No. 14

Albright students will be able to vote for their favorite candidate for "Best Dressed Co-ed" at next week's two chapel programs. All 12 candidates will appear before the students at the conclusion of each program. The nominees are: Barbara Case and Ellen Winters from Smith Hall, Ellen Kadel and Marjorie Kochenash from Selwyn Hall, Barbara Boyajian and Barbara Allison from Phi Beta Mu, Denise Nappe and Linda Updegrove from Pi Alpha Tau, Maureen Fegely and Linda Carvell from Crowell Hall and Virginia Doyle and Carolyn Mills from Alpha Iota Sigma.

PAT's Induct Nine Pledges

The Pi Alpha Tau sorority of Albright College inducted nine girls as pledges in a ceremony on February 13. The pledge class, led by junior Barbara Smith of Middletown, N. J., includes the following freshmen: Pat Appgar, Fleetwood Pa.; Linda Carvell, Denver, Pa.; Marie Hoplamazian, Newtown Square, Pa.; Carol Palac, Conshohocken, Pa.; Dorothy Post, West Orange, N. J.; Virginia Strong, Teaneck, N. J.; Barbara Wachter, Somerville, N. J.; and Vicki Wu, Hong Kong, China. Pledge Master Denise Nappe of Point Pleasant, N. J., is in charge of the four week pledge period.

Summer Jobs Open In Post Office

A nationwide competitive examination has just been announced for temporary summer employment in a number of larger post offices throughout the country.

The examination will be used to select the best qualified applicants for employment as seasonal assistants between May 1 and September 30, 1966. Applications for the positions, which pay $2.37 an hour, will be accepted through February 24. A written test taking less than one hour will be held in March in over 1,000 cities.

Seasonal assistants are hired during the summer to assist the regular postal work force in handling the mail. Some assignments require operation of motor vehicles and candidates for these jobs will have to demonstrate ability to drive safely.

Seasonal assistants will be needed in only a limited number of post offices, generally larger ones.

Persons who pass the written test will be furnished a list of the post offices in their State of permanent residence where appointments will be made and will be permitted to file for employment consideration at up to three of them. Eligibles will be given ratings based on test scores, and offers of employment (Continued on Page Four)

LOOKING THINGS OVER—Deans Louis F. Weislogel (sitting) and William Popp go over the names of those independent men who expressed interest in joining Albright fraternities. A total of 68 students signed ballots, but only 53 have been inducted as pledges for the fall period.

Social Fraternities Induct Fifty-three Spring Pledges

Fifty-three men were inducted into pledgeship by the four Albright social fraternities last week. The Pi Tau Beta fraternity accepted the largest pledge class with 20 men. Zeta Omega Epsilon and Alpha Pi Omega each took in 11 and Kappa Upsilon Phi inducted 10 pledges.

Sixty-eight men expressed their interest in fraternities by signing ballots for pledgeship. This number was slightly lower than last spring when nearly 90 men signed. Five of these men were academically ineligible for pledging and 10 men were rejected by the fraternities in secret votes.

APO's, Kappas Hold Elections

The brothers of Alpha Pi Omega and Kappa Upsilon Phi social fraternities held elections of officers last week. George Gamber, '67, was re-elected to the presidency by Alpha Pi Omega. Joining Gamber as officers are Jim Garriby, '67, Vice President; Carl Ott, '67, Secretary; and Craig Sergeant, '68, Treasurer.

Louis Sernoff, '67, was elected President of Kappa Upsilon Phi. The other officers elected were Joel Spike, '67, Vice President; Rick Turner, '68, Treasurer; Frank Pepe, '68, Recording Secretary; Glenn Moyer, '68, Corresponding Secretary; Donald Stricker, '68, Chaplain; Richard Lewandowski, '68, House Manager; Ralph Weisse, '68, Parliamentarian; and Daniel Riemondi, '68, Social Chairman.

Republican Council Sponsoring State Essay Competition

The Republican College Council of Pennsylvania is inviting all students who are registered in Commonwealth colleges to participate in the Council's latest academic project, a political essay contest.

Participation is open to all registered students in Pennsylvania institutions of higher learning, whether or not they are members of campus Republican organizations.

The topic is, "The Role of the political party in a modern, changing United States."

Judges representing both academic and political fields have been selected. The prizes, United States Savings Bonds, will be presented at a press conference in Harrisburg at (Continued on Page Two)

The Inter-Fraternity Council held a special meeting to consider four men who signed ballots after the announced deadline. Each case was considered individually and the fraternities decided not to accept any of the men who had signed illegitimately.

The following men have been accepted into pledgeship by Zeta Omega Epsilon: Tom Booker, Russ Campbell, Rick Egger, Glenn Gerber, Joe Klockner, Ted Linger, Herb Nauss, Steve Paris, Ron Reilly, Roy Shellhammer, and Rick Stieff.

The following have been accepted by Kappa Upsilon Phi: Mike Biegan, Art Bloch, Steve Bohl, Gary Christiansen, Rich Merk, Rick Naugle, Lyle Neal, Dave Spang, Ken Zeebooker, and James Shoemaker.

The following have been accepted by Pi Tau Beta: Joe Albright, Donald Auerbach, Richard Baker, the termination of the judging.

AN INVITATION

All Albright students are cordially invited to be present at the official Groundbreaking Ceremonies for the new Student Center. A short program highlighting the occasion will get underway on Thursday, March 3, at 12:45 p.m. in front of the dining hall. Various student leaders and representatives of the faculty, administration and trustees will be on hand.

Faculty Evaluations Recommended By President Venett

Emmett Venett, '66, President of Student Council, has suggested that his successor should investigate the merits of a constructive evaluation of instructors and courses by all seniors in each department of study. Venett, whose term of office expires next month, recalled that a similar evaluation had been undertaken at Albright in 1948. He commented that such a review would provide "another way to look at the situation at Albright."

Criteria in the evaluation would have to be agreed upon in advance by both students and faculty. Results of the estimate would not be revealed to the student body, but would be used for the information of the faculty. Venett stressed that the evaluation should not be utilized as a "personal vendetta," but rather should open new avenues of improvement for both the courses and the instruction itself.

Second Century Fund Discusses Plans at Luncheon Gathering

Division leaders in the general gifts solicitation phase of the current Albright College Second Century Fund Campaign attended a luncheon meeting on January 14, to review organization plans and discuss strategy.

Under the leadership of Lester G. Kauffman, general gifts chairman, approximately 225 campaign workers are seeking to raise $125,000 among Albright alumni, industry, and other friends of the college throughout the Reading-Berks County area.

The $1 1/2 million three-year capital gifts program at Albright includes all of the college's nondeferable needs ($1,220,000) and other immediate needs ($430,000), with an additional amount of $100,000 allocated to support the Alumni Loyalty Fund, the annual giving program, for the three-year period.

Kauffman served as chairman of the meeting, attended by LeRoy M. Burkholder, director of development, Michael C. Elliott, Jr., campaign director, and the following general gifts division captains: Richard M. Bauman, Dr. Ralph C. Geigle, Dr. Mervin A. Heller, Lloyd W. Hopkins, Jr., Elmer O. Manwiler, and William H. Zimmerly.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON

By Sylvan Leabman

I am currently participating in The Washington Semester Program at the American University in Washington, D. C. which is an arrangement between this university, and many other colleges throughout the United States. Here a student comes to spend one semester to study American National Government in action. The study is carried out through seminars with political figures, lobbyists, public personalities, and others active in the governmental process, as well as electing courses at the university and writing an individual research project. Every few weeks I will be sending an article to the Albrightian which concerns one of the seminars here.

One of our first seminars was with the director of the Legislative Reference Service, which is a part of the Library of Congress. This service, started in 1914, is dedicated to furnishing Congressmen with non-partisan information on almost any topic requested. They serve only Congress, not the executive branch, because the executive branch has its own sources through its agencies and departments, while Congress has not the resources. Two of the most important problems which a Congressman must face are getting the proper information on vital issues, and finding enough time to deal with constituent requests.

This last issue, that of keeping the constituents happy, falls almost completely to the staff of the Congressman, for he does not have the time to read, let alone answer, his mail. The Legislative Reference Service also functions for the Congressman in this respect.

When the office of a Congressman receives for example, a request, of the number of military installations in Alaska, all they have to do is call the Service, with replies as soon as they are able. Thus the constituent is satisfied.

Requests range from a cooking recipe to a draft of a speech on the Viet Nam issue tailored to the views of the Congressman. The requests can be as difficult as preparing a study on the merits of water pollution control in the nation.

Last year, 1965, the Legislative Reference Service answered over 115,000 requests by Congress, and the bulk of these were constituent problems. To answer these requests the service employs 225 persons, but the agency needs, its director, Mr. Leater Jayson told us, at least one hundred more to just keep up the pace.

This is just one glimpse into the Legislative Reference Service, the most important source of impartial information to which a Congressman may go. It serves vital purposes in the legislative process, that of helping busy Congressmen keep the home fires burning brightly come election day, and providing them with information for committee hearings and debates on the floor of Congress.

As the result of action by its Board of Trustees stemming from a gift by a Boston alumnus, Franklin and Marshall College will enter intercollegiate competition in squash racquets next year.

Every Science, Engineering and Math student should know about CSSTP before he makes up his mind about a career.

Sign up now at your placement office to get the story on CSSTP—from the IBM interviewer March 29

CSSTP means Computer Systems Science Training Program. It's an extraordinary IBM program that enables you to use your technical knowledge and problem-solving skills in new, exciting ways. Ways that may never occur to you unless you talk to the IBM interviewer.

He'll show you how CSSTP leads to exceptional career opportunities with IBM Data Processing.

He'll tell you about the vital role of IBM's Marketing Representative. How he goes into major businesses to help solve their urgent management and control problems. He'll spell out the challenges which face IBM's Systems Engineer.

How he studies customer needs and computer requirements, and develops systems solutions to their problems.

In short, he'll describe all the unusual assignments in IBM's more than 200 offices from coast to coast. All are places where you can grow with IBM, leader in America's fastest-growing major industry: information handling and control.

Albright Seeks Berth In NCAA Regionals Tomorrow Night

CAGERS FINISH SECOND IN MAC

Albright College's hoopsters will defend their Middle Atlantic Conference championship beginning tomorrow (Friday) night in the league playoffs at the St. Joseph's Field House in Philadelphia. The Lions will face Lycoming College of Williamsport, Pa., in the opening contest with the winner qualifying for the NCAA Regionals to be held in Reading.

Lycoming comes into tomorrow's game with a 13-1 MAC slate as compared to Albright's 10-3. The Lions barely edged out Elizabethtown which finished in third place at 10-4. The Blue Jays dropped a one-point decision to Lycoming last week and that kept them out of contention.

In order to qualify for the playoffs, Albright had to dispose of an upset-minded Franklin and Marshall quintet last Saturday. With about 50 Elizabethtown fans in the stands cheering for the Diplomats, the visitors got off to an early 11-5 advantage before Albright began to hit consistently.

As it was, the poorly-played first half ended with the home forces on top, 31-26, and a tight contest seemed in store. However, the pressing Lions got off to a roaring start in the second period as they stole the ball from F & M time and time again. By the time the Dips called a time out, they trailed by 15 markers and the disappointed Elizabethtown delegation was preparing to head for home. Albright kept stretching its advantage until it reached the final result, 80-52.

Captain Mike Klahr survived weak shooting in the earlier stages and he finished with 21 points for the night. His backcourt partner Bill Kudrick played another strong game and tallied 17. Forward Andy Mytinger came off the bench despite an injured foot and helped the Lions in their rallies with ten timely rebounds.

The Albright junior varsity made it an all-winning night by stunning the highly-touted F & M freshmen, 47-45. Ron Reilly pumped in 17 points to lead the victory; the Diplomats' frosh came into the game with a sparkling 14-2 record.

Bucknell 69 Albright 62

Albright put up a strong fight before the home forces of Bucknell university before losing a close decision. Giving away considerable height and weight at every position, the Lions were badly outrebounded.

WRESTLING LOSS TO LAFAYETTE:

Ericson Extends Unbeaten Skein To Ten With Impressive Victory

A highly-disputed call in the 167 pound match resulted in a 17-16 win for Lafayette's wrestling team over the Albright College Lions last Saturday. The heartbreaking defeat lowered Albright's seasonal record to 3-6-1 heading into the last match of the season against Moravian.

NO GYMN, MEN

All men's physical education classes will be cancelled on Monday, March 7, when the Albright coaching staff attends a Middle Atlantic Conference meeting at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. Women's classes will meet as scheduled.

The Renkenmen pulled within four points twice in the second half, but the Bisons answered the challenge each time. In a very balanced team effort, Klahr hit for 15, Mike Eckenroth for 14, Bill Kudrick for 10 and Johnny Scholl, starting for the injured Mytinger, had 11. The same four men tied for the leadership in rebounds with six per. The Lion Cubs lost a heartbreaking overtime verdict in the opener.

The match had started on a sour note for the Lions when Bill Young pinned freshman Mike McWilliams in the 123-pound class to give the Leopards a 5-0 lead. However, Albright won the next two bouts on a forfeit and a decision by Art Helm. Two Lafayette decisions in the 145 and 152 categories put the Eastonians ahead, 11-8, going into the 160-pound battle.

LIONS NEED WIN OVER LYCOMING

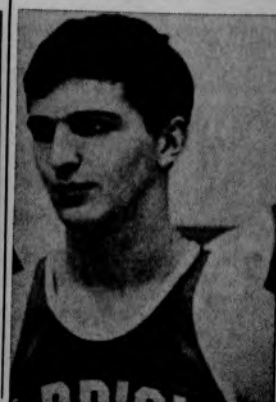

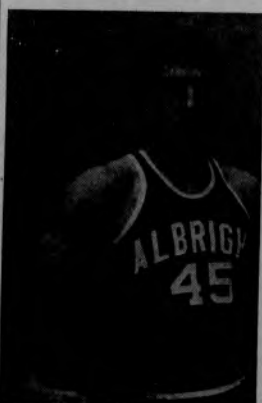

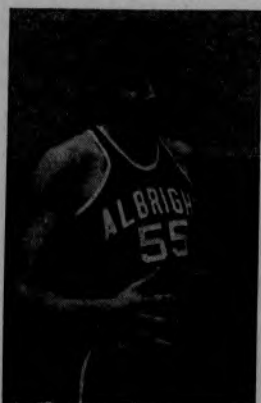

Albright and Haverford will be the underdogs tomorrow (Friday) night in the Middle Atlantic Basketball Conference playoffs. The Lions meet Lycoming in the Northern Division showdown and the Fords stack up against Drexel Tech in the South. The two winners earn spots in the NCAA Regionals to be held at the Albright Field House, March 4-5.

Lycoming already possesses a 73-59 victory over Albright, but it took place at Williamsport. The Warriors will feature a hot-shooting quintet paced by All-Conference forward Ron Travis and center Dick O'Donnell. Travis leads Lyco in scoring and rebounding and Albright's defensive specialist Bill Kudrick will be guarding him tomorrow night. O'Donnell, a 6-5 shooter, has remarkable agility for his size and likes to drive in from the corner. Neither Joe Lobichusky nor George Ritter, the Lions' "big men," could handle him at Williamsport. It'll be interesting to see what Coach Renken will do about O'Donnell in defense. If Albright goes to its zone, look for guard Bud Framp-ton and Travis to open up outside.

Coach Renken expects to have his starting five in good health for the all-important playoffs—especially Andy Mytinger, who's been bothered with a foot injury suffered against Juniata. Albright will probably open with its usual man-for-man press after scoring and fall back into the zone when they do not. If the Lions are behind early, Renken may choose to employ a zone-press which he unveiled against Bucknell.

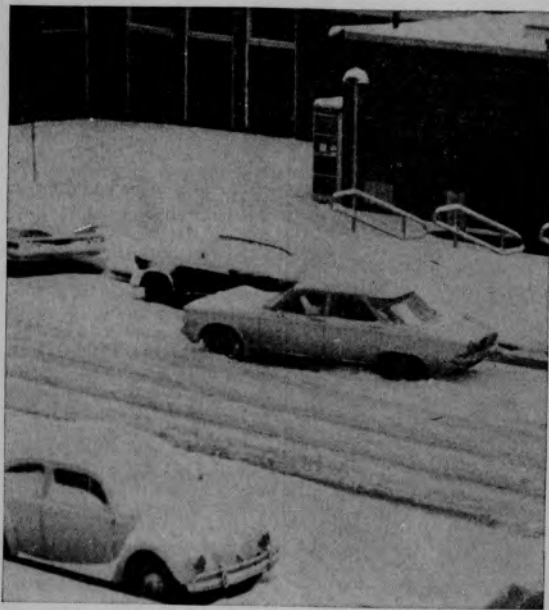

The Southern Division showdown figures to go to much-improved Drexel, owner of an 11-0 conference mark—including a conquest of Haverford. The Fords are 11-2 in MAC play with the other loss coming in an upset by Franklin and Marshall.

Albright outplayed Drexel in a very tight scrimmage at the outset of the season, but the Dragons have recently come up with some impressive victories over Wagner and Scranton. Haverford features the toughest defense in the MAC (Albright is second in that department) and the score should not go past 70 for the winner.

Lycoming defeated the Red and White cagers at Williamsport, 73-59, in conference play as the Warriors finished with a 13-1 league mark to Albright's 11-3. (Albrightian Photos)

CAN SPRING BE FAR BEHIND?—After the wave of inclement weather which hit the Albright campus two weeks ago — leaving 13th Street in the sorrowful condition depicted above—students can hardly be blamed for dreaming of looking forward to enjoyable sun baths such as the one enjoyed by the gentleman above. The latest weather reports by that famous Pennsylvania prognosticator, the ground hog, called for a long and bitter winter. So who needs it?

Intramural Hoop League Nears End

The first round of the intramural basketball competition, "A" league, was won by the Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity.

The standings read as follows:

	W	L
Zeta	5	0
Independents	4	1
Daymen	4	1
APO	2	3
Pi Tau	1	4
Kappa	0	5

The results as of February 20, of the second round were as follows:

Independents	3	1
Zeta	2	2
APO	0	4
Kappa	0	4

The winner of the second round will match the Zetas in a play-off for the intramural championship.

In "B" league competition, the Acorns, Faculty, Freshman, and Pikers are setting the pace, all with 7-0 marks.

WRESTLING . . .

undefeated skein with a brilliant 4-2 verdict over Bob Sanford. The Lafayette captain was a semifinalist in the last year's Middle Atlantic Conference tournament and Ericson's performance makes him a leading contender for the MAC title. He now has eight victories and two draws to show for his efforts. Defending MAC monarch Dick Horst will be out to retain his crown in the 177-pound class at the conference tournament in Wilkes College on March 4-5.

Albright 32 Wagner 3

The Lions of Coach Joe Now put an abrupt end to the four-match losing skid which had plagued them by trouncing the Seahawks of Wagner College, 32-3. Every bout in the contest went to Albright except for the heavyweight division in which Dick Horst dropped a close decision in his bid to earn a shutout for the Red and White. The fact that the one-sided result was achieved on the Seahawk's home mats adds even more luster to the Albright victory.

Due to sponsoring uncalendered events, two of Albright's four social fraternities — Kappa Upsilon Phi and Alpha Pi Omega have been placed on social probation indefinitely. This makes both groups ineligible to qualify for the Interfraternity Council's Achievement Trophy.

French Department Attends Plays In New York Center

Groups from the French Department of Albright College are attending three of the presentations of La Comedie Francaise, a French theatrical group, playing at the New York City Center. On February 13th, Dr. Edith B. Douds and a group of French students attended the play, Le Cid, a tragedy in five acts by Corneille. The other plays being attended are La Reine Morte, on February 24th, and L'Avare, on Friday February 25th.

Bring Back The Good Old Days

By Susan Donny

Last April when the announcement was made that beginning in September we would have cafeteria style dinners a great clamor arose among the students. Many felt that the served meals gave the college a more homey atmosphere and provided at least one relaxing half-hour in a hectic day. Sure there was crowding and pushing, but at least each night the students dressed like gentlemen and ladies and sat down to a served meal; even as we might have done in the old days when we would gather around the dining room table with our beloved parents and brothers and sisters and say a prayer of thanks to God for the wonderful meal of which we would soon partake. The served meal acted as a salve to those of us who were homesick and longed for the companionship of our loved ones at home. We did not want to be thrust into the cold, cold world of Madison Avenue cafeteria meals rushed down in seven and one-half minutes, especially when we could not get the martini that goes along with that type of meal. But we were informed that the quality of the food could not be maintained if the added expense of served meals had to be borne. So the sacrifice was made, our hearts suffered for the sake of our stomachs.

But after five months under the new system it seems that we have neither served meals nor high quality food. We have been having more lamb, goulash, and veal and less hamburgers and onion rings, meat loaf, veal cutlet, chicken, and ribs. And the general quality of the meat has decreased. The meat is generally fatty, tough, sinewy, and often just unpalatable. We have even switched from the beloved Caccosing Dairies.

So, for our board money, we are getting less service and worse food. One of the distinguishing characteristics of Albright was its served meals and fine food.

We have lost the former and the latter seems to be on its way out also. I would hope that the trend can be reversed and the good old days of meals like mamma used to make can return.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir,

Paul Quinn College is a Negro church college here in Waco. (It is integrated formally, but "Whites" have not come.) We have been able to build a new library that will hold 50,000 books; we only have 14,000 books to go in it. Most of the shelves therefore are bare.

The students here are good kids—they are having to struggle up from preparatory schooling that, in many cases, was not rigorous enough. The trustees of the college want to start a drive to get good, current college books and textbooks into our library, and they have designated me to find ways to get these books.

It occurred to us, during a recent board meeting, that many college students use their books and then don't want to keep some of them, but really can't get what they're worth in selling them back to the book stores, and that perhaps many of these students would like the idea of giving such books to the library at Paul Quinn. Perhaps also, in some cases, college bookstores in your State would find it feasible to ship spare quantities of good, current, college-level books to the library here rather than returning them somewhere to be remanded or abandoned.

This is as far as our thinking has gone on this. I am writing to ask if you, your paper, or a group at your school might want to take the pass and make a run with it. All I am really sure of is, that the students who come to the library at Paul Quinn ought to be able to choose from among shelves that are full of good books.

We know you will seriously consider this appeal for books for the students' use at Paul Quinn. Books may be shipped EXPRESS-COLLECT to: Mrs. Delores Harris, Librarian, Paul Quinn College, Waco, Texas. 76704.

P. O. JOBS . . .

will be made first to those in the highest group. Veterans in each group must be selected ahead of nonveterans.

Applicants must be at least 18 years old at time of appointment.

Sons and daughters of postal employees will not be eligible for appointment to these jobs.

Applications to take the written test must be filed with the post office board of examiners having jurisdiction over the locality where the applicant desires to take the test. Addresses of the 45 boards and their jurisdictions are listed in the official examination announcement (An. No. 890B).

Copies of the examination announcement and application forms (Form 5000AB) may be obtained from offices of the U. S. Civil Service Commission and at many boards of civil service examiners and post offices.

Albright Biologist Attends Seminar

Dr. John S. Hall, associate professor of biology at Albright College, represented the college and the Evangelical United Brethren Church at the annual Churchmen's Washington Seminar, February 15-18, in Washington, D.C.

The meetings provided opportunity for religious leaders to study operation of the federal government at its source.
