

Albright Debaters Engage West'n Md.; No Decision Given

Fay and Breininger Represent Albright in First No-Decision Debate; "Capitalism" Subject

The Albright Debaters figured in a no decision engagement with Western Maryland on Saturday, the twelfth, at 1:00 P. M. The question was "Resolved that Capitalism as a system of economic organization is unsound." The Albright team defended the negative side.

Use Two Man Team

The team was composed of two men Breininger and Fay. The names of the Western Marylanders were not given. The speeches were ten minutes in length and each man gave a five minute rebuttal. The debate was held at that school. Inconvenience attended the Albrightians on this excursion. Scheduled to arrive at their destination so that the affair could be staged Friday evening, the boys were delayed by motor trouble at Hershey. Horace Wolbert came to their rescue so that the debate was at last held on Saturday at one o'clock. There were no judges.

The next debate will be held with Lebanon Valley. The number of men on the teams has not yet been determined. The Women Debaters will meet those of Lebanon Valley at that school, possibly on April the first.

Church Weekly Has Articles by Alumni

Youths Weekly of the Evangelical Church Publishes Articles Appearing in this Paper

Recent issues of The Evangelical Crusader, the young peoples' weekly of the Evangelical Church, published in Cleveland, Ohio, has carried articles by Albright College Alumni and faculty.

Gramley on "Youth"

In the March 12 issue Dale H. Gramley, '27, presented an article on "Are Youth Merely Ruber Stampers?" Mr. Gramley, who is now an instructor in journalism in Lehigh University, tells of conversations with student friends. He concludes negatively that students assume an air of sophistication, fail to read about world events and are reticent in carrying on conversation outside of student circles. On the other hand he praises students for their questioning, the development of a scientific attitude, for deftness of repartee, and for frankness in private conversation.

Quotes ALBRIGHTIAN

In the March 19 issue the article by Prof. Lewis F. Smith, of the Department of Political Science, on the "Sino-Japanese Situation," as published in "THE ALBRIGHTIAN," is reprinted.

Raymond M. Veb, The Crusader Editor, states that more articles by Albright students and professors will be forthcoming. In the April 17 issue Rev. Merrill J. Winter, graduate last year of the Evangelical School of Theology, tells "Why I Decided to be a Minister." The annual College issue of The Evangelical Crusader, which will carry considerable matter on the local college and seminary, bears the date of April 30.

The Society of Natural Philosophy will present Prof. J. S. Knapper in the second of a series of lectures on various phases of Physics at an open meeting, Thursday evening, March 17, at 7:00 o'clock. This lecture will be on the subject of "Electricity" and will be as non-technical as possible. The first of the series of lectures was on the subject of "Magnetism."

Freshmen are especially urged to attend and everyone is cordially invited. The demonstration which will accompany the lecture will be very fascinating.

Sports Writer Gets Intimate View of Alonzo Stagg

Doctor Rolland Schloerb during his recent stay at Albright was kind enough to give an ALBRIGHTIAN reporter a story of his intimate friend, Alonzo Stagg, coach and Athletic Director at the University of Chicago.

Just a "Grand Old Man" says Dr. Schloerb. The outstanding thing about Stagg is that the longer he coaches at Chicago the greater he is liked by the students and the people of the city, and if one remembers that he has been coaching at Chicago for forty years with varied success, that's something to say. The reputation of the average coach usually lasts as long as he can produce a winning team, not so with Stagg, win or lose he is always the same. Last year the University, City, and State joined in celebrating his 40th year with Chicago, and the game between Chicago and Yale was an anniversary game in honor of the occasion.

Alonzo Stagg is in the vicinity of sixty-two years of age and still going strong. He graduated from Yale, where he was picked on the first All-American team, although today he is not in harmony with the scheme of picking All-American teams, claiming that football is not an individual enough sport to allow fair choice.

DOCTOR TEEL IMPROVED

The concern caused by the sudden illness of Doctor Warren F. Teel has been relieved to a great extent by the news that the condition has improved a great deal. The Doctor was taken ill on Saturday night and is still confined to his bed. Doctor Will Hamen, the physician in attendance, said however that his patient is doing well.

Skull & Bones Hear Prof. C. A. Horn; Describe Research

Research in the Prevention and Cure of Tuberculosis Are Described

Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Science Lecture Hall, the Skull and Bone Society held its meeting of the month.

Professor Horn delivered a paper on his research work, namely the "Growth of a Cancerous Tumor in a White Albino Rat." Several rats were used in keeping the cancer growing so that it could be studied.

Professor Horn having returned from a visit to Jefferson Medical College and to the Cancer Institute of Philadelphia, stated that the results of his experiment were in exact accordance with the results obtained from similar experiments at the Cancer Institute.

Following his talk, Professor Horn proceeded to show a moving picture entitled "The Consequences and Diagnosis of Tuberculosis."

The picture showed how the tests for, and diagnosis of tuberculosis are made. It then portrayed the means of prevention by depicting the life in a sanatorium.

At the close of the meeting, certificates of active membership were presented to the members of the society.

Albright Student In Fatal Crash

School Stricken by Loss of Popular Undergraduate; Student Council Publishes Resolution

An event causing great sadness to his many friends and to the entire College was the untimely death of J. Robert Good caused by a motor crash. The accident occurred at 8:15 Saturday evening at the intersection of Thirteenth and Pike streets not far from the campus. Good was driving his light sport roadster so familiar to most of us, north on Fourteenth. A collision with a car driven west on Thirteenth caused his death. Several Albright students were in the other car although the driver was not an Albright man.

The Campus suffered acutely by this occurrence. A large delegation of Albrightians including the entire Z. O. E. Fraternity will attend the funeral at Ephrata, Good's home. The sympathy of the college is expressed in a resolution drawn up by the Student Council and published herewith.

Whereas, the Student Council of Albright College deeply regret the sudden departure of Robert J. Good, a student of fine character, pleasing personality and marked ability and

Whereas, the example set by J. Robert Good shall remain as a testimonial of his influence on the campus of Albright College.

Therefore, be it resolved that the Student Body of Albright College through its representative, the Student Council send to the family of the deceased an expression of deepest sympathy; the same to be recorded in the minutes of the Student Council and to be published in the current issue of THE ALBRIGHTIAN.

Enacted this fourteenth day of March, nineteen hundred thirty-two, Albright College, Reading, Pennsylvania.

AROUSES MUCH COMMENT

The first Christian World Institute was held at Albright College, Monday and Tuesday, March 14 and 15. The featured speakers were Messrs. Treadwell Smith, Tetsuo Miyakana and J. C. Johnson. Mr. Johnson, who is an authority in the field of political science, gave a series of lectures on "Disarmament and World Peace." Mr. Treadwell Smith presented the challenge of U. S. S. R. to western civilization. He has traveled much in Russia and came to Albright well recommended. Mr. Tetsuo Miyakana, a Japanese by birth, told of the Manchurian situation.

The speakers not only talked in chapel but they also visited classes in sociology and political science, where they informally discussed the situations of the present day. The Y plans to make this an annual feature.

Week of Prayer at Albright Success; Dr. Schloerb Here

Classmate of Doctor W. F. Teel Leads Annual Religious Festival

The annual Week of Prayer, which has become almost an institution at Albright was held on this campus for the entire week of March 6th. Rev. Rolland Schloerb, pastor of Hyde Park Baptist Church, Chicago, was the guest leader and speaker.

Rev. Schloerb was a most inspiring and intelligent speaker. He, before his stay on the campus was over, had won many friends among students and faculty alike. Every session in the chapel was crowded, and his interviews and informal discussions in the fraternities on the campus were very well attended.

Rev. Schloerb spoke twice a day in chapel, both at the chapel exercises in the morning and at meetings at night. After his talks in chapel he had a schedule to visit each fraternity house. He had come prepared, as he said, to deliver speeches if it were necessary.

ON THE DEATH OF A FRIEND

There are few of us who have not been cruelly shocked by the sudden death of our friend and fellow, Robert J. Good. The futility of arguing with the fates has been obvious to men since the Greek dramatists and before.

But so tragic and unreasonable a thing as this serves invariably to arouse our indignation and to reinform us that we are the creatures of powers beyond our own. We are in no position to moralize. We are still too dulled by pain and shock to do much of anything. But it is maddening as it is futile to wonder at the facts. Bob was such a good sort. So few of us have the courage to sieze life with both hands so to speak and live it joyously for its own sake. We could ill afford to lose this chap. And we shall miss him as long as we are in these halls and after.

INTERVIEW WITH STAGG

that were inculcated in the mind of Jesse Harper by Alonso Stagg while Harper was a student and player at the U. of C., seem to have borne their fruit in the wonderful success that Notre Dame has attained in the general athletic field.

Stagg has a profound knowledge of the game, comparable to the greatest masters of all time. His style has been copied by many coaches in smaller institutions. He is noted particularly for his development of good line-men and there is where the strength of most of his teams has rested. He has a way of capturing the respect of those about him both on and off the field. The players work hard for him and rarely disobey his training rules, and if they do he never shows partiality to any player regardless of his ability. He has no place on his team for a swell-head.

Although he has been criticised on occasion for a losing team, the dread of many a coach, this does not injure Stagg. His dynamic personality by far overshadows such idle comment and raises him above the reproach of those whose main idea is to win a game at any cost. He lives a simple life in a simple home and helps to support four or five sisters, never fails to attend church and exemplifies all the qualities that he tries to develop in the players on his squad. Last year his son played on the varsity and it is said he was treated just as one of the boys.

Alonso Stagg's name will survive in the hall of football immortals beside Knute Rockne, "Pop" Warner, Thorpe, and others who have developed great football teams, great football players, as well as raising the standards of the game.

Regulations at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, include this proviso, "The student may be reinstated only if absence is caused by long continued illness or death," according to the Drexel Triangle.

LITERARY

LIVES AND LETTERS

By Rudolf Shook

To those who are not familiar with Knut Hamsun (and despite his reputation he is not very widely read) August will be a strange book. The style is so utterly at variance with the smooth-running prose of most of our novels, even the poorer ones, that it seems as if one is reading a strange dialect. Not that Hamsun does not write beautifully. He does. But his style is (I almost say exotic, but it is homely and without the glamour that word connotes) foreign. This is partly due, of course, to the translation which endeavors to retain the spirit of the original language. "August" is the fascinating and rather Munchausen-like wanderer of Vagabonds. He returns to his native Norway, and in his own highly individual manner sets about modernizing his town. His efforts and the reactions of his fellow townsmen make very interesting and amusing reading fare. Mr. Hamsun has created, in August, a very lovable, humorous and, at the same time, tragic character.

I read in the public prints that Norma Shearer is going to do Strange Interlude with Clark Gable. Evidently, she is gunning for the trophy she won the year before last. Miss Shearer always manages, with the aid of husband Irving Thalberg, to secure the best vehicles, while her sister-actresses must content themselves with stories like Possessed and Inspiration. There is much skepticism about this picture. It is feared that the Shearer-Gable interlude will be more strange than necessary

An English novel, and one smoothly written, is Susan Ertz's The Story of Julian. This is an excellent book about a sensitive young man who has been victimized by the incompatibility of his scientific father and his exceedingly religious mother. The author offers a fine analysis of his character. The people in this book are amusing and interesting, and the story moves at a lively pace.

ZETA OMEGA EPSILON

The fraternity at this time wishes to extend deepest sympathies to the family of the late Robert J. Good.

Election of officers of the fraternity was held last Monday evening, and the following have been elected: — President, Arthur Daub; Vice-President, Albert Dittman; Secretary, George E. Deininger; Treasurer, Peter Paul Masonia.

Frater Savidge and Daub accompanied by pledge Mayer journeyed to New Jersey over the week-end where Frater Savidge purchased a new car returning Saturday evening with a stop over at Philadelphia to purchase wearing apparel.

Luther Wenck has resumed his classes again, after two week's illness at home.

Several members attended a party Saturday evening given in honor of Miss Pottenger.

Baseball manager Jones checked over the equipment during the past week—practice starting as soon as weather is permissible.

From the Susquehanna we learn that a professor at Oberlin College invited 120 students to an eight course dinner, the basis of which was whole wheat. The dinner cost him three cents a plate.

Four of the five fraternities at Oglethorpe university will be forced to give up their charters by the dean if their averages do not come up to the general average for the whole college this semester.

Sorority Notes

Hope is expressed for a speedy recovery of Lisle Bartholomew, who has been seriously ill.

Frater Kuller acted as host to his mother and sister, who visited him over the week-end.

Mr. Fray and Frater "Ace" Wolbert attended the Junior Prom of Western Maryland College, Friday evening.

The program as presented by The Christian World Education Institute on our campus for the past several days has proven very helpful.

ALPHA PI OMEGA

On Friday evening the fraternity basketball team defeated the Fleetwood High School team by the score 44-43.

The Fleetwood team is the champion of the Northern Division of the Berks County High School League.

On Saturday evening the annual Alumni Smoker was held in the fraternity quarters. The alumni held a brief meeting followed by a smoker, refreshments, and cards. The feature of the evening was a basketball game between the active chapter and the alumni. Several former Schuylkill College stars were in the line-up of the Alumni team. The Alumni team won the game by the score 34-30.

Rajah Books Shows of Artistic Merit

An item of considerable interest to the theatre patrons of this campus is the announcement made by the Rajah Theatre that William Gillette will appear in the role he made famous on Friday evening. Several decades ago he was the toast of the American stage at a time when the word meant something.

After a long absence of eight years he reappeared in November, 1929, at the New Amsterdam Theatre, New York, in "Sherlock Holmes." Broadway audiences turned out as in bygone days, and again Gillette and "Sherlock Holmes" were the talk of the town. The farewell tour followed, and the noted actor, anxious to appear everywhere in his famous role, has selected cities he never before or seldom visited. On Friday night, when Rajah curtain rings up, the star of "Sherlock Holmes," "Strange Case of Alice Faulkner," "Dr. Watson," "Prof. Moriarity," "James Larrabee" and "Madge Larrabee" and "Billy" will reappear. Once again we'll live through the thrills of the "Underground Gas Chamber;" again we'll thrill as they cry "Follow the Cigar," and again we'll hear Gillette say "Billy, You're a Good Boy." To miss the performance of William Gillette in "Sherlock Holmes" will be to miss one of the treats of a life time.

NEW YORK HIT HERE

The musical comedy, "Everybody's Welcome," which comes to the Rajah Theatre, Reading, Wednesday night only, March 16, is termed the outstanding musical success of the season. Its music which has become popular because of its instantaneous appeal and the way in which the players put the songs over, contributes in no small measure to its success.

The Messrs. Shubert, who produced "Everybody's Welcome," have assembled one of the finest casts available, with such gifted players as Frances Williams, Oscar Shaw, Ann Pennington and Harriette Lake heading the list. Others in this large and expensive cast include Jack Sheehan, Victor Morley, the Tom Jones Orchestra and a great dancing chorus.

"Everybody's Welcome" has three of the biggest song hits of the day, "As Times Goes By," sung by Frances Williams in her own distinctive manner. Another hit song from "Everybody's Welcome," which is heard over the radio daily and played by every large orchestra in the country, is "Even As You and I."

SPORT LIGHTS

(By Russell N. Bonney, '33)

Hail to the Champ! The Gettysburg Bullets by virtue of a 44-22 victory over F. and M., have clinched the pennant in the first season of the Eastern Penna. Collegiate Basketball League. The Bullets outclassed the other clubs consistently and dropped only two contests in their march to the championship. The final standing is:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Gettysburg	10	2	.834
F. and M.	8	4	.667
Lebanon Valley	8	4	.667
ALBRIGHT	5	7	.416
Drexel	5	7	.416
Ursinus	3	9	.250
Muhlenburg	3	9	.250

Baseball season will soon be with us again. The schedule appears elsewhere in this issue. The first encounter will be a home game with Kutztown S. T. C. as the opponent. At present the prospects for a strong nine are bright, as most of last year's varsity will be on hand when Coach Smith issues the first call. Glancing at the schedule we see few opponents who are likely to give the Lions any trouble and an undefeated season is an attainable aim. The schedule lists seven home games and students will have ample opportunity to see their team in action.

Simultaneously, athletic interest shifts to track. We would like to see a revival in this ancient sport. This year's schedule, while not what it should be, is a decided improvement over last year's and it only remains for the track and field men to do their stuff.

The spring sport season brings another thought. We would like to see the intramural sports program increased in the spring sport line. Last year the soft ball league and the tennis tournament provided activity and fun for a lot of students. This year we would like to see something in the line of an inter-fraternity regulation baseball league or an inter-class league. Then an inter-class or inter-fraternity track meet would no doubt be well received by the campus groups.

Another football rule which receives our approval is the substitution rule providing for a man to return to the game in the period subsequent to his retirement. This rule will be a welcomed addition to the small college coach and the rule should also tend to eliminate injuries arising from injured men remaining in the games. Albright should benefit from this rule, especially as we recall last season's Temple and Bucknell games.

BASEBALL AND TRACK CARDS COMPLETE; NINE'S SCHEDULE LOOKS DULL; DELAY PRACTICE

Temple Game Is Bright Spot in Store for Batmen; Will Play Two Games with Ancient Rivals at Lebanon Valley; Bad Weather Delays Both Squads in Spring Practice

BOTH SCHEDULES HAVE ONE DATE UNFILLED

"Wealth of Baseball Material Seems To Be on Hand at this Time" Says Coach Smith

Now that the cage sport is a matter of past history, athletic interest naturally swings to the spring sports, baseball, track and tennis. Bad weather has prevented any work along these lines but as soon as the weather is suitable the baseball candidates will begin to prepare for a fourteen game season. Coach Smith will have a wealth of veteran material for his ball club and everything points to a highly successful season. The schedule as issued by Coach Smith is as follows:

- April 16—Wednesday—Kutztown S. T. C.—Home.
- April 13—Wednesday—Kutztown S. T. C.—Home.
- April 16—Saturday—Kutztown S. T. C.—Away.
- April 20—Wednesday—Mt. St. Mary's—Away.
- April 23—Saturday—Stroudsburg S. T. C.—Home.
- April 30—Saturday—Open.
- May 6—Friday—Seton Hall—Away.
- May 7—Saturday—Osteopathy—Away.
- May 11—Wednesday—Moravian—Away.
- May 14—Saturday—Temple—Home.
- May 19—Thursday—Lebanon Valley—Away.
- May 21—Saturday—Stroudsburg S. T. C.—Away.
- May 27—Friday—Lebanon Valley—Home.
- June 4—Saturday—Moravian (Alumni Day)—Home.

TRACK SCHEDULE

In the near future Capt. Andrews will call out all the Lion track hopefuls. This year's track schedule embraces four events and all the track material in the student body will have ample opportunity to show their wares. There is a good supply of track and field material on hand this year and, with proper handling, the track men should come through in fine style.

The following events are on the April 16—Berks County H. S. Meet—Stadium.

Lion Cagers End Mediocre Season; Contests Reviewed

Brilliant Bursts of Form Like Victory F. & M. Stand out on Drab Background of Eight Wins and Nine Defeats

FRESH WORK GOOD

Another basketball season having been with us and passed into history we can look back over the achievements of our court representatives. Our varsity finished the season with eight wins and nine losses, not an imposing record. Our school was represented by a highly capable cage team but something was lacking in the season's play. In the early season it was team-play. Several shifts in the line-up may have found itself, a decided slump set in and the varsity could win but two victories in the last nine contests. Our team played few consistent contests and many were marked by the physical ability to play only half the game at high speed. Some close decisions were dropped for this reason.

Our club did have its high spots as shown by the F. and M. victory, the first Muhlenburg game, the first Valley game and the Kutztown game. The team gave a good idea of its true worth in these contests. To lose both Lebanon Valley games was another drawback to a successful season.

The team started the season with Capt. Haines and DeFranco, forwards, Smythe, center; and Oslalo and Fromm at the guards. Oslalo and Fromm played great ball at the guards all season. DeFranco got off to a poor start and was replaced by latesta, who was later injured. DeFranco returned to the line-up and played good ball for the balance of the season. Capt. Haines was shifted to center at various times as Smythe had difficulty in finding himself. These shifts brought Andrews into the line-up and he played sensational ball for the balance of the season.

The season's record follows: Albright 45—Phila. School of Optometry 18.

Wrestling Enthusiasts on this Campus Forced To Enjoy Favorite Sport at Professional Arena

Wrestling, even on a professional basis, has of late achieved tremendous popularity. The sporting public has turned to it as its favorite indoor winter sport. The college has always provided for this ancient form of athletic activity and it is universally popular with college men.

This has been illustrated with striking force on our campus. At the local wrestling show (Professional) last week we counted at least a dozen Albright men in our range of vision. It is indeed sad that lovers of this hearty sport are compelled to leave campus for a professional arena, and even then there is no opportunity for participation.

In keeping with its policy of serving its readers with any news likely to interest them and in hopes of furthering its present campaign of wrestling at Albright this paper will in the future print on the sporting page any announcements of wrestling contests, professional or amateur.

Tuesday night, famed Ed (Don) George, former world's champion, comes to grips with Joe DeVito, recognized as the outstanding Italian mat star, in the feature attraction of Promoter Joe Kennedy's all-star bill.

George is one of the most colorful grapplers. He was the youngest man to ever win the wrestling crown. His rise in the sport was one of the most spectacular in the history of the game.

The erstwhile University of Michigan athlete won the championship from Gus Sonnenberg in Los Angeles last December two years ago and lost to Ed (Strangler) Lewis in the same city last March.

In the semi-final Pat McKay, a native of Altoona, is booked to go 45 minutes or less with Al Mercier, brilliant Canadian-Frenchman.

The second tussle will find Andy Brown, who dropped the judges decision to Lee Wykoff here last week, opposed to Boris Demitroff, the sensational Bulgarian. This contest is slated for 30 minutes.

In the opener, Rudy LaDitzi, 220-pound Hungarian, who claims the championship of his native country, is down for a 30-minute engagement with Bob Wilkie, the Buffalo star.

Keep a Regular TELEPHONE Date with Home

JUNE... Commencement... the college year's over! Congratulations, Seniors, and good luck!

What a year it was! Remember those telephone chats with Mother and Dad? Those words of encouragement? That sound advice? You'll agree that of all the four years taught you, nothing means more to you than your appreciation of Home.

That's a worth-while lesson! Wherever you go... whatever you do... let the telephone keep you in touch with home. Share your news with Mother and Dad. They'll always be eager to hear your voice.

Now, and whenever you feel the urge, give the Operator your home telephone number. The thrill of "voice visits" never grows old.

FOR THE LOWEST COST AND GREATEST EASE

Set your "date" for after 8.30 P.M., and take advantage of the low Night Rates. (A dollar call is 60c at night; a 50c call is 35c.)

By making a date, the folks will be at home. Thus you can make a Station to Station call rather than a more expensive Person to Person call.

Just give the operator your home telephone number. If you like, charges can be reversed.

THE CINEMA

"ARROWSMITH AT LOEW'S"

One of the classic of modern American literature has become one of the classics of the screen in "Arrowsmith," famous novel by Sinclair Lewis, now at Loew's. It has reality, tension, splendid acting, a gripping sweep of emotions, and a new type of role for Ronald Colman to make it one of the film events of the year.

It is easy to see that Colman's performance of the young hero, Dr. Martin Arrowsmith, has as much to do with the success of the picture as the brilliant story that made the hook a best-seller. Without a single false step, never losing the personal appeal which has made him such an eminent figure on the screen, he builds Arrowsmith up into a complete character.

NOW PLAYING AT THE ASTOR

Astor Theatre presents Sally Eilers in "Disorderly Conduct," with Spencer Tracy and El Brendel.

Abounding in thrills and offering something distinctly different in screen entertainment, "Disorderly Conduct" is expected to prove popular film fare.

With Spencer Tracy in the grimly powerful role of a police officer who abandons honesty for larceny, and an imposing list of film favorites in the supporting cast, this Fox production is heralded as the foremost dramatic offering of the year.

Starting Monday the Astor will present an entirely new vaudeville program. "Beroff's Russian Revels," a colorful variety of novelty and originality, "A Terpsichorean Fantasy."

Lou Archer and Warren Jackson in "Making the Grade," Carlton Emmy in "Mad Wags," Donia & White, in a playlet for fun, "Who's Me?" Murray & Irvin, in "Songs and Mimicry," Ferdie's Cadets, in "Youth, Pep and Personality."

AT THE EMBASSY THIS WEEK

The Embassy Theatre presents what critics and the public have acclaimed the year's greatest picture, "The Shanghai Express," a story of Chinese military adventure, romance and intrigue with the incomparable Marlene Dietrich and an all-star cast including Clive Brooke, Anna May Wong, and Warner Oland. Eugene Pallette handles most of the comedy relief.

The Embassy program includes Smith and Dale in a Paramount comedy "Where East Meets West," and Paramount's "Dizzy Red Riding Hood."

"CHEATERS AT PLAY" AT STATE

For the first time in film history theatregoers have an opportunity to see Thomas Meighan and Charlotte Greenwood, two of America's outstanding stars, in a first run feature screen attraction at new popular prices. These two great artists are now appearing at the State Theatre in Louis Joseph Vance's great sensation, "Cheaters at Play." Thomas Meighan at one time was the greatest box office attraction in America; Charlotte Greenwood, the eccentric comedienne, has few equals in the comedy entertainments on the screen or stage.

AT THE ARCADIA THEATRE

Monday and Tuesday — "Nice Women" with Miriam Hopkins.
Wednesday and Thursday — "The Monster Walks."
Friday and Saturday — "The Texan."

The varsity loses three players thru graduation, namely Capt. Haines, Andrews and Fromm. These men will be missed but there will be a good supply of varsity material in the college next year, and a good team is anticipated in the next court season.

In the first season under the three year ruling, Albright was represented by a fast Freshman team. The team was coached by Frank White and he did a good job with the yearlings. The Frosh played some good teams and came thru with a record of nine victories and seven defeats.

The Frosh showed improvement throughout the season and Coach White will turn over some excellent material for next year's varsity. Shippe held the center post in every contest and played a consistent game usually being high scorer. Hepler and Slack, formerly teammates at Sunbury High School, paired at the guards and played a high class of ball. Wojnick and Wick started the season at the forwards but Wojnick became ineligible and he was replaced by Cox. Other members of the squad also showed promise. Most of the Frosh squad will be varsity candidates next year and will give this year's veterans a good run for their jobs. The Frosh record follows:

Albright Frosh 47—U. of P. Extension 28.
Albright Frosh 34 — Wyomissing High School 22.
