

Dean's List Announced For First Semester

Twenty-three students have been named to the dean's "A" list for the first semester. An additional 62 students achieved averages placing them on the "B+" list.

The senior and freshman classes topped the "A" list with seven representatives each. Five sophomores and four juniors were also included in the "A" group.

The 23 total comprises 3.1% of the student body, while the "B+" students put the total percentage of dean's list students at 11.3%.

Previous List

Twenty-seven students attained "A" and 44 "B+" list averages during the previous semester. The "A" list number has thus decreased by four, while the "B+" list has increased by 18.

Those students named to the dean's "A" list were: Richard Fisher, '58, Robert Hussey, '58, Daniel McAlees, '58, Madelyn Reist, '58, Wilma Rieser, '58, Josephine Seyfert, '58, and Richard Steffy, '58.

Also, Mary Bray, '59, Merlyn Krick, '59, Robert Peckham, '59, Carolyn Stillwaggon, '59, Sandra Bressler, '60, Alexandra Karetas, '60, Stanley Michalak, '60, and Robert Nagle, '60.

Annual Stunt Night Slated Tonight For Krause Hall

Stunt Night, sponsored annually by Student Council, will be held tonight in Krause Hall, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The event was originally scheduled for last Friday, but was postponed because of the recent snowfall by agreement between the competing groups.

Chapel Programs

Representing the Evangelical United Brethren Church, a church vocational team will conduct the chapel programs Tuesday and Thursday.

The Reverend Mr. Kenneth Kline, pastor of the New Berlinville EUB Church addressed Tuesday's chapel program.

Dr. Albert Schwartz, assistant professor of biology, spoke in chapel yesterday concerning his recent trip to Cuba. Dr. Schwartz and three student assistants returned from Cuba Saturday, Jan. 11. The expedition was under the auspices of the National Science Foundation.

These groups, in the order in which they will present their skits, are: the Pi Alpha Tau social sorority, the Pi Tau Beta social fraternity, the Men's Dormitory Organization, the Alpha Pi Omega social fraternity, and the Phi Beta Mu social sorority. Also, the Kappa Upsilon Phi social fraternity, the Zeta Omega Epsilon social fraternity, the Daywomen's Organization, the Kappa Tau Chi pre-ministerial fraternity and the Daymen's Association.

Criteria

The skits will be judged on originality, continuity, coherence, organization and effective presentation. The rules for the presentations remain the same as last year, with the exception of a regulation which was added by Council to reduce similarity among the skits.

All participating organizations were required to submit their themes to the Stunt Night chairman, Arthur Younkun, '60, in advance. If conflicts would have arisen, the themes submitted first would have received preference.

The Pi Taus won first place in the 1957 Stunt Night, followed by the second place Mus.

Six Senior Women Selected For Court By All-Campus Vote

Six senior women were elected to the 1958 May Queen's Court during recent all-campus balloting conducted by Student Council.

Jean Dufford, Mildred Folk, Barbara Kerschner, Bonnie Orr, Carolyn Stillwaggon and Betty Williams were the six women selected. Robert Goldsmith, '59, chairman of Council's elections committee, supervised the voting.

Sheila Greene, '58, and Elizabeth Allan, '58, were previously elected May Queen and Maid of Honor, respectively.

WDO Secretary

Miss Dufford is a liberal arts student from Belleville, N. J. She has served as secretary of the Women's Dormitory Organization, vice president of the Women's Student Association and is a member of the Pi Alpha Tau social sorority.

Miss Folk is a sociology major from Malverne. She is past president of the Phi Beta Mu social sorority, and has been active in women's basketball and hockey and Student Council. Miss Folk received the Phi Beta Mu award two years ago as the outstanding sophomore woman on campus.

Science Student

Miss Kerschner is a science student from Schuylkill Haven. She is recording secretary for the PATs.

Miss Orr is a home economics major from Perkasie. Her activities include the Home Economics Organization, the Band, women's hockey and the PATs.

Miss Stillwaggon is an English major from Long Island, N. Y. She (Cont. on Page Four, Column Two)

Limit Will Now Be Set At 40

Approval by the administration of a petition from the two social sororities requesting a raise in their membership quotas was announced this week.

The quota for each sorority will now be set at either one-half of 30% of the full-time women students or at 40 women. The former quota was set at either one-half of the 30% or at 35 women.

Two Bases

The reason for the "either-or" clause in the quota regulations is to give the sororities a choice of the quota base that will allow them the largest number of members. At this time, 40 is the higher of the two quota possibilities.

The petition, which asked that the quota for each sorority be raised from 35 to 40, was presented jointly by the Phi Beta Mu and Pi Alpha Tau social sororities to the faculty council on fraternity and sorority affairs.

Composition

This newly developed group is composed of Dean of the College George W. Walton, Dean of Women Priscilla R. Morton, Dean of Men John W. Kopp and the faculty advisers of the four fraternities and the two sororities.

After receiving the petition, the council presented it to President of the College Harry V. Masters. He approved the request on behalf of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees.

The fraternity and sorority quotas were last changed March 26, 1952. At that time the Board of Trustees set the total quotas for both fraternities and sororities at 30% of the full-time men and women students, respectively, or at 35 students each.

At That Time

The enrollment of Albright then was 556, including 381 men and 175 women.

Working under the percentage quota, each of the fraternities now has a membership limit of 42. The percentage quota limits the total membership of all fraternities to 168 at the present time.

The enrollment of Albright is now 763, including 559 men and 204 women.

Sports Night

Sports Night will be held Friday, Mar. 21 instead of the date previously reported in The Albrightian.

Sponsored by the YMCA-YWCA, Sports Night will be one of the campus highlights of World University Service Week, Monday to Friday, Mar. 17 to 21.

WUS is an international student organization sponsoring health and education programs in 40 nations.

SC Prexy List Comprises Eight Available Members

Eight students are eligible to hold the presidency of Student Council for the next school year.

At a recent meeting of Student Council it was announced that juniors Clifford Franks, Thomas Grant, Robert Goldsmith, Paul Reetz, Barbara Rittenhouse, Suzanne Schick, Daniel Skeath and Herbert Zakrisson may run for president of the student body by virtue of their one year of membership on Council.

Candidates for the presidency must post notice of their desire to run for office by Monday, Mar. 3, 1958. Robert Goldsmith, '59, or Pete Wagner, '58, should be notified of the candidate's interest. Petitions bearing the signatures of 50 students must be completed by each candidate by Friday, Mar. 28. No students signature will be honored if it appears on two petitions.

Campaigning

The candidates will present their campaign speeches in the chapel programs Tuesday and Thursday, April 8 and 10. Elections will be held Friday, April 11, and Monday and Tuesday, April 14 and 15. The Mantle Ceremony will follow the elections on Thursday, April 24.

Upon the request of Dr. Josephine E. Raepel, librarian, Council will seek a place for group study to eliminate the practice in the library. Dr. Raepel, in a communication to Council, explained that students studying together in the library not only disturbs other students, but also uses the space provided for individual study.

The hope was expressed that a "name" band will be provided for "Spring Fantasy," Council's spring formal, if the sophomore and freshman classes decide to cooperate with Council in the endeavor.

President Frank York, '58, announced that there will be no Mardi Gras this year because of a full calendar. He further commented (Cont. on Page Four, Column Five)

Temple Dean Cites Understanding As Purpose Of General Education

Philadelphia, Pa. — (I.P.) — "A critical understanding within the student is the aim of general education," stated Dr. Carl M. Grip, dean of men at Temple University, at a panel discussion on general education held here, according to a recently released report. "A student should not be just a store-house of facts and formulas."

Dr. Parke G. Burgess, assistant professor of speech was moderator for the panel, composed of University faculty who discussed general education here and at other institutions. The program was sponsored by the University's General Education Committee.

Dr. Grip described the general education program at the University of Chicago, where he was previously an instructor in psychology. The system relies upon the interrelation of the various facets of knowledge as a basis for stimulating understanding and communication between those who later find themselves in specialized occupations.

Dr. Grip indicated the success of general education at the University of Chicago. He referred to an examination in a field of concentration given both to students majoring in that field and preparing to go on to graduate school, as well as to students in the general education program. The latter group had an average ranking around the seventy-ninth percentile. It represented a higher score than most of the other students who had received more specialized training in the subject.

The de-emphasis of specialization and the development of the analytic ability of the student through general education was indicated by Dr. Herbert Kleinfeld, English instructor at Harvard University. Dr. Kleinfeld stressed that Harvard students take general education only outside of the field in which they concentrate. He stressed the importance of such courses as institutions of western society, religion, and Anglo-American relations in the nineteenth century.

Dr. Edgar Howard, associate professor of chemistry, explained how the "block and gap method" used in social science and humanities courses is also included in the treatment of science in general education. By this technique, the student is exposed to a course which deals with different areas of science as a replacement for the survey course in a specific science.

Dr. David H. Webster, associate professor of English and chairman of the University General Education Committee, criticized the specialization in current science courses, which are designed for students intending to make this field their profession. In this "age of Sputniks" Dr. Webster believes that every collegian should be exposed to a physical science laboratory course.

Latest French Atrocity Hurts West's Prestige

Once more France has placed the western nations in an unfavorable light in the eyes of the emerging nationalities of Asia and Africa. Adding massacre to their futile attempts to continue domination of Algeria, French military forces recently staged an air attack on the Tunisian village of Sakiet-Sidi-Youssef. The raid produced 209 casualties, mostly Tunisian women and children. The attack was launched because Algerian rebels have been fleeing across the border of Algeria into Tunisia, thus freeing themselves from French jurisdiction and the possibility of capture and punishment.

Understandably, the French became angry over this situation. They appealed to the Tunisian government to cooperate in sealing off the border. The people of Tunisia are unanimously behind the rebel movement in Algerian and the Tunisian army is small and poorly equipped. Thus the French proposal could not be accepted by Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia because Tunisia would be unable to carry out its part of the bargain. The French, in fact, with much larger and better equipped and trained forces, cannot themselves seal off the same border. For the Tunisian government, such a task would be impossible.

Then too, were the now pro-western government of Tunisia to go against the wishes of its people by cooperating with France, it would almost certainly fall from power.

France, still confronted with the problem, could have taken the question to the United Nations. Instead the French launched their now infamous attack on the Tunisian villagers.

Were France's action merely an isolated instance, it would warrant dissatisfaction but not condemnation. Unfortunately, this is not the situation. The French attack on Tunisia was only one of a continuing list of French atrocities, ranging from Indochina to Madagascar.

The western nations can no longer afford to be associated with a country engaged in such activities. They should act now to impress the French nation with the fact that the friendship of the Asian and African nations is vital.

Lost And Found Items Collect At Switchboard

Apparently unknown to many Albrightians, the college has a lost and found department centered at the switchboard on the first floor of the administration building. The department has been collecting a great variety of articles for several years. These articles have included some reasonably valuable items, such as jackets.

Unfortunately, while many people have turned in articles at the switchboard, few have arrived to claim these articles. The stock of items has increased to the point where, unless the articles are claimed, it will have to be disposed of by the college. If you have lost anything on campus during the past several years, check at the switchboard in the near future with the description of the article.

Senior Personality Senior Towers In Campus Life

By CELIA CALENDO

"A tall man is worth looking up to." Being tall is certainly one of his outstanding characteristics, although he possesses many other fine qualities. It's not hard to guess who this popular senior might be. Yes, it's Dave Pettit.

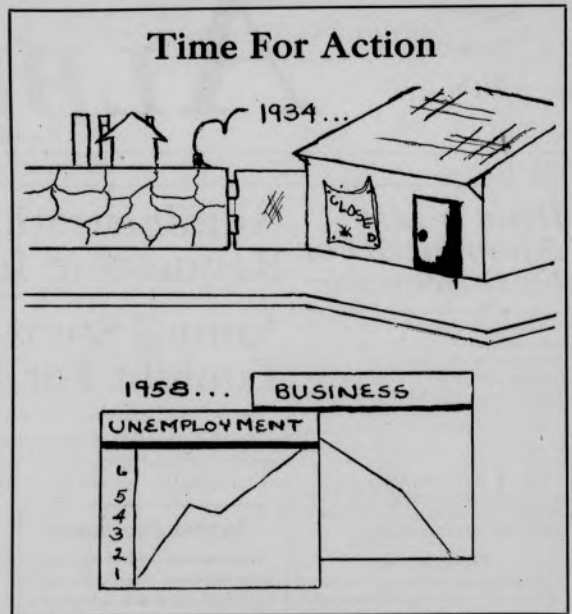

Music is one of Dave's chief interests and has played an important part in his college life. He has been a member of the Band since his freshman year and was president the past two years.

Cue Writer

He is also kept busy with his work on The Cue and duties as the senior class treasurer. Last year he was chaplain of the Pi Tau Beta social fraternity and this year serves as a representative to Student Council from that organization.

Sports have always been part of Dave's busy schedule. During college he has enjoyed intramural sports, baseball and swimming. Another favorite sport and past time is auto racing. While in high school, he worked for a race track and has continued to show an avid interest in this field.

At present, Dave is an English major, but after graduation he hoped to enter seminary and eventually get married. With a fine personality such as his, success will surely come in whatever profession he chooses.

Record Snowfall Changes Campus Into Wonderland

By BEVERLY BARTHOLD

The soft, fluffy snow which fell heavily over the eastern part of the United States shrouded the Albright campus in 19 inches worth of a "winter wonderland."

Beginning early Saturday afternoon of the eighth, Susie Snowflake descended with such rapidity that it delayed the opening of the convocation dinner. When the audience eventually straggled in and were seated, a half hour late, they were forced to wait until the truck bearing the food from the kitchen to the gym managed to burrow through.

Thus commenced a week-end which provided a cold, but hearty atmosphere.

Sunday Breakfast

Sunday morning saw a record crowd of 60 adventurous individuals plying their way through the snow drifts to enjoy an early breakfast.

Sledding, walks, hikes up "old Mt. Penn," all became prevalent activities. Several students even managed to go tobogganing, although (from what I understand) by the time they stopped, the unlucky individual who sat in the front looked like "Ol Man Winter." A few other upperclassmen attempted to go skiing but found themselves unable to get the car out of the garage.

One of the highlights was the snow fight on Union Street Sunday night. This was the result of the glorious declaration, "No classes Monday." Arriving in sweat suits and with towels on their heads, it wasn't long until the girls decided they should have taken football as an extra-curricular activity.

Cool Capers

Tackled below the knee, they inevitably found themselves sprawled face-down in the cold, damp snow—eating it! The main object seemed to be to make the other fellow resemble a snowman. Eventually, everyone meandered over to the College Inn.

Along with all the fun, Mother Nature afforded some of the men the opportunity to earn a little extra cash.

Whether here or home enjoying the carefree frolicking of younger days, one couldn't help reflecting how a dab of the Master's brush can effect their way of life.

'Laura' Slated For Reading Showing

By VAUGHN MERVINE

PSSST! It's MURDER! "Laura," a gripping murder mystery written by Vera Caspary and George Sklar, will be the Reading Community Players next offering. A murdered model and a mysterious portrait set the tone for a chilling evening of suspense.

Vince Watters, who has directed many television plays in Canada, will be the director. Productions are set for Wednesday thru Saturday, Mar. 19-22, and Friday and Saturday, Mar. 28-29.

Robert Schor, '59, is lighting the show. Student tickets are available.

See Betty Williams for your reservations to the Rajah Theatre, Saturday, Mar. 22 at 8 p.m. The Four Freshmen of Capitol Record fame will be there in person.

Something we've needed for a long time in Reading is finally coming—high calibre legitimate theatre at student prices. Crawford Associates of Reading are bringing into the Rajah Theatre the brilliant Arthur Miller play, "A View from the Bridge," starring Luther Adler.

Capacity Crowds

The show has been playing to capacity crowds for extended engagements in Chicago, Montreal and Toronto. Doug Crawford, president of Crawford Associates, will make reserved balcony seats available to college students in the Reading and Allentown areas at $1.20 per person.

In reading the Chicago reviews, we find this said, "A View from the Bridge" knows where the inside of a man is, where error crowds truth for the privilege of birth . . . a hot-blooded performance . . . that from the Chicago Tribune.

The play will be on stage at the Rajah Thursday thru Saturday, Mar. 27-29 at 8:30 p.m. Student tickets will be available for all nights. Your campus representative for tickets—yours truly.

Next column will include a complete story on the Reading Civic Opera's next musical, "The King and I," which will be presented in the merry, merry month of May. Until I see you in April with some more theatrical information, Mush you huskies!

Renkenmen Gain First Triumph In Road Play

The Lions of Will Renken won their first road game of the season with a 55-49 defeat of the Lebanon Valley Dutchmen, but suffered successive setbacks at the hands of Wagner, F&M, Muhlenberg and Moravian. This brought their season's record to 8 wins and 14 defeats.

Clutch shooting by Dick Kelly and Stan Kaminski led the Lions to their second victory of the season over the Dutchmen and their second in seven years at Annville.

The Lions trailed 25-20 at the half, but six field goals in the last 10 minutes by Kelly were enough to decide the issue. Fred Dietzel was held to just one field goal by Barry Skaler of LVC.

Tie For First

The Wagner Seahawks tied Scranton and Wilkes for first place in the Northern Division of the small college Middle Atlantic Conference with a 79-56 romp over the Lions. The victory brought the Seahawks an 8-2 conference record.

Linnie West, the 6-5 center was the leading scorer of the Green and White with 17 points. His superb defensive work and rebounding helped overcome an early Lion lead.

Good Night

The red hot Franklin and Marshall Diplomats shot a fantastic 61% from the floor and licked the Red and White 88-79. The Dips' Bob Swetnam had 27 points, high for the game. Fred Dietzel scored 25 for the Lions.

Clint Jeffries led the Muhlenberg Mules to a come from behind victory over the Lions with 31 points. The 6-2 Jeffries, scoring 23 points in the second half, snared 15 rebounds and played a brilliant defensive game.

Mel Kessler with 17 and Dick Sekunda with 18 helped Jeffries in the Mule scoring. Dietzel again led the Lions with 22 points and Bruce Storms netted 19, his highest of the campaign.

Fritz Toner and Dick Chergey led the Moravian Greyhounds to a 94-85 victory over the Renkenmen. The two combined for 51 points. Dietzel netted 32 for Albright. The Lions trailed by as much as 22 points in the final half but on an all court press brought the Lions back to an eight point deficit.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

One cannot fully appreciate the library unless one works in it as a student assistant. Student assistants not only do research on books that professors want, they type, paste and file after the book arrives. The student assistant can appreciate greatly the efforts of the six part-time librarian assistants who help classify pamphlets, work with the records and magazines, type up reports, accession books and file book cards and work at the sign-out desk. Beside their regular duties each one of these women will gladly spend as much time as necessary helping the students look for books and magazines.

Work Hours

Dr. Raepel, head librarian, has worked here from eight to five Monday through Friday for 12 and one-half years. She does an inestimable job in running the library and paying attention to each book and magazine that comes in. Besides that, she also must look after every other function of the library, often working extra hours to get everything done.

In these 12 and one-half years many improvements have been made. As of January 31, the library contained 51,576 books, 3,665 pamphlets, 843 victrola records, 334 micro-films, 503 portraits, and 53 film strips.

We mention these accomplishments to emphasize the value of our college library to the student body. At the present time, our college library can provide books for graduate students as well as the regular students.

This information must be seen in the light of the budget. Compared to colleges of about equal rank, our library's budget is the smallest.

Questions

Now we would like to ask you a few questions.

1. Do you realize all that the library offers?
2. Do you appreciate and take advantage of those working in the library?
3. Do you realize the value of the library to the academic standing of the college?

Think over what has been written; then re-evaluate our library. Try out the library. There will be much less said against it if you do!

IN THE LION'S DEN

By LEE SWARTZ, Sports Editor

With the basketball season moving rapidly to a close, the tournament circuit is becoming of national interest once again. The NCAA tournament will probably draw the most powerful teams of all. Cincinnati, Kansas State, San Francisco, West Virginia and Temple are sure to play in this post season classic, thus assuring the tournament of five of the top 10 teams in the nation.

The National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden has been picking up the leftovers for the past few years and this year is no exception. The NIT will probably gather in the second place clubs from some of the major conferences plus some top independents such as Seattle and Dayton.

Small College Tournament . . .

For the smaller colleges, the NAIA also has a tournament, which shares equal billing with the NAIA tournament. Scranton seems a good bet to represent the middle Atlantic States in the former, with the latter tournament unrepresented from this area.

A big surprise this year is the absence of Kansas and Wilt Chamberlain from post season competition. The Jayhawks, unseated from their Big Eight Conference throne by Kansas State, are also eligible for the NIT due to a conference ruling.

Here at home, with the Lions nearing the end of the campaign, spirits are anything but high, but some optimism is in order. Most certainly a ball club cannot lose two of its starters, especially such capable performers as Merrill Eckhart and Wayne Hudson, and still be the same.

Veterans Will Return . . .

It is the hope of Coach Will Renken that these two players will be back next year and able to perform once more. Veterans Fred Dietzel, Dick Kelly and Paul Marrella will be back again next year, along with freshmen Stan Kaminski, Sam Preston and Ken Vandine. With contributions from the jayvee team and some freshmen recruits, Albright looks forward to brighter days.

Since this is the last column I will write for The Albrightian, I would like to thank Mike Teitelman, the new sports editor, Bob Sidman, Craig Leffler, Dohn Rosenthal and Eileen McCracken for their invaluable service to me on my staff. To the Albright athletes and coaches I wish much success for the and the future seasons ahead. This task has been an enjoyable and rewarding one and it is not with little regret that I put aside for the last time.

Jayvee Losing Streak Reaches Nine Games

The losing streak of the Albright jayvees was extended to nine games following losses to Lebanon Valley, Franklin and Marshall, Muhlenberg and Moravian, by scores of 70-57, 71-60, 65-54 and 72-71. The jayvee record now stands at 4-11.

Dick Moylan, Richie Greene and Cordell Reinhardt, led the Lion attack against LVC with 16, 14 and 11 points apiece, as the Lions tried to record their second victory of the season over the Dutchmen.

The F&M frosh broke a halftime tie and scored 38 points to beat the jayvees 69-60. High for the Lions was Greene, with 17 points. Charlie Smith was runner-up with 16. Chuc Quinn added 12, and Ken Vandine contributed 10 points to the Lion effort.

Early Lead

The Muhlenberg freshmen led the baby Lions by eight points at the half and lengthened their lead to 11 points at the end of the game for a 65-54 win. Greene paced the Lions with 18 points, Smith had 16 and Moylan 14.

The Moravian jayvees beat the Lions for the second time this year, 72-71, at Bethlehem. Greene's 27 points again paced the Lions, with Moylan adding 18 and Smith 12, as Moravian capitalized on Albright errors to overcome a five point halftime deficit.

Lions Meet Dips At Home

With eight wins in their first 22 games, the varsity cagers will next meet Franklin and Marshall and Dickinson. The Lions will meet F&M tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in the fieldhouse, and Dickinson Wednesday at Carlisle.

Tomorrow night's game will be the second encounter with the Diplomats this season. In the first game, F&M built up a 46-39 halftime lead and went on to down the Lions, 88-79.

Bob Swetnam led the F&M offensive with 27 points, with Joe Betrone and Jim Weinstein contributing 21 and 20 points, respectively. Al Kughe and Bob Souders split 16 markers.

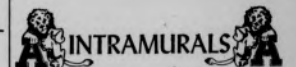

Fred Dietzel led the Lions in scoring with 25 points, with Stan Kaminski adding 19 and Bruce Storms 17.

Four Straight

Albright owns a skein of four straight victories over Dickinson's Red Devils. Last year, Dickinson won only two of 17 contests.

The Red Devils, coached by the third year by Joseph G. DuCharme, have improved this year. Joe Anglada and Barry Boyer head a list of freshman cagers who enrolled at Dickinson this year. Anglada is 6-6.

Ray Weaver provides the scoring punch for Dickinson. Hal Chase, a 6-4 performer who gave the Lions trouble last season, also starts for the Red Devils.

APOs Near Second Half Crown

The intramural basketball season is nearing completion with only one game remaining to be played by the teams in the B League.

Before last night's action the APO cagers were riding on top of the standings in an effort to make a clean sweep of the court honors in the A League. They annexed the first half championship. In recent play the APOs added another game to the win column, with only one to play.

The Zetas split even in their last two battles, Kappa evened their record with two victories to their credit, Pi Tau dropped three straight after an opening win and the Independents lost a single encounter.

Over in the B League the Red Devils are again leading the pack with the Zeta B squad close on their heels.

Students Favor Increase In Membership Quotas

By a margin of two to one, a cross section of Albright students voiced support for raising sorority and fraternity quotas during a recent poll by The Albrightian. The administration this week approved a sorority request for an increase in membership quotas. The fraternities have not requested an increase.

Sixty-six percent of the students interviewed favored increases in quotas. The largest group favoring such action was composed of freshman women. Men students were 55% in favor of increases.

Comments gathered by The Albrightian staff ranged from vigorously pro-fraternity and sorority to strict opposition to such groups.

The most common reason for approving the increase was that, "since Albright is expanding, its social organizations should also."

Others okayed the move, "as long as the standards of the organization are not lowered." One freshman woman stated that the move, "would improve not only the membership but the ideals of the groups."

Opposition to the idea was given because, "too many kids joining sororities and fraternities is no good," and also because, "fraternities and sororities are silly; all they do is breed a snooty class of kids. Keep the quota down. Heaven forbid that we should have more kids joining these cliques."

Another student stated that, "the quotas should stay the same. After all, it's supposed to be an honor to get into one of these groups. If they go around raising the quotas, it won't be such an honor because it won't be hard to get into them."

Favoring the increase, an Albrightian said, "The more students in a group, the more students that are able to show their talents. What a sorority or fraternity needs is talent."

Residence Statement Issued For Women

A policy statement with respect to married women students living in the women's residence halls was issued this week by the administration.

Constituting a new approach to the question, the policy was formulated following a survey of the policies of similar colleges. The statement read:

New Policy

In Albright College upperclass woman student may make request to remain in a residence hall after marriage. Each such request will be considered individually by the appropriate administrative officers. Minimum requirements for consideration of such a request are:

1. That the husband is not an Albright student.
2. That the homes of the woman student and her husband are not within commuting distance of the College.
3. That she makes personal and written application for such privilege of housing to the Dean of Women for decision by the administrative committee.
4. That she will select a room after all other single women students have chosen their rooms.
5. That she agrees to comply with all rules and regulations relating to the dormitory and will not expect special privileges.

The Lions won their first three matches as the tough trio of Frank Chavez, Ron Green, and Terry Stoltz continued their winning ways. The 123-pound Chavez smothered Bill Becker and undefeated 130-pound Ron Green claimed his ninth straight victim, Nick Arcaya. Terry Stoltz pinned his adversary, Ned Lee, in the 137-pound class.

Two Lose

Jerry Knapp and Herb Miller bowed to their opponents, Duke Snider and Lyn Marozoni, respectively, in two hard-fought battles in the 147- and 157-pound divisions.

Mike Errico of PMC defeated Bud Kauffman in the 167-pound class, 7-4, while Lion Jack Roessner fell before Jack Martin in a 13-11 decision. Concluding the match, George Morfogen yielded a 7-0 decision to PMC's Jack Brazier in the unlimited division.

The Lions sported a 5-4 record before the final contest of the season, a match with Muhlenberg Tuesday in the fieldhouse.

Student Council

that many campus organizations were not enthusiastic about the event.

York has not received notification concerning Student Council's discussion of topics previously considered at a "closed" meeting of selected students and administration last month.

Though a tentative budget was presented, action on it was postponed until the next meeting of Council since the number of students attending the meeting did not constitute a quorum.

Yearbook Bills

Organizations that have not as yet paid their bills for this year's senior yearbook, The Cue, have been asked to do so by Jack Linton, '58, business manager of the publication. He has requested that such groups contact him in the near future with respect to this matter.
