Meeting, Banquet, Tea, Tennis for Alumni Tomorrow

To Name Officers At Annual Affair

The boys and girls of yesteryear will return to their alma mater tomorrow for the annual alumni day activities.

Registration at 9.00 o'clock in the morning will set the ball rolling. At 9.45 Albright tennis stars of the last two decades will limber up their muscles by opposing this year's edition of netmen.

Racquetiers expected to play for the graduates are: Herbert Oritsky, '35; Ray Hoffman, '36; Ray Loose, '28; Leroy Garrigan, '36; Harold Carney, '31; Aris Carpousis, '38; and Walter Spencer, '38.

Phi Delta Sigma Sorority will move to the Wyomissing Club at 19 o'clock for a meeting and luncheon. Two and a half hours later the regular college luncheon will be held.

The annual business session will start at 1.30 p. m. With President Dech in the chair, the organization will take final action on a dues amendment submitted last year. The plan calls for payment of $2.50 by college students while they are still undergraduates, qualifying them for membership in the alumni association at graduation. This amendment has been approved by both the college administration and the student council. Officers elected by ballot up to May 1 will also be announced during the meeting.

Class reunions will start at 3.30 p. m. Persons in charge of arranging them were: 1890, Mrs. Chris E. Barr, Lancaster; 1910, C. D. Becker, Esq., Lebanon; 1915, Henry W. Slothower, Mt. Union; 1920, Rev. J. W. Kreckler, Red Lion; 1925, A. H. Henninger, Pine Grove; 1930, Miss Anna R. Benninger, Albright College; 1935, Newton S. Danford, Albright College; 1938, Forrest Rehrig, Erdenheim; and 1939, Lewis Briner, Albright College.

Berks county chapter of the alumni association will be host at a tea in the memorial library at 4.00 o'clock. The pourers will be Miss Emily Yocum, Miss Helen Bright,

Music Groups Presents Program

Albright College's musical organizations held the spotlight last night during the annual commencement week musicale in the college dining hall.

The program was a combination of symphony orchestra numbers, glee club selections, and solos. Professor John H. Duddy, jr., and Professor Hans Nix were in charge.

The program follows: "Overture Rosamunde," Schubert, by the symphony orchestra; "By the Bend of the River," Edwards, and "Oh Lovely Peace," Handel, by the women's glee club; "Concerto-Ballade and Polonaise," Vieuxtemps, by Zieber Stetler on the violin; "Habenera (Carmen)" Bizet, by Joyce Livingood, soprano; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Destiny," Bach, and "Castilla," Protheroe, by the men's glee club.

"Minuet (Military Symphony)," Hayden, and "Largo (New World Symphony)," Dvorak, by the symphony orchestra; "Our Master Hath A Garden," a traditional folk song, and "God Is a Spirit," Jones, by the combined glee clubs; "Capriccio Viennois," Kreisler, by Jane Reaney on the piano; and "Grand March (Aida)," Verdi, by the symphony orchestra.

Dr. Harry V. Masters presented the following music awards: Band four-year key, Paul DiBlasi; three-year key, Helen Markey, Paul Ackert, and Rollin Reiner; two-year certificates, Seymour Mendelsohn, Carl Friedericks, Janet Kitzmiller, Harry Buck, Donald Buxton, Charles Miess, Francis Roupp, Henrietta Disc, Benjamin Funk; one-year certificates, William Bast, Winfred Hottel, Reed Teitsworth, John A. Hertz, James Mosteller, Robert Richter, Louise Pearce, Joseph Brand, jr., Allen R. DeLong, Dwight Dundore, John F. Gundlach, ir., Donald Hoffman, Donald Lemser, Alois Makovsky, Walter Melick, Mervin Runner, Fred Shucker, and Earl Stetler.

Four-year glee club keys, Mary Dunlap, Mary Etta Filbert, Bessie Knerr, Mary McCreary, Elva Weaver, and Dean Allen.

Rev. Buttrick To Address Seniors at Commencement Exercises Monday Morning

Frosh Playwrights To Present Three One-Acters Tonite

Anything from a dinner for three to the fuhrer's moustache with a dash of oil from the lamp of life can be seen on the chapel stage during the three one-act plays of creative writing class students at 8.30 o'clock tonight.

A product of English 15ab, the program will include three plays written by students of the class, with casts of Albrightians, and directors from the student body. The affair is open to the public. Admission, 25 and 35 cents.

Pat Smith's "Dinner for Three" is a story of a young married couple who separate as the result of some family fight. Attempts are made by the girl's mother to make the young wife forget her troubles. The telephone rings as the two women are leaving the home. What happens? You can learn that tonight.

The play will be directed by Margaret Hollenbach with the following cast: Carl Johnson, Olga Bittler; Jim Johnson, Clem Boland, and Mrs. Brent, Mary Capallo.

More lovers' quarrels are introduced in Chester Bachman's "The Fuhrer's Moustache." This play revolves around a girl and her friend, one an avowed Nazi and the other a red-blooded Communist. The fight is a result of political differences.

Harry Buck is directing the one-acter. The cast will include: Gertrude Schmidt, the Nazi, Lucille Wolf; Papa Schmidt, her father, Charles Jones; Vincent Hamilton, the Communist, Donald Buxton, and Ruddy, William Bottonari.

Another drama in which two women frustrate the attempts of a pair of lovers to commit suicide is incorporated in Miriam Weidner's "The Lamp of Life." Marjorie Frundt is directing the play. The cast includes: Irish policemen, Jack Wagner and Gene Pierce; Dick, Dwight Dundore, and Joan, Gerry Ross.

Extend CAA Flight Training

A continuation of the emergency flight training program of the Civil Aeronautics Authority started last Autumn will be held during the Summer months under the supervision of Professor Oliver M. George, it was announced this week.

The first ground lesson will be held probably on the morning of June 15, according to Professor George. The course will continue

Graduates' Baccalaureate Services Sunday

Commencement exercises for the senior class will be held in front of Selwyn Hall at 10:15 o'clock Monday morning. Baccalaureate services will be held at the same place at 11:15 o'clock Sunday morning.

Garbed in academic dress, the graduates will march in an academic procession from the administration building to the ceremony grounds for both affairs.

The Rev. George Arthur Buttrick, pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City, will speak at commencement exercises. His subject will be "Religion and Democracy."

The program will start with a processional by the symphony orchestra. The Rev. Thomas B. Smythe, pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, will ask the invocation. Class orations will be made by Donald Burger on the subject, "Our Eternal Heritage," and Ada Gossler, on "The Legendary College Student."

Paul H. Ackert will play a flute solo and Arthur McKay will sing a tenor solo. McKay's selection will be "If With All Your Hearts," from Mendelssohn's "Elijah."

The benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. W. R. Knerr, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Denver. The symphony orchestra will play the recessional.

Speaker at baccalaureate service will be the Rev. E. W. Praetorius of St. Paul, Minn., Bishop of the northwestern area of the Evangelical Church. His subject will be, "Are We Big Enough?"

The service will also include: two songs by the combined choirs of the Evangelical Church: "Jesu, Friend of Sinners," and "Fierce Was (Continued on page 2)

Freshmen High In Aptitude Test

The freshman class might not know it but it ranked 56th among 325 colleges and universities all over the United States in the standard aptitude tests administered last fall, according to announcement yesterday. This means Albright's record was better than 83 percent of the schools.

The 120 Albright students made a good showing in the tests which were also taken by freshmen in 30 Pennsylvania schools. The tests were used to determine ability of the embryo collegians to do college work.

Goodbye, Seniors

At long last . . .

Three more days and it'll be all over for the seniors. When they receive their diplomas in front of Selwyn Hall Monday morning it will be the second time they have crossed that proverbial threshold 99 out of every 100 commencement speaker insist on referring to in their stereotyped orations.

Tears will be shed by some. Only the hardy men of Albright will hold back those emotional outbursts so characteristic of most commencements.

Romances will be broken, or perhaps temporarily suspended. Underclassmen, and women, will show signs of having lost their best friends but next term will take care of that.

Attempts will be made to catch that one elusive person who just hasn't written in the yearbook. And when he does write in it, all originality seems to disappear before the never failing "lots of luck," "best of wishes," "hoping you make good," and a couple thousand others.

But what's that, you've heard it all before? Well, that's not our hard luck. It's just our way of saying, "Bon voyage."

Cue Staff Holds Banquet

"The Cue" staff held a banquet in the College Inn on Penn street, Tuesday night. H. Leroy Bringer showed the group motion pictures of fraternity and sorority initiations as well as other campus shots.

Attending the affair were: Paul Jolis, editor of the book; Dr. and Mrs. Harry V. Masters, Mr. and Mrs. H. Leroy Bringer, Dr. Milton Geil, Miss Marie M. Kleppinger, Miss Anna R. Benninger, Dean Allen, Dr. John B. Douds, Miss Plummer, Miss Myrtle Stegman, Miss Jeanette Snyder, Miss Margaret Hollenbach, Miss Lida Faist, Miss Margaret Wolfe, Alfred Comstock, Miss Marjorie Lebo, Miss Mary Capallo, Miss Jane Butteroff, Miss Louise Keller, Robert Gerhart, jr., Arthur McKay, Miss Ruth Ennis, Miss Adele Ferguson and Miss Louise Eastland.

Buckwalter Plans 9,000-Mile Trip Across Continent

Using his experience in Europe, Nova Scotia and the field of economics as the basis for his talks, Professor Henry G. Buckwalter will cover the country this summer on an extended lecture tour.

He will travel approximately 9,000 miles during the three months. Starting in the South, Professor Buckwalter will not only talk, but will also spend two weeks in the sharecropper country gathering information and motion pictures for a new lecture in Autumn.

He will move along the southern section of the country until he reaches the west coast. Then he'll head north to Washington and the United States border. Then east again, arriving back in Reading somewhere around September 10.

Professor Buckwalter will take pictures of wild life in the national parks, the California "Oakies," and other interesting subjects which will make up his new lecture, "Merchandising U. S. A."

Titles of his lectures are: "Does Distribution Cost Too Much?" "Which: Federal Reserve System or Treasury?" "Is Capitalism Doomed?" "The Gold Muddle," "Russia: The Goddess Country," and "The Lure of the Gaspe."

This week, your columnist is reluctant to admit, this column will contain mostly "stuff."

First of all we must report our bit of science news. There is a correction to be made about the last meeting of the Astronomy Club, which is to be held on June 13th. Due to a typographical error, it was reported that the meeting was to be held at the home of a Mr. Velmis. The correct name is Mr. Telmis. Mr. Telmis lives in Wyomissing Hills and has been constructing a telescope for the past several years. This telescope when finished will be the largest amateur telescope in the East.

Not being able to locate the professor or any other source of news, we have turned resignedly as a last resort to the woodpecker in the science hall show case. Here is the Woodpecker's Song: Knock, knock—Remember "Clem" Boland and "Katy" Gasche playfully doing their unknowns . . . Rap, rap—Wasn't "Mike" Dutzer sad and sorrowful when he spilled one of his unknowns . . . Thump, thump—Laurels to Kuklis for his hard work and long hours in Quan lab . . . Bump, bump—Ray Hain spent five hours on the biology exam and filled five booklets—some record!

We have found the following methods as excellent for "unscientific research" on dissection of frogs. The following are quotations on the subject:

Clem Boland—"Judas Priest."
Robert Work—"Secure a frog, take frog in both hands, tie stone around neck, and jump in river." (Who shall jump, Bob?)
Virginia Schoener—"Huh!"
These people should be "rewarded" for their fine effort!

until September 15.

The age limit has been expanded one year to include anyone from 18 to 26 who has had one year of training in any college. Last term's course had 25 as the top age limit.

There will be absolutely no charges for the instruction. Students must provide their own room and board as well as their transportation to and from the flying field. However all expenses of instruction, equipment, and books, will be paid by the government.

The course will include 72 hours of ground training plus a minimum of 35 hours controlled flying. Eight students who started the course last term are now finishing their actual flying work. The students passed their ground examinations 100 per cent Professor George said.

Student Gives Color To Souls As Hobby

by MARY McCREARY

"If the souls of men and women were visible colors you could fancy the color of Eustacia's soul to be flame-like." This thought, which I read last year in Thomas Hardy's Return of the Native, started me on a most delightful pastime—that of deciding the color of people's souls.

I didn't have any method in doing this. I just closed my eyes, thought of a person, of all his character traits and the effect they had on me, of what made up his personality. Out of these meditations would emerge his soul color, or perhaps one color would be blended from these many characteristics of his inner self. It became more and more fun as I met new persons and grew to know them, to select the place their soul would take on my color chart. After a time I found that the classifying of souls became somewhat generalized.

Clear, solid, colors indicated individuals with strong character. Royal blue, for instance, was my color for a person who was steadfast and true, uncompromising, who had almost an air of immortality about him. I knew, too, a "purple-souled" woman who was a tower of strength spiritually, who had determination, a queenly air, and gave you the impression that there were generations of cultured people behind her.

The gay, vivacious and daring characters, who brought light and variety into your life, I usually classified as some shade of red.

All little babies have white souls. As they grow and their personalities begin to develop, their souls begin to take on color. A favorite friend of mine, a gray-haired philosopher, has a white soul striped with gold. To me this designates a good and pure, contented, and deeply religious person, who thinks the best of people.

People who are inconsistent have blended colors. In this class are the fickle, the flirts and even some of the bashful ones.

The people I don't like have souls of hideous greens or black. I always think of gangsters as sooty black inside. Insignificant persons take on grayish hues or light blue and pink colors.

My favorite person has an aqua soul. She is refreshing understanding and sympathetic one who makes you feel at ease.

I suppose the colors you like help to govern your judgement on souls. The game is, at any rate, a lot of fun.

SENIORS EAT EARLY BREAKFAST

A breakfast for senior men and women of Albright College was held this morning. The women had their morning meal at the Reading Country Club with Ethel S. Norton, dean of women, as chaperon.

The men ate a steak breakfast at Egelman's Park. The affair started at 7 o'clock with Dr. Graham Cook and Dr. George W. Walton, dean of the college, in charge.

Sports Editor Reviews 1939-40 Athletic Program

Summarizes Lion's Prowess

By CARL MOGEL

Since this is the final issue of the Albrightian for this year, let's review the 1939-1940 sports program giving the names of the senior lettermen and the scores in each sport.

Football, under Head Coach Bill Dietz and Assistants James Horn and Neal Harris, passed through a successful season as six games were won and but three lost. Among the six Albright victims were four in succession. The scores:

Albright	0	Gettysburg	6
Albright	0	Bucknell	15
Albright	13	Moravian	6
Albright	26	Upsala	0
Albright	25	West Chester	19
Albright	46	Dickinson	14
Albright	16	F. & M.	19
Albright	40	Leb. Valley	20
Albright	0	Muhlenberg	3

WON 6—LOST 2

The football lettermen are as follows: James Snyder, Raymond Thorpe, Gustav Cohen, Stephen Hydock, Al Gustitus, Raymond McCrann, Jildo Zanot, Chester Wielgolinski, John Robson, Alan Duke, Theodore Soja, Burton Aszman, Henry Czaiikoski, Thomas Warnagiris, and Richard Westgate, honorary captain.

Coach Neal O. Harris' freshman football squad won one game out of three played. The results:

Albright	0	Muhlenberg	13
Albright	7	West Chester	6
Albright	0	Temple	14

WON 1—LOST 2

Basketball, under Head Coach Neal Harris and his assistant, Goose Oslic, showed vast improvement over last year despite 12 losses against six defeats. The real shining light was the sensational showing of the freshman basketball squad which captured 15 games and dropped but one, Captain Steve Hydock, Henry Czaiikoski, Ray McCrann, and Bert Aszman were the only senior lettermen. Results:

VALENTY

WON 15—LOST 1.

Coach Bill Dietz's track squad competed in three dual meets, winning one and losing two. Paul Golis was the only senior to earn his letter. The scores:—

Albright	49	2-3 Dickinson	76	1-3
Albright	44	Ursinus	82
Albright	77	1-3 Susqueh'na	48	2-3

WON 1—LOST 2

The tennis team under the new coach Russel Resch, played only 3 matches out of 10 scheduled, due to inclement weather this spring. A victory over the alumni tomorrow will give the Lions a 500 percentage as they have dropped two matches and won one.

Students Plan To "End It All," Reporter Says

That about 50 per cent of Albright students contemplate committing suicide at one time or another is the conclusion I arrived at after talking to about 30 students. Surprisingly enough, this percentage was higher in the men.

Reasons for wanting to "end it all" were quite similar. "I thought I couldn't stand it any longer," "There wasn't anything to live for," "I couldn't see any other way out," "I was feeling low"—these were some of the replies.

A girl who worked in a busy store at one time said, "I don't like people. They get on my nerves. There was a day when they nearly drove me mad. I wanted to jump in the river. But the current was too fast, and I lacked courage." There was an almost unanimous opinion that leaving this life really took courage.

The various means that students thought of using to commit suicide were given. Two methods most highly favored were shooting oneself (given mostly by men), and jumping from some high building (favored by women).

One girl gave me quite a gory story about how knives fascinated her. Another said, "Gas poisoning always appealed to me," while still another said, "Ever since our chemistry teacher told me how rapidly potassium cyanide works, I've been for it."

When one coed was asked why she preferred shooting, she replied, "We have lots of guns at home, and I know how to use them."

From the people who never thought about suicide I received various reasons for not wanting to commit suicide. Of course quite a few said, "I love life." Others gave these replies, "I'm a sissy at heart," "I like doin' what I'm doin'," "I'm too much of a coward," "There's too much to live for," "It's so silly," "Everything turns out in the right way sooner later."

One of the men students was quite excited about the question and said, "It's absolutely useless. There's no point to it. You can't do any good if you're dead."

A timid little coed said in a questioning voice, "It isn't right, is it?"
