SOPHS ELECT
HOUSEL & WRAY
SPECULUM HEADS

Chosen As Editor and Business Manager—Myrtle Wolf And Emma Hefling Head Literary and Art Depts.

FIVE ASSOCIATES APPOINTED

Harry A. Houseal, of York, and Harry A. Wray, of Lewistown have been elected by the Sophomores as editor and business manager of the 1930 Speculum, which will appear next year. Their election was held and announced last Wednesday at a spirited class meeting held for this purpose.

At the same time Myrtle Wolf, of Myerstown, was elected literary editor and Emma Hefling, of Wilkes Barre art editor. Harold Miles editor of the 1929 Speculum which will be sent to press soon, was chosen as advisor.

All of the staff heads which the Sophs have elected have made marks for themselves with their natural ability along these lines. Three of them hold important positions on the Bulletin staff. Houseal, the editor of the annual, is managing editor of the Bulletin in his Sophomore year, which is a feat quite unusual. He has shown talent and capabilities in this capacity, which insures that he will make a very efficient director of his class' year book. Wray is on the news staff of the Bulletin, but besides this has the valuable experience as circulation manager of the annual at Lewistown High, which was a financial success. Miss Wolf who is to head the literary department has attracted wide attention as a feature writer of the Bulletin and as a writer of poems and essays.

SENIORS, SOPHS WIN
CLASS GAMES: TIE

'28 Trounces Juniors 45-23; Sophs, Making Startling Comeback, Beat Frosh 24-14

LEADERS IN FINAL GAME

Haney's three baskets in the second of the five minute periods that was necessary to decide the game, was the margin that gave the Seniors their victory over the Freshmen. Waitkus and Berger had dropped in two goals, that gave the Frosh a four point advantage, but Haney making three sensational shots in a row evened the court and with only seconds to go dropped the deciding goal in from the middle of the floor. Waitkus and Garrett had in the first extra five minute period each scored a goal that made it necessary for the second extra period. Haney and Garrett were the outstanding players for the Seniors, while Day and Waitkus kept the Frosh in the running.

The Sophs and Juniors put on a listless game, the Sophs running away with them, 46-13. Sprague and Youse made 32 of the 46 points made by the Sophs, and were the outstanding players on the floor. Bashore was the only Junior able to locate the basket, getting three goals in the second half, two of them from the center of the floor.

DEBATERS OPEN
SEASON THIS WEEK
IN THREE CONTESTS

Meet Juniata, Gettysburg, Western Maryland On Primary System Question—Debate With Elizabethtown Postponed

BUSY WEEK FOR BOYS

Next week the men's varsity debating team will open their season in an auspicious style with three contests on the local rostrum. This, despite it is the inauguration of the forensic year is one of the hardest and most intensive weeks which Albright has ever seen in the history of debating. Contests will be held in the college chapel, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights.

The schedule for the week calls for the following debates:

Tues.—Juniata Neg.—Albright Aff. Thurs.—Gettysburg Aff.—A. C. Neg.

Sat.—Western Md. Neg.—A. C. Aff.

All of these debates will be on the question, Resolved, That the Direct Primary System of Nominating Federal and State Officials Should Be Abandoned. The Neg. team which will uphold the direct primary is composed of Russell Loucks (C), Elwood McGuigan, Garrison Wilkes and Jay

RARE MUSICAL ABILITY
DISPLAYED IN RECITAL

Exceptional Program Given By Students of Music Dept.—One of Best Ever Presented

SEVERAL NEW FACES APPEAR

A little more than a week ago in the college chapel the recital for which we had been looking forward was given, and our expectations were fulfilled. As had been promised it was one of the best in the history of the school. Especially were some of the numbers deserving of special mention, and chief among these was the duo played by Harold Miles and Mrs. Rodney Steltz. They played the Rhapsody in Blue by Gershwin. They are both very fine musicians and one could not help being thrilled as they went through the various parts of the number.

There were new faces in the concert and talented ones, too. Jesse Newcomer, baritone, promises to become one of our leading soloists. R. W. Feger, who is specializing in music is another talented new member of the music departments. He plays and sings and does both with rare ability.

DR. BOWMAN TO WRITE FOR BULLETIN READERS

Will Record Notes of Special Interest On European Tour—Due In "Old World" Today

According to the itinerary of Dr. Bowman, who left New York for a two months tour of Northern Europe last Friday, he should arrive at port today, as the Berengaria makes the trip across the Atlantic in seven days.

In an interview last Thursday Dr. Bowman gladly consented to send notes of his European tour to the Bulletin for the benefit of the students and alumni. He is going to send from time to time accounts of incidents and events which will be most interesting to college readers. In the short time which he is spending in Germany, he is returning to University of Berlin, which he attended 1902-3. He also wants to visit the Evangelical publishing house there, and to visit an old acquaintance.

FIFTEEN OUT FOR 1ST MEETING OF WRITERS CLUB

Dr. Chislett To Speak At Next Meeting

On Wednesday evening, February 8th, the Writers' Club held its first official meeting in the Reception Room of Mohn Hall.

The organization of the group was affected on the previous Wednesday night when the following officers were elected: President, Virginia Zener; Vice President, Lebn Hood; Secretary, Blanche McCauley; and Treasurer, Lenora Hemstreet. The time and place of meeting was also established, and a constitution committee was appointed. This committee brot its report before the club on Wednesday evening.

The first program consisted of the following numbers:

SHORTY MILLER TALKS
ON LIFE WORK IN 'Y'

Graduate of '20, Head of Vocational Dept. J. C. Penny Foundation, Gives Important Factors In Choosing Vocation

SAYS 25,000 JOBS ATTAINABLE

"Shorty" Miller of the Class of 1920, gave a very interesting and instructive message to the combined "Y's" in the College Chapel Feb. 7th. The meeting was opened by a song, and prayer by Prof. Zener, after which Harold McGuigan played a very delightful violin solo. Loretta Eisenhower sang a pleasing solo. Both of these musical numbers were appreciated very much.

"Red" Morris then introduced "Shorty" as Director of Vocational Department of Penny Foundation of New York. In Mr. Miller's address he brought forth the importance of choosing your life work. It looks like a very easy job, but when you come to think that there are 25,000 professions or vocations from which to choose one it becomes a very perplexing problem.

He advised against consulting Psycho-analysts, and other men who state definitely what a person should do. He showed how these men are quacks, and only after the money.

He advised the students to keep

ALBRIGHT CHESS CLUB
DEFEATS URSINUS 5-0

Townsen, Kneller, McCracken, Youse, And Yienget Wins In Intercollegiate Match Last Saturday

Playing their first match of intercollegiate chess, the Albright College chess team defeated Ursinus College by a score of 5 games to 0. The match was played at Myerstown Saturday afternoon in the reading room of the college with five sets of huge boxwood and ebony chess pieces loaned by the Reading Chess Club for the occasion.

The match was started promptly at 2 o'clock and was finished by 4, all the defenses of the Ursinus players having been swept away by that time. Although the Albright men came thru with a perfect score, the match proved to be anything but a set-up for them. From the very first the Ursinus men appeared to have the situation well in hand, with a piece advantage on boards 2, 3 and 5, and with no disadvantages except of position on boards 1 and 4. The Albright players refused to become discouraged, however, and after an uphill fight, eventually turned the tables on their adversaries. The score:

Girls Win Close Contest While
Men Lose To Lebanon Valley

ALBRIGHT SEXTET STAG-ES BIG RALLY; WINS 14-13

Capt. Dech Wins High Scoring Honors, As Mates Come From Behind To Overcome Opponents' Lead.

A long field goal by Miss Dech in the final seconds of play gave Albright College girls' basketball team a 14 to 13 victory over their bitter rivals, Lebanon Valley College girls.

This game was played as a preliminary contest to the Albright-Lebanon Valley varsity struggle, Friday night, on the High school floor.

Fighting with their backs to the wall during almost the entire game, the Red and White maids came thru in the fourth period, when their captain, Miss Dech, furnished the necessary punch.

Disagreements between the two teams on the matter of a referee were settled in the afternoon, when it was decided that Miss Graeff, the official referee of Harrisburg, suggested by Lebanon Valley, and a Central Board referee should officiate on an equal basis.

During the first half of the game Miss Graeff refereed, while the Central Board referee umpired the game from the sidelines, and assisted the referee. In the second half the Central Board referee officiated on the court and Miss Graeff umpired.

This solution of the problem proved satisfactory to both teams.

Lebanon Valley grabbed the lead when Meyer dropped in a short one, and were leading 7-3 when the first quarter ended. The Annville

RED & WHITE QUARTET
SINGS IN COLONIAL

Feature Number At Reopening of Theatre—First Appearance On Vaudeville Program

The Red and White Quartette announces another successful campaign. Last week at the Colonial Theatre at Lebanon the quartette appeared on the regular program of the theatre as a feature number of the first week of the reopening of the theatre. This was the first real attempt of the quartette to break into fast company, and they came out of the ordeal with flying colors. Previous to this they had appeared on more than one occasion on the programs of moving picture theatres, but this was the first trial of a regular vaudeville act.

This is the final year of the quartette's activity and now they, after being together for almost three years, are reaping the rewards of earnest efforts. It has been said that this organization is the best musical organization in the history of the school. But this last achievement is

GLOSSER'S FATHER DIES AT WILLIAMSPORT, PA.

On Monday morning Dr. W. E. Glosser, father of William Glosser, '31, and of Fred Glosser, '27, died at his home at Williamsport, after a long illness. Young Glosser was called home Sunday afternoon and arrived there late that night. The news of his bereavement reached Albright Monday afternoon when Glosser sent a telegram to his room-mate.

The Bulletin and students of Albright extend their deepest sorrow and sympathy to William and Fred in their sorrow. Fred at present is a student in the University of Pennsylvania Medical School.

They have not decided when they will return to their studies.

LATE LEBANON VALLEY
SPURT SINKS WELLERMEN

After Holding Annville Rivals Even For Three Periods Red And White Loses 51-31.

Lebanon Valley College emerged victorious in the first meeting of the "Old Rivals," defeating Albright 51-31, on the Lebanon High school floor Friday evening.

The crowd that saw the game was one of the largest that ever squeezed into the gym, both first floor and balcony being packed to capacity.

After trailing throughout the first half, Lebanon Valley came back strong in the second period, and fairly swept the Albright dribblers off their feet, scoring more than two points for every one of theirs.

The first half ended 16-15 in favor of the Myerstown lads. During this time the two teams had appeared to be evenly matched. After play was resumed, Lebanon Valley guns were silent for a few minutes, and then they broke loose—and kept spitting fire until the very end.

Stan Piela was high scorer of the game. He had six goals and four fouls for a total of 16 points. His nearest competitor was Albright, who scored 9 points, and Patty Clemens who accounted for an equal number. Gelbert was able to score only once from the field, and that when he scooped up the ball under his own basket and sent it through the hoop. Sherid had three field goals and two fouls. Patty Clemens turned in a good game, but was not successful in guarding his man, the fleet Piela.

ALBRIGHT HALTS STREAK
OF ST. BONAVENTURE

New York Team's Chain of Twelve Victories Broken In Hard Fought Game 31—30

HUGHES' WORK SENSATIONAL

Albright won their third game of the season when they defeated St. Bonaventure. This team had won victories over Cornell and Colgate, and had until they met Albright won twelve straight, but the Wellertites had an on night, and the boys from New York were forced to take the short end of the score.

It was the sensational work of Hughes that enabled them to win, the big forward accounting for five baskets and five fouls, and it was his general all around floor work that kept the opposing team from running up a big score. Hughes is without doubt the greatest floor man that has represented Albright in a long while, and the calibre of ball he displayed against St. Bonaventure warrants great things for him.

The boys from New York State displayed a wonderful passing attack and at times looked like sure winners, but the steady work of Hughes and the rest of the team kept them from running away with the game.

The score at half time was deadlocked at thirteen all, but the second half saw the Red and White draw away for awhile, only to have them tie it up again, and with only minutes to go Albright only had one point lead, the result of Gunthers foul. The Albright team froze the ball in the back court for the remainder of the game, not taking a chance on the shooting of the opponents.

St. Bonaventure had a well balanced team, and in Sullivan and McNally had two of the best men that has played against Albright this year.

Bigger + Better equals Greater.

LAST WEEK END an innumerable amount of entertainment kept all of us busy. With three full days of Chautauqua, the Lebanon Valley games, and two important movies all on our schedule, we found little time to study, but this week-end should be comparatively quiet. Don't forget to keep up those studies!

WE ARE SURE the sociology papers (on "Student Cheating") revealed an untold and unexpected quantity of suggestions for the elimination or reception of the evil. As it is, an improvement in mid-years is well-worth noting, and we trust that by June we can say that those students in question can get thru without cheating.

DR. A. A. WINTER in his talk to the student body during the Alumni Assembly in an endeavor to clear up the future status of our college promised that the organized student activities would maintain their identity where ever the name of "Albright College" was taken, provided they keep alive and prove themselves worthy. We cannot allow the name of "Speculum", "Albright Bulletin", "Neocosmian", "Excelsior", or "Themsian", to die. It is up to us thru our support to decide whether they will continue.

ANOTHER "Speculum" staff has been elected. More than any other class do they need the support of the entire student body. It may be the last and farewell issue to Myerstown and because of that we may decline to give our support, but we must if the "Speculum" is to live. In the meantime, boost the "1929 Speculum".

A CORRECTION

Some time ago it was stated in the Bulletin that Mrs. Sottery had been appointed college dietitian. This rumor which was widely circulated has been found to be erroneous. In order to clarify the situation and to throw more light on this subject, about which most students are misinformed, we are giving an account of the situation as it really exists. So far as we have been able to ascertain from several reliable sources, the following is the true account of the situation. The events which are herein recorded reveal the fact that Mrs. Sottery is not the official college dietitian. This position as yet does not exist.

About a month ago, following concerted action on the part of the student body, the college president laid the matter before the executive board of trustees, who carefully investigated the menus as they had been served in the dining room up to that time, and agreed that they should be revised. Consequently, the college administration appointed a committee of faculty ladies, who were instructed to improve and revise the menus for a period of two weeks, although they were not to inaugurate any radical changes at that time, because of the supplies of food on hand in the commissary department. Mrs. Sottery, instead of being official dietitian as was published, was a member of this committee, which made this revision. It was carried out faithfully for two weeks, and then it was supposed to have been repeated, with such minor changes that may have been necessary. At the end of this period of a month which is about up, it is Dr. Bowman's plan to consult the students, and to ascertain their reaction to the new system. If the students voice their approval of the new system, which is almost certain, the present arrangement will be continued, and even improved, and under no circumstances will the old regime be reverted to.

The changes inaugurated by the committee in this two weeks' menu seemed to meet with the hearty approval of the students, and it is our hope that the present regime will be maintained.

DR. BOWMAN TO WRITE FOR BULLETIN READERS

ance of his, who is editor of the "Evangelical Boschier."

Dr. Bowman had previously refused several offers to write for newspapers and syndicates. But as this will be of a different type he gladly consented to do it.

He also stated that the dietetic system in use in the dining room at the present time would remain practically the same as it has been for the last four weeks.

What of The Future?

By the Pres. of the Alumni Assn.

For the first time in years, we are in a position to give alumni, students and friends of Albright College some definite word concerning the future of our dear old Alma Mater. Not that many of us were without ideas or opinions upon the matter, but for the reason that up to this time there was nothing of an "official" nature upon which to proceed. So far as I can discover there has never been any desire for, nor attempt at, concealment of facts. The simple truth was, as Dr. Shortess suggested at our little gathering on Saturday morning, "we said nothing because we had nothing to say." As long as no official action has been taken, it is presumptuous on the part of any one to make a definite statement or affirmation.

I wish every alumnus and student could have heard the informal talk of Dr. A. A. Winter, a member of the trustee board of the college, on Saturday morning. It would have made you tingle with enthusiasm and delight, and stirred the grand old alumni spirit to the boiling point in respect of loyalty, enthusiasm, and energetic effort to carry on the glorious past into the still more glorious future.

Permit me to acquaint you, fellow-alumni especially, with a few present facts. Plans are now definitely under way and fast nearing completion for the merger of Albright College at Myerstown, and Schuylkill College at Reading, under the name of "Albright College." The merger program has two related, yet fairly distinct phases. One phase relates to the matter of securing a new charter, the purpose of which is to bring both institutions under a single administration. This is now being worked upon and may be completed within a year. The second phase of the question relates to the time and conditions of an actual geographical relocation of the Myerstown organization at Reading. This question has not yet been touched in any official way and there is nothing that can be said on this point.

I am going to venture a personal statement on this issue, though without authority to do so. I believe that everyone concerned with the program of merger is committed to the idea that we should effect relocation at the earliest possible time, yet not before it is actually feasible or advisable to do so. There will be differences of opinion upon this question—only time can determine the outcome, and we shall all be glad to abide patiently in the light of assurances and guarantees that come to us.

Whether these two institutions come together physically within a year or ten years should make no difference to alumni loyalty. No personal opinion is that we will not relocate for two or three years at least—perhaps less, perhaps more. Neither alumni, nor students, are going to embark on our leaders by telling them to relocate. All we are asking is that it shall not be done until such moment as shall guarantee the full integrity of our Alma Mater and the preservation of her glorious traditions and spirit. This has been guaranteed us by all concerned, and our faith in our leaders is sufficiently strong to cause us to rest at ease on all of those matters that so vitally concern us all.

Albright will move to Reading at the proper time with heads up, banners flying, and in the full strength of her mature educational life. She has attained a standing in the educational world that no one can afford to sacrifice, and we are all guaranteed shall not be sacrificed. All of her established organizations and traditions shall be preserved and the things that mean most to students and alumni shall be perpetuated. I say this with confidence on the basis of repeated assurances that have come to me personally from various sources.

I am confident this bit of news will be hailed with delight by every alumnus. I have found nowhere any sentiment against the present plan. We are all eagerly anticipating the new and brighter day for Albright, when she establishes her permanent dwelling upon the slopes of beautiful Mt. Penn in the heart of one of the finest residential districts in the city.

Now, what are we going to do in the meantime? Are we going to say, "Well, if Albright is going to Reading soon, I'll send my friend to the Reading institution, instead of to Myerstown. No, no! My friend! If you do that, you will help to kill the "Albright" for which we live and strive. Continue to send your sons and daughters and young friends to Myerstown. They have nothing to lose, and our Alma Mater is thereby preserved intact. There should be seventy-five to one hundred freshmen at Myerstown next fall. If we move soon, they will be happy to go with us. Only those who have lived and labored at Albright know what Albright spirit is. If any one has ever imagined that we are dead or dying, they are tremendously mistaken.

My! how I wish more of you could have come back for our mid-year meeting. It was a small gathering, but one of the utmost significance. I should almost call it epochal.

Let's boost! This is no time for meaningless debate, nor for exaggerated idealism. We are facing simple straight, facts—courageously, optimistically, confidently! Many problems still remain for solution, but the spirit of ultimate triumph prevails. "Broom" yell for "Albright at Reading." The students are cooperating almost to the last man and giving us much encouragement. We in turn are encouraging them. Stand loyally by until the time of actual transfer has come.

I have not handed out a lot of "taffy." I have put my heart into every word written.

SOPHS ELECT HOUSEAL AND WRAY SPECULUM HEADS

The remainder of the staff has been completed in unusually short time. The staff associates were appointed by the staff heads shortly after their election. Norma Michael, who is also on the Bulletin Staff has been selected as associate literary editor, along with Alvin Yonse. Paul Hagen and Carl Young associate business managers, and Benjamin Heiser associate art editor. Carl Young also holds a similar post on the Bulletin, being assistant business manager.

Houseal and Wray are planning to begin their work in the near future. Within a week or two Manager Wray is going to solicit bids for the engraving and printing of the book. By spring they are planning to have both selected. At the present time they are considering having the book engraved and printed by one firm instead of dividing the work as has been done before.

Another Speculum is in the making!

Y. W. OBSERVES DAY STUDENTS NITE

Tuesday night was "Day Student Night" in Y. W. C. A., the meeting being in charge of Catherine Steltz. Quite a number of day students were present, and the meeting was both successful and inspirational. Following the regular devotions the leader read and commented on the topic "Friendship." Various phases of question were discussed by the girls, such as:

What are the values of friendship?
How many real friends may one have at a time?

Should our friendship be limited to only a few?

"I don't readily forget old friends, nor easily stop loving anybody I have ever loved. However, I have learned long ago not to expect more than three people to care for me at a time—maybe I'm extravagant in saying three."—James Russell Lowell.

SCHUYLKILL NEWS OPTIMISTIC

The following reprint taken from the "Schuylkill News" last week, seems to reflect a very optimistic and hopeful outlook down here.

We wonder whether the hope didn't give birth to the article.

All the information received at Albright indicates that this event will not take place for three or four years.

"With a student body of more than 500 young men and women, an enlarged faculty, a number of fine new buildings, and the physical equipment which formerly was used by two institutions, a new Albright College, arising, like the mythical phoenix, from two colleges now existing will be born in Reading in 1929.

The new institution, assured by a session of representatives of Schuylkill and Albright colleges last Friday, February 3rd, probably will be ready for occupancy by September, 1929. Trustees of the two colleges will meet in special joint session at Harrisburg, February 15, to approve the merger, as recommended by the commission last Friday. It is expected that the six conferences within the Evangelical church will O. K. the union speedily."

TOWSEN TO PLAY IN STATE CHESS TOURNEY

Goes To Philadelphia Next Wednesday With Houck, Reading Ace

A. N. Townsen, of Albright, together with David C. Houck, of Reading, will leave here early next Wednesday morning for Philadelphia to compete in the Penna. State Chess Meet. The tournament will be played at the Mercantile Library, 10th St., off Broad, and will be continuous, from 9:30 in the morning until midnight. The tourney this year will be one of the strongest in the history of the Penna. Chess Association, with about half the players of master strength. Among those competing will be Stasch Mlotkowski, champion of the Pacific Coast, Norman T. Whitaker, former champion of the middle western states, W. A. Ruth, former champion of Ohio, and J. P. Stoner, champion of Georgia.

L. E. ROTH '12 HAS LETTER FOR ALUMNI

Asks That Plans Be Laid For Grand Meeting In June

Fellow Alumni:—

Have any of you ever gone back to the scenes of happy days; especially those of the years when impressions were most lasting? If so, you will know how it feels to go back to the haunts of Dear Old Albright.

Besides all this pleasant sentiment it means the renewal of old friendships, and fellowship with those whose influence upon our lives will no doubt be permanent. We can also make new friends with whom we shall have many things in common in future years.

Then there is a privilege and pleasure which almost becomes a duty, although, we hope we may never need to regard it as such. Our love for our Alma Mater should impel us to want to assist in the performing of the rightful service of an alumnus.

Of course it is impossible for a large number to return for the alumni assemblies, but surely a greater number could come back than really do. Would that you could taste of that which was to those to enjoy who returned over the last week end, and I am sure there would be a large pilgrimage to Albright next June.

We are hoping and planning for the largest return of alumni and friends at the June meeting that ever gathered on the campus. Events have taken a course which we can only help to direct by influence. There is a future for Albright facing us that must be met. The possibilities are promising, but only as the interest of our alumni manifests itself will our hopes be realized. If we fail to assert ourselves, our disappointments may be keen. 750 alumni can speak with a voice that will be heard and recognized. Hail, all hail to Albright!

in contact with their professors in and out of the class rooms. They can give the best advice concerning ones profession or vocation.

He quoted some experience which he has had concerning people who came to him who wanted to be told what they could do. One man came in a week ago who had a ten thousand dollar job, but was laid off and wanted to know if he couldn't do something else.

He then told of a few books which were good on vocational guidance which should be read by teachers so that they could help their students choose their life work. For the teacher has a great influence in helping one choose a vocation.

He ended by saying that if we have any problem in the question of life work we should consult our professors, for they will be glad to advise us.

THEMISIAN SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

An interesting and peppy meeting of the Themisian Society was held Thursday evening in Mohn Hall reception room.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Irene Wright. Devotions were conducted by the chaplain, Henrietta Spangler. The following program was then rendered: Reading.....Betty Bittle. Quintet—"Happy-Go-Lucky School Days"—Miles, Steltz, Dech, Stauffer and C. Wilkes.

Book Report.....Marguerite Ling "Uke" Chorus—Eisenhower, Sittler, Kaufman and Martha Higgins. Themisian Echo.....Eshier Dettlerline. Critics Report.....Charlotte Walt.

All the numbers were exceedingly good, the attendance was fine and the attention was better than usual. The society got back its old time pep in this meeting. Let's keep it up girls!

The Seniors and Sophmores are tied for the lead in the second half of the inter-class league. The Seniors had an easy victory over the Juniors, while the Sophs had nearly as easy a time with the Freshman. The Seniors have yet to taste defeat, while the Sophmores who did not win a game in the first round of the contest are making a startling comeback by winning all their games so far in the second round, the final game will see the Seniors pitted against them, and the winner of the game will be the second half champs. However, if the Sophs win, a play off will be necessary to decide the winner of both rounds.

Haney, Shope and Garrett were the bright lights in the Senior team, while McGuigan was high scorer for the Juniors.

Boyer was the outstanding player for the Sophs, while Waitkus was the best for the Fresh.

PI TAU BETA NOTES

Frater Leonard Miller visited the fraternity during the early part of the week, having spoken at the college Y. M. C. A. meeting.

Frater Charles Lehman visited the fraternity, having attended the Albright-L. V. C. basketball game. He will take up work in the near future in a bank in Philadelphia.

Word was received that Frater C. W. Guinter will undergo a major operation in the Williamsport Hospital. The fraternity hopes that he will soon regain his health and be able to return to his work in the near future.

JOURNALISM CLASS ADVOCATES NEW MAGAZINES

Suggests American Mercury And Bookman For Library—Note Advancing Literary Taste At Albright

In the journalism class, last Monday, the magazine situation in the library was discussed. The class came to the unanimous conclusion that two new magazines, American Mercury, edited by H. L. Mencken and the Bookman should be added to the list of magazines which the library gets, and if necessary to get them, it was considered advisable to drop several less important magazines, Strength and Physical Culture or several others, which do not seem to have so wide a circulation as formerly.

It was the consensus of opinion of the class that the standard of literature which the Albright students are reading is ever becoming higher, and that the taste for books and magazines of the better kind is much more refined than it was several years ago. To meet this higher standard with the new demands created by it, the class is going to sponsor and advocate the purchase of these magazines for the Albright reading public.

PARAMOUNT STARS RICHARD DIX IN TALE OF BANDITRY

Forty-niners—the bold adventurers who rushed to California gold fields in the middle of the last century—figure in a new way in "The Gay Defender" Richard Dix' latest Paramount picture coming to the Myerstown Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

Heretofore treated as heroes in screen dramas the gold seekers in "The Gay Defenders" are played up as villains, while Dix, in the heroic role as a native Mexican, is driven to banditry by oppression of the unscrupulous prospectors. Thelma Todd is the heroine, while Fred Hoher leads the American desperadoes. Gregory La Cava directed.

Friday and Saturday (next week), Marion Davies will be seen in "The Fair Co-ed" Metro Goldwyn-Mayer's special comedy drama of college life. John Mack Brown, famous football star appears opposite Miss Davies. The film was actually filmed on the campus of the University of California. Coming—March 1-2-3, Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky in "The Night of Love." Soon—John Gilbert and Greta Garbo in "Love," Lon Chaney in "London, After Midnight."—Advt.

Flory, alternate. The affirmative team will have Leon C. Hood (C), Warren Wadsworth, Ernest L. Heckert, with Bill Shaw or Franklin Willets as alternate, endeavoring to show that the primary system has outlived its period of usefulness. The order of the speakers was not available at the beginning of the week.

Five of the boys on the varsity have one or two years of experience, while the three others are seniors, who, although this is the first year that they came out for varsity work, have had considerable experience, which will stand them in good stead. Thus it seems that Albright will be represented by a strong team on the polished rostrum this year—one that will uphold the standards of the Red and White.

The season was supposed to have been opened last Tuesday with Elizabethtown Negative here. However it was compelled to give way to the Valentine party which was held that night. As the Lancaster County collegians could not come any other night last week, that debate will be held March 8th, with the Negative team traveling. An interesting feature of the debate will be the fact that the Elizabethtown team is taking the debate scheduled there to Hershey, where there is located one of the finest auditoriums in this part of the state.

The debate on Tuesday with Juniata will be the first one held with the west-state team for several years. Juniata had a chapter in the Tau Kappa Alpha national debating fraternity last year. They have been going strong in debating lately. The local affirmative will travel out there later in the season. Western Maryland is sending their Negative team Saturday for a single debate. The encounter with Gettysburg, also of the Tau Kappa Alpha will be a dual proposition Thursday night with both Negative teams travelling.

It will be a busy week for the debaters.

girls had been outplaying their opponents by far, and Albright had few opportunities to score.

Only three points were scored in the entire second quarter, Lebanon Valley getting one of a foul, and Albright annexing a two-pointer. This brought the score to 8-6 in favor of Lebanon Valley when the half ended.

In the second half Albright tied the score at eight apiece, and then forged ahead, 10-9. Lane had a foul try, and made it good, again tying the score as the third quarter ended. One through the nets from the field, and Lebanon Valley again took the lead.

The last period was hard fought and exciting. Lebanon Valley scored only one point, while Albright accounted for two field goals.

During the whole game Lane had ten chances from the free throw line, and made only four of them. This is unusual, for ordinarily Lane chalks them up as regularly as clockwork. Dech, Albright forward played a fine game and accounted for all but two of her team's points. She had three field goals, and six fouls of thirteen. Deterline, her team mate, made a two-pointer to account for the remaining two points.

Misses Painter, Stauffer, F. and C. Wilkes, Miles and Hangen, played fine for Albright.

: Who's Who At Albright :DOROTHY DUNLAP

This gay little person, who appears small enough for the wind to blow away, is really a person of big thoughts and ideas. She joined the senior class in the fall of '25, after a year at Sullen's in Virginia.

"Dot", or "Dotty", as we know her, is a steady worker and splendid student. Little is known of her in the life of the school, for she is unable to attend functions on account of living away from town. But she is a loyal member of the Chi Sigmas, in which organization she fills an important place.

To some of us she has revealed her ability as a writer, both in her reminiscences of her year at Sullen's, and her clever epigrams. However, this is only a small part of her endeavors. As an amateur actress we recommend her as one of our most able, for she has been a credit to many of our dramatic productions during the past year. Her service on the Speculum staff as a literary editor must also be noted.

What her plans are for next year, we are not certain. But likely she will teach and be another star in Albright's crown, as she claims to be a "man-hater." Nevertheless, all success to Dot, wherever she may be.

LATE LEBANON VALLEY

Karlip opened the scoring by making a point for Albright on a foul and then fouled Captain Piersol who succeeded in his attempt from the free throw line to tie the score at 1-1. Wissler's long shot went swishing through the net, and then Gelbert made his only score of the first half, a foul committed by Wissler.

Patty Clemens was in the act of shooting when Captain Piersol fouled him, and as a result was awarded two tries from the charity line. He made good on one of them and gave Albright a two point lead, while Wissler cut to zero when Piela made his first field goal. A little later Albright called time with seven and one-half minutes remaining to have played in the half.

Wheeler took up where Piela had left off and scored another two-point or for Annville immediately after play was resumed. Piela dropped another one through the nets, and the score stood 8-4 in favor of Lebanon Valley.

Wheeler committed his second foul and Coach Mylin yanked him. Wheeler and fouled Clemens, and Pat took advantage of his opportunity to bring his team one point closer to their rivals. Miller was sent to center in Wheeler's stead, and before he was in the game a half minute, he had rolled in two field goals from underneath the basket.

In an attempt to stop the Annville rally Coach Jake Weller sent Sherid to center and removed Gunther. It was only a short time later when Sherid broke into the scoring by tapping the ball into his basket when it was tossed up at that end of the floor.

When Albright brought the score up to 12-9, with five and one quarter minutes to play, Lebanon Valley called timeout, and when they got back into action, they added three points on a field goal and a foul. Clemens brought the score to 15-12 with his two-pointer, and with just a fraction of a minute left to play, Sherid and Karlip scored and Albright was leading, 16-15 when the whistle blew.

In the second half Albright continued her spurt and had a five point lead when Clemens and Horn scored. Albright, the L. V. C. guard, checked in with a double decker, but Clemens cancelled it with his second and last two-pointer of the half.

Sherid talked back to the referee following a decision which the official made, and Miller succeeded in adding a point on the technical foul. Albright (of L. V. C.) then hung up a foul and a field goal, which with Piela's two-timer gave the lead to Lebanon Valley. From this time on to the end of the game they were never headed, although on several occasions the Myerstown five threatened.

With the score standing 30-23, Wissler and Brown each sent one thru the hoop to cut Lebanon Valley's lead to three points. This was the nearest they got however, for from then on Lebanon Valley steadily increased their advantage.

During the last six minutes of play Myerstown was unable to score, while during this same period of time Annville scored thirteen counters.

Before the game ended two players on each team were eliminated by the four personals ruling. Miller and Albright were the two on the L. V. squad to receive the call, while on the opposite side Karlip and Wissler were automatically taken out. Wissler had three of his fouls checked against him before ten minutes of the game had been played.

"Mike" Wissler, former Harrisburg Tech athlete, played a good game at guard for Albright until he was eliminated from play, in the second half, by way of the four foul route. Wissler held Gelbert, Lebanon Valley's ace, scoreless from the field and garnered one bucket himself.

"Abe" Karlip, Albright's flashy forward, played good, but seemed unable to locate the basket. He was sent to the showers by way of the four foul route in the second half.

It was when Karlip left the game that Lebanon Valley started its rampage on the basket. Karlip, many times intercepted passes and blocked shots that normally would have resulted in points.

IN DIFFERENT WAY

Professor Bach, doctor of Philosophy at Heidelberg University in Berlin, has resigned his position and taken up a new profession. He is appearing in boxing matches under a noted Berlin promoter. Perhaps the Professor has found it more profitable to make his living that way. Or perhaps he finds it a better practice to beat up his opponents rather than to break his own head trying to teach students.

Elmer—Just between you, me, and the lamppost, what do you see in that girl?

Roy—Not a thing. But with the girl between me and the lamppost—well, that's a different story.

not the end of their career. During the remainder of the school year they will be busy fulfilling their concert engagements in all parts of the state.

They were the feature of the Glee Club program last year, and will be with the club this year again. They are very anxious to give as many concerts as possible during the remainder of the school year in as many different places as possible.

Nothing definite is known but it may be possible that the quartette will go into some professional work for the summer. Those who heard them in the final days of their stay at the Colonial venture the opinion that they have a great career ahead.
