Five Members Join Faculty

Dwight Scoles Resigns As Chemistry Prof

Five new members have joined the Albright faculty and begun their duties this week. They are Dr. Paul Miller Leininger, new associate professor of chemistry, Dr. Daniel F. Skeath, assistant professor of education and psychology, Dr. Edwin L. Bell, 2nd, assistant professor of biology, Mrs. Yvonne Voigt Malloy, instructor in English, and Jane Lausch Kline, graduate assistant in biology.

Leininger Succeeds Scoles

Dr. Leininger, of 711 High Street, Easton, succeeded Dr. Dwight Scoles, who retired from active teaching at the end of the last term. Formerly assistant professor of chemistry at Lafayette College, he holds the B.S. degree in Education and B.S. in Chemical Engineering, the M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Pennsylvania.

Before teaching at Lafayette, Dr. Leininger was a teacher at the University of Pennsylvania for four years and on the research staff of the Niagara Falls electrochemicals department of the DuPont Company.

At Lafayette he was director of the early admissions program of the Ford Foundation and adviser to the Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society and the Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity.

He has written three articles for the Journal of the American Chemical Society, and holds three patents. He holds membership in the American Chemical Society, the American Society for Metals, the American Leather Chemists Association and the Pennsylvania Association for College Chemistry Teachers.

A member of the Evangelical Congregational Church, he is married, the father of three children.

Skeath To Assist Smith, Geil

Dr. Skeath, of Barnesville, Pa., has been guidance counselor and teacher in Brunswick, Md., schools for four years.

After graduation from the Mahanoy Township High School, Skeath graduated from the Command and Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, and was engaged in personnel and administrative work at the U. S. Army Station Hospital, Selvidge Field, Michigan.

Following this he attended Pennsylvania State University, where he received his B.S., M.S., and D.Ed. degrees. For his doctor's dissertation he made a study of local religious programs provided in selected protestant churches for the youth members.

Dr. Skeath is a professional member of the American Personnel and

Opening Chapel Marks Dedication Of Teel Hall

Teel Hall, formerly the Bishop S. C. Breyfogel Building of the Evangelical School of Theology, was rededicated in honor of Dr. Warren F. Teel, in a colorful ceremony, Tuesday, September 21. The late Dr. Teel was president of Schuylkill Seminary, Schuylkill College and Albright College for thirty years.

An academic procession to Krause Hall began the combined convocation and dedication program at 9 a.m. The call to worship and invocation were given by the Rev. Eugene H. Barth.

After a hymn, "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee," Dr. Harry V. Masters, president of Albright, offered a prayer and delivered an address. New faculty members were introduced by Dr. George W. Walton, college dean.

Following the academic procession to Teel Hall, Dr. J. Warren Klein, Wyoming, offered the call to dedication.

The dedicatory prayer was offered by the Rev. Henry W. Zehner, pastor of St. John's Evangelical United Brethren Church, Ridgewood, N. Y. An address by George C. Bollman, Adamstown, president of the Board of Trustees, was followed by a response by Floyd E. Teel, son of Dr. Teel.

"Faith of Our Fathers," a hymn, preceded the benediction by the Rev. Dean A. Allen, pastor of St. Matthew's EUB Church.

Dr. John H. Duddy, professor of music, and David Lubba, '56, were the organists at the dedication.

Naugle Chosen As "L'il Sister"

Rosalind Naugle, '58, was awarded first prize as most characteristic "l'il sister" at the Y-sponsored party for big sisters and little sisters, big brothers and little brothers.

Held in Krause Hall on September 21, the affair was directed by Lucy Schuman, Rachel Kaebnick, Paul Hetrich and Robert Fox, who had arranged the assigning of freshmen to upperclassmen.

Second place went to Barbara Kuehn, '58 and third place was won by Jean Weik, '58 for their costumes.

The big brother and little brother party began in the Physical Education Building and finished in Krause Hall, where refreshments were served.

Reverend Barth gave a humorous address on "Spoonerisms".

Orientation Begins For 220 Freshmen Class Shows 25% Higher Enrollment

Five frosh demonstrate their "buttoning" talents for an upperclassman as they begin the six-week customs period. Clad in jazzy red and white dinks, chokers and badges, they are taking no chances on being reported as violators.

Dean Recognizes 35 On "A" List

Thirty-five students attained the Dean's "A" List for the second semester of the 1953-1954 academic year. Forty-five additional Albrightians won honorable mention on the "B-plus" list.

Seniors led both lists in numbers, with thirteen on the "A" list and seventeen on the "B" list.

Juniors: Edmund Ettinger, David Frankhauser, Richard Strauss and Patricia Wehlerer.

Freshmen: Robert Blackbill, Clement Cassidy, Kathleen Forry, Kenneth Greenwald, Joanne Palm and Lowell Perry.

Honor students on the "B-plus" list are: Seniors: Francis Anderson, Robert Barlett, Robert Bieler, LeRoy Brendle, Dorothy Delaney, Eleanor Dick, Barbara Farris, Arlene Kuhlman, Virginia Marick, Ivan Moyer, Elliot Perceley, Alan Schlegel, Thomas Seidel, Emma Seifrit, Thomas Schultz, Nancy Lou Walker and Curtis Zillhardt.

Juniors: Gordon Anke, Jasper Dreifelbis, Duane Goldman, James Goss, Henry Greenwald, Orchys Kramer, Harold Kretzing, Lee Snyder, Claire Speidel and Theodore Tietge.

Sophomores: Sylvia Greul, Nelda Harting, William Lord, Edith Murray, Stanley Order, Shirley Schaefer, Gene Schott, Claire Simmat, Thomas Sturgis, John Reinhart and Mosche Zirin.

Freshmen: Kenneth Artz, Mary Jo Barbera, Joel May, John Myers, Barbara Ross, Mildred Tims, Thaddeus Tomkiewicz and Elizabeth Weilenmann.

Y's Program Fall Events

The combined Y organizations have announced their calendar of events for the coming semester. As usual, meetings will be held on Tuesday evenings at 7:30. As in previous years, two Tuesdays per month will be devoted to commission or cabinet meetings, with the other two meetings each month set aside for all-campus affairs.

The September schedule included a cabinet meeting on September 19 at Rev. Barth's home, a Big and Little Sister Party at Krause Hall on September 21, a Big and Little Brother Party in the gym on the same date, and will feature "Talent Nite" on the 28th of September.

Congressman Bowles will be the guest speaker at the meeting of October 5, and on the 12th of October an oriental meeting entitled "Phillip Nite" will be held. All campus "Y" events will take place on October 15 and 17 at Blue Mountain Camp. The nineteenth of this month will include a Fire Side Chat, and the guest speaker on the twenty-sixth will be Darlington Hoopes.

The agenda for November will include the following: Recreation Nite Square Dance on November 2; F.T.A. Education program on November 9; "Y" Family Drive on November 15 and 23; a Thanksgiving Program with WUS on the twenty-third and a Thanksgiving Dawn Communion Service on the twenty-fourth.

Highlights of the December program will be toy repair on December 7, Christmas Children's Party and Dinner on December 12, caroling on December 14 and dawn communion on December 17.

Homecoming Planned

Albright College Homecoming Day will be held on Saturday, November 6. Carl Mogel, chairman for this year's homecoming, appointed six people to head the various committees. Annejannette Innis heads the hospitality committee; Mrs. Elsie Schaeffer Knoll, the luncheon committee; Fred E. Luckenbill the reception committee, Gene Friedman, publicity committee; and James Hall, entertainment committee.

Tentative plans include guided tours of the campus, dedication of plaque in the Physical Education Building with names of shareholders who contributed to its building, an alumni luncheon, the Lebanon Valley-Albright College football game. The fraternities and sororities will meet and there will be a coffee hour for the alumni after the game.

Dorm Students Outnumber Commuters For First Time

Freshmen dorm students outnumber commuting students for the first time in Albright's history.

Approximately 220 freshmen enrolled this year, a 25 per cent increase over last year's registration of 175 freshmen. There was also an increase of 15 per cent in the general student body, bringing the total to an even 600.

The largest number of freshmen, 55, have chosen the heating arts. This includes the pre-med, pre-dental, nursing, and lab technician courses. Business Administration follows closely with an enrollment of 51 freshmen.

Dr. Samuel Shirk, director of public relations and general chairman of the orientation committee, announced that due to the dedication of Teel Hall as a dormitory for upperclass women, the percentage of women has increased considerably this year.

Orientation

The orientation program which began on Wednesday, September 15 and ended on Monday, September 20, included the following: Physical examinations; personality, achievement, and vocational interest appraisal; comprehension tests; faculty consultation; medical check-ups, and extra-curricular meetings. Highlights of orientation week were the social hour in Krause Hall, a faculty-frosh softball game at Kelchner Field, the Reading High School-Allentown High School football game at Albright Stadium on Friday night, an outing and doggie roast on Saturday, and a vesper service and group sing on Sunday evening.

This year, customs will last for six weeks.

Seniors Have Chapel On Alternate Weeks

Since Krause Hall will not accommodate the entire student body this year, seniors have been required to attend Chapel on alternate weeks. Seating arrangement lists were posted on the bulletin board this week.

All students are expected to keep a record of their absences. Notice will be issued as a warning, when all except one "cut" have been used. Limit notice (Cut Probation in Chapel) will again be posted on the bulletin board in the Administration Building.

Extra seats will be provided for the cultural programs.

Reverend Yrigoyen To Speak

The Reverend Mr. Charles Yrigoyen, pastor of the Holy Cross Methodist Church will speak in Tuesday Chapel, September 28.

A Current Events Program will be the feature of Thursday assembly.

The first cultural programs will take place on Thursday, October 7, and will feature The American Chamber Orchestra, with Robert Scholz conducting.

Debaters Hold Try-out

Seventeen freshmen came out for Debating Club at tryouts at a meeting on Monday, September 20. Dr. Samuel Shirk is the club's adviser. James Rogers, an upperclassman of the group, said that this was the biggest turnout in years.

The following freshmen came out: Richard A. Steffy, Virginia Frey, John Bright, Henry Bonacher, Edna Barnett, Mildred Scharitzer, William Mays, Wilbert Wollenhaupt, Phillip Eyrich, Robert Hussey, Suzanne Goldstein.

Also, Carol Hueller, Sheila Laub, Harvey Hafetz, Rosalind Naugle, Mary Ellen Applemen, and Dorothy Englert.

HAVE YOU NOTICED?

Campus, Grounds, Have "New Look"

Upperclassmen returning to Albright after the summer vacation noticed many changes and improvements on the campus and in the buildings.

The former large classroom on the first floor of the Administration Building has been converted into offices for the Treasurer and the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds. The space formerly occupied by the Treasurer's Office has been made into a conference-waiting room for use of visitors to the campus. The smaller adjacent room will be used by the Public Relations Department for addressograph and multigraph equipment, thus freeing the room formerly used for this purpose on the third floor. That room (room 302) will be used as a "listening room" for the foreign language departments.

The dining room has been redecorated and new draperies have been hung. This work is being done under the sponsorship of the Albright College Woman's Auxiliary.

The large parlor in Selwyn Hall, now known as the Blue Room, has been refurbished by the alumnae sorority, Phi Delta Sigma. The former Dean's Parlor, now known as the Salem Room, has been refurbished by the Patron's Division of the Women's Auxiliary. The lower social room used by the Daywomen is now known as the Pine Room.

The former School of Theology Building now known as Teel Hall has been renovated into a girls' dormitory which will occupy the second and third floors. The reception room in Teel Hall is known as the Green Room and has been furnished by the Women's Auxiliary. The music department now occupies the former office of Dr. Heck and will make some use of the Chapel. Three rooms on the first floor and one large room in the semi-basement will be used as classrooms.

In general, the entire campus has been thoroughly housecleaned.

Love Those Freshmen

Every fall a hurricane hits campus. It packs as great a wallop as Alice or Dolly or Edna, but its name is The Freshmen.

Unlike the alphabetical gals, its influence is not at all destructive—instead it's just about the most constructive—instead it's just about the most constructive all year. The Freshmen are madly in love with their new alma mater, and go all out for it in a way that puts upperclassmen to shame. Bubbling over with enthusiasm, The Freshmen try out for glee club, band, dramatics, debating, the Albrightian staff, and everything else. Being talented as well as enthusiastic, most of them make it, and they are eager to do as much as possible. Enthusiasm is a contagious thing, so when they wholeheartedly throw themselves into being school-spirited, they take a lot of weary, blasé upperclassmen with them. This annual revival of Albrightianism is what keeps a great many student organizations on their feet.

Besides being good for the campus, the frosh are pretty lovable just for being themselves. Never having encountered a college final exam or a valentine, they are refreshingly carefree. Their happy-go-lucky voices and cheerful red and white clothing are as much a part of the campus decor as the changing leaves or the new winter coats of Albright's squirrel population.

For all these things, Class of '58, we are glad to have you aboard!

Long Live The New Look

Returning upperclassmen this week were surprised to find a greatly transformed dining hall, a beautifully modern new women's dormitory, and a charmingly redecorated Selwyn Hall. The pre-semester bulletin had mentioned that there'd been some changes made, but the extent of the improvements came as a surprise to everyone.

The dining hall had been repainted, and furnished with attractive new draperies. Large mirrors at each end of the room and smaller mirrors along the walls add greatly to a gracious, pleasant mealtime atmosphere.

Teel Hall, formerly known as the "angel factory", had been completely remodeled and redecored to house upper-class women. Selwyn Hall had been extensively repainted and improved. The most striking change was the transformation of the old Selwyn parlors into the Blue Room and the Salem Room. Modern blond wood tables and chairs upholstered in a pleasing variety of shades, arranged in conversational groupings, have replaced the drab, stiff old sofas that used to line the walls. Striking new lighting effects, pleasing pictures, and a new paint job have turned the rather stuffy old parlors into charming rooms for lounging or entertaining.

The reaction to all this is unanimous—everyone is delighted. A lot of work went into planning and financing these projects. Color schemes had to be selected, furnishings chosen, and the actual labor supervised. This took time, effort, and especially money. Dean Morton and Mr. Pierce were largely responsible for the time and effort, and the Phi Delta Sigma Honorary Alumni Sorority, the Patron's Division of the Women's Auxiliary of Albright College, and the Women's Auxiliary of Albright College supplied the money.

Let's show that we appreciate this, by treating the rooms and their furnishings with care and consideration, so that Albrightians as yet unregistered will be as proud of them as we are now.

The Snake Pit

"Blessed is he who expects nothing, for he shall never be disappointed," Alexander Pope said many years ago, and it turns out he was right. You fans (both two of you) who read "About Nothing" regularly last year and enjoyed its monumental unimportance in the field of international, national and local events will doubtless give a huzzah to see it running on page two once more.

Of course the splendid talent that created the weekly column of naught, naught, naught has gone to a happier land, for Miss Jacqueline Zwoyer, class of 1954, is now handing out homework to small fry instead of receiving it from big fry.

We shall endeavor to follow her slightly schizophrenic footsteps.

Where Am I? Department

Seniors looked as dazed as freshmen the first days back, and with good reason. Rooms have been relocated, redecored, camouflaged and renamed to such an extent that upperclassmen all needed guide books themselves in order to direct the frosh. Color charts might have come in handy too, what with the "Green Room", "Blue Room" and other Rodgers and Hart-ish sounding names.

They've called the Lower Social Room the "Pine Room". Next logical step would be to call those social hours "Timber Time".

You can't consider yourself a real old-timer, however, unless you still call Sarah Krause Hall the SUB.

Woman Talk

Wasn't it fun, though, to hear all the back gossip and try to straighten out all the break-ups and tie-ups that happened this summer? Sally Aicher came smiling through it all, with a pin.

Annjeannette Innis, looking forward to that big event in October, seemed to be thinking "It's a puzzlement" those first few days. Having just graduated last spring and working now in the Psychological Service Center, she tried to decide whether to act the "older woman" or as "one of the kids". From all appearances, however, she has decided to remain herself, pretty and charming.

Dior Gets Gate In Campus Getups

This year more than ever before fashions are geared to campus life.

Let's begin with colors. Fashion experts tell us that fall and winter colors this year have the widest range in history. Black, charcoal and oxford grays lead the way again this season. Reds, from orange and apricot to scarlet and cherry, browns, from tans and beiges to tawny and oxford, moss green, purple and gold are also fashionwise colors.

Fabric interests point to unusual surface and finishing details. Dozens of textile blends appear on the racks to satisfy every need and budget. Tweeds, plaids and prints of unusual decor add to this year's tops in fabrics. Orlon and wools, flannels, menswear, blends of vicara, wool jersey, taffetas, satinique and again velveteen appear to lead the fall and winter fabrics.

The princess line and empire waist lines lead the way in spite of Dior's new "flat" look creations. The sheath reappears for another successful season as does the shirtwaist dress.

Bermuda shorts and knee socks are campus "musts". Red, the chief accessory color, is worn beautifully with the blacks and grays. The shirt is back, too. This year the news is the details—double collars, shirt cuffs and collar, unusual patterns, and added feminine embroidery or costume touch.

Fall, 1954, looks like a big season fashionwise. And otherwise, too.

Jim

Small as he is, Jim Hall is one of the dandiest lions on campus. If ever you are greeted by a dark-haired, brown-eyed senior with a warm smile, you'll know who he is. That's our Student Council Prexy, Jim Hall. Besides Student Council, Jim is president of the Alpha Pi Omega fraternity and a member of the Daymen's Organization. Last spring, he served as the chairman of Parents' Week-end. Serving as chairman of the Freshmen Orientations Committee last fall reminds Jim of his little visit with the fish in Sylvan Lake.

Being a great sports enthusiast, Jim fondly remembers his years of playing football, basketball, and baseball in senior high school. "Hey, 'cumpari,' bring on the spaghetti," is an expression often used by Jim. Of course, we must not forget Evie. Jim can usually be reached by phone at 3-8559 — Evie's number. She seems to score the greatest number of points with Jim.

More than anything else, Jim detests lack of organization. Because of this personal trait, we can look forward to a very successful year for Student Council.

Marriage and a successful business will combine to make Jim's future a happy and successful one. With his ambition and super personality, Jim will certainly achieve his desires.

The Rutgers Observer

For all those who have always wanted to take comprehensive class notes, and never quite mastered the technique, the Rutgers Observer presents a clear demonstration of the manner in which the experts do it.

Professor: "When Lafayette first came to this country, he discovered that America and Americans needed his help."

Your Notes: Lafayette discovered America.

Professor: "... it is possible that we do not completely understand the Russian viewpoint."

Your Notes: The professor is a Communist.

Professor: "Pages 7 through 15 are not required but will prove of inestimable value to the student in preparation for the exam."

Your Notes: Omit pages 7 through 15.

Professor: "The class Friday will be the most important of the year since we will throw it open to a general discussion. Attendance will not be taken."

Your Notes: No class Friday.

Simple isn't it? All you have to do is get the main points.

Frosh Sound Off

What is your first impression of Albright?

Debbie Klonsky—I think it's very friendly (until the seniors get here, I imagine!)

Henry Bonacken—Stimulating!
Virginia Frey—It's not my money I'm wasting.

John Luckenbill—Very pleasant.

Bernadine Klinikowski—Real fine!
Jackie Walton—I like it a lot—I find everyone very friendly!

Clair Matz—Wonderful!

Ronald O'Reilly—Very friendly.

Delbert B. Swavely—All right.

Richard Winings—A real difference from the Army.

Bob Gosch—I like it so far.

Willie Wollenhaupt — A very cheerful atmosphere prevails at Albright.

Sandra Miller—It's swell!

Pat Schatz — I like it! (Jerry Lewis style).

Instructors Indulge In Vacation Voyages

In merry springtime... "merry" springtime is that part of spring which follows final exams... students fling themselves from the campus and off to summer jobs and fun, little knowing or caring whether the professor goes for his vacation.

Obviously, not all the professors fly north, like the other birds. They are a more migrant group than that.

Dr. and Mrs. John B. Douds, for instance, took off for la belle France, where they did post-doctoral study in their fields at the Sorbonne in sizzly, drizzly Paris. Dr. Memming and family visited friends in Germany and Professor Brossman continued his studies for his doctor's degree at Heidelberg during his leave of absence.

Dean Morton lived at the International House in New York and studied at Columbia University, continuing her studies for her doctor's degree. Miss Raepel spent the summer at the University of Oregon and later toured Washington and Canada.

The Pacific coast afforded an attraction to Dean and Mrs. Walton and to Dr. Horn and his wife, while Professor Harding and his wife and Dr. and Mrs. Handorf took trips to New England. Professor and Mrs. Speicher and Dr. and Mrs. Merritt toured in Canada.

At Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, Miss Parker worked for her master's degree. Mrs. Smith made a trip to Denver, Colorado.

Lion Gridders Face Tough Nine - Game Schedule

In The Lion's Den

by Dave Widland

Lion Coach Eddie Gulian again has a rough task ahead of him as he seeks to mold a winning combination from a group of veterans and inexperienced freshmen. Hoping to improve on last year's record of three wins and six defeats, Gulian is relying heavily on fifteen returning lettermen.

Jack Sudol, Tony D'Apollito, and Herb Mackler, starters, have been lost through graduation, but their shoes should be capably filled by Tom Pollock, Chris Wenger, Bob Wetzel, Wally Goss, and Willy Smith, who is back after a two-year hitch in the army. Probable starters in the backfield include Wenger at fullback, Pollock and either Smith or Wetzel at halfbacks, and Roy Dragon at quarterback.

In the line, Gulian will be operating with seven experienced lettermen. Bob Krize, Eddie McNeill, Fred Hess, Wally Goss, Bob Sulyma, Frank Goldstein, and Jack Huntzinger are all expected to give capable accounts of themselves.

This year two newcomers have been added to the Lion's schedule to replace Scranton and Temple. Alfred College will be the Lion's opponent on October 16, while Bucknell University Bisons will play host to the Red and White on November 13.

Tomorrow's opener with Lafayette should be one of the toughest games of the season for the Gulianmen. It will be the thirteenth meeting between the two schools. The Leopards, who triumphed 28-7 last year, have a 9-3 edge in the rivalry.

Albright will oppose Lebanon Valley College in the Homecoming Game here Saturday afternoon, November 6. Other home dates are Moravian College, Saturday night, October 30, and Pennsylvania Military College, Saturday afternoon, November 20, in the final game of the season.

Cross Country

Coach Gulian has asked that all aspiring basketball players report out for cross country no later than October 1.

Intramurals

Physical Training Instructor John Potskian has announced that the intramural football league will be played as usual this year. All teams will be welcomed. Games will be played in the afternoons starting at four o'clock.

Ticket Talk

Mr. Shirk has announced that tickets for the Albright-Lafayette game tomorrow will be on sale in the athletic office. The price is $1.50. If you wait and buy your tickets at the game, the price will be $2.50. Don't wait, get yours now.

Students wishing to attend the Pretzel Bowl game next Saturday will have to exchange the right page from their activity books for a ticket at the Athletic Office. No one will be admitted without one of these tickets. This game will be Albright's first home contest. The opponents will be Muhlenberg College. Last year the Mules from Allentown succumbed to the Red and White by a 6-0 score.

Wanted

Any students wishing to obtain positions on the sports staff of the Albrightian are invited to attend a meeting at four o'clock this afternoon in the Administration Building. The room number will be posted on the bulletin board.

Open Season Tomorrow At Lafayette

Meet Mules Oct. 2 In Fourth Pretzel Bowl

The Albright College Football Lions will open their 1954 season tomorrow afternoon when they meet the Lafayette College Leopards at Easton. Last year the Lions had a record of three wins and six defeats, following three consecutive winning campaigns.

Coached by Eddie Gulian, the Lions will make their first home appearance Saturday night, October 2, when they face Muhlenberg College under the lights at Albright Stadium. Last fall the Lions were victorious by a 6-0 score.

Albright's third game will be Saturday afternoon, October 9, against the Gettysburg Bullets at Gettysburg. Last year the Bullets, led by Little All-American halfback Joe Ujohai, defeated the Lions.

On October 16 the Red and White journeys to Alfred, New York, to take on Alfred College, one of the two newcomers on the Albright schedule. This game also will be played under the lights.

The Franklin and Marshall College Diplomats will furnish the opposition for the Lion's third straight away game on Saturday afternoon, October 23. Last fall the Dips were victorious in an exciting, hard-fought contest.

The Lions return home on Saturday night, October 30, to engage the Moravian Greyhounds. Spearheaded by Chris Wenger, the Lions were victorious over the Greyhounds last year at Bethlehem.

Lebanon Valley will be the opponent in the Homecoming game, to be played on Saturday afternoon, November 6. Last fall Lou Sorrentino's passing paced the Flying Dutchmen to victory.

The other newcomer to the Albright schedule is Bucknell University, who will play host to the Lions on Saturday afternoon, November 13. The Bisons, who are reported to be one of the top teams in the state this year, are always a formidable opponent.

In the final game of the season, the Lions take on the Pennsylvania Military College Junior Generals on Saturday afternoon, November 20. Last year, the Soldiers were victorious in the mud at Chester.

Bison Coach Relies On Hendricks And Chironna To Bulwark Bucknell

Four lettermen are waging a spirited battle for end assignments as Bucknell University gridders head into the home stretch of pre-season drills at Memorial Stadium in Lewisburg.

Bidding for the starting roles at end against Muhlenberg in the inaugural test at Hershey September 25 are veterans Jack Flurer, Columbus, N. J., Bob Antkowiak, Baltimore, Md., Richard Klaber, Mt. Lebanon; and Ken Tashjy, Palisades Park, N. J. All have had previous varsity experience and all but Tashjy stretch over the six-foot mark.

The battle for Coach Harry Lawrence's nod at the start of Bucknell's 1954 campaign has a parallel in the competition for the center slot with juniors George Wolfe of Harrisburg and Henry Owen, Lewisburg, providing plenty of competition for letterman Roy Gavert, a senior.

The Bisons, continuing their two-a-day drills, will count on Marion Minker of Towson, Md., and Ronald Loyd, of Forty Fort, to fill the first string tackle jobs while captain John Chironna, Westfield, N. J., and Hank Popek, Philadelphia, appear to have the inside track on the guard assignments.

In the backfield, Coach Lawrence is pleased with the work of returnee Ron Hendricks of Perkasie, at quarterback, and has available for the same role Jimmy Stewart of Wayne, Pa. and Bob Herschok, Lancaster, both of whom are giving Hendricks plenty of fight for the signal-calling post.

Coach Lawrence is deep in fullbacks with Bob Ford, Collingswood, N. J., and George Klauder, Philadelphia, sharing the spotlight in early drills. At halfback, Bob Sierer of Wiconisco, Pa. has been handicapped by a minor leg injury in pre-season practice and stepping in to attract attention is Dick McCartney, a junior from Dormont.

After a scrimmage with neighboring Bloomsburg State Teachers' College Coach Lawrence said that the team "showed a number of rough spots, but barring injuries there will definitely be some improvement over last season's record." He adds that "improvement also appears to be the keynote among the nine opponents the Bisons meet in the campaign ahead. So, anything can happen and our lads will be in there fighting all the way."

Coming up this week is another scrimmage against a New York State university and Coach Lawrence and his staff will be making a number of decisions during that important test.

Ten Seniors Lost Thru Graduation, Gridmen Missed

Ten Albright College athletes were members of the graduating class and received diplomas at Albright's 95th commencement exercises on the college campus June 6.

Jack Sudol, East Rutherford, New Jersey, was co-captain of the varsity football in 1953. Bruce Eickhoff, Bath, Pa., was the other co-captain of the team. Anthony D'Apollito, Far Hills, New Jersey, was captain of the varsity baseball team in 1954. Herbert Mackler, Brooklyn, New York, was a member of the varsity football team.

Jack Fetterman, Ashland, Pa., was co-captain of the varsity track team in 1954. Jim Barrett, Washington, D. C., was a member of the varsity track team, as were Mahlon Frankhauser, Shillington, Pa., James Rocktashel, Reading, and Richard Flammer, Bethlehem, Pa. Joe Czutno, West Hazleton, Pa., was a member of the golf squad.

Sudol, Eickhoff, and D'Apollito were varsity gridders for four seasons. Sudol won the Lanshe football trophy in 1951 and 1953. D'Apollito received the same award in 1952. Both were backfield men. Sudol was also picked on the Associated Press All-Pennsylvania College defensive first team in 1951.

Coach Gulian and Lion Backs

Coach Greeted 15 Lettermen, 14 Freshmen

With twelve returning lettermen and twenty-two other aspirants in the fold, Coach Eddie Gulian began his sixth season of coaching at Albright when he opened practice for the 1954 campaign on September first.

The Lions, who meet Lafayette tomorrow at Easton, seem to be in a better position in the line than in the backfield. An all-veteran forward wall of seven lettermen, plus other experienced candidates, is set for action.

In the backfield, the story is just the opposite. Underclassmen will have to take up the slack caused by the loss of key personnel in the person of Jack Sudol and Tony D'Apollito through graduation.

A number of the Lions will be playing their fourth straight season under Coach Gulian. They include Bob Krize and Ed McNeill, ends; Jim Goss and Fred Hess, tackles; Jack Clopper, guard; and Raymond Stoneback, center. They received their first chance as freshmen in 1951, when the two-platoon system kept Albright in the limelight.

Roy Dragon, junior quarterback; Tom Pollock, sophomore halfback; Chris Wenger, junior fullback; and Willie Smith, sophomore halfback have the inside track for starting roles in the backfield. Wenger and Pollock, who are expected to do most of the punting, both made their varsity letters as yearlings last fall. Smith, from Pleasantville, New Jersey, was welcomed back by Coach Gulian after two years spent in the army, where he saw service in Japan and Korea. He earned a varsity letter as a freshman in 1951.

That year he scored the only touchdown in the 6-0 win over Franklin and Marshall College in the Alumni Homecoming game, and also sped 86 yards for a touchdown against Moravian College. Mike DePaul, who won his letter in 1952, is back again after a year's layoff because of injuries. Mike, a former all-around athlete at Central Catholic High School and Eastern Military Academy, was a top scorer in basketball for Albright the past two seasons.

Supporting Dragon, Pollock, Wenger, and Smith in the backfield will be the veteran forward wall of Bob Krize and Ed McNeill, ends; Wally Goss and Fred Hess, tackles; Frank Goldstein and Bob Sulyma, guards; and Jack Huntzinger, center.

Coach Gulian said that a captain or co-captains will be elected before the opening game. Assisting him are John Potskian, in charge of the ends, and Harold (Truck) Yentsch, line mentor.

The entire squad includes: Ends; Bob Krize, Reading, and Edward McNeill, Atlantic City, N. J., lettermen, Pete La Rocco, Hazleton, Sheldon Liss, Philadelphia, and Frank Hoffman, Trenton, N. J.

Tackles: James Goss, Reading and Fred Hess, Lemoyne, lettermen; Arthur Bellisio, Elmhurst, N. Y.; Charles Hoover, Maplewood, N. J.; Gregory Gonet, Havertown, and Charles Rusen, Perth Amboy, N. J.

Guards: Jack Clopper, Carlisle; Robert Sulyma, Minersville; and Franklin Goldstein, Ashury Park, N. J., lettermen; George Flynn, Glassboro, Francis York, Nesquehoning, and Daniel McAlees, West Reading.

Centers: Jack Huntzinger, Shillington; and Raymond Stoneback, Red Hill, lettermen; and Ralph Cyphers, Laureldale.

Backs: Roy Dragon, Roselle Park, N. J.; Thomas Pollock, Downingtown, Chris Wenger, Adamstown; William Smith, Pleasantville, New Jersey; and Mike DePaul, Stony Creek, lettermen; Joseph Sheppard, Camden, N. J.; Aloysius Benesky, Frackville; Joseph Chango, Mt. Carmel; John Cunningham, Philadelphia; John Kopp, New Cumberland; Richard Wagner, Brooklyn; Robert Wetzel, Brooklyn; and Douglas Layman, Lawrence N. Y.

The fifteen freshmen are Hoffman, Liss, Gonet, Rusen, Flynn, York, McAlees, Cyphers, Benesky, Chango, Cunningham, Kopp, Wagner, Wetzel, and Layman.

Guenther Granted Fulbright Award

Kathleen Martha Guenther, class of 1951, having been awarded a Fulbright fellowship last spring, has begun a year of teaching and study in Germany. She received the M.A. degree in the teaching of German from the University of Illinois in June.

Miss Guenther began three weeks' orientation at Bad Honnef on September 18, and soon will be placed in her specific assignment, according to the official word from the U. S. government. While she is assisting in English in a German secondary school, she will be studying the German language and literature.

Formerly a teacher of English in the Pottstown Jr. High School, Miss Guenther was honored at Albright with the Alumni Award and the gold "A". The senior orator at commencement, she was active in Phi Delta Sigma, alumnae sorority, Phi Beta Mu, Student Council, Domino Club, Delta Phi Alpha and Sigma Tau Delta.

Miss Guenther is the first Albright graduate to be awarded the Fulbright grant.

Five Students Earn Degrees This Summer

Five students received degrees at the close of the 1954 Summer School session, August 14. Bachelor of Arts degrees were conferred on Lewis R. Hallock and George H. Spencer, both of Reading.

Bachelor of Science degrees went to Janet L. Gehres, of Pennside and to James R. Rutter of Orwigsburg. Clyde N. Underkofler, of Boyertown, received a Bachelor of Science in Economics degree.

In Memoriam

The Albrightian regrets to announce the death of Adam B. Young of 448 Linden Street, Reading, Pa. Young was employed by Albright College as a maintenance man and custodian since May 3, 1948. He was taken ill suddenly on August 24 while helping to redecorate Selwyn Hall. After being taken to a doctor, he passed away. He was the father of Adam L. Young who is employed by the college as a truck driver on the grounds.

Seniors Begin Fall Home Management

Five senior girls majoring in home economics have begun a six-week period in the Home Management Cottage where they will operate on a dollar a day budget. The five are Jane Zenke, Mary Althouse, Leda Pasyotis, Genevieve Sweitzer and Ann Stalneck. They will have Miss Miriam Parker as their adviser.

The living room has been redecorated, with two chairs, two lamps, and a marble-topped table and coffee table added. In addition, some furniture has been reupholstered.

The girls will take turns in their duties as hostess, assistant hostess, seamstress, laundress, housekeeper, and assistant housekeeper.

The second group of home economics seniors will begin their home management in November. This group includes Sarah Aicher, Joan Nielsen, Theresa Winkler, Lorraine Wagner and Marilyn Hill.

Open House Will Be On Sunday Afternoon

A public open house for Reading and Berks County residents will be held on Sunday afternoon, September 26, from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m., by the resident women students of Teel Hall and Selwyn Hall of Albright College. Teel Hall is located on the corner of Palm and Union, and Selwyn on the campus across from 13th Street and Exeter. An extensive redecoration project has just been completed in these two buildings.

The Women's Auxiliary of Albright College is the donor of the newly furnished college dining room in Selwyn Hall, as well as the Green Room of Teel Hall, a reception room in the modern manner, where the radio-phonograph is a gift of Berks County Alumni Association. The Patrons' Division of the Women's Auxiliary has furnished the Salem Room, Selwyn Hall, a beautiful period room, while Phi Delta Sigma Alumnae Sorority, has given the Blue Room with its Georgian motif.

There will be guided tours by residence counsellors and officers under the direction of Dean Priscilla R. Morton and Mrs. Ella Leshner, head resident of Teel Hall. Representatives of the donor organizations will be hostesses.

Library Acquires Equipment, Books

During the summer months, the college library acquired a number of books from various donors.

Mr. Charles ("Pop") Kelchner, our staunch Albright supporter, donated a black antique book case which is at present being utilized in the librarian's office. He has also given the library a number of books.

Mrs. Joseph Schonbauer donated a collection of individual works by various authors. Along with the books Mrs. Schonbauer contributed two large bookcases.

Miss Caroline Schmehl, formerly of the Psychological Service Center, donated some psychological books and journals.

Sets of German literature books were contributed by Dr. James Ruppert.

Other donors were: Mr. Ralph Hill of Mt. Penn and Francis ("Bud") Carney, a former Albright student.

Miss Josephine Raeppl, rather Dr. Raeppl, completed all the requirements for a Doctor of Education degree at Oregon State College this past summer.

Permanent members for the library staff are: Mrs. Paul Price, Mrs. Robert Houck and Mrs. Donald Mensch. Student assistants this year are: John E. DeTurck, Ray Kaiser, Raumont Faunce, Joanne Yobp, and Roslyn Cohen. —J.E.D.

Daywomen's Council Completes Election

The Daywomen's Council met for the first time this semester on September 21 in the Dean's Parlor. Leda Pasyotis presided over the meeting. Ann Stalneck '55 was elected secretary and Mary Jo Barbera '57 will serve as treasurer.

To relieve the treasurer of excess work a suggestion was made that the treasurer appoint two daywomen from each class to collect dues from the daywomen.
