JUNIORS GIVE FINE
PERFORMANCE OF NOTED PLAY

Professional-like Acting Shows Result of Excellent Coaching; Norma Michael Stars in Leading Role

MISS GARLACH COACH

Last Thursday and Friday Nights, the Junior Class presented in the Myerstown High School, the play, entitled "What Anne Brought Home", a comedy-drama in three acts. The production was sponsored by the 1930 Speculum, to which went the proceeds.

A good-sized and very appreciative audience greeted the players both nights. They responded heartily to the jokes which were numerous. The auditorium was filled with laughter time and again as a result of the many peculiar and humorous situations which arose during the course of the evening's entertainment.

The production, written by Larry Johnson, well known play writer, is one of his masterpieces, and has just recently completed a long and successful run on Broadway. It has just been released for amateur presentation by the T. S. Denison and Company, Chicago, Illinois, with whom special arrangements were made by the Junior Class.

The play setting was the home of a small-town lumber merchant, Mr. Sam Bennett, which part was taken by Edgar Peckham. He proved to be a very fine impersonator of an elderly, fatherly gentleman. The other members of the Bennett family, were his wife, played by Martha Yagle, and three daughters, Nina—Blandina Foster, Anne—Norma Michael, and Alma—Myrtle Wolf, all of whom played their parts in a way that showed great dramatic ability.

Norma Michael, in the part of leading lady was not to be excelled. She played her part on a par with a professional actress. Act I opened with Anne being sent to a neighboring village to purchase several yards of crepe-de-chine. However, she returned with something very different—a husband—Dudley Purdy, played by Joseph Kunzman.

THEME OF RECITAL

Works Of Noted Composer Presented; Orchestra Appears For First Time

Last Monday evening in the College Chapel, a Schubert Recital, in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the death of the composer, was given by the members of the music departments, assisted by the expression department of the college. As is signified by the title of the recital all numbers were written by Schubert or by Schubert in collaboration with another composer.

Schubert will live down through the ages as one of the greatest composers of all time and to such an extent that a great number of his compositions grow more popular and reach greater heights with each passing year. The students in the music departments showed rare interpretation of his works.

Besides the regular piano and vocal numbers the program included an original reading by Miss Norma Michael and an orchestra under the direction of Professor Nagro. Everything looks forward to a splendid orchestra this year with the abundance of material and the interest taken in its advancement by (Continued On Page Three)

COLLEGE CHURCH
CONGREGATION HOLDS
ANNUAL RALLY DAY

Varied Program Given At Both Morning And Evening Services
Dr. Fluck Main Speaker

GOOD ATTENDANCE

The combined Sunday School and church services held Sunday morning, November 18, 1928, were enjoyed by a congregation that filled the auditorium.

Services opened with a selection by members of the college orchestra. The scripture lesson was read by Dr. A. E. Gobbie; the invocation and a prayer by Rev. W. S. Boyer. Following another excellent selection by the Orchestra, Professor Dech gave the congregation a brief report of the progress of the committee in charge of renovating the church. Surprising steps have been completed, a new chimney erected and the new slate roof finished.

The Sunday School lesson given in the form of an address by Lester Williams, was a plea made for religious tolerance in every day Christian life, which is so full of prejudice and fanaticism just now.

After the Offertory, the choir rendered Wildermere's anthem "Rock of Ages, Cleft For Me."

The main feature on the mornings program was the address by our Professor and friend, Rev. Dr. J. Lewis Fluck. It is so seldom (Continued On Page Three)

MR. LUBOLD TRACES
HISTORY OF LIBRARY

Nucleus Of Present Collection Was Started At Union Seminary, New Berlin, In 1856

The beginning of the Albright College Library dates from about the year 1856, when Union Seminary was founded at New Berlin, Pa. The Excelsior Literary Society was soon organized within the student body and the members began at once in a small way to collect books for a library. In 1863 the Neocosmian Society was organized and a friendly rivalry started which was shown in efforts for each society to have the best library.

In those days students took an active interest in everything that would promote the welfare of their favorite society. As a matter of fact, the literary societies were the life-springs of the school. For a number of years during Commencement Week, a half-day was allotted to each literary society as Book Reception Day, and on those occasions from one to two hundred dollars in money, besides a number of books were contributed.

There was no separate school library until 1887, when Union Seminary was changed to Central Pennsylvania College. From that time on books for a college library were collected by purchase and by gifts, and in the fifteen years of the schools existence as a college, a library of several thousand volumes was gathered. In the meantime Albright Collegiate Institute at Myerstown, which later became Albright College, also had collected a library of about two thousand books. When in 1902 Central Pennsylvania College was united with Albright, (Continued On Page Four)

ENTHUSIASTIC
PRECEDES GAME

Dormant Spirit Aroused At Meeting Displayed By Student Body At Game—Are Fine Sports

BAND MAKES GOOD APPEARANCE

There was one thing in common that everybody had at the Pep Meeting, last Friday evening and that was enthusiasm. It seemed as if everyone aimed at the same goal, which was to show the coaches and the team that the student body was back of them in their attempt to defeat Schuylkill.

The recently organized College Band, really started the fireworks with a couple of snappy selections. Appreciation for this music was shown by a big "boom yell" for the band, after which those present were addressed by an ardent Albright backer and Alumnus, Mr. Mohn. This former Albrightian instilled within the hearts of all his listeners, that traditional and famous Albright fighting spirit. He did this so well that his talk was interrupted several times by hearty outbursts of applause.

Perhaps the reason why Mr. Mohn's audience expressed their feelings in this manner, was because he was able to select incidents from the past football world here at Albright, that would have made any one of us proud of our Alma Mater. He told how several Albright players and fought on, facing victory or defeat, whichever it happened to be, when they were physically unfit to be in the game. He mentioned Slaughter '25, Coach Smith and Gilbert among those who had "stuck to their guns" when they should have been under medical care. In closing he implored the team to fight against Schuylkill with the same spirit that he had mentioned several times during his talk.

At this point something new was instituted into the Pep Meeting. "Peep" Garret '28 was called upon (Continued On Page Three)

PROSPECTS FOR GIRLS'
BASKETBALL BRIGHT

Sextet Enters Hard Schedule With All But One Of Last Year's Varsity Players Back

SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

The outlook for girls' basketball for the coming season is very hopeful. All the old regulars are back again. In fact, every member of the varsity squad, except Mopsy Higgins who did not return this year, is upon her toes and rarin' to go.

The competitive spirit is all the greater because of the influx of Frosh girls who have had experience on high school teams. This means the utmost effort from every girl (Continued On Page Four)

THEMISIANS ENACT
SKIT IN MEETING

The Themisian Literary Society held its weekly meeting, Thursday, Nov. 15. The chaplain had charge of the opening devotions. After the business was transacted, the most novel program of the year was presented in the form of a skit entitled, "The Hindu Man", given under the direction of Sara Heiney. The following is the cast of characters: Announcer of Circus Events—Flora Gross.

"Touchdowns" Discussed
By Mohn Hallers At 'Y'

Pep And Enthusiasm Were Among Topics Debated By Women Students At Weekly Meeting

On Tuesday evening the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held under the direction of Marion Shaw. The topic of the discussion was "Touchdowns." The P. M. C. score, the band, the cheer-leaders, the coming Schuylkill game and what they meant were discussed, since this will probably be the last year of sports at Myerstown. We need pep to make a touchdown in football or anything. We make touchdowns or fail to make them every day.

Are you full backs, half backs, or caddy drawbacks? Do you tackle your job to lay your man? Do you work for the school or individual glory? Do we have fairplay? Is there sufficient co-operation? We have different plays to make, not only in our courses, but in our extracurricular activities. Are we "Jakie Stalls"? Do we just play to be spectacular?

After a discussion of the above questions the decision was reached that what Albright needed was more pep and more co-operation. Pep, according to the definition given, meaning "a dynamic force within." Questions: How do we get it? Is it necessary? Why? Can one work up pep or must we all work hand in hand?

Parsons Who Are Having Their Most Successful Season Run Wild To Trample Red & White 49-0

LACK OF MATERIAL COSTLY

Battling a team that has been thru thick and thin for the past four seasons together, Albright went down to defeat at the hands of Schuylkill College with a score of 49-0. Although the score is big, the crowd will long remember the plucky fighting of the Red and White team. Fighting a fight that seemed almost hopeless from the first few minutes of play, our gallant boys did their best and gave until one by one they were forced from the game, exhausted. Schuylkill was in the same boat, but was better able to cope with the situation, by having enough reserve material to rush into the fray when their men became tired. Taking into consideration the teams that our opponents have been playing and the material they have in reserve it might well be said that it was no disgrace to lose last Saturday.

Playing straight football for the first period of the game, the Parsons carried the ball down the field to a scoring position. Here the Albright line held for three downs. On the fourth down Tom Boyle dropped back and sent the ball straight thru the uprights from a successful placement kick. Taking the ball again, Schuylkill gridders marched from the field to their next touchdown. In these plays Knorr and Norris were the main factors in the scoring.

Knorr the thorn that pierced Albright's side time and time again was the big ground gainer for the Parsons. It was he who ripped the Albright line again and again for big gains. Not only Knorr, but Frankie White also held the lime-light. Much credit has been given White for his leadership in guiding the team to a victory, and to the big gains that he reeled off.

It cannot be said that Albright had an individual star in the game, for the whole team was in there, fighting shoulder to shoulder, encouraging one another and keeping the old fighting spirit up. Our boys are to be congratulated on their fine fighting spirit, after the game was hopelessly gone. With the odds against them as they were, the boys (Continued On Page Four)

PHYSICAL CULTURE
CLASS ORGANIZED
BY BUSINESS MEN

Myerstownians Start Gym Work Under Coach Smith; Meet Monday Nights At Eight O'clock

No doubt inspired by pictures of the "perfect man", the business men of Myerstown are making a serious effort to push the chest out over the waist line, and to pull the waist-line under the chest, and in general just to keep fit.

Under the direction Physical Director J. S. Smith, the class meets every Monday evening at 8 P. M. and keeps on flexing the muscles until 10.

The class first has a drill in gymnastic marching, and then vigorous calisthenics, following which basketball, volley ball or indoor baseball finish off the evening.

That the class is interesting and beneficial can be proven by increases of members at every meeting. The class was organized Nov. 5, 1928. E. R. Noll was chosen President, and Prof. G. W. Walton, Sec'y and Treas.

OUR PART IN LIFE

In the great game of life in which we are all playing a part, the question arises and confronts us with great force, "Are you a fullback, a halfback, or only a draw?" We go on living from day to day, some of us playing the most possible out of life, others just a portion of good, while there is a large group who knock and criticize continually, not only harming their own welfare, but also that of many others.

In this busy college life of ours do we have time to find fault, knock and criticize so that in doing so we lose our real aim or purpose? No matter where we look in life, if we are inclined to be pessimists, we can find plenty to be discouraged about. But why take that aspect? It has always been found to be far easier and more pleasant to smile and grin and to build or boost rather than knock.

Let's make a trial of this theory and we're certain not to lose out. Be a help to Albright by boosting instead of knocking.

affairs, and family squabbles. These situations were enlivened by flashes of wit and humor by several members of the cast, especially Uncle Henry, brother of Sam, who was living with the Bennett family, whom Mrs. Bennett termed as "a cantankerous old fool." Alfred White, in the role of Uncle Henry, brought many laughs from the audience with his humorous remarks and cranky ideas. He played his part in the very best manner that could have been done by anyone.

Herb Hardcastle, an ambitious young salesman with "personality" also did his share in enlivening the production with his so-called business ability and efficiency. This part was taken by Israel Goldstein and could not be improved upon.

Dudley Purdy, the awkward young man, whom Anne Brought Home, was continually confusing everyone with his seemingly foolish ideas about a "fish farm." However, he finally came to the foreground by proving that this could be done, and also by showing that he had quite a bit of business ability by pulling a $55,000.00 business deal with J. T. Raymond, general manager of an electric power company. The part of J. T. Raymond, was played by Harry Houseal, who proved to be a fine business man.

Between the acts, both nights, entertainment was furnished by Eva Laucks and John Kleinginna, in the form of vocal solos. On Friday night, Glenn "Peep" Garrett '28, also rendered a very pleasing vocal solo. The singing of all three was very much appreciated by the audience.

On Friday night a bouquet of chrysanthemums was presented to Miss Garlach, who coached the production, as a token of appreciation for the services which she had rendered. The presentation showed very good coaching, and the very best judgment in picking the characters for the cast, who had been chosen from the class by the coach.

The property committee did very good work in furnishing the stage. The setting was a very beautiful room in the Bennett household, and the committee, led by Robert Lundy, chairman, was very efficient. Most of the furniture was secured thru the courtesy of the Bahney Furniture Company, Myerstown, and others was made by the committee. The other members of the committee were Carl Young, Roy Malone, Richard McLain, Emma Hefling, and Flo Wilkes.

On both nights of the production the players did justice to the play itself, producing it in a manner that was most pleasing and enjoyed by those present.

Tommy—Teacher licked me because I was the only one in the class who could answer his question. Mother—What was the question? Tommy—It was, Who has put this frog in my inkwell.

Prescher: "We have tried to raise the necessary money in the usual manner. We have tried honestly. Now we are going to see what a bazaar can do."

A new fire alarm rings when operated by the smoke of a cigar. We don't know this fire alarm intimately, but we think we know the cigar.

"Parrakeet's Prattle" : Poets' Corner :

How did you play when the game was on?

When the odds were great and hope was gone?

When the enemy team with aim so true,

Was dragging the victory away from you?

When strength and speed and endurance quit

Did honor keep pace with determined grit?

Did you keep faith with the rules of the game?

Did you play up square without fear or shame?

Did your smile of cheer make the team your friend?

As you fought it thru to the bitter end?

Did your self-respect rise a notch or two?

Are you a bigger man now, the game is thru?

How's that for poetry? Parrakeet didn't write it; he just copied it for you to read 'cause he's not educated enough to write one himself. Schuykill certainly did trounce us on Saturday, but that wasn't our fault. Was it? Parrakeet thinks there's a certain glory in defeat. The "pep" was fine. Parrakeet felt like congratulating the team, the cheerleaders, and the students on the "fight" they showed. Mr. Kline (he's a big gun at Schuykill) told the cheerleaders the team was to be commended for doing so well in spite of such great odds. Yes siree! He did. Parrakeet heard him. Don't you agree? All right. Yea, team.

Lots of folks back for the weekend. "Peep" Garrett, too. Everybody that heard "Peep" enjoyed his singing immensely and so did Parrakeet. If you don't believe him, ask him. "Peep" was present at the banquet and merging of our Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity with Delta Kappa Sigma at Schuykill. "Peep" may not be playing football for A. C. anymore, but Parrakeet noticed that he hasn't forgotten how to overcome "circumstances" when it cuts down expenses for the "gang". How about it, Bollman?

Looked like old times at the game on Saturday, folks, didn't it? Caroline Illick, and Dale Granley, Lenora and "Fuzzy" Wonder were there. Peg Flexer and Joe Illick on the A. C. stand reminded us of last year. Parrakeet saw Berger and Elvin Martin with their girls. All in all, Parrakeet thinks the cheering section was good. Let's make it better on Thanksgiving day at Lebanon.

The Mohn Hall girls have been trying to find out where the new music class is being conducted, and have come to Parrakeet for aid. The club has had two rehearsals, one on Friday about 2 A. M. and the other on Sunday night about 11 P. M. The latter was even worse than the first so Parrakeet suggested that the club disband. But no kiddin', folks, wasn't it dreadful? Something should be done about it. Let's be sensible and cut this sort of thing out.

The Junior play sure was a knock-out, wasn't it? Everybody performed with stellar like ability and Miss Garlach deserves a great deal of credit for her fine coaching. The flowers she received on Friday night were a fitting tribute. By the way, folks, Norma got flowers too, and none of us guessed who from. Why? Parrakeet doesn't think the students needed to 'cause everybody knew they were from Wray. Speaking of appreciation, Dr. Bowman made a very appropriate speech about the service Dr. Gobble has rendered the college church during his term as Supt. of the Sunday School. Didn't the special music and choir numbers give a different aspect to the service? Parrakeet suggests that the novelty be made a habit.

Watts matter with Sprague? Must be lack of a sense of responsibility.

FRESHMAN MEMORIES

You made me stand up straight and tall,
And then turn round and round;
And then 'midst all the silences,
You laughed a gurgling sound.

I didn't blame you much because
My petticoat stuck out,
My stockings were one black, one white,
My skirt was inside out.

My middy was on backwards too,
I was a sorry sight.
Initiation day it was Caused all my dreadful plight.
—Maud Sittler.

LONGING

Had I one breath of summer
It were enough for me—
One lovely thing incarnate
Of the things that used to be.

Could I but see the future
As I can see the past,
I'd know what things would linger,
Which happiness would last.
—Helen B. Uhrich.

CONTRAST

My knife cuts flowers
For a festal day.
Sometime it will cut a shroud
For my funeral day.

They've Arrived

The younger generation has been going to the dogs for the last fifty years and some of them certainly have arrived.—Farm and Fireside.

The Family's House

Is there anything that a family does that is quite as illuminating as building itself a house?—Woman's Home Companion.

Ability. Parrakeet says "Snap out of it."

Parrakeet wonders why Blandina developed such a great interest in her butter at noon, Sunday. Sorta all of a sudden, wasn't it? Parrakeet, doesn't blame you, Blandy. It pays to form a habit of being on your guard.

Whitey Lynn and "Zeke" Wolbert seem to have had rather an exciting week-end, including Saturday night. Parrakeet wonders how much he dare tell you. But he's decided to be discreet and refer you to the participants of the party for further information.

Senior rights and upperclassmen's privileges. Loud talking and noise and then Parrakeet thinks "big fuss." Why? Has the time come when general quiet is no longer observed on Sunday night? Parrakeet hopes not, but if that's the case, he thinks it's about time to change.

Parrakeet just heard that President Teel of Schuykill makes it a custom to visit the dressing rooms of the football team and encourage them before a game. Everybody thinks it's a mighty fine idea and Parrakeet thinks the A. C. teams would appreciate it just as much as the Schuykill Lions do.

Saturday night—Gladys Baker spends two whole hours thinking what's wrong with Russ and then Sherid eases her mind by explaining that it's just the after effects of the game Saturday. Too bad, Gladys, to give you so much worry. But that we have the opportunity to hear Dr. Fluck from the pulpit that his talk seems richer and more full of meaning to us. He spoke of the churches he attended in his college days; the rich influence upon his life of the words of the pastor of Old Trinity at Ursinus College. The peculiar mission of the college church was exemplified in the relations of the Roman Colony at Ephesus to Rome itself, which in turn he paralleled to our citizenship here and again in Heaven. Dr. Fluck placed emphasis upon the fact that today's church is practically without any major prophets. People who would throw their whole soul in a forward movement; men and women placed in this world who would extend the frontiers and conquests of God's kingdom. He closed his talk by admonishing Christians to stand together—be afraid of nothing—believe—have faith—hope.

Evening Service

A selection by the Orchestra, and a song service led by Professor Zener, started the evening service.

President Bowman paid a glowing tribute to Dr. A. E. Gobble and expressed the profound appreciation of all those who have had the honor to be associated with him in any way.

Dr. Gobble has been Superintendent of the Sunday School and a prime motivating factor in the church for more than a quarter of a century. His life is a pattern that others may well follow. Words alone fall far short in paying tribute due him.

Announcement was made that the convention of the Myerstown District of Lebanon County Sabbath School Association would be held in the college chapel, instead of the auditorium of the college church.

Dr. Fluck's evening address was upon the Growth of Religious Conception, the text taken from Isaiah. The subject of the text, a man who tries to sleep in his boyhood bed and finds it to short, and the covers to narrow, illustrates the feelings of the people of Israel when they saw the growth of the Assyrian and Egyptian Empires and the restless, disquieted apprehension of today's Christian in any one sect. We are perpetually harried by such questions as: "Why did this child die; Why does this man prosper?" A good many Christians today have just enough religion to make them miserable. When we arise above our limitations we have equipped ourselves for God's work in greater fields.

A pleasing vocal solo, Hamble's "Cast Thy Burden" was rendered by Miss Josephine Strassner, in addition to Bullard's anthem "In Heavenly Love Abiding" sung by the choir.

Alumni Notes

Herbert P. Strack, '17 state chemist of the state of Tennessee, recently spent a week in Washington, D. C., as his state's representative at a convention held there.

Two additional weeks were spent by Mr. Strack, his wife and son, Herbert, Jr., visiting friends and relatives in Myerstown, Harrisburg, and Bristol, Pa. While in Harrisburg, Mr. Strack visited the state chemical laboratories, also called to see his classmate Frank E. Wray, Head of the Science Department of Camp Curtin Junior High School, whom he had not seen since the day of their graduation from Albright. Mr. Strack has achieved success in his chosen line of work and has made a name, not only for himself, but also for the institution from which he was graduated.

At the monthly meeting of the Evangelical Ministers' Association, held Tuesday, November 13, in the Evangelical Press Building, Harrisburg, a paper on the subject "Why I Believe in Immortality" was read by the Rev. H. M. Buck, 18, pastor of the Evangelical Church at Carlisle.

Among those attending a regional meeting of Evangelical district heads held in Harris Street Church, Harrisburg, November 13 and 14, were the following Albright Alumni: I. E. Spangler, '92, Carlisle, Pa., E. E. Stauffer, '91, Lebanon, Pa., and F. E. Hetrick, '94, Johnstown, Pa. C. E. Yount, '21, for the last two years secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Waynesburg, Pa., was recently elected secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, of Lock Haven, Pa., at which place he assumed his duties, Monday, November 19th.

Among Albright Alumni at present attending higher institutions of learning are the following: Dale Gramley, '26, a student at Columbia University, New York City; Homer W. Heisley, '27, Ward K. Hosterman, '27 and J. Good Brown, '23, enrolled at Yale Divinity School, New Haven, Conn.; Russell D. Loucks, '28, and Clarence W. Whitmoyer, '28, also at Columbia University; Glyn A. Morris, '28 at Union Theological Seminary, New York City; and Frederick Glosser, '27, a student in the School of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

J. K. Dunlap, '14, instructor of History in the South Philadelphia High School, has recently been elected to a position on the night school staff of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia.

A shortage in the accounts of the North York State Bank was recently discovered by Russell B. Carmany '17, a State bank examiner of the Harrisburg district.

A. N. Townsen, '28 has not lost his skill in chess. At present he leads in the Dauphin county chess series being played at the Central Y. M. C. A., Harrisburg.

Paul Price, '26, is serving as young people's pastor at Zion Evangelical Church, Kitchener, Ontario.

Among the Alumni back for the Schuylkill game, were: Newton Miller, '25; Homer Wonder, '28; Dale Gramley, '26; "Peep" Garrett, '28; Mrs. Carl Hoffman; May Cooper, '28; Gordon Oswald, '26; Paul Hartman, '27; Mildred Lackey, '26; Jane Fray, '24; Russell Grumbling, '25; Henry W. Beecker, '24; Arlene Herr, '27; Hell Gramley, '26; Paul Price, '26; Rev. A. D. Gramley; Neiman Hoffman, '27; Mabel Kelchner, '27; Caroline Illick, '26.

ENTHUSIASTIC PEP MEETING PRECEDES GAME

to say a few words. "Peep" responded, but not with a speech. He gave those present a real treat by singing "Sunny Boy" with the chorus so revised as to substitute "Old Albright" for "Sunny Boy." He received a big hand, not so much because of the words in his semi-original song, but because of the expression he put in it.

More "Pep" speeches followed, the first of which was by Dale Gramley '26, who related a few thrilling incidents that he had witnessed during his football career, while here at Albright. At the end of Gramley's talk Coach Smith, Assistant Coach Sherrid, and Captain Asper each gave short talks, in which they all promised to get their best in order to tame "The Lions."

Of course each of the speakers was given an individual yell at the close of their talk. An individual was also given for Captain Reisinger, who was absent due to an injury to his ankle which he received in last week's game against P. M. C.

Immediately after the Pep Meeting ended the student body, lead by the band, paraded over the main streets of town. Yells were given for the team at each intersection of streets, the final cheer being given in front of the Main Building.

But this did not end the Pep. Everyone carried it along to the game on Saturday. The band was there in their red and white uniforms, and they made a very fine appearance. Between the halves they marched around the field and coming up in front of the Schuylkill stands, formed a huge 'S' for which they received loud applause from the Schuylkill rooters. They then crossed the field, facing the Albright side and in mid field lined up, forming an 'A' assisted by the five cheerleaders who formed the cross bar of the 'A'.

All of the Albright Rooters showed much pep all through the game. Spurred on by the untiring efforts of the five cheerleaders they continued to yell unceasingly showing the team that they were back of them, although fighting a losing battle.

At the close of the game the band again showed a fine spirit by marching out on the field and playing, regardless of the defeat which stared them in the face. The whole rooting section showed an excellent spirit of sportsmanship and good losers.

BEBE DANIELS AT MYERSTOWN THEATRE

Bebe Daniels' admirers will feel that she has made the most spectacularly thrilling picture of her career when they see "Hot News" which will be shown at the Myerstown Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

Abounding in adventure, suspense, thrills, humor and romance, it will appeal to people in all walks of life as one of the most entertaining films this popular star has ever made.

The story deals with the exploits of a newswoman camera girl who steps into her father's business at a crucial moment and saves him from ruin by "scooping" the other newswoman services at every turn. The climax of the picture is one that is warranted to give the most blasé moviegoer a thrill. Airplanes and government coast guard cutters are employed to make this an unusually spectacular finish.

"Drums of Love", D. W. Griffith's greatest picture since "The Birth of a Nation" will be the attraction at the Myerstown Theatre for three days starting Thanksgiving Day. Coming—Dec. 6-7-8 "Wings"—Adv.

Lutheran Club Holds Tea

On Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 13, at four o'clock, in Mohn Hall Reception Room, a meeting of the Lutheran Club was held. The meeting was of special interest because of the presence of Miss Mildred E. Winston of New York City, who is the Women's Secretary of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church in America. Miss Winston gave a very interesting and inspiring talk on the Lutheran Student work here and abroad. She also extended an invitation to the members of the club to attend the Gettysburg Conference in February.

At the close of the program a short business meeting was held, in which financial matters were discussed and elections taken care of. Miss Myrtle Wolf was elected president for the coming year.

During the social hour tea was served by Miss Hemstreet.

"The Hindu Man" is a skit on the sideshow of a circus. Flora Gross.

as announcer of circus events, did all the speaking. The actors appeared in their order and performed their stunts very capably. The novel but appropriate costumes helped to make everything seem all the more real. Houdini, as a magician, had nothing on Orpha—She's a "wiz" at that game.

Next week's program will be one of old favorites. This is the last meeting before Thanksgiving. Let's have everybody out.

Interclass Volley Ball Introduced

An interclass volleyball tournament for girls is now on for an in-between-season sport. A team for each class has been chosen, and Captains elected. Kathryn Dech, Esther Dettlerline, Flora Gross and Effie Shenk are the Captains of the Senior, Junior, Sophomore and Freshman classes respectively.

The games in this tournament will be played every Tuesday and Thursday during the regular gym periods and will continue until Christmas vacation.

Spectators will be welcomed as long as they can maintain the spirit of sportsmanship. Come out and pep up your team.

AN IDEAL VACATION JOB

SHOULD BE PROFITABLE, ENJOYABLE, AND EDUCATIONAL

Students are earning exceptionally good wages selling Donald Brushes. In many instances students have earned more than a year's expense at College, during the three months of Summer Vacation.

Students find selling Donald Brushes a pleasant occupation.

Salesmanship as learned by actual experience in the selling field will be of great value later in your professional life.

The Donald salesman is able to offer real service to housewives as the highest quality material and workmanship go into the manufacture of all Donald Products. Every Donald Brush bears our trade-mark of Quality, is fully guaranteed and endorsed by the Good Housekeeping Institute.

A letter of inquiry will bring details of our proposition to students.

COMPLIMENTS OFBANBURY BAKING*COMPANY*MR. LUBOLD TRACES HISTORY OF LIBRARY

the two college libraries and the two literary society libraries were combined into one, the Albright College Library, which today numbers upwards of sixteen thousand volumes.

In this collection are many old books that have mainly antiquarian interest and that, if offered for sale, would be the envy of book collectors. But they are also valuable for State and Church history. Among them are early school and college text-books, early publications of the Evangelical Press, which was established at New Berlin, before the seminary, besides later books and journals relating to the Evangelical church.

The first important gift of books received was upwards of a hundred volumes from the library of Prof. Frances Hendricks, the second president of Union Seminary. Later these larger gifts were received: from the Rev. J. Willis Hoover, 500 books, from the Rev. Geo. W. Dunlap, 600; from the Rev. Jacob Hartzler, 600; and from Bishop Henry B. Hartzler, 900 books.

Recognition should be given here for the interest shown in the library for many years by Dr. A. E. Gobbie. It was through his efforts that a number of valuable works, or sets of books, were secured. At a meeting of the Pittsburgh Conference, he collected money for the books. Men of the Bible, eighteen volumes; and also for the Polyglot Bible in six large volumes. The Central Penna. Conference at one meeting contributed money for the purchase of the Scharf-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge. At an Alumni Dinner he collected money for Mark Twain's writings, in twenty-four volumes. In such and other ways Dr. Gobbie aided very materially in building up the library.

It is impossible to do more than refer in a general way to the many individual gifts of books and money made from time to time by alumni and friends. And yet mention should be made of a few other individuals who have been generous to the library. Among these are Mr. Ray Kelchner, Hon. W. J. Steinman, Mrs. J. M. Davis, Mrs. Esther Seltzer Wilson and Dr. Charles W. Super, who has been the most generous of all.

Of the more useful works or sets of books, other than Encyclopedias in the library are the American Statesmen Series, American Men of Letters, Cambridge History of English Literature, Cambridge History of American Literature, Harvard Classics, Warner History of the World's Best Literature, Modern Reader's Shakespeare, Epochs of Ancient History, Epochs of Modern History, Our Debt to Greece and Rome (upwards of thirty volumes), Mythology of All Races, McMaster's, Rhodes', Channing's Histories of the United States, the South in American History, and the complete works of Tolstol, Ruskin, Kipling, Dickens, Thackeray, Scott.

Of course there are other questions about the library that might interest alumni and friends. How are the books used? From five hundred to a thousand withdrawals of books and magazines in a month by a student body of little more than two hundred prove that the Library is used. Something could be said about the books written by professors and graduates of the college, but this article is already too long. These subjects may serve for a future article.

In closing let me add that for some years the money available for the library was used mainly to purchase books requested by the professors of the several departments, or for books supplemental to their work. It is along these lines that the library should be enlarged, and I hope to show later how friends of the college can assist in making the library the real power-plant of the great Albright College.

Who's Who At AlbrightGEORGE JACOBY REISINGER

Allow us to present George Reisinger from York, Pa. One look at his big husky frame and we are convinced that he is cut out for athletics. Neither do we err, for he is one of Albright's main-stays on her football team. As tackle he leaves nothing to be imagined by the opposing teams. Reisinger's prowess and leadership have brot him the honor of sharing this year's captaincy with Asper. He fills this position with all that is in him, just as on the field he'll do or die for his Alma Mater. That is why he needs crutches just now—a broken bone means nothing when his school's laurels are at stake.

Reisinger's other center of activity lies over on Railroad Street. For several years now a certain Myerstown Miss has exercised her charms on him, but he has not been unwilling, and one may see him with her or in her Ford at most any time. And we have heard—Oh yes, George, secrets will out—that wedding bells are going to ring in June. That's all right—we wish you lots of happiness.

George expects to go into the teaching profession. Certainly his genial personality and his ability to make friends will bring him success. Add to his own qualifications the inspiration of Someone Else and there is nothing we're not expecting from this person.

PROSPECTS FOR GIRLS' BASKETBALL BRIGHT

If she wants a place on the squad. Membership on the squad is not traditional, nor is it permanent. The best player wins.

The girls' schedule for this year is nearly complete. Although they will play less games than last year, they will play harder ones. The reputation made by the fine basketball they played last year has won for them a place in a class with bigger schools.

This will in all probability be the last year for Albright athletics at Myerstown and the girls are determined it shall be the best in history.

The schedule is as follows:
Jan. 10, Thursday—Here—Beaver College.

Jan. 19, Sat.—Away—E. Stroudsburg Teachers College.

Jan. 26, Sat.—Here—Schuylkill College.

Feb. 2, Sat.—Here—E. Stroudsburg T. College.

Feb. 9, Sat.—Here—Ursinus College.

Feb. 13, Wed.—Away—Schuylkill College.

Feb. 16, Sat.—Away—Slippery Rock T. College.

Tentative—Feb. 22, Fri.—Here—Slippery Rock T. College.

Tentative—Feb. 23, Sat.—Lebanon—Lebanon Valley College.

Mar. 2, Sat.—Away—Beaver College.

Mar. 9, Sat.—Lebanon—Lebanon Valley College.

The manager deserves a lot of commendation and credit for the above schedule, which took a great deal of planning. The managership requires work and Marion certainly has assumed her responsibility credibly.

KAPPA UPSILON PHI MERGES WITH FRAT AT SCHUYLKILL

Chapter of Kappa Upsilon Phi acted as toastmaster for the evening. The banquet hall was decorated with the banners of Albright and Schuylkill College as well as the banners and insignia of the Fraternities.

This action marks another milestone in the progress and expansion of the Fraternity. By this action Delta Kappa Sigma of Schuylkill College ceases to exist and becomes the Beta Chapter of a fraternity whose history goes back into the earlier years of the history of Albright College.

Beta Chapter of Kappa Upsilon Phi includes the leaders in every

RUSSEL ASPER

Happy-go-lucky Russ! Who has ever seen him downhearted, save in pretense, and even then that twinkle in his eyes always gives him away. Good-looking, carefree, spirited, Russ can provoke laughter from the most mirthless person. We believe he could even coax the sphinx to smile! Anyway, he's a good remedy for the "blues."

Sharing the 1928-29 football Captaincy with Reisinger, we find Asper in his element on the football field, fighting with every ounce of his strength for Old Albright, giving his best for the glory of the Red and White. He is continually proving his ability as a grinder, and his indomitable spirit always carries him thru; a popular, clean sportsman.

Asper is President of Men's Student Government, and a member of the Male Glee Club, the Spanish Club, and the Lutheran Club. A popular student on the campus, his attentions have been appropriated by a certain Mohn Haller, and it would seem that Russ prefers blondes.

Whether Asper crashes the gates of the teaching profession, or of the world of sports, his good sportsmanship and optimism will stand him in good stead, assuring his popularity among men.
