna, and held positions as envoy to both Uruguay and Austria.

He was appointed to his present office on July 9, 1937. Along with this he has also been chairman of several foreign service boards, fiscal and budget officer, chairman of the Board of Appeals and Review, and a U. S. representative to the International Association of Road Congress.

Miss Guinther Wins
German Award

Miss Charlotte Guinther, president of the German Club on campus, recently received an award from the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation, of Philadelphia, for her outstanding essay on "Der Wert des Studiums der deutschen Sprache." Translated this means, "The Value of the Study of the German Language."

Miss Guinther received a copy of Goethe's "Dichtung und Wahrheit." According to Dr. Gerrit Memming, head of the German department, the choice of the essay-contest winner was an easy matter. For, said Dr. Memming, "next to Mr. Paul Schach, she is the best German student I ever had at Albright College. She speaks German without an accent and is a credit to the institution."

Seniors' Ball
Colorful Affair

The senior ball was held last Saturday at the Berkshire Hotel. Seniors and their guests danced to music of Jack Heath's Orchestra. The colorful dresses of the feminine dancers made a gay setting.

Those present included: Clothilda Bertolini, Peggy Hafer, Charlotte Guenther, Phyllis Galinas, Anna Marie Nix, Mabel Thomas, Peggy Guinther, Martha Hall, Margaret Schmeelk, Edith Keys, Ella Propst, Jane Treat, Miss Sherman, Alice Penn, Thelma Lucrott, Dorothy Horne, Eleanor Becker, Winifred Demmian, Rae Abramson, Madge Arnold, Elvira Woerle, Thelma Kutch, Mrs. N. Sherrin, Yetta Fogelman, Eleanor Ramsay, June Vocorn, Jane Dick, Ruth Holmes, Kitty Becker, Seta Schmidt, Henrietta Kissinger, Jane De Long.

Joseph Doren, Vincent Bertolini, Rodney Price, Paul Eisenacher.

THE ALBRIGHTIAN is published twice monthly during the year by the students of Albright College, Reading, Pa.

The editorial columns of this publication are open to criticisms and communications at any time. No anonymous communications will be published, although names of signed communications will be withheld at the writer's request. Address letters to the editor of THE ALBRIGHTIAN.

Where's That Cooperation?

Every year at the end of the school term, the same old howl goes up from the editor's desk. Where's all the copy? Why don't the stories come in? If the students want a paper, why don't they help to make it a real paper? And, after he is unable to answer those questions, he sits down, disgusted, and writes the article himself.

This issue is a perfect example of the above conditions. Two hours before press time. The printer can't fill the paper. What shall he use for news? This article you are now reading is the result of such a question.

It's too late in the school year for this editorial to hold much weight, but we're trying to make at least a part of the student body conscious of the lack of cooperation the ALBRIGHTIAN staff is receiving from them.

How would you like to be the editor of a paper on which the sports editor leaves school permanently at the end of the term, without turning in a single word for the final issue of the school paper? That's what actually happened on this tabloid.

But that's enough of scolding for this issue. We'll take up from there next fall.

PERSONALS

The Misses Jeanne Gaines, Betty Jones, Ella Propst, Esther Sippel, Jeanette Snyder, Margaret Reed, and Marion Bittenbender will work at Congress Hall in Cape May, New Jersey, during the summer months.

Miss Helone Greene, of the class of '38 spent the week-end with Jeanne Gaines and Lida Faist.

THE SNOOPER

"That out of sight is out of mind
Is true of most we leave behind;
It is not sure, nor can be true,
My own and only love, of you."
—Dedicated to John and Ella.

"Oh, when I was in love with you,
Then I was clean and brave,
And miles around the wonder grew
How well I did behave."

And now the fancy passes by,
And nothing will remain,
And miles around they'll say that I Am quite myself again."
—Dedicated to Porreka
(After one of his numerous love affairs).

Did you see Tooky at the Pat dance?
All she needed was a pancake griddle—She looked just like Aunt Jemima.

"Plain food is quite enough for me:
Three courses are as good as ten—
If nature can subsist on three,
Thank Heaven for three. Amen!"
—Dedicated to Jildo.

"Ye are young, ye are young,
I am old, I am old."
—Dedicated to Zeb by Munley.

Martha thought that Caroline acted pretty "hastily" in taking Laucks to the Mu dance!

Low seems to have made the grade in Spanish even though he never took it!

"Never love unless you can bear with all the faults of man."
—Our advice to Ruth Stratton.

"I must go down to the sea again,
to the vagrant gypsy life."
—Dedicated to the co-eds who are working at the Shore this summer.

"All bare and exposed to the midnight dew,
Reclined in a gutter we found him;
And he looked like a gentleman taking a snooze."
—Dedicated to Shugie!

It is not, Thelma, in our power,
To say how long our love will last;

It may be we within this hour
May lose those joys we now do taste."
—Is this what Mike will say?

Why didn't Kitty, Lois, etc. pick a less conspicuous place in which to indulge?

Prof. Gingrich should make his tests more interesting so people don't go to sleep! !

It looks like romance is in the "bud" for Gaye and a Kappa junior.

Louis Bush, Jackson McGaw, Ira Adams, Randy Horowitz, Marshall Selikoff, Paul Wallat, John Combs, Preston Gillis, Carl Bauman, George Korner, Joseph Folger, Harry D'Amico, Bill McFadden, Bill Mark, Julian Polansky, Frank Poracio, George Ziegenfuss, Dean Allen, Sidney Shefrin, Roger Brown, Edgar Stauffer, John Stover, Harold Honadle, John Robson, Joseph Richter Jr., Harold Davies, Joseph Baer, Lewis Briner.

Chaperones for the occasion were Elder, Robert L. Work, Prof. and Miss Esther Fenili, Miss Ernestine Mrs. John C. Evans, and Prof. and Mrs. Newton Danford.

Register For Social Security

All students of high schools, colleges and other institutions who will enter employment for the first time this summer were urged in a statement issued today by William G. Meirs, manager of the Reading Field Office of the Social Security Board, to obtain a Social Security Account Number Card if they do not already have one.

"This is absolutely necessary to enable the board to keep records that will make certain each worker will receive the retirement benefits to which he is entitled under the Old-Age Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act, and a Social Security Account Number Card is necessary also in filing claims for unemployment compensation benefits," Mr. Meirs said.

The account card is necessary whether its holder works one hour or an entire lifetime in one covered job, or in many jobs. Mr. Meirs explained, and gave the following information to students who desire to enter employment:

1. If you have not already obtained a Social Security Account Number Card, obtain an application at your Post Office or at the Board's Field Office located in the Medical Arts Building, Reading, Pennsylvania; complete this and mail or bring it to the board's field office. A card will be issued promptly. This card should be retained throughout life and the number should be given to every employer for whom you work, whether it is for one minute or a lifetime.

2. If you have obtained an account number card, and have lost it, apply to the board's field office for a duplicate. Give the number of your original card if you can remember it. Do not obtain an additional account number card; this might cause you to lose some of your benefits.

3. If you have already obtained more than one account number card, inform the board's field office of all the numbers and specify which one you want to keep. All but one number will be cancelled and all the wages credited to you under all numbers will be consolidated to your credit under the one number you retain.

Book Review

My Sister Eileen

By Ruth McKenney

If you want to know the real meaning of hun-gah, read "My Sister Eileen," by Ruth McKenney. The story of the life and suffering of the McKenney sisters starts back in the days of peanuts (with shells) and the nickelodeon on a Saturday afternoon.

Miss McKenney says that most of the things that happened to her and her sister in their youth, and keep right on happening for that matter, are rejected by the ordinary little-minded person as a lot of "hog-wash," to put it crudely. However, the authenticity of their adventures is guaranteed on request.

The McKenney girls have appeared in serial form in the New Yorker for some time, but this account follows them from childhood to the brink of maturity.

The story progresses easily thru lessons on how to be a true gineu pig, the scrubbing of teeth in public to music, and dismal attempts to get cultured. Later the two Irish girls come to New York where they spend most of their time convincing their landlord, Mr. Spitzer, that they don't like fungus growing from their bathroom ceiling even if he does think the nice green stuff is pretty. The climax of their adventures is reached when the girls entertain the Brazilian Navy.

If you, like a few other people I know, have the feeling that you never want to lay eyes on another text book again, get two cents, rush to your nearest library, and put a reserve on "My Sister Eileen. With luck on your side, the book will be yours by the first of August. Then take it and a few apples to a nice cool spot and spend an afternoon laughing with Ruth McKenney and her sister, Eileen.

Harold J. Kennedy Speaks On Campus

Albright students had the privilege of hearing Mr. Harold J. Kennedy, president of the Theatre Education League and member of the Mercury Theatre Group, speak on the contemporary drama. He addressed two English classes and a group in chapel on Thursday, May 18.

Mr. Kennedy, a fascinating speaker, entertained his listeners with anecdotes about the theatre and famous actors and actresses of the stage. Most interesting was his account of the broadcast of the "War of the Worlds," by the Orson Welles radio group. Strange as it seems, this drama which was unprecedented in arousing nationwide fear, was considered a dull piece by those who prepared the broadcast.

German Club Holds Picnic

Twenty members of the German Club attended the picnic held Monday afternoon May 29 at the Ennis farm, near the Boyertown road. Because of exams and rehearsals the group did not leave until 5 o'clock.

The group enjoyed a host of activities—badminton, quito, wading in the creek, racing contests, acrobatic stunts of Bellow, Dr. Memming's dog, singing and recorded music, and the inevitable bon-fire.

Those attending were: Dr. and Mrs. Memming, Charlotte Guenther, Ruth Ennis, Miriam Hershey, Myrtle Stegman, Emma Schenk, Helen Rothermel, Jean Weisinger, Marion Plummer, Carl Friedericks, Harold Werner, George Henry, Rodney Price, Dennis Strawbridge, Donald Burger, Paul Ackert, and three people whose names could not be checked.

The Inquiring Reporter

Well, girls, your chance is here at last. The fellas have had their fling at your hats, so it's about time that you have the opportunity to give vent to your feelings concerning the flashy sartorial finery that the boys are sporting. It isn't at all unusual these days to see a young man going down the street gayly attired in a green suit, a checked shirt, a purple and yellow polka dot tie, crimson-chartreuse-fuschia socks, and square-toed pigskin shoes.

All right, girls how do you like them?

Madge Arnold—"I think they're swell. It's about time men wake up and get some snap in their clothes."

Annemarie Nix—"I haven't noticed them."

Janette Yoder—"Mmm—they're snazzy."

Jean McClelland—"Oh, some of them are all right."

Mrs. Doude—"They look charming in the gray and brown combinations."

Miriam Hershey—"What I like better than their spring clothes is their sun-tan."

Gertrude Epstein—"It's a darn shame I don't have bigger feet—I could wear their shoes."

Mary Hahn—"I like 'em."

Mary Jane Ward—"The green suits are wonderful!"

Miss Kleppinger—"Oooh! I wouldn't express myself."

Audrey Goodling—"I don't have time to think about it. I have to go wash some dishes now."

Millicent Lengel—"The flashier, the better!"

Mary Grein—"Well, I think they're all right."

Eather Whitehead—"The boys' new spring clothes? I didn't know they had any new spring clothes!"

Miss Shaffer—"In the spring a young man's fancy—so's a woman."

Olga Biter—"Anything but green—green looks cheap and lousy."

Winnie Demmien—"They don't have much room to talk about our hats."

Gayl Harris—"Well I like land things and like the green suits."

Ruth Yohn—"I really don't notice them."

Helen Hoersch—"I think they're getting some sense in their heads about their clothes."

Thelma Kutch—"If the girls wear color, why can't the fellas? To a certain degree, of course."

Betty Jones—"I like 'em."

Tookie De Suk—"No kiddin', they're cute. The green suits look like the wings of Gold."

Betty Siegel—"I hadn't thought about them."

Rhea Almer—"What ones?"

Margaret Savidge—"I'd rather not see the green!"

Marion Bittenbender—"I didn't know they had any."

Thelma Lucrott—"They hit the spot—Woo-woo!"

Sororities Hold Spring Formals

The Pi Alpha Tau and Phi Beta Mu Sororities held their spring formal dances on Friday evening, May 19.

The Mu's and their escorts enjoyed a dinner-dance held at the Berkshire Country Club. Music was furnished by Jack Kenny's Orchestra. Chaperones for the affair were Miss Esther Fenil and Dr. and Mrs. Graham Cook.

Those present were: the Misses Elvira Woerle, Eleanor Ramsay, Kathryn Becker, Ruth Holmes, Jane DeLong, Elizabeth Lewis, Gene Lau, Audrey Goodling, Louise Eastland, Margaret Reed, Bessie Knerr, Mary Lower, Caroline Hastings, Virginia Jackson, Thelma Robert, Margaret Carpenter, Margaret Schmeck, Catherine Buzzard, Natalie Brant, Virginia Wright, Winifred Demmien, Margaret Wolfe, Jane Boyer, Jeune Shetron, Marion Bittenbender, Elaine Shade, Olga Biter, Marjorie Frundt, Verna Fye, Eleanor Richardson, Anne Mast, Ruth Krick, and Maryet Klein.

The Messrs: George Ziegenfuss, Roger Brown, John Robson, Harold Honadale, Joseph Baer, Guy Sheffer, Carroll Gulick, Frank Morris, Edward Rosbush, Jacob Brubaker, Jack Shalter, Joseph Laucks, Harvey Greiss, Richard Walton, George Henry, Marshall Selikoff, Eugene Case, Donald Burger, Edward Halfoster, Ray Hain, Wayne Allen, Fritz Fox, Thomas Lubin, Clemert Boland, Vincent O'Gorek, James Breen, Paul Eisenacher, Marvin Rutton, Robert Richards, Frederick Norton, Leroy Garrigan, and Lewis Briner; also, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stutzman and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fisher.

The P. A. T.'s held a supper dance at the Green Valley Country Club, where members and their escorts danced to the music of Jack Heath's Orchestra. The chaperones were: Miss Ruth Shaffer, Mrs. John S. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gordon, and Mr. and Mrs. Neal O. Harris.

Lion Lassies End Net Season

The Albright girls' tennis team ended the 1939 season with a trip to Ocean City where they went down before a stiff Pennhall squad.

Although the record of wins is somewhat smaller than the record of losses, the team was a rather strong one considering the handicaps faced. The wins were over Lebanon Valley and West Reading High—losses were Moravian, Drexel, Temple and Pennhall. In the Pennhall match, Olga Biter and Mary Hahn defeated their opponents in doubles.

Jane Boyer, although not an active player on the squad did very well in the field of organization. Betty Dietz, who has held the number one position for most of the season, was elected captain. The squad consists of the following named in their order of play: Betty Dietz, Bessie Knerr, Mary Hahn, Marietta Filbert, Olga Biter and Jeannette Snyder.

The fact that all of these girls will be here next year promises a strong squad, increasing the possibility of a greater winning column.

P. A. T.'s Hold Skating Party

A roller skating party was given for the members and pledges of Pi Alpha Tau Sorority by Miss Shaffer, Miss Innis Miss Benninger and Mrs. Smith.

Speed races and fancy skating contests were held and proved to be most interesting when it was discovered that several contestants couldn't skate. Ice cream and pretzels were served to revive the exhausted skaters.

Those present were the Misses Madge Arnold, Jane Louise Haupt, Millicent Lengel, Mary Bogar, Jeanne Gaines, Thelma Kutch, Martha Hall, Seta Schmidt, Mary Capallo, Jeannette Snyder, Edith Keys, Ruth Stratton, Evelyn Belmont, Esther Sippel, Marie DeSuk, Betty Jones, Gayl Harris, Eather Gingrich, Thelma Lucrott, Lida Faist, Ella Propst and Betty Ebert.

The Messrs: Frank Persico, Theodore Soja, Marshall Popelka, Burton Asman, Chester Wielgolinski, Dean Allen, Joseph Laucks, Arthur McKay, Jack Boardman, Paul Michaels, Paul Wallat, Albert Falcone, Thomas Lubin, Ray Spatz, Harold Anderson, Joseph Doren, William Brandenburg, Jack Stover, Joseph Folger Ray McCrann, John Combs, and Charles Malin.

Also present were Miss Shaffer, Miss Innis, Miss Benninger, Robert Work and Mr. and Mrs. John Smith.

The rubbing alcohol market is booming. For tomorrow is alumni day. And synonymous with alumni day are the sore muscles, strained backs, and so forth that follow the yearly net matches and diamond tussles on campus between the grads and future grads.

Festivities will get under way at 9:45 Saturday morning when Hal Carney's racketeers meet the Kready-coached squad on the Eleventh and Pike courts. Kready's men are out to avenge the 5-4 defeat administered to them last year by the oldsters.

Carney, a former coach at Albright and Muhlenberg Colleges, will offer some pretty stiff competition in the person of Ray Loose, now at Northeast Junior High, and one of the best tennis players ever to leave the Lions' Den.

And then there's Tommy Albert who set the court on fire with his sensational playing all last season, under Kready's tutoring, as well as in local tournament play.

Walt Spencer, the super-dish-breaker, who edited ye alma mater tabloid last year, is going to be around too. Another Northeast Junior High teacher, Leroy Garrigan, a 1936 tennis star, has also offered his racket-swinging services to Coach Carney.

But not to be forgotten is Russell Resch, who, according to the official alumni association publicity man, Charles Moravec (we had to do this Charley to fill up space), is one of the ten top-ranking players in Reading.

Chet Kreska, who starred in football and tennis while educating himself at Albright, will bolster the Carney-men.

And last, but by no means least, there's Ray Hoffman, who was a member of the squad that lost only one match during the entire 1936 season. Dr. Eugene Page coached that team.

Breaking all tradition, the Alumni will NOT play softball with undergraduates. They're going to play at least one contest tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the Theology Campus (that's what the "Alumni Day Invitation" says), without the aid of any "youngsters."

The slugging match is going to be played by the so-called even-year team vs. the odd-year team. Although invitations were extended to and accepted by the following alumni, other grads who want to play ball will not be blacklisted. Two or even three games might be played simultaneously.

According to Charley Moravec (that's the second time), the following have accepted: Al Oslalo and Tony Troisi, of 1938. Both were football, basketball and trackmen.

Representing the '36 class are Harold "Truck" Yentsch, who coached the Lions' line on the grid last fall and Leroy Garrigan, the tennisier.

Jim Oslalo, who captained his basketball squad and added power to the college nine in his senior year and Ben Mullin, the A. P. O. football star, will fight for dear old '34.

And the Rev. Ralph Kresge, of Fleetwood, will join Abe Karlip, now coaching and teaching in a western-part-of-the-state high school to remind fans that the '32 class is still alive.

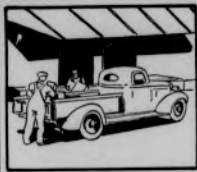

Way back in 1930, Glenn Schaffer, a teacher in Johnstown, Pa., and Dr. John Heilman, now in Reading, went to Albright. Tomorrow they're coming back.

On the other side of the fence are the "odd" men. Bill Becker

Busy Days Ahead

No matter what you plan to do this summer, chances are you'll have a busy time. So keep the telephone in mind . . . for work or play.

In hunting a job or licking the job, it's a good idea to let the telephone help. The man or woman who telephones gets there first—and gets more done in less time with less effort.

Rates are reduced on most Long Distance calls every night after seven and all day Sunday.

who ruled the senior class and the 1936-37 basketball quintet, and who starred at football and baseball, will lead the attack as a '37 graduate. His teammate is Sammy Moyer the handman.

Prof. Nevt Danlyrd who lead the '35 class, and Harold Enders, a Central Lumber employee and a football and baseball star, will also be there.

'33 has Al Dittman, coach of football at Summerville High School, N. J., and Arthur Daub, holding a similar post in Johnstown, Pa., to carry forth its banner.

Dr. Arthur Erickson will team up with his old classmate, Bill Maier, the singing baker, in an attempt to immortalize the class of '31.

Even though we almost did forget him, Abraham Lincoln Kinney (we understand he doesn't like Abe) will put in appearance Saturday.

The two fellows who'll have the biggest job are umpires, Pop Kelchner, the St. Louis Cards' scout who left the college in 1895, and who now is a member of the Athletic Council, and Lone Star Dietz, the Lion grid mentor.
