Albright Accepts Six New Frosh At 2nd Semester

Students returning from their semester vacation encountered a number of new faces on campus. Six students are beginning the first semester of their freshman year this month. These fortunate students could look on gleefully while first semester grades were "inflicted" upon the members of all four classes.

Robert J. Sokol, who hails from New York City, will join the ranks of med students. Bob previously attended the Bronx High School of Science. Glenn Bailey, a day student, will also begin his med studies this semester. Another science student, particularly interested in the fields of biochemical research, is George R. Binder, from Farmingdale, N. Y. Charles V. Kachel and Herbert J. Sigley are both preparing for the Evangelical ministry. Nancy Englehart, the lone female freshman newcomer, hails from West Reading. She'll be haunting the Home Ec labs, since her vocational interests lie in the field of dietetics.

Thomas Price, who had completed his first semester before entering the army, is back again to finish the second semester of his freshman year.

Elizabeth Hummel Pottier is back on campus again to finish the remaining two years of her Social Science course.

Rev. Wellman will Speak To-night as "Y"s Initiate Lenten Series

Tonight's "Y" meeting, to be held in the college chapel at 7:30 p.m. is the first in a series of Lenten services. Rev. Willard Wellman, pastor of a Presbyterian church in Philadelphia, will bring the message, and Elaine Kyle will lead the devotional period.

Rev. Wellman is a graduate of Wheaton College and Princeton Seminary. Before receiving his present charge he served as assistant pastor and leader of young people's work in Westminster Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia.

World Student Day of Prayer was observed on Sunday, February 18, at a service held in the Chapel of the Evangelical School of Theology at 4:00 p.m. Professor Lewis E. Smith spoke on "Prayer," and Marjorie Christ was the student leader. Glenn Bailey sang "The Lord's Prayer," and Bob Holtzapple served as organist.

A Faculty-Student Get-together under the combined auspices of the faculty, and the "Y's", was held in the College Dining Hall on Friday, February 16, at 8:00 p.m. after a period of secret ceremonies, refreshments were served.

Plans for the evening were made by a committee from the combined "Y's", including Bertina Blau, Charles Russ, Mildred Kaufman, Jack Teger, and Dietz, Pottier, and by the Faculty Committee on Social Activities, headed by Professor A. H. Smith and made up of Professors Elsie Garlach, Elder, Dr. Virgil Zener, Coach O. Harris, Dr. Raphael Fenili, Professors Marcus H. Freen, and Paul I. Speicher.

At the "Y" meeting held on Tuesday, February 13, in the lower social room, William Penn led a discussion on Peace-time Military Conscription. Bob Holtzapple was in charge of the opening worship service.

Rev. Wallace Cooper, a Methodist minister from Philadelphia will be the speaker at next week's Lenten service.

So Now You Nose!

Yep, Horatio has decided that he's been in hibernation long enough. His coming-out party will be held MARCH 23 when he's going to witness the battle of the century as the Albright men and women take up feuding on the hardwoods. Remember, March 23 is the date for SKUNK DAY!!

Collective Action to Make Peace Says Cultural Program Speaker

When Dr. William Agar spoke in chapel on Thursday, February 15, one of the stirring expressions he used to arouse us to our individual responsibility toward the ultimate goal of a permanent peace was "Collective security is the only kind of security that we can possibly have." His speech, "Charting the Future," was the fourth program of the cultural series.

In this timely lecture, Dr. Agar stressed the fact that peace is the main

STD to Sprout Wings Providing More Fun

Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, is bringing to the campus something new in entertainment. No Albrightian will want to miss "Theatre Night." When?—This Thursday, February 22. Where?—The College Chapel. Time?—8:00 p.m. Price?—40 cents, which includes tax.

"Only Angels Have Wings" comprises the first part of the program, featuring movie stars Cary Grant, Jean Arthur, Rita Hayworth, and Thomas Mitchell. A production of Howard Hawks, (Producer of "To Have or Have Not"), it is a story of men, reckless in their defiance of the dangers of flying in the fog-shrouded Andes, and of the women who wait. It is a picture great in its cast, magnificent in its drama, and extraordinary in its production.

But does an evening of movies end at the theatre? No, you're ready for a cup of coffee and a tasty snack. So after the movie, Sigma Tau Delta invites all movie-goers to the Selwyn Hall Lounge for Coffee Hour.

Get together with your friends and make a date to attend "Theatre Night." Forget classes for the evening, enjoy a good picture, and join us for refreshment and chatter.

problem of the future. Victory is inevitable, however, distant. But what we must realize is the necessity for a permanent peace and the necessity for the building of the foundation of that peace immediately after victory has been won. As Dr. Agar pointed out, "Peace is the reward of a job well done."

He also elaborated upon the various councils which have been called for the working out of peace proposals and explained their relation to each other. In respect to the decisions made by the councils and their ratification by our congress, Dr. Agar urged individual expression proposed to influence congressmen.

Dr. Agar is a scientist, author, and educational director of Freedom House in New York City. He served as an ambulance driver and pilot in the last World War. Before 1941 when he became associated with the Fight for Freedom Committee, since reorganized as Freedom House, he taught geology at Yale and at Columbia University and was headmaster of Newman School in New Jersey. At the present, he is primarily working for the cause of democracy.

Religion Through the Week

The Go-To-Church group will attend Zion Baptist Church this Sunday evening. Students desiring to attend are requested to meet in the Administration Building at 5:45 p.m. There will be no vesper service. In charge of the group are Joy Cutler and J. Howard Smith.

Professor Elsie Garlach will be the leader of Bible Class this Sunday in the absence of Professor Lewis E. Smith. The topic for discussion will be "Jesus, the Son of God." Rev. Lester L. Stabler led the class last Sunday, with Ann deBarges as student leader. "Treasures of the Kingdom" was the topic.

Leaders of the midday prayer group for this week are: Newell Wert, Tuesday, February 20; Esther Savidge, Friday, February 23; and Hebern Yeagley, Monday, February 26.

Vesper service was not held last Sunday, February 18 because of the World Day of Prayer service.

New Officers Take Over For Daywomen's Group

Anna Wartluft was chosen president of the daywomen's organization at an election held last Tuesday, February 12. Other election results are as follows: Martha Friedericks, vice president; Margaret Ball, secretary; Julia Hassler, treasurer.

Day women's Council representatives chosen were: Marguerite Shalter, junior; Eileen O'Neill, sophomore; Jean Borgstrom, freshman. They will serve until next February. Five Student Council representatives chosen were: Marian Fiedler, Mary Jane March, Mary Louise Schappell, Marybeth Schofer, and Agnes Snyder.

Albright to Expand With New Campaign Planned by Trustees Campus Plan will Include New Gym, Auditorium

A campaign to raise $650,000 for improvements for Albright College and the Evangelical School of Theology was announced at the final meeting of the college board of trustees, held Wednesday and Thursday, February 14 and 15. The College money will be used to build a physical education building, a chapel-auditorium, additions to the library and to the Administration Building.

$400,000 of the total has been raised already in cash and pledges. The campaign will be completed by November, 1946, with $50,000 of the money for the Evangelical School of Theology.

The new campaign is a continuation of plans made at the meeting of the trustees last year. A nationally known firm of architects is working on a campus plan. This plan, as well as the campaign, will be outlined to Albrightians by President Harry V. Masters in a chapel program next week. Work was begun this summer on a playfield and tennis courts.

At the final meeting, Judge Frederick Marx, of Berks County Orphan's Court, was reelected president of the board of directors. At the meeting held on Wednesday, February 15, President Harry V. Masters outlined postwar plans for Albright. In his speech he announced that the net worth of the college has increased by over one million dollars within the last six years.

Two Sororities Pick Nineteen New Pledges

PHI BETA MU

The Phi Beta Mu sorority has bid eight members of the freshman class. The new members are: Jean Borgstrom, Vivian Miller, Jean Flickinger, Elizabeth Sanger, Ruth Homan, Betty Cusano, Ruth Leickel and Helen Carol Wright. The initiation ceremony will probably take place on February 26th. Chairman of the initiation committee is Ruth Rehr.

The sorority is making plans for a spring dance with the Pi Alpha Tau sorority. The committee from the Phi Beta Mu for this dance is: Christine Schweitzer, Christine Calpin, Erma Leimbach, and Elaine Schwartz.

PI ALPHA TAU

The girls bid to the Pi Alpha Tau sorority this year are: Phyllis Carter, Gloria Salfetty, Joan House, Gloria McKittrick, Margaret Walker, Phyllis Stock, Jean Jaglom, Dottie Loh Moyer, Judy Scheier, Betty Fielitz, and Marjorie Christ.

The committee for the combined sorority spring dance from the Pats is: Mary Jane Weber, chairman, Rita Dunaway, Mary Eschwey, Margaret Hendericks, Elaine Kyle, and Dorothy Scheib.

Women's Government Will be Put Into Effect

The women of Albright have voted to put into effect a Women's Government Association, which will aid in uniting the day and dorm women of the college.

The Daywomen's and Dormitory Councils will still function to solve the problems of their immediate groups; however, the newly organized Women's Government will aid in making decisions and recommendations common to both groups. The president of the Women's Government Association will be chosen from members of the Women's Association which is composed of the two councils.

Although it was officially drawn up four years ago, the Association was not put into effect.

Faculty Frolics and Feasts Frivolously While "Sober" Students Sing, Socialize

With frolics letting their hair down and students (?) acting normal, everyone relaxed and enjoyed themselves last Friday night at the Faculty-Student Get Together. With Rev. Stabler, Dr. Dubs, Prof Harding, Mr. Gordon, and others spurring their teams on to victory, the eight teams followed their respective pennants around the floor and participated in strenuous games of ring toss and quoits, quiz games and others whose names we defy you to mention.

After the games, each team had to sing for its supper. This world must be in sad state when two good Irishmen like Eileen O'Neil and Helen Brown can't remember the third line to "The Wearin' O' the Green." The gray team gave a spirited, if not polished rendition of "The Old Gray Mare", but they were heatedly silenced by the hypercritical referees. The winning team stepped up to get their prizes. We might add, Dr. Zener looked blissfully happy eating his lollipop. The losing team was requested to wear its prizes, daisies.

One of the high spots of the evening was the refreshments. Everyone forgot their diets to whip up a marshmallow, fruit, chocolate, and nut sundae. After eating, everyone played more games, or gathered around the piano to sing. It took a mighty powerful voice to be heard above those three booming baritones, Mr. Gordon, Eddie Daniels, and Jack Teger. Certainly, a big vote of thanks is due to Mrs. Smith, faculty chairman, and all those who worked with her to make this such a success.

Student Council to Hold "Sub-Freshman Day"

As their all-college spring social function, Student Council will help to sponsor "Sub-Freshman Day" Interested students from Berks County and Reading will be invited for the festivities to be held May 19. The tentative program includes an afternoon program, dinner in the College Dining Hall, and a dance in the evening. Expenses will be defrayed by the Office of Public Relations, of which Rev. Lester L. Stabler is director.

Council sponsored a pep rally held last Friday morning in the College Chapel. It included cheering, a talk by Coach Neal O. Harris, and school songs. Herbert Hyman was master of ceremonies.

Irene Fisher was appointed chairman of the Student Activities Committee, replacing Jane Teisworth, who is no longer a Council member. As the result of the daywomen's election, the following are new representatives: Mary Jane March, Mary Louise Schappell, Marybeth Schofer, and Agnes Snyder.

Cheer Up Albright Best Is Yet to Come

Now that the Roaring Lions have dood it, student speculation of the "big news" that lions are running wild as to the Coach Neal O. Harris promised if the Lions won the Muhlenberg game. Scuttlebut has ranged from Jess Ervin's giving Sinatra lessons on personally to a lesson new bow ties for the cage mentor. The most plausible of the guesses is a bid to play basketball in Madison Square Garden. But of course, the guys wouldn't want to work THAT hard. As THE ALBRIGHTIAN went to press, Coach Harris had not released the info. Come on, coach the suspense is killing us!

Frosh, Sophs to Hold Semi-formal April 20

April 20 is the date set for the Freshman-Sophomore formal dance. It will be held at the Women's Club, Fifth St. No orchestra has been chosen as yet. Kenneth Good and Warren Post, chairman of the sophomore and freshmen social committees respectively, are working with their committees on plans for the dance.

At their class meeting on Monday, February 13, the Frosh and Sophs chose colors, a class song, and flower. The meeting was held in the College Chapel. The colors are blue and white, the flower, carnations. "Today Decides Tomorrow" is the motto chosen.

It was announced by the class treasurer, Jack Shafer, that class dues of one dollar must be paid by all members not later than March 1.

Coming Chapel Speakers Will Stress Brotherhood

In celebration of Brotherhood Week, an inter-faith fellowship will be presented in chapel this Thursday morning, February 22. The service will be held in the College Chapel at 10:10 a.m. Speakers will be Harold Ryan, the Rev. Richard Jones, and Rabbi Sidney Regner. This morning Professor Marcus Green, of the biology department, led in a worship service. In the opening chapel program of the semester, Tuesday, February 13, President Harry V. Masters addressed the student body. The topic of his talk was "Marks of Maturity."

Accentuating the Positive

Friday night at Albright is the time when students want to forget assignments and textbooks. And so Friday night usually means that some social activity is in progress. Although this is Lent and dances are not the order of the day, we feel that Albright's social activity should go on—changed in nature in keeping with the season.

According to an article on Lent written for THE ALBRIGHTIAN last year by the Rev. Lester Stabler, religious counselor. "For a few weeks emphasis is placed upon spiritual values which act as a leaven upon the whole of life." We feel that there can be social activities tinged with the spiritual. For instance, Friday night could be used for a work project on toys for poor children as was carried on last year in Toy Shop; or for a program of entertainment for the children at an orphanage. The Children's Home, or the young people of Rev. Kelly Goodwin's church, since he entertained us wonderfully this year. The Faculty-Student Get Together is a good example of what can be done.

During this Lenten season, THE ALBRIGHTIAN aims to "accentuate" all religious activities on campus, for we feel that they are an important part of our lives. But we hope that our social activities, rather than being curtailed, can be modified in keeping with the spirit of the season.

Movie It Over!

One of the projects for brightening the social activity on Albright's campus is the "Theatre Night" sponsored by Sigma Tau Delta. A motion picture show in the College Chapel will be followed by a coffee hour in Selwyn Hall Lounge. The affair is being run to raise money for the annual English prize, given by the fraternity, a worthy cause. Since the evening should provide a maximum of fun, entertainment and food, it will help to dispel the mid-season blues. This is the first time this year that an activity of this kind is being presented. If the students want more, the way to prove it is to turn for the STD program.

The Guy on the Beach

We are glad to see that the idea suggested by an Albrightian in the South Pacific and also in these columns in the issue of January 23 came to life. By the sound of the cheering last Friday's pep rally really served its purpose. One thing we liked about it especially was that it gave the student body a chance to show its appreciation to Coach Neal O. Harris for the fine job he has been doing in producing good basketball teams. His teams, in addition to putting Albright on the basketball map, have always been noted for their true "Albright spirit." Take another bow, Coach.

The Editorial "We"

In these days of an all-out struggle for freedom, Americans run into challenges to their precious democracy even on the home front. Perhaps you read, along with us, of the incident of the editor of the paper at William and Mary College. In expressing her ideas on the race problem, she stated a radical viewpoint that caused consternation and objections from the trustees of the college especially.

Newspaper editors, speaking from personal experience, cherish the American tradition of freedom of the press. And naturally we would resent any infringement upon this privilege. However, with their freedom, editors also have a definite responsibility to the readers they represent—in our case, Albrightians. We do not feel that an editorial column is the place for any editor to air freak personal viewpoints. And so this incident is another reminder to us all that it shall continue to our policy to have THE ALBRIGHTIAN represent Albright. It is partly your responsibility to see that this is our kind of freedom.

Socially Speaking . . .

Anchors away! Ensign "Red" Lamberson arrived on campus with those gold wings looking plenty alright. Good to see you back, "Red"! Looks as though Judy Scheirer lost a bet or was it on a dare that she cut her hair sooooo short? Sure is good to see Mary Jane Werley back on campus. You certainly are managing to navigate after a broken foot!

Gloria Salfately hit the jack-pot this week by receiving four valentines, a corsage of orchids, and flowers, all from the same man. Ah, spring!

What goes on that inner sactum or the so-called boy's dorm? We hear that Bob Gale hasn't been able to find his razor since the so-called Biologists shaved a squirrel. Has Doc Horn started to teach new techniques?

"Ginny" Woerle and "Worm" Leinbach arrived at breakfast the other morning dressed like twin sisters in red and white. What happened to those sharp red shirts and white hats, kids???

Yess sir! Prof Green did it again. The first one to give a test this semester. That's right, crack the whip, Prof!

Rita Duncavage is sporting Navy anchors. They arrived the other day, from a certain Midshipman. Nice going, Rita!

We hear the freshmen are set-up in up house keeping. Grace Miller keeps the cupboard full by winning groceries!

The Inquiring Reporter

Any English lit student can tell you, (or at least Prof. Harding hopes he can), that Robert Burns, when he wrote, "To A Louse", said, "Would the power the Giffle gie us, to see our selves as others see us." Keeping this in mind, we stick our neck out this week to ask, "What do you think of the Inquiring Reporter?"

Forrest Dunkelberger, pre law, '48: (This question originated in the brilliant mind of this brilliant Freshman) "A great man never answers his own questions. He leaves them to puzzle the minds of others."

Agnes Snyder, soc., '47: Since you ask me, I think it's O.K.

Jack Teger, soc., '45: I think the Inquiring Reporter is probably the most widely read column in the paper.

Eileen O'Neil, soc., '47: I think I.R. is very cute. I always read it immediately after I read the stories I have written.

Lloyd Schwartz, psych., '47: "I think it is O.K. It is one of the first things I read."

Betty Davis, lib. arts, '48: "It's definitely my favorite column in The Albrightian".

Bob Ziegler, pre min., '48: "I think that some of the questions that are asked are silly."

Alleen Schearer, pre med., '45: "It's marvelous, but couldn't some of the questions be more intelligent?"

Newell Wert, pre-min., '47: "It gives some of good humor men a chance try out their wit."

Catherine Frantz, lab tech., '48: "It's neat when the questions and the answers given are original."

College Corn

They say the Georgia Tech prof who he can tell a college man's class by his signature: John Jones—freshman; Jonathan Jones—sophomore; Jonathan W. Jones—junior; J. W. Jones—senior.

The new recruit was late for parade. "Well, it's so nice to see you soldier," said the sergeant with a snarl. "We so feared you had signed a separate peace."

Music in the Air and Selwyn Hall - Ya Pays Your Money and Takes Your Choice

Of course, you've heard the one about what soothes the savage beast. Well, if that's the only use of music, Selwyn Hall must be filled with what is soothing, because at any time of the day, a radio may be heard blaring forth popular music. If a popular song comes on the air, the girls assemble in the room from which it comes and swoon over it.

A faithful listener to the Sunday afternoon Philharmonic is none other than Marjorie Christ. During this time she is not seen or heard, and everybody knows that she is in some hiding place enjoying the music.

The Savidge sisters can often be heard during the day, practicing for their singing in church.

When the record "Cocktails for Two," echoes forth, you can be sure that either Betty Burnett or Bobby Calamara have some free time, which is very often!

By the way, we just found out that Doris Hicks has quite a good voice. How about letting us hear more of it, Hixie?

After meals, the day is high-lighted when all of the kids gather around the piano to be entertained by Phil Stock and Gloria McKittick's original rendition of "Chopsticks," and by Jeanne Miller and Rita Duncavage's dancing to Bert Blauch's accompaniment. Very cute, girls! Grace Miller and the aforementioned Christy are also on the piano beam.

The girls aren't the only one musically inclined. These after-meal sessions have more than their quota of male listeners—and dancers.

The entire situation is smooth—and soothed.

This week Dandy tosses his bouquet to that bouncing lioness, Joyce foyer. Talented, versatile, Joyce deserves the plaudits as an all-round good sport.

"Joyceful" is a commuter and allergic to eight o'clock classes for that reason. We don't blame her a bit, for they mean that she has to get the seven o'clock bus from Wernersville. She gets to take a lot of kidding about that home town of hers, but she takes it with her usual good humor.

Up to the time of the "new regime" on The Albrightian, Joyce was a feature editor and could be found "chasing copy" from the procrastinating feature writers. Joyce prexies the International Relations Club—and so got the job of serving spaghetti to their illustrious guest, Mrs. Drysdale.

As treasurer of that sisterhood, the Pats, Joyce is the gal with the money—if she can catch them. She also sings in the Pat septet.

We speak literally and figuratively when we say that Joyce is a "good sport." She wields a mean tennis racket and hockey stick. In the latter sport, Joyce played goalie for the senior team this year.

The dramatic abilities of this week's Dandy Lion have been ably demonstrated many times on the chapel stage. Albrightians won't forget her performances as the saucy Phoebe in "As You Like It" or as the domineering wife in one of last year's May Day one acters. She "nuff, she can go to town on the "Dark Town Strutter's Ball," too.

Joyce's contralto voice has helped out in the Women's Glee Club and the Chapel Choir. Her dancing has brightened many an entertainment.

A practicing pedagogue, Joyce started out by wanting to teach Latin but now has history as her major field. She has had experience as a substitute teacher and is now at Reading High School doing her practice teaching. Her quick humor and versatility should keep the pupils in line—and also in her classes.

So, for the star of the week, Dandy roars a huge salute and hopes for her future success.

Campus Carrousel!

Few students sent any valentines to their parents last week. They knew that their report cards would mean more to them, and they were mailed on February 14. . . Remember the class of '48? They used to attend their meetings, but somehow slipped down and . . . ? Dick Dexter is in the Navy now, and dropping his old buddies a line once in a while. He says that the food is swell in boot camp, "Just like mother's cooking before she learned how to cook" . . . Bill Ebbert knows how to read from every angle. He'll be glad to direct you to any part of the city, I. e. if you have the time . . . Insurance brokers have found the men's dormitory an excellent market. Accident insurance is especially high in demand . . . The new students in the dorms are still rather estranged, but if they survive (?) they'll get used to things. . . It's a pity that Dave Voigt will be leaving us to join the air force. (Don't worry, Dave, you'll be in the infantry soon) . . . Definition of Hoarders: The people who borrow other students' change to go down to the Canteen and clean it out of its better contents before its been full for ten minutes. . .

Calling a Club a Club

Panel in March

International Relations Club will hold a student-faculty discussion panel at its monthly meeting to be held in March. All Albrightians are invited to attend.

At the February meeting, the club members held an informal discussion on current events. A book report was given by Eileen O'Neill on "Latin America and the Industrial Age," by J. Fred Rippey. Dr. Milton Hamilton, adviser, showed the group several new books sent by the Carnegie Endowment. The books are: "The Peoples of Southeast Asia," Lasker; "Ten Years in Japan,"

Grew; "Compass of the World," Weigert and Stefanon; "Pioneers in World Order," Davis; "Beyond Victory," Anshen; "U.S.—Canadian Northwest," Kizer.

Heos Entertain

Members of the Heo Club entertained their mothers at tea in Sherman Cottage on Sunday afternoon, February 11, from 3 to 5. The table was attractively arranged in a Valentine motif. Eleanor Schubert, club president, was hostess. Floaters were Mildred Kauffman, Lucille Loft, and Margaret Ball. Anna Warluft poured. General chairman for the tea was Anna Warluft. Committees serving under her were: refreshment, Catherine Hill, chairman; Virginia Schweyer, Betty Cusano, Joan House, Margaret Ball and Margaret Hohl; and invitations—Janet Luckenbaugh, chairman; Betty Jane Deiroff, and Idele Boothroyd.

Debate Clash

On February 7, 1945, Celia Konczewski and Henrietta Morrison traveled to the campus of Ursinus College for a debate held as part of the public speaking classes. It was the second Ursinus-Albright clash this year. The affirmative side was upheld by Albright while Ursinus defended the negative side on the compulsory peacetime conscription question. "Resolved: That men between the ages of 18 and 20 should receive a year of military and vocational training after the war." Gettysburg College will also debate with Albright on this question, but as yet, nothing definite has been decided.

Ad' Psychology

Eight pre-ministerial students were interviewed for membership into the Kappa Tau Chi fraternity at a meeting held last Thursday evening, February 15. The meeting was held in the Lower Social Room, Selwyn Hall Annex.

After devotions, led by Charles Russ, the following were interviewed: John Spindler, Robert H. Schneider, William Ebbert, Robert Holtzapple, Stewart McCleary, Jack Shafer, Ray Pottier, Robert Ziegler. A business meeting followed.

Spelling Bee

At a meeting of the German Club to be held tomorrow night, a German spelling bee will be the main feature. The meeting will take place in the Lower Social Room, Selwyn Hall Annex, at 7:30 p.m. Geraldine Wentzel will have charge of the program. German songs will be sung, followed by refreshments.

Lions in the Ranks . . .

Hi kids,
It's been an awfully long time since I last sat down to type this. My last semester here at Albright has at last settled down to its well-known routine. Bacteriology, embryology, organic, and visual ed promise to be most interesting. Now to the letters:

CATHERINE E. STELTZ: AMERICAN RED CROSS 322; c/o PM; SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF. is anxious to get in touch with any Albrightians. She heard that LEFTY WEAVER, also of the class of '29 is in that section of the Pacific. "Steltz" is a club director for the boys of the 14th Anti-aircraft Command in New Guinea.

Thanks, GUS COHEN, for the picture of yourself that you sent. In the public relations office there is a bulletin board that is used for the posting of pictures of Albrightians in the Service. Any pictures that you may have of yourselves will be welcomed, 'cause we would like to see how you look since you left school.

CPL. PAUL FLEISHER 3371371; Tr. B. 90th Cav. Ren. Sq.; APO 260; c/o PM New York writes from France in a letter dated Jan. 1, in which he says that he has been in France a few months (although it seems longer), and that it is cold, even though "this guy Von Runstedt had things pretty hot a couple of weeks ago." We said "hello" to those friends of yours, Paul.

CPL. CHARLES HERBERT LOYER — Dante Annex — L.G.H.; 1590 Broadway; San Francisco, Calif. writes to say that his has been in Frisco for 18 months working as a surgical technician at Letterman General Hospital. He expects to study medicine after the war. More power to you, Herb!

Another letter from CAPT. BURDSALL MILLER from England says that on January 14 he flew his last combat mission and is now a "happy warrior." "I will not be coming home right away, as they are going to retain me in my staff job for awhile." Burd, when I was looking over the files this week, I found another person in England, with the same number as yours: S/SGT DAVID FIELDS 33232321; 487th Bomb Group (H); APO 559 c/o PM New York. I believe Dave was graduated in 1936. And, Dave, if you see this, Burd's address was in the January issue. He is in the 833rd Bomb Sq., 486th Bomb Group. Hope you find each other!

Some time ago FFC. WILLIAM C. FISHER was on campus and gave us this information: Bill has finished his pre-med work at Yale and is going to do general hospital work at Rhodes General Hospital in Ithica, New York, until October when he goes to the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University. DICK DOHNER is also at the hospital in Ithica, but he will go to Albany in July as a pre-med. EDWARD MARTIN has gone to Texas to dental technicians' school. WARD R. PRICE, 1st LT., O-1166813, 276 Armored Field Artillery Bat.; APO 403; c/o PM, New York writes from somewhere in France telling us that when he wrote on Dec. 12, he was in combat. The day before he celebrated his third anniversary in the Army. Ward, we just got your letter Feb. 10. Profs, please note—Ward says he wants to be remembered to all of you. All of Ward's friends are included in this, too.

From JOHN F. GUNDLACH, JR., Ph.M. o. c.; U.S. Naval Hospital No. 8; Navy, Ward A-8; c/o FPO; San Francisco, Calif. writes us this letter: "I have been a patient here since the 4th of January with three kinds of dermatitis. On the 27th I enjoyed the most pleasant surprise when ENSIGN JOE BRANDT, my former roommate and fraternity brother, walked in to see me. We talked for over an hour and made arrangements to meet again on the 28th. On my way to meet him, I ran into ENSIGN WALT HAUSER. Walt's and my meeting was my first benefit from the list of addresses. In addition to meeting those two, I knew BOB WORK was within a gang-plank's reach of me, but I missed him by a day or less." Jack has been in Hawaii since August. He thinks it is very warm and beautiful, but he thinks he'll still take home. Anyone else agree with this? He says, "I have been to Honolulu many times, but even Makovys's "Booton" has this beat. I hope Al thinks I'm only kidding when he reads this. I would enjoy hearing from Al, other APO's, and Albrightians." Hope that skin is cleared up by now, Jack. Have you had any trouble lately with alarm clocks ringing to get you up for an early breakfast—six hours early?

LT. DONALD BUXTON writes from New Guinea that he is soon to be moved but his address is the same as his old one that is printed in the list. He is getting "THE ALBRIGHTIAN," even if it is old. It was good to hear from you, Don. That son of yours, Don, Jr., sounds cute.

HERBERT SILVESTRI writes from San Francisco that he will be finished in March, when he will apply for destroyer duty. He said, "Remember how those physics lectures used to be Greek to us? Well, this is more like Japanese. Prof. Speicher for and that is calculus. There is one thing I'm thankful to you and the optics we had in physics. This is a complicated, condensed, and hammered course. We go around bug-eyed."

Lions Catch Mules on Rebound for 43-40 Upset

Albright Defeats Two Arch College Rivals, Drubbing Ursinus 53-37, and G-burg, 47-44

Albright's win-happy Lions staged a late rally to nip Gettysburg's Bulls, Wednesday, February 14, on the latter's floor, 47-44. As the 15th win in sixteen starts, it was the first victory over the battlefield boys in the Gettysburg gym since Neal O. Harris has been coaching at Albright.

Sparked by a hometown boy, Billy March, Gettysburg matched the Lions point for point until the last minutes when Red Seifert tapped one in and Tiny Landis dunked in his tenth bucket to give the Lions a 45-42 lead, which they never relinquished.

From the opening gun, the game was close, and during the second quarter the lead changed hands six times, and the score was tied three times. Due to Bill Landis' six field goals during the quarter, Albright managed to walk off at halftime with a 28-26 lead.

Gettysburg couldn't break the local's tight defense, but was able to score long shots, making 15 of their 18 field goals from way out.

Courtsters Seek Second Triumph From Engineers

This Saturday evening at Northwest the record smashing Albright Lions will play host to a victory-seeking Lehigh University basketball team, who will be gunning for its initial win from the Albrightians this season. In their first encounter of the season, the Lions defeated the Engineers, 57-47, on the latter's court. Cookie Wagner and Bill Landis were the big guns for Albright.

Up to the fourth period, the Lehigh squad gave Neal Harris' proteges a tough battle with the lead changing hands many times. By putting on a point-manufacturing spurt in the final chapter, the Readingites gained the victory. Bob Rehner proved to be the biggest single threat to the Lions.

Coach Harris will probably use the regular Landis-Wagner forward combination with Jimmy Braun at center, and in the back court speedy Forrest Saylor and Jessie Ervin are the likely performers.

Probable starting lineups:

Navy V-12 team at Northwest gym Saturday, February 10. Having a tough time with the Bears in the first quarter, Albright was able to tie the score, 10-10. Bobby Giest, stellar guard from Slattington, scored all of the Ursinus buckets in that hectic first quarter.

With Bill Landis and Forrest Saylor hitting the hoops with precision-like regularity, the picture changed radically in the second quarter. Albright gained a 25-15 halftime lead. During the second half the Lions kept increasing its lead and the subs came in to ably replace the regulars.

Clearly the funniest play of the evening was when Bill Landis dribbled the length of the floor to score. This unusual sight delighted the Reading fans, as none of the fast guards was able to catch up to him.

E-town, Dickinson Bow in Defeat To Red & White

As the thirteenth win of the season, the Roaring Lions scored an easy victory over a Dickinson team, 66-24, at Carlisle, on February 7. It was the smallest score of an Albright for this season.

Paced by Jim Braun, Bill Landis, and Bill Wagner, Albright was never in trouble.

In a vacation game, the Red and White drubbed the Elizabethtown Lizzies, 66-37, on February 3, at Northwest. Guided by Guy Buch's sensation shooting, Elizabeth took a 5-0 lead in the early minutes of the game. But the sky soon fell in for the Lizzies for Albright sported a 25-7 first quarter lead. From then on the visitors could not stop the onslaught.

Guy Buch capped individual hot handed shot was been a one-man scoring honors with 24 points. This team, averaging 24 points a game. He tallied 42 points against Susquehanna University recently.

Visiting Mules Prove Powerless Before Tough Lion Onslaught 43-40

In their biggest test of this cage season, Albright's mighty Lions pulled the victory punch and came through with a coveted win over the Muhlenberg Mules, 43-40 last Saturday night in the Northwest gym. Albright has the best record in the state, 16 wins and one loss which is a good indication of a tournament bid. It was the first time in two years that the Red and White got a crack at the Allentown men on the home floor and they avenged the 59-39 setback handed the locals earlier in the season.

Lassies Fight to Draw Against Ursinus Frosh Take First, 18-10 From West Reading

Traveling to Collegeville, the Albright lassies played to a 16-16 stalemate with the Ursinus six, Thursday, February 8. Virginia Woerle accounted for ten of the sixteen Lion points.

Although Albright led, 6-4, in the first quarter, the Bears forged ahead, 11-9 at halftime. Maintaining a 15-13 lead at the end of the third period, the Ursinus team was held down to one point in the final stanza.

Winning their first game of the season, the freshman lassies were host to W. Reading and took over the high school varsity with a final score of 18-10. The game was played last Tuesday, February 13, in the Thirteenth and Union Sts. gym.

Captain of the Albright frosh, Jeanne Flickinger, totaled 8 points while Shirley Sperans, and Fay Sheetz tapped in the other baskets.

Effective guarding on the part of Jean Borgstrom and Gladys Savidge especially helped keep the ball in the Albright forecourt.

In their first game of the season, the lassies lost to Mt. Penn, 30-13.

West Reading guards: Collins, Frick, Spangler, Williams, Leinbach. Albright guards: Borgstrom, Sanger, G. Savidge, McKittrick. Fouls committed: West Reading, 12; Albright, 4. Referee: M. Moore.

Albright is determination the cagers take an early lead and kept them on the payroll trail when the going got tough in the final quarter. Scoring artists of the evening were Tiny Landis and Forrest Saylor who totaled 14 and 13 points respectively. A tight defense by the Harrismen plus offensive power in the pinches won the game for the Lions.

Taking the Mules by surprise, the locals kept close on the Mules' heels in the opening frame and ended the quarter two points behind. Timely scoring saw the Lions out in front, 21-19, at the half. With a three-point lead at the finish of the third quarter, the Lions were confronted with a Mule scoring threat in the finale as the latter took a 32-31 lead. Landis recaptured the lead for the Lions and from then on the Red and White held it until the final whistle.

Loss of two starters via the foul route for the Mule squad caused Coach Al Julian to try strategy. However, the Lions kept the pressure on and wound up the game in fine form. It is the Mules' third loss of the season, having been defeated by Temple and Navy.

It is interesting to note that of the twenty odd applications for the basketball team last fall an even dozen are still left. So far only four of those original twenty are now in the armed services but several are facing induction in the near future.

First to go was Ray Chelius, set shot artist, who is now wearing the navy uniform at the Sampson Naval Training Station. Also in Navy blues is Stew Beyerle, backcourt ace, who is stationed at Great Lakes Naval Base.

Dick Dexter, intramural cage player, was unable to come back second semester because of a call from the draft board. Recently inducted by the Air corps was sophomore Dave Voigt, who played with the Bowers Battery team and Berrylium of the City Industrial League.

Now that there is talk of dropping navy programs, we are wondering if Muhlenberg will field an all-civilian team next year. They should lian men than either Albright or Kutztown, both of whom had successful seasons with a limited amount of material.

Incidentally, if you don't think intramural basketball is a man's game ask Jim Hedglin.
