'Y's Show Movie On Hostels; Elect Conference Reps

At the last "Y" meeting of this academic year to be held tonight in the College Chapel, Mrs. Dorothy Zelger, who spoke this morning in chapel, will show moving pictures of American Youth Hostels.

Following the meeting there will be individual cabinet meetings. The tentative program for next September through January will be considered, and delegates for the World Student Christian Movement summer conference will be selected. The Y.W. cabinet will also take final action on its new constitution.

Announce Conference Date

The annual conference at Kanesatoke, Spruce Creek, Pa., will be held this year from June 5 to 12. It is attended by delegations from colleges which are members of the W.S.C.M. Albright delegates last year were Joanna Wentz, Betty Anne Lutz, Mary Alice Lippert, Martha Friedericks, Charles Russ, and Jacob Wagner.

During the past weekend, Ruth Ritzman, the new Y.W. president, Irene Fisher, and Joanna Wentz attended the W.S.C.M. Eastern Area Conference at Philadelphia. Under the major topic, "These Things We Must Do," the delegates considered the three sub-topics, "Rediscover, Make Our Own, and Share the Essentials of the Christian Faith," "Take Responsibility for Needed Changes in Community Life," and "Act on the Conviction That the Human Family Can Yet Be One."

Music Dept. Presents Recital, "Open House"

The Music Studio in the Theological Building will hold Open House this Thursday evening from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m. in order to give people who are unfamiliar with the music department an opportunity to see how and where it operates. Professor John H. Duddy, instructor in music, will act as host and members of the Women's Glee Club, the conducting class, and the music appreciation class will assist as hostesses and in making arrangements. Records will be played and tea served.

Professor John H. Duddy will present his organ students in a recital in the Theological Chapel on Sunday, May 7, at 3 p. m. Jeanne Schlegel, soprano, will assist.

The following program has been announced: "Fantasie de Concert," Lux, by Joanna Wentz; "Cantilene in B flat," Hosmer, by Beatrice Staple; vocal solo "Gloria," Buzzi-Peccia, by Jeanne Schlegel. "Traumerl," Schumann, by Margaret McWade; "Andante Cantabile," Widor, by Ella Lesher; vocal solo "Prayer" by Jeanne Schlegel; "Arioso," Bach, and "Sara-bande," Bohm, by Gertrude Frazer.

Soph and Frosh Classes To Elect New Officers

At a meeting of the Freshman Class, April 26, the following people were nominated for officers to be held during 1944-45. President: Newell Wert. Richard Derr, Joy Cutler, Kenneth Good, and Joan House; secretary: Marion Fiedler, Eileen O'Neill, and Ruth Stirn; and treasurer: John Spindler, Marjorie Allen, and Roberta Calamara. Election will be held this Thursday at 1:15 in room 107 in the Ad Building.

Sophomores nominated for officers at the class meeting last Thursday include for president Marie Bonner, Margaret Hendricks, Irene Fisher, Homer Angstadt, and June Plowfield. Marian Latta, Rita Duncavago, and Elizabeth Pottlienger will contest for secretary, while Gloria Salfetty, Phyllis Carter, and Mary Eschweil are running for treasurer. The sophomores will receive their ballots this Friday in chapel or may secure them at the switchboard. They are to be signed and deposited in the ballot box in the Dean's Office.

North Campus Will Be Future Sports Center

For the sports lovers of the school here is the story of North Campus, the triangular plot of land bounded by Bern Street, College Avenue, and 15th Street. According to President Harry V. Masters, plans are being made to have this land ready for use next fall in the form of a baseball diamond, a softball diamond, and a play field for women's hockey.

An engineer engaged to survey the ground has completed placing the stakes and is now working on specifications for bidders. As soon as bids for the work are presented and one is accepted, the grading of the ground will begin.

The layout of North Campus will be such that the home plate of the baseball diamond will be toward the Bern and 15th Street corner, and the softball diamond home plate will be at the corner of College Avenue and 15th Street. The play field, large enough for regulation football, will run near and almost parallel to College Avenue.

Male Quartet to Present Musical Chapel Program

The "Sons of Albright" male quartet will present the chapel program this Friday. The members are Orlean Pottlienger, first tenor; Warren Loesch, second tenor; Newell Wert, baritone; and Cecil Pottlienger, bass.

Mrs. Dorothy Zelger of the American Youth Hostel Association spoke in Chapel this morning. On Tuesday of last week, reflections of "Y" Retreat were given, and on Friday Janet Luckenbaugh gave a concert of marimba music.

Program for the fourteenth annual May Queen coronation, which will be held on Albright's campus, Saturday, May 6, at 3:00 p. m. has been announced by Jean Seidel, chairman. Polly Brossman will reign as queen, attended by Margaret Shepperd, maid of honor. Definite plans have been made for the traditional Junior-Senior Prom which is to be held the same evening from 9 to 12 p. m. Co-Chairmen Ruth Smith and Ann deFarges have made the arrangements for the dance.

The May Day event will open with "Fest March from Tannhauser" by Wagner, as a prelude, followed by the processional. Members of the court, Luella Brown, Irma Peoples, Betty Rex, Lillian Schwaneke, and Ruth Smith, will lead the processional.

Brossman to Reign

Following the court, Margaret Shepperd, maid of honor, will precede the entrance of Polly Brossman, who will reign as May Queen. The proclamation will then be made by mistress of ceremonies, Jean Seidel, followed by the coronation of the queen by Alda Matz, custodian of the crown.

Dancing by a group of freshmen and sophomore women in dance costumes of green and gold will precede the traditional may-pole dance by the peasant-dressed junior women. Leaders in the freshmen - sophomore dances are Christine Schweimler, Margaret Hendricks, Elizabeth Pottlienger, Marian Latta, and June Weidner.

Juniors Will Dance

Junior women in the may-pole dance are Bertina Blaich, Christine Calpin, Charlotte Eck, Catherine Hill, Erma Leinbach, Janet Luckenbaugh, Betty Anne Lutz, Jeanne Miller, Ruth Ritzman, June Ruth, Eleanor Schubert, Jane Teitsworth, Lura Heverly, Ann deFarges, Rachel Willauer, Marian Barger, Patricia Kramer, Marian Christ, Felice Epstein, and Gloria East.

Charges to the 1945 custodian of the crown, and mistress of ceremonies will be made by the May Day Chairman, Miss Seidel, followed by the recessional of the Queen and her court.

Court Wears Tafteta

Members of the court, wearing white, pink, and blue flowered tafteta gowns fashioned on simple lines, will carry basket-like bouquets of white flowers mixed with green and decorated with colored ribbons. Senior women in the arch will be gowned in pastel shades, carrying arch sticks banked with white lilac and bridal wreath.

Polly Brossman and Luella Brown are the dance leaders who have as-

Tea, Dinners to Honor Seniors In Last Week

Beginning a series of commencement week social activities, a tea is scheduled to be held for the seniors at the home of President and Mrs. Harry V. Masters on Sunday, May 14, from 3 to 5 p. m. On the following Saturday, May 20, the faculty will give a dinner for the seniors. It will be held at Whitner's Garden Room at 6:30 p. m.

The Faculty Committee on Social Activities, of which Professor Anna H. Smith is the chairman, is in charge of planning for the dinner. Also on the committee are Dr. Virgil C. Zener, Acting Librarian Esther Fenili, Professor Ernestine Elder, Elsie A. Garla, Marcus H. Green, Neal O. Harris, and Paul I. Speicher.

On the morning of Saturday, May 20, the alumnae of Phi Beta Mu sorority will hold a breakfast for the present chapter, while the alumnae sorority, Phi Delta Sigma, will hold a dinner at noon. Plans for a Pi Alpha Tau alumnae sorority dinner have not as yet been completed, but will be announced later.

Resident Women Plan To Tour Selwyn Hall; Will Return Next Sept. Men Make Room Reservations, And Choose Roommates For Future Terms

Selwyn Hall and Annex will be open to women dormitory students today for the first time in more than a year. Dean Mary Jane Stevenson announces that from 4:45 to 6:15 p. m., women may go through the dormitories and look at the rooms. This was planned especially for those women who have never been in the buildings.

Next Tuesday, May 9, at 7:15 all resident women will meet in room 103 in the Administration Building to choose their rooms in Selwyn Hall and the Annex for next year. Seniors first will draw lots to determine who will be allowed to have first choice, second choice, and so on. When the seniors have picked their rooms, the juniors and sophomores will choose theirs similarly.

Men boarding students have been making room reservations for this summer and next fall. All boarding students must choose a roommate and register for a room in the third floor of the Ad Building before Thursday, May 11. Seniors will have first choice.

The present freshman dorm women will get their first real dorm experience next fall, but for the upperclassmen who well remember the Idea of March in 1943, the second exodus, it will be a home-coming. The first exodus in the annals of Albright history was the men's moving out of the fraternity houses, and the third, the women moving into Linden House in December.

Servicemen's Canteen Receipts Go Over Top

With a net gain of almost twice the original goal of thirty dollars, the Servicemen's Canteen came to a victorious close last Thursday. The Daywomen claim the highest net income, and the A.P.O.'s, Zetas, Kappas, and Linden House all went over their goals also.

Irma Peoples was chairman of the Canteen, which was sponsored by the Men in Service Committee to pay for Christmas and Easter greetings sent to the Lions in the Banks. Money earned above the original thirty dollars will be used in the future.

Service Banks, from Lieutenant to Private, Send Nostalgic Letters to Present Students

Albright's campus welcomed back this past week three Albrightians now in the service. Herb Vogt made his appearance. W. Jerome Bentz of the signal corps, attached to the Air Corps, has been here for several days. Class of '30 was represented by Lt. Len Schaeffer.

From VIC GIGLI, "Many thanks for remembering me and hope you all will forgive my negligence in not writing sooner. Very often think of school days and the acquaintances I made there. Hope to return for a visit in the near future." We'll be looking for you, Vic!

A card from JACKIE MUNLEY, "Thank you and your staff for forwarding the paper to me. It keeps me in touch with some of my old teammates and also friend Coach Hargis. Happy to have received GEORGE HORN'S address from your paper. My regards to Charlie Gordon, Coach and Mrs. Harris."

Carls Down South

PAUL CARLS came out of the depths of Camp Claiborne, La., with the following letter. "Just a few lines to give you my new address and to ask you to send The Albrightian down here to the "sunny South." So say the Southerners, but all we've had down here is rain, and more rain.

"There are about three thousand A.S.T.P. men down here, but not a one from Reading. However, the group is still quite intellectual. Of the eight men living with me, two of them have their M.A.'s, and four of us have our bachelor of science degrees. Evidently it takes a smart man to get into the Infantry—ugh—My poor tired feet! Oh well, this war can't last forever, especially now that my old roomy, Web, is in the South Pacific."

Zimmet on Move

"Private SANDY ZIMMET comes through with a card. Yep, I moved again; this time to Co. C-804 S. T. R. Camp Crowder. I believe I'm setting some kind of record; I've been in 15 different companies in 16 months. I'll let you know when I move again (probably next month)."

From Midshipman Bill Dearden of Boston, Mass., comes a letter: "Hello everyone; I had a few spare minutes this evening, and I thought it was about time I wrote to you all at Albright and thanked you for the 'Cue', and The Albrightian as well as the Easter card and the other cards I have received.

Drive Nets 950; Books To Be Shipped Soon

Although the combined "Y's" Book Drive for student prisoners of war has closed with a total of 950 books collected of the goal of 1000, there is still cleaning and screening to be done by the committees headed by Irene Fisher, according to Polly Walls, general chairman of the drive. The cleaning committee plans to work on the books after the "Y" meeting tonight.

The books, after being sent to New York City, will be shipped to the student prisoners by the Prisoners' Aid Society, under the general auspices of the World Student Service Fund.

Culinary Patriotism

It is gratifying to note that Albright thinks as much of her servicemen as they think of Albright. The Servicemen's Canteen was circumstantial evidence of this fact last week. Members of the Men in Service Committee realized a profit of almost $60.00, twice their original goal.

The cake was good, and the hot dogs hit the spot. But besides supplying hungry students with food, the Canteen had an ulterior motive. The profits will be used to pay for the Servicemen's Easter greetings, with money left over for the committee's next project. So that makes everybody happy, especially the Lions in the Ranks who can feel sure that we haven't forgotten them.

Speak For Yourself . . .

It's interesting to hear and to participate in informal confabs of students discussing presidential candidates. Fortunately Albright opinion seems evenly divided between Dewey and Roosevelt, although there are some radical viewpoints. In the latter category an idea was raised the other evening when the sum accomplishment of a political discussion was the suggestion, "Why not vote for John Durko?" And why not, we re-echo. At least he'd bring in a solid Albright vote.

Wake Up, Albright

In case you're just sitting around and enjoying the spring weather, watch out. In less than two weeks you will be in the middle of that final struggle for existence known as exam week. If you've just remembered those five term papers, the library's open till 10 three nights a week. Knuckle down, chums; it's later than you think.

By ELIZABETH POTTIEGER

Albright will soon refer to a residence other than 1601 Palm Street as the president's home. President Harry V. Masters recently received notice that his home has been sold; Linden House has been mentioned as a possible place.

A flowering dogwood tree will grace the front of campus after next Sunday when Pi Alpha Tau will hold its annual tree planting ceremony. The affair, which will occur at 2:30 p. m., is in honor of the sorority members' mothers.

New catalogues were forthcoming from the Public Relations Office last week. Seniors to freshmen took turns claiming theirs from Tuesday through Friday.

Cancellation of the Freshman Doggie Roast because of rain last Thursday was a windfall for Freshman dorm women. The A.P.O.'s made most of their profit in the Canteen by selling wieners throughout the disagreeable day.

Bible Class next Sunday will again have Professor Lewis E. Smith as speaker; vespers are in charge of Jean Harer and Mary Jane Weber.

A talk of "Stage Makeup" by Miss Elizabeth Bucher, dramatic coach at Northwest Junior High School, will be the main feature of the Domino Club meeting this Thursday evening. New members will be taken into the club and officers for next year will be elected.

Because of semester reports, Acting Librarian Esther Fenili announces that the library will be open until 10:00 p. m. Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

With Lions in the Ranks foremost in our minds, it is only right that the Men in Service Committee carry out projects which have been suggested by the students. Therefore, the Inquiring Reporter inquires: "What would you suggest as a project for the Men in Service Committee to put into effect next year?"

Dr. Milton G. Gell, professor of psychology: 1. Form study groups on "The Needs and Problems of the Returning Soldier on our Campus." This will provide an intelligent basis for his assimilation when he returns. 2. Secure from official sources, if necessary, the unknown or forgotten addresses of former students in the service and include them in all items of mail. 3. Get The Albrightian staff to dedicate one of its issues each semester to the "Men in Service." Feature human interest portrayals of classroom, social room, fraternity and sorority experiences. Help the men, in imagination at least, to revisit some shrine of meaningful experience on the Albright campus.

Lara Ann Heverly, Liberal Arts, '45: I think the committee really deserves a lot of praise for the fine things they have been doing for the servicemen this year. I can't think of any additional projects for next year, but I do hope that committee can continue the ones they have already started.

Gloria Salfesty, Science, '46: If not too expensive, make small flexible records of our Alma Mater and send them to the boys in service—it might serve as an inspiration to loyal Albrightians.

Helen Brown, Liberal Arts, '45: I think the committee this year has done a grand job, which leaves me without a new suggestion to offer.

Betty Claire Voeste, Liberal Arts, '45: I'd like to see the Men in Service Committee well prepared to supply our boys with proper greetings, books, and boxes of food for holidays and special occasions. And above all, keep them well posted on all Albright's activities. From all reports, the "Sons of Albright" are mighty grateful for what we've done, and they're looking for more of it.

Kenneth Taylor, Science, '45: Let the men in service know by letter the addresses of other Albrightians in the same camps or nearby camps, for they often miss each other because the camps are so large.

Doris Kinsey, Chemistry, '44: Since each edition of The Albrightian is anticipated with fervor by our Lions in the Ranks, if one may judge by the "fan mail", it would be a swell idea for the committee to condense the weekly news sheet into letter form for the fellows in internment camps.

Test tubes, deadlines, basketball—are three key words to the personality of this week's Dandy Lion. Upholding the tradition in the Kinsey family, our representative, Doris, has followed her dad's footsteps in the field of science.

A major in chemistry, she has already obtained a position with the American Cyanamid Company in its Stamford Research Laboratories in Connecticut. As president of the Alchemists' Club, she has been able to further develop keen interest in chemistry.

Definitely not a one-sided enthusiast, she has a finger in many other campus activities. And a mighty capable finger it is, too. As managing editor of The Albrightian, she put many a paper to bed—and tucked it in with the precision, skill, and genuine interest for which she is noted. This literary ability also made her a valued member of the "Cue" staff.

Duties as a chem lab assistant keep her hopping, but she still finds time to keep up her membership in the Domino and German clubs.

Doris is an active member in the Daywomen's Organization. She's a Reading resident, and the cars she has driven to school have earned her a reputation. The cars themselves are not so famous as are their names. "Jezebel" is a relic of the past. The latest is "Fiosse."

While her mental energy is at work in chemistry and writing, Doris lets out her physical energy in hockey and basketball. She is especially enthusiastic about basketball and was manager of the women's varsity for two years. In the fall sport, she took it easy as varsity goalie.

Honors are Miss Kinsey's line as she is a pledge of Phi Delta Sigma, honorary alumni sorority and was chosen for "Who's Who Among Students."

She qualifies as a gracious hostess in the new Kinsey homestead on Thirteenth Street, with the attraction being her mother's good pies. Hungry dorm students love to drop in on the way home from the movies.

Adding up her score, Doris has a triple threat in newspaper work, in chem lab, and in sports. It's with pleasure that we present the Dandy Lion of the week Doris Kinsey, "editor emeritus" of The Albrightian, now resting on her laurels.

Attention, Please

Hi, kids—

This is going to be a sort of queer mixture of print, but most of all it is going to be an appeal and an explanation, or an explanation of a former explanation. So, here goes.

In a recent "Inside Albright", the editor stated the policy and aims of THE ALBRIGHTIAN. She stressed, among other things, that this is a paper of the students, by the students and for the students. Since you are the students, it is obvious that this fact should be brought to your attention. The editors and the staff of THE ALBRIGHTIAN want all students to participate in the makings of the paper. True, you read it every Tuesday, or most of you do. That is to be expected. But we also want interested students to have an active part in contributing to each week's issue. In short we want more members of the student body to become members of the staff of your paper.

Paper Understaffed

We are frank to admit that we are at present understaffed. There are positions open on the feature, sports, news and composing staffs. We are vitally in need of typists so that copy can be sent to the printer's on time. As things stand now, three or four people "put the paper to bed" in the wee hours of the night. The entire burden of editing, typing, writing, rewriting, doing headlines, and make-up falls ultimately to a few people. If the staff were larger the work could be far more equally distributed and the net result would undoubtedly be a finer, more efficient sheet.

There is the explanation of why we need you. Won't you come out and support a part of Albright that is really pretty vital? Don't simply say "Oh, I can't write" and forget about it. Perhaps you can write and have never discovered your hidden potentialities.

Can't Write, Can Work

And even if you honestly can't "write" there are many other things essential to the publishing of a good newspaper besides the actual writing of the stories. There is "leg work", or duties on the business and composing staffs. There is an opening for you, if you will only apply for it. Join the staff and make for a better THE ALBRIGHTIAN.

'Tain't Hard

It's quite a simple process. All you have to do is nab the first editor you see running around (probably looking for a story) and say, "I'm ready, willing and able. Set me to work." And he will. If you have any special preferences as to the type of work you want to do, say so. You will be promptly directed to the person in charge. We'll be looking for you.

Hopefully yours,
 Us

Here's another serving of the Omelet a la Home Ec department:

Members of the Home Ec Club are electing their officers today, as club president, Jean Seidel, distributed the ballots to all club members. Announcement of the election results will be made in the next issue of THE ALBRIGHTIAN.

Did you get a whiff of the delicious odors that came from the home ec foods lab last Wednesday? Well, there was a reason—things were brewing in the lab because the meal planning class invited their mothers and Professor Florence V. Innis to be their guests of honor at an informal buffet dinner. After dinner, two movie films, "This Too Is Sabotage" and "You Can Have Everything" were shown at the mother-daughter affair.

Tentative plans are being made by Professor Innis to take her advance nutrition class on a field trip to the Reading Hospital and the Wernersville State Hospital for purposes of observation. At present the class is studying therapeutic dietaries, which includes lab preparation of a dietary nutritive content. Professor Innis is giving this course to senior home ec'ers by special request.

Yesterday the sophomore home ec'ers started their nutrition exam on balanced dietaries, which will end on Sunday, May 7. The embryo nutritionists are submitting themselves as guinea pigs by proving the value of balanced dietaries. Several of the day women are staying on campus so that they won't have to get up in the wee hours in order to make breakfast at Albright.

PASS IN REVIEW

Lots of new books in which you may be interested are now in circulation in the Alumni Memorial Library. We have picked a few out of the group of thirty-eight books to tell you about.

JOSS TO US

"Joe Foss, Flying Marine," is the story of a pilot in the South Pacific. This book is especially interesting because of the dedication on its flyleaf by the author himself. It says, "To Albright College, Sincerely, Major Joe Foss, November 30, 1943, Santa Barbara, California."

For those of you who are throwing any parties in the near future, we suggest "The Fun Encyclopedia," which, as its title implies, is packed with novel ideas, and new games and stunts for all occasions.

Two fine religious books are George Eddy's "A Portrait of Jesus", which is a twentieth century life of Christ, and "Christ and the Fine Arts" by Cynthia Maus, an anthology of pictures, poetry, hymns, and stories.

VELL, NOW

We recommend John Frey's "A Simple Grammar of Pennsylvania Dutch" for anyone wishing to learn the elements of the language spoken in these here parts.

There are some excellent International Relations Club books that will aid you in keeping up with the world. "How To Win The Peace" was written by Carl Hambro, last year's Commencement speaker. Others are: Sumner Welles' "The World of the Four Freedoms", Robert MacIver's "Towards and Abiding Peace", "Latin America" by Samuel Inman, and "History of the English-speaking People" by Robert Mowat.

A new edition of Machiavelli's "The Prince", that book so often mentioned in history, sociology, and political science classes, is also available.

GOLTER PREVENTION

Just because you never know when something like that might come in handy, let us assure you that there is a copy of "How to Prevent Golter" on the library's shelves.

Drop into the library sometime soon and look them over. Remember, you, too, can read a book.

Boarden Likes "Cue"

"The 'Cue' sure was very well done. I sure do like to 'show off' the old school and all the people in it, and I do a pretty good job of convincing these fellows around here that there is no place like Albright. Some of the boys who have gone to Notre Dame, Southern California, Minnesota, etc., are a little hard to convince, but I usually can make them see the 'light'. To all who made it possibly I want to offer my sincere thanks and good wishes.

"Best of luck to all Albrightians everywhere; to those who are still in school, especially the class of '45—keep up the spirit so typical of Albright in the days when we all were there. So long for now, and smooth sailing."

Lt. Buxton Writes

From Australia and Lt. Don E. Buxton comes thanks for The Albrightian and "It is very encouraging to hear about the plans for the new physical training building. Albright was always progressive and enthusiastic."

A card from Bill "A" Fisher from Baldwin, Md. "I ran into Eldon Snyder here at the hospital and we talked over old times—both agreed there is no place like Albright and her spirit and we would both like to return after the war—Keep those The Albrightians coming."

Sees Aurora Borealis

From "Somewhere in Baffin Islands" from Glenn A. Trout '39. "Although we have some really fine displays of Aurora Borealis here I would trade my share of them for the green to all those fine people who made it possible for the "Albrightians in Service" to receive the "Cue." I have shown it to many men, and in doing so couldn't help but feel proud of Albright when a man would exclaim, "Gosh, wish my school would do such a thing!" I treasure that book."

A V-Mail from DICK MAJOR in England says: The Albrightian has been coming thru swell; better than I dared hope. Keep it coming—and those letters, too."

Johnson Pens

DAVID E. JOHNSON, who is at Camp Croft, South Carolina writes: "I've been receiving The Albrightian regularly, and I certainly do enjoy reading it. That goes for the "Cue" as well. It brings back many pleasant memories to read bits of news about those who still remain."

Campus Notes

From the four corners of Pennsylvania we bring you the latest in what's happening on other campuses.

Big doings at Temple U. last week as delegates from four continents met for a formal "bull session" of the International Labor Organization. Notables at the convention included Francis Perkins, Secretary of Labor; Mayor Bernard Samuel of Philadelphia; Seymour Jackson, treasurer of the League of Nations. Albright's notables present were Professor Lewis E. Smith and Dr. Milton W. Hamilton.

The Ursinus Weekly, disguised as the Yoursins Weekly, came up with this prize package in their Spring Fever Issue. Vetter Report Today it raint. Wun neffer noze vot it will be doing tomorrow. It may rain agen, un den it may be nice and sonshiny. Of course, da fellers vant to go aht to play mit da balls and batts, so ve hope it turns nice. But den som uf dem like to stay in bett in da mornning too, so maybe it wud be better if'n it raint. Of vell, ve can't really do moech abahit it anyway, so vy predict da vetter.

In other words, it makes dahn at Ursinus, and they vish it vud clear up.

K.T.X. Arranges to Induct '44-'45 Officers in Chapel

Kappa Tau Chi, pre-theological fraternity, will hold installation ceremonies Thursday at 7:45 p. m. in Sylvan Chapel, with Dr. Virgil C. Zener, professor of education, as speaker. The new officers to be inducted are: Cecil Pottlinger, president; Fred Clewell, vice president; Newell Wert, secretary; and Verner Herizog, treasurer.

Army-All Star Tilt Features Unusual Gems In Fielding

By Special Correspondent
R. M. KLENCK

With the Intra-fraternity League schedule as changeable as selective service edicts, President Ken Faylor arranged a tussle between a more-or-less all star team and an aggregation of Army Air Corps ballhawks functioning under the gentle supervision of Sergeant Just-call-me-Stonewall Marcus. This historic event took place last Wednesday afternoon on the Stadium diamond. An audience of 19 watched the Army pound out a 12-11 victory. Some grade school kids watched for a while until Coach Neal O. Harris gave them the bounce.

Despite the game's pick-up genesis, some excellent playing was demonstrated, the most dazzling of which was contributed by a long-legged Air Corps outfielder named Bilzing over whose head Paul Mattson made the mistake of bashing a vicious liner. Bilzing, galloping like mad, went up in the air at the last moment and snared the ball over his shoulder like a football. An annoying character named Flynn did equally damaging things to Albright drives into center field. Harry Hantzes played this area for Albright and contributed some glittering catches.

There wasn't much in the way of pitching. The Army presented a southpaw named Brady, a righthander named Bart, and Sgt. Galloway, a right-hander of the slow ball variety. All were roundly thumped. Albright offered John Durko, Ken Faylor, and for the final inning, Hantzes. Durko and Hantzes are pitchers. The Air Corps only got nine runs off Faylor. Don Kniffen almost killed himself in the sixth. In pursuit of a pop foul he crashed at top speed into a non-yielding section of the obstacle course. Fortunately he escaped with a few bruises.

Red Gable, normally an infielder, caught a cool game and only Sergeant Galloway deemed it prudent to take liberties with his throwing arm. The Redhead's peg to Klenck had Galloway by a full foot but the umpire ruled otherwise.

The diamond was soggy from recent rains which condition slowed down the infield play.

THE GREAT VAULT ROBBERY

Biggest sports event in the past week was the Albright College Invitation scholastic track and field meet held last Saturday, April 22. In the event that there is an Albrightian who doesn't know what the above mentioned event is, we shall hereby enlighten you avid fans. The Albright College meet is a gathering of Berks County high schools to decide the champion of this here county in track and field. Now that you know just exactly what took place last Saturday (Muhlenberg was the winner), we can get on with our ramblings.

The gala affair was a thoroughly enjoyable one for track enthusiasts, and it produced some interesting happenings. Several records flew by the boards in spite of the unseasonable weather. We were particularly impressed with the incident that occurred in connection with the new mark set in the pole vault. It seems that Nick Deeter, Mohnton entry, was in a jumping mood on that particular afternoon, and in a flash, the aforementioned Nick had equaled the previous record of the meet of 10 feet and 9 inches.

This was an occasion for much rejoicing and general hilarity. But the famous Nick was not yet finished. Nick was determined to break that record or die in the attempt. A quiet hush fell over the crowded stadium as the officials upped the bamboo rod another inch. "Would he or wouldn't he" was the question that was on everyone's lips. Anxious spectators started to gnaw their finger nails as Nick prepared for the climax of the afternoon.

Nick gripped the pole firmly, measured the distance carefully, dug in his cleats, and was off down the runway. He was over, and a new mark had been set in the pole vault by the bashful county lad. Unheard of before, now fame and fortune were his. But then the officials had to measure it just to make it official. They measured and the tape measure said only 10 feet and 9 inches, instead of the hoped for 10-10.

The Mohnton coach cried: "My boy surely must have broken the record with that jump." Then the officials got an idea. Maybe there was some dirt or something in the gutter where the pole is placed when jumping. So they dug away some dirt, and the tape measure now read 10 feet and 10 inches! Nick is famous again.

SPORTS A LA FEMME

There will be two full weeks of tennis for the women during which, if the weather permits, each class will play five singles and one double match. Captains for the classes are: Seniors, Edith Bitler; Juniors, Joyce Moyer; sophomores, Marie Bonner; freshman, Phoebe Gerhart.

The tennis schedule is still in its embryonic stage. So far, the only match listed with picked opponents is between Roberts Calamara and Dorothy Powick. The rest of the schedule shapes up in the following manner. There are two matches to be played between April 26 and April 28, four from May 1 to May 5, and six to be played during the period of May 8 to May 12.

May Day practices will get into full swing this week in preparation for the big event on Saturday, May 6. The first rehearsal is scheduled for Wednesday, May 3 at 3:40. The final practice will be staged on Friday, May 5, at 2:40 and will probably last throughout the afternoon. Indoor practices have been held during the past several weeks.

SIDE LIONS

The editorial staff of THE ALBRIGHTIAN has found it necessary to move the sports' page from the fourth page to the third page. What is more, sports will probably take up only three columns in its new setting. This move was necessitated because of lack of sports material. We think it foolish to give a whole page to sports and crowd out the news, when there is so little being done in sports at this particular time of the year. We will still bring you all the news in the sports world, but we win't use an entire page to do it.

A follow-up game of the one staged between the Army and the college all-star team was canceled last Friday afternoon. It seems that the college team couldn't scrape enough boys to field a whole squad.

We hereby give a vote of thanks to Robert H. Klenck for his valuable assistance in covering the intramural softball games and for handling in accurate accounts of the tilt. Mr. Klenck has been rendering his invaluable assistance for the past several weeks, and we appreciate it no end.

Letters To The Editor

Mississippi

Dear Editor:

At last I have a chance to write that letter due you and the members of the Executive Committee.

Well, here I am in the hospital with the flu. On Monday, March 20th, I went back to duty after being in light duty for three weeks. A trail of 57 mm. gun had fallen on my toe and fractured it. That same night they brought me here. As a result I have done a good job of goldbricking for the last four weeks. I am being discharged from the hospital tomorrow.

By now you know I am the proud father of a 7 lb. baby boy, born Friday, March 24th at 9:00 a. m. . . . I wrote Charlie Gordon asking him about a scholarship for my son in 1962.

It sure was a pleasure to be able to attend the monthly meeting while I was home on my furlough. Only wish I had more time to talk to each one.

There is one thing that has been on my mind for some time. I think the members of the alumni in the armed forces should be advised that both their Association and the college are doing a big job in mailing The Albrightian every week. If I remember rightly, the Association is paying for the weekly mailing, and the college for the 375 extra copies every week. This is just a suggestion, but, having the Association at heart, I had to pass it along.

I look forward to receiving my weekly copy, and am disappointed when it is late. It keeps me informed about the ones in the armed forces, and the news of the college and college family. It is like getting a letter from home.

Hope the members of the committee appreciate my trying to kill two birds with one stone with this letter.

With best wishes to all.

Sincerely yours,
E. W. P. (Binck) Binckley, '28

South Norwalk, Connecticut

Dear Editor:

I have meant to write to you for sometime concerning "THE ALUMNI NEWS" and to congratulate you heartily for the work you are doing in preparing this page. It is a very fine event each month when I receive The Albrightian and am able to read of my classmates and those that I knew in college.

In the last issue I read that Russ Bonney had moved to Philadelphia from Bridgeport, Connecticut. I have been looking for him in Kresge's Store in Bridgeport for the last three or four months and have just found out where he has gone.

I wish that if at all possible you would put a note on your next page that I lost my wife in December of 1943 so that a great many of my classmates who did not receive

Christmas cards will know the reason why.

I expect to be inducted into the Army in the very near future and at that time I will notify you of my change of address.

On October 19th, 1943 I had a daughter, Suzanne, whom I hope someday will enjoy four years at Albright the same as I did and will be able to take with her through life cherished memories of college days that I have.

Sincerely yours,
J. Richard Fay, 1934

Dear Editor:

I've been here at St. Paul's School, Concord, New Hampshire for the past three years. Effective June 25th I will become the Vicar of the Chapel of the Incarnation, 240 East 31st Street, New York City. It is a church with a combined neighborhood and settlement work. Hope the information above will aid the records.

Sincerely yours,
Otho S. (Hoofy) Hoffnagle

Summer School

Two Six-Weeks Terms. June 12 to July 22, July 24 to September 1. Classes meet daily from Monday to Friday. One semester's work is completed in each six-week period, and whole year courses are continued through both sessions. $10.00 per semester hour; room and board, per week, $13.50. Write to Director of Extra Sessions.

Pat. Alumnae Dine at T.J.; Buy Bond for New Gym

The alumnae of Pi Alpha Tau, at their annual spring luncheon meeting in the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room, Reading, March 4, voted to purchase a $25.00 War Bond to be given to the Alumni Memorial Swimming Pool Fund, sponsored by the Alumni Association. Pi Alpha Tau's reporter says: "This may be just a small splash in a big pool, but it indicates the interest of Pi Alpha Tau women in the progress of Albright, and at this time, specifically, confidence in the physical education building project."

In the business session, Amy Leinbach Bell, '32, was elected president to replace the retiring president, Helen Teel Riffle, '38. Permanent officers of the group are: Anna R. Benninger, '30, secretary; and Kathryn Rothemel, '29, treasurer. Ethel Go-forth, '37, was the hostess.

ALUMNI NOTES

Lieutenant Colonel Ralph C. Deibert, Chaplain of the Third Service Command, has been promoted to the rank of Colonel, it was announced recently by Major General Philip Hayes, Commanding General.

Colonel Deibert, a native of Schuylkill Haven, Penna., served as a chaplain during the first World War and accepted a commission in the regular Army in 1920. Prior to his assignment in Baltimore, Colonel Deibert had served in many Army posts here and abroad.

Albright Alumni will remember Colonel Deibert as student pastor of Myerstown. He was awarded an honorary doctor's degree by Albright in 1935.

Richard S. Westgate, '25, former football player at Albright and soldier for ten months, has been elected as supervisor of men's recreation in Reading. After three major operations in three years, he received an honorable discharge from the Army in 1942.

Aviation Cadet James H. Winterhalter, '41, Birdsboro, Penna., R. D. No. 2, in training at the Army School at Yale University, has been graduated with the rank of Second Lieutenant.

Births

Albright Alumni Drop Annual Reunion Plans This Commencement

Committee Encourages Alumni To Hear Services; Prexy Announces Tellers

Due to travel restrictions, food rationing and rooming accommodations, the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association has decided that it will be impossible again this year to sponsor Alumni Day. All alumni who can, however, are urged to visit the campus and to attend the baccalaureate and commencement programs, May 21.

In preparation for closing the year Dr. R. W. (Ray) Albright, '19, president, at the regular monthly meeting of the Executive Committee, April 18, appointed the following committees in accordance with the constitution: Committee of Tellers: Lydia M. Roland, '32, chairman; Betty Straub Ulrich, '38; Jean M. Bomgardner, '42; Douglas E. Sechler, '34, Committee on Nominations: Anna Heere Smith, '30, chairman; Ethel B. Goforth, '37; Rollin T. Reiner, '41; L. L. Stabler, '35, Auditing Committee: S. Richard Wiley, '32, chairman; William S. Harris, '36; George S. Zehner, '27.

The tellers will make an official count of the ballots cast for the officers of the Association on or before May 15, and the results of the election will be reported to the members.
