Council Acts On Class Dues

Student Council took action at its regular meeting last Tuesday to make the payment of class dues mandatory before a student may graduate. According to the resolution presented to Mr. Charles Gordon, college treasurer, the executive committee will be requested to enforce the payment of dues.

Class treasurers will continue to collect the dues under the new plan. However, if they are not paid in full by April 1 of the year in which the student hopes to graduate, the treasurer's office will be asked to intervene. At present the payment of class dues is not mandatory.

Kathleen M. Guenther reported to Council that the chapel committee was in charge of the Brotherhood Week program this past Tuesday and Thursday, and that it will sponsor the annual Lenten service on Tuesday, March 20.

The advisability of placing a question on the all-campus ballot concerning the adoption of "At the Foot of Old Mt. Penn" as a college song was discussed. No action was taken. The song was written last fall by John McKenna.

The treasurer reported a balance of $572.01.

Council president Raymond C. Schlegel noted that in order for the proposed new constitution to appear on the all-campus ballot every section of it must be passed by Council no later than March 27 and the entire document ratified no later than April 3. He warned that special meetings will be called if lack of a quorum hampers action at the regular meetings.

R. DeFarges Elected Interfraternity Prexy

The Interfraternity Council has elected new officers for second semester. They are as follows: Robert DeFarges, president; Robert Miller, vice-president; Dick Hilton, secretary; and Edward Fleming, treasurer. The new officers have already assumed their duties. Ralph Wagner is the retiring Council president.

Four Albright Students to Represent Campus I.R.C. at Annual Model UN

Russell F. Weigley, Victor Yarnell, Marie Kaputo and Gerald Englehart were named this week to represent the Albright International Relations Club at the meeting of the Model UN which will be held on March 29, 30 and 31 at Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pa. This year Albright will represent the Dominion of Canada in the discussions. Professor William R. Bishop, Jr., club sponsor, will accompany the delegates.

Each of the representatives has been assigned a specific committee. Assisted by members of the International Relations Club, the four delegates will review background material relevant to the topics to be discussed by their committee and will prepare briefs.

Weigley, a junior, has been assigned the Political and Security Committee. This committee will discuss the problem of the maintenance of peace and security in the Far East; the problem of maintaining peace in the Balkans—specifically the relations between Bulgaria and Albania; the repatriation of Greek nationals harbored or detained in Albania, Bulgaria, and Yugoslavia; the return of kidnapped children from Bulgaria, Albania, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Yugoslavia, and elsewhere; and the scope and duties of the Special UN Commission on the Balkans.

This committee will also discuss several items concerning membership in the United Nations. These are the principles of the universality of membership, the recommendations to the Security Council on the use of the veto in the decisions on membership, the qualifications for membership, and the applications of fourteen countries for membership.

Yarnell, a senior who was born in Canada, will represent that coun-

Each event will count ten points; the loser gets no points. The team with the most points will win. If a tie should result, a volley ball game shall be played to determine the winner of the trophy.

William Heck Chosen to Edit 'Albrightian'; H. Platzker Appointed Business Manager

William A. Heck

Howard Platzker

William A. Heck and Howard Platzker have been appointed as editor-in-chief and business manager, respectively, of The Albrightian for the college year 1951-52. Their names were submitted by the Faculty Committee on Student Publications to Student Council who gave the final approval in last Tuesday's session. Heck and Platzker were recommended to the Faculty Committee by Patricia Poore and Peter Bohren, this year's editor and business manager.

Heck, present managing editor, and Platzker, assistant to Bohren on the business staff, will officially take over the management of the newspaper with the first issue of the new staff on April 13.

A psychology major and social science minor from Reading, Heck has had three year's experience on The Albrightian. During his sophomore year he was news editor and last spring was appointed managing editor. While in high school he was editor-in-chief of The Red and Black, Reading High's weekly newspaper, and president of the Reading chapter of Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists.

Active in Campus Clubs

Heck is acting president of Philosophy Club and corresponding secretary of Student Council. He is also a member of Future Teachers of America, Kappa Tau Chi, French Club and the Daymen. Before this year he was a member of Radio Workshop, Der Deutsche Verein and the Y.M.C.A. cabinet. Upon graduation the newly-appointed editor hopes to go to graduate school.

Platzker is a business administration major from New York City. He has been a member of The Albrightian for three years, serving on both news and business staffs. A member of Domino Club, he has been technical director for several productions. He has also been given a bid to Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity. He is a member of the Reading Stamp Collectors Club. Platzker expects to enter the insurance business upon graduation.

Members of the Faculty Committee on Student Publications are Mrs. John Douds, faculty advisor for The Albrightian; Mr. Lester L. Stabler, Director of Public Relations; Prof. Lewis E. Smith, head of the political science department; and Eugene Shirk, Faculty Manager of Athletics.

On Friday, April 13 at 6:15 The Albrightian staff will hold their annual spring dinner at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room. This dinner is a traditional gathering for old and new members of the editorial and business staffs together with department reporters.

Trustees Change Graduation Date

Albright's commencement date has been changed from Monday, June 4 to Sunday, June 3 by action of the Board of Trustees on Thursday, February 15. Letters from the officers of the '50, '51 and '52 graduating classes plus other student action brought about this consideration. The officers of last year's graduating class entered their protest against holding commencement on Monday although they knew it could not be changed last year.

The graduation day for Albright seniors was changed from Monday to Sunday in 1944 for the convenience of those parents who were war workers during that period and would not be able to attend commencement on a Monday.

Through action of the Board of Trustees the commencement day was again changed back to Monday last year although they were never opposed to holding it on Sunday.

Chapel to Feature String Ensemble

The next cultural program featured for the Albright Chapel groups will take place Tuesday, March 6, 1951 and will feature the Walden String Quartet, Prof. Elbery B. Haskell, in charge of the series, announced. The Waldens have played many broadcasts over the NBC and Columbia networks, and are noted for presenting superb performances of the classic repertoire as well as contemporary music.

One of the members of the Walden quartet is John Garvey, who plays the viola and is the son of Esther Garvey of 833 Weiser Street of this city. His brother David Garvey gave a piano concert as part of Albright's cultural program last year.

The Waldens have performed the entire chamber music cycle of Brahms at the Cleveland Museum of Art, have given concerts at Columbia University's American Music Festival and at the Yaddo Festivals in Saratoga Springs. In their tours the Waldens have appeared at Town Hall in New York, in Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, St. Louis, California and many universities and colleges.

The Waldens were quartet in residence at Cornell until brought to the University of Illinois; and were selected to tour Germany and Austria under the auspices of the United States government, Department of the Army.

The Waldens adopted their name fifteen years ago from Debussy's classic. They have championed the contemporary composer, performing in public or on the air over a hundred new works in addition to presentations of the classics.

At the University of Illinois, where they were brought by President George Stoddard, the Waldens will continue to augment their repertoire of chamber music, both old and new, and can devote full time to exhaustive study with that singleness of purpose which brings the highest art to public performance.

Dr. Masters to Head Evaluation Committee

Dr. Harry V. Masters has been appointed chairman of the inspection committee of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. This inspection committee, which will meet next week, is an accrediting association for this area. The school to be accredited is Marywood College in Scranton. This is part of a program which reevaluates colleges every few years.

Last year Dr. Masters was chairman of a committee to evaluate Trinity College.

Dean Reminds Seniors To Apply For Degrees

Seniors are reminded to file their applications for degree in the Dean's office. Also those who have not as yet contacted Miss Benninger about filling out placement forms are to do so immediately.

Remember all class dues must be paid before graduation so contact Neil Hill to pay back dues before it is too late.

Wanted - Good Leaders

The choice of candidates for the various positions of leadership on the Albright campus always presents a challenge to those who must make the nominations. Whether or not capable leaders will ultimately be elected depends upon the qualifications of those who are nominated.

With the annual all-campus election scheduled for April 9, 10 and 11, organizations such as Student Council, the Y's and the various classes will be nominating their candidates within the next few weeks. They should keep in mind several criteria of good leaders when they make the nominations.

Responsibility is the first of these criteria. Good leaders should be willing to work hard for their organization and the college. They should be willing to accept blame as well as praise.

A second criteria is vision. It isn't too difficult to repeat the same things that have already been done. To initiate new projects, to dream new dreams, to strive for new goals, requires the vision which a good leader should have.

Understanding is a third criteria. This applies not only to a sound knowledge of the organization but also to an understanding of its place in the total life of the college. It also involves an understanding of the people with whom the leader must work, both inside and outside the organization.

If these criteria are kept in mind when the final nominees for campus positions are chosen, all of those who appear on the all-campus ballot will be potentially capable leaders. It is up to those who make the nominations to be sure that this is the case.

Thanks, Teams

Tomorrow night Albright's basketball team plays their last game of the season. This season was climaxed by retaining the Middle Atlantic Western Division laurels for another year.

We're all proud of their achieving the title. However, we are even more proud of each game and the way the team played these games, win or lose. The spirit displayed on the basketball court might well be emulated by all of us in our own specialty—in our academics, in our extra-curricular activities, in our over-all school spirit.

We can all go out and boast about our wonderful basketball team, but we're afraid that in certain other things we can't talk in equal descriptive terms.

Our freshman team deserves as much credit as our varsity squad. Their hard work, team-play, and good sportsmanship should receive mention. Under a new coach, a completely new group is working together to attain those desired victories. Let's cheer for them just as we do our varsity squad.

As we said tomorrow night is the last game. As usual, the team will be fighting its heart out to win for us. Let each and every one of us go out and crush each rafter with reverberations of fight team, fight team, fight.

Those students who live in the dorm will be especially familiar with this week's Dandy, Marilyn Himmelstein, for each Tuesday night Marilyn is hard at work in the Dean of Women's office signing in the daters. We wonder how it feels to send people enroute to and welcome them back from a sociable evening "on the Town"—Marilyn says that it's a good time to do homework. Possibly this is how she managed to appear on the coveted Dean's List last semester.

Marilyn's activities since her freshman year have been many and varied. A member of the Pi Alpha Tau society for three years, a member of Pi Gamma Mu for two years, and a member of the International Relations Club for three years, she is vice-president of all of these organizations this year—no small accomplishment by any means. She especially remembers the sorority dances. Also affiliated with Student Council, she is now serving as chairman of the social committee for this group. Domino Club has claimed her as a very old member of the ticket committee for the past few years. Marilyn also belongs to the Dorm Council and the Women's Student Senate. Athletics find Marilyn serving as girls' basketball manager.

With a sociology major and a psychology minor, Marilyn hopes to do graduate work in the social field at the University of Pennsylvania. Her memories of Albright will include canasta games in the dorm, dances, the friendly campus atmosphere and a fellow named Jay. Do you remember Parents' Weekend, your freshman year, when you made a speech, Marilyn?

Good luck, girl, we'll be rooting for you.

My Precious Commodity

I sat in the chair near the window in the living room nervously awaiting the arrival of the mailman. His visits were becoming less and less frequent as the days rolled on. As much as I hate to admit the fact, I really missed seeing him. There was a reason for this of course. The reason being that said individual carried for me (quite infrequently I might add) a very "precious commodity." I realize that, when one thinks of the mailman, visions of letters from home or letters from your girl or fellow (as the case may be) are seen. But my anxiety was along another vein.

Of course I appreciate and look forward to such letters from home too, but this "precious commodity" was the thing that I was really hoping the mailman would bring. Of course, everyone waits for a food package of some kind, any little delicacy that has the irreplaceable title of "Home-Made," but needless to say that the thing I was waiting for was not any such package. Now maybe you are beginning to wonder just what this thing is. Aha. You think you know. What would a student from another city be waiting for from home? Money of course. What else could possibly desire the inscription a "precious commodity"? But alas and alack you are mistaken. Now maybe you are wondering just why am I waiting so anxiously for the mailman to bring something that you can not discover.

Well! I went to my bureau drawer today in quest of what to wear for my date tonight, and I found that something very important was missing. I had worn my last clean white shirt to supper the night before. Hence I waited nervously for the mailman to bring my laundry box from home containing my "precious commodity," a clean white shirt.

Hollywood Again

It is commonly conceded, though our lazy American audiences do little to effect a reform, that Hollywood is the source of an evil called the motion picture industry. Since its inception, the business has and is turning out a mass of rot, infested with sensuality, crime and general muggishness, whose repercussions have gone so far as to make European audiences doubt the humanity of Americans. But to allay the fears of the industry responsible for all this (have they any?) for the moment, we shall agree Russia is the initiator of the current confusion.

The latest to hit this smug little town is one farce called "The Sound of Fury." Could it be probable its author has recently been converted to a kind of primitive democracy or is he denying history to show how a well functioning democracy operates? This story, by the way, shows a family-conscious husband, driven by unemployment into a petty burglary partnership which progresses to a kidnapping and ends in murder, a denouncement unaccomplished by the previously law abiding husband. An idealist, a neophyte journalist who paints up the killers using the typical emotional sensationalism of the press, the town populace is transformed into a lynch-thirsty mob, and the killers go to their doom.

Though Americans are being beguiled constantly by a circulating conscious press, and conceding the author's intention was to demonstrate this well known fact, it does not follow that our newspaper readers commit extra-legal acts of retribution, for if this were the case, lynchings would be everyday occurrences. And in conjunction with this movie we do not learn that criminals are not born but made by seizing them from the arms of justice. Any man who presents present problems and shows they are being solved by anti-democratic lynching methods might desirably be investigated by our now busy congressional committees. But, if the author is right in showing that this country is yet so immature in its democratic ideology, as he apparently is, then there is no possible hope in meeting the world demands of today and democracy is just so many years late in developing to this hopeless level. What does Hollywood mean? Is it suggesting mob rule or the futility of 1951? In either case its potentiality as an educator in guiding this democratic nation, no matter how stupid it is at present has again failed to rise from the sordid mire of Hollywood history.

Science Slants

Another history making epoch has now begun in Merner-Peiffer. "Look, doctor, plutonium". Greenspan expects to finally find the stuff or at least a new joke, while Lynn Russo admits that the last one was rather humorous—the first thirty-four times. How much the factor x was responsible for the decline and fall of the qualitative analysis students still remains an "unknown". To the group, now so reduced that it has become elite, has been passed the secret of how to accurately weigh the desk top. This new era, ushered in by Prof Green's "baby", the embryology course, is strangely lacking in the pastimes of bygone years, the Thursday afternoon canasta game and Jim Gerhart's "Footsie." Could it be the lack of feminine participation?

Prof Hollenbach's general biology students are now attempting to distinguish between the dorsal and ventral surfaces of an earthworm. It is possible that Marion Konig, who is again an Albrightian, will tutor the "dainty-fingered" members of this group in her methods of dissecting a worm. Progress has been seen—from a "wormy mold" to a "moldy worm".

The lack of specimens due to the railroad strike caused no delay in Prof Green's anatomy lab. Some pre-meds may have thought they had it tough before, but now the course is really the "cats."

Congratulations to Chuck Wolfe who was accepted this week into Temple Medical School and also to Jim Mann who will attend Penn Dental School next year.

Emily's Post

1. Look alert. Take notes eagerly. If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievably and shake it.

2. Bring the professor newspaper clippings dealing with his subject.

Demonstrate fiery interest and give him timely items to mention in class. If you can't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in any clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.

3. Nod frequently and murmur, "I can see it now!" and "How true!"

To you, this may seem exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective and very proper.

4. Sit in front, near him.

(Applies only if you intend to stay awake.) If you're going to all the trouble of making a good impression, you might as well let him know who you are, especially in a large class.

5. Laugh at his jokes.

You can tell—if he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has made a funny.

6. Ask for outside reading.

You don't have to read it. Just ask for it.

7. If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the class hour.

It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing.

8. Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course.

If you do math in psychology class, and psychology in math, match the books for size and color. Look up occasionally to give the impression that your attention is not entirely taken away from the captivating lecture.

9. Ask questions you think he can answer.

Conversely, avoid announcing that you have found the answer to a question he could not answer, and that it is in your brother's second grade reader.

10. Call attention to his writing and/or outside lectures.

Produces an exquisitely pleasant experience connected with you. If you know he's written an article, ask in class if he wrote it and mention its scholarly import.

—From the Susquehanna.

Between cuts, when you decide to give the class a break by attending, be late. Meander across the front of the room, loudly greeting the prof and class. The prof will deem this considerate because then he knows you have arrived and can eradicate the absence mark from his book, keeping his record straight.

Above all, make your blue book exactly like your neighbor's. This is greatly appreciated—it lessens the number of tests to be corrected. When your grade comes through, make a fuss. Profs never give the grades deserved since they expect pleas to have them raised a point or two after the Dean's office has recorded them.

—From the Gettysburgian.

Go ahead. I dare you.

Red and White Defeat LV, Moravian; Lose to NYAC

Danny Bieber Hits Net For 70 Counters In Three Contests

| Moravian | 1 | 4 | .200 |

Two wins and one loss were recorded by the Albright cagers during the last two weeks to bring their total for the season thus far to fifteen wins and nine reverses. The two victories were at the expense of league opponents, Lebanon Valley and Moravian, while the lone loss was to the New York A. C. club.

The New Yorkers grabbed an early 14-2 lead last Friday which the Lions were not to overcome. NYAC held a 46-35 halftime margin and were in front by a 63-51 count at the end of the third frame. Gerry Potts swished the cords for twenty-two counters to take top scoring honors for the visitors. Danny Bieber scored fifteen, Bob Ruoff, thirteen and Connie Dettling, ten also for the Lions.

Seeing Triple

For the second time in two years the Gulliamen hit the triple figures when they toppled the Moravian Greyhounds, 100-76, at Bethlehem on February 21 to win their sixth straight and final league contest. The Baby Lions jolted the Moravian JV's, 76-65, in the preliminary tilt. The previous century mark was posted last season against Dickinson.

Five Lions, led by Danny Bieber with twenty-five points, hit double figures. He was followed by Bob Ruoff with nineteen, Gerry Potts with seventeen and Lee Cappel and Connie Dettling with fourteen each. Bill Werpeshoski, who holds the all time Lehigh Valley Collegiate scoring record, scored twenty-one for the hosts. He now has a three year total of 1574 points.

Lions Hold Advantage

The high scoring Lions held a 26-16 advantage at the end of the first chapter which mounted to a 56-42 lead at intermission. The Greyhounds were kept on the defensive during the third frame as Danny Bieber and Cappel hit from all angles, and again in the final chapter as Ruoff canned six of the Cats' twenty-three points netted in this stanza.

The Lion hoopsters clinched their third straight Western Division Middle Atlantic States Conference crown on Saturday, February 17 on the home floor by defeating Lebanon Valley, 83-72. Coach Eddie Gulian's charges chalked up their second consecutive victory over the Dutchmen this season and their fifth straight league fray.

Danny Bieber sparked the Albright victory with a tremendous thirty counters for the evening. Lebanon's high scoring Al Murawski, who was one of the nation's top sharpshooters with a 27 point average, was able to loop only eighteen tallies. Murawski's three field goals were the lowest he saw this season.

The Lions held a 22-16 lead as the first frame closed, a 37-30 advantage at halftime and an increased margin of 59-43 at the end of the third period. Again the two Biebers, Ruoff and Dettling hit double figures to help the Gulliamen's cause.

Trackmen Vie In ICAAAA Meet

Cats Fail to Qualify In Respective Heats

Four members of the Albright track team journeyed to New York last Saturday for the ICAAAA indoor track and field championships in Madison Square Garden. The Shirkmen, who competed against athletes from forty-five top colleges in the East, failed to qualify in any of their respective heats.

Bruce Tenley, who was second in the first leg of the mile relay in Philadelphia last month, placed fourth in his 60-yard heat with a time of 6.8 seconds. Tenley got off to a poor start after jumping the gun in his first attempt.

Brenner Third

Howard Brenner placed third in his heat of the 60-yard dash but failed to qualify. In the broad jump he sailed twenty feet, seven inches. This was his first jump since breaking an ankle in the F&M meet last season and far below the twenty-two feet he cleared several times last year.

Charlie Zellner, who led the cross-country team home to victory, was forced to withdraw from the two mile event after the seventeenth lap. Pete Alberts cleared his first jump of twelve feet in the pole vaulting event but could not go beyond that point.

Dick Shea of Army headed the two milers and captured the event with ease in 9:12. George Appel of Yale cleared fourteen feet even to top the vaulters. Joe Deady of Georgetown set a new IC-4A record while winning his 1,000-yard dash. His time was 2:11.7.

Help Wanted

Any one interested in obtaining a berth on The Albrightian sports staff should leave their name at The Albrightian office on the basement floor of the Ad Building. Trials will be held both for the position of Assistant Sports Editor and positions on the sports staff. We need your help in making the sports page the best possible.

Gulian Hears Talk On Grid Problems

Coach Eddie Gulian attended the fourth annual football clinic held at Coatesville on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, February 12, 13, 14 and 15. The clinic was held in an attempt to advance coaching methods and give clinical solutions to different grid problems.

The two hundred and eighty high school and college coaches heard lectures by prominent coaches, saw demonstrations of football fundamentals and witnessed movies of some of the top teams in action.

Coaches Show Way

Charles (Bud) Wilkinson of Oklahoma demonstrated and explained the advantages of the split T. Paul Bryant of Kentucky, whose team won the Sugar Bowl game, explained his offense and showed movies of the Maroon and White finding the TD route.

Ray Elliot of Illinois and Stuart Holcomb of Purdue represented the Big Ten. Charlie Caldwell, who was "Coach of the Year," explained the advantages of the single wing and showed movies of his undefeated Princeton team in action.

Sid Gilman, who was a former Army line coach and is now head coach at Cincinnati, demonstrated and explained the art of blocking. Gilman's squad played in the Sun Bowl game. George Munger of Penn also took part in the proceedings.

Stars 52, Pi Taus 26.
Racketeers forfeit, Frosh House.
Kappas 32, Spades 27.

After last Monday night's intramural basketball games the lead in both leagues was cut down to one team as the Racketeers downed the Kappa's "B" team to take sole command of that circuit.

Billy Locher canned fourteen points and Tony D'Apollito twelve counters for the Joy Boys which proved insufficient as each member of the APO squad hit the bucket for at least two markers to win, 46-40. Paul Muller garnered ten and Bruce Tenley, eight to lead the victors.

Ed Fleming's eleven counters led the Kappa "A" team to a 39-27 triumph over KTX, despite Charlie Klinger's nineteen point effort, to hand the future preachers their eighth consecutive defeat. Walt Grigsby and Donald Ermold each contributed nine digits and Billy Krohto eight to the winning cause.

Kohl Scores 22

The night's best single effort of twenty-two points on the part of Kenny Kohl helped the Pi Tau "A" team conquer their eighth straight opponent, this time the Zetas, by a 63-51 count. Bull Heffner added fourteen counters for the Pi Taus, while Bob Bernhardt gathered eleven for the Zetas.

It had to happen, and finally did; the Racketeers met the Kappas for first place in the "B" league. The regulation game ended at 20-20; and an extra period was necessary to decide the final outcome, which showed the Racketeers emerging victorious, 23-22. Bruce Eichoff led both teams with eleven tallies while Walt Drazek bucketed nine for the Kappas.

Double Forfeit

Neither the Frosh House nor the Stars, who last week won their first game of the season, could field five men, so neither could claim a victory in the second scheduled contest of the evening in the "B" loop.

Bill Schmidt took high scoring honors for the Pi Taus with seven points, but it wasn't enough to help the win, as Tom Masters' one arm push-up accounted for nineteen to lead the Spades to a 55-41 victory. Don Wilkinson garnered fourteen more for the Spades, while Tom Green snared the same number for the Pi Taus.

Albright Seeks Revenge Against New York Club For Last Saturday's Loss

Coach Fahritz Brings High Scorers To Lions Den For Final Encounter

Albright's basketball Lions will be playing their final hoop game of the season when they face the New York Athletic Club on the local Northwest court tomorrow evening at 8 P. M. It will be the second meeting of the two squads this year since on Friday, February 23 the Cats dropped their ninth contest of the 1950-51 season by an 88-74 score to the New York club on the foreign court. The Baby Lions are scheduled to battle the local Shillington Rec. quintet in the preliminary at 7 P. M.

Red and White Gals Win Title Tilts; Boast 4-2 Record

Whip Millersville, Moravian, Kutztown And Cedar Crest

The Albright girls' basketball team has won four games while dropping three during the last two weeks of the young season. Highlighting the two week period was the Playday held at Kutztown on February 24 in which the Albright girls walked away with the title by winning all three of their scheduled bouts. The Lionesses have now recorded four wins and two losses.

The Lionesses met the Dutchwomen from Lebanon Valley on Saturday, February 16 on the 13th and Union court. The Lebanon girls did what the varsity men couldn't do that night by defeating Albright, 41-32. Nancy Stump swished the net for fifteen points and held top honors among the Albright girls. The Baby Lionesses met the same fate and bowed by a 42-25 count.

On Thursday, February 16 the Lionesses met the girls from Millersville, again on the home floor, and promptly murdered them by a 30-19 count. Dolores Bedding tabbed ten tallies for the winners to become high scorer. She was followed by her teammate Stump with nine. The Albright JV girls also nipped the Millersville junior girls, 37-31. Ann Doughten sank seventeen tallies for the hosts.

Coach Eva Mosser's charges journeyed to Kutztown on Saturday, February 24 for the annual Playday which they won last season. The Lionesses met Cedar Crest in the first battle and reversed them by a 25-16 count. Three of the Albright girls did all the scoring. Stump led with 9 points followed by Judy Lebach and Bedding with eight each. The Baby Lionesses did not accompany Mrs. Mosser on this trip.

In the second title contest the Lionsess met the court against the Greyhounds of Moravian. Bedding led the Albright girls to a low scoring 17-8 win with eight counters. Miss Martin scored all eight points for the losers.

In the final championship tilt the Lady Lions met Kutztown on their home court and reversed them, 17-12, for their second crown in two years. Nancy Stump again took top honors with seven counters followed by Bedding with six.

Next Tuesday the Lionesses will meet the Beaver girls at 4:00 P. M. on the 13th and Union hardwoods and the following Tuesday will journey to Philadelphia for a contest with the Temple girls.

An early 22-10 lead on the part of the NYAC proved to be the Cats' undoing in the first battle at New York. The contest assumed an even nature after the opening ten minutes with the ultimate victors continuing merely to hold their twelve point advantage throughout most of the contest and ultimately widening it to fourteen at the time of the final buzzer.

Leading scorers for the NYAC in this fracas were Bill Jensen, Johnny Derderian, Johnny Mascioni, and Joe Spollen. Jensen led the way with seven field goals and eleven free throws for a total of 25 counters while Derderian seconded his effort with eight field goals and five foul tosses for 21 tallies. Mascioni racked up 19 markers on seven goals and five free tosses while Spollen entered the double column with four each for a grand tally of twelve points. None of the other NYAC hoopmen entered the second column on scoring.

Three members of the starting lineup are college graduates, two having participated in basketball at New York University and one a former captain of the Yale hoop quintet. John Derderian participated with NYU two years ago when they played in the National Invitational Basketball Tourney while Bill Jensen played for the last two years on the NYU squad. Derderian is now a high school teacher while Jensen is still attending NYU and working for his Master's Degree. Bill Rohrer, a third starter, was a former captain of the Yale team.

Al Hahn, another member of the squad, although not a member of the starting quintet, is still attending high school but rates a berth on the squad largely because of his height of six feet, ten and one-quarter inches.

The New York Athletic Club is in itself one of the finest organizations of its kind in the country. It sports all sorts of athletic facilities, has ample financial backing, and is a highly exclusive organization. The club sponsors teams in a variety of sports, all of them being on a purely amateur basis. The basketball squad is coached by George Fahritz and his assistants, Ken Gilchrist, Vic Willman, and Jim White.

The other members of the twelve man squad besides those mentioned above are Ed Redding, Bob Rais, Al Gifford, Charlie Derderian, Don Payne, and George Berenzky.

Albright Glee Club Completes Week's Tour of Western Pa.

The Albright College Glee Club returned on Sunday, February 25 from a 1100 mile tour through western Pennsylvania. Dr. John H. Duddy, director, and his wife accompanied the choir. Mr. Dean Moore was with the group some of the trip as a field representative for the college. The tour was considered very successful and Mr. Lester L. Stabler, Director of Public Relations, is planning another tour for next year.

The first concert was given in Johnstown and from there the Glee Club proceeded to Somerset, Conneville, Stanton Heights, Rochester, Franklin, Warren, Bloomsburg, Sunbury, Berwick and Binghamton, N. Y. All these concerts were given in the Evangelical United Brethren Churches. The choir also sang in high schools in Pittsburgh, Ambridge, Beaver Falls, Oil City and Titusville.

Soloists during the trip were Marion Miller, Ruth Zimmer, Wanda Moore, Paul Davis, David Smith, Walter Eisenhower and Dale Moyer.

On Saturday, March 3 the Glee Club will sing at the St. Paul's Evangelical United Brethren Church in Germantown, Pa. for the Youth Fellowship conference of the Philadelphia area.

Sunday, April 15 the choir will sing in the EUB church in Lemoyne, Pa. in the morning and the EUB church in Carlisle at night.

Library Displays Ancient Letters

An interesting display of old letters was placed in one of the library show cases by Allen Peysner and Howard Platzker, Prof. Bishop and Mr. Harold Lawrence helped the students in the preparation of this display. The purpose of this display is to show how letters were sent before the use of postage stamps. The first postage stamp was used in the United States in 1847. The letters in the library date from 1696 to 1850 and they contain various types of information.

The earliest letter was one sent to Mayor Carl D. Wuessehour of Newport in September 14, 1696. It describes war between English men-of-war and Spanish convoys, and it was written in early Flemish dialect during the War of the League of Augsburg. Another letter speaks of fears of war between England and the United States over "an unfortunate business in Canada." Prof. Bishop found information as to this incident in "A Diplomatic History of United States." This letter was sent from Derby, England to New Lancaster, Ohio on March 23, 1841. It was cancelled "paid" on March 24, reached Liverpool and was cancelled there on March 24, finally arriving in New York on May 18, 1841.

Four Reasons Cited For Seating Plan

Four reasons why engaged and steady couples should not sit together in the College Dining Hall during the four meals per week when seating arrangements are in effect were outlined by Miss Consuelo Rodriguez, co-adviser to the dining hall committee, at the meeting of Student Council held last Tuesday.

In the first place, Miss Rodriguez explained that permitting couples to sit together is not democratic. Friends of the same sex who wish to sit together should have the same privilege. Furthermore, couples pay no attention to the others at the table.

An uncomfortable atmosphere results if a lover's quarrel is brewing, Miss Rodriguez continued. In the fourth place, there is too great a turnover which makes it difficult for the committee to keep up-to-date with "steady" couples.

Miss Rodriguez explained that the main purpose for the seating arrangement is to assist in the development of social attitudes. She noted that the arrangement is changed every two weeks.

Miss Rodriguez' appearance in Council followed receipt of a resolution passed by Council on February 13, requesting that engaged or steady couples be permitted to sit together.

High Rating Given To Psych Center By National Assn.

The Psychological Service Center of Albright College has again been recognized by the National Vocational Guidance Association as an approved Vocational Counseling Agency, according to word received by Prof. John W. Reid, acting director.

The National Vocational Guidance Association annually investigates and evaluates guidance agencies according to its criteria for approved vocational guidance associations. Such approval and listing in N.V.G.A.'s annual "Directory of Vocational Counseling Agencies" covers thorough investigation of the agency's ethical practice and professional qualifications of its staff.

Members of the community may avail themselves of the services of the Psychological Service Center on a fee basis, although the service is maintained to serve Albright undergraduates.

Both Professor Reid and Miss Caroline Schmehl, counsellor in the Service Center, are members of the American Psychological Association. They are currently engaged in interviewing members of the freshman class concerning abilities and interests shown in the battery of psychological tests which all entering freshmen take.

Senior psychology majors learn to give some psychological tests to "volunteer" class mates for purposes of training. Professor Reid explained that this is not to be confused with the guidance work of the Center.

Newscast to Plug New School Song

The Albright Radio News broadcast tomorrow over radio station WHUM will feature a skit on the background of John McKenna's new school song. John will participate in the show playing some of his own songs, and his new composition will be sung by a student chorus composed of Mary Ellen Schuman, director; Wanda Moore; Nancy Reed; Ann Doughten; Minnie Haines; Ivan Moyer; Neal Krape; Percy Brown; George Hamm; Thomas Schultz and Robert Walker.

Richard Stinson will be the narrator and David Keller will serve as announcer. James Barrett and Ivan Moyer are also taking part on the broadcast.

Varied Programs for Early March Scheduled by Campus Organizations

Le Cercle Francais

Because the Haage Concert conflicts with the regularly scheduled meeting of Le Cercle Francais, Alice McCloud, president, has announced that for this meeting the time will be changed. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, March 7 at 4 o'clock in the Music Studio.

During the business meeting, the annual banquet will be discussed. Miss McCloud has indicated that the question of examining the sending of CARE packages to the French child that the club has been supporting will also be discussed.

The French writer chosen for this month is La Fontaine, a seventeenth century author of fables. Members of the French 3 class will recite a fable written by La Fontaine that they have memorized in class. To conclude the meeting a film strip will be shown.

Future Teachers of America

Because of the amount of work entailed in student teaching, the meeting of the Future Teachers of America scheduled for last night was cancelled.

Der Deutsche Verein

On March 7 at 7:30 in the Lower Social Room Der Deutsche Verein will present the Edelweiss Zither Group of Reading. President Alfred Kasprovic announced that this group, which is affiliated with the Reading Liederkrantz, will present a varied program of musical selections. There will also be singing and dancing.

Rabbi Kaber Talks To Y Gathering

The regular meeting of the combined Y's on Tuesday, February 27 consisted of a speaker, Rabbi Nathan Kaber, who answered questions presented by the group on the subject of brotherhood. In answering the questions several specific facts were stated. He told the group that "the Jews do not believe in the New Testament and therefore it is not part of their Bible. When you take the highest ideals of Christianity and Judaism you'll find the two in agreement. Yet when one compares Christianity with primitive Judaism there is a conflict of ideas."

The speaker also contrasted salvation and sin as shown in the Old Testament and showed both concepts of the two religions to be very close. The Jews stress the humanity of Christ more than His divinity and they don't believe He was holy anointed.

Rabbi Kaber stated that perhaps Christ's teachings should be stressed more than the idea of salvation by grace.

Percy Brown will have charge of the next Y meeting on Tuesday, March 6 at 7:30 in the Lower Social Room. The topic for consideration will be summer work projects.

At the February 20 meeting of the Y's Polly W. Kenyon was in charge. The gathering was called a "Fireside Fellowship" which consisted of games, refreshments and a movie called "Hungry Mind."

Redbird Graduates Speak to Patrons

"Home Life in Kentucky" was presented to the Patrons' Division of the Women's Auxiliary of Albright College at their monthly meeting in Selwyn Hall Parlor on Wednesday, February 21.

Two Albright College students, Evelyn Hinkle and Evelyn Nantz, graduates of Redbird Mission school in Beverly, Kentucky, presented colored slides of the Mission school, Kentucky mountain homes and some of the beautiful Kentucky countryside near Beverly. In their explanatory comments the girls pointed to the difference a mission, such as this one sponsored by the E.U.B. church, can mean to a small hill community.

Rev. Eugene Barth will speak at the next meeting of the Patrons' Division on Wednesday, March 21.
