

Washington Judge to Talk at Meeting

Council Probes Student Activities

Snyder to be Weekend Chairman

Suggestions made by a special committee concerning extending extracurricular activities to reach all students were extensively discussed at the Student Council meeting last Thursday. Student Council undertook the project because of the widespread feeling that extracurricular activities at Albright have not been effective. Catherine Frantz heads the committee which is delving into the problem, assisted by Prof. Anna H. Smith.

Opinions by several Council members indicated that Albright may have too many activities for its size and in view of the fact that it is predominantly made up of daystudents. The committee was instructed by Council to investigate the possibility of consolidating many of the activities and organizations in order to cut down the number of groups meeting.

Among the other suggestions offered by the committee was that many organizations might meet in the afternoon after the last class in order that more daystudents might participate.

Student Council elected Agnes Snyder to be chairman of Parents' Weekend, a Council project sponsored in May. Miss Snyder will name her committee members and they will be approved at the next meeting.

The group also discussed the lack of interest in balloting on campus, as most recently demonstrated by the vote on the "Cue" amendment. One hundred and fourteen out of a possible 600 votes were cast. Methods were discussed to make the elections more widespread.

Minnie Silberman, chairman of Stunt Night, reported that organizations have been invited to participate. (Continued on Page 3)

Harding to Talk To Philosophy Club

Professor Clyde A. Harding will be guest speaker at an open meeting of the Philosophy Club next Monday, said Mervin Helfrich, president.

Professor Harding will discuss the subject "Man in Nature" from his point of view as a professor of English. A discussion by the group will follow the reading of the paper.

Eileen O'Neil will present a paper on "Man in Society" at the March meeting of the Philosophy Club.

Young, Johnson to Lead Noon Prayer Services

Mid-day prayer services from 1:10 to 1:30 p. m. were resumed in Selwyn Chapel yesterday, following mid-year vacation. Speakers for the Monday through Friday services will be Tom Young, Shirley Johnson, Lamar Kopp, John Spindler. Shirley Douty will be in charge of the service Monday, February 17.

Marion Swartz and Jerry Hertzog announced that the Go-To-Church group, with the purposes of acquainting freshmen with local religious activities, will be discontinued for the remainder of the school year.

The Honorable Fay Bentley, Judge of the Juvenile Court of the District of Columbia.

National Brotherhood Featured in Chapel Programs Next Week

Roger Barnes of the Reading YMCA will be chapel speaker tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday. His topic will be "The Purpose and Program of the Y".

Next Monday, February 17 marks the beginning of National Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. In accordance with the purpose of this week, which is set aside to emphasize tolerance and understanding among peoples of every race, creed, and color, the chapel programs on Monday will have as its speaker Rev. Mark K. Stierwald, who is to talk on the meaning of brotherhood. The speaker for the Tuesday and Wednesday periods will be Rabbi Meir Lasker. He will present the question "Can We Believe in God in These Times?"

Rabbi Lasker is head of the Congregational Temple Judea in Philadelphia. He has done extensive work during his career in the organization of progressive Jewry.

This morning Dean Levan Smith led a panel discussion at the regular chapel period on freshman orientation. The discussion included several of the topics which were presented in The Albrightian in its weekly devoted to frosh guidance.

Masters Talks In Radio Tribute To Reading

President Harry V. Masters participated in a broadcast over WCAU, Philadelphia, called "Looking Ahead With Reading," last Sunday.

President Masters, Mayor J. Henry Stump, and Joseph Ahey, president of the Chamber of Commerce, gave short, transcribed talks in the series of 15-minute tributes to cities surrounding the Philadelphia area.

Frosh-Sophs Complete Plans for Ball, Valentine Atmosphere Pervades

With final plans completed, the entire student body is gearing itself for the semi-formal Frosh-Soph Ball to be held February 14 at the Reading Country Club. To procure the true valentine atmosphere, hearts, arrows, and cupid's will be found. Dancing will continue from nine to twelve to the melodies of Ken Keeley's orchestra. Tickets are on sale for $2.40 per couple. They may be obtained from Frank Bird, Doris Chanin, Larry Delewski, Richard Hagmayer, Elaine Huber, Joseph Kubisen, Jack Snook, and Robert Snyder.

Chaperones are Dr. and Mrs. Gerit Memming, Dean and Mrs. Levan Smith, Coach and Mrs. Neal Harris, and Prof. Consuelo Rodriguez.

Although the dance is sponsored by the freshman and sophomore classes, it is open to everyone on campus.

Lynne Parr Will Pilot Mardi Gras Activities

Lynne Parr will be chairman in charge of Mardi Gras activities during Parents' Weekend May 10, it was announced by Women's Senate last week. Fraternity, sorority, day, and dorm groups will take part in the Mardi Gras, said Miss Parr.

The committee will be made up equally of men and women students.

Kappa Tau Chi Invites Pre-Mins to Meeting

A meeting of the Kappa Tau Chi fraternity will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 in the seminary building. All non-member pre-mins are cordially invited to attend this meeting, announced Robert Ziegler, president.

Fay Bentley To Speak March 10 At Senate Government Conference

The Honorable Fay Bentley, Judge of the District of Columbia, will be the featured speaker at the Women's Student Senate government conference March 10, to be attended by several leading Pennsylvania colleges, revealed Joy Cutler, president.

Delegates from the following colleges will discuss the main aspects and problems of women's government: Ursinus, Cedar Crest, University of Pennsylvania, Moravian College for Women, Lebanon Valley, Drexel, Gettysburg, Bucknell, and University of Pittsburgh.

All May Attend

All Albright women will be excused from classes to attend the forums at 10:40 a. m. and at 2:40 p. m., when Judge Bentley will speak. The remaining forums will be attended by members of Albright's Senate and delegates from the participating colleges.

The conferences will follow this general schedule:

9:30 a.m.—Welcome to the conference—Miss Cutler

9:40 a.m.—Various types of Women's Student Organization—One representative from each college

10:40 a.m.—The Theory of Student Government—Round table conducted by Miss Cutler

a. The reason for student government—Cedar Crest

b. Relationship of student government to college administration—Bucknell

c. The responsibilities of each member of the student body—Eileen O'Neil

d. The scope of authority and responsibilities—U. of P.

11:40 a.m.—Educational program—Moravian and Helen Sieber Social program—Swarthmore and Virginia Woerle

1:40 p.m.—Dormitory management—Drexel and Joan House

Non-Resident women's management—University of Pittsburgh and Agnes Snyder

2:40 p.m.—Judge Fay Bentley—The Relationship Between the Experience of College Citizenship and the Responsibilities of the National and World Citizen

Drama Club to Enact Wilder's "Our Town" March 20 and 21

The Broadway hit "Our Town", by Thornton Wilder, will be the spring presentation of the Domino Club March 20-21 in the College Chapel, revealed Prof. Annadora Vesper, faculty advisor, and Jeanne Schlegel, president. Tryouts for the drama, which has an exceptionally large cast, were held last week.

Members of the club will present the farce "If Men Played Cards as Women Do" at the March meeting, which will be open to the whole campus.

At last week's meeting, John Resile talked to the club about the theater in England, where he was stationed during his army career. Among the acting celebrities he met was Noel Coward, shortly after Coward made his classical remarks about Brooklyn.

Domino members were told that there is a position open for coaching a theater interest group of Girl Reserves at Reading High School.

Re: "Cue"

Attention: all those who ordered organization pictures from the "Cue":

The pictures you ordered have been in the Office of Student Publications for almost two months. They have been ordered for your convenience at a cost to the "Cue". Please see Stan Borgstrom and get your pictures as soon as possible.

'48 Class to Nominate "Cue" Heads; Prom Committees to Meet

The class of '48 reports that it will nominate an editor and business manager for next year's Cue at the regular March meeting. The Junior and Senior Social committees will hold a combined meeting in the near future to make plans for the Junior-Senior prom.

Friday, February 7, marked the date of the Junior Class Night which gave its members a chance to indulge in ice skating and sledding outdoors and ping pong and several other games indoors. Hot chocolate, marshmallows, and buns lured the class into the Lower Social Room at 9:30.

All class members are to remember that dues are payable to Heber Yeagley, treasurer.

Richard Posey Calls Air Guard Volunteers

Richard Posey, an Albright junior, is commanding officer of a Reading squadron, the 148th Fighter Squadron, an air unit of the Pennsylvania National Guard, which is now forming at the Reading Municipal Airport. The squadron is interested in enlisting any physically fit male between the ages of 18 and 35, particularly veterans.

The men can enlist at their highest wartime rank, and the unit is open to veterans from all the services, not exclusively the air force.

The squadron meets once a week for a two-hour training period. Each man is paid one day's base pay for the time. Pay ranges from $2.50 per two hours for private to $5.50 per two hours for master sergeant.

The primary aim of the Air National Guard in organizing is to provide a strong reserve force to back up the Air Force in any national emergency.

Any Albright student interested may contact Posey or go to the Municipal Airport for detailed information. The Airport office is open daily, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., and Thursday evenings, 7 to 9.

Senate Doings

March 10 will mark an important date in the progress of the Women's Student Senate. Initiated a short two years ago, the women's governing body has undertaken and completed several successful projects, culminated by this extensive student government conference of several Pennsylvania colleges.

By its efforts, the Senate has finally attracted the interested attention of the city papers, and this year had an important hand in helping to launch the new Veterans' Wives Club.

We predict the Women's Student Senate will continue to grow in prestige and importance and in service to the College, until it will become a really integral part of college life.

A Time For Thinking

The President of the United States has decreed February 16 to 23 as National Brotherhood Week, as the week for all of us to affirm our belief in and practice of tolerance and understanding toward all races, religions, and colors.

The pattern and thoughts of Brotherhood Week will be brought to our attention in regular chapel periods, but brotherhood HAS to mean more to us than listening with polite attention to the words of a speaker. It has to evidence itself in all our daily relationships on campus.

Famous contemporaries have publicly avowed their belief in brotherhood. General Eisenhower says, "No man can tell me that America with its glorious mixture of creeds — its Jews, its Catholics, its Protestants — can lose the peace"; Bing Crosby, "From where I'm sitting, tolerance is just a big word for peace. War can't get going where there's a sympathetic understanding of nation for nation, man for man, and creed for creed."

Admiral Nimitz, "On ordered rows of crosses and Stars of David on the Pacific islands are names that are a cross-section of democracy: Culpepper, Tomaino, Sweeney, Bromberg, Dewey, Malloy, Ponzani. They fought together as comrades in arms; they died together and now they sleep side by side. Only with the same teamwork can we be sure that their sacrifices will make a better, safer world in which to live. United we stand and united we prevail."

The little man of America speaks, too, when he works for the right of every American to pray as he wishes, to obtain a decent standard of living, and to raise his family without the compulsion of fear.

To that aim, this issue of The Albrightian is dedicated.

Your John Hancock, Please

The Albrightian has received some unsigned letters to the editor in the last few weeks. We wish to state publicly (and for the third time this year) that we cannot publish unsigned letters. To do this would be to violate the paper's policy and to violate the responsibility invested in us by the College.

However, if the writer of a letter wants his name withheld, we will respect his wish. No one but the editor will see the signature.

BY ANNE ONYMOUS

The boys at the Zeta House want to warn the dorm girls that any more crooning outside their "Friendly Tavern" will mean the same treatment as was meted out to the group last week—buckets of ice water on their heads.

Eddie Anlian lost his pride and joy, his incipient mustache, when he made a bet on his English mark.

Winnie Johnson has been noticed circulating around campus after class hours—could it be in hopes of seeing that handsome man who lives up to the tradition of being an SS man—Sam Santaspritz?

On the 25th of January Pop Moser had a birthday and received among his many presents a new haircut. Next day the thermometer fell and presented him with a new cold. The boys helped him celebrate and the next day nature gave them their reward—headaches.

Another Plowfield bites the dust—congratulations to Guy Wildermuth, who has roped, tied, and permanently branded June Plowfield. When interviewed, Mrs. Wildermuth could only exclaim, "Some Guy!"

Vilma Griesemer was feted (as they say in society pages) at the home of Helen Ross last week. Vilma has transferred to Penn State. Mr. Ross read the girls' horoscopes and they returned to school ready to vote him the most popular man of the year.

Emmett Glass and Jim Maracani are bumping hearts over a down town chick named Jane who used to belong to Benny Markowitz.

Marie DellePalme wants Joe VanHouten to know that even though the fools around with those three little boys at 1500 Hampden Blvd., her heart still belongs to Joie.

Jean Schwartz and Minnie Silberman claim they saw sunlight from a "Snow Ball". Poor kids are snow blind.

What have Stokesy and Schlegel been up to lately? They went to the movies last week and Mary, all dressed up like a little tot, got in for half price. Later they went to the Crystal, where, needless to say they received many a curious glance.

Balloons Float At Snowball

A record crowd of fifty couples glided into the Mirror Room of the Berkshire Hotel Friday night, January 31, to dance to the smooth music of the Sylvan and try to alleviate those "week-end blues." For some it was a "farewell dance"—those who received degrees, those who received Valentines, and those who transferred to other schools.

"Joe College" was represented as a really dandy Lion by the cartoons decorating the ballroom, especially drawn for the occasion by the popular local cartoonist, Gensler. Multi-colored balloons, inflated by "Windy" Walk, completed the decorations. Soon after intermission, members of the committee lured their dates up into the balcony, where, finding nothing better to do, they released the balloons and sent them bouncing down on the dancers, in a colorful shower.

An unusual innovation for a formal was the playing of the Beer-Barrel Polka. Seemingly undaunted by their long skirts and stiff shirts, the dancers hopped around with great glee and had a wonderful time.

Everyone enjoyed the dance immensely, and much credit is due the committee and daystudents for making it a success.

A Vet's Voice

By Mort

Or Guessing What's Been Censored

Henry Pantleworth was a conscientious student at Eureka College. He was a well known genius to his mother and friends of the family. Henry was a student all the way from his starched collar and bowtie, to his large book bag in which he carried everything from the Encyclopedia Britannica to the last script of the Quiz Kids. Henry had even won his book bag in a contest of knowledge. He was the only fellow in his high school class to know Kilroy's first name, which was proof enough of his diversified mind.

Pantleworth was a brilliant student at Eureka. He always sat in the front seat in class and "yessed" profs at the correct time, which is a shrewd characteristic of a genius. Pantleworth, never passed an opportunity to know a prof under, or even to mow a lawn if necessary.

During examination week Henry Pantleworth surveyed the situation enthusiastically and retired to his room to prepare his crib notes. Examinations came and Henry Pantleworth was once again on the Dean's List. He was still a well known genius to his mother and friends.

Jim Dillhappy was also a happy student at Eureka, but Jim wasn't happy because of his high marks. Jim was happy that examinations were over. Dillhappy never doubted that the profs had fair tests, but at times he wished that they would use them. Before the war Jim Dillhappy had passing grades, but then came the war and the post war period. Eureka College no longer had to go out with fly paper and catch students to make up its enrollment, but as was the general practice among colleges, it began to raise its average. As the standards of Eureka College went up, Jim Dillhappy found a cluster of green bananas hovering close to his head. Finally, of course, Jim Dillhappy got the purple shaft and naturally was not considered to be a genius by his mother and friends.

Inquiring Reporter

In view of the interest stirred up recently about the choice of the ten best movies of 1946, your Inquiring Reporter decided to ask Albrightians what they considered the best of '46 and why.

Mary Beth Umberger—Bio.—'48—"Night and Day"—The music was of this world.

Lucy Smith—Lib. Arts.—'48—"Spellbound"—Gregory Peck—need I say more?

Ernie Kachline—Math.—'47—"Blue Skies"—It had everything!

Jeanne Deibert—Lib. Arts.—'50—"The Bells of Saint Mary's"—I love Ingrid Bergman's acting. The plot was good, too.

Art Halprin—Pre-Med.—'50—"Anna and the King of Siam"—First movie I saw in six months.

Fredaberyl Moyer—Home Ec.—'49—"Leave Her to Heaven"—Beautiful costuming and scenery, superb acting, and intriguing plot.

Jane Reynolds—Lib. Arts.—'50—"Caesar and Cleopatra"—Because no one else liked it.

Dick Landis—Pre-Med.—'50—"Rhapsody in Blue"—I like Gershwin's music.

Don Haller—Pre-Dent.—'50—"The Skull Talks"—It takes your breath away.

Barbara Lichtenberger—Home Ec.—'50—"Adventure"—It's the only picture I can remember that was any good.

Fred Rosen—Pre-Med.—'50—"Anna and the King of Siam"—No particular reason.

Our Dandy Lion for the week is one of Dandy's favorite seniors. He's William Beal, Jr., or maybe you won't know whom we're talking about unless we say "Bill", or better still, "Red." He hails from McConnellsville, Pa., out Pittsburgh way.

Bill is a pre-ministerial student and has participated actively in College Bible Class since his freshman year. Kappa Tau Chi, the pre-ministerial fraternity on campus, has claimed him as a member for these past three years.

But Bill is a versatile lad. His interests lie in many fields. He's done an exceptionally fine job as manager of the basketball team since his sophomore year and served with Student Council his junior year. As if this weren't enough, in just these two years with The Albrightian, he has become news editor for the publication, a job he had handled with his usual quiet efficiency. Bill's recent resignation from this post was quite a loss to the staff, who remember him not only for his dependable work but for his subtle humor, which often sent them into hysterics Thursday "work-nights".

A loyal member of Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity since his second year at Albright, Bill lives up in the seminary this year which means that we aren't seeing him these days as much as we'd like to. Then, too, Bill is working at the Veterans' Bureau—a position that keeps him rather busy.

We're going to miss the popular "Beal" when he graduates. (Who's going to keep score for the interfraternity softball games next year?) But we know that with his genial personality, wonderful sense of humor, thoroughly likeable manner and, yes, even the famous "blush", one of our favorite Albrightians of today will be just as popular as a minister of tomorrow.

Child Welfare Work

Judge Bentley has had a long and impressive career in child welfare work. She was a federal child labor inspector for the child labor tax division of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. After that she was a special agent for the U. S. Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor. From 1925 to 1934, Judge Bentley was the director of school attendance and work permits for the District of Columbia.

The President of the United States appointed her to the Juvenile Court of the District of Columbia in 1934, and she was reappointed in 1940 and in 1946.

Judge Bentley received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago and her LL.B. from George Washington University. The Alumni Association of Chicago cited her for public service in 1945, and in 1946 Illinois Wesleyan University awarded her the honorary degree of "Doctor of Humanity".

Special Assignments

Among the judge's special assignments have been those of member of the Attorney General's conference on prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency; chairman of a special committee to prepare a class-

Saint Valentine Lends Name But Not Tradition To Lovers' Feast

The story behind Valentine's day is a rather confusing one. The learned contributor to the Encyclopedia Britannica who was given the doubtful pleasure of expanding on the subject of Valentine's day closed an involved column-and-a-half with this vague sentence: "The association of the lover's festival with St. Valentine seems to arise from the fact that the feast of the saint falls in the early spring, and is purely accidental."

In another encyclopedia, I found this bit of unrelated information. February 14th is a day set aside by the Acta Sanctorum of the Christian church. Seven saints named Saint Valentine have their celebration on this day. It goes on to say that this has nothing to do with the fact that February 14th is a day of blushing girls and bashful boys going around with their hands behind their backs, sheepishly asking to be each other's Valentines. Rather, it comes from an old festive, which dated back to Chaucer's time. The custom was to place the names of young men and women in boxes and draw them out in pairs. Those who were drawn out together were to exchange gifts and they were to be each other's Valentine for the ensuing year. The custom has changed in that now, only the men give gifts, so states the encyclopedia. I would say that the custom has changed in more ways than one.

Consider, for instance, the "Valentines" sent out by the Dean's Office around this time each year — those far too unpleasant notices that you have failed a subject. Then there were the "Valentines" familiar to some of us that began "Greetings—"

But no matter what the historical origin behind this celebration, or its few unpleasant associations, we know it now as just another American experience. Red hearts in lace frames, candy boxes and pressed flowers, cards signed "Guess Who" and cinnamon candies all mean Valentine's day. Whether he had anything to do with it or not, let's, all thank St. Valentine for making February 14th more than just another day, shall we.

IRC Discusses U.N.; Gets Book Allotment

The International Relations Club held its monthly meeting February 6 at the home of Dr. Milton H. Hamilton, advisor to the club. The meeting was primarily devoted to the discussion of the United Nations Organization and its relations to the Philippines. Albright's IRC will represent the Philippines at the model UN Assembly to be held at Swarthmore College during Easter vacation.

In connection with the coming Swarthmore assembly, Jacob Sklover and Kenneth Good delivered reports on "trusteeship" and "atomic control", respectively.

The following books were received from the Carnegie Endowment for the encouragement of international peace:

"Where Are We Heading"—Sumner Welles

"Japan and Germany — Problems in Reeducation" — George F. Zook

"The Evolution of Modern Latin America"—R. A. Humphreys

"While Time Remains" — Leland Stowe

"Thunder Out of China"—Theodore White and Annalee Jacoby

Gwendolyn Hamilton, daughter of Dr. Hamilton, played several selections on the piano. After the serving of refreshments, the meeting adjourned.

LOOK RECORD REVIEW

TOPS IN WAX—Shared by two great trumpet men, Roy Eldridge waxes Hoagy Carmichael's opus: Rockin' Chair and Yard Dog; and Billy Butterfield records Jalousie and Steamroller.

Roy Eldridge in 'Chair and Jalousie.

On the former, Roy "Little Jazz" Eldridge gives his full range trumpet a complete work-out and in a mood of relaxation that must rate bows from Hoagy, the composer. Roy catches the precise feeling Hoagy originally intended, and, in addition, Roy lends careful support through the background music, in the use of his band (Decca). On Butterfield's Capitol label of Jalousie and Steamroller the great horn of Billy predominates throughout except for a spot given to Bill Stegmeyer for clarinet. Billy sings Steamroller, and production remains along the line of Cement Mixer—a good novelty.

Foster sings (RCA Victor). Victor also offers the Mary Lou Williams Trio in Humoresque, a relaxed and carefully arranged instrumental. On the reverse, the Trio does Waltz Boogie, one of her originals. Columbia has one of the last Doris Day vocal choruses with the Les Brown band in Sooner or Later and reverses it with a Jack Haskell vocal of Years And Years Ago, with Les Brown.

VOCAL STANDOUTS

Topping all the vocals in the nation is Jack McVea's novelty recording, Open The Door, Richard and backed by Lo n e s o m e Blues. Richard started as a gag tune that Jack and the boys do regularly on engagements;

Hoagy Carmichael then, they made a recording on Black & White label and it took the nation by storm. Another "Richard" is done on the Enterprise label by Dick Peterson—and in Swedish dialect. Jewel has one top side of Marion Morgan, ex-James vocalist, singing December and backed by Embraceable You. Ben Pollack and band support her with production music.

Top Juke rater, Old Buttermilk Sky has an especially good recording by the composer, Hoagy Carmichael on Decca. Among the high rating titles: Guilty, as done by Johnny Desmond on RCA Victor; You Can't See The Sun When You're Crying—Vaughn Monroe with the Moon Maidis, RCA Victor. For Sentimental Reasons, a Dinah Shore on Columbia. September Song as done by the perennial Bing Crosby (Decca). Huggin' And A Chalkin' on Capitol by Johnny Mercer with the Paul Weston band and She Didn't Say Yes, Peggy Lee with Dave Barbour and his orchestra — Capitol Criterion.

It's Good Sportsmanship to Practice Brotherhood

David Voigt

Despite the recent frigid weather around the den last week, most Lions viewed the spring training migration of the big league ball clubs with rabid enthusiasm. For the first time in nine years Albright is going to represent the national sport with a team of their own. Baseball Coach Levan Smith announced that the baseball team is definitely on the '47 ticket and that the proposed schedule will get underway the week after Easter. Coach Smith declined to mention any of the opposition until the Athletic Council ratifies his schedule. However Smith did state that the first week in March will find the battery candidates firing away indoors.

Lions Sport Good Ballhaws
Albright has a raft of good ball hawks floating around the classroom and glancing over good pinhole hands in the daymen's club. When battery candidates report in March, there will be Elwood Oxenreider, who performs in football and basketball, George Baumgaertel, Bernie Eaton, Warren Kaebnik, and Angelo Baro on the firing line. The latter candidate, Baro, has some minor league experience to his credit and should show plenty of stuff for Smith.

The old football combine, Czewski and Delewski, will be battling each other for the backstop position along with other interested candidates. The resulting receiver staff should doubtless give Coach Smith some peace of mind.

Around the infield it's a different story. Coach Smith will have plenty of talent to shift around, but to get a smooth working combine will be quite a problem. First base will get big Jim Fromuth and Cookie Wagner eyeing first string berths. At the keystone sack Smith will have to decide among fellows like Jesse Ervin, who pastimed with Clover Farms in the City League, Shorty Umbenhauer who saw plenty of high school action, and Gene Shollenberger. At the shortstop slot, and looking for the regular job, will be Joe Kubisen, who knocked around with the Hershey Red Caps—a snappy amateur outfit, and Forrest Saylor who performed all over Berks County. Bill Miller also saw action at the short position. The hot corner will prove to be another Smith problem. It's a matter of who to pick as Elmer Davis, Gerry Schaeffer, and Donald Snyder, to name a few, have held it down firmly in the past.

And finally on the picket line Coach Smith will have some top notch patrolmen to roam the pastures. Norm Telsey, Cookie Wagner, Mark Guss, Jim Delp who performed with Max Missbach's Bowers Battery outfit, Bob Hoffman and a host of others will be on hand to shag flies.

Lions Sport New Den

Coach Smith's proteges will be using the new Exeter and Bern diamond. The field will be the final test for Smith's sluggers. Left field has a 320 foot clearance which isn't too bad. Center field with its 400 odd feet will require a good blast for a four master. And right field, with a mere 750 ft. boundary will require the biggest poke of all. Coach Smith generously promises the player his suit who can clear the right field boundary. Your reporter goes one better by saying he ought to have a free chapel cut for his behemoth labor.

Lions Smother K-Town For New High, 91-38

The Golden Avalanche of Kutztown arrived safely home thanks to the aid of the DeMoss auto wrecking company and the timely arrival of a fleet of bull dozers from nearby Indiantown Gap. It seems that the Golden Avalanche had a Saturday night with Harris' rip-roaring Lions and in the ensuing festivities the Avalanche was "atomized".

As a matter of fact every Lion with the exception of Elmer Davis, who had a heavy date, found time to can at least one point. Guensch and Oxenreider were especially rambunctious as they hoggishly chalked up 18 and 15 points respectively. In fact, after the first half Coach Harris permitted the first team to step out to the nearest pub. (for cokes of course)

The Lion second team, anxious to be "like the big boys down the street", continued to act as a quarry for the Golden Avalanche and before the evening was over a new record had been established. Nowhere in the musty, Evangelical archives can such a record as 91 points a game be found! It is unfortunate for our noble country cousins that they had to be the victims of this ferocious athletic revolution. Latest word from the Kutztown cornfields has it that revenge will be taken next year. Perhaps if the Kutztown team is reinforced by a competent debating squad, times will be rougher for our victorious Lions.

Dribblers Face F & M, Lebanon Valley

Albright's fighting Lions will face another two game schedule this week as they meet F. & M.'s Diplomats this Thursday night, at Lancaster, and Lebanon Valley at Northwest this Saturday.

It will be the Lion's first and only tilt with the Diplomats this year. In the past F. & M. always proved to be tough nuts to crack in all sports. The Lions will be out to atone for a 12-0 football setback and their chances look plenty good. This year the Diplomats have a mediocre team, which has mostly been off. This past Saturday night Lebanon Valley pounded F. & M. 67-35. Since Albright has already beaten Lebanon Valley, 59-46 at Lebanon, the results of this Lancaster game should be favorable.

Lebanon Valley is currently the hot team in the Western League, beating Moravian and Juniata to take over second place in the league.

Lions Upset By Bullets 73-67; Anlian Dunks 29

The Gettysburg Bullets, undoubtedly playing their best game of the season, upset Albright's Roaring Lions 73-67. The 140 points scored by both teams was a new high in an Albright contest, the previous high being 138 scored between Rice and Albright in 1941.

Game Was Lost

The game was lost in the last two minutes after Albright had overcome a 13 point deficit to take a 64-63 lead. George Dracha, a Reading High product, missed a foul shot, but Akers, who had 27 points for the evening, tapped in the rebound to again give Gettysburg the lead. On the next play Guensch scored for Albright but the goal was not allowed when the referee ruled that Yocum had called time out. However, the clock was not stopped and the Lions lost a good thirty seconds. Just a few seconds later Eddie Anlian tapped one in but the goal was not counted because an intentional foul was called on Anlian and Gettysburg made both shots, clinching the contest. Gettysburg committed two fouls in the last four seconds, the last one again robbing Anlian of a field goal, coming just as the final gun went off. This foul shot was the last point of the game giving "Mine Shaft" a total of 29 points for the evening.

Poor Officiating

The officiating was poor during the entire game, but the 19 fouls called on Albright usually came when they hurt most. Both Ozzie Kriebel and Hops Guldin fouled out early in the fourth quarter which seriously hampered Albright's offensive power. It was a nice gesture after the game for Gettysburg's coach, Hen Bream, to apologize to Mr. Harris for the officiating. Mr. Bream voiced the opinion that the officiating on his home court has not been what it should have been this year and was afraid that Gettysburg might get a bad reputation.

Albright Chalks Up Win No. 2 Over Royals 67-42

Albright pounded another spike into their lead in the Western Division of the Middle Atlantic league as they crushed Scranton's Royals for the second time 67-42. Russ Guensch again led the scoring parade against the Tomcats with 18 big markers as he and teammate "Mineshaft" Anlian, who accounted for 14, sailed well over the 200 mark in points caught for the season. Scranton's Mike DeNoia aided the hopeless Royal cause with 15 tallies.

Only One 'A' as Profs Take Bowling Exam; Five Below 'C' Level

By Marge Lyman

Last week, while students remained enslaved with those exams, our profs again headed for the bowling alleys. This time, however, they had company. Your sports editor and yours truly went along to give the profs a few helpful hints on the art of bowling. It was decided that the professors should also feel the misery and heartache of exams, so they were forced to take a bowling exam. For the first time, here are the results of the professors' exams.

It is amazing how many excuses they have picked up from their students, "Oh, my sore finger — I'll never be able to bowl, today!" "I'm so out of practice, you must understand that I can do much better." And so it goes. I'd like to know what happened—the scores seem a little higher this week. Maybe someone got a copy of the exam. How about it, profs?

Dr. Scoles joined the mad throng for the first time in many a moon, but he is still top-man. He registered 186, but since he only bowled one game we will give him only A—. Just take a look at Khouri—his average came up 30 points. "Something is rotten in the state of history," Rev. Smethers, pastor of Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren Church, made his presence known when he rolled an average of 151.5. He only got a C— though. Herr Doktor Memming is still bragging about his stupendous scores. Well, he seems to be slipping. He has gone way down in comparison. More and more of our profs are getting ahead of him. He must need a new pin boy. Haas has a powerful bowling arm but he bows too fast. I'd be scared to be that pin boy. Another new face has graced the Tuesday afternoon bowling club—Behm. With more practice, he might be another Memming.

After watching one afternoon of bowling, it dawned on me that profs are human after all—and loads of fun.

	I	II	III	Ave.

Gates	106	133	D	119.5
Haas	111	123	104	D
Behm	91	119	D-	105

These are the results of the exams, but tune in this column next week when the "Dean's List" comes out.

The Albrightian will publish the semester bowling marks in next week's issue.

Hops Guldin, Russ Guensch and Ed Anlian wasted no time in getting Albright off to a 6-3 lead. Almost immediately Mike De Noia hit home for two deuces to give the pussycats their only lead of the evening. Ozzie Kriebel and the gold dust twins Guensch and Anlian added three more timely "ducks" to give the Lions a 12-9 quarter-time edge.

The Lions turned on their biggest barrage of the evening in the second installment as they twirled the twine for 21 big markers. It was Russ and Mineshaft all the way with Ozzie Kriebel and Oxenreider chipping in now and then. De Noia and Kolpopski spearheaded a 16 point Scranton effort to keep within a respectable 33-25 halting distance at the half.

Lions Nail It Down

Albright stretched the lead to 12 points in the third frame as Mark Guss, Johnny Yocum, Slig Oxenreider, and Elmer Davis joined Russ Guensch in the attack. For the hard pressed kitties McGreehon, Griglock and De Noia accounted for the Royals' eight points during the frame.

Scranton's point famine continued in the final frame as they slumped from 12 to five points. Guensch, Oxenreider, Davis, Kriebel and Anlian provided the necessary twirl for the pussycat's tail while Griglock and Bartkowski split the kitty's five. It was sweet revenge for the football drubbing our Lions absorbed at the hands of De Noia and Co.

Baby Lions Claw Kittens for Win No. 6

In what was no doubt the best Albright juyve game played thus far, the Red and White drubbed the scrappy Purple and White outfit of Scranton, 55-42. It was their sixth win in eight starts.

The Royal's smooth quintet battled the Lions to a 21-22 half time score. Shooting sprees by Brush of Albright and Lighton of Scranton highlighted the fast third and fourth quarters. Lighton, who was the game's high scorer with twenty-two points, hit the nets with five buckets in that last period. But Jimmy Brusch's 18 points were enough to balance Lighton's, and the Lions won easily.

J. Edgar Hoover tells this story of one of his G-men: In February the G-man received an unsigned valentine. He painstakingly processed the card for fingerprints. Then for the next few weeks he obtained, without their knowledge, the fingerprints of all the girls he suspected. He finally found the matching prints and the lady confessed.
