Marlow and Downes Winners Of Coveted 'Y' Presidencies

William Marlow and Doris Downes have been elected presidents of the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. for the 1948-1949 school year. In the all-college ballot held early this week, Marlow in a landslide victory defeated Lamarr Kopp, while Miss Downes edged out Shirley Miller by only a few votes.

Also victorious for the Y.M.C.A. are Jack Snook, who won over John Fausnaught in the vice-presidency election; Jerry Pedota, who nosed out Ralph Staudt as secretary; and Terry Connor, who defeated Percy Brown for the office of treasurer.

Included in the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet will be Kazuye Kiyono, who won over Thelma Degler in the vice-presidency; Shirley Johnson, who defeated Fredaberyl Moyer for the office of secretary; and Joyce Thompson, who edged out Phyllis Oberholtzer for treasurer.

During the past year Marlow has served as vice-president of the Y.W.C.A. and has been chairman of the worship committee. During this year he has served as junior class president and in the recent election was again elected to head his class. A member of the Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity, Marlow is also a member of the Kappa Tau Chi, Philosophy Club, Domino Club, and Men's Glee Club.

Miss Downes is at present the secretary of the Y.W.C.A. and last fall was co-chairman of the "Y" Retreat. She is the treasurer of the International Relations Club, a member of La Sociedad Cultural Espanola, and the manager of the women's hockey team.

Jay Shenk Wins In Frosh Battle

In one of the closest ballots of the all-college election, Jay Shenk won over Terry Connor for the office of president of the Class of 1951. Being re-elected to his second term as class prexy, Shenk will be assisted by these other officers: David Smith, who defeated Charles Schrimster in a close race for vice-presidency; Barbara Mogel, who edged out Charlotte Winner for the office of secretary; and William Shaeffer, who won over Gordon Farscht for the duties of treasurer.

Moser to Rule Men Commuters

In a close contest for the office of president, Robert Moser defeated Hampton Pullis to acclaim the office of the Fraternal Order of Daymen.

In a decisive vote, John Youcum won over Paul Kohl for the vice-presidency; while Elwood Oxenrider edged out Charles Eisenbrow for the duties of secretary.

Pre-Meds Plan Banquet May 5

Plans for the annual Skull and Bones banquet to be held May 5 at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room were discussed at the recent meeting of the Skull and Bones Society. All members interested in attending this affair are urged to make their reservations with Dorothy Lou Moyer as soon as possible.

Preceding the business meeting, Harold Cooper presented his physiology term paper, "The Theories of Anesthesia Applied to Cell Metabolism." Cooper pointed out the vast complexities arising in cell metabolism due to the use of anesthesia and gave a review of the latest research work completed in that field.

Following the presentation of the paper, a film supplied by the Mallinckrodt Chemical Works, entitled "The Advent of Anesthesia," was reviewed. It depicted the first use of ether for surgical purposes and its history of chemical development and refinement for medical purposes.

Seiber Elected Senate President In Close Contest

In a nip-and-tuck battle for the presidency of the Women's Student Senate, Helen Seiber defeated Shirley Miller by only a few votes to receive the highest position in women's student government. Miss Seiber will now preside over the Senate, which is composed of the Daywomen's Council and the Dormitory Council.

A member of the Senate for the past two years, the new president served during this year as secretary of the Dormitory Council. She is a member of the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority and is secretary of both French Club and La Sociedad Cultural Espanola. She is also a member of the Domino Club and the hockey team and is the manager of the women's softball team.

Seisler Voted To Head Staff Of '49 "Cue"

Dorothy Seisler will be editor and Hampton Pullis business manager of the 1949 "Cue", announced William Marlow, president of the junior class. The new editor and business manager were chosen by the juniors in a recent all-class election.

Miss Seisler, former feature editor of The Albrightian, is at present secretary of both Sigma Tau Delta and Delta Phi Alpha, and a member of the International Relations Club and the College Orchestra. She has also been active with the Radio Workshop and has served as a representative to the Daywomen's Council.

A member of the Pi Tau Beta Fraternity, Pullis was a member of the varsity basketball team in 1944-1945. He is at present a member of the Alchemists Club, Skull & Bones, College Orchestra, College Band, and the Fraternal Order of Daymen.

Miss Seisler plans to establish her staff before the end of the semester. All interested juniors should contact her as soon as possible.

Close Election Names Carson As Highest Council Official

In a close race for the highest position in Albright student government, William Carson captured the presidency of Student Council in the all-college election by defeating William Hechler. Carson, who has been a Daymen representative on Council for the past year, was recently appointed chairman of Council's Student Activities Committee.

He has been a member of the Veterans' Club for two years, and a member of the Fraternal Order of Daymen, whose softball team he has played on during the past two seasons.

The president-elect will succeed John Woyrnarowski, the present Council prexy.

Marlow, Henry, Fausnaught, Long To Lead Juniors

Chosen to head next year's senior class, William Marlow was re-elected class prexy by a decided vote in the recent all-college poll. The duties of vice-president will be filled by John Fausnaught, who defeated Mary Fry on the vice-presidential ballot.

In a close election for the secretaryship of the class, Jean Long won over Dorothy Holl; while Owen Henry nosed out Kazuye Kiyono by only a few votes for the office of treasurer.

Hornberger Named Daywomen Prexy; Holl V-President

As a result of the recent all-college election, Dorace Hornberger was elected president of the Daywomen's Organization. Also chosen to serve with her are Dorothy Holl, as vice-president; Beverly Bresler, as secretary; and Janet Coombs, as treasurer.

Mary Fry will serve the organization as senior representative; while Joyce Thompson and Kathleen Guenther will act as junior and sophomore representatives respectively.

Also elected by the daywomen are the following five Student Council representatives: Miss Thompson, Geneva Bolton, Virginia Fox, Betty Savage, and Miss Bresler.

Class of 1948 Popularity Contest Winners

Sororities to Hold Dances April 30

The annual spring dance of the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority will be held on Friday, April 30, at the Women's Club, announced Dorothy Moyer, PAT president. All sorority alumnae will be invited to the dance, at which Harold Harringtons Orchestra will play for dancing. Miss Moyer also announced that the PAT pledges will be inducted into the sorority as members on Monday, April 19.

The Phi Beta Mu spring dance to which alumnae have been invited, is being planned for Friday, April 30, at Bynden Wood, revealed Grace Miller, president. A dinner will precede the dance at which Billy Miller and his Orchestra will play. Jean Borgstrom is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Bretz to Guide KTX Fraternity

Carl Bretz was elected president of Kappa Tau Chi at a meeting of the group held last evening. Others elected to serve with him are Thomas Young, vice-president; Ralph Staudt, secretary; and Eldon Snyder, treasurer.

Preceding the business session, Professor Batdorf of the Evangelical School of Theology spoke to the pre-ministerial students. He stressed the value of the New Testament to the ministers in their preaching. Professor Batdorf also emphasized the fact that the New Testament gives them a mission and acts as an authority for their preaching. Gerald Hertzog, past president, had charge of the program.

Glee Clubs Sing In Chapel Series

As a feature of the little Cultural Series of Student Council, the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs presented a concert in both Tuesday and Thursday chapel this week.

The program opened with both groups singing "Sunbeams Out of Heaven" and "The Farmer's Daughters." The Women's Glee Club then sang "The China Figure" and "Little David." "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," "Bald Bandolero," and "School Days" were offered by the Men's Glee Club.

In a second group of selections, the women sang "Ave Verum" and "Prayer;" and the men offered "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," "Jubilate Amen," and "Pilgrims Chorus."

Bird Re-elected Sophomore Head

Frank Bird was re-elected president of the Class of 1950 as a result of the all-college poll held this week. Jack Snook will fill the office of vice-president. In decisive contests for the secretary and treasurer of the present sophomore class, Beverly Morgan was victorious as secretary, while John Werley captured the duties of treasurer.

Changes Added In W.A.A. Code

On Tuesday, April 13, the election for the May Day Chairman and Custodian of the Crown for the 1949 May Day festivities was held in the junior chapel. All junior women's names were placed on the ballot, which was conducted by the Women's Athletic Association. The results of the election will be withheld until May Day.

The program for May Day, under the supervision of the W.A.A. is being arranged by Gloria McKittrick, May Day chairman, and Grace Miller, custodian of the crown. All dance rehearsals have begun. Members of the junior class will present the maypole dance.

Trophy Committee

Anna Lauver and Jean Borgstrom have been appointed to a committee to work in coordination with Mrs. Harry V. Masters, President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, in selection of a trophy to be awarded to the most outstanding woman athlete in the senior class. The Ladies' Auxiliary is sponsoring the trophy for the W.A.A. to present.

The constitution of the W.A.A. has been amended as follows: a. The maintenance of the concession stand at Northwest Junior High School for the men's basketball games will be under the jurisdiction of the W.A.A. Cabinet. b. Revisions have been made in the point system through which athletic awards are made annually. c. The publicity duties have been added to those of the secretary. d. Cabinet elections will be held hereafter in April instead of February. e. Meetings will be held monthly instead of semi-monthly.

The Power of One Vote

The aftermath of an all-college election usually creates some problems and misunderstandings. After the polls have been closed, the ballots counted, and the results published, there are always those few people who must criticize the outcome.

In order that we can prevent any such repercussion from this year's election, we thought it wise to explain to you some of the little important things which determined the outcome of this year's vote.

From a survey of the results, we learned that a total of 428 ballots were deposited in the ballot box. Included in this number were approximately 15 unsigned ballots. There were also those ballots which contained votes for class officers of every class, and not just the class of the voter.

The election held this week was a very close one. And, because of this fact, a recount of the votes was taken. It was found that the originally declared winners were those with the majority of votes—those deserving to win. Furthermore, among the results published today, there are several candidates who have won by only 1 or 2 votes.

When we stop to consider how close an election can be, we must realize the importance of every single vote. Some of these 15 unsigned ballots could have greatly altered the results.

We must admit that our election system is not the best that it could be. But since we have the system we do—a system which allows very little time for presentation and discussion of various candidates—we must give each vote the proper thought and consideration it justly deserves. There is no need for us to emphasize the necessity of one to choose the man best suited for the job. However, we are trying to show each one of you the importance of your single vote.

We feel sure that Student Council would graciously receive any suggestions on improving our system that any of you might have. The fate of an election lies in every student.

The World's Effect On Us

Recently, our national government has been dealing with international situations which are important to us both as a nation of people and as a group of college students.

Whatever our national policy shall be as a result of the Russian blockading of supplies to French, British, and American personnel in Berlin and of the American counter move of placing the Russian railroad office in the American zone of Berlin under guard; as a result of the U.S. planned Greek offensive against Communism; and as a result of our actions through the Marshall plan, we students of Albright College will be affected in one way or another.

It could mean, if our national aim is successful, that we can continue our education and living in peace. On the other hand, if Russia and America continue in this cold war in the present tit-for-tat fashion where each move of one country seemingly must be checked by some action by the other, we might soon find the younger male members of our college serving a swing in the armed forces. And if this cold war continues to get warmer, eventually we might forget the adjectives "younger" and "male."

In our national policy and in our desires we seem to have the wish for world peace, and a will to prevent another Pearl Harbor. Therefore are we willing to pour billions of dollars for aid; and at the same time, through this aid, we are attempting to set up alliances with other countries, and through our military are repeating actions which Russia has initiated. Thus while we are expressing our ethical side, we are at the same time giving out with the old "you get rough and I'll get rougher" idea which only heaps coals on an already hot situation. Maybe it's a good thing to hold the dove of peace in one hand and the A-bomb in the other; maybe it isn't. But whether it is or not, there's no denying that we've got a ticklish problem confronting us.

And that's where we college students come in, after we've temporarily lain aside the basic worry as to whether we can continue living peacefully or whether we shall slug it out in another war. We need and will continue to need individuals of sufficient mental and physical calibre and enough human understanding to cope with our present international hot potato, a situation that warrants getting an education while it is still able to be gotten.

Maybe after taking a long view of things, April 18 will mean more to us than just entering the home stretch of the school year. We might observingly watch the reports of the election in Italy on that date to see if Communism gains another foothold in Europe. It could influence the whole European set up and finally even us here at Albright.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Time is short. The U.M.T. bill is before congress now awaiting action. Never before in the history of our free Democracy has such an issue confronted the public. We, as students, have heard the "pros" and "cons" of this measure tossed about with such terms as democracy, defense, preparedness, security, communism—coloring our perspective.

Now as a Nation we are called upon to make a decision; as students we must take our stand also. Now not only must we make up our minds, but we must let the weight of our decision as free citizens to be felt on those who are to legislate this measure.

We call upon the students of Albright to write their congressmen and the members of the committee for U.M.T. Passage of this act would mean the denial of the principles upon which our nation was founded—Democracy and Freedom.

Passage of U.M.T. would mean death to the United Nations throughout the world on the communism thrives. America would assume three basic characteristics of a militarized state with all the resources of the nation turned toward war and the conscription of technicians, managers and workers. It would mean the militarization of science, education and religion through army subsidization. The huge costs to the nation in expenditures and withdrawal of productive labor will make unstable our whole economy.

With this, military experts say that U.M.T. will not guarantee peace or security, but might very well precipitate war. Can we afford to take such a gamble with Democracy and Freedom? Passage of this bill can be prevented. We can help. Let's declare this week "Write Your Congressman Week" Let's stop U.M.T.

V.S., D.C., B.B.

Home Ec Omelet

There's more to a Home Economics course than just learning how to cook. This was proved to a group of girls in the junior class on April 2, when they took a field trip to Philadelphia.

At 6:55, Friday morning, members of the junior class, along with Miss Virginia Woerle and Anna Smith, clambered on a train and started on a journey to Philadelphia. Upon arrival in the "big city," the group went directly to the Dairy Council where they heard an interesting talk by Miss Pentham on the subject, "How the Dairy Council Teaches Nutrition." The next stop for the group was the Philadelphia Electric Company. Here the girls listened to lectures on ten different fields of Home Economics. Each speaker gave the advantages, disadvantages, and qualifications of her particular field. Some of the opportunities mentioned for students of Home Ec. were as follows: advertising, television, work in a department store, positions in utility and food companies, positions in textiles and industry and magazine work of various kinds.

The Curtis Publishing Company was the next stop on the group's schedule. Here Sara Harvey, editor of the Country Gentleman, escorted them to a showing of a film entitled, "Magazine Magic." The film depicted the story of the magazines published at the Curtis Company, beginning with the story of how paper is made and ending with the actual printing of the magazine.

The excitement of the trip did not prohibit the enjoyment of an excellent meal at Kuglers restaurant, which was a fitting closure to a worthwhile day.

Dear Editor:

The all-important election for 1948-49 has just been tabulated. The results of the first counting were close; in fact, so close, that it was decided a second count should be taken. I helped to complete this second tabulation, and can truthfully say that the results were the same. Naturally with this last count, the results stand as official.

I have worked on various election committees while at Albright, so I feel that I can speak with some degree of accuracy. It seems that there are two main faults with our student elections. They are these: first, more people should vote, and second—all the students should take these elections more seriously.

Here are some specific examples of what I mean. Over 700 students were eligible to cast ballots—428 actually voted. You might say that this is a good percentage compared to our national elections, but let us not forget that college students are supposed to be more civic-conscious than any other group. The second point overshadows the first. Of the 428 votes cast, only 271 definitely stated a choice for President of Student Council. We all know the merits, responsibilities, and significance of this office, yet why did so few students vote?

The pathetic thing about the whole story is that this election has a much better record than all previous ones, so you can imagine how sad the past results must have looked.

Enough of this critical analysis. I realize the issue is past, but I would like to see some meaningful solutions to help overcome these shortcomings. I have one to offer, with the hope that it will receive some consideration.

Student Council has a Chapel Committee which tries to provide constructive programs for the students. Why can't they designate one program each year for the sole purpose of introducing the candidates of the most important offices to the student body? The Presidents of the Y.W.C.A., the Y.M.C.A., and Student Council certainly should be included. Maybe The Albrightian could run a feature on the campaign with photos of the candidates, if at all possible. At least the Student Council candidates should appear before the entire campus, because (Continued on Page 4)

Hits--- And Misses!

CHALK ONE UP:

for the Celebrities who contributed a great deal of their time and effort to provide us with live music for our dances and last week's assembly program, often with little thanks. We really do appreciate you, fellas, even though we're not very articulate about it.

for the new officers elected on the all-campus ballot. We wish you the best of success for the coming year, and to the retiring officers, we send a big "Thank-you" for a job well done.

for the Spanish Club for getting behind Pan-American Day and giving us a bang-up celebration. We're sure the festivities place us just a notch higher in the public eye for calling its attention to the role of the Americas in world peace.

for the Domino Club for making "Antony and Cleopatra" available to Albright students. It's not often we have an opportunity to see such a worthy production (except when the Domino Club gives one of its own).

for the Elections Committee of Student Council. Their careful planning and smooth execution made the elections this week a real success.

STRIKE ONE OUT:

against the people who won't use the trash bins. Keeping the campus clean is everybody's job, not just the custodian's. The proper place for cigarette butts is not under the heel, but in tin trays provided for that purpose. How about it, folks? Let's get the New Look—a clean look—on campus!

against the idea of having the students buy the Parents' Week-end corsages. Surely the students have enough expense without this added burden. Besides, since Johnny's allowance comes from Papa, the parents would be paying for their own flowers in the end. Isn't there a better arrangement?

against the people who didn't vote in this week's elections. Lots of words have been spilled over the ballot as a privilege, so there's no use spilling any more. Honestly, though, with plenty of time to vote and with such a convenient place to do it, we can only cry "Shame!" at the renegades.

Charming Monodramatist Jeanne Welfy Presents Clever Character Portrayal of Nellie Bly

Albright students and faculty were thrilled by Miss Jeanne Welfy's distinctive monodrama, "The World and Nellie Bly," presented in last week's Cultural Series Program.

A master storyteller, Miss Welfy had the audience in her palm during the play's performance. Since she is the only monodramatist in existence, we cannot compare her with anyone else; however, the ingenious script, which she wrote herself, showed a thorough appreciation of the techniques of monodrama. Her enthusiastic portrayal of the eager Nellie Bly, who arrived in Pittsburgh to apply for her first reporting job, was excellently done, as well as the development to a mature Nellie Bly, who, in the end, found out what—and who—she wanted.

Miss Welfy herself is quite as interesting as the characters she portrays. Originally an actress on the legitimate stage, she found writing, producing, and acting in her own way enjoyable. Oddly enough, the idea for the Nellie Bly play came from her husband. Having studied under many dramatic teachers, Miss Welfy has plenty of information and advice for aspiring young actors, although she remarked that, in general, dramatic schools are not helpful.

In her return engagement, Miss Welfy gave to her audience another accomplished performance.

Summer Classes Planned For German Universities

The Universities of Munich, Marburg, and Heidelberg will welcome American students this summer for a series of lectures, workshops, seminars, and field trips from July 24 to August 13. Having as the general theme, "Man in Today's World," the school program will include such courses as political religion, and sociology.

The Universities of Munich, and Heidelberg will welcome American students this summer for a series of lectures, workshops, seminars, and field trips from July 24 to August 13. Having as the general theme, "Man in Today's World," the school program will include such courses as political science, education, comparative religion, and sociology.

Mirth and Madness

On Tuesday, April 7, Student Council presented another one of its varied and entertaining talent shows entitled "Mirth and Madness." Using a radio broadcast as the theme of the program, Don Haller and Jack Gounder rattled off Gounder's script with jokes both good and bad, old and new, which evoked smiles, chuckles, and a few hearty laughs from the "I-dare-you-to-amuse-me" audience. Perhaps it was the delivery or acoustics, or maybe our Albright Student body are denser than their oak, but many of the best jokes fell flat on the S.U.B. floor. Lamar Kopp, as the eager and earnest sponsor for "Comfy, Cozy, Coffins," managed to pick up some of the broken pieces and restore some mirth to the madness.

Vicki Rudomanski and Bevin Wade gave really solid renditions of "But Beautiful" and "Love for Love."

Hats off to the "Celebrities" for some smooth numbers. They really picked up their cues—and the sound effects and background music were tops.

The total cost at the university will be $50.00, and does not include any transportation. The entire program, which hopes to promote international understanding, is being sponsored by the American Military Government in cooperation with the German universities. For further information contact Dr. Gerrit Mering, head of the German Department.

LIONS BOW TO LEBANON, LA SALLE

THE DOLEFUL DODGERS

By Mart Rosen

"De Bums, dat Durocher, da Mahatma Rickey! What are dey doin' to us?" The Flatbush Fans are carrying loud and long, and maybe they have good reasons to let out with the tearful walls. Things just don't look the same in the Dodger camp; they're not even a reasonable facsimile of last year's club, which was in such dire need of radical changes that it won the pennant and did 50 per cent of the job making the '47 World Series one of the most exciting of all time.

The Dodgers have that new look of the baseball world, speed, youth, and lower-salaried players. But whether or not Durocher and Rickey have concocted a better ballclub than last year's husters is another story. Yes, they say it is wise to revise after winning a pennant, but only where it's needed. Tossing out Dixie Walker, who could always be counted on for a long hit in the clutch, was probably perpetrated to satisfy the Mahatma's longing for lower expenses. Walker was a Flatbush favorite, and the Brooklynites will miss him.

The other "brilliant" deal, in the eyes of Greenpern's rooters, was the one sending Eddie Stanky to, of all places, Boston. This adds up to offering your arch rival a club with which he can hit you over the head more effectively. And what was the matter with Stanky in the first place? Stanky is a fighter, ready to open up on anybody's mistakes in order to win the game. Little Lippy just couldn't stand having another like himself on the team, so Stanky goes to Boston. Now Robinson will have to switch to second, and, as the old saying goes: who's on first? Ray Sanders hasn't really tested his bad shoulder, and Reiser is having a tough time chasing back and forth from the outfield. Not only who is on first, but also on third. Then another worry is whether the Lip will remember not to open up on the umpires. Maybe Laraine Day's influence will help to soothe him.

At any rate the reasons for a true Dodger fan to be a bit down in the dumps is obvious. No doubt they'll have a good club, but it's pennants they're after in Brooklyn. And right now it appears that they'll finish a slow third behind the Cards and Boston, with possibly Boston in front—Boston with Stanky. Go ahead and cry, you Flatbushers.

SIDE LIONS

Beginning with this issue, Side Lions will include several brief sketches of the men on the varsity sports teams from time to time, revealing facts both interesting and informational. For this time: Bob Ruoff—A 6' 2" graduate of Reading High School; eighteen year old freshman member of the tennis team; three years of basketball and two of tennis in high school; a social science major; expects to teach history.

Jimmy Delp—Twenty-two year old junior, 5' 9" tall; one year's experience in baseball, two in track at Reading High; a math major and future teacher; centerfielder and third baseman.

Gerry Lakow—A 6' 1/2", twenty-one year old alumnus of Midwood High, Brooklyn; freshman major in business ad.; two years of baseball in high school; a prospective businessman.

Charley Golden—Freshman track man; three years of high hurdling and high jumping at Central Catholic High; 6' 1", nineteen years old; another future Ford dealer.

Jesse Ervin—Tricky shortstop and basketball forward; R.H.S. graduate and football, basketball, and baseball star; twenty-one year old bus. ad. major; 5' 8".

Matten's Golfers Run Roughshod Over LaSalle

On Wednesday, April 7, the Lion golfers travelled to LaSalle College for their opening match, the first of eight for the 1948 season. When the dust and darkness of the pill pouncing contest fell, the Albright lads were out in front 9 to 0. Coach Paul Matten's team literally burned up the beautiful Melrose Country Club course.

Although the boys teed off late, Art Dunlop started the boys off fast with a birdie on the first four holes. Due to the late start, however, the last foursome was forced to use matches in order to identify their balls on the last two holes. Red Stevenson and George Lakow made the trip with the team but did not see play.

Tennis Debut Delayed; Take On Mules, Diplomats

Back from the solid South, Albright's natty netmen were denied the opportunity of starting their winning ways at home last Saturday as two postponements and a pouring rain saved the crews of Lebanon Valley, Moravian, and Gettysburg from the accumulating fury of the Red and White courtmen. The Valley racketeers, fearing the Lions' brilliant early record of zero wins and six losses, asked for a reprieve because of the lack of practice, while the Greyhounds' match for Monday was washed out. G-burg also made a last-minute cancellation.

Tomorrow the Lions face the toughest Pennsylvania team on the schedule when they trek to Muhlenberg College. Leading the Mules on the court will be Vinnie Rurac, Rumanian champion and holder of the Pennsylvania State Clay Court title, and George Hill. Last year the Allentown outfit took the Red and White in camp by a 7-2 count, and with the addition of the sleek European, the 1948 Mules appear as a tougher nut to crack. It will be Muhlenberg's fourth court appearance of this year.

Next Wednesday our netmen will also meet strong opposition, Franklin and Marshall. Bob Zink, sophomore basketball star, and transfer from Elizabethton, heads the list of F & M netters. He holds a number of State Boy and Junior net titles.

Ursinus, May 5

Through the eagle eye of one of our appreciated readers, who was in the know, an error was called to our attention in the baseball schedule published on this page last week. A game with Ursinus, away, has been carded for May 5. This addition rounds out the fifteen game schedule. Thank you Mr. Friedman.

fielders; Jay Sherlock, Johnny Hofert, and Wilser Serfass, outfielders.

Of the eighteen regulars eleven are representatives of the freshman class. With these first year men uniting with returning sophomores and juniors, prospects for a good team to wade through the fifteen games scheduled are high.

Edged By Dutchmen, 3-2; Explorers Take Opener, 5-1

By Ray Schlegel

The Albright Lions dropped their first home baseball game to the Dutchmen from Lebanon Valley, 3-2, last Saturday afternoon. Elwood Oxenreider hurled the full game for the locals, while Chuck Miller and Johnny Fore handled the pitching for the Krauts.

In the first half of the opening inning, the Dutchmen registered a run on a walk, a force play, Marquett's single, and a double by Hank DiJohnson. Oxenreider prevented any further scoring by fanning the Lebanon Valley first baseman, Bill Bucher.

Not to be outdone, Russ Millard, leftfielder for the locals, dented the plate on a grounder by Billy Krohto after a sacrifice by Steve Beyer and a walk to Jess Ervin by Miller.

The count remained even until the seventh when the Krauts went on a scoring spree for two runs. An error by Stapleton put Johnny Hess on second with two already out. But three singles by Marquette, DiJohnson, and Hess enabled Hess and Marquette to add up the winning tallies.

Again the Lions retaliated, but only managed to eke one run out from the Dutchmen. With two gone, Cookie Wagner, Lion's pinch hitter tagged first on an error. Soon after Delp, who had replaced Wagner on the sacks, scored on a long bingle by Russ Millard that was good for a base.

In their inaugural at Philadelphia, the Lions lost to LaSalle College, 5-1. Oxenreider, George Baumgaertel, and Paul Muller pitched for Albright and struck out 14 batters, giving only five hits.

One run in the fourth stanza, and two each for the fifth and seventh frames, sewed up the game for the Explorers.

The Lions' only run came in the third inning when Russ Millard reached first on a LaSalle error. After having pilfered second base, he came across the plate on a swat into center by Steve Beyerle, one of three tallied by the Red and White team.

Smithmen Invade Muhlenberg Sat.; Dips Next Wed.

Continuing to battle on foreign fields, Albright's baseball team will invade the Muhlenberg and Franklin and Marshall diamonds tomorrow and next Wednesday afternoons. The Lions can't hope to find any easy time in either of the contests. To their advantage, the Mules will have played five games when they meet the Red and White aggregation; and Coach Glenn Horst's Dips hold the Middle Atlantic Conference adadem for last season.

The list of returning players on the F & M team is formidable. It includes sound victories in a row, Jack Hollinger, Dick Wetzel at pitcher, and Jim Sweeney, veteran outfielder and captain. Rotund mentor, LeVan Smith can counter with Wagner on first, Lillis at second, Ervin at short, Stapleton on third, Guss behind the plate, and Millard, Krohto, and Beyerle in the outfield. Slug Oxenreider probably will start for the Lions.

Prof Bowlers Renig Scoles High Man

A faithful group of eight of the Faculty Bowling League, are continuing to smash the pins every Tuesday at four o'clock. In their meeting of last week, a new record was put on the books. Dr. Scoles rolled an all time high for triples—189, 221, and 191—a 200 average. Prof. Widowson extended his rampage on the alleys, keeping his average hovering around 160 for the last two weeks. Nursing a foot injury for several weeks, Dr. Momming was able to bowl only one game.

We are calling on Prof. Gates and Rev. Barth to repent and continue their contest from where they left off, as well as Dean Smith, Dean Walton, and Dr. Hamilton.

The summaries for last week:

Berks Schools To Compete Here Sat.

The Lion Stadium will again be the scene of the 26th annual Albright College Invitational Berks County inter-scholastic Track and Field Meet tomorrow afternoon. Participating in the twelve events will be sixteen county school represented by 284 entries. Shillington High, past winners in 1947 and 1946, again hopes to outstrip the field, however the other fifteen institutions, lead by Wyomissing and Muhlenberg, will have a lot to say about the "Evergreen." It is invited to come out and enjoy the competition among Berks' future collegiate and Olympic stars.

Politics Students Find Model Confab Valuable in Study of Government

Fourteen Albright politics students attended the Model Political Convention held last weekend in Philadelphia and participated in the discussion on government and governmental procedure.

At the opening session of the convention Pennsylvania Senator Francis Meyers discussed many of the problems which the delegates would have before them at these sessions. The students succeeded in adopting a political platform and casting a straw vote for prospective presidential candidates.

Although parliamentary procedure proved to be a hindrance at some of the sessions, the delegates feel that they received a clearer understanding of the problems which Congressmen and other elected officials face. The Intercollegiate Conference on Government proved very valuable to those attending, and it is the hope of our delegates that Albright will take a more active part in this organization in the future.

Sophs Plan Visit To Plaza Theatre Tomorrow Night

The Sophomore Class will hold a theater party on Saturday, April 17 at 8:15 p. m. in the Plaza Theatre. "Blithe Spirit" by Noel Coward will be presented by the Community Players, a sample of whose talents was demonstrated several weeks ago in a scene from "Dear Ruth" in the chapel program.

Arrangements have been made for obtaining special student rates of 75 cents per person for the evening performance. Tickets must be obtained from the box-office one time before curtain time, 8:15 p.m. For further information see Stan Taub or any of the class officers.

Chaperones for the evening will be the Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Barth and Professor and Mrs. John Khouri.

Choristers List Sunday Concerts

The Women's Glee Club will present a sacred concert at Calvary Evangelical Church, Mohnton, this Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m. The program will be under the direction of Marjorie Christ, student director.

In the evening at 7:30 p. m. the Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Donald Liddicoat, will present a concert of sacred music at Park Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Committee Named For Coming Play

At the last meeting of the Domino Club, the following committees were chosen to work for the coming play, "In Time To Come": tickets and programs, Phyllis Guldin, Margery Lyman; props, Margaret Ann Smith, Betty Ann Cohn; sound, Kathleen Guenther; publicity, Donald Repsher and Alma Natanblut.

World Federalist

Mr. Eric W. Johnson

Eric Johnson to Talk On World Government At Tues. 'Y' Meeting

Eric W. Johnson, a representative of the United World Federalists, will speak at the weekly "Y" meeting on Tuesday, April 20, at 7:30 p. m. in the Lower Social Room. Mr. Johnson's topic will be "The Necessity For a World Government," and a general discussion will follow his address.

The U.W.F. is striving to bring about a world government with limited powers adequate to prevent war and bring about peace, which is not merely the absence of war but the presence of justice, of law, and of order.

Mr. Johnson received his masters degree at Harvard in 1941 and during the war has worked with the American Friends Service Committee in Portugal, North Africa, Egypt, and India. He now is teaching in the Germantown Friends School.

Letters to the Editor

This is my suggestion—I don't know how most of you feel about student elections. Write to The Albrightian or see your Council representative if you think some type of program is in order. I cherish my right to vote, as I like to know who the best man is to vote for. Let's get these ideas rolling in the right direction by buzzing a word or ether where it will do the most good!

W.W.W.

Glee Clubs Sing

Marjorie Christ and Donald Liddicoat were student directors in charge of the program. Don Tonkin served as accompanist.

Lion Tennisers Card Schedule

Albright's tennis team were all ready for a start into their regular season schedule last Saturday, but old Lady Luck had different ideas. The first match carded with the Lebanon Valley outfit never came to pass. Expected to accompany their baseball companions to the Albright campus, the Flying Dutchmen decided at the last minute not to come along for some reason or other. Then on the following Monday afternoon Bi g Chief Rain Much put in his veto of a match with the Moravian Greyhounds. The Lions next anticipated an away contest with the Bullets from Gettysburg, but the match came to late for coverage in this issue.

- However, here is a final summary of the results of the tennisers' Easter trip in Dixie:
- March 26—Albright 1—U. of Richmond 8.
- March 27—Albright 0—Byrd Park of Richmond 9.
- March 28—Albright 0—William and Mary 9.
- March 30—Albright vs Davidson—Cancelled.
- March 31—Albright 0—Hamden Sidney 9.
- April 1—Albright 3—Lynchburg 5.
- April 2—Albright 1—Va. Mil. Inst. 8.

Vi Seibert Re-elected To Head Philosophers; Dinner Listed May 10

Violette Seibert was reelected president of the Philosophy Club at a recent meeting of the group held at the home of Charles Kachel. Also elected were Eldon Snyder as secretary and William Marlow as treasurer.

Four new members of the club were also welcomed at this meeting. These neophyte philosophers are Ralph Stout, John Fausnaught, Thomas Young and Lamarr Kopp.

Plans for the annual Philosophy Club banquet on May 10, were discussed. At the banquet Dr. Morris Greth, former professor of philosophy and sociology at Albright and now a member of the faculty of Muhlenberg College will be the guest speaker.

The topic for the evening's discussion was Time and Eternity, the discussion being based on a paper read by Dale Weber. In his paper Weber proposed the existence of an amoral Deity, the creator of the universe containing infinite possibilities, that realized these possibilities in the form of polarities. In this system the value Father God of Christianity and the evil-bringer, the Devil of traditional thoughts, are introduced as opposite poles, at the time man comes into existence in the universe possessing mind and free will.

Senior Outing Planned April 23

Egelman's Park will be the scene of a doggie roast for senior class members and their guests on Friday night, April 23. Refreshments will be provided free of charge for all seniors having paid their class dues.

At a recent meeting of the class it was decided that small corsages composed of a white carnation and red and blue ribbon will be available for mothers of senior class members on Parents' Weekend. All members interested in ordering these should see Esther Savidge.

Suggestions for a class gift will be presented to the class by the gift committee at the next class meeting. Final voting upon this matter will also occur at that time.

Class members are urged to pay their dues to Joseph Coleman if they have not yet done so. This matter is imperative and must be tended to before graduation. Seniors who have ordered commencement announcements may pay for them at the Treasurer's Office.

Pan American Program Attracts Visitors; Harris and Manzollilo Star in Fiesta Show

La Sociedad Cultural Espanola reproduced a Pan American atmosphere with a calypso tang before a mixed gathering including Mike Marie Henne, Reading's Bicentennial Queen, in the Student Union Ballroom on Wednesday evening, April 14, at 8:00 P. M.

Mary Fry, president of the organization, in the introductory address stressed the importance of friendly Pan American relations and the unrecognized scope of Latin American arts and crafts. Miss Fry then introduced Miss Henne, the Bicentennial Queen, who expressed her pleasure in receiving the invitation and being able to represent Reading at the college Pan-American program.

Scene 1 of the play took place in the plaza of a small Mexican village beginning early in the morning when the villagers came to inspect the wares of the vendors. As they congregated in the plaza they sang several lively chorals selections all of which were in Spanish. The plot revolves around one Nicolas, played by Humbert Manzollilo, who was in love with Isabel, Ethel Harris, whose father, Manuel, Dick Miller, had promised her to a wealthy general.

The second scene took place at the home of Isabel where she expressed her love for Nicolas, and told her that her father had finally consented to their marriage.

Part three centered around the plaza late the same night. After the group congregated to dance Isabel and Nicolas announced their engagement. The group singing and the solos throughout the program spread an air of joy.

Miss Fry made the concluding remarks and asked everyone to examine the exhibits and try the Spanish food. On the rear of the program were idioms which were to be used in ordering any of the various foods. The Student Union Building was appropriately decorated with Pan American flags.

COUNCIL SAYS

Meeting of April 8

John Woyanowski Presiding Reporting for the chapel committee, Ray Fidler indicated that the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs would present concerts in chapel April 13 and 15. Fidler also brought to Council's attention the need for deciding between April 22 or a tentative date of either May 11 or 13 for the Mantel ceremony for inducting newly-elected officers. Council members voted a preference for one of the two later dates.

George Koehler, of the grading-professors committee, pointed out that the mimeographing of the grading forms ran over the ten dollars which had been allotted. Dr. Harry V. Masters had suggested, according to Koehler, that a returned nine dollar deficit from the Ivy Ball be used to cover this new financial need. Council voted an acceptance of the suggestion.

The matter of Councils paying for medals for intra-mural sports was discussed by Dave Voigt, former chairman of the student activities committee. It was pointed out that Council had previously formed a policy not to underwrite the cost of any medals.

Joyce Thompson of the constitutional committee submitted two constitutional amendments. The one provided in effect for a special election for a new president of Student Council in the event that this office be vacated prior to the beginning of the second semester. It was designed to eliminate the confusion present at the last election for Davencott president. The other amendment added a corresponding secretary to the administrative staff of the student governing body. Both amendments were ratified by the required two-thirds majority, and will be submitted to the faculty for approval.

President Woyanowski submitted to Council the request of Mary Fry, Editor of the Albrightian, that the school paper be permitted to scoop the all-campus election of April 12, 13, and 14. Walter Carson, chairman of student activities committee, asked Council's approval of Miss Thompson's approval of that committee until after the all-campus election. Council members approved both requests. The President also appointed and Council approved Dorothy Rath, Heber Yeagley, and Jeanne Flickinger as a committee to take up with the Public Relations Office the matter of supplying flowers in the Dining Hall.

Absent from the meeting were Ralph Cocking, Kappas; Professors John Khouri and Benamin Handorf of the faculty.

Handcraft Displays Helped to Create the Pan American Atmosphere

Among the guests attending were the Spanish students from Reading and Berks County high schools, members of the civic clubs of Reading, and the faculty of Albright. Reading High School students were very well represented at the program.

Other members of the cast were: Jay Kyle, John McKenna, Sara Rishel, Marion Miller, Laura Haggund, Marilyn Himmelstein, Sarah Davenport, Betty Savage, Kathleen Guenther, Joyce Thompson and Ruth Kachel.

Committees in charge of the program were: co-chairmen, Miss Thompson and Bernice Stockler; arts and crafts, Doris Downes; programs, Marilyn Himmelstein and Sarah Davenport; publicity, Miss Fry; scenery and decorations, Samuel Santaspritz and Dorothy Holl; music, Janet Tonkin; cover design, Eleanor Spring; Emcees, Consuelo Rodriguez and Mary Jane Ward were faculty advisors in charge. Betty Ann Cohn and John Wise served as ushers.

Also in celebration of Pan American Day, the Spanish students have a display of handcraft in St. Lawrence Luncheonette window, participated in the College radio program this week, and have displayed posters in both Pomeroy's and Whittner's windows.
