Washington To Debate Here This Evening

Team Coached By Former Albright Debater To Furnish First Opposition.

REMAINDER OF DEBATING SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Tonight will see the official introduction of the 1927 intercollegiate debating season on Albright's polished rostrum when Fred Livingood's Washington debaters come to exchange arguments with the local hopes.

Washington which upholds the Negative side of that burning political question of the day which concerns every civilized nation, almost and in particular the governments and tax payers of all the large nations, and foremost the U. S. Resolved: That The United States Should Cancel the War Debts Owed Her By The Allied Nations, against the Albright Affirmative, composed of Leon Hood, Ernest Heckert, Hartwell Fassnacht and Garrison Wilkes. Incidentally, Albright's Negative team, claiming Harry Klingeman, Elwood McGuigan, Russel Loucks and Carl Gunther will swing into action when they will entertain the Elizabethtown Affirmative here in the latter part of the month on the same question.

Although this is Washington's second year in intercollegiate debating, they are certain to have a powerful team, for any group coached by Fred Livingood, who holds the distinction of being one of the best debaters that Albright has ever produced is bound to furnish plenty of good, stiff opposition to any team. At the present time there are no available records of the Washington team this year, although they met with fine success last year in their first venture, at this activity. This is probably their first debate of the

DR. FERM CONFINED IN CHICAGO HOSPITAL

Dr. Virgilius Ferm, Professor of Social Sciences, at the time of this article's going to press has not as yet returned, although Dr. Bowman announced in chapel that he would return on Wednesday. He was detained because of an operation during the Christmas holidays. He spent the Holidays convalescing at the home of his parents in Chicago. We hope that he has fully recovered and will be able to continue his classes as usual.

CHAUTAUQUA OPENS IN TOWN

Annual Series Of Entertainments Scheduled For This Week End—Students Purchase Tickets

FINE PROGRAM SCHEDULED

The Swarthmore Chautauqua Association is again giving their series entertainments in Myerstown. The program began yesterday afternoon in the High School Auditorium at three o'clock. The Chautauqua is an annual event for Myerstown and is in addition to the regular lyceum course, sponsored by the Woman's Club.

Yesterday's program consisted of opening exercises by the committee of guarantors in charge. This was followed by a concert by the Krantz Family Concert Company, and the program was concluded by a special period of activities of the juniors holding season tickets. The evening program consisted of a concert by the Krantz Family Concert Company, and a lecture by Judge George D. Alden. The Krantz Family Concert Company is a remarkable quartet of musicians who play seventeen different instruments. Their program was well blended by musical numbers, readings, and crayon drawings. The infinite variety proved an added charm. Judge George D. Alden in his lecture "The Needs Of The Hour" stirred the audience with a truly great presentation of the subject.

HONOR ROLL FOR MOHN MEMORIAL

List Of Contributors To Be Compiled And Published In The Bulletin—Goal Not As Yet Achieved

The Memorial Fund is still progressing, slowly but surely. At present no visible efforts are being made by the committee, but several good plans for advancement are receiving careful consideration. The girls are going to make a call to the class of 1926 by personal letters, hoping to receive their support in this way.

If possible, the memorial will be purchased by commencement time. However, the fund may be forced to remain open for a longer time if the amount necessary is not forthcoming. Another plea is offered to friends of the College, and to the Alumni to help their Alma Mater.

Due to some unforeseen complications the profits from the Morgenstern recital have been eaten up by bills from preparations for the concert. This leaves the fund in practically the same condition as before.

An attempt is being made at this time, also, to publish a list of contributors to the Mohn Memorial Fund. The list is unfortunately incomplete, as a number of names were forgotten and not recorded during the campaign last June. These names will be added to the group as soon as possible.

The Memorial Honor Roll is as follows:

Mrs. F. Livingood, Irene Ibock, Mrs. Klop, Jane Fray, Verda Wetzel, Mrs. Ada Landis, Miriam Tice, "Carlisle", Mrs. Marion Gucks, Mrs. Wray,

Freshmen Class Selects Sprague As Historian

On Wednesday evening the Freshman Class met at the call of the President, Hangen. Mr. Hood came before the class and explained the Speculum assessment. After his speech the class elected Elvin Martin secretary, to succeed Mrs. Miriam (Brown) Lily, who has left school. Mr. Sprague was elected Class Historian for the Speculum. After which the meeting was adjourned.

GIRLS START YEAR WITH GALA EVENT

Party In Mohn Hall Marks The Opening Of The New Year—All Have A Good Time

Due to the extensive preparations by our Y. W. Cabinet the New Year's party for the girls was a great success. The program was planned in a novel way, and surely every girl who was there felt well repaid for the entrance fee which was one cent for each year the person was old. Twelve individuals were chosen from among the group, each dressed to represent a month of the year, and presented a game or stunt to be "pulled off" by the entire group. Refreshments were served in the month of August, which is the month for picnics. The Faculty members as well as the girls expressed their appreciation to the Y. W. for putting over such an all around successful party.

SUSQUEHANNA IS HOST TO I. N. A.

The Regional Conference Held Before The Christmas Vacation—Bulletin Represented—Banquet Served

DELEGATES FROM 4 SCHOOLS

Susquehanna University at Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, was host to the regional conference of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, Friday, December 17th.

Bucknell, Lehigh, Susquehanna, and Albright each had several representatives at the sessions which began immediately after dinner and ended with a sumptuous banquet served in the Seibert Hall dining room that evening. The meetings consisted mainly of reports, discussion, and addresses by G. M. Steinmetz, editor of the Harrisburg Telegraph, and Mr. Mengert a local business man.

The "Campus Crier" of Bever College applied for admission to the I. N. A. and a vote will be taken at a later meeting to determine whether the paper shall be admitted to membership.

The delegates were royally entertained by the "Susquehanna" during their stay there, and the "Bulletin" takes this opportunity to thank the staff for their hospitality.

Ward K. Hosterman, '27, Blanche McCauley, '27, and Leon C. Hood, '28, were the Albright representatives at the conference.

THE MALE GLEE CLUB IN FINE SHAPE

Plans Calling For Extensive Trips Now In Progress—Tour Easter Week To Go West—Other Trips North And South

The Male Glee Club is rounding into fine shape for the beginning of an active concert season. Practices are being held twice a week and these are attended almost one hundred percent. The club officers are planning a program which it is expected will be one of the best given in many years and no efforts are being spared to make it a success.

The music used this year is almost entirely new and of excellent quality and pleasing variety. Much of the program will be composed of well known pieces arranged for chorus and quartet. Among them are Barcarolle, and the Anvil Chorus. There will also be solos, quartets, instrumental combinations, and a skit to fill the periods between the club numbers. The full program will be published in a later issue of the Bulletin, featuring the Club's work.

The Organization tour this year will extend in a westerly direction, however, it is expected that several trips will be made, covering well known places in the East, and South. The manager is endeavoring to book engagements in and about York and also through the coal regions and Wilkes-Barre. Numerous replies have already been received and a definite schedule will be arranged in a few weeks. Most of the concerts will be booked under various organizations of churches and schools.

The work of the club last year was very satisfactory as they appeared in seventeen concerts throughout the eastern part of the state and gave a concert at Lebanon, in which the Girls' and Men's organizations were combined. The latter proved an extraordinary attraction as there were over twenty girls and twenty boys in a combined chorus. It was a part of the Lebanon Y. M. C. A. Lyceum Course, and the number was attended by a fine audience. The main tour

Girls Win First Basketball Game With Dickinson

The Start of Season Looks Promising—Ten More Games Ahead—Team In Fine Shape At Carlisle.

DICKINSON CO-EDS HELD TO TWO LONE GOALS

Dickinson was greatly taken by surprise last Friday night, when Miss VanDuzer's crack team swooped down upon them and emerged on the victorious side of a 17-14 score. The teams were very well-matched, but the unerring shooting of "Neenie" and "Deekie" proved to be the downfall of the Carlisle lassies.

Albright's guards proved their worth by the final score, which shows but two field goals for the opponents. Ann and Ditty were everywhere in the center breaking up passes and feeding their forwards. There was swift, sure passing on either side. Miss — the referee, deserves much credit for her impartial but sharp-judged work.

The line-up was:

Albright	Dickinson
Dech	R.F. Poticher
Herr	L.F. Barklow
Benfer	C. Hime
Stauffer	S.C. Ferris
Wilkes	R.G. Harris
Painter	L.G. Bell

Field Goals: Dech 4, Herr 3, Poticher 1, Green 1. Fouls: Poticher 7, Barklow 3, Dech 2, Herr 1. Anyone who saw the Albright girls play at Dickinson will predict that this will not be the only victory of the season. Any opponent is going to have a hard struggle to get anything from our girls.

The line up is the same as last year, but the girls make up a far different team, for Albright has a girl's coach this year, and Miss Van Duzer has already proved that it

ROOMMATES ABSENT AT BEGINNING OF TERM

Well, we're back again at the old school and am I taking too much for granted when I say that we were glad to come back, for even though we like turkey, and especially Mother's, we simply would become too fat for words if it continued too long.

But some are feeling blue because our best friends haven't returned as yet. But we're hoping and anxiously waiting for their return. To have one face missing from our midst is like a poet who has lost the trend of his thought.

Miss Margaret Thompson and Miss Mabel Kelchner, roommates, are the missing students. Miss Thompson

OUR POLICIES

1. Improvements, grounds and buildings.
2. More student interest and participation.
3. Expression of student thought.
4. An Albright individuality.
5. 100% honor in academic work.

THE NEW YEAR

Another beginning is ours. Let us make the most of it and see what concentration and effort can really do. The New Year has arrived and brought with it a book—clean, white pages, as yet unsolved by any marks of ours. It is up to us to make the marks on those pages of his, creditable ones. "To know what you want, then to start after it immediately—and keep going is to insure success." And after all isn't that what we are all working for? Success, if not in a greater, then in a lesser degree, but always success. And as we slip back into the harness of school life, the land of beginning again, and pick up the tools of knowledge for this year's final blow at the chains of ignorance binding us, let us vow in our own minds to make at least a measure of success our own.

BULLETIN RESOLUTIONS

Now that the New Year has rolled around, and practically every one is making or has made resolutions, the Bulletin would like to suggest the following for adoption by Albright students:

Resolved:

1. I will support Albright College to my fullest ability, and work for her interests at all times, both while at school and away.
2. I will violate none of the rules of the College.
3. I will support both curricular and extra-curricular affairs to a greater extent.
4. I will be a good sport and be true to my fellow students on all occasions.
5. I will eliminate "cribbing" and all other cheating in exams.
6. I will try to maintain an honor of 100% par value.
7. I will stand for clean speech and under no circumstances will I use any other.
8. I will play fair to myself, my parents, and my profs by giving due attention to my studies.
9. I will never mar the beauty of the campus or buildings, but will help keep them presentable.
10. I will get into the true college spirit; I will do no "knocking" except justifiable and beneficial.
11. I will keep my room clean and respectable.
12. I will show true hospitality to all visiting college teams, athletic or otherwise.
13. I will play all athletic contests hard and clean; the same to apply to the big game of college life.
14. I will try to be a credit to Albright both before and after graduation.

THE SPIRIT OF COOPERATION

It seems hard that in a school of the size of Albright it is almost impossible to secure cooperation among the students. We are sure that everyone knows everybody else and we do not know of any serious difficulties between students. However, we all are beginning to realize that nearly everything done about the school is done by the student who starts it and that when someone does start something it is looked upon as strictly "his job" and it's nobody else's business.

We must admit that minding your own business is good in some instances, but the trouble lies in our interpretation of the word "own." It does not mean that when a person is chairman of a committee that he is supposed to do all the work. Neither does it mean that he is boss and the rest do the work. If a person is head of a literary society it should not be considered his society nor the secretary's or any other officer's. Yet when the only persons who turn out week after week for the programs consist principally of the officers of the societies there is something wrong. This applies principally to the men as it is understood that attendance at the girls society is practically compulsory. The latter may not be the best plan although it is a satisfactory means for having a good attendance. What we need here is a little spirit of cooperation. The boys should have a desire to schedule "big" things for their societies and to actually have them up and doing. We are now to be under the guidance of new persons it would be a good New Year's Resolution to support them.

Another incident of poor cooperation is found in our athletic work. We are having good teams, yet there are those who continually knock. They take advantage of every opportunity to find fault with the team or managers. Many of them have never been in any similar position and know nothing about playing, managing, coaching, etc., yet they speak fluently on any subject of that nature. When they meet someone who is able to discuss the subject with them they never show their colors and pretend to be innocent. We hope it is through ignorance that they are acting thus because it is bound to prove detrimental to the work which should not be spoiled at this time. To any who may have been influenced by unjust criticism we ask you to get in contact with conditions. We certainly need a whole lot more cooperation between the teams, students, alumni, and patrons.

$500 PER ATHLETE

"It is well known that football has been commercialized," writes Dr. Homer E. Wark, president of West Virginia Wesleyan in a letter to alumni. "The players have been receiving pay in the form of tuition fees, books, rooms and board."

"That has amounted to nearly $500 per man this year. . . Every one admits that the system is bad. They say, however, it is a common practice, but if it is wrong, let us face the facts as Christian men and do our best to put athletics on a better basis. The Board of Trustees has declared for voluntary athletics in Wesleyan, and as soon as our present obligations are discharged, we shall put them on this basis."

Dr. Wark's revelations of hired athletes came at the end of a season which revealed football as one of the major industries, involving the use of more money than ever before. Several weeks ago the financial returns for the season of 1926 showed that 300 colleges took in more than $20,000,000 in gate receipts. Harvard alone reached the $100,000 mark. Thirty teams averaged more than half a million. Another group averaged about $400,000 each, and a third group of twenty-five colleges averaged about $100,000 each.—New Student.

: Campus Chatter :

By The Parrot

Happy New Year, everybody, Happy New Year!

Seems great to be back amongst these old familiar scenes, doesn't it? Parrot is more or less rested as a result of his vacation, and hopes everybody else is, also. Of course, because it was vacation they didn't cover Parrot's cage at nite til quite late. 'Deed, and it was a very great treat for Parrot to be allowed to stay up! Yes, sirc, it was—

And did you have the merry Christmas Parrot wish ed for you? Parrot had the jolliest time, and he got you right away about the lovely gift he got for his very own. A couple nites before the 25th, the Norbell rang and Parrot flew to the door—to find no one there, and a small red-cloved box sitting calmly on the door sill. Of course Parrot picked it right up with his class and hopped to the light. There was a nice card on it, saying: "Do Not Open Til Christmas." To a good Parrot." But to be sure there was no waiting to see what was in the nice red box til Xmas, so Parrot speedily opened it—and found Santa Claus had not forgotten poor little Parrot. It was a lovely, beautiful, red box of delicious Champion Flake Crackers! Just what Parrot wanted, too! Who Parrot's Santa Claus was has not yet been determined, but maybe it was the Editor. What do you think about it, folks? Parrot wants to thank Santa, so if you find out, please tell Parrot.

Yes, Parrot ate all his crackers already. They were so good!

And the day after Christmas, folks! We woke to a dazzling glory—glass trees with diamond tassels, all glistening ice and sparkling sunbeams. The sun was bright and warm, but the ice was so thick it didn't melt for half a week afterwards. Never before was such a beautiful scene spread over the campus, and then it had to be at vacation time when you all had to miss it. Wasn't that a shame?

And, folks, Parrot hopes you have come back truly resolved to make this new year of 1927 the very best you can possibly make it, in studies and other good things both. Get the best from amongst your opportunities while you can, here in college. Do it now, for the years are surely being chalked up against us all too fast, and soon we'll be out in the wide world where we can never again find the keys to success as they are offered to us here. Perhaps Parrot's philosophy sounds a little queer, but try it anyway. There's more to it than you imagine, so let's make 1927 the best and most profitable year we possibly can.

Well, well! Guess Parrot has chattered long enough for the first 1927 Bulletin issue, eh folks? So he'll save some for next time—Anyhow, Parrot wishes you lots of New Year luck again, and so it's "au revoir" til later.

WASHINGTON TO DEBATE HERE THIS EVENING

season. Tomorrow night they will meet Schuykill. Albright's negative will meet Washington in the second leg of the dual debate probably in the middle of March when Temple will also be met on the trip.

Features Of The Schedule

The schedule as tentatively arranged by Manager Heckert comprises debates with Washington, Elizabethtown, Gettysburg, Western Maryland, Temple, Dickinson, State College, Lebanon Valley and a triangular with Muhlenberg and Ursinus, which will take the Albright negative to the latter and bring Muhlenberg's negative here. This will be held on Feb. 18th.

In order that the debates do not get too dry with only one question, the team has decided to debate another, Resolved: That the present tendency to emphasize the practical in higher education is to be deplored. This question should appeal especially to a college audience, and Albright will meet two very strong teams on this issue: State College and Gettysburg, a team which debated Oxford this year. These debates should prove very interesting, as in fact, should all of them, because both questions are concerned with vital issues of the day.

Although the Chautauque will offer some opposition to the debate tonight, the management is looking for a large turn-out. The admission price of every debate has of course been paid in the budget, and every student who can should be there, for the present tendency of debating is to endeavor to enlighten the audience, rather than overemphasize the importance of winning.

Speculum Work Coming Along Nicely ---Cast of Play In Midst of Practice

All Departments of Cast Reporting Progress In All Lines of Year-Book Endeavor. Book Has Number of New Interesting Features.

PRACTICALLY ALL COPY SENT TO ENGRAVER

Winter weather, skating, and all the other pleasures that go with it are offering no attractions to the Speculum staff members who are engaged in the painful throes of getting another Albright year book ready for press—and getting it paid for. All three departments of the staff are reporting progress.

The art staff has its work almost completed. The past week saw the final great concerted effort to get the engraver's copy sent away to take advantage of the discounts offered. The only copy which has not been sent in as yet are the late-season activities, such as debating, basketball, and a few others. Proofs for almost all the copy sent in before Christmas have been returned. The features of the illustrations this year are the scene section, which will surpass those of any previous, the two color arrangement which will be worked just a little differently than before, and the unique mounts of the individuals on the athletic teams whose success have meant so much to the college this year.

The literary staff is hard at work to get all copy in before the first of February. Except for the pound-

MRS. LANDIS COACHING CAST FOR FINE PRESENTATION

The Juniors have been working hard during the past week getting started for several long weeks of practice in preparation for their play, "And Home Came Ted" which will be staged some time during the middle of February, in the local High School Auditorium.

Mrs. Landis is daily meeting groups and working up the parts, and by the looks of things at this time we are assured of a first class production, when the finishing touches are put on. The proceeds of the play, which is being staged with special permission from T. S. Denison and Co. of Chicago, will be used in the financing of the 1928 Speculum. The Speculum this year is planning an enlarged edition, and it has become necessary to use this as well as several methods of securing sufficient revenue to put the book over as their expenses will be unusually high this year, due to the superior work that has been required of the printers and engravers.

YORK COUNTY ALUMNI ACTIVE

ceived from various Alumni we find that some of them are turning out excellent athletic teams. Others are teaching in schools which are on the high score side of the sheet. C. D. Brillhart, principal of schools at Napoleon, Ohio, had a team which made a remarkable showing in the majority of games played.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Steltz, formerly Ruth Thiel '24, will move to Myerstown in the near future. Mrs. Steltz was the accompanist of the Men's Glee Club for a number of years while at school, and Mr. Steltz served as manager of the same organization.

Miss Violet Kinsinger has changed her address from Whitesville, N. Y., to Wiconisco, Pa.

The "Bulletin" is in receipt of numerous high school papers of which former students who worked on the Bulletin staff are faculty advisers. They are taken as a group a fine collection of papers and should give some college papers a real idea of what can be expected of the students of next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Dietz have a baby boy, born shortly before Christmas. Dietz was a member of the class of 1925, and his wife, was Miss Doretha Snyder, from the class of 1926. They live at Brandywine Summit, Pa. Dietz preaches and takes work at Crozier Seminary, Chester, and also at the University of Pennsylvania.

It was also learned that Harold Buck '24 was recently married.

GIRLS WIN FIRST BASKETBALL GAME WITH DICKINSON

takes a woman to understand girls' basketball. She has taken the material we had, good material, trimmed all the rough edges off and prepared a real team to represent Albright.

If you thought "Neenie" and "Decky" were good last year, wait until you see them this year.

"Ann" and "Ditty" are still in center and have developed much speed and accuracy since last year. Ann still can jump and that's enough said.

Out of the three guards, Clara Wilkes, Ray Painter and Catherine Yeager, it is hard to choose the two regulars. It now looks as though they will share equal honors.

There are three new varsity members this year—Steltz, Flo Wilkes and Esther Detterline. Steltz has worked up as side center and the two freshmen girls have proven to be versatile players, being used on any section of the floor.

Manager Katy Miller has worked up an excellent schedule this year, having secured eleven games, nine of which are with colleges and normals. She especially showed her ability in taking the team to Dickinson under very unfavorable circumstances.

The girls are ready to do their share in making this year an all-around record-smashing era in the history of athletics in Albright College.

The "Bucknellian" announces that there are 1065 candidates for baccalaureate degrees at Bucknell University. They also announce a prize of one hundred dollars for the person who will prove an airship of special design impractical. Students at this school now have the opportunity to send radiograms free of charge. This is accomplished through an honorary radio fraternity.

POETS' CORNER

THE NEW YEAR

Let him in, he's sort of bashful,
Rather shy, the least bit strange;
But as yet he's just an infant,
As he grows you'll see a change.
Note the innocence about him,
See how white his garments are;
How that pure high light surrounds him

Like the radiance of a star.
Pink his hands like wild rose petals;
Blue his eyes as gentians rare;
If we're careful how we treat him
He will thrive beneath our care.
Have you guessed it, He's the New Year,

Fearful yet of taking hold;
Bid him enter, make him welcome,
Do not keep him in the cold.

—Blanche McCauley.

WINTER

Winter came today,
A King in gorgeous furs,
And marched across the barren fields;
While close behind him
Ghostly white, a phantom host
Crept after; Summer, Spring and Fall
I'm sure I saw them all;
They drooped so, Summer's hair
Half hid her face,
And Spring dropped petals
White as frozen milk, to mark
Her trail; but winter, kingly soul,
Had laid his course,
And grief, or muffled steps
Could not disturb the visions
That his eyes beheld.

—Blanche McCauley.

—Everything comes to him who waits, including a bawling out by the traffic cop.

"The fact is, that civilization requires slaves. The Greeks were quite right there. Unless there are slaves to do the ugly, horrible, uninteresting work, culture and contemplation become almost impossible. Human slavery is wrong, insecure, and demoralizing. On mechanical slavery, on the slavery of the machine, the future of the world depends."

—Oscar Wilde

SLAVES

In a quarter-century the General Electric Company has produced electric motors having a total of more than 350,000,000 man-power. Electric light, heat, and transportation have also contributed their part to the freeing of men. These are America's slaves. Through their service American workers do more, earn more, and produce quality goods at lower cost than anywhere else in the world.

The college-trained man is the first to grasp these facts which raise man from a mere source of physical power to be a director of power, thus realizing the true economic value of the human mind.

You will find this monogram on all kinds of electrical machinery. To insure quality, ask for it on equipment when you buy for factory, office, or home.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-18.

His straightforward manner and freedom of speech combined with the truth of the message held the audience throughout the evening. Judge Alden is an eminent barrister and former Massachusetts jurist.

To-day's program will consist of a lecture demonstration in the afternoon by Mrs. Josephine Dominick on the topic, "Well Dressed On A Moderate Income." This will be a study of the fundamentals of good taste in dress and how to show good taste on a moderate allowance. Her lecture will be illustrated by special costumes carried with her and worn by her assistants. The lecture is supposed to have a special appeal to the women. The juniors will again have their activities at the close of the regular program.

The evening program of the second day will feature the comedy drama "Applesauce." The theme of the play is based on the thought that "Happiness is like a kiss; the only way to get any good out of it is to give it to somebody else." There are supposed to be one hundred and thirty laughs in the one hundred and eleven minutes of actual playing time. The company carries five persons, all actors of fine ability. The play had long runs in Chicago, Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and is produced on the Chautauqua platform by special permission. The play is but two years old, and has had remarkable success. The play will furnish the full evening's entertainment.

Tomorrow afternoon the holders of the special Junior tickets will produce the Junior Chautauqua Pageant. This will be followed by the concert of the Clark Concert Company. This group is composed of three musicians and possesses the unique reputation of being a company that is able to present a variety while program in a popular way. Each of its members is an artist of the best training and long years of experience, and the work presented by the company is such as will please the music lover as well as those who claim no knowledge of, or fondness for what they call "high class" music. Interest is also added by the introduction of some old time tunes given in old fashioned costumes at the end of the program.

The last program will include a concert by the company who furnished the musical program in the afternoon and will be followed by an "Oriental Pageant." The latter will be produced by Julius Caesar Nayphe, a young Athenian, born of the Creolian aristocracy, and educated in Palestine and America. This promises to be a brilliant spectacle of costly garments and trappings worn by living models. Mr. Nayphe is just back from over a year in Syria and others of the eastern countries with fresh material and new costumes. The pageant is supposed to be a gorgeous and dramatic exhibition which will prove one of the headline features of the entire program.

The Myerstown Chautauqua Association is composed of guarantors from the town and the organization guarantees the ticket sale in advance. The local association is headed by Dr. Gobble, of Albright College as president.

Edison Bates, chaplain; and Harry Wray, sergeant-at-arms. Retiring Presidents, Fassnacht of the Neos and Gassull of the Excelsiors delivered their exaugural addresses after which were given the inaugural addresses of their respective followers in office.

These newly-installed officers are especially anxious to encourage the attendance at the weekly meetings. Recently the attendance has fallen far below that of former times. Attend your literary society meeting every week!

: Who's Who At Albright :*ARLINE D. HERR

For the benefit of those who are no longer at Albright and for those whose memories are seemingly somewhat impaired (particularly G. H. Gramley) a few facts will be briefly suggested. "Leenie" is rather tall, slender, intelligent, honest, senior, good-natured, humorous, and hard-working. She is a brunette and also a good basketball player. Her freedom—i.e., absolute freedom, has been slightly hampered by attaching to her protecting care, a short while past, a deserving young gentleman friend whose initials are "Pat" Clemens.

She is interested in other athletics, too. The hockey stick she wields has a mean curve to it and her racquet puts the most tantalizing "english" on the white pills. If by chance you are so lucky as to get in position to return it the best you can likely do is to drive it into the net—whereupon "Leenie" yells "Check."

Seriously (of course, that's only to fool the public), there's a standing opinion that if she so desired this young lady could make a success at playing football. To be sure that is only a theory, but had you been able, dear public, to see the football game the girls put on in the College Chapel with "Leenie" starring, you would not be skeptical in the least.

Two years now Arline has been honored by the Girls' Basketball Team captaincy. Last year her work on the basketball court was very commendable and from what we hear about the first game of this season she still has her eye on the basket. "Leenie" also quite ably filled her place on the tennis team and won for it quite a lot of praise.

When the career of this illustrious girl draws to a close here at Albright she is expected to enter the teaching profession, quite likely in the field of French. We are sure, however, that she is not going to let the old-maid type of "school woman" for too much of an active (and fun-loving) disposition influence the life of "Leenie."

NEWSY NEWS

A recent survey was made of the lighting system of Main building. From the results it is possible that alterations will soon be in progress.

The caroling by the students, before leaving for the Christmas vacation was greatly appreciated by all who heard them. Quite a large group participated.

The north part of the campus was last week a sheet of ice and snow and made walking on the paths dangerous. During the week conditions have been somewhat remedied.

The Swarthmore Chautauqua is at present giving its three day program in the local High School Auditorium. This is nearly the tenth year they have appeared in Myerstown. Many students have taken in the attractions which were featured yesterday and it is expected that many more will attend today's and tomorrow's programs.

In spite of the fact that double cuts and a two dollar fine applied for every class missed before and after the recent vacation several students went home early or arrived late.

The recent cold weather induced a large number of the students to try skating. The ice was reported as being pretty good. Most of the group went to either the canal or the dam on College Street. Many town people skated on the latter.

As usual the end of vacation found an influx of students sporting new clothes. Especially noticeable were the bright colored sweaters, ties, shirts, coats, shoes, etc. The change is found among the co-eds as well as the boys, showing that Santa Claus was impartial after all.

As this is the day for the opening debate of our men's varsity at home, it is going to look bad for a presentable crowd. Chautauqua may interfere with our debate, however with two such headlines on there should not be an excuse for staying in the room or going to town to find something to do.

Due to some unfortunate circumstances it has been impossible for the societies to clash in their first intersociety debate. The school is looking forward to the event with a great deal of interest as there is a new trophy as the goal. It is expected that the rivalry will place a little spirit into the societies, and that the outcome is not by any means clinched for any society. The first or preliminary debate is slated for the near future.

When we notice how some of the students are studying we are certain that there is but one solution—Mid year examinations one week off. Semester reports due next Friday.

The basket ball schedules have been completed and will be ready for distribution in the near future. The first game was played this week.

FRATERNITY NOTES*Kappa Upsilon Phi

The fraternity wishes to take this means of thanking fraters and friends for the many kind remembrances and greetings received over the holiday season.

An informal party was held by the active members on the 15th of December, prior to leaving for the holiday vacation. There were several guests and the group did their best to uphold their reputation as champions in the line of food storage. It appeared the motto was "There is always room for one more." After the refreshments the boys went to Mohn Hall and entertained the girls with a radio program. In spite of bad static the program was received O. K.

It was recently announced that Frater Rodney Steltz '25 will move to Myerstown. He will accept a position in the office of the Painter Foundry. Mr. and Mrs. Steltz have rented the apartment above Davis' Drug Store. The household goods and furniture was moved here the week following Christmas. Frater Steltz will follow in the latter part of January, after completing a semester of teaching at Belmont, N. Y.

ing of typewriters, they are working silently, efficiently, and deftly, and will doubtless have some fine specimen of literary creations.

The business staff is also having its hands full scraping the where-with all to pay for the book. Advertising manager Whitmoyer has about five hundred dollars worth of advertisements in his brief case, with about one hundred still to go. The Speculum play is reported right beside this.

On the whole, the work is coming along nicely, and the staff is doing its best to make the quality of the Speculum as high as possible, that it may reflect the atmosphere of the college as accurately as possible.

At Elizabethtown College the Y. M. C. A. is quite active. Their work includes visits to various institutions where they give programs. The varsity debaters were selected early in December and their work along this line is making fine progress. They will also have a girl's team.
