WILLIAM E. SCHAEFFER

To our classmates Joyce Erb and John Schaeffer, we humbly dedicate our Yearbook. Throughout our four years here at Albright, we fiold many memories . . . cramming for finals, endless term papers, athletic events, social activities, and lasting friendships. We look back over these years with thoughts of happiness and sadness. We hope that these pages of our college life will serve as a fitting tribute to you both, for you are a part of it.

It is with pride and pleasure that we present to you this written and pictorial attempt at an anthology of your college life. You are leaving Albright taking with you many memories of your coed days. The Cue this year has tried to include something about every part in your world as a student. We hope that in the future you can look back and cherish this book as a means to vivify the years which helped to round out your life.

HARRY V. MASTERS A.B., A.M., Ph.D., LL.D.

To the Class of 1952:

A record, chiefly pictorial, of the year 195051 at Albright College is presented in this yearbook. All students and especially seniors will cherish it for years to come. It will serve many, many times to bring to memory or to make more vivid the faces of many friends and the reliving of happy occasions.

Success in college involves work but it also provides unequaled opportunity for making many choice friendships which will endure throughout life. There are also many enjoyable social occasions never to be forgotten. Because of this yearbook you will be able to experience again these happy events and fond memories.

We trust that for all students, and very particularly for the members of the Class of 1951, this year and all the years at Albright College have been happy as well as profitable. It is our wish and hope for each of you that the years ahead may be years of true happiness, sound prosperity and generous service.

Just Us

520 McKnight St.

Reading, Pa.

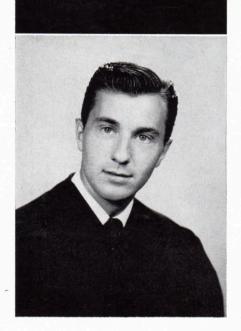

▶ "My soul!" That's Jackie, our witty bio major. Besides being a member of Skull and Bones, and Alchemists, she lends her talented voice to the Glee Club, and her congenial personality to the Daywomen's Club. A Mu and past secretary of French Club, this promising lab tech is also one of the hardest workers on the Cue staff. Although the Science Hall keeps her busy, Jackie somehow finds time to play an occasional game of canasta.

1304 Howard Place

Reading, Pa.

Max is a dapper dayman who concentrates his academic efforts in the Business Administration Department. Albright's "Slammin' Sammy Snead" is well known for his record-breaking golf feats. In his spare time this outstanding golfer is a habitué of the SUB where, over a cup of java, he creates many lasting friendships. The pinochle games, the parties at the Tower and Prof. Gates' classes will always be among his treasured memories.

FREDERICK C. BECKER

1520 Mineral Spring Road

Reading, Pa.

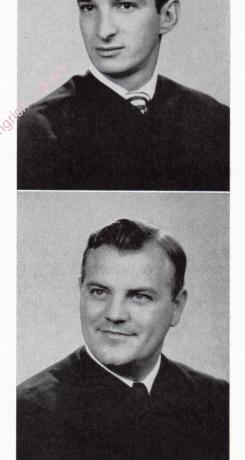

Fritz, who is an ex-Infantry man, is majoring in business administration preparatory to a career as a salesman. His persuasive manner, his loquacious tendencies, and his exuberant energy, together with the support of his endearing wife and son are certain to be tremendous assets for a successful future. His favorite hobbies are hunting and fishing which fact is evidenced by his absence from classes during the opening days of those seasons.

Jesse T. Becker

14 E. Main St.

Fleetwood, Pa.

Noted for his sincere smile, Jesse will long be remembered as one of Albright's excellent student teachers. He is an active language major and as such his name appears on the lists of the Delta Phi Alpha, the French Club and the German Club, serving as president for the latter one. Jesse is planning to follow a teaching career here in Reading, which will keep him in contact with the Lions in whose activities he has always been interested.

Twenty-two

DOLORES E. BEDDING

2128 Perkiomen Ave.

Mt. Penn, Reading, Pa.

▶ Party! party! This lassie really loves a good time. An ardent sports enthusiast, Debbie is an active member of the hockey, basketball and baseball teams. An accomplished musician, hard-working PAT, conscientious bookstore helper, and an all-round terrific gal, Debbie never seems too busy to lend a helping hand. Although a sternfaced pledge-master, Debbie never hesitates to let her hair down for a good sorority skit.

CHARLES R. BOOSER

27 Fort St.

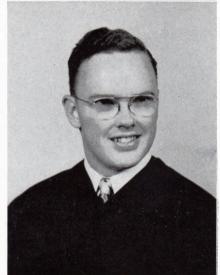

Lemoyne, Pa.

▶ Our ex-Army Infantry bandsman is best known at Albright for his amiable disposition and extensive knowledge of music. Charlie is proudly claimed by the band, orchestra, glee club and Y choir; in addition, he has also been the leader of our Christmas carolers, and an untiring member of the Y Cabinet. When he gets time, our future accountant can be found playing ping-pong in the SUB or planning his future life in York.

JANE J. BROZENE

1053 Chestnut St.

Reading, Pa.

This demure, curly-headed miss is one of the few females who know that a slide rule is used for something other than drawing straight lines. A whiz at math and physics, pretty Jane is also known for her lovely clothes and millinery creations, her soft-spoken graces as PAT chaplain, and her say smile. Besides these attributes, Janie is an excellent math student who plans to continue her studies at graduate school.

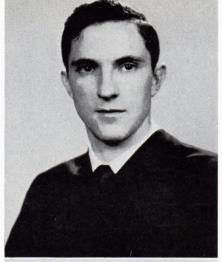

LEONARD S. BUXTON

1608 Market St.

Harrisburg, Pa.

▶ Bucky is a hard-working, easy-going pre-ministerial student whose various activities keep him on the move constantly. During his senior year this music-loving chap served as pastor in the Grace EUB Church at ETAOINT led the Y Family drive and the Y matins, was president of the Glee Club, and director of the Y Choir. In the future he plans to attend seminary and then graduate school at Boston University.

Twenty-three

LEONARD S. COLEMAN

1124 Oley St.

Reading, Pa.

Meet the Alan Ladd of our class! This handsome, smartly dressed lad with the wavy hair is an ambitious student who aims for the public accounting profession. A married man, and an ex-Marine, Lennie, at times, finds it difficult to study with his two children around. We will always remember our congenial, well-groomed classmare for his parlor-pink philosophy and his vehement defense of "what is right."

WILLIAM R. COLLIER

162 Greenwich St.

Reading, Pa.

Bill, who has investigated philosophy and history at Albright, claims to be a personified individualist. He plans to do graduate work in economics and having a passion for truth, with a minimum of indifference as to where it may lead us, he should create brave new worlds in this field. An impressive fellow, the memory of one who can shift from metallic realism to soft spun phantasy will forever amaze those who have come to know Bill.

Twenty-four

FRANKLIN I. CAPPEL

242 Oak St.

Pottstown, Pa.

▶ Commuting from Pottstown, Frank is a social science major who intends to teach in the secondary schools. A quiet fellow, this married man and former navy veteran spends his free hours studying in the library, or reminiscing about his fraternity days at Gettysburg where he spent his freshman and sophomore years. Of his many college memories, those political science classes with Professor Smith will always be highly prized.

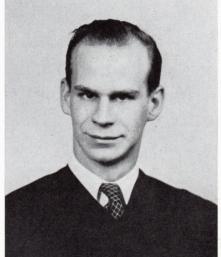

FRANCIS L. CARNEY

918 N. 12th St.

Reading, Pa.

▶ Bud could well be said to have that amazing combination of seriousness and affability that makes the best student and the best friend. Planning graduate studies in cultural history, he hopes to do creative-interpretive work. At parties or on evenings with the boys, Bud can be found where gaiety is king, only to return next day to the world of learning. To read the books and sing the songs of life—"What more is there?" asks Bud.

RICHARD L. CONNELL

2446 Fairview Ave.

Mt. Penn. Pa.

Dick, one of our married daymen, is a habitual frequenter of the library. A Spanish major and a music minor, he wrote the musical pageant about South America which was presented by the Spanish Club. Since Dick plans to teach Spanish in the southwestern part of the United States, he will do his graduate work in Puerto Rico. He will always treasure memories of the friendly Albright attitude and of Rev. Barth's ethics classes.

BARNETT A. DAVID, JR.

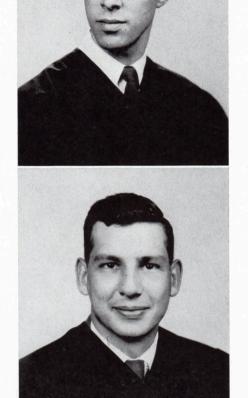

1516 Hampden Blvd.

Reading, Pa.

▶ This active Pi Gamma Mu member is a quiet, unassuming fellow who made headlines in his senior year when he became engaged. Although Bud missed the philosophy sessions in the SUB, he spent many pleasant hours in the Daymen's Lounge, where he will always be remembered for his willingness to extend a helping hand. A psych major, and a cool February graduate, he plans to take his master's work in psychology at North Carolina State.

DOROTHY M. DEAM

116 Hook St.

Birdsboro, Pa.

This very attractive brunette is our hardworking Cue editor who somehow finds time to serve as "veep" for the Phi Beta Mu Sorority, and Pi Gamma Mu, president of Sigma Tau Delta, and as member of F.T.A., in addition to time spent in many social activities. In her "spare time," this constant Dean's lister can be found in the book-store either working, or engaging in a non-philosophical discussion over a cup of coffee.

DONALD W. DEIBERT

25 Margaretta St.

Schuylkill Haven, Pa.

An inimitable fellow, Don came to us from Schuylkill Haven with the idea of becoming a student of science. To best describe him, we quote his desires: "to work in the field of mathematics, to raise a family, and to spread good will to all people." We know that Don will modestly go about doing just what he set out to accomplish. When not working specifically for those ends, Don can be found relaxing at musical and sports events.

Twenty-five

NORMAN E. DETTRA, JR.

218 E. Maple St.

Annville, Pa.

Make way for this congenial fellow with the spontaneous wit and contagious personality! Not only is Norm a popular campus personality, but he is also a willing worker for numerous campus organizations. Besides serving as newspaper editor for the Zetas, proctor of the Frosh House North, secretary of I.R.C., and treasurer of Pi Gamma Mu, this well dressed history major still finds time to whistle to that certain window in the Chapel Dorm.

EUGENIA DOMPKOWSKI

527 S. 4th St.

Reading, Pa.

Run for the nurse! Living in the infirmary, Jean, our school nurse, is in demand at all hours of the night. It isn't enough for this psychology major just to be busy; she also works at The Reading Ice Cream Company, is a member of Skull and Bones, and of the Alchemist's Club, and still finds plenty of time for parties, a certain fellow, dancing, and driving lessons, as well as crochet. After graduation Jean plans to teach nursing.

WALTER C. DRAZEK

1426 N. Olden Ave.

Trenton 8, N. J.

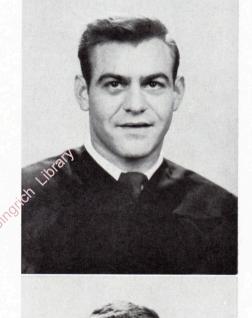

This ardent athlete, with an Atlas-like build, has been a key cog in the destinies of Albright's football team for four years, twice making the A.P. All State Honorable Mention Team. In addition to athletics, Walt finds time to major in social science and work in the book store. A loyal Kappa, Walt is looking forward to a combination teaching and coaching position, if his Marine Corps Reserve unit is not called into action.

JOHN W. ELSASSER

180-06 Baisley Blvd.

St. Albans, Queens, N. Y.

▶ With a ready smile and an opportune comment, John came to us from St. Albans, New York. Here in Reading he is active on the mountain top where, being a congenial fellow and a "good mixer", he has made many friends. Besides spending "much time" here at Albright preparing for a business degree, he has also managed to participate in all the intramural sports. Because of Uncle Sam's prerogatives, John's plans for the future are, at present, very uncertain.

125 S. 3rd St.

Frackville, Pa.

▶ Looking for an argument? Joe is the boy to see—just order a cup of coffee at the SUB and start talking. Since he is a logic addict, his ambition is to become a member of the bar—a lawyer, that is. Even though this earnest dialectician commutes daily from his home in Frackville, he still manages to find time for active service in the Kappas. All this, however, could not have been done without the help of his charming and intelligent wife.

BARBARA H. FINCH

26 E. Clearfield Rd.

Havertown, Pa.

This vivacious gal will be remembered as prexy of the Spanish Club and as secretary of Sigma Tau Delta. Student Council, Y.W.C.A. Cabinet, Women's Student Senate, and F.T.A. also claim her as a member. An untiring helper, Barby can be found each Sunday night in the Dean's Office welcoming the girls back from their week-ends. This future teacher will certainly be a great asset to the teaching profession.

ALBERT J. FIORINI

769 N. 8th St.

Reading, Pa.

This small and ever-smiling chap is the possessor of a lovely wife and daughter. During World War II, he was a navy storekeeper and is still mindful of his harrowing experiences in Tokyo Bay. His great desire in life is to travel to foreign countries, especially to Europe and South America. Since his study is in the field of languages and as he is a Spanish major with a French minor his goal is practically in sight.

JACK N. FISHER

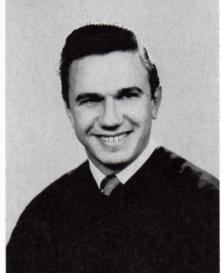

1550 Lancaster Ave.

Reading, Pa.

▶ Jack spends his time wisely pursuing his future as an industrial chemist. Being a chemistry major with a math minor has given him many memorable hours in the science hall. Prof. Speicher's classes and organic chemistry with Dr. Lin will always be treasured memories. A citizen of Reading, Jack has contributed much to the Alchemist Society. With his pleasant personality, we are sure that he will go far as a chemist.

Twenty-seven

WILLIAM C. GANNON

1312 N. 6th St.,

Reading, Pa.

▶ Just look among the test tubes and slide rules of the science hall and there's Bill. When not busy "cooking up" some master preparation, he spends his time on campus with the three instrumental groups—band, orchestra, and the Celebrities. When off campus, Bill divides his time among photography, golf, roller skating, and ice skating. The Cue also claims him as one of its business assistants. "Dan Cupid" hasn't struck yet, but Bill's a willing target.

Lois J. Gehris

30 Crestmont St.

Reading, Pa.

• "But Dr. Horn!" This short and energetic pre-medical student deserves plenty of credit for four years of ribbing from her colleagues, and for disproving the old "weaker sex" theory. Outside the "odoriferous" science hall, our little bundle of energy is always active—besides being prexy of W.S.S., hockey, basketball, tennis, and baseball also claim her. As a PAT and secretary of Skull and Bones, Lois has done a fine job.

Twenty-eight

EDWARD J. FLEMMING

1414 Linden St.

Reading, Pa.

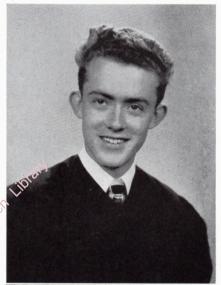

▶ Ed, a veteran of many war campaigns, is that very friendly Albrightian who will try anything once. A local student, this blond curly-head is really sociable—he'll play pinochle with anyone. Ed is engaged in many activities, the most important of which is the presidency of the Kappa Upsilon Phi Fraternity. However, he also plays golf, participates in intramural sports, and plans for his future career as a millionaire.

JOHN H. FRYMOYER

117 E. Walnut St.

Shillington, Pa.

This good-looking Pi Tau spends most of his spare time playing basketball. He is a member of a team outside of school and he shared the spot-light with the other members of the champion Pi Tau basketball team of 1950-51. John also participates in other intramural sports for his fraternity. He is a business administration major and can usually be found in the Daymen's Lounge or with his cohort, Kenny Kohl.

VINCENT J. GENTILE

1940 S. Bonsall St.

Philadelphia 45, Pa.

Nant something done? Just ask Vince! This very popular Albrightian is well known to all of us as the congenial APO president who has kindly taken the responsibility of so many of Albright's activities. A list of all the affairs of which this future business man has been chairman, or of all those in which he has given a helping hand, would be quite voluminous, but it would certainly show his altruistic tendencies.

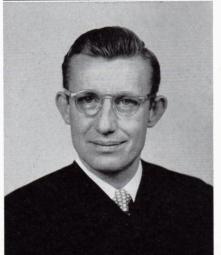

JAMES C. GERHARD

36 Parkway St.

Ephrata, Pa.

▶ Jim is a pre-med who plans to do graduate work in osteopathy. The navy, Skull and Bones, and the Alchemist Club have already given him a good background for his future work. In his plaid jacket and white buckskin shoes, this personable fellow with the winning smile is a familiar sight working in the science hall or sitting in the Sub reminiscing with his APO brothers over those unforgettable frat parties.

ALBERT GITTLEMAN

63 Smith St.

Perth Amboy, N. J.

Al, one of our smiling waiters in the dining hall, spends much of his time in "the school on the hill." In his spare time, Al relaxes by participating in the music organizations of our campus. As an active member of Student Council, he represents the boarding men. Al is non-fraternity, but has had a very active extra-curricular life at Albright. He hopes to spend his future life as a doctor in service to others.

ANDREW GLOVATSKY

17 Holland St.

Nesquehoning, Pa.

▶ Should you by chance be seeking the "Shanghai" sailor, you will usually find him concocting fantastic compounds in the chemistry lab. Andy, who comes from the coal regions, earned his nickname because of his many tales about China to which we enjoy listening. This Kappa man is a chem and math major and has a membership in the American Chemical Society. Because of his intense liking for chemistry, his future as an industrial chemist is assured.

Twenty-nine

GORDON E. GOCKLEY

51 Lincoln Ave.

Ephrata, Pa.

A collector of classical records, an opera and theatre enthusiast, and a talented music student, this quiet, friendly fellow is majoring in German and French, and minoring in English. With this knowledge he plans to become a language instructor. Since he spends many hours in the library, he finds unnecessary talking very objectionable. Gordy is well liked by his classmates and his goal is a successful pedagogic career.

INGELORE GRAMM

801 Trent Ave.

Wyomissing, Pa.

▶ This fair-haired German lass with the peaches-and-cream complexion and the pleasant smile has done her share to pierce the gloom of the Science Hall. The Glee Club has been benefited by her lovely voice, Skull and Bones by her keen scientific mind, and the French and German Clubs by her natural linguistic ability. With her natural science major, Ingelore plans to return to Germany; we're grateful for the years she could spend with us.

JACK GREENSPAN

7793 Spring Ave.

Elkins Park, Philadelphia, Pa.

Jack's wit has lifted many a soul laboring in the science hall. He has given much of his leadership to the organization of a strong marching band and orchestra. Jack fought hard in Student Council for strong student government and gave time to Skull and Bones and Alchemists. He has fond memories of Mrs. Douds, quill, pen and ink, and the in the APO house. Reva and medicine hold a bright future for this energetic Albrightian.

MARIANO GUIDUCCI

1100 Mott St.

Peckville, Pa.

▶ This able and intelligent Albrightian, a native of Pecksville, Pennsylvania, came to our institution for his junior and senior work. Although Mariano is a serious and quiet student, he displays much enthusiasm at fraternity affairs with his Kappa brothers. A chemistry major and a math minor, Mariano serves as president of the student affiliate of a chemistry society and plans to do graduate work in this field at Lehigh University.

RODNEY S. HAAS

R. D. 1, Douglassville, Pa.

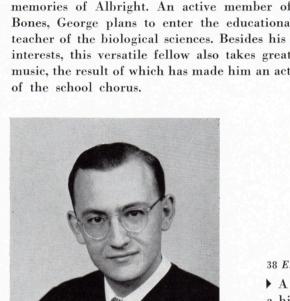

This handsome young man is in the movies—I mean as a movie projectionist. Although Rod commutes daily from Douglassville, he still finds time for many campus activities. As a Kappa, he has been a participant in intramural sports and a constant frequenter of their fraternity dances. Although he is a math major with a brilliant future, his plans for this future will probably be interrupted by a period of service for Uncle Sam.

GEORGE L. HAMM

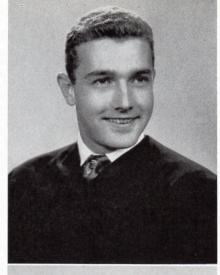

716 W. Poplar St.

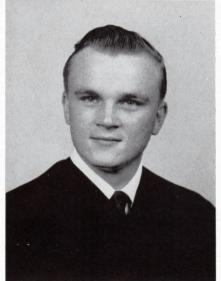

York, Pa.

APO House and science hall—these are George's favorite haunts as well as the sources of many of his fond memories of Albright. An active member of Skull and Bones, George plans to enter the educational field as a teacher of the biological sciences. Besides his pedagogical interests, this versatile fellow also takes great interest in music, the result of which has made him an active member of the school chorus.

JAMES L. HARRING

38 E. 2nd St.

Mt. Carmel, Pa.

A pre-ministerial student from Mount Carmel, Jim has a high goal set for himself in the Air Force Chaplaincy. The time this ambitious fellow spends on campus helps to develop his well-rounded personality. For recreation, Tom participates in the social hour at the SUB, K.T.X. sports, work at the library, and the worship at the Wednesday Night Service. These activities should prepare him well for his duture.

HELEN M. HASSELGREN

46 Normandie Place

Sea Bright, N. J.

This lass with the twinkling eyes and the high pitched laugh is our bio lab assistant whose sense of humor always defeats her attempts to be stern. Our versatile classmate plays hockey and basketball as well as she dissects and distills. Hassy is recording secretary for the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority, a member of Skull and Bones, and an inhabitant of the Belfry. In the future Hassy plans to do more work in the field of biology.

Thirty-one

1502 N. 12th St.

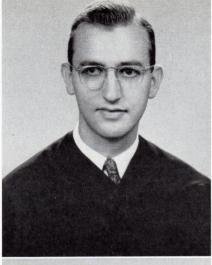

Reading, Pa.

Meet that deadline! When midnight oil burns in the Albrightian Office, we know Bill is busy getting out Friday's edition of The Albrightian. Our capable Editor-in-Chief, a psychology major, is also active in student government, and we will never forget his part in the presidential election of 1951. Besides his numerous activities, our consistent Dean's lister is also a licensed minister who will long remember the inspiring talks of Nels Ferré and Walter Horton.

WILLIAM G. HEIDLEBAUGH

R. D. 9, York, Pa.

▶ This quiet, well dressed gentleman is a proud member of the Alpha Pi Omega Fraternity, and has been actively interested in intramural sports during his four years at Albright. Known fondly as Willy, Bill is a social science major, but he is as yet undecided as to a post-graduate career in teaching or business. The APO dances and pledgeship, as well as the intramural football games will always stir up pleasant memories for Bill.

MARTIN A. HELD

1407 Church St.

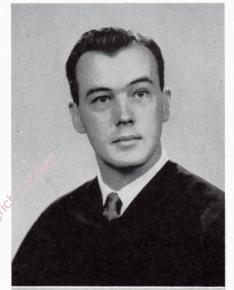

Reading, Pa.

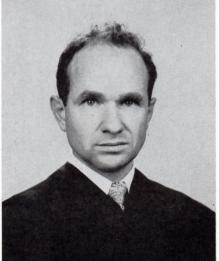

This quiet, good-looking Albrightian can be seen daily making the climb to Merner-Pfeiffer to pursue the studies which he hopes will gain him entrance to Temple Dental School. The rage of the age—television, but more specifically, football games—hold great interest for Mart. He also finds relaxation in good books, his stamp collection, and Skull and Bones. With his bright future, Martin is a good catch for any girl!

EARL J. HEYDINGER

R. D. No. 1, Fleetwood, Pa.

If anyone asks Earl about canals, he is "stuck" for several hours, for Earl is a very enthusiastic student of the history of transportation and commerce; however on any other subject he must consult his wife. A history major and an English minor are his tools for careful research and honest reporting. Earl hopes to attend graduate school to prepare for historical research. We will always think of him as a walking historical journal.

Thirty-two

633 Maple Ave.

Teaneck, N. J.

▶ "There are no bats in our Belfry!" Dorie, one of the members of the famous Belfry crew, is the earnest, efficient president of the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority. Besides her duties as prexy, this attractive home economics major also lends her energies to the Heo Club, and Skull and Bones. No need to ask Dorie for her fondest memories of Albright or for her future plans—that beautiful diamond on her left hand tells the whole story.

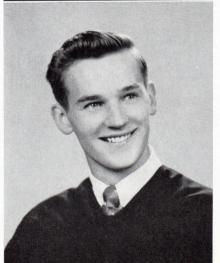

ROBERT R. HOHL

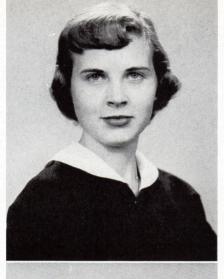

548 S. Court St.

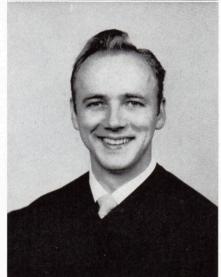

Glenside, Reading, Pa.

A science hall major, this conscientious chap is the busy father of two boys. Being an excellent student, as well as a proud parent, he was awarded the Glen K. Morris math prize in his sophomore year. Bob will always be remembered for his active part in those rip-roaring math classes and for his numerous sessions in the SUB. His plans for the future include either graduate studies as a student assistant, or civil service work.

HARRY B. IRWIN

842 Pear St.

Reading, Pa.

A Methodist minister-to-be, Harry is preparing for his future work by following the social science course. This day student can usually be found "shooting the bull" in the SUB. In his spare time he works for his father in the store, or pursues his fany hobby—tropical, that is. At the present Harry is looking towards the future with a cheery "on to seminary." All this, plus an eye on marriage, should prove valuable to him.

STANLEY M. JANIKOWSKI

1276 Muhlenberg St.

Reading, Pa.

Stan, a campus brain, as is evident by the Dean's list, has managed to interrupt his studies enough to enjoy dancing and traveling with a certain school teacher. With a major interest in accounting, Stan has been able to apply his business knowledge as treasurer for the Zetas and as a cost accountant for the firm of Orr and Sembower. His future will probably follow a pattern of military service, graduate school, and then a career as a C.P.A.

Thirty-three

THOMAS R. JONES

1414A N. 11th St.

Reading, Pa.

▶ Quiet, sincere, friendly, and serious are words which best describe Tom. One of our married students, this exserviceman is a social science major who plans to enter the ministry of the Evangelical United Brethren Church. He is a member of both K.T.X. and the Glee Club, and we will all remember his tenor solos in the campus productions of The Messiah. His splendid qualities will serve him effectively in his future religious work.

Joseph Julo

216 E. Ridge St.

Coaldale, Pa.

▶ Our native son of the mining town of Coaldale is a zealous student of science—both curricular and extracurricular, since he's a loyal member of Skull and Bones and the Alchemists. Furthermore, Joe has athletic ability, which was easily seen if one watched the Lion's capable center on the football team last season. Living with the Kappas, this future dentist is naturally an ardent advocate of fraternity life and fraternity affairs.

MARIASTELLA KAPUTO

239 N. 6th St.

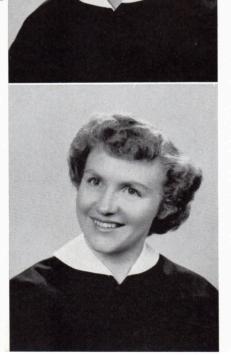

Reading, Pa.

Marie will always remember her freshman year, her broken leg, the Model U.N. and those long evening sessions in the Albrightian Office. Editing the newspaper's copy, marching in the band, taking the minutes for I.R.C. and practice teaching in Spanish keep her quite busy. Neverotheless, this ambitious girl finds time to work at Pomerous. Of her many classes, Marie claims that those with Rev. Barth and Miss Rodriguez are her favorites.

PAULINE B. KENYON

R. D. 3, Nazareth, Pa.

Petite, blonde, blue-eyed Polly Kenyon is vitally interested in social service work after graduation. Although she is co-chairman of Y-Retreat, an active member of the Y Cabinet, and a capable actress in Domino Club, Polly finds time to go horseback riding, to do some sewing and, of all things, to study her favorite subject—Greek. With an avocation like studying Greek, Polly can't help but claim Dr. Gingrich as her favorite professor.

Thirty-four

1421 N. 13th St.

Reading, Pa.

Most Albrightians know Paul through his reputation on the tennis court. His other activities, including the presidency of the Eastern District of the F.T.A., have also increased his popularity. As a science hall major, we find the physics lab to be his favorite haunt, since after graduation he plans to teach physics. Paul will never forget Dr. Merritt's "little quizzes," and the trips to North Carolina with the tennis team.

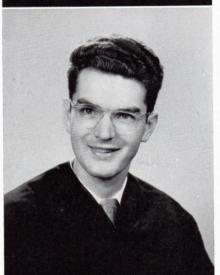

CHARLES L. KLINGER

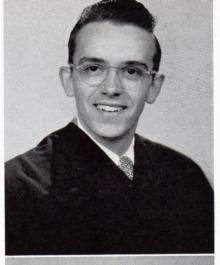

1413 W. 4th St.

Lewistown, Pa.

This campus cut-up is kept on the move by his avid interest in sports, especially those for K.T.X. Wednesday Night Worship Services, ping-pong in the SUB, the track team, and those constant trips to the Nurse's Residence of the Reading Hospital also keep him busy. However his greatest interests are Ruth and driving. Charlie will long remember the days, months, and years spent in Prof. Khouri's history classes.

GALEN N. KLINGER

547 W. Broad St.

Williamstown, Pa.

Dividing his time between his wife in Williamstown and his studies here at Albright, this quiet and well-liked boarding student is still able to work ardently in the Y, the Kappa Tau Chi, and the panish Club, not forgetting his interesting hobby of collecting antiques. In September, he plans to continue his ministerial training at the Evangelical School of Theology and we feel sure he will meet with success in his chosen profession.

Austin L. Knowles

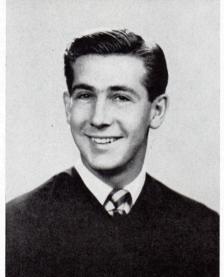

950 Culvert St.

Reading, Pa.

▶ This proud native of Reading and loyal supporter of Kappa Tau Chi can frequently be found in the SUB engrossed in deep philosophical discussions. Besides Austin's sessions in the SUB, he is also a conscientious part-time worker. Friendly and well liked, he is looking forward to preaching in the Reformed Church and thus he will continue his studies for the next three years at the Lancaster Seminary.

Thirty-five

KENNETH K. KOHL

308 S. Sterley St.

Shillington, Pa.

This stalwart and loyal Pi Tau, with his handsome countenance and scintillating personality, will undoubtedly make a name for himself in the business world. Although Kenny works, he still finds time to play basketball off campus and also for the Pi Tau's intramural team. Besides these activities, Kenny held No. 37 on Albright's football team for three years, and was on the track team. Kenny'll miss those famous "coffee-clotches."

CHAUNCEY KROUT

208 S. 5th St.

North Wales, Pa.

▶ Chauncey, "a howling K U Phi," will officially go down as a business administration major. But, beyond that, the Beau Brummel from North Wales will be remembered for his fine quarterbacking during his last two years at Albright, and many of the Kappa pledges will remember him as their ardent archon. Dynamic and capable, Chauncey will chart his way through the future in a sales managerial position.

GERTRUD E. KUECKLICH

163 Saint Nicholas Ave.

Brooklyn, N. Y.

Three cheers for Germany! Our captivating exchange student from Germany is an all-out fosterer of good will. This pretty little miss is certainly a busy gal on campus: when not writing the minutes for F.T.A. and Delta Phi Alpha she can be found cheering up the members of the Y, the Glee Club or the German Club. Germany will certainly be glad when its little blond girl returns home to radiate her personality as a social worker.

BRUCE B. KURZWEG

2148 Kutztown Road

Reading, Pa.

This handsome and most amiable man-about-town spends part of his time as a salesman in Paul's Men's Shop; in such an atmosphere it is little wonder that he is one of the best dressed men on campus. In addition to his job, Bruce is also an active worker in the Psychology Clinic as well as an active worker at home for his very pretty wife and daughter. After graduation he plans to enter personnel or civil service social work.

Thirty-six

RAMONA R. LATORRE

Center St.

R. D. 1, Elysburg, Pa.

Mo is the little girl with the laughing eyes who just can't live without coffee and a certain red-headed gentleman. The Mu's able recording secretary will always remember her pledging days, and the Kappa's singing "Ramona." This sociology major and psychology minor is as able at explaining Veblin's theory as she is at playing hockey or basketball. Social work and a red-headed family are Mo's plans for the future.

RICHARD LEITHAM

1335 Locust St.

Reading, Pa.

▶ On both the hardwood and the diamond, Dick has proved himself a real scrapper at Albright. Through his efforts the Zetas have acquired many sports trophies. Contrary to appearances, Lefty, as he is affectionately termed, is a quiet, amiable hard-worker majoring in the social sciences. After a brief term of military service, he hopes to teach history and serve as an athletic coach. With his enthusiasm and perseverance, success is inevitable.

ROBERT M. LEZENBY

517 Perry St.

Reading, Pa.

This active and trustworthy Morightian can usually be found in meetings of Kappa Tau Chi, Philosophy Club, and German Club. Following graduation Bob plans to attend Mt. Airy Seminary, after which he will become a member of the Lutheran clergy. Bob, who is a social science major, is very capable and sincere young man and we know that with his philanthropical attitude toward life he will undoubtedly be a success in his future career.

COLLIN W. LINKLETTER

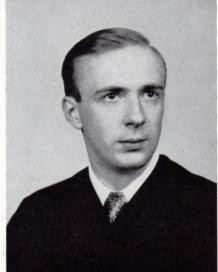

1866 Cider Mill Rd.

Orchard Park, Union, N. J.

A boarding student majoring in social science and minoring in sociology, Link hails from Union, New Jersey, where he makes his home with his wife, Dotty, and daughter, Doris Ann. This modest Albrightian served his country during the last war and now is looking forward to taking good care of his family in the future. Link will be remembered by his friends as one of the quiet members of the senior class.

Thirty-seven

ROBERT H. LIPPINCOTT

1020 Pear St.

Reading, Pa.

▶ Lend an ear! Here comes Bob, whose speaking ability won him the annual Kelchner Speech contest. No doubt much of his oratorical success can be attributed to those lengthy "bull" sessions in the SUB. Credit must also be given to his lovely wife for her cooperation and encouragement in his college course. We will always remember this dynamic personality, and we predict that he will go far in his chosen field of industrial psychology.

ROBERT F. LLOYD

Box 91, Akron, Pa.

▶ For four years, this neatly dressed fellow with the well-cared-for car has commuted to Albright from Akron, Pa. An enthusiastic Domino dramatist, Bob will long remember his parts in the plays which were so ably directed by Mrs. Shirk. But to us, Bob will always be that garrulous fellow who could usually be found telling jokes in the SUB. Another of our married men, Bob's future plans include a career in business and politics.

DONALD I. LODER

R. D. 1, Mohrsville, Pa.

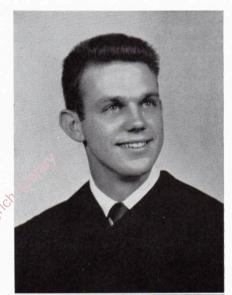

Nicknamed "Easy Ed" because of his easy-going manner, Don is eyeing Uncle Sam closely for a brief interruption in his medical career. Here at Albright, the basketball team, the Skull and Bones and the Zeta fraternity claim a great deal of Ed's talents. This dayman spends so much time in the Daymen's Room that it was suggested jokingly—that he pay rent for it. Off campus, we know Don as "the man about town" driving an oil true.

ROBERT D. LONG

30 W. Main St.

Girardville, Pa.

A cheer for the Kappas! This Albrightian really supports his fraternity: its representative in Student Council in his junior year; its secretary in his senior year; an active and successful participant in its intramural sports. Quiet and unassuming, this young man plans a career in business. His ability to get things accomplished—as attested by his accelerated college career which made him a February graduate—will be a great asset to him.

Thirty-eight

MRS. DOROTHY B. LOOSE

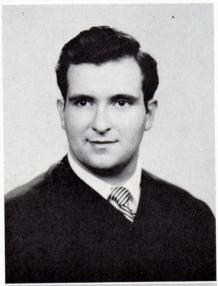

Leesport, Pa.

▶ "A friend in need is a friend indeed!" Mrs. Loose, our conscientious home economics major, always finds time to help others. This amiable lady, proudly claimed by Leesport, is an active member of the Home Economics Organization and of the F.T.A. Mrs. Loose enjoys being with her campus friends and engaging in campus activities, but she also finds it very comforting to relax with her family and to care for her beautiful flower garden.

JOHN C. MACCONNELL

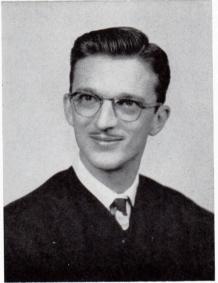

R. D. 2, Reading, Pa.

▶ "Hold that pose!" Here is our hard-working Cue photographer with his quiet voice and soft felt hat. John can usually be found in "council meetings" in the SUB with Lippincott, Albert, and Snyder. Although John is kept busy with his social studies, photography, and student teaching, he still finds time to devote to his family and to his job with the J. R. Richards Real Estate Agency. Pi Gamma Mu will long remember his "hypnotic" personality.

VINCENT F. MAGGIO

424 S. 5th St.

Reading, Pa.

Vince is a business administration major who looks forward to a career in the bakery business. An active member of the Pi Tau's, Vince's cherished memories of the frat recall a certain night in the spring of 1951. Because he works after classes, Vince doesn't have time to participate in other organizations on campus, but nevertheless he is a strong supporter of Friday night dances. So long, Vince, we'll be looking for those cakes!

MARGERY A. MANSFIELD

6711 Frankford Ave.

Philadelphia 35, Pa.

Neat, well dressed, and pert best describe Marge. As prexy of Dorm Council, veep of Pi Alpha Tau, secretary of the Heo Club and the Y, this popular lady has no trouble keeping busy. We'll always remember Marge's enthusiasm in all her work, as well as her pride in that handsome frat pin that she always wears. Marge plans to put her home economics experience to good use when she performs her wifely duties to that certain doctor.

Thirty-nine

75 Coles St.

Glen Cove, N. Y.

Charlie, nicknamed Hook because of his great pitching ability, is one of Albright's star athletes. For four years he has played varsity football and baseball, and for two years he has been co-captain of the football team. A married man, our social science major and member of the Kappas and F.T.A. plans to become a social science teacher and an athletic coach in order to support his sweet wife and adorable baby.

JEANNE M. MAUST

Springs, Pa.

▶ This conscientious and avidly interested worker in the psychology lab, is also an ardent sociology fan, and one of the most cheerful waitresses in the dining hall. An active member of the Phi Beta Mu Sorority, Jeanne will long remember the many exciting escapades of pledging. Jeanne's future plans are uncertain, but she hopes to do child social work. Her lovely smile and happy-go-lucky disposition will carry her far.

JAMES F. McLAUGHLIN

1122 N. 12th St.

Reading, Pa.

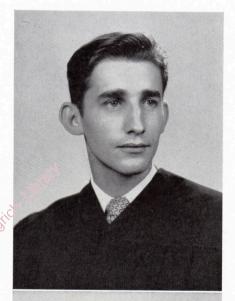

Prior to entering Albright College, Jim was a radar operator on the destroyer McKean. Now he is a physics major and a math minor since his main ambition in life is to be qualified to teach science in a high school in the western part of the country. Jim is a very amiable fellow with no special likes or dislikes. All in all he is a chap well worth knowing, and one who will undoubtedly have a successful future.

HUGH Y. McLEISH

5845 Penn St.

Philadelphia 24, Pa.

Mac, as his Kappa brothers affectionately refer to him, is a boarding student from the City of Brotherly Love. A business administration major, Mac has no particular plans for the future—perhaps Selective Service will rescue him from this dilemma. An ardent sports enthusiast, Mac has participated in intramural football, basketball, and softball. If anyone needs a good morale builder, see Mac in the SUB over a cup of coffee.

WILLIAM P. MEYER

28 Custer Court

Penn Village, Pottstown, Pa.

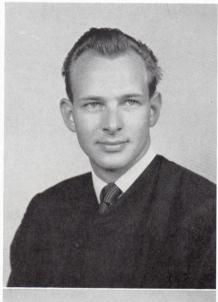

▶ "I'm sorry, but this book may not be taken out until 2:30!" These seem to be Bill's favorite words, since he is our very capable library assistant. In addition to his library work, Bill is also a proud "pater" and a competent draftsman. Although his seven-year-old son does most of his homework—so Bill claims—Bill, nevertheless, plans to go to graduate school in order to prepare for a Library Science degree.

JOHN H. MILLER

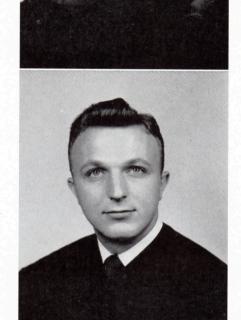

730 William St.

Pen Argyl, Pa.

I Jack, who is a very personable and sociable chap, came to Albright from Pen Argyl, Pennsylvania to matriculate in the business administration course. He has been an active Kappa by serving his fraternity as its treasurer and by representing it on the intramural football and basketball teams. Looking into the future, we can see Jack as a busy and successful businessman with plenty of time to indulge in his favorate hobby, photography.

JOHN W. MILLER

320 Franklin St.

West Reading, Pa.

Planning social functions, discussing fraternity probations, and being active in the Zeta fraternity claims most of this business administration student's spare time. The remainder of this dapper gentleman's extra time is spent with his favorite companion, Sonia. Jack's future plans will probably include either a career as a salesman or as a police officer. The thoughts of science fundamentals notebooks and "hell week" will follow Jack forever.

OSCAR C. MOGEL

1023 Terrace Ave.

Wyomissing, Pa.

▶ "Ozzie" finds little time for studies; his duties as "prexy" of the senior class and of the Pi Tau's consume a great deal of time. Besides these, he is an officer in the Naval Reserve which will carry him into Uncle Sam's service following graduation. "Ozzie" is a staunch crusader for student rights in Student Council and fraternity rights in Interfraternity Council. He has fond memories of Freshmen Orientation and Selwyn Pond.

Forty-one

WILLIAM R. MUNDELL

462 N. Franklin St.

Pottstown, Pa.

▶ Behind those horned-rim specs and that veil of silence, we find an ardent student who commutes daily from Pottstown to pursue a well-deserved education. An ex-infantryman, Bill went through the entire campaign of Italy. This unassuming young man is another of our married students who takes great pride in his family. Having spent too many long hours in the mills, Bill hopes someday to become a successful business executive.

Jessie M. Nucci

65 W. Areba Ave.

Hershey, Pa.

Hershey, Hershey—you never heard of Hershey?" This cheerful girl is full of home-town spirit, but nevertheless she is an enthusiastic Albrightian, as is evidenced by her participation in many activities: she types for the Cue and the Albrightian, warbles in the Glee Club, "emotes" for Domino Club, and is corresponding secretary for the Mus. A social science major, Jessie's plan for the future is "to teach little kids."

CHARLES W. NAGLE

29 Park Rd.

West Lawn, Pa.

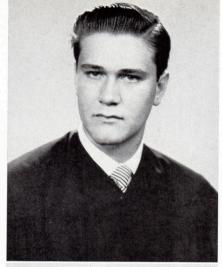

Chuck, a very personable my, plans a career in business if the Air Corps well stays away from his door. Pressed for time during his school years by the demands of a job and studies he is repulsed by thoughts of eight o'clock classes. Chuck will remember many cups of coffee in the SUB which banished that student oppressor, sleep. If his DeSote holds up 'til graduation, we believe Chuck will be able to conquer anything in the future.

EVELYN M. NANTZ

Helton, Kentucky

• "Sleep Kentucky babe!" Here's our red bird from Kentucky. Evie, the gal who kindly solves your problems and mends your clothes, is certainly well fitted for her future profession—nursing. A sociology major and psychology minor, Evie is secretary of both Student and Dormitory councils. Endeared to Evie are those trips to Nebraska and Chicago, but better still are the journeys back to her Kentucky hills, its trees and its flowers.

Forty-three

GERALD R. POTTS

34 Franklin St.

Shillington, Pa.

Starring in football, basketball, and track, Jerry is one of the few three-letter men in Albright's athletic gallery. It was a proud moment for this Albrightian when he was asked to play in the Blue-Gray post-season bowl game. Jerry is a business administration student who possesses a brilliant mind which is certain to bring him success in his chosen career. After a period of service for his country, Jerry hopes to marry and live in Shillington.

Wellington Q. Printz

2450 Fairview Ave.

Mt. Penn, Reading, Pa.

Make way for the fellow with the winning smile! A frequent inhabitant of the library, Wellington has spent his years at Albright studying the social sciences. He is one of our married men, and by the time the Cue is published, he expects to be a father. When not on campus, where he is active in the Spanish Club, Wellington is kept busy as a local insurance broker. His future plans include teaching in South America. "Feliz viaje, Wellington!"

HOWARD R. PEIFFER

742 Birch St.

Reading, Pa.

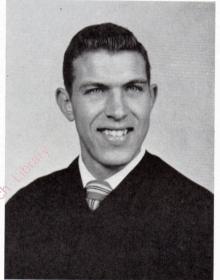

Howie, who is vice-president of the Daymen, is one of Albright's budding physicists. He can usually be found in the science hall where he serves as student-assistant to Prof. Merritt. Howard is also active in the Zetas for which organization he plays intra-mural sports. His fond memories of Albright will always include Ace Adam's antics, the grand times with Lefty, Dick and the boys where gaiety reigned supreme, and his daily walks to college.

HOWARD J. PLATZKER

245 W. 104th St.

New York, N. Y.

Howie, our Albrightian business manager, when not in his favorite haunt at the Albrightian Office, can usually be found relaxing with his stamp collection. Howard is a devotee of the theatre, and has been responsible for much of the Domino Club's excellent stage setting for the past few years. Majoring in business, Howie plans to go to graduate school with the idea of taking his dynamic personality into the insurance field.

Forty-four

JOANNE J. RAFFENSPERGER

445 Fairfield Ave.

Ridgewood, N. J.

▶ This energetic and studious lassie is known on campus as a future teacher of Spanish. As prexy of F.T.A. and secretary of the Spanish Club, Josie is certainly getting experience in her chosen field. Languages must be this gal's weakness since she is also an active member of the French Club and Sigma Tau Delta. But regardless of her numerous interests at Albright, Josie still remains loyal to another interest at Lafayette.

RUTH C. RAHN

Harrison Ave.

Muhlenberg Park, Reading, Pa.

Medium with one sugar, please!" Both faculty and students enjoy themselves on Friday afternoons at the colorful, well-organized W.S.S. teas. But it's no wonder everyone is having a wonderful time, when Ruth, our talented home economics student, is in charge. Another of Albright's students who is planning to brighten the teaching profession, this jovial girl can frequently be found "livening-up" the discussions in the Daywomen's Room.

BARBARA WRISLEY POMROY (Mrs. De Vere)

300 N. Main St.

Towanda, Pa.

Mall good things come in small packages." This tall, popular Mrs. certainly disproves this old adage. Both Y.W.C.A. and Phi Beta Ma proudly claim her as their very efficient president. Our loquacious lady with the high scholastic average also finds time for basketball, and her ex-Albrightian husband. Bobbie's future plans are still uncertain, but, if the army permits, she may enhance the teaching profession with her vivacious personality.

RODERICK REBER

553 Centre Ave.

Reading, Pa.

▶ Rod, our handsome dispenser of jokes, would make the perfect candidate for a sly humor champ. Having emigrated from pastoral West Lawn to Reading several years ago, he has had time to discover that pickled artichokes are anathema. Though his plans for the future include making plans for the same, this business major will, when the proper stimulus is applied, approach everything in his own clever and dynamic way.

Forty-five

922 McKnight St.

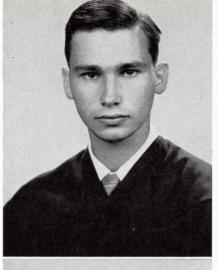

Reading, Pa.

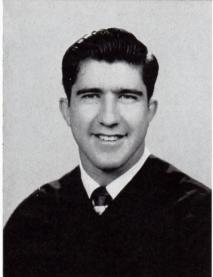

Nith a fine academic record, Jack, a history major and philosophy minor, is planning graduate work in sociology. Whenever a topic of merit is discussed, he can be expected to provide an astute comment with all the gravity of one who has probed the mysteries of this universe. On a more carefree plane, those nights with the fellows have been number one for the last four years, with memories sublime to fill a thousand dreams.

MICHAEL R. RONCO

Box 336, Roseto, Pa.

Mike is that handsome dark-complected chap to whom many of Albright's females are attracted. This Kappa man who comes from Roseto, better known as "Little Italy", has contributed his athletic ability to his fraternity in football, basketball and softball. In the latter sport, he is famous as a home-run king. Since Mike is a pre-medical student, and belongs to the Alchemists and the Skull and Bones, we predict a prosperous future for him.

MARILYN R. RUSSO

332 Belgrove Drive

Kearny, N. J.

Flowing hair, an infectious giggle, a sympathetic ear, corny jokes, and innumerable unpredictable acts make this Albright beauty a favorite on campus. Despite her long hours in the Science Hall, Lynn still finds time to share her exuberance of energy in Dorm Council, W.S.S., the PAT Sorority, and Skull and Bones. Lynn's main interest, however, is in medicine, or any science dedicated to alleviating the suffering of others.

WILLIAM S. SAILER

1632 Mulberry St.

Reading, Pa.

A permanent smile and a quiet, unassuming mood best describe Bill's appearance. This "no comment" fellow is our capable assistant Cue photographer who is always Johnny-on-the-spot at the football and basketball games. Bill also spends much time with his records and his social studies. After graduation he plans to attend the Westminster Presbyterian Seminary and subsequently hopes to serve the Evangelical Church.

Forty-six

ELLIOT A. SAUERTIEG

1146 Concord Ave.

Chester, Pa.

▶ El came to Albright to prepare for the medical profession. Not only will medicine, but also the Pi Tau fraternity and Skull and Bones keep his name forever within our memory. Besides worrying about balancing the Student Council books, El will treasure those Pi Tau stag parties and friendly hours spent in the anatomy lab. Four children are also listed as his future ambitions. Knowing El we believe these ambitions will materialize.

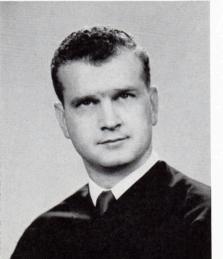

THOMAS D. SAVAGE

381 Park Ave.

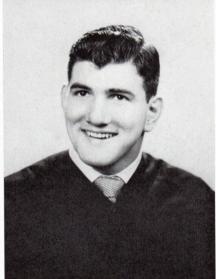

Oakhurst, N. J.

▶ Co-captain of the Albright Lions, this distinguished athlete has been a mainstay on the football team for four years. The West Chester Rams voted him the best allround Albright player in the Pretzel Bowl this year. A loyal Kappa, who staunchly supports fraternity affairs, Tom is preparing for a future in the business field. The long-to-be-remembered events of his college days were his engagement and marriage to Martha Louise.

RUTH A. SCHAEFFER

152 W. Main St.

Fleetwood, Pa.

This blue-eyed blonde with the famous dry humor spends her time planning programs for the Heo Club and participating in intramural basketball. Another of our future teachers, Ruth always chuckles over her freshman year, summer school, that famous New York jaunt, and last but not least, her numerous escapades as a PAT pledge. Perhaps these chuckles have enabled her to emerge triumphantly from that general bio course.

ELWOOD R. SCHALL

1535 Lehigh St.

Easton, Pa.

Detween filling his responsibilities as a married man and working at Orr and Sembower, Elwood manages to make Prof Gates' 8 o'clock class regularly and on time. Elwood, who is a veteran of four years' service in the navy, can often be found in the Daymen's Room engaged in a lively game of pinochle. A social science major, he hopes to be a chaplain in the Air Force in the near future. This likeable chap will surely be a success in all of his undertakings.

Forty-seven

819 Bosler Ave.

Lemoyne, Pa.

This song bird of the class of '52, who followed his brother Jack to Albright, will always be remembered as one of the chief contributors to the prize-winning Zeta skit of the 1951 Stunt Night. Always ready to give a willing and helping hand, Pete, our Y president, has made many friends during his sojourn at Albright. A philosophy major with an English minor, this active member of Sigma Tau Delta plans to prepare for the ministry.

Box 236, R. D. 1, Sinking Spring, Pa.

▶ Quiet and capable, charming and gracious—this is Joyce. Her neat red head has often been seen bent over Sherman College breakfast menus, as well as over plans for the Daywomen's Organization of which she is president. During her four years at Albright, this lucky Miss has survived a year of dorm life, found time to be a PAT and a Heo Club member, and also acquired a ring for her left hand.

WILLIAM A. SNYDER

1309 Buttonwood St.

Reading, Pa.

This handsome curly-head is a conscientious lad who has made many friendships while at Albright. In addition to working regularly and teaching Religious Day Education, he has found time to contribute much to Kappa Tau Chi, Pi Gamma Mu, and Philosophy Club. A good student and a deep thinker, Bill is planning to attend the Lancaster Seminary to prepare for the Reformed Ministry. We predict that he will be an earnest and helpful minister.

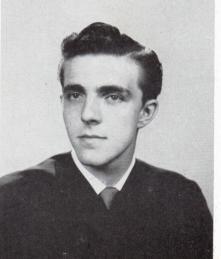

RICHARD I. STEELY

1420 N. 11th St.

Reading, Pa.

This fun-loving lad can always be depended upon to provide a spark of warm congeniality. He is a social science major and a sociology minor which he rounded out by taking many field trips for Elmer Smith. Dick is almost constantly in the company of his pals, Lefty and Howie, who, like Dick, are devout Zetas and Daymen. Besides being an ardent athlete, he is also a member of K.T.X. Dick's "bum" leg and the Zeta probation will linger long in his memory.

Forty-eight

RAY S. STETZLER

Mohrsville, Pa.

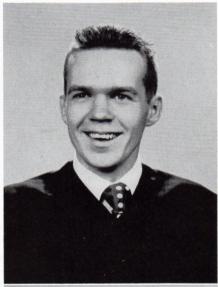

▶ To be a future industrial research chemist is Ray's ambition. A chemistry major, Ray modestly and conscientiously pursues his studies, and he will never forget the long hours spent in chem lab. The puzzling physical chemistry experiments have intrigued this hard worker for the Alchemist Society. Along with his studies, Ray has also found time to enjoy Albright's football games, especially the Pretzel Bowl game of this year.

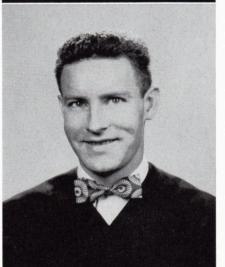

RICHARD D. STINSON

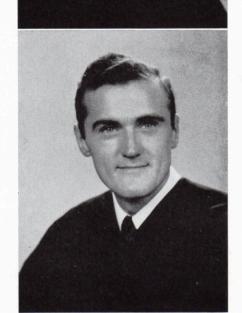

62 Valley Pike

Johnstown, Pa.

Nithout a doubt Dick will long be remembered by all Albrightians for his wonderful acting in many Domino productions, as well as for his pleasant, helpful personality. A pre-ministerial student majoring in psychology, Dick has striven to be a well-rounded person which, to him, is the success of a minister. Many pleasant hours, some as an APO pledge, others under Mrs. Shirk's directing, are listed in Dick's book of memories.

MARTIN I. STOVER

227 Reading Ave.

Shillington, Pa.

For a while we thought Marty would not make it, but neither rheumatic fever nor Ace Adams' jokes are insurmountable to this boy. An able history major, he thinks law school is next in order. To those who were in listening range, let it never be said that he deserted the Giants in last season's race to the finish. An avid talker, Marty will be remembered for his susceptibility to a good discussion.

WILLIAM H. STRAWN

1542 Perkiomen Ave.

Reading, Pa.

▶ Recently returned from a second hitch with the Marines, Bill found his family and school to be a better environment for a striving young man. Extreme reverence for people—all colors, sizes, shapes, and kinds—is an element of his personality which cannot be mistaken after several minutes with this congenial chap. Bill, who expresses a dislike for apathetic tradition, has set goals which should be the envy of many men.

Forty-nine

16 E. Cedar Ave.

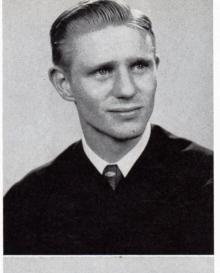

Merchantville, N. J.

▶ Being Sports Editor on the Albrightian, and serving as statistician at Albright's football games has reaped a just reward for Bill because he is now associated with the sports department of the Reading Times. Bill is acquiring experience for his future work in public accounting as book-keeper for a local music house. This versatile chap also makes good use of his mechanical abilities by continually improving the construction of his car.

Kempton R. D. 2

▶ "The daily six" tripping spryly to class, that New York trip, and many carefree jaunts with "Masie," Joyce's car, will always bring a twinkle to the big brown eyes under those long dark lashes. Doris, an active Mu, adds her energies to the activities of the Heo Club and the Daywomen's Organization, besides doing her daily chores on the farm. The brightest day in this newly-married, future teacher's life was December 22, 1951.

RUSSELL F. WEIGLEY

325 W. Windsor St.

Reading, Pa.

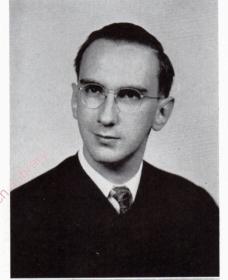

This meeting will now come to order!" thus speaks our Student Council president. Russ, who is active in many campus activities, also has scholarly ability which has earned him a place in two honorary fraternities. When not busy with his school responsibilities, he can be found talking with the group in the SUB, one of his found memories of Albright. Intent on becoming a college professor, Russ plans to take graduate studies.

ELEANOR A. WILLIAMS

404 Salter Place

Westfield, N. J.

▶ Dresses stunningly, makes her own clothes, and solves her own problems—what a gal! Ellie, a slim, smiling psych major, is gifted with a remarkable insight into human personality. With one glance at that beautiful curly hair, one would rarely guess that it covered such an analytical mind. The future of this hard-working treasurer of the Phi Beta Mu Sorority includes a certain man—"Just My Bill"—and perhaps some work in psychology.

JOAN H. WILLIAMSON

318 W. Greenwich St.

Reading, Pa.

▶ Claimed by Skull and Bones, Alchemist Club, Radio Workshop, French Club, and Y Choir, this strong-willed girl keeps herself quite busy. With a bright future as a laboratory technician, Joan is now preparing herself by majoring in biology and minoring in chemistry, and by successfully weathering the odd odors in the science hall. That green Hudson of Joan's certainly comes in handy, especially when there is an 8:10 deadline to meet.

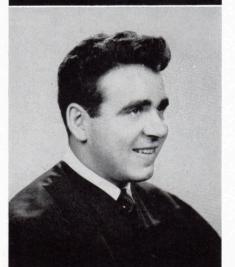

RICHARD H. WITMAN

339 Chestnut St.

West Reading, Pa.

Besides serving the Zetas, the Interfraternity Council, and the Daymen, Bunny also found time to court and convince Marilyn of the benefits of matrimony. Being an outstanding basketball player, he has very faithfully followed in his brother's footsteps for he has been a member on Albright's team for four years. After filling his obligation to Uncle Sam, this business administration major anticipates a successful future as a salesman.

RICHARD J. WITMOYER

814 Lincoln St.

Reading, Pa.

Here is a fellow that no one will forget. Witty, as he is known to all of us, has been a spark of fun on the Albright campus. His contributions to campus life have been many: he is active in Kappa Pau Chi, the Debating Squad and Student Council, and he has done an excellent job as business manager of this publication. Dick is a pre-ministerial student and his sincere personality and warm friendliness will undoubtedly bring him success.

LEROY WOOL

620 Penndale Ave.

Pennside, Reading, Pa.

Ightian. Lee, one of the active members of the "Tower Club," spends the better part of his time either driving around in his car or sitting in the SUB daydreaming over a cup of coffee. Despite his many social activities, this future optometrist still finds time to attend a few classes, to study occasionally, and to plan for his graduate work at Penn State.

Fifty-one

CLIFFORD R. YOUNG

R. D. 1, Sinking Spring, Pa.

Dehind his pipe of aromatic tobacco and that Connecticut Yankee air of dignity is Cliff, a man of much wisdom A business administration student, he is quite adapted to his chosen field of industrial management, having done this work before joining the "brass" of the U.S. Army during World War II. Although kept busy as a husband and an insurance salesman, Cliff is active in his church, and finds time for his model railroading.

PETER YOUNG

Box 124, R. D. 1, Sinking Spring, Pa.

Although Pete claims Brooklyn as his birth place, Reading deserves the credit for making his life complete. It was here that he found his life-mate, a first soprano in one of Reading's church choirs. This psychology major and president of the pre-ministerial fraternity is an active worker in the Y and K.T.X., as well as an avid sports fan. He is a keen student and plans to go on to seminary and then to the ministry as a rural pastor.

CHARLES H. ZIEGLER, JR.

Look behind those horned rim specs and you'll find a subtle humor which is usually manifested in the SUB over a cup of coffee. This amiable blond is the capable "prexy" of the Zetas and a staunch defender of fraternity rights in the Inter-Fraternity Council. Besides his frat activities, Charlie has also found time to play in the Celebrities. This keen gent with the sharp wit plans to enter the business world after graduation. ■

GEORGE L. SIMMON

2209 Penn Ave.

West Lawn, Pa.

▶ This ex-Signal Corpsman is best known at Albright as an accomplished clarinet player. In his sophomore and junior years, George was student manager of both the band and the orchestra, and is still an active member of the Celebrities. Besides his interest in music, George is "veep" of the Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity and a member of the golf team. Following graduation this talented gent hopes to do graduate work in accounting.

CURTIS L. RENTSCHLER

816 Old Wyomissing Rd.

Reading, Pa.

▶ The long hours of work for the Albrightian and the cooperation of Albright's congenial professors will never be forgotten by this future medical research man. Curt's fellow pre-med students will always remember him for his contributions to those lengthy "bull sessions" in the science hall. A recently married man, Curt can usually be seen happily plodding along campus with his very intelligent wife; when these two have children Einstein may find keen competition.

Our Cortable Organizations

Student Council

"The Student Council shall be the legislative and executive organization of the student body of Albright College" says the Council constitution, and accordingly it is the Student Council that ties together and supervises all student activity on the campus. Council is the clearing house for student problems and the link between student body and administration and faculty. It is the one campus organization with which every student is directly concerned; each important segment of the campus population -day men, dorm women, fraternities, sororities and the rest-has its representatives in Council. Student Council sponsors a variety of programs ranging from faculty evaluation to Mardi Gras. This year it worked toward the acquisition for students of a voice in disciplinary procedures. In its work, council always aims to keep in mind the purpose expressed in its constitution: "To promote the interests of the student body."

Completing its second year of successful operation, the Interfraternity Council continued to consolidate its constitution and organization. The Council consists of three appointed or elected representatives from each of the four campus social fraternities. Meetings, which are usually held once a month, consist of discussions with eventual recommendations of solutions to common fraternity problems. The Council serves as a vehicle for formulating uniform fraternity and pledging regulations.

In a continued effort to promote keen interfraternity relationships—including sportsmanlike competition—trophies for scholarship, football, basketball and softball were procured and presented by the Interfraternity Council. This year the Scholarship trophy was awarded to the Pi Tau Beta Fraternity and the football trophy was awarded to the Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity. Socially, the Council sponsored the All-College Interfraternity Dance at which these trophies were presented.

With meetings every Tuesday night, these two groups working together comprise probably the busiest organization on campus. Their work begins in September before school opens since they are responsible for assigning a Big Brother and a Big Sister to each of the freshmen. In order that the freshmen and the upperclassmen may become acquainted, the Y sponsors a Big Brother-Big Sister party and a hoedown which are really lots of fun. Planning for the fall retreat is one of their biggest jobs. Every Thanksgiving they select a local family to whom they give food, which is donated by the students, for a Thanksgiving dinner and many other dinners. This year's family was that of an Albright maintenance man who was killed in an automobile accident.

Immediately after Thanksgiving, these groups begin repairing toys which they give to underprivileged children at their annual Christmas party. The week before Christmas vacation, they present matins every morning over a local radio station. This year the theme was about some Christmas customs in different countries. Christmas would not be complete without Dawn Communion and the Y carolers. All through the year they sponsor Student-Faculty Vespers. The Sports Carnival, in which all campus groups participate, is also under the sponsorship of the Y. As at Christmas, there are matins presented at Easter and a Dawn Communion. In May, there is the excitement of planning for the spring retreat. The group ends their year with a "Farewell to Seniors."

The midnight oil burned often in the staff office in the basement of the Administration Building, as the editors worked to meet deadlines. This picture shows five members of the Editorial Board checking last-minute news, preparing copy and pasting the "dummy." They are (left to right): seated—Dorothy DeLaney, Phoebe Hunter and William Heck; standing—Marie Kaputo and Thomas Masters.

"The Albrightian" has constantly sought to achieve the basic aims of collegiate journalism: to inform and entertain its readers; to serve as the permanent, official record of college activities; and to express and mold student opinion.

Several changes in the appearance and organization of "The Albrightian" were made last fall. The paper was printed on newsprint, the size was reduced, a new nameplate was introduced and make-up style was modified. Two new columns—"Current Tides," an analysis of current events, and "Up and Down Maple Lane," informal personal glimpses of Albrightians—were introduced. An editorial board was created to bear the major share of responsibility.

Those who helped to prepare "The Albrightian" each week came to know the thrill of making a worthwhile contribution to the life of Albright College. They knew that they were instrumental in giving the students a paper they looked forward to receiving and in carrying the message of Albright to interested people. Moreover, they came to know and to love those things which make the smell of printers' ink and pastepots an everalluring challenge.

Seventy-two

Regardless of what else may be said, it is doubtful that anyone who shared in the weekly preparation of "The Albrightian" will forget his experiences. Both the sweet taste of genuine achievement and the bitterness of seeming defeat have been known by those who have faithfully strived to give Albright College a newspaper of which it could be proud.

This year will be remembered for at least two achievements other than the publication of 24 issues. An "Albrightian Handbook" was written by the Editor-in-Chief early in the fall as a practical guide for staff members. In January a petition for a local chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, was submitted to the organization's national headquarters.

As the honorary English fraternity, this group has varied and interesting programs at their monthly meetings. In November, when the pledges were inducted into the group, Dr. Shirk related his experiences in Japan. Along with the annual banquet in December at Reeser's Restaurant, the best initiation papers were read; the speaker, Professor Harding, spoke on comical poetry. Possibly the most interesting meeting was the one in February which was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Douds. At this meeting the members took part in the reading of the play "The Importance of Being Ernest." The other meetings included a book review by Mrs. Douds, pictures on England shown by Miss Sidney Kutz, and a business talk by Mr. Norman Gimmy.

As the Pennsylvania Zeta Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, the National Social Science Honor Fraternity, this organization holds meetings once a month at which time papers prepared by members are read on specific topics in the area of the social sciences. Some of the topics were: "Russian Foreign Policy in the Far East" presented by Russell Weigley; "Industrial Psychology" given by Robert Lippincott; and "Kievan Culture of Russia" by Francis Carney. A demonstration and the history of hypnotism was also presented by John McConnell. Of particular interest was the annual banquet to which the regional chapters of Pi Gamma Mu of Reading were invited. Aside from the serious side of the meetings, the organization also held some social meetings.

The members of this club are noted for their clear thinking, variety of opinions and the forthrightness with which they ask. At the first meeting, Dr. Milton Geil addressed the group concerning his recent experiences. At subsequent meetings, the members themselves presented such topics as, the question of an ambassadorship to the Vatican City, and the problem of what should be done concerning the crisis at the Suez Canal. What was, perhaps, the highlight of the year for most members was the meeting of the General Assembly of the Model United Nations. In the spring, four members journeyed to Barnard College, New York City, to participate in the deliberations and to visit the U.N. itself.

Year after year this organization, under the capable leadership of Mrs. Eugene Shirk, manages to stand out as one of the major contributors to the cultural life of every Albrightian. During the fall its members presented and directed three student-written one-act plays: "Storm" written by Elliot Percelay, and directed by Howard Platzker; "Good God" written by Charles Ziegler, and directed by Leonard Buxton; "What Price Virtue" written by Patrick Boccagno, and directed by Jessie Nucci. For their fall presentation the group presented "The Silver Whistle" which had the privilege of being the longest running three-act play at Albright. It was presented three nights to the Albright student-faculty audience, one night to the Berks County High School students, and twice for the Ladies' Auxiliary and the Berks County Chapter of the Women's University Club. The spring production, "The Hasty Heart", also received great acclaim.

The club is affiliated with Alpha Psi Omega, the National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity, to which two of its members, Howard Platzker and Richard Stinson, had the honor of being elected.

The fall production of the Domino Club, "The Silver Whistle", was written by Robert E. Mc-Enroe. The play which centers around a dismal old folks home, is the story of a group of old people who are waiting to die. However, after the visit of a philosophical tramp, Oliver Erwenter, their idea of life changes, for he teaches them how to live each moment to its fullest extent and in turn find youth and happiness.

The spring play, "The Hasty Heart" was written by John Patrick and was inspired by his own personal observations. It was chosen by John Gassner as one of the twenty best plays of the modern American Theatre. This is the story of a Scottish soldier in a hospital in the Orient who has but a few weeks to live.

Every Freshmen class is introduced to the college thru students, faculty and administration in a week of Freshmen Orientation. The Freshmen Orientation Committee is responsible for planning this week of festivities in such a way that the students receive a good over-all picture of the workings of the college.

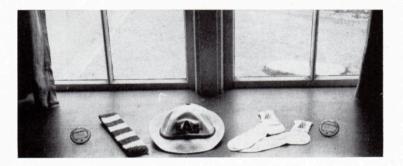

After the first week, there is a follow-up program of orientation during which the freshmen have certain customs and regulations to follow. This program lasts for about a month, after which time the freshmen are formally inducted and accepted as a class into the student body.

These familiar articles can be seen on the in-coming freshmen class every autumn, for about a month. Along with the wearing of these customs the neophytes have other regulations which they must follow, such as the singing of the familiar, "Come cheer Alma Mater . . ."

When the boys finally discard their red and white ties and the girls begin to wear two white socks instead of one red and one white, we know that a new class has been inducted into the student body.

This group is comprised of all the non-resident women of Albright College. Besides being co-sponsors of the mid semester dance with the Daymen, they also sponsored the Valentine Dance in February. At Christmas time, they joined with the resident women in presenting a Christmas Tea for all the women on the campus. They met every month in their own Lower Social Room.

Football Headlines

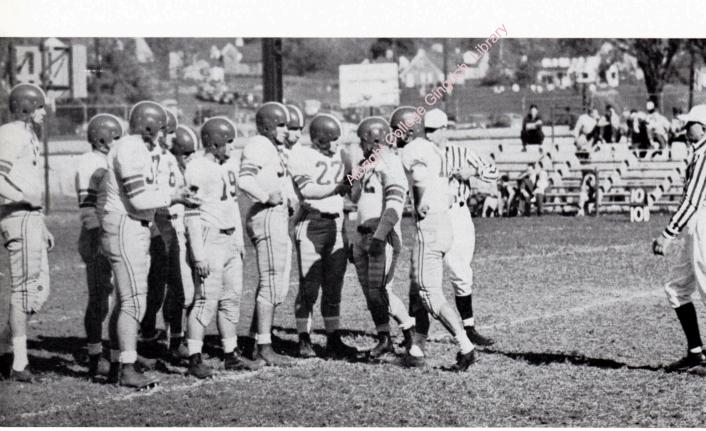

This season, under Head Coach Eddie Gulian and assistants Bobby Hicks and Truck Yentsch, the roaring Lions waged one of the greatest football years with six victories and three defeats. Four players were cited for their outstanding abilities: Jack Sudol, All-Penna. Defensive Team; Blackie Weidman, Second Defensive Team; Walt Drazek, Honorable Mention and Jerry Potts, alternate to the Blue-Gray Game. The Lions participated against West Chester in the First Annual Pretzel Bowl Game sponsored by the Shrine.

Lions Upset Lafayette, 12-6

Easton, Sept. 22—A 20-yard pass into the end zone by Quarterback Chauncey Krout to Halfback Tony D'Apolito with three seconds left to play gave a fighting Albright eleven a 12-6 victory over Lafayette here today in the opener for both teams before a crowd of 6,000. A break gave Albright its first touchdown when the Lafayette Center made a poor pass on the fourth down, and Albright took the ball on Lafayette's three. Savage then crashed through center for a touchdown. In the fourth period, the Maroons marched 80 yards for their only touchdown.

Lions Rally to Down PMC, 12-6

Reading, Sept. 28—Albright College Lions rallied in the last half to defeat visiting Pennsylvania Military College 12-6, and shatter the Cadets' six-year domination in their long football series. Gerry Potts, giant right end, scored the tying touchdown in the third period, and Tom Savage, the winning TD in the fourth period. PMC scored its lone six-pointer five seconds before the second quarter ended.

Front row, left to right: Robert Zapora, Walter Drazek, Chauncey Krout, Tom Savage, Charley Martone, Al Weldman and William Locher. Second row, left to right: Bruce Tenley, Jerry Cocchiarella, Herb Mackler, Ed Hanbicki, William Himelman, Thomas Pepe and Edward McNeill. Third row, left to right: William Smith, George Rankin, Anthony D'Apolilo, Jack Sudol, Bruce Eickhoff, Robert Reller and Sheldon Brook. Fourth row, left to right: Carl Potoski, Leonard Zahurak, Joseph Gerard, Jack Clapper, Theodore Becker, Dion Raudenbush and Fred Hess. Fifth row, left to right: Max Nuscher, manager; Jack Peiffer, Joseph Sellitto, Ronald Roth, Donald Kimmel, Louis Venier, Frederick Ardito, Jack Smith and Robert Hicks, assistant coach. Top row, left to right: Head Coach Eddie Gulian, Robert Krize, Peter LaRocco, Norman Ruppert, James Goss, William McHugh, Raymond Stoneback, Carl Schnellenbach and Harold Yentsch, assistant coach.

Albright Gridders Trim Moravian, 33-13

Bethlehem, Oct. 6—Undefeated and untied Albright College whipped Moravian College, 33-13, gaining an early lead in the first quarter and controlling play except for a few minutes in the fourth period when the losers struck for two fast touchdowns. Quarterback Chauncey Krout plunged for three of the Lions' scores. Willie Smith raced 96 yards through right guard for one TD and grabbed a 22-yard pass from Jerry Cocchiarella for another. Charley Martone booted three extra points. The first four times Albright gained possession of the ball they scored.

Once-Beaten Temple Crushes Albright, 47-6

Philadelphia, Oct. 12—Once-beaten Temple coasted to its third straight triumph by rolling over previously undefeated albright 47-6 at Temple Stadium. The Owls, in complete control throughout, tallied twice in the opening period, once in the second and third quarters, and three times in the final period. Albright made its lone tally late in the final quarter. Albright's scoring play came on a 26 yard pass from Jerry Cocchiarella to Bob Krize.

Lions Upset F. & M., 6-0, In Homecoming Grid Duel

Reading, Oct. 20—Albright College turned a Franklin and Marshall fumble into a touchdown to score a 6-0 upset victory. The Lions' winning score was set up in the second period when tackle Walt Drazek recovered a fumble on F. & M.'s 34 yard line. Tony D'Apolito drove through left guard for a first down on the 10. Willie Smith then took a handoff from Jerry Cocchiarella and scored.

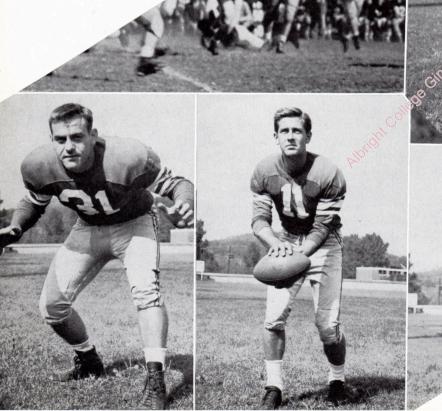

Lebanon Valley Nudges Albright, 7-6

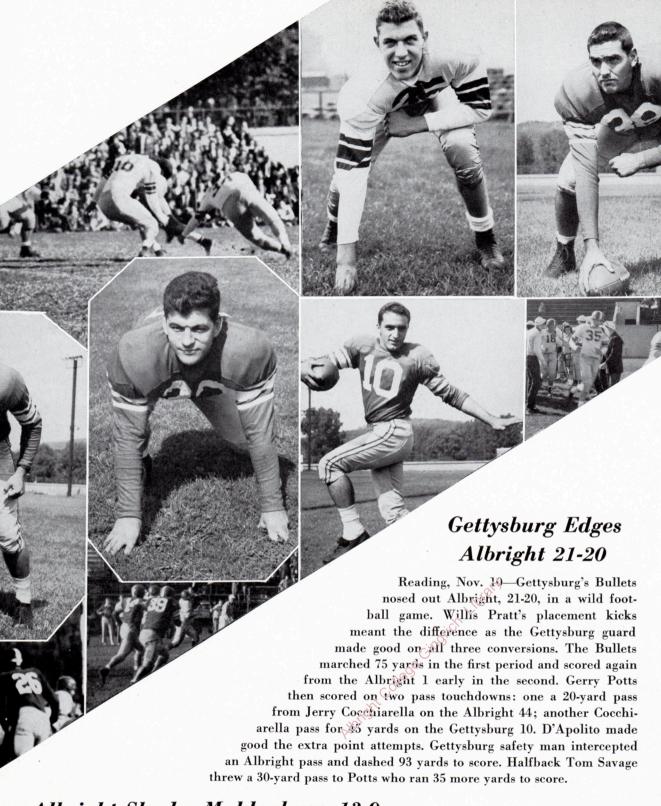

Reading, Oct. 26—The accurate toe of Lebanon Valley's George Cardone turned the tide against Albright College in a night game as the Flying Dutchmen nosed out the Lions 7-6 in their 31st meeting. Climaxing an 88-yard march, the Annville gridders scored with three minutes remaining in the first half. The payoff came when Lou Sorrentino passed six yards to Fred Sample for the touchdown, Cardone's placement made it 7-0. The Lions roared back early in the third period for their six pointer, but Tony D'Apolito's try for the extra point was wide of the uprights. Sudol's expert punting got the Lions out of several jams; besides this Sudol also shown on defense by intercepting two Lebanon Valley passes.

Albright Upsets Scranton, 2-0 safety.

Scranton, Nov. 3—A safety resulting from a bad pass from center at snow-covered Memorial Stadium gave Albright College its first football win over Scranton University, 2-0. Playing in mud and snow that was ankle-deep in spots, the teams battled to a standstill until the Albright Lions launched a fourth period drive that looked like it would break the scoring ice. An Albright pass was intercepted to halt the surge. Two plays later Captain Romanowski dropped back to the three to punt. The pass from center was low and rolled away from him into the end zone. Desperately Romanowski pushed the leather back, but McNeil recovered. The referee ruled it a

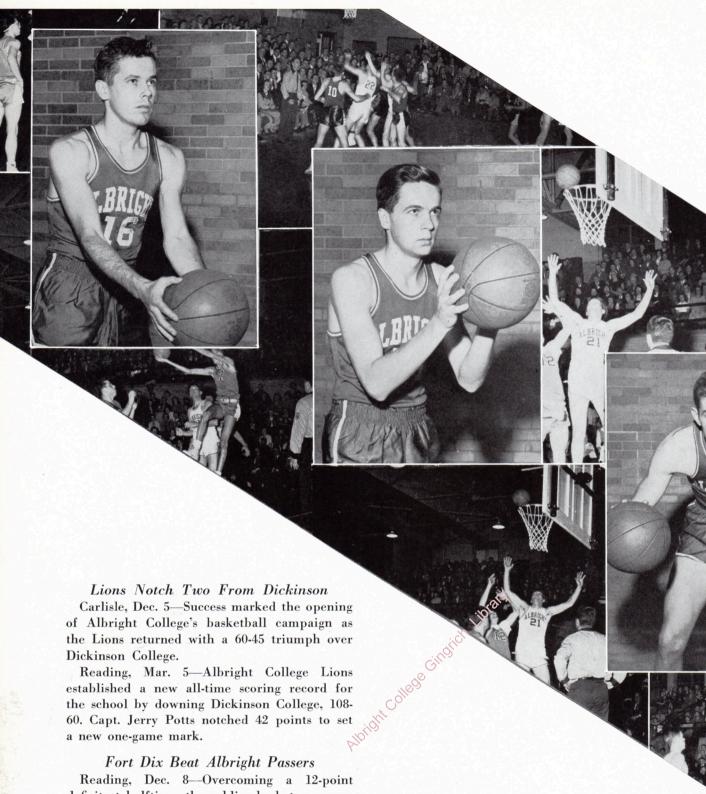

Albright Shades Muhlenberg, 13-9

Allentown, Nov. 17—Two gallant defensive stands by Albright College featured its 13-9 victory. Protecting a one touchdown lead into the fourth period, the Lions turned back the Mules on their one and again on their four. Muhlenberg put itself in a hole at the start with fumbles. A pass by Chauncey Krout to Gerry Potts from the six netted the first score. Jack Pfeiffer intercepted a pass on Muhlenberg's 35 and ran for a score. Tony D'Apolito converted. Muhlenberg's touch down came on the first play in the second quarter on an 88 yard pass. Muhlenberg gained a safety in the fourth quarter when Sudol stepped outside the end zone.

deficit at halftime, the soldier basketeers came from behind to spoil Albright College's home opening by beating the Lions 59-57. Most of the action was packed into the final period when Mike Kearn's field goal put the visitors in front, 56-55 and Marty Saul added another on a layup that eventually decided the issue.

Unbeaten Gettysburg Wallops Albright Gettysburg, Dec. 12—Gettysburg College, who average 82 points per game, bettered that mark as the Battlefield Boys outshot Albright College 83-66. The Bullets iced the decision in the third quarter when they went on a 29-point rampage and a 63-45 lead.

The Bullets used all its subs to finish the game.

Basketball Headlines

Lions Rally To Upset Lafayette

Reading, Dec. 15-A battling Albright College quintet scored an upset 70-65 victory in an overtime duel. Gerry Potts sent the game into the extra period with a pivot shot. Jim Croke converted a foul shot to break a 65-65 deadlock while Jim Bachman and Lefty Leitham added insurance tallies.

LaSalle Downs Scrappy Lions

Philadelphia, Dec. 18—Trailing until midway in the final quarter, LaSalle College's undefeated Explorers were forced to cut loose with a 16-point barrage to defeat a resourceful and fighting Albright College basketball team 76-68.

Scranton Hands Lions Double Setback

Reading, Jan. 5-The stellar efforts of Scranton's Gene Carbona and Sam Cavalier proved

F & M Late Uprisings Beat Lions

Lancaster, Jan. 9—A 21-point uprising plus an outstanding defensive job of holding the Lions to 9 tallies in the final period gave the Diplomats an 82-80 victory. This wiped out a 43-29 halftime lead.

Reading, Mar. 1—Once again the Diplomats came from behind in the fourth quarter to sink the Lions in an action-packed thriller that wasn't decided until the final minute, 78-76.

Lions Split With Lebanon Valley

Reading, Jan. 12—Jim Croke sank a field goal 15-seconds before the end of the extra period besides rimming the field goal that tied the score 75-75 to earn the hero's role in an upset victory 77-75.

Annville, Feb. 6—L.V. College battered Albright 84-67 to square the books in Conference competition. The Dutchmen made the going easy by holding Albright's pivot men to 19 points.

Lions' Late Splurges Turn Back Moravian

Bethlehem, Jan. 16—Albright College cut loose with 15 points in the last 5 minutes to defeat Moravian 78-63. In the 2nd period the Lions rolled up 23 straight points.

Reading, Feb. 9—Sparked by Gerry Potts who scored 27 points, Albright College trimmed Moravian College in a listless game of 77-60.

Albright Turns Back Bucknell

Reading, Jan. 19—Taking an early lead and improving that margin until they had a 30-point advantage, the Lions handed Bucknell University a 73-56 defeat.

Albright Defeats Elizabethtown

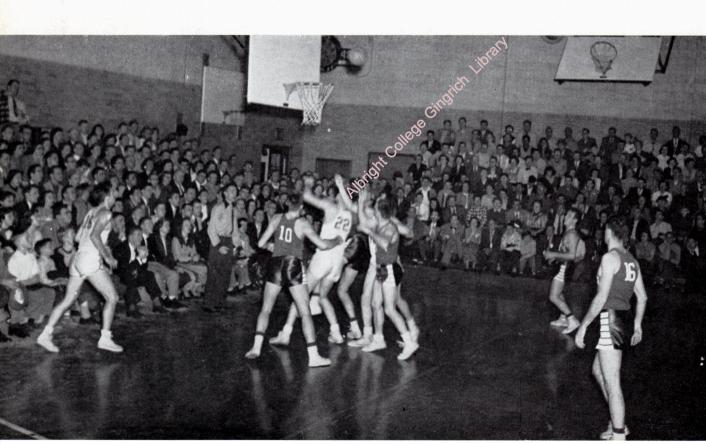

Reading, Jan. 26—In a game during which 53 fouls were called, Albright College topped E-town 73-57 and stretched their winning streak to 4 games.

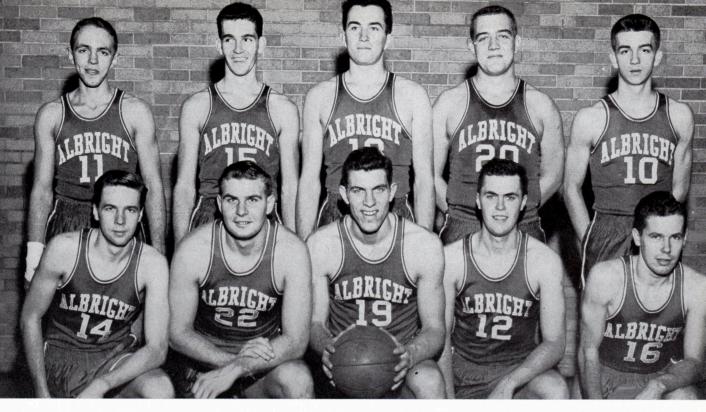

Albright Registers Fifth In Row

Huntingdon, Jan. 30—Albright College kept their winning streak intact at the expense of the Juniata College Indians by romping to a easy 95-53 victory.

Classy Seton Hall Beats Scrappy Albright

Reading, Feb. 2—A powerful Seton Hall machine turned back a battling Albright College quintet 68-54. Big Walt Dukes, a 6-11 All-American, lived up to his press releases and turned in a gilt-edged performance.

First Row, Left to Right: Richard Witman, Conrad Dettling, Gerald Potts, George Amole, Richard Leitham. Back Row, Left to Right: Kenneth Nase, James Bachman, James Croke, James Goss, Gordon Oplinger.

Owls Beat Lions In Last Minute

Reading, Feb. 13—With 50-seconds remaining, the diminutive Miller flipped an under-the-basket pass to 6'-5" Kittredge to give Temple a 59-58 victory.

New York A. C. Wallops Albright

New York, Feb.15—New York Athletic starstudded Club of ex-college cagers handed Albright an artistic 72-52 lacing.

Albright Edges Wagner on Last Second Goal

New York, Feb. 16—Gerry Potts sank a field goal just as the horn blew to give Albright a 60-58 upset victory.

Muhlenberg Edges Albright In Overtime Battle

Reading, Feb. 23 Dick Rudolph's field goal with six seconds remaining was the clincher as the Mules edged a fighting band of Albright Lions 70-68.

Albright Gains Verdict Over West Chester

West Chester, Feb. 27—Dick Leitham racked up two of his three field goals in the waning minutes of play to give Albright College a 73-72 victory.

J. V. Basketball

Reading, Mar. 5-The Baby Lions, under Coach Bobby Hicks, completed their season with a record of six wins and fourteen defeats. Before the Christmas vacation, the J.V.'s rolled up two impressive victories, overcoming a 22-9 halftime deficit to stop Sammy's Steak, and a 39-35 victory over Hershey Junior College; thus the outlook for the future seemed promising. Hick's squad also received a shot in the arm in the form of big Jim Goss who was sent down from the varsity. The stinging defeat at the hands of Scranton brought the record to 2-2. It was the worst beating Hick's charges received all season. The Reserves ran into tall and well-drilled teams in their next three opponents. The Cubs then jumped on the next three teams and reached their highest total of 85 points against the boys from Chocolate town. Even with the addition of Mickey Harbach and Dick Jockmann at the beginning of the second semester, the Cubs went down to eight straight defeats before winning against F. & M. The Baby Cubs could do no wrong that night. The Red and White Reserves completed their campaign against Dickinson College when they were again the victims of a taller and smootherworking combination.

Six Vets Head Baseball Squad

Reading, Mar. 18—Sporting 13 wins and 7 losses from the 1950-51 season and losing four of these by one-run margins, the Lions return to a tough 17-game schedule. Last year the G-Men were paced by the strong arms of Hook Martone (7-3) and Smiley Paul Muller (6-4), and the hard hitting of Hook Martone with the batting average of .383, Lefty Leitham at .354 and Tony D'Apolito at .351. Lost through graduation were Captain and second baseman Bernie Lillis, pitchers Smiley Muller, Danny Bieber and Dick Lee, catcher Billy Khroto and centerfielder Jay Sherlach.

The outlook looks promising with 6 lettermen returning to the team. The big question is whether newcomer Jerry Potts, reserves Bill Cohrs and Jim Bachman and freshmen Don Leo, Joe Gerard, Al Jacobs, Bill Wagner and Ed McNeill can come through to help Hook Martone with the pitching duties.

Have you ever wondered where all the girls' sports equipment comes from, or where the girls get those sweaters, letters, and numerals? Who sponsors May Day? And what are those girls doing behind that concession stand at the basketball games? Well all these, and in fact all women's athletic activities, are under the jurisdiction of the Women's Athletic Association. To handle all this, there is a cabinet composed of four officers and one representative from each class. This cabinet convenes once a month under the able guidance of Mrs. Eva Mosser.

To enumerate some of the headaches which confront them: W.A.A. is responsible for maintaining a point system of awards, for which a record of every Albright girl is kept. Varsity and intramural schedules are arranged, sports captains and managers are appointed, and at the end of the year W.A.A. awards a trophy, presented by the Ladies' Auxiliary, to the outstanding senior girl athlete.

Women's Hockey

The memories of hockey this year are many and varied: hockey camp in the Poconos with Miss Applebee was the eye opener after a long summer's sleep for some of the senior girls; then those afternoon practices that ranged from the hot-sweltering to the cold-finger numbing ones; our first game with Millersville; all those high hopes, great spirits, heartbreaking battles, and the sad rides home. We had a good team this year—best one ever—even though the score book showed many losses. The girls played hard and really tried—as cut lips, bruised bones, aches and pains clearly tell. But it was fum—remember the soup and toast lunch at Lebanon Valley, and the trip to Philadelphia to see the Scottish team, those car and bus rides, and above all the good tired feeling after it was all over and the hockey sticks were layed away for a well deserved rest until the first sport of the season starts again next year.

One Hundred Twenty-one

Varsity Basketball

Times and scorers ready! Captains ready! Time in with the whistle! Another basketball season starts again. This year the Lionesses were really victory bound. With the combination of Bedding, Leinbach, and Miller, ably assisted by "specs" Pomroy—how could they lose? The three game sweep of the Kutztown play-day, and the Millersville game was only the beginning. With the immortal words "Why the bounce?" and the number four play that worked, the season progressed with many wins and a few losses. But it will all be remembered even after the last bus ride is over and the last "Good-by Ladies" has been sung, and the baby lion is layed away in moth balls until next year. Congratulations lady cats—the games themselves speak of a job well done.

First Row, Left to Right: Mrs. Mosser, Helen Hasselgren, Barbara Pomroy, Dolores Bedding, Phyllis Gruber, Sarah Aicher. Second Row, Left to Right: Lois Gehris, Patricia Kennedy, Marie Noecker, Patricia Upczak, Lorraine Wagner, Jean Dirmitt.

J. V. Basketball

The baby lionesses really showed this year that they had the stuff of which future, great varsity teams are made. Albright beat Drexel—the varsity?—no the J.V.'s, and there were other victories too. The team, composed mainly of freshmen this year, got their first taste of college basketball in the game with Ursinus. But there is more to basketball than the mere winning of a game. There is always the meeting of new or even old friends, the wonderful rides on the bus, the feeling of elation when the ref announces the score, and then there is always the eternal question "When do we eat?". I say we should all give a cheer for the team and the coach for a job well done. And by the way, will someone please pass the oranges?

Basketball

The Interfraternity Council has again this year purchased three athletic trophies to be presented to the winners in intramural football, basketball and baseball, and one scholarship scholarship scholarship trophy.

Football

Zetas Capture Football Trophy

Reading, Dec. 7—This year the football championship of the intramural football league went to the Zetas, who won both halves of the league competition. Their final victory was over the Kappas, who were the runners-up.

Baseball

trophy to the fraternity having the highest scholastic average in the period from February

1951-February 1952. At a dance in February, the Pi Tau Beta fraternity was awarded the North House Nabs 1-M Diadem

Reading, Mar. 5—The high-running Frosh of the North House showed the Kappas, who defeated the Pi Taus a week previous for the playoff berth, their high scoring ability in a stunning 44-36 setback.

WOMEN

Hockey

Something new this year—every girl at Albright had a chance to show her All-American potentialities, for every Wednesday the intramural hockeyettes battered hockey sticks and bruised shins to bring their team to victory. The culmination of the activities was the game between the "All Stars" and the senior women, which ended in a victory for the "All Stars."

Basketball

Some of the most exciting games played here at Albright were the girls' intramural basket-ball games. Who could find a better game than when the Pats and the Mus got together to battle it out for the top honors? And then there was the age old battle between the day and the dorm girls—so if you want to see some "interesting" basketball come to the girls' intramural games.
