

What They Say

By Fred Schwartzstein, '37

Question: What do you think of the proposed plan to have a three day pre-examination rest period?

Answers: Jeannette Henry, Senior—"Wonderful! It would give everyone time either to study or most likely to catch up on lost sleep." Joe Richter, Sophomore—"It's a good idea. It would give the student a chance to coordinate the muddled ideas that he has obtained during the preceding semester."

Carolyn Wilson, Junior—"By all means there should be a three day rest period before exams. It gives one an opportunity—there is the golden one you are waiting for—to catch up on one's rest."

Professor Paul Speicher—"I am in favor of it provided the examination period would be confined to only one week."

Charles Schwartz, Freshman—"I am heartily in favor of a proposal of this type. I believe it would serve a long felt need. Under the present system many are handicapped by having several examinations the day after the semester is over. It is surprising that this plan was not put into effect long ago."

Frank Brandenburg, Junior—"I believe it would be unnecessary if exams were so spaced that it would give the students sufficient time for organized study."

Rebecca Brooks, Junior—"As long as professors insist on so many reports and term papers, believe it is necessary if students are to do justice to their examinations."

Al Kuder, Senior—"I think it is a good idea because it gives you a chance to finish off required work and prepare for examinations."

Professor V. C. Zener—"I am definitely in favor of it. I believe it would give the students sufficient time to organize their work and do away with cramming the night before an examination."

Lou Drucker, Senior—"It's an excellent plan; we pre-meds need it."

Walt Spencer, Junior—"I think it is a smart idea. It would give those students who take part in quite a few extra-curricular activities a chance to catch up with some of the work they may have missed during the semester."

Ted Murry, Junior—"I believe this proposed plan would be a very good thing. It would give students time to study for coming exams and to catch up on back reports, etc. Personally, I'm 100% for it."

William Becker, Senior—"I think it would be a bad thing because instead of studying most of the students would probably loaf around and do nothing at all; perhaps worry about the exams."

C. Jackson Jump, Junior—"I think it is a good plan and it should be given every consideration."

Organ Recital Well Attended Last Sunday

Plans To Be Laid For Regular Monthly Music Programs

Last Sunday afternoon, the first in a series of musical concerts was held in the Evangelical School of Theology chapel when Miss Margaret M. Grebe presented an organ recital assisted by B. Frank Conner, tenor soloist in a varied program before a very responsive audience. The program was sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. organizations of the campus after a suggestion in "The Albrightian" was approved by Professor John H. Duddy, head of the music department.

The program opened with two organ selections: "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor" by Johann Sebastian Bach, and "Angelus" by Jules Massenet. The first, a dignified and impressive number, held the attention of the audience from the very start. "The Angelus Domini" is a prayer of the Roman Catholic Church embodying a passage in scripture beginning with those words.

Next on the program was the tenor solo, "To a Wild Rose" by Edward MacDowell. The third part of the program included "Norwegian Dance" by Edvard Grieg; "Brook" by Edward Grieg; and "Wing Foo" by Cecil Burtleigh. This was followed by "Largo and Spicatto" by Wilhelm Friedemann Bach, for most gifted of the sons of Johann Sebastian Bach.

"Souvenir" by Ralph Kilder and "Will o' the Wisp" by Gordon Balch Nevin were followed by "Intermezzo" from "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mascagni with Miss Grebe at the organ console, and Mr. Conner, the tenor soloist.

Debaters Win at Cedar Crest in Initial Contest

Audience Votes, 9-5 in Favor of Albright's Negative Team; Trip Announced

Meeting the affirmative team of Cedar Crest College for the first time in the history of Albright College, Ralph Levan and Paul Gollis opened the debating session last Thursday evening at Allentown and returned to the campus with an audience decision of 9-5 in favor of Albright College.

The question discussed was "Resolved: that Congress should be empowered to regulate maximum hours and minimum wages for industry."

The same question was used by the first girls' debate team in six years yesterday when Marian Heck and Helen Teel participated in a non-decision debate against the women's team of Bucknell University on campus.

Tomorrow afternoon the men's affirmative team will travel to Bethlehem to debate the same issue with the Moravian College negative team. The negative team of Albright will meet the affirmative team of Moravian tomorrow evening here.

After some planning and discussion women's debating was introduced. Debates are being scheduled with Nassau College of New York University, Gettysburg, and Allegheny.

A complete schedule of the men's debate is listed elsewhere in this issue of "The Albrightian."

Dr. John B. Doude, coach of debating, announced on Monday afternoon that Ralph Levan, Paul Gollis, and Charles J. Moravec, manager, would accompany him on the annual debate trip which will be taken through Maryland, West Virginia, and Virginia this spring instead of through western Pennsylvania. The group will leave on March 1 for Washington College, Chestertown, Maryland where a debate will be held that evening with the Albright team upholding the affirmative side of the adopted question. On March 2 the Red and White team will meet the negative of Western Maryland College at Westminster; on March 3 they will be entertained by Hampden-Sydney College; and on March 4 the trip will end with the Albright negative team opposing Randolph-Macon at Ashland, Virginia.

The following week-end, Guy Brown, Stanford Dickey, Helen Teel, and Marian Heck are expected to represent Albright College at the second annual Pennsylvania Debaters' Convention to be held at Penn State College on March 12 and 13.

Students Told I. L. O. Not A Trade Union

Miss Riegelman of Carnegie Endowment Speaks on Its Organization and Purpose

"The International Labor Office is not a trade union, but an official governmental organization for the promotion of better conditions among labor groups," declared Miss Carol Riegelman in her address last Thursday in chapel.

The guest speaker sent to us by the Carnegie Endowment for the Promotion of Peace spoke on "The United States Relationship to the International Labor Office." She is a graduate of Smith College and has been affiliated with the International headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland, for the past two years.

Before discussing the part the United States has played in this movement, Miss Riegelman reviewed the history of the office since its creation in 1919 following the Treaty of Paris. "As the present time there are 62 nations represented on the board of the office and seventeen languages are being in the transaction of important international trade treaties designed to eliminate trade and labor barriers. However, English and French are the official languages."

"The work accomplished by the annual conference is not a definite achievement. All the conference can do is to draft treaties, which, in turn, must be approved or refused by the individual national labor groups and governments."

"Before 1919 the relationships and interest of America to the International Labor Office were different and broken," asserted the Carnegie speaker, "but when Roosevelt became president, a new interest was aroused in this country until in 1935 both houses of Congress approved the membership of American labor in the International Labor Office. Since that time the United States has played a very important role in the negotiations for progressive legislation."

At the present time, Miss Riegelman is touring this country completing plans for the Textile conference which will be held in Washington, D. C. in April. In discussing this conference, the speaker stated:

"We hope to reach some basis of agreement to reduce hours, protect workers in the textile industry, and reduce child and woman labor. There is much more child labor in the European countries than can be found here in America. If some steps can be devised at this April meeting, child labor will be decreased in the years to come, through the world. The same procedure will be followed, if successful, in other major industries."

During her visit to Albright College, Miss Riegelman inspected the striking situation at the Berkshire Knitting Mills in West Reading and held conferences with leaders of all major industries in this area. Dr. Milton W. Hamilton, head of the history department and sponsor of the International Relations Club, presided at the meeting.

Skull & Bones Members Read Two Papers

Mayberry and Davis Present Interesting Research Studies in Science

The Skull and Bone Society held its monthly meeting on Monday evening at eight o'clock at which time certificates of active membership were awarded to Richard Davis for his paper on "Stream Pollution" and to Theodore Mayberry for his paper on "Dr. Carrel and the Immortality Issue."

In the paper by Davis, treatment was given to the amount of hydrogens necessary to create either distress or death to fish, giving some of the physiological effects of an increase or decrease of an acid base balance. The amount of oxygen necessary for the survival of fish was likewise discussed. The paper was concluded with an enumeration of the various causes of pollution and the possible approaches in remedying such resultant conditions. In the next paper on Dr. Alexis Carrel, Mayberry presented a very interesting approach.

"Dr. Carrel, a graduate of the University of Lyons, is one of the world's greatest living surgeons. In 1912 he won the Nobel Prize in Medicine for his work on suturing severed blood vessels, and for his famous experiment in which he has kept a fragment of embryonic chicken heart tissue in a living and growing condition ever since 1912. The chicken heart, experiment definitely proved, that under well regulated conditions, tissue can be kept with any aid from the mother organism. This is a technique of transplanting tissue. In conclusion, his work has proven to be an important and important step in the advancement of surgery."

The next meeting will be held on March 3, at which time papers will be read by Mason Marcus on "The Dynamo of Energy," and Hel Goforth, "The Petulatory Land," and William Trostel, "Limestone of Pennsylvania." The meeting will be held in the Banquet on Saturday, May 1.

Girls to Play First Game Tomorrow

The initial game for the girls' basketball squad will be played on Friday afternoon at Lebanon Valley College in Allentown. The game will be played in two court style, using three forwards and three guards instead of two forwards, two guards, a center, and a side center.

Twelve girls have been chosen for the regular team, however it is expected that several more will be added to the list, after a few more practices. The forwards are Jeannette Henry, Seta Schmidt, Betty Dietz, Peg Buck, Jeannette Snyder and Jeanne Chafey. The guards are Martha Hall, Ruth Stratton, Lida Faust, Becky Brooks, Dot Klein and Jane Sadler. Several changes in the list will no doubt be made in the next few days. Although the squad has had only a two week practice session, the girls are looking forward to the initial tilt with great expectations.

The approved schedule is as follows:
Feb. 19—Lebanon Valley .....Away
Feb. 25—Leader Lassies .....Away
Feb. 27—Temple .....Away

Needed Books to Be Given Library by Phil. Club

Harold Beaumont Reads Paper on Transcendentalism at Regular Meeting

A regular meeting of the Philosophy Club was held on Thursday, February 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Benninger in Shillington. Guy Brown, president of the club of which Dr. Morris S. Greth is faculty adviser, presided over the proceedings.

The matter of establishing a chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha, national Philosophy fraternity, on the campus was tabled until a later meeting. The members present unanimously voted to present to the Albright Alumni Memorial Library $10 worth of books dealing with philosophy. For some time the members of the campus organization have felt the need of additional books on the subject. A committee consisting of Dr. Greth, Edward Watter, and Elizabeth Campbell was appointed by the president to make the survey and purchase the books within the next few weeks.

After the business session followed the reading of a paper entitled "The Fear of Transcendentalism—Emerson" by Harold Beaumont. Quoting from Emerson, Beaumont stated: "If you want to know the belief of the Transcendentalist, omit from your mind what has been added from tradition."

In an interesting manner, the secretary-treasurer of the group stated that in like manner, if there is anything grand and daring in human thought or virtue, any reliance on the vast, the unknown; any extravagance of faith the American idealist adopts it as part of his nature. Man himself is a spirit; a spark of divinity. If he will put himself in a receptive frame of mind and wait for the revelation, God can and will communicate with him directly. Emerson's entire philosophy is presented through temperance, but it is foolish to argue with genius.

"Even though the materialist, the orthodox, the artistic, the metaphysician label him as ambiguous, it means nothing. Emerson has presented his views and gone away. He would have been the last one to require us to accept his universe without question; he simply hoped we would try to make it our own and enjoy it as he did."

Dr. Klein Gets Action from Council

Sociology and Physics Courses Will Be Required of Home Economics Majors

President J. Warren Klein recently received word from the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction that the State Council of Education, at its meeting on December 4, approved the extension of the present curriculum for the education of teachers of general home economics to include the vocational field.

The new recognition given to our home economics department means that the graduates of this department will find greater opportunities in the teaching profession. Several additional required courses will be offered under the new curriculum as authorized by the state department of education.

In order to meet one requirement for the extension of the work of the home economics department, the practice house occupying Sherman Cottage has been remodeled and enlarged. All modern equipment has been secured and the kitchen is the latest word in home economics efficiency and comfort.

Miss Innis, in an interview stated: "It is with great pleasure that we announced the extension of our certification for Home Economics education, to include vocational phases of the work. We have for the past eight years been preparing students for the teaching field under the term of General Home Economics, which aimed to develop within the individual girl an appreciation of the problems centering around the home. "Under the vocational phase of Home Economics we include 'all that is included under the general, rural and urban high school home making, vocational, and managerial efficiency.' This certification in Vocational Home Economics will materially benefit us in our teaching work. Vocational Home Economics curricula are organized in many high schools throughout the State to meet the needs of rural and urban high school girls who are interested in the vocation of home making. These programs are known as Vocational Home Economics programs based on the standards set up by the Smith-Hughes Act."

"After graduation our Senior women who are preparing for the teaching field may enter upon their work in a larger city system in either the Junior or Senior high school, or they may find a place in a rural or consolidated school where a broad program is carried on in Home Economics Education under three main divisions: Home making, vocational, and managerial efficiency; and home making and leisure time."

A definite curricula for the extended certification will be definitely prepared and will be included in the college catalogue for the academic year, 1937-1938.

IN TRIBUTE

ELMER L. MOHN

For the past nine years Mr. Elmer L. Mohn, of Elizabeth, N. J., has been faithfully serving Albright College as president of the Albright Alumni. During this period of time, he has made innumerable trips from his home, spending of his precious time and money just because he was sold on the idea that Albright College had possibilities.

Many wonderful things have come to our institution through the untiring efforts of Mr. Mohn. During his term as president of the Albright College Alumni Association the following projects have been successfully carried out:

1. The building of the Albright Alumni Memorial Library—a structure which was badly needed for many years in order that the students of Albright College may have the proper facilities for study and research.

2. An outstanding and most successful coach was secured for our athletic programs in the person of Coach Clarence L. Munn. It was through Mr. Mohn's interest in athletics that Coach Munn was highly recommended by H. O. "Fritz" Grissler, head football coach of Princeton University.

3. Three successful Festivals of Music have been held in the Albright College Stadium. Mr. Mohn was one of the organizers of this movement and has been continually interested in the promotion of this event.

4. The Albright College Band was reorganized last year. New uniforms were secured through Mr. Mohn who made several trips to manufacturers in order to get the best possible uniforms for our purposes.

5. The Albright College Alumni Association has made various recommendations to the College Board of Trustees because of Mr. Mohn's far-sightedness and vision for a greater ALBRIGHT. Many of these recommendations have been adopted and are a permanent feature of the college program.

There are many more achievements which could be cited, but space does not permit. In dedicating this issue of "The Albrightian" to you, Mr. Mohn, we wish you continued happiness and may your interest in Albright College never die.

Editorials

LEST WE FORGET!

There are a good many persons on this campus or connected with Albright College in some way who always appreciate what the college is doing for them. BUT, there is another group of those few persons who look upon those who attempt to assist in building a greater institution as unnecessary evils always in the way. Before it gets too late and we forget, let us pause for a few minutes to honor those whose efforts are not totally in vain. Let us remember the forgotten souls whose lives of service for Albright College have been unending.

First of all, the routine of the Athletic Council during the rush and slack seasons has been most admirably handled by Coach Munn's secretary. At last records are placed in permanent files and those in authority know where things are when they are the way they are. We take off our hats to you, Miss Kline, for most efficient service in the line of duty and battle.

Next on our list is the ever busy athletic trainer, Harry A. Humphreys. He does more than necessary in order to have a harmonious program headed by Coach Munn run smoothly, he keeps an accurate inventory of all equipment, peps up the teams, and knows how to do a thing when it must be done for the benefit of an individual, the team, the Athletic Council, and Albright College. May your efforts always be remembered when you leave this institution of learning and may they be appreciated by those who are constantly nagging about what you may be doing just because they are not interested in your department.

Last summer and during the fall, the task of reorganizing the college band fell to the lot of Sam Moyer. As is the custom on this campus, not many persons were willing to cooperate. A fine job was accomplished in spite of all the opposition he and Mr. Mohn received from a few persons who were willing to sit back and rest comfortably, but who were unwilling to raise a finger for the benefit of the football team and Albright College. May the band grow larger in numbers as the years roll by, and may your services be recognized.

Sometimes we may grumble about the heat, but those students who spend hours upon hours near the hot furnaces are not always to blame. After all, sometimes the wind howls much faster than the heat can come up. Ask any scientist who understands a little more than we do about heat waves.

THERE ARE A GOOD MANY PERSONS ON THE CAMPUS OR CONNECTED WITH ALBRIGHT COLLEGE IN SOME WAY WHO ALWAYS APPRECIATE WHAT THE COLLEGE IS DOING FOR THEM. LET US APPRECIATE THEIR EFFORTS. ALL OF US CAN DO OUR SHARE AND HELP TO MAKE OUR CAMPUS LIFE MORE CHEERFUL AND ENJOYABLE.

WHY NOT?

Why not have a girls' tennis team on the campus? During the past few weeks, several interested co-eds have asked your editor about the organization of such a group. We see no reason at all at the present time why the girls should be denied this activity if they are willing to do their part. Coach Kreska is an excellent tennis player and coach. If his services can be secured, why not have a girls' tennis team?

Why not have a victory on the basketball floor once in a while? There is no reason why there should be the ever-present evidence that certain players on the team take advantage of Coach Hino's good nature. There may be three players who actually try to play the game, but then campus opinion has it that others are just on the floor to show-off or to earn a letter. Perhaps the players forget that they cannot live on the glory of the football season; and perhaps training tables in the past had their good results. Basketball, like any other sport, needs the cooperation of the entire squad. Why not forget about individuals for a change?

Why not have better cooperation on the campus between the students and between departments of the college? There is no necessity for any one person to become a philosopher all of a sudden. If more of us would mind our own business more often than we do, a better spirit would prevail. Why should one individual be concerned about another when the party in question feels in his own heart that he is doing the right thing. Starting right and sincerely feeling right is half of any battle. Success comes to those who are most persecuted and condemned. Why not settle our own affairs before lifting the lid off some other peaceful life being lived as the goal of that life is set?

Why not have more social events on the campus? As the present plan is organized, students find it necessary to go into town or out of town for their relaxation. A college campus, it has always seemed to us, was a place where students could find intellectual, physical, social, as well as mental stimulation. Are we stressing too much of one of these and neglecting the other vital aspects of anyone's life? At the present time, we feel that this is the case. Shall the students continue to find a haven socially, physically, morally, and intellectually off the campus, or will some adequate program be formulated for the benefit of all? Why not try to keep the students satisfied by planning programs that will meet with the approval of the greatest majority—not a selected few? These same questions would not arise even though they do arise when students can find their only refuge off the Albright College campus. Why not provide a program socially, physically, morally, and intellectually that would be representative of the American campus?

Leader

SAMUEL R. MOYER

Samuel R. Moyer is one cheerful senior who has done his share for the betterment of Albright College. We don't know what the R stands for, but wouldn't he be bit surprised if it meant READY. Sam has always been willing to give of his time and energy for some progressive step on our campus.

Besides being ready and willing, Sam is a singer of note—being soloist of the Men's Glee Club this season. He has been active in music groups throughout the city of Reading for many years. At the present time he is studying under the direction of Willy Richter. He is majoring in social science and did a fine job as a practice teacher last semester at the Reading Senior High School.

May your ever-ready smile and cheerfulness carry you on toward success in the years to come, and may your interest in Albright College be evident in the future. We hope to hear lot more from you as time goes on.

"Green Light" Now at the Astor Theatre

"Green Light," best-selling novel for two years, and now translated into the French as a Cosmopolitan production, has been booked by the Astor Theatre, for the week beginning Friday, as a First National release.

Errol Flynn, the young Irish star who made such a sensational success with his first starring role, "Captain Blood," and followed it with another smash hit in "The Charge of the Light Brigade," has Dietz, Ada Gossler, Bessie Knerr, Louise Keller, Evelyn Heap, Donald Burger, Martin Epstein, Alan Hamilton and Emerson Hopper.

Of the sixty-one honor students, thirty-three are girls and twenty-eight men. The Pi Alpha Tau sorority members have, by far, the largest number of their membership represented. The non-fraternity boys lead the men's division with twelve while the Pi Tau Beta fraternity is represented by seven, the Zeta Omega Epsilon by two, the Alpha Pi Omega by two, and the Kappa Upsilon Phi by none.

the role of Dr. Newell Paige, a young surgeon who sacrifices his career to save that of an older doctor.

Co-starred with him is the lovely Anita Louise as Phyllis Dexter, for whose mother's death Paige has assumed the blame. The two meet at the home of Francis Ogilvie (played by Margaret Lindsay) a nurse who devotes her life to Paige, and fall instantly in love. But when Phyllis finds out who he is she refuses to see him again.

Dean Harcourt (played by Sir Cedric Hardwicke) is a cleric with a broad and beautiful philosophy of life, and the confidante of these three young people. Through him, Phyllis is made to realize that Paige is innocent and she finally goes to him in the Rocky Mountains, where he is risking his life in the search for a vaccine that will control the dreaded spotted fever.

Arriving there, she finds him desperately ill. He has injected himself with the deadly virus. All through his illness, he insists on keeping a case history which will be valuable to other research men if he should die. He recovers, however, and with Phyllis makes a valuable contribution to science. Meanwhile the older doctor clears Paige's name, and reunited at last, he and Phyllis are married.

SIXTY-FIVE STUDENTS PETITION ALBRIGHT ATHLETIC COUNCIL FOR BOXING

Second Petition During Past Year Indicates the Necessity of Gymnasium on Campus

Ten Points Cited By Signers of Lengthy Writ

Ask Council to Provide Old Training Room for Inter-Fraternity Matches

On Tuesday evening a petition for inter-collegiate boxing signed by sixty-five students on the campus was sent to George C. Bollman, chairman of the Athletic Council. The petition in its ten sections points out that if inter-collegiate boxing could not be introduced this year, an inter-fraternity tournament could be arranged. The signers also showed that Coach Kreska would meet with their approval as a coach if the Athletic Council could make arrangements.

Being a second petition for an additional sport to the athletic program of Albright College, it is clearly evident that the signers feel the necessity of a field house or gymnasium. This indication was first shown last fall when nearly forty students requested wrestling, but the request was not granted due to the lack of facilities on the campus for such a sport. However, the petitioners in this communication to the chairman of the athletic board, indicate that they would be willing to use the former athletic training room which is not in use at the present time.

The petition contains ten points which indicate that the question has been well debated among students for some time. The entire petition and names of signers is reprinted below:

Mr. George Bollman, Chairman
The Athletic Council
Albright College
Reading, Pennsylvania

Readers:

We, the undersigned students of Albright College, hereby petition the Athletic Association of Albright College to consider the introduction of boxing on the campus for the following reasons:

1. The undersigned students signify their intention of coming out for this sport.
2. Colleges of the same size of Albright College such as Ursinus, Franklin & Marshall, Swarthmore, Drexel, Haverford, Gettysburg, West Chester, Bucknell, Villanova, and Dickinson have inter-collegiate boxing on their roster of sports.
3. More mutual relationships between these colleges and Albright College are necessary and desirable if progress in the sports world is to be made.
4. The former athletic training room in Selwyn Hall, now provided for as a Girls' Day Student room would be a suitable place for practice. This room is very little used at the present time since there are two such rooms and not enough girls to use both of them.
5. More students would be given the opportunity to participate in the athletic program of our college and many football and basketball players could find during the winter months. This would give them a chance to keep in physical condition as well as give them something to do.
6. Since it is too late to start inter-collegiate boxing, we suggest that it be started within a period of the next two or three weeks. This would give the Athletic Association a splendid opportunity to see what material for boxing is available on an inter-collegiate basis and would also serve as an elimination tournament.
7. Since Coach Franklyn Kreska has an enviable record in boxing while he attended Belknap Academy and Columbia University, we recommend that he be approached and arrangements made for him to act as coach of boxing as well as coach of tennis.
8. The added publicity in the newspapers is desirable and necessary for Albright College.
9. More students would be attracted to enroll at Albright College.
10. At the present time, students are forced to seek entertainment and physical development elsewhere because no program is not provided for them on the campus.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

The girls of Albright College had a field hockey team meeting some of the most prominent colleges in this section of the state. For some time a program of girls' athletics has been discussed. Before the definite program is formulated we would like to see on our campus a girls' field hockey team. We have the facilities! The girls have nothing worthwhile to do on the campus except go to classes! There is no doubt that there will be plenty of opposition. But aren't the girls entitled to some consideration. If they are willing, if the Athletic Council is cooperative, why should there be stubborn blocking? We can't see any reason at this moment.

Invading Coaches of 1937

On October 30, the Bisons of Bucknell University will invade the Albright Stadium as gridiron relationships will be resumed after a lapse of four years. With them will come a prominent coach, "Hooks" Mylin, who has a very enviable record as a successful coach.

His full name is Edward Everett Mylin. He came to Bucknell University as head football coach in the fall of 1934, succeeding Carl Snively, who is now head coach at Cornell.

Mylin terminated an eleven year stay at Lebanon Valley College to take up his coaching duties at Bucknell. In his first coaching season at the Annapolis institution, Mylin's "Flying Dutchmen" defeated the Lions, 48-0. For the next ten years his Blue and White squads rounced the Red and White teams coached by various coaches five times and two games ended in a tie.

The Bison mentor is a product of Franklin & Marshall College, from which he received his bachelor's and master's degrees, the former in 1916. He was a prominent football player at Franklin & Marshall.

In addition to his outstanding record as a successful coach, Mylin has an admirable war record, having served 29 months in the United States Army as First Lieutenant, and later Captain of the 79th Division of the A. E. F. He was wounded in action, and still carries a war memento in the form of a bullet in his leg.

Mylin coached at Massanutten Military Academy, Woodstock, Virginia, at Iowa State College, and at Lebanon Valley College before coming to Bucknell. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church, of Chi Phi fraternity, the Elks, the Free and Accepted Masons, and of the American Legion at Lancaster.

He is about forty years old, and still single.

He uses a modified Warner system in his gridiron tutelage. He is "artificially" noted for his ability to get big results out of a small squad, since he has never had an active squad of more than 25 men since he has been at Bucknell.

In 1934, Mylin's team defeated Penn State, Washington & Jefferson, St. Thomas, Villanova, Furman, and Davis-Ellkins and tied Temple and Pennsylvania Military College; losing to Duquesne and Western Maryland. In 1935 Bucknell defeated P. O. Ursinus, Western Maryland, Washington & Jefferson, Penn State and Temple, losing to Villanova, New York University, and Detroit. Last season Bucknell defeated Ursinus, Lebanon Valley, Washington & Jefferson, and Villanova, tied Temple, and lost to Miami (Fla.), Va. Georgetown, Detroit, and Penn State.

Cagers Lose Two Contests as Grip Hits Squad

League Leaders Trounce Lions 49-25; Valiants Down Red and White, 47-34

Even a re-viaud line-up made necessary because of colds affecting Capt. Bill Becker and Tony Troist, veteran forwards, did not give the Red and White courtmen the needed speed and accuracy if they are to advance in the Eastern Pennsylvania Basketball Conference.

Last Wednesday evening the "Flying Dutchmen" of Lebanon Valley outplayed the Lions during the first half, but kept their record early in the second period. The Hino coaxed machine, however, did not have the resistance necessary to keep up the scoring spree.

Paced by Raymond Frey, elongated Lebanon Valley center, the valiants triumphed, 47-34 while the Albright freshmen kept their record of no defeats on their home floor by downing the freshmen of the Annapolis institution, 52-32 in a preliminary game.

Paul Treida, seeing action throughout the entire game for the first time in two years, was the outstanding player for the Lions that evening. Mike Bonner paced the Lions with eight markers while Treida scored seven.

Last Saturday evening the league title defenders of Franklin & Marshall gave the Lions their worst defeat of the season, 49-25 at the Central "Y" court. It was the sixth league defeat for the Red and White courtmen.

Paced by Stewart Snodgrass, Diplomat forward, the Shober Barr coached crew went wild on a fast break into a roving pivot feeding series of plays which furnished natural set-ups for push-in shots and overcame Albright's early lead of 6-2 with a consecutive string of four field goals and five fouls.

Despite the excellent guarding of Dick Riffe, Snodgrass scored eight goals and six fouls for a total of 22 points. Riffe was the high scorer for Albright with six points followed by Treida with five. Due to illness, Becker and Troist saw little action again and Hino was minus their services. Late in the second period, Osilsko was forced out of the game because of fouls and Hino had to depend on his reserve and inexperienced players who made an admirable showing. The score at the end of the first half was 15-10, although playing only a few minutes of the final period scored five points. The shooting of the veterans was wild and inconsistent throughout the game.

Larry Kelly, All-American End, to Speak Here

The outstanding athlete of the 1936 season, the one and on' Larry Kelly, Yale's All-American end, has accepted an invitation to speak at the third annual sports banquet, sponsored by the Berks County Officials' Association and scheduled Thursday, March 18, 6:30 p. m., at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel.

The committee in charge of the affair, headed by Bob Schultz, of the city recreation bureau, last night announced that tickets will be sold for $1.50, which will include a dinner.

All the brains (?) in the school are again united in one grand effort, but not in lessons—"Pop" Moe got a new machine and it will only be a couple weeks until someone will find out how to beat it.

Alumni Praise Program of Pres. Mohn

Letters from Many Prominent Leaders Reveal That Alumni Group Has Excellent Leader

In order to give a much clearer picture of what Mr. Mohn's contributions have been to the Albright College campus, your editor has asked several prominent alumni to submit their testimonials. We are privileged to print the following:

"I have personally known Mr. Elmer L. Mohn for about thirty years. During this time, Mr. Mohn has constantly demonstrated an interest in and a loyalty to Albright, unsurpassed by those of any other alumnus I know. As President of the Alumni Association for nine years, he has been responsible for the formulation and execution of the most extensive and constructive program the Association has ever faced. Every loyal Albrightian wishes for Mr. Mohn many more years in which to continue to advance the name and fame of Albright."

Dr. I. C. Keller,
Head of English Department
California State Teachers College

"The Alumni Association of Albright College has been very fortunate during the past ten years and particularly during the depression years in having Mr. Elmer L. Mohn as its president. Mr. Mohn has been progressive and dynamic in his leadership. His business experience, his knowledge of the essentials, his untiring energy in the performance of duty, his loyalty to the college, and other qualities have given him favorable contact and admirably qualified him for the office of President."

Denton M. Albright
Superintendent of Schools
Lewistown, Pennsylvania

"In all my twenty-three years of contact with Schuylkill and Albright Colleges, I have not met an Alumni leader who has matched the zeal and outright self-giving of Elmer L. Mohn. His intense and sustained enthusiasm for the accomplishment of a progressive Alumni program has not only evoked our admiration but also shamed us for our own meager outlay of time and talent on behalf of Alma Mater. His work as chairman of the Alumni Memorial Library Committee, as member of the Athletic Council, as conceiver of the Reading Music Festival, as Director of the annual Alumni Day Pageants, and as patron of the College Band will stand as enduring tributes to his aggressive leadership."

Rev. O. A. Hyden
Mohnton Evangelical Church
Mohnton, Pennsylvania

"Without a question, the one who has done more for his Alma Mater than any other alumnus is Elmer L. Mohn. It would be a challenge to every alumnus to see a ledger on which the amount of time and money is posted that he has given to Albright. Let's elect him again and give him our best support."

Leonard M. Miller
Vocational Guidance Director
Rockland County High Schools
Nyack, New York

"Mr. Elmer Mohn is doing what every alumnus would like to do but seldom does. He is building the character of our Alma Mater, and to him, we the less able alumni are grateful."

Malcolm J. Reider
Columbia University
New York City, N. Y.

Y. W. C. A. Holds Annual Candle-Light Service

Thirty-Four Girls Receive Membership Cards in National Organization

The Y. W. C. A. held its Fellowship Candlelight Service Tuesday evening at 7:00 in the Lower Social Hall. Betty Campbell conducted the worship service in which Jane Dick sang a solo accompanied on the piano by Selma Bagat. The president explained briefly the relation which the smallest unit, a local campus association, has to the World Student Christian Federation. This is a movement or a cause, rather than a formal organization. Its center is at Geneva, Switzerland.

Thirty-four girls besides Miss Nevis, Miss Shaffer, Miss Garlach and Miss Elder were present to receive their cards for membership in the "Y. W." of Albright. These cards will serve as a connecting link between them and any specific "Y. W." or Christian movement in the world. After receiving their membership cards, the girls each lit a candle from the tall, central candle, significant of Christ, who is the greatest example for a girl like living, and formed a triangle which in "Y" is the symbol of the Union of Body, Mind and Spirit. The group in unison read the three-fold purpose of the "Y. W. C. A." as expressed on the membership card.

Any girl, unable to be present at the formal service, may receive her membership card from the president.
